Greetings from ASA President Annette Lareau

Our program this year, “Hard Times: The Impact of Economic Inequality on Families and Individuals,” is a lively blend of new sociological research, and we are pleased to have nationally recognized guests join us. Robert Reich (U.S. Secretary of Labor under President Clinton) will speak at an evening plenary session on Saturday, August 16; Sheryl Sandberg (Chief Operating Officer of Facebook and author of Lean In) will appear on a Monday afternoon thematic session; and Malcolm Gladwell (staff writer for The New Yorker and author of Outliers, Tipping Point, and David and Goliath) will keynote an evening plenary on Monday, August 18. All three are graciously donating their time to ASA. Emmanuel Saez, the Berkeley economist whose research has been the backbone of many New York Times pieces on income inequality, will speak at the Friday, August 15 Opening Plenary Session. He will be joined by Melvin Oliver, Thomas Shapiro, and Leslie McCall; Thomas DiPrete will be the discussant for this plenary on Income and Wealth Inequality—officially marking the start of the 2014 Annual Meeting.

We are also excited to have Arlie Russell Hochschild speak at the Monday, August 18 plenary on Social Class and Family Life. She will be joined by David Harding who will discuss the impact of prison reentry on families, Mathew Desmond, who analyzes the impact of evictions on children, and Marianne Cooper, who will share the results of her research on class differences in emotion work done by family members around financial instability.

Many of the consequences of hard times unfold over time. Jay MacLeod, author of Ain’t No Making It, will make a rare appearance at ASA; he has been following the young men in his classic book for decades. His talk is titled “Outclassed.” This Saturday, August 16 plenary session will also include Linda Burton who has a 30-year ethnographic study of African-American low-income families. Natural disasters also illuminate the class divide; Eric Klinenberg will report on his emerging research on the differential impact of Hurricane Sandy by social class. The 2014 program also features the work of a number of young ethnographers. We expect there to be numerous spirited discussions on the impact of growing economic inequality on cities, environmental inequality, health outcomes, and other spheres.

As President, increasing the public visibility of sociological research has been one of my highest priorities. At the meeting, we will continue to use advances in technology to improve participants’ meeting experiences, increase the efficiency and effectiveness of information sharing, and facilitate networking in both physical and virtual spaces. ASA will again provide complimentary basic bandwidth wireless internet to meeting attendees in the session rooms during the Annual Meeting and broadcast each of the plenary sessions live over the web. In addition, there will be a “blogging and tweeting” area at the Hub in the exhibit hall. Friday there will also be a pre-conference workshop training series on social media. Thanks to the efforts of Jessi Daniels who has recruited volunteers, there is no charge for taking part in this workshop. Members should sign up on the ASA website when registering for the Annual Meeting. Do so early since space will fill quickly. An ASA Task Force on Social Media, now called Engaging Sociology, also has been working hard to create resources for ASA members. By early fall, we expect to have exciting new resources for members including guidelines on how to promote a book, create an outstanding blog post, and write effective tweets. We are also working to increase—exponentially—the number of sociological studies that get into the hands of journalists, bloggers, and social media participants. I am grateful to the members of the Task Force for their help with these important endeavors. Promote sociology by posting, sharing, and tweeting about the interesting sociological research you hear during the Annual Meeting.

Of course, the meeting in San Francisco will not be all work. There are tours set up by the Local Arrangements Committee, chaired by Sheila Katz (Sonoma State University) including a wine tour, “Sustainability in the Sonoma Valley Vineyard,” and a sailboat tour, “Environmental History of the San Francisco Bay by Sailboat.” Good wine, good food, and spectacular vistas of natural beauty all await you in the Bay Area.

I look forward to seeing you in San Francisco.

IN REMEMBRANCE
At the beginning of the Presidential Plenary, there will be a "Moment of Silence" to remember those members of the profession who died during the past year. Names submitted to Footnotes since last year's Annual Meeting will be listed in the Final Program. If you know of names that should be on this list but may not have been sent to ASA, contact Meeting Services (202-383-9005 x305; meetings@asanet.org).

Awards Ceremony
- 2014 Dissertation Award
- 2014 Jessie Bernard Award
- 2014 Cox-Johnson-Frazier Award
- 2014 Award for Public Understanding of Sociology
- 2014 Excellence in the Reporting of Social Issues
- 2014 W.E.B. DuBois Award for Distinguished Scholarship

Presidential Address
- Presider: Brian Powell, Indiana University
- Presidential Address: "The Transmission of Advantage." Annette Lareau, University of Pennsylvania
- All attendees are invited to this plenary session and to the Honorary Reception afterwards to honor President Lareau and the 2014 award recipients.

ASA Business Meeting
The ASA Business Meeting is an opportunity for members of the Association to discuss important issues facing the discipline and profession. All meeting attendees are invited to join ASA officers, Council members, and Executive Office staff for continental breakfast and discussion at the ASA Business Meeting on Tuesday, August 19, 7:00-8:15 AM.

Members seeking to present formal resolutions should be prepared to provide background materials on the issue to be discussed. Contact ASA Governance staff at the ASA Executive Office for guidelines (202-383-9005 x327, governance@asanet.org). The deadline for submission of resolutions and background materials is July 11, 2014.

23rd Annual Research Support Forum
ASA is pleased to announce the 23rd Annual Research Support Forum featuring special sessions and workshops on research funding, data resources, and discussion of important science policy issues. Look for the following sessions to navigate your way through this year's program and focus on researchers and research issues.

- Special Science Policy Session. NSF Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences (SBE): Future Challenges and Opportunities
- Special Open Forum Session. Consensus Study: Proposed Revisions to the Common Rule for the Protection of Human Subjects in the Behavioral and Social Sciences
- Research Funding Opportunities and Data Resources Poster Session
- Workshop: A Model for Bringing Research into the Policy Process
- Workshop: Big Data for Social Science Research—Availability, Accessibility and Research Possibilities
- Workshop: Ethical Considerations in the Use of Administratively Collected Data
- Workshop: How Couples Meet and Stay Together—A New Longitudinal Data Set
- Workshop: Innovative Longitudinal Tools for International Research in the Social Sciences and Economics on Inequality Among Families and Individuals
- Workshop: NSF—Disseminating Myths about Proposal Submissions and Funding Opportunities for Sociological Research
- Workshop: Panel Study of Income Dynamics
- Workshop: Qualitative Research—Review Standards and Funding Opportunities at NSF
- Workshop: Research Opportunities Using the Medical Expenditure Panel Survey (MEPS)
- Workshop: Social Observations—Promise and Perils for 21st Century Data Collection
- Workshop: Studying Ourselves—Data and Methods in Research on Academic Inequalities
- Workshop: Survey of Income and Program Participation
- Workshop: Using the Wisconsin Longitudinal Survey
- Workshop: Visual Approaches for Conveying Ethnographic Data
- Workshop: Community-Based Research—A Promising New Approach to Teaching Undergraduate Research Methods and Social Statistics to the Net Generation
- Workshop: Explaining Your Research to the Media—Practical Suggestions from a Panel of ASA Experts
- Workshop: How to Create a Platform for Your Research (co-sponsored with JustPublics@365)

A Marketplace of Ideas
The heart of the Annual Meeting is the exchange of scholarly ideas in sessions of all types and formats. Enjoy a sampling of the sociological work being done by the "best and the brightest." The 2014 Program Committee crafted a set of topics to which colleagues from around the world submitted papers and roundtable proposals. Now this work comes to the Annual Meeting stage.

Regular Sessions feature research papers submitted in response to the 2014 Call for Papers. These papers cover the spectrum of sociological inquiry and are organized into approximately 200 sessions.

Open Refereed Roundtables feature two to four paper presentations at each table, with a table presider to coordinate presentations and discussion. Two large general roundtable sessions were created on a variety of themes.

Informal Discussion Roundtables bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. One informal discussion session has been organized to enhance scholarly networking and exchange of emerging ideas.

Poster Sessions allow meeting attendees to see visually the results of sociological research and engage in face-to-face conversation with authors. In addition, there are specialized "Informational" posters on Research Funding Support and Data Resources, plus a Graduate Programs in Sociology resource area. All poster areas are open throughout the meeting.

Presidential Panels
The Program Committee created a session category to highlight topics of special interest to the ASA President. Seven sessions dealing with crucial social and political issues were created under this umbrella.

- Elites and the Power They wield
- Finding Our Way: Making Theoretical Sense of Out of Ethnographic Data
- Methodological Disagreements: Comparing the Value of Qualitative Interviews and Participant-Observation
- Public Sociology: Using Sociology to Improve Social Life
- Surveillance and Privacy
- Young Ethnographers: Portraits of Individuals Negotiating with Institutions
- Young Ethnographers: The Police, Surveillance, and Violence: The Next Generation of Ethnographic Work

Thematic Sessions
Thematic Sessions provide abundant opportunities to think in-depth about this year’s meeting theme, “Hard Times: The Impact of Economic Inequality on Families and Individuals.” Forty-nine sessions delve into important social and political issues, explore international and interdisciplinary viewpoints, and speculate on different visions of future possibilities, including:

- 50th Anniversary of the 1964 Civil Rights Act
- A New Deadly Symbiosis? The Alignment of Law Enforcement and Social Welfare Agencies in the Inner-City
- Accounting for Intergenerational Relations around the World: The National Transfer Accounts Project
- Border Legacy
- Bourdieu, Culture, and Empirical Research
- Children’s Work and Children’s Play during Hard Times
- Cities in Hard Times: The End of Persistence of the Segregated Century?
- Consumption in Hard Times
- Creating Order Out of Chaos: Strategies for Situating Family Members in a Social Context Using Qualitative Data
- Credit and Inequality: Interdisciplinary Perspectives
- Doing Time in Hard Times: The Impact of Incarceration on Family Well-being and Economic Stability
- Education and Hard Times
- Environmental Climate Change and Social Inequality
- Extended and Intergenerational Relations in Hard Times
- Future of Unions
- Global Inequalities: National, International, and Social Movement Perspectives
- Grandparents Pitching in During Hard Times
- Hard Times and Environmental Inequality
- Hard Times and Families in the Past: Lessons from the Eurasia Project
- Hard Times and High Hopes for US Higher Education
- Hard Times and Inequality in the Suburbs
- Hard Times in a Regional Perspective: The Crisis(es) of 2008 and their Aftermath
- Hard Times in College: Conflicting Visions of Affordable Postsecondary Education
- Hard Times in the Kitchens
- Hard Times in the Public Sector: Rethinking Inequality, State and Neoliberal Reforms
- Hard Times, Gender and Families
- Immigrant “Illegality”: Various Contexts and Approaches
- Inequality and New Media: Young People, Technology, and Social Divides
- Inequality and Philanthropy
- Institutions and the Maintenance of Inequality
- Is the Permanent Tax Revolt Over?
- Labor Market Restructuring and Hard Times for Families and Individuals
- Lean In
- Legacies of the War on Poverty: 50 Years Later
- Limiting the Damage: Reaching and Teaching Underserved Populations in Hard Times
- Networks of Need in the Age of Economic and Social Precarity
- Politics of Wall Street
- Progressive Religious and Social Activism: New Stories of Faith and Politics in America (co-sponsored with the Association for the Sociology of Religion)
- Race and Space
- Religion and Hard Times
- Religion and Socioeconomic Inequalities (co-sponsored with the Association for the Sociology of Religion)
- Researching Obama: Race, Health Care, Democracy, Culture
- Return Migration during Hard Times
- Same-Sex Marriage and the U.S. Supreme Court: One Year Later
- Social Mobility in Hard Times
- Socioeconomic Disadvantage and Childhood Obesity
- The Impact of Economic Inequality on Health and Developing Strategies to Reduce It

Special Sessions
The category of “Special Sessions” often encompasses member suggestions for invited panels as well as permits the Program Committee to co-sponsor sessions with sister societies. These sessions may be on topics that further investigate the meeting theme or they may focus on other timely and interesting issues. Here is a sampling from this year’s roster of Special Sessions:

- Consensus Study: Proposed Revisions to the Common Rule for the Protection of Human Subjects in the Behavioral and Social Sciences
- Alpha Kappa Delta (AKD) Distinguished Lecture
- Biogenetics, New Reproductive Technologies and the Creation of New Kinship
- Closing the Economic Marriage Gap: The Policy Debate
- Cultures of Getting and Spending Inequality from Market Interactions and Classifications
- Hard Times for Eurasian Countries: The Impact of Economic Inequality on Families and Individuals
- How Does Inequality Influence the Body?
- Inequality in International Comparison: Powerful Approaches
- Making Research Relevant: Payoffs and Pitfalls of Presenting Sociology to its Publics
- Science Policy Session. NSF Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences (SBE): Future Challenges and Opportunities
- Sexuality in Migration: Complicating Economic Migration Theory
- Sociology in and Sociology of Prevention
- The Local Global Dynamics of World Society
- The Social Census of the Digital Age: Honoring the Contributions of Lee Rainie and the Pew Internet & American Life Project to the Public Understanding of Sociology
- Urbanization and the Emergence of Cities in Hard Times: The End of Persistence of the Segregated Century?
- Where are the Children?: The Impact of Economic Inequality on Children and Families
- Why We Should Care About Sociology: The Public Impact of Sociology
- Young Ethnographers: Portraits of Individuals Negotiating with Institutions
- Young Ethnographers: The Police, Surveillance, and Violence: The Next Generation of Ethnographic Work

Refer to the online searchable program for details on all sessions and events on this year’s program roster. See the ASA website at www.asanet.org/am2014/am2014.cfm.
Courses
This educational component provides an opportunity for attendees to get in-depth training in a special subject area. Courses are intensive sessions led by expert faculty who have prepared a comprehensive curriculum to engage participants at all levels. Registrants will receive certificates documenting their participation and completion of a course.

This year's courses are held prior to the first full day of program sessions. Attendance limits and fees are noted below, and prepaid registration is required. Reservations are accepted in order of receipt in the ASA Executive Office. Fees are non-refundable after July 9.

Using Sensors in Sociological Research
Friday, August 15, 10:00 AM-5:30 PM
Fee: $70; Attendance Limit: 50
Leaders: Sheila R. Cotton, Michigan State University; and Timothy M. Hale, Harvard University

What Do I Do When My Respondent Facebooks? Making Sense of Social Media Use in Ethnographic Research
Friday, August 15, 1:30-5:30 PM
Fee: $70; Attendance Limit: 50
Leader: C.J. Pascoe, University of Oregon

An Introduction to Computer Assisted Qualitative Data Analysis in ATLAS.ti
Friday, August 15, 1:30-5:30 PM
Fee: $70; Attendance Limit: 30
Leader: Corey M. Abramson, University of Arizona

Major Activities for Department Leaders
The Annual Meeting affords a special opportunity for ASA to work with leaders of the profession, especially Department Chairs, Directors of Graduate Study, and Undergraduate Advisers.

ASA Chair Conference. Linking a Liberal Learning Centered Sociology Major to Successful Employment Outcomes: Vision, Mission, and Implementation
Friday, August 15, 8:00 AM-5:15 PM
Fee: $140 for Department Affiliates; $170 Non-Affiliates.
How are departments around the country working to prepare majors for the job market? How can capstone courses, employment counseling, alumni networks, or professional seminars be shaped to serve this purpose? How can success be measured? What is the impact on the broad liberal learning and critical thinking goals of sociology when focus turns to specific employment outcomes?
Opening Keynote: Jay Howard, Butler University
Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Butler University, Fellow of the P.A. Mach Center at Indiana University for Inquiry on Teaching and Learning, 2013 ASA Outstanding Contributions to Teaching Award Winner.

Directors of Graduate Study Conference: Preparing Graduate Students for Multiple Career Outcomes: Vision, Mission, and Implementation
Friday, August 15, 1:00-5:45 PM
Fee: $50 for Department Affiliates; $70 Non-Affiliates.
This half-day conference for directors of graduate studies programs focuses on the organizational challenges of managing MA and PhD programs in sociology.
This year’s conference will feature a panel of successful PhD and MA sociologists employed in diverse sectors, including the federal government, non-governmental organizations and the private sector, who will each describe the path that led them to their current positions and key elements of graduate preparation that would assist current graduate students interested in similar careers.
A second panel will include Directors of Graduate Studies from departments that are actively engaged in preparing students for multiple career outcomes. Presenters will describe their program’s approach, including specific issues such as curriculum, dissertation requirements, job market preparation, and alumni relations.
In addition to the panel presentations, the conference will include sessions of concurrent roundtables. Each roundtable will address the general theme of implementation. Implementation topics include:
• Recruiting and Admitting Graduate Cohorts
• Supporting International Students
• Teaching Writing in Graduate Programs
• Mentoring Graduate Students

Workshops
Look to the Annual Meeting for professional development and training across research, teaching, careers, and a host of other important professional issues. From teaching challenges to research issues to career advice and more, the 2014 Program features a robust selection of workshops.
Workshops are open to all meeting registrants. An overview of workshop topics is listed below. Workshop schedules, leaders, and descriptions are posted in the online searchable schedule on the ASA website www.asanet.org/am2014/am2014.cfm.

Departmental Management and Leadership Workshops
• How to Build Sociology Majors’ Social Capital for Post-Baccalaureate Success

Section Activities
ASA’s 52 Sections contribute an important segment to the Annual Meeting Program. Section sessions and activities at the Annual Meeting are interspersed throughout the four-day schedule. These specialized sessions range in format from formal paper presentations to panels and discussion roundtables and are open to all meeting attendees.

The number of sessions allocated to each section is based on its membership size. More than 180 sessions/meetings are scheduled. Sections provide a valuable way to meet colleagues interested in similar sociological specialties and find a small “home” in a large meeting. The primary day for each section’s program is listed below. Sections whose programs are too large to fit onto one day (*starred below) will have the overflow accommodated on an adjacent day. Check the online searchable program for specific information on section-sponsored sessions.

Activities of Other Groups
The wide-ranging interests of ASA members generate meetings of special interest groups during each year’s Annual Meeting. Space is assigned as available to these groups to hold their meetings and/or sessions in evening time slots when no program sessions or other ASA activities are scheduled. Refer to the online preliminary program schedule for details on activities of affiliates and other groups. Some groups will also have membership information and publications on display in Yosemite Hall at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square.

AND THE FEATURED BOOKS ARE...
Author Meets Critics sessions bring authors of recent important books together with discussants chosen to provide different viewpoints. The 2014 Program Committee selected 19 books published during 2012-14 to be featured on this year’s program.

The Long Shadow: Family Background, Disadvantaged Urban Youth, and the Transition to Adulthood
(Russell Sage Foundation, 2014) by Karl L. Alexander, Doris Entwisle, and Linda S. Olson
The City and County of San Francisco is the fourth most populous city in California and the 13th most populous city in the United States. It is the most densely populated city in the state, the second most densely populated major U.S. city, and is the financial, cultural, and transportation center of the larger San Francisco Bay Area, a region of more than seven million people. The city is located at the northern end of the San Francisco Peninsula, with the Pacific Ocean to the west and San Francisco Bay to the north and east.

After being devastated by the 1906 earthquake and fire, San Francisco was quickly rebuilt, hosting the Panama-Pacific International Exposition nine years later. During World War II, San Francisco was the send-off point for many soldiers to the Pacific Theater. After the war, the confluence of returning servicemen, massive immigration, liberalizing attitudes, and other factors gave rise to the Summer of Love and the gay rights movement, cementing San Francisco as a liberal bastion in the United States.

Today, San Francisco is a popular international tourist destination renowned for its chilly summer fog, steep rolling hills, eclectic mix of Victorian and modern architecture, and its famous landmarks, including the Golden Gate Bridge, the cable cars, and Chinatown. The local arrangements subcommittee has arranged a unique set of sessions that highlight topics of sociological interest.

This year’s program features an exciting roster of local arrangements representing the work of members from the San Francisco and Bay area. The local arrangements subcommittee, chaired by Sheila M. Katz (Sonoma State University), has developed a timely, stimulating, and vibrant roster of regional spotlight sessions, tours, and articles for footnotes.

Regional Spotlight Sessions

View online preliminary program schedule for the complete details of Regional Spotlight Sessions and Tours on the ASA Annual Meeting website (www.asanet.org/AM2014/am2014.cfm). This year’s spotlight sessions, include:

- Academic Hustle: PhDs and Part-Time Work in the San Francisco Bay Area
- Evolving Oakland: Protecting Poverty, Fighting Inequality, Engaging the Community
- Four Decades of Disability and Independent Living Activism in the San Francisco Bay Area
- Latin American Immigration to Northern California: The Dilemmas of Incorporation
- Social Justice Youth-Style: Bay Area Youth Activists’ Perspectives on Race, Education, and Coalition Politics
- Teaching about Race in a “Diverse” Place
- The Challenges of Public Sociology in Contested Areas: The Case of Abortion
- The Phoenix Rises Again but For Whom? Understanding Super-Gentrification in San Francisco

Regional Spotlight Tours

Plan your schedule now to take advantage of one or more of this year’s local tours. No matter which adventure you decide to embark on, there is a common denominator: The way you experience and learn about the city is to meet with, talk to, and learn from the people who live and work in the area. The schedule of tours is listed below, with descriptions and capacity limits. Reservations are required and will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Confirmations will be e-mailed prior to the Annual Meeting. If insufficient enrollment causes cancellation of a tour, fees will be refunded. See the ASA website for further details about reservations.

Tour 01. Sustainability in the Sonoma Valley Vineyard

Friday, August 15, 8:30 AM - 5:00 PM

Fee: $80

Leader: Sheila M. Katz, Sonoma State University

Description: Just north of San Francisco, Sonoma Valley wineries are leading national efforts in wine sustainability practices with the goal of being the nation's first completely sustainable wine region in the next five years. Tour the wineries of Sonoma Valley with an expert in winery sustainability business practices and a local sociologist with expertise in inequality and also in alcohol. The group will tour three wineries, each with a different sustainability focus. We will discuss sustainability practices in winemaking and labor conditions as we tour the vineyards, wine caves, and production rooms at the wineries. Each stop will include wine tastings. Lunch will be on your own in a beautiful downtown Sonoma around a historic square within walking distance of numerous restaurants and shops. Wear comfortable walking shoes appropriate for wine caves and vineyards. Sonoma is typically 10-15 degrees warmer than San Francisco, but the wine caves are a cool 50 degrees, so wear layers. Please note: this full-day tour takes place on the pre-convention day. Assembly begins at the Tour Departure Area located in the main lobby of the hotel at 8:00 AM.

Tour 02. Evolving Oakland Walking Tour

Saturday, August 16, 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Fee: $20

Leaders: Sheila M. Katz, Sonoma State University; and Cynthia Ganote, St. Mary’s College-California

Description: In the last five years, multiple events have shaped an evolving Oakland. Crime rates are down, gentrification is up and contested, and artists are flourishing. Starting in Frank Ogawa Plaza (also known as Oscar Grant Plaza), near the 12th Street BART and in front of Oakland’s City Hall, we will discuss recent protests in the plaza, including those in response to Oscar Grant’s murder and Occupy Oakland’s forced removal. Walking up Telegraph Ave. through the Latham Square reclamation park into the Uptown Arts District to the sculpture park and Champions of Humanity monuments, we will discuss city-funded initiatives and corporate art. Walking further up Telegraph Ave. into the KONO (Koreatown Northgate) neighborhood, we will discuss gentrification, crime, and the Art Murmur and First Friday coalitions. Further, we will focus on how artists and community benefit districts in their work together to hold a monthly street fair attended by over 15,000 people. The outdoor walking tour is approximately two miles (flat, no hills) with multiple standing stops. We will finish the tour amongst the art galleries, ending as the Saturday Stroll art gallery walk begins. At the end of the tour, participants have the option to stay for the self-guided art gallery walk, have lunch in the neighborhood, or have a wine or beer tasting. Tour organizers live in the neighborhood and have been active in the events we discuss. Assembly begins at the Tour Departure Area located in the Grand Ballroom of the hotel at 8:30 AM.

Tour 03. San Francisco Super-Gentrification

Sunday, August 17, 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Fee: $20

Leaders: John A. Stover, University of San Francisco and College of San Mateo; Jason Henderson, San Francisco State University; and Rachel Brahinsky, University of San Francisco

Description: San Francisco has a long history of gentrification waves sweeping the city and county, but the current moment has been particularly intense, with evictions, luxury high-rise developments, and erasures of the working and middle class inundating San Francisco and the Bay Area. In this walking tour of neighborhoods such as the Mission, Hayes Valley, and Mid-Market Street, tour organizers will highlight the various ways in which local protests, housing developments, urban renewal, and historic preservation efforts are dramatically shifting San Francisco’s urban landscape. The tour organizers have lived, worked, and extensively studied San Francisco’s development histories and personally experienced the various changes associated with the present gentrification and eviction trends. Assembly begins at the Tour Departure Area located in the Grand Ballroom of the hotel at 8:30 AM.

Tour 04. Environmental History of the San Francisco Bay by Sailboat

Monday, August 18, 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Fee: $40

Leaders: John A. Stover, University of San Francisco and College of San Mateo; Jason Henderson, San Francisco State University; and Rachel Brahinsky, University of San Francisco

Description: Sail the beautiful San Francisco bay on a private charter of a double-hulled catamaran sailboat (www.adventurecat.com) with an environmental history of the bay talk on-board as we cast off the sail. Then enjoy the sail, mingle with fellow sociologists, and talk more with our environmental historian (an academic and a sailor). The trip will include two hours on the water sailing past Fisherman’s Wharf, Alcatraz Island, Angel Island, and under the Golden Gate Bridge. We’ll also sail near Sausalito and the Marin shoreline. Snacks and beverages (juice, soft drinks, beer, wine) are on board available for purchase. Need to wear soft-soled comfortable walking shoes that are appropriate on a boat. The bay is typically 15-20 degrees cooler and windier than the city, so wear several layers with a jacket (extra jackets will be available on the boat), hats and sunscreen also suggested. Assembly begins at the Tour Departure Area located in the Grand Ballroom of the hotel at 8:30 AM.

Exhibits!
Plan your schedule now to include several visits to the 2014 ASA Exhibits to browse through the latest publications, explore current computer hardware and software, chat with representatives of statistical bureaus, and meet the editor of your next publication. More than 90 booths will display resources to help you plan courses, undertake research, and keep your sociological skills up to date.

The ASA Exhibits will be located in the Grand Ballroom at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square hotel. Exhibits will be open to meeting registrants wearing name badges during the following hours:

Saturday, August 16, 2:00 to 6:00 PM
Monday, August 18, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM
Sunday, August 17, 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM
Tuesday, August 19, 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM

The location of the Exhibits offers excellent accessibility for meeting attendees. Always one of the most popular activities at the Annual Meeting, Exhibits offer variety, convenience, and an opportunity to discover current trends in sociological publishing, information processing, and services. It will be a central gathering place too. Attendees will be able to take advantage of greater networking opportunities at the Exhibit Hall. The hall will feature “The Hub,” the ASA Cybercafé, and the ASA Bookstore. The hall will have seating areas for gathering with colleagues.

Welcome Students!
Undergraduate Advisers and Their Students Take Note! Poster Resource Area Showcasing Graduate Programs

This poster area features exhibits on graduate training from more than 30 graduate programs. Representatives from these institutions will be available to talk to undergraduate advisers, undergraduate students, MA-level students, and other interested meeting attendees at 2:30-4:10 PM on Saturday, August 16. The department posters will be available for viewing throughout the four days of the Annual Meeting. Attendees are welcome to drop by anytime during the convention to see these displays located in Yosemite Hall at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square.

ASA and the Student Forum
The ASA welcomes undergraduate and graduate students at the Annual Meeting. All students who join ASA as student members automatically become members of the Student Forum. Special arrangements for students include discounted registration fees, workshops oriented to issues of interest to students, student paper and roundtable sessions, a reception for students, and admission to the book give-away at the end of the meeting.

Student Reception. All students registered to attend the Annual Meeting are invited to the open student reception on Saturday, August 16, at 6:30-7:30 PM

Special Poster Sessions. Be sure to browse through the funding and data resources poster session to advance your work in sociology. Poster displays of graduate programs in sociology are accessible throughout the four days of the meeting, and program representatives will be available to chat with students from 2:30-4:10 PM on Saturday, August 16.

Student Book Give-Away. All student attendees at the Annual Meeting will receive a ticket to the special book give-away sponsored by ASA exhibitors on Tuesday, August 19, after the exhibit hall has closed.

Student Sessions. Whether you are planning to attend graduate school, or are further along and looking toward employment in sociological practice or the academy, there is useful information to be found by attending some of the workshops offered this year. If this is your first ASA Annual Meeting, the Orientation for First-time Meeting Attendees at 10:30 AM on Saturday, August 16 is a “must-attend” event, where you can meet other newcomers and get advice from ASA officers.

Tip: Don’t let the huge program overwhelm you. Start by looking at the roundtable and paper sessions sponsored by the Student Forum and then check the online searchable program to identify other sessions in your particular areas of interest.

ASA BOOKSTORE
All attendees are welcome to browse through the on-site ASA Bookstore area at the Annual Meeting, which will be filled with recent journal issues, timely books, teaching resources, career publications, sociological practice materials, and directories and reference volumes. The ASA Bookstore is located in the Grand Ballroom at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square. The on-site Bookstore will be staffed by ASA Executive Office personnel and open during the same hours as ASA Exhibits. You don’t need to wait until you go to the Annual Meeting to get ASA publications. Avoid toting heavy publications on your return home. Visit the online Bookstore (www.e-noah.com/bookstore) at your convenience to place your order and have the materials you need for planning for full classes shipped straight to you!

Networking Opportunities at the ASA Annual Meeting

Welcoming Reception
All meeting registrants are invited to the Welcoming Reception, which follows the Opening Plenary Session on Friday, August 15 and celebrates the opening of the 109th Annual Meeting. This social hour kicks off at 9:00 PM and provides opportunities to renew past acquaintances, chat with old friends, and find a newcomer to befriend. New members and first-time meeting attendees are particularly encouraged to come and have fun!

Exhibit Hall Refreshment Breaks
Dates: August 16 and 18
Time: 2:00-4:00 PM (Saturday and Monday)
Location: Grand Ballroom, Hilton San Francisco Union Square

Orientation for First-time Attendees
If this is your first time attending an ASA Annual Meeting, or even if it isn’t, plan on attending the orientation session at 10:30 AM on Saturday, August 16, prior to the mid-day plenary on the first full day of program sessions. Hosted by ASA Secretary Mary Romero and Executive Officer Sally T. Hillsman, this special orientation provides the opportunity to meet ASA officers and staff and begin networking with experienced colleagues. Pointers on navigating the Annual Meeting will be shared in informal roundtable discussions. Advice from ASA officers and experienced attendees will help you chart a course through the myriad activities and substantive attractions during the convention week.

Reception for Scholars with International Research & Teaching Interests
Scholars from countries outside the United States are invited to meet U.S. sociologists interested in international collaborations at a reception for international scholars on Monday, August 18 at 6:30-7:30 PM.

Departmental Alumni Night (DAN)
The Departmental Alumni Night (DAN), now in its 41st year, is a social event held after the first full day of sessions, where attendees can connect with friends, colleagues, and foes to reminisce about graduate school days, create new coalitions, and catch up on the latest news. This traditional gathering will begin at 9:30 PM on Saturday, August 16.

DAN provides departments with the opportunity to have an alumni gathering without the considerable expense of arranging one. Each graduate department of sociology in the United States and Canada receives an invitation to sponsor a table for alumni and friends. A small fee is charged to assist in covering expenses for this affair. Remind your department chair to reserve a table now! Visit the Annual Meeting website for more information and to download forms to sign up at www.asanet.org/meetings/receptions.cfm. Tables will also be provided for sociologists in business and industry as well as for international scholars and guests.

Community College Faculty “Bagel” Breakfast
Sociologists teaching in community colleges are invited to a special bagel breakfast at 7:00 AM on Sunday, August 17. Mark your calendar for this early-bird event where you can meet with other colleagues teaching at community colleges.

Honorary Reception
All meeting attendees are invited to attend the Honorary Reception at 6:30 PM on Sunday, August 17, to express appreciation, congratulations, and best wishes to President Annette Lareau and the major 2014 ASA award recipients on this festive occasion.

Since 1984, social science departments and regional societies have joined the ASA in co-sponsoring the annual Honorary Reception. Donors and sponsors of this year’s reception will be announced in the Final Program. If your department or institution would like to sponsor this event, contact the Governance Department at the ASA Executive Office (202-383-9005, x334; governance@asanet.org) to request a pledge form.
Section Receptions
In addition to sponsoring substantive program sessions, ASA Sections often host receptions for their section members during the Annual Meeting. These informal social events are primarily held in the evenings on the first and third days of the meeting, and all members of a sponsoring section are welcome to attend. Sometimes several sections will co-host a joint reception, which doubles or triples the fun!

Look for the following section receptions during the Annual Meeting in San Francisco.

Saturday, August 16, 6:30 PM
Joint Reception: Section on Comparative-Historical Sociology; Section on Sociology of Development; and Theory Section (offsite)

Wireless Internet Access and Social Media during the Annual Meeting
With the 2014 meeting, we will continue to use technology to improve participants’ meeting experiences, increase the efficiency and effectiveness of information sharing, and facilitate networking in both physical and virtual spaces. ASA provides complimentary basic bandwidth wireless internet access to attendees in the session rooms during the Annual Meeting. For those considering incorporating videos into your presentations, keep in mind that the basic bandwidth is sufficient to allow web browsing, access to the Annual Meeting App information and e-mail access. However, it will not support streaming data (including Skype and FaceTime) for paper session presentations. Please note: requests for hard-wired Internet lines in session rooms for presentations will not be honored.

In ASA sessions, members of the audience may use Twitter or other forms of social media to share the results of papers presented. In rare instances people will record sessions; if presenters prefer that audio recordings or video recordings not occur, please share your request with the audience. ASA encourages all program participants to be sensitive to the requests of others. In addition, the ASA Press Office shares feedback from the meeting with the media. ASA encourages presenters to notify their university press offices to ask them to share sociological research results that they believe are newsworthy.

Audio-Visual Support Provided in Session Rooms
The quality of any given material depends in part on how well the material itself is communicated. The Program Committee encourages all paper presenters to increase audience interest and participation by creatively using visual aids.

ASA provides an LCD Projector, laptop/computer, and screens as the standard setup for each paper session. This equipment is not provided for poster sessions or roundtable sessions. You may request the following additional equipment for a paper session presentations by contacting meetings@asanet.org:
- Audio (sound equipment for the LCD Projector)
- Flipchart with Easel and Markers

Social Media
While technological innovations may be nothing new for some members, for others they may be a bit daunting. Since 2012, the ASA has offered “The Hub,” ASA’s social media complex to Annual Meeting attendees. But what’s The Hub? It is a social networking space located in the ASA Exhibit Hall. While tweeting and blogging can be done throughout all the ASA-held meeting spaces (with complimentary WiFi access), this particular area offers seating areas and power outlets for charging electronic devices. The complex includes the ASA Bookstore; a series of computer terminals available for meeting attendees; and dedicated tech-training modules led by ASA Executive Office personnel who have significant experience working in social media.

In addition, representatives from JustPublics@365—coordinators of this year’s Social Media Pre-conference—will be on hand along with ASA Executive Office personnel throughout the Annual Meeting to provide mini-training opportunities covering an array of popular topics, such as using social networking tools (e.g., Twitter and Facebook), seeing how educators and non-profits are using Google maps, and making your personal website SEO compliant in order to increase its accessibility.

The Annual Meeting App
The ASA Annual Meeting App will include the full Pocket Program & Convention Bulletin; instant messaging capabilities among registered attendees (without using e-mail); note-taking features allowing users to save and send notes to a preferred e-mail account; maps and floor plans for the facilities, information on getting around San Francisco with details on local restaurants; and hours and locations for various Annual Meeting services. The “Program & Convention Bulletin” feature in the App will be continuously updated with program corrections and changes to reduce the rare but frustrating experience of going to a room only to find that there is an error in the program or the session was canceled. More details on the Annual Meeting App to be provided at a later date.
NEW INNOVATIONS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

At its January 2013 meeting, the ASA Council voted to create a new Task Force on Engaging Sociology (originally named Task Force on Using Social Media to Increase the Visibility of Sociological Research) proposed by ASA President Annette Lareau. A key initiative of her presidential year has been to consider specific ways to improve ASA’s use of social media and to develop best practices for the Association in order to assist sociologists with expanding their ability to promote their own sociological research. The addition of a Social Media Preconference to the meeting program reflects those efforts.

JustPublics®ASA

Social Media Camp

A research grant from the Ford Foundation launched JustPublics@365, a project designed to empower academics with the social media skills to increase their impact on social justice issues. Based at the Graduate Center at City University of New York, JustPublics@365 creates avenues for academics that research, write, and teach about issues related to social justice to become more familiar with social media platforms. With these skills, they can promote their work to a wider audience, increase attention to the issues, and hopefully bring about change.

JustPublics@365 and the ASA have partnered to offer “JustPublics®ASA Social Media Camp” as part of the pre-convention events in conjunction with 2014 Annual Meeting. The preconference is comprised of a series of skills-building workshops aimed at increasing knowledge of social media as well as strategies for using these tools in sociological work. Faculty are not often trained in the use of social and digital media. The goal of the preconference is to get participants really thinking in a different way about how to talk about their research to a wider public.

Typically, academics are concerned with journal articles, books, and monographs, which have very limited readership. They are not necessarily thinking about podcasts or short videos that could possibly be viewed by a couple thousand people. This preconference workshops will encourage participants to think differently about the kinds of products that they create. The workshops will get people started using tools such as Twitter and blogging sites to discuss their research. Other skills-building workshops offered at the preconference include:

- Writing Op-Ed Pieces and Pitches
- Being Interviewed on Camera
- Twitter for Academics
- Podcasting 101

Six training workshops are offered as part of the pre-conference activities. The workshops are offered free of charge to registered attendees of the Annual Meeting. However, those interested in participating must sign up in order to secure their space—slots will fill up fast! The Social Media Preconference is being organized by Jessie Daniels (City University of New York) and coordinated by Collette Sosnowy, project manager of JustPublics@365. For more information, visit JustPublics@365 on the web at justpublics365.commons.gc.cuny.edu/.

Services

Registration. Online meeting registration is open; you may register online via a secure server, or download the full registration form to sign up for the 2014 Annual Meeting and the various services, special events and conferences, seminars, courses, and conferences. The full registration form is in this issue of Footnotes. Annual Meeting attendees are urged to register for the meeting in advance. Advance registration assists ASA in planning for the Annual Meeting and also allows savings for the registrants.

Program Participants. Presenters who have not preregistered will be dropped from the online and final programs beginning on June 2.

Reminder: Access to all ASA services is restricted to meeting registrants. Badges are required for entry to the ASA Exhibits, Employment Service, and Child Care Service. Attendance at events that require fee payment (e.g., Tours, Courses, Chairs Conference, Director of Graduate Studies Series, Just Desserts, and MFP Benefit) is restricted to those who have registered for the meeting.

Confirmations. Continuing our commitment to a more environmentally sustainable meeting, we no longer print and mail confirmations to those who register online. Save the e-mailed confirmation as your record. Those who register via fax and mail will receive a printed confirmation by mail.

Preregistration Pickup. Attendees who preregister before July 9 may pick up badges, program packets, and special tickets at the Preregistration counters in the Grand Ballroom at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square. See registration service hours below.

On-site Registration. Those who miss the July 9 preregistration deadline should go to the On-site Registration area in the Grand Ballroom at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square to complete the on-site registration form and submit payment.

Accessibility Resources and Services

The ASA offers several services and oversight arrangements to facilitate attendance at the Annual Meeting.

Comfort Zone. Attendees coping with illness, meeting fatigue, or stress may use the small room set aside by ASA at the Hilton San Francisco as a “safe haven” to escape briefly from the noise and bustle of meeting activities. Families with breastfeeding needs should stop by the ASA Office in the California Room, Ballroom Level at the Hilton San Francisco for assistance in finding a private location.

Sessions. ASA will make arrangements for sign-language interpreters, sighted guides, and other communication avenues for meeting registrants. Use the “Accessibility Services” portion of the registration form to identify the service that you need. Meeting Services staff will contact you to discuss needs and possible arrangements.

The people of San Francisco have welcomed and insisted on the inclusion of people with disabilities into the mainstream. San Francisco has been at the forefront of providing ever-increasing accessibility to the favorite attractions people come to see. From the historic protests in the United Nations Plaza that gave birth to the disability rights movement, to the latest in Assistive Technologies installed in City Hall, the people of San Francisco have welcomed and insisted on the inclusion of people with disabilities into the mainstream of public life.

City Accessibility Resources. Paratransit Services, (www.sfparatransit.com) San Francisco Paratransit service is available to persons with disabilities, who because of their disability cannot independently use the regular MUNI bus/rail service. Certified visitors needing Paratransit service while visiting should prearrange with the San Francisco Paratransit Broker’s Office in advance of their arrival by calling (415) 351-7000 or e-mailing sfparatransit@veoliaparatransit.com. Paratransit does not service trips to/from the San Francisco International Airport.

Large Print Maps of San Francisco. To order a large print map of San Francisco, send $5.00 to: Blind San Franciscans, 1591 Jackson St. #8, San Francisco, CA 94109; (415) 563-4896

Wheelchairs and Motorized Scooters. The ASA will have a small inventory of scooters for use by registrants who need them for specific activities/events. However, if you prefer to rent your own wheelchair or scooter, feel free to make arrangements with Scout Around North America (888) 441-7575; www.scoutaround.com

Medical. Should you need medical assistance, contact: San Francisco On-Call Medical Group 490 Post Street, Suite 710 (415) 732-7029

Available 24 hours and offers house calls.

- A majority of faculty now use social media in a professional context (any aspect of their profession outside of teaching). Use of social media for teaching purposes has lagged even more, but like the other patterns of use, it has increased every year [since 2009]. The number of faculty who use social media in the classroom still does not represent a majority, but teaching use continues its steady year-to-year growth. Child Care
ASA continues its long tradition of providing an on-site program of activities for children of Annual Meeting registrants. Arrangements have again been made with KiddieCorp to offer a full childcare program from 8:00 AM to 6:30 PM on August 16-19 for children between the ages of 6 months to 12 years. The Child Care Service will be located at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square, headquarters hotel for the 2014 Annual Meeting.

Families intending to use the ASA Child Care Service must preregister before July 9. The non-refundable preregistration deposit is $50 per child. The deposit will be applied toward the on-site daily usage fees, which are $50 full-day and $30 half-day for preregistrants. Members may preregister online via the ASA website (www.e-noah.net/ASA/Login.asp). For more information about the service, check the Annual Meeting homepage.

Scholarships. Several financial assistance scholarships are available to provide reduced daily usage fees for children of unemployed or low-income members/students. To apply for a scholarship, write a letter identifying your membership status and requesting a child care scholarship and attach the letter to your registration form; send it to: ASA Meeting Services, 1430 K St. NW, Suite 600, Washington, DC 20005; fax: (202) 638-0882; or meetings@asatanet.org. Fill out the Child Care Registration portion of the form, provide daily usage estimates, and remit the basic child care preregistration deposit.

Space for Non-Preregistrants. It is unlikely that non-preregistered families can be accommodated on-site. The service staffing is contracted based on the number and age of preregistered children, and on-site adjustments are limited. If there are any openings, fees for children who were not preregistered will be $75 per day per child. No exceptions.

Employment Service
The annual ASA Employment Service assists sociologists and prospective employers by providing convenient opportunities for interviewers and job seekers to meet in a neutral, monitored environment for initial short interviews during the Annual Meeting.

The online Employment Service module gives registered users access to candidate resumes and job listings and supports an interactive scheduling calendar for setting up interview appointments during the Annual Meeting. The module is accessible through the ASA Member Portal.

How to Participate
Job seekers (candidates) must preregister for the 2014 Annual Meeting and pay the Candidate fee as part of their registration process.

Employers (organizations) must pay the job posting fee as part of their ES login process. After posting a job listing, an employer can designate the appropriate personnel who will serve as interviewers, provided they have preregistered for the Annual Meeting.

Interviewers must preregister for the 2014 Annual Meeting in order to be designated by Employers for the role of Interviewer. Employers must use their ASA department or company ID to login to the Employment Service and post a position. Individual IDs cannot be used. To obtain you employer ID, e-mail empusers@asatanet.org, or call (202) 383-9005, ext. 336.

The Employment Service will be open from Friday afternoon to mid-day Tuesday, August 15-19. Check the Annual Meeting website for more details about online Employment Service procedures.

Reminder: Anyone who wishes to use the Employment Service must first preregister for the 2014 Annual Meeting.
Hotel Accommodations in San Francisco

The 109th ASA Annual Meeting will be held at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square Hotel and the Parc 55 Wyndham Hotel. Both facilities will host all ASA program sessions. ASA registration and satellite office, book exhibits, Employment Service, and the ASA Bookstore will be located at the Hilton San Francisco Union Square. ASA Child Care and all plenary sessions will also be located at the Hilton.

All housing services are being managed through Connections Housing, the official housing vendor for the Annual Meeting. Information on making reservations at ASA convention rates is posted on the ASA website (www.asanet.org/AM2014/Housing.cfm). You may make your reservation online, via phone, or download the reservation form on the ASA website to fax/mail.

Staying within the Block. Booking a room in the ASA room blocks is an important way to support the Association and ultimately keep meeting costs as low as possible. Staying “within the block” is also more convenient and helps you stay connected with the informal activities and networking opportunities during the meeting.

“BUYER BEWARE” Be vigilant if dealing with any companies or services other than Connections Housing that imply or claim an affiliation with ASA. We have been made aware of other housing companies that may be aggressively pursuing you, or your company, to book your guest rooms through their company at supposedly significant discounts. Unfortunately, some past attendees and exhibitors have fallen prey to these companies and have either lost their significant deposits; been relocated with little or no warning; have not had the guest rooms they thought they had booked; or have not received reservations at the hotel they had thought were confirmed. This has caused great hardships to these companies and individuals. Reservations made through an agency other than Connections Housing will be at your own risk.

Note: All Reservations must be guaranteed with a valid Credit Card. The credit card provided for your reservation is for guarantee only. No fees will be applied to the credit card unless you do not show up on your scheduled arrival date or you do not cancel the reservation according to the hotel cancellation policy. A credit card will be required at the time of check in unless pre-payment has been made in advance.

Cancellation. To avoid a one night Room and Tax charge, Cancellations must be made a minimum of 3 days prior to arrival. Check your hotel confirmation for the specific policy at that facility.

Accessibility Needs: When making a hotel reservation, you may request audio, visual, or mobility assistance. If you want the ASA Executive Office to verify that your accessibility request(s) will be honored, send requests to: ASA Special Housing, 1430 K St. NW, Suite 600, Washington, DC 20005-4701; fax (202) 638-0882; meetings@asanet.org.

WHY STAY IN THE ASA ROOM BLOCK?

Stretch Your Travel Dollar
Companies are downsizing, budgets are being reduced, and travel requests are being highly scrutinized for their return on investment. The ASA understands those concerns and has partnered with the meeting hotels to offer you a competitive hotel rate and incentives that will help stretch your travel dollar.

Receive Special Incentives
Guests who book within our block have access to amenities that are not always available at other properties. For details on the amenities offered at the individual hotels, see www.asanet.org/am2014/am2014.cfm.

Support Your Association
Booking a room in the ASA room blocks is an important way to support the Association and ultimately keep overall meeting costs as low as possible. Staying within the ASA block allows us to secure meeting space. We represent the face of our discipline in the city over the Annual Meeting dates.

Represent Your Discipline
We are a discipline concerned with workers’ rights and improved living standards. Show your support for the various hotel staff by staying in the Annual Meeting hotels. Your business supports their livelihood.

Be a Part of the Action
The 109th Annual Meeting will be an intellectual conversation that extends beyond the session rooms. Connect, learn, and share with each other in those informal moments in the hotel lobby, elevator, and corridors.

Book Your Room Today!
Hotel rates at the ASA properties are some of the most competitive in the area and rooms sell out fast. Housing blocks close August 2, 2014. Don’t be left out; book your room today! For more information or to book your reservation, see the ASA website www.asanet.org/am2014/am2014.cfm.
Program participant registration fees are non-refundable, unfortunately, under no circumstances can ASA issue refunds for no-shows. All fees are non-refundable after July 9, 2014.
