Job Description:

Overview:

California State University, Fresno seeks a visionary and collaborative leader as Dean of the College of Social Sciences. The Dean is responsible for the quality and effectiveness of the academic programs and curricular innovation, as well as fundraising, sound financial management, decisions related to faculty and staff recruitment and retention, and resource and facility allocations. By articulating a clear, dynamic, and creative vision, the Dean will chart the future direction of the College.

THE COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

The <http://fresnostate.edu/socialsciences/index.html> is dedicated to academic excellence, integrity, intellectual freedom, and civic and cultural engagement with the San Joaquin Valley and beyond. The College includes the departments and programs of Africana Studies, Anthropology, Chicano and Latin American Studies, Criminology, Geography and City & Regional Planning, History, Political Science/Public Administration, Sociology, and Womens Studies. The College offers three master's-level degrees and hosts specialized programs, including an Honors Program, Study Abroad, Humanics, Los Danzantes, Mock Trial, Project Rebound, a variety of certificate programs, research institutes, and thriving student organizations.

FAST FACTS ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Annual budget: $8,886,838 (2016-2017)

Tenure/Tenure&shy;track faculty: 77

Temporary faculty: 92

Staff: 16

The College of Social Sciences has an annual development goal that is established in partnership with the Dean, Director of Development and leadership in the Advancement division. The Dean will have an integral role in development work to support the college. Funding priorities include scholarships, faculty support, research, student experiences, community engagement, etc. Fresno State is currently in the planning stages of the next comprehensive campaign.

Compensation:

The salary is competitive and is negotiable depending on the strength of qualifications. This is a CSU Management Personnel Plan (MPP) position with an attractive benefits package which includes but is not limited to: a vacation accrual rate of 16 hours per month; 12+ paid holidays; excellent choice of medical, dental and vision insurance, long term disability coverage, life insurance; and retirement benefits.

Anticipated hiring monthly salary range is $12,916 - $14,166, depending on qualifications and experience.

Position Summary:

The College of Social Sciences seeks a candidate of exceptional leadership and vision to advance its academic and research mission. The Dean is the chief academic and administrative officer for the College. As a member of the Academic Affairs Leadership Team he/she reports to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Dean facilitates a collegial environment for teaching, scholarship, creative activity, research (both theoretical and applied), and service to the University, community, and one of the most diverse student populations in the country. The Dean is responsible for the quality and integrity of academic programs; managing human and fiscal resources; overseeing physical facilities of the College; and supporting student success as well as the professional development of faculty and staff.

The Dean is the spokesperson for the College on campus, in the community, and beyond. As such, the Dean is an advocate for the faculty, staff, and students of the College, who also works collaboratively with other Deans and upper administration in supporting the best interests of the University. The Dean works cooperatively with University Advancement in the continuing efforts to foster and maintain relationships with alumni and donors. The Dean is expected to engage in collaborative efforts with faculty, committees, Department Chairs and Program Coordinators, the Academic Affairs Leadership Team, University leadership, the Student Leadership Council, and community partners to advance the Academic Plan and the University's Strategic Plan.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

The Dean is responsible for the overall vision, the academic and administrative operations of the College, and clearly articulating the value and importance of the social sciences within a comprehensive university. Specific responsibilities include:

- Supporting the mission and goals of the College, the University, and the CSU System;
- Promoting a culture of collaboration, transparency, consultation, and consensus building;
- Supporting the mission and goals of the individual departments and programs within the College;
- Engaging in external fundraising through relationship development with existing and potential donors, in coordination with the College Development Director and University Advancement;
- Managing the College's budget and fiscal planning in consultation with the Department Chairs, Program Coordinators, and College committees;
- Overseeing the recruitment, retention, and evaluation of faculty and staff;
- Advancing research, scholarly and creative activity initiatives for faculty and students;
- Promoting a culture that fosters student success, retention, and timely graduation;
- Facilitating interdisciplinary and cross-department collegiality and collaboration;
- Supporting faculty external grants and contracts;
- Managing day-to-day operations of the College with attention to department and program staffing needs;
- Supporting the technological infrastructure, equipment, and facilities needed for effective program development and delivery;
- Overseeing College Study Abroad programs;
- Collaborating with student leaders and organizations;
- Coordinating with other units on campus;
- Developing and implementing a Strategic Plan for the College in collaboration with faculty, staff, and students;
- Respecting the diversity of our faculty, staff, and students and their work-life balance and care responsibilities; and
- Advocating for and promoting the College both on and off campus.

Qualifications:

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- An earned Ph.D. from an accredited institution in a field appropriate to one of the Departments/Programs in the College of Social Sciences;
- Rank of Full Professor;
- A distinguished record of teaching and scholarship/creative activity;
- A record of community-engaged service and civic involvement;
- A minimum of 3 years' experience of effective academic administrative leadership at the level of Department Chair or above, which has included management of fiscal and personnel resources;
- Experience with developing an inclusive environment for a diverse campus and/or community;
- Demonstrated commitment to student success;
- Evidence of the ability to work effectively with people at all levels of the university;
- Demonstrated success in fund development and donor stewardship with private donors or community partners;
- Excellent communication skills, both written and verbal; and
- Proven record of ethical leadership and commitment to the ideal of shared governance.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Experience and success leading multi-disciplinary units;
- Demonstrated experience with academic program evaluation, review, and strategic planning;
- Commitment to the role of General Education in student development;
- Experience with programs for student recruitment, advisement, retention, and timely graduation;
- Demonstrated commitment to the needs of diverse student populations;
- Experience developing or working with an advisory board;
- Experience with capital campaigns, major gifts, endowments, and planned giving;
- Experience or familiarity with the collective bargaining process; and
- Understanding of the characteristics of California's Central Valley.

Filing Deadline:

Applications received by August 15, 2017 will be reviewed for minimum qualifications and given full consideration by the hiring manager and/or search committee. Qualified applicants received after that date will be forwarded upon request to the hiring manager and/or search committee.

Application Procedures:

Individuals interested in being considered for this position should submit an on-line application and attach the following supporting documents: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter of interest which includes a statement about leadership philosophy and approaches to fundraising as well as a narrative detailing how the candidate fulfills each of the required and preferred items listed under Qualifications, and 3) names, email addresses and telephone numbers of three references who can provide current assessments of the candidates qualifications for the position.

Pursuant to Executive Order 883, reasonable accommodation is to be provided upon request from an employee or applicant with disabilities, unless doing so would impose an undue hardship on the campus. What constitutes a reasonable accommodation is to be determined by the campus on a case-by-case basis after it has received the individuals request for accommodation and engaged in an interactive process. Employees or applicants requiring reasonable accommodation should contact Human Resources directly at (559) 278-2032.

How To Apply:

To apply for this or any open position at Fresno State visit our online employment site at: <http://jobs.csufresno.edu/>

Other Requirements:

Pursuant to the requirements of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, any offer of employment is contingent upon verification of individuals eligibility to be employed in the United States.

California State University, Fresno, in conjunction with the CSU policy, requires that the successful candidate complete a full background check (including a criminal records check) prior to assuming this position. Failure to satisfactorily complete or pass the background check may impact the job offer or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for posted positions identified as sensitive.

California State University, Fresno annual security report includes statistics for the previous three years concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus, in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by Fresno State, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to or accessible from the campus. The report also includes institutional policies concerning campus security, alcohol/drug use, crime prevention, reporting of crimes, sexual assault, and other matters. You can obtain a copy of this report by contacting the Campus Police Department or by accessing the following web site: <http://www.fresnostate.edu/adminserv/police/clery/index.html>.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment. You can obtain a copy of this Executive order by accessing the following web site: <http://www.calstate.edu/eo/EO-1083.html>.

This position may be a "designated position" in the California State University's Conflict of Interest Code. The successful candidate accepting this position may be required to file Conflict of Interest forms subject to the regulations of the Fair Political Practices Commission.

Other Applicant Information:

Applicants will receive confirmation of receipt of their application materials via automatic email reply. In addition, qualified applicants will receive email notification at the conclusion of the recruitment process.

This is a full-time management position covered by the California State University Management Personnel Plan. Under this plan, employees are subject to management reviews and serve at the pleasure of the University President of that campus.

Equal Employment Opportunity:

California State University, Fresno is committed to maintaining and implementing employment policies and procedures in compliance with applicable state and federal equal employment opportunity laws and regulations. Executive Order 883 prohibits discrimination and Executive Order 927 prohibits harassment, on the basis of a protected status: race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, age, sex (including gender identity, per HR 2004-12), sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, mental disability, physical disability, medical condition and covered veteran status. Retaliation against individuals for complaining about these proscribed conduct, opposing such conduct, or participating in an investigation or proceeding involving such conduct is prohibited by both executive orders.

Further, California State University, Fresno statement of commitment to equal employment opportunity principles is also found in the various collective bargaining agreements.

General Information:

California State University, Fresno is one of 23 campuses in the California State University System. The University's mission is to offer high-quality educational opportunities to qualified students at the bachelors and masters levels, and in certain applied disciplines, at the doctoral level. The current student enrollment is approximately 24,000, including a large percentage of students with diverse and culturally rich backgrounds. The University serves the San Joaquin Valley while maintaining deep involvement with the state, nation, and world. California State University, Fresno promotes student learning and community engagement through faculty scholarship and service learning opportunities in collaboration with community organizations, educational institutions, industry, business and government. The University was one of the first U.S. Colleges and Universities to be selected by The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching for its Community Engagement Classification.

Metropolitan Fresno, with a multi-ethnic population of over 600,000, is located in the heart of the San Joaquin Valley on the western edge of the Sierra Nevada Mountain Range. The campus is within driving distance of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Yosemite, Kings Canyon and Sequoia National Parks, the Monterey Peninsula, beaches, sailing, lakes, and numerous ski resorts. Fresno boasts one of the most reasonable housing markets in California and offers a wide array of locally grown fruits and produce.

Job Description:

University of La Verne

Assistant Professor of Sociology (NTT Online Criminology/Criminal Justice)

Job Description Summary:

The University of La Verne Department of Sociology and Anthropology invites applications for a non-tenure-track, assistant professor faculty position to begin Fall 2017 with teaching expectations beginning Spring 2018. The department is seeking an exemplary teacher with online teaching experience who can contribute to instruction in, and the development of, a new online criminology and criminal justice major. All criminological and criminal justice specialties will be considered, but preference will be given to candidates who can teach classes in the following areas: juvenile delinquency, introduction to criminology, criminal justice systems, law and society, forensic investigation, correctional systems, research methods, or statistics. The successful candidate will teach eight courses per academic year across both the online and traditional programs. Candidates must have a completed Ph.D. at the time of the appointment. The University of La Verne is very proud of its diverse student body and fortunate to be located in one of the most dynamic and culturally rich areas of the United States, only thirty minutes east of Los Angeles. Members of historically underrepresented racial and ethnic groups, women, persons with disabilities, veterans, and members of other underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Specific Duties:

In addition to teaching eight courses per academic year and working with the Program Chair to develop and administer the new online criminology and criminal justice program, the successful candidate will attend department meetings and advise criminology students on campus, and criminology and criminal justice students online. Once the online criminology and criminal justice program is established, the candidate will assist the Program Chair in limited administrative duties related to the program.

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Sociology, Criminology, or Criminal Justice or related terminal degree with a combination of substantive professional experience in criminology, criminal justice, or administration of justice which merits consideration will be required at the time of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications:

Location: La Verne Central Campus

Special Instructions: Review of applications for this position will begin June 1, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications should include a cover letter of interest describing your teaching philosophy and pedagogical approaches, curriculum vita, evidence of developing online courses and assessment of these courses, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including several recent course evaluations and course syllabi, if available), and the names and contact information for three referees. The teaching statement should include specific courses in criminology and criminal justice that the applicant has taught, or is prepared and qualified to teach, as well as a description of any previous online experience.

To be considered for this position please visit our web site and apply on line at the following link: <http://apptrkr.com/1018712>

Job Description:

The Georgetown Federal Statistical Research Data Center (FSRDC) is looking to fill a position for a Research Data Center Administrator (RDC Admin). The FSRDC is a secure computing lab located on Georgetown's campus in Healy Hall. The lab is one of 24 FSRDCs located throughout the U.S. where researchers with approved research projects have access to restricted demographic, economic, and health data collected by the Census Bureau, the National Center for Health Statistics, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

For more information on the FSRDC program, please see:

https://www.census.gov/about/adrm/fsrdc/about/available\_data.html

The RDC Admin will work on site at the Georgetown RDC and is crucial to the daily operation of the Georgetown RDC. The person in this position will assist researchers from many disciplines, including economics, geography, health policy, sociology, demography, and statistics who are conducting research projects in the RDC. The main duties of the RDC Admin are to serve as a liaison between the Census Bureau and the director of the Georgetown RDC with responsibilities in the following areas:

- (a) helping researchers develop successful proposals for RDC-based research projects,
- (b) overseeing the daily operation of the RDC secure lab,
- (c) coordinating with the Census Bureau on matters relating to the RDC,
- (d) a range of other administrative responsibilities.

The administrator will be a Census Bureau employee and the position will be full-time. The ideal candidate would have a Ph.D. in economics, demography, sociology, or a related social science field. Familiarity with social science research methodology and experience with census data are important qualifications. The Census Bureau requires RDC Administrators to be U.S. citizens.

The Georgetown RDC is undertaking an informal recruiting effort in anticipation of a formal position posting by the Census Bureau. Interested individuals should submit a cover letter and resume to Brad Jensen, executive director Georgetown Research Data Center,

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Brown University seeks applications for a Visiting faculty member in the area of Spatial Methods, to begin 1 July 2017. The rank of appointment will be commensurate with the candidate's experience and standing. Applicants at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor must have a PhD in hand by 1 August 2017. We welcome applicants from a broad array of social science disciplines who can contribute to curricular needs in Brown's initiative in Spatial Structures in the Social Sciences (S4).

The successful applicant will teach one course during Fall Semester 2017. Content of this course is to be focused on Spatial Methods at the graduate level. Of particular interest is the application of contemporary spatial statistical approaches. Substantive applications—presumed to overlap with the applicant's own research topics—may be taken from a variety of social science and public health issues. In addition to interacting with Brown's engaged and energetic advanced students, the instructor will be encouraged to participate in the intellectual life of S4 and associated units.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applications should include (1) a cover letter describing interest and qualification for the position; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) syllabus for a similar course previously taught or short description of what the applicant would intend to offer; and (4) the names, positions, and email addresses of three individuals who could be consulted as references. Department: Department of Management, Politics and Philosophy

Region: Europe

Title: Assistant Professor in Economic Sociology/Algorithmic Finance

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Economic Sociology , Science and Technology

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Interfolio Submission Link:

Job Description:

Two Assistant Professorships in the Economic Sociology of Algorithmic Finance

Copenhagen Business School invites applications for two Assistant Professorships at the Department of Management, Politics and Philosophy. The positions are connected to the research project 'Algorithmic Finance: Inquiring into the Reshaping of Financial Markets' (AlgoFinance), led by Professor Christian Borch. The project is funded by the European Research Council (ERC) through a Consolidator Grant.

The Assistant Professorships are three year fixed-term, non-tenured positions with a major research component (24 months) and some teaching obligations (12 months). The expected starting date is 1 September 2017.

The aim of the AlgoFinance research project is to examine how and with what consequences the deployment of fully automated algorithms is changing financial markets. The two Assistant Professorships are expected to focus in particular on (a) the types of algorithms currently being deployed for trading purposes (from high-frequency trading algorithms to ones based on advanced forms of machine learning); (b) the organizational settings in which these algorithms are developed and deployed (including new types of expertise that become relevant in algorithmic finance) as well as the organizational effects that the transition to algorithmic finance has for trading firms; and/or (c) the forms of subjectivity and sociality that pertain to algorithmic finance. For further information about the AlgoFinance project, please visit http://info.cbs.dk/borch/erc\_research\_project\_on\_algorithmic\_finance\_algofinance or contact Professor Christian Borch (cbo.mpp@cbs.dk).

AlgoFinance is conceived as a collaborative research project, both in relation to data collection and analysis. The two Assistant Professors will be required to travel considerably in order to gather data (through interviews and ethnographic fieldwork) across Europe and the US.

Qualifications

The ideal applicant should have a background in economic sociology/social studies of finance/organizational sociology, have thorough knowledge about social theory and financial markets, and have experience with qualitative work (interviews, ethnographic fieldwork, etc.). Ideally, the applicant should also be familiar with sociological discussions on the role and impact of algorithms and big data.

For further information please contact Professor Christian Borch, tel.: +45 3815 3627, e-mail cbo.mpp@cbs.dk.

Employer Description:

Copenhagen Business School has a broad commitment to the excellence, distinctiveness and relevance of teaching and research programs. Candidates who wish to join us should demonstrate enthusiasm for working in an organization of this type (highlighting, for example, relevant business, educational and dissemination activities).

Job 12851: Post-doc in agent-based modelling of algorithmic finance

Date Position is Available: Fall 2017

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 5/4/2017 to 6/3/2017

Institution: Copenhagen Business School
Department: Department of Management, Politics and Philosophy

Region: Europe

Title: Post-doc in agent-based modelling of algorithmic finance

Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Economic Sociology , Mathematical Sociology

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Interfolio Submission Link:

Job Description:

Copenhagen Business School invites applications for a post-doc position at the Department of Management, Politics and Philosophy. The position is connected to the research project 'Algorithmic Finance: Inquiring into the Reshaping of Financial Markets' (AlgoFinance), led by Professor Christian Borch. The project is funded by the European Research Council (ERC) through a Consolidator Grant.

The post-doc position is a 24 months, non-tenured full research position. The expected starting date is 1 September 2017.

The aim of the AlgoFinance research project is to examine how and with what consequences the deployment of fully automated algorithms is changing financial markets. Among other things, the AlgoFinance project seeks to develop an agent-based model of algorithmic finance in order to simulate how fully automated algorithms might be interacting with one another. Input for model specification will be provided by sociologists in the research team who will conduct qualitative interviews with actual algo-trading firms. The post-doc position is tasked with developing the agent-based model, which should be developed in Python or a similar programming language.

For further information about the AlgoFinance project, please visit http://info.cbs.dk/borch/erc\_research\_project\_on\_algorithmic\_finance\_algofinance or contact Professor Christian Borch (cbo.mpp@cbs.dk).

AlgoFinance is conceived as a collaborative research project, and the post-doc will be part of an interdisciplinary team (including people from the social sciences), so applicants should appreciate working in such an interdisciplinary research environment.

Qualifications

The ideal applicant should have strong programming skills, experience with agent-based modelling or similar types of simulation, and have a background in physics, computer science, econophysics, mathematics, etc. Ideally, the applicant should be familiar with financial markets, but this is not a necessity.

For further information about the positions as well as the application procedure, please visit <http://www.cbs.dk/en/about-cbs/jobs-cbs/vacant-positions/postdoc-in-agent-based-modelling-of-algorithmic-finance>.
