Sexualities News

THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER OF THE AMERICAN SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION SECTION ON THE SOCIOLOGY OF SEXUALITIES

Statement by the Chair

Dear Section Members,

In the past six months, those of us particularly attentive to media-driven and politically-inflected events related to sexualities have been treated to news of a "sex pill" for middle aged women, various celebrity marital breakups, reports of high birthrates to unmarried mothers, gay rights battles over marriage, military policy, and political asylum, the ever-present threat to family planning clinics, and continued spread of HIV globally, to name just a few. In May, all of us were shocked to learn of the decision by Marquette University to rescind its signed offer to Dr. Jodi O'Brien, objecting to her research focus on sexuality, sexual practice, and sexual politics. On behalf of the Section and in consultation with Sexualities Council members, I requested that the ASA condemn this action. The ASA did just that. [See the ASA letter later in this issue.]

Our Section day is Saturday, August 14, the first day of the ASA meetings. All our events are in the Hilton Hotel. Sexualities Section members will have the opportunity to consider the sociological framing and implications of some of these issues and many others in our formal sessions and at the Section's reception. For example, Josh Gamson organized the session "Sexual Censorship and Sexual Controversy," that addresses some of these issues directly. We have two other sessions on topics suggested by the section members at our business meeting last summer. In the first, participants to the session organized by Laura Carpenter consider "Sexualities Across the Life Course," and the second, Adam Green in a session entitled "Space, Place, and the Geographies of Sexuality," has gathered together scholars who tackle the unwieldy relationship of space to sexuality.

In addition to those organized as regular section sessions, we are involved in two other important scholarly and professional events. We are co-sponsoring with Sex and Gender section an academic session on "Gender Diversity and the Limits of Citizenship." Concern with members' professional lives resulted in the organization of the Professional Workshop, "Being LGBT in the Academy," put together by Tim Ortyl and Betsy Lucal through the ASA LGBTQ Caucus. The workshop is also co-sponsored by SWS.

Everyone is invited to take part in our Business meeting that follows right after the Roundtables on Saturday afternoon. And of course, please join us for the Sexualities Section reception at 6:30 in the Hilton. At the reception, we will honor this year's award winners and provide time for all of us to visit with our colleagues in this very exciting field.

Congratulations are in order: To the award winners (Jeffrey Weeks, Marcus Hunter, Tey Meadows, Mary L. Gray, Nancy Naples and Salvador Vidal-Ortiz), and to our newly elected officers (Kristen Schilt, Lorena García, Héctor Carrillo, Amy Stone, Corinne Reczek, and Georgiann Davis).

Finally, a special thanks to Kristen Schilt for serving as the section Secretary/Treasurer for so many years, to Bayliss Camp for producing our newsletter, and to Council members who provided invaluable service this year.

Beth E. Schneider, University of California-Santa Barbara

This Section

In the last decade or so, the study of sexuality has emerged as a vibrant interdisciplinary field of social analysis. For many years, sexuality was approached as an individual, biological or psychological phenomena. Today, the idea of sexuality as a social fact or construction is the point of departure for much of the most exciting scholarship in the area...

Sections are an important mechanism for getting out information about our specialty area... Section status also affords a variety of institutional supports from the ASA, including funding for information dissemination and a guaranteed number of paper sessions at the annual conference.

In short, we believe it is in the best interests of the discipline of sociology to advance the sociological study of sexuality. One way to promote this goal is to support the... "Sociology of Sexualities" as an ASA section and to encourage you to join... when you renew your membership in the ASA.

Text written by Steve Seidman, Gil Zicklin, and Mark Hager

The Purpose

The purpose of the Section on the Sociology of Sexualities is to encourage, enhance and foster research, teaching and other professional activities in the sociology of sexuality, for the development of sociology and the benefit of society, through organized meetings, conferences, newsletters, publications, awards, other deemed and means appropriate by the Section Council.

The Section seeks to promote communication, collaboration, and consultation among scholars in sociology, the sociology of sexualities, and allied disciplines.

ASA Section on the Sociology of Sexualities Award Winners for 2010

2010 Simon-Gagnon Award

The Simon and Gagnon Award honors career contributions to the study of sexualities as represented by a body of work or a single book. This award commemorates decades of research and writing on sexualities by Professor William Simon (University of Houston) who died on July 21, 2000, and his longtime collaborator, Professor John Gagnon (SUNY-Stony Brook).

2010 Honoree: Jeffrey Weeks, Professor Emeritus; London South Bank University and the Institute for Social Science Research.

2010 Distinguished Book Award

The ASA Section on Sexualities is pleased to announce two winners of this year's Distinguished Book Award:

Mary L. Gray. 2009. Out in the Country: Youth, Media, and Queer Visibility in Rural America. New York: NYU Press.

Lionel Cantu Jr. (Nancy A. Naples and Salvador Vidal-Ortiz, eds.). 2009. The Sexuality of Migration: Border Crossings and Mexican Immigrant Men. New York: NYU Press.

Martin P. Levine Memorial Dissertation Fellowship

The Martin Levine Memorial Dissertation Award was established to honor the memory of Martin Levine, who died of AIDS in 1993. It provides $3,000 to a graduate student (and $500 to an honorable mention) in the final stages of dissertation research and writing, who is working on those topics to which Levine devoted his career: 1) the sociology of sexualities, 2) the sociology of homosexuality, and 3) HIV/AIDS research. It is designed to help students complete their dissertations; the committee therefore evaluates dissertation proposals rather than completed work.

2010 Winner:

Tey Meadow (New York University), for "The Gender Dis/Order: Childhood Variance and the Politics of Conformity."

2010 Honorable Mention:

Evren Savri (University of Southern California) for "Queer Subcultures and Politics in Turkey."

Best Graduate Student Paper

This award is given to a paper authored by a student currently enrolled in a sociology graduate program. A paper may be coauthored by two or more students who would share the award (papers co-authored with faculty are not eligible).

2010 Recipient: Marcus Hunter (Northwestern University) for "All the Gays Are White and All the Blacks Are Straight: Black Gay Men, Identity and Community."

Please join in congratulating all of the honorees at the annual reception: Saturday, August 14th, 6:30-8:30pm at the Hilton-Atlanta.

ASA Statement on Dr. Jodi O'Brien

(An open letter from ASA Present Evelyn Nakano Glenn to the President and Provost of Marquette University, regarding the rescission of an offer to Dr. Jodi O'Brien of the deanship of the College of Arts and Sciences)

May 12, 2010

Reverend Robert Wild, S.J., President, and Dr. John Pauly, Provost Marquette University Zilber Hall, PO Box 1881 Milwaukee, WI 53201-1881 By Fax: 414-228-3161 414-288-7664

Dear President Wild and Provost Pauly:

As President of the American Sociological Association (ASA), I am profoundly concerned about your decision to rescind your offer to sociologist Dr. Jodi O'Brien to become Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Marquette University.

The ASA is the national scholarly society for American sociologists with a national and international membership of over 14,000 most of whom are employed in the academy. The ASA has a long-standing record of rejecting any policies or actions in the academy that disqualify candidates who are pursuing scholarly inquiry that is recognized as legitimate within their disciplines. The Code of Ethics of the American Sociological Association and the explicit policies of our Association also reject any exclusion on the basis age; gender; race; ethnicity; national origin; religion; sexual orientation; disability; health conditions; marital, domestic, or parental status. We regard these standards to reflect the fundamental principles of academic freedom and the core mission of higher education in both scholarship and teaching.

We condemn the action of Marquette University's senior officials in rescinding its offer to Dr. O'Brien. By doing so, Marquette University appears to have violated its own non-discrimination policy as well as the principles of free inquiry that govern all great universities.

As a scientific discipline, sociology seeks to develop theoretical and empirical understanding of complex social structures and social processes through research and scholarship. This often means that sociologists' legitimate lines of inquiry take them into areas that can be fraught with cultural and social conflict. The scholarship of sociology, however, cannot abandon these areas; indeed, in its search to contribute to learning and social well-being, sociology explicitly promotes the vitality and diversity of research within our discipline. The ASA has 50 special interest sections as part of our organizational structure that reflect this diversity. From sections on Peace, War, and Social Conflict and the Sociology of Education, to a section-in-formation on Altruism and Social Solidarity and the Section on the Sociology of Religion, to the long-standing Section on Sex and Gender and the Section on Sexualities, these intellectual communities reflect areas of active sociological scholarship. As the publisher of nine major scholarly journals in sociology, the ASA includes highquality, peer-reviewed research in all these areas of scientific inquiry.

As a major institution of higher education, Marquette University should acknowledge the professional and personal harm it has done to Dr. O'Brien by rescinding its offer to her. Similarly, the university should recognize that, by its action, Marquette has broken the principles of academic freedom and professional collegiality and damaged the university's own stature as an institution of higher education.

As President of the American Sociological Association, I request that Marquette University affirm its dedication to nondiscrimination and principles of academic freedom by extending an invitation to Dr. Jodi O'Brien to be Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences that includes a statement that the University desires her leadership. We are hopeful that Marquette may still have the privilege of having this outstanding sociologist within its community of scholars and leaders.

Sincerely yours, [signed in the original]

Evelyn Nakano Glenn, PhD President, American Sociological Association Director, Center for Race and Gender, and Professor, Gender and Women's Studies and Ethnic Studies University of California, Berkeley

Call for Members: Section on Disability

ASA Section on Disability in Society

This is an urgent appeal to all social scientists interested in disability scholarship to join the newly formed Section-in-Formation of the American Sociological Association: Disability in Society. We intend to explore a range of issues which will be very familiar to those studying the sociology of sexualities, including ways certain bodies, desires, and behaviors are pathologized. If you are interested in processes of medicalization, discrimination, stigma, social exclusion, prejudice, and social control – or if you are simply interested in the connections between disability and intersex bodies, or the ways in which certain disabled bodies are 'queered'... this may be the place for you! This new Section-in-Formation is a great place to network, engage with other scholars, discuss recent events, and pursue avenues for grants, teaching, research and service.

The existence of the Disability and Society Section is dependent on our ability to attract at least 300 paying members by September 2010, or we have lost the opportunity to become a section of ASA. If you would like to advance the continuation of disability scholarship in sociology, please join us today.

Contact Liat Ben-Moshe (lbenmosh@maxwell.syr.edu) with any inquiries about the section and becoming a member. Mailing address: Syracuse University Disability Cultural Center, Center on Human Policy, Law and Disability Studies, 805 South Crouse Avenue, Syracuse, NY 13210-1714.

The Disability section is also pleased to be offering FREE membership to graduate students who are current members of ASA who would like to join the section. Please contact Valerie Leiter (valerie.leiter@simmons.edu) to make those arrangements.
