American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

1. CASJE at the George Washington University

Job 19740: Post-doctoral Fellowship in Applied Research in Jewish Education and Jewish Communal Life (various locations, including remote)

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: CASJE at the George Washington University
Department: CASJE in the Graduate School of Education and Human Development
Region: All US Regions
Title: Post-doctoral Fellowship in Applied Research in Jewish Education and Jewish Communal Life (various locations, including remote)
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link:

Housed within The George Washington University’s Graduate School of Education and Human Development, the Collaborative for Applied Studies in Jewish Education (CASJE) is an alliance of educational, philanthropic and research institutions aiming to provide improved data and scholarship relevant to the practical needs of American Jewish educational and communal institutions.

CASJE is currently recruiting three fellows for its post-doctoral training program in applied research. This program prepares individuals to conduct applied social scientific research related to contemporary Jewish education and Jewish communal life. Individuals with earned doctorates are welcome to apply at any stage in their career.

Overview
The fellowship program, led by CASJE at George Washington University’s Graduate School of Education and Human Development, aims to prepare scholars to meet the research needs of American Jewish educational and communal organizations, to thereby expand the pipeline of researchers positioned to conduct critical, high-quality applied research in Jewish education and contemporary Jewish life.

Fellowships run for two years. Fellows will receive an annual salary of $70,000, plus benefits.

Candidates
Candidates for the fellowship hold completed doctorates and bring an interest in learning to conduct applied studies in American Jewish education and Jewish communal life. Fellows must have training in and facility with social science research methods from fields including education, sociology, psychology, political science, or economics. Fellows must be legally permitted to work in the USA.

CASJE especially encourages applicants who are from or whose research focuses on traditionally under-represented Jewish communities.

Faculty Mentors
Fellows will be matched with distinguished mentors who will advise and help guide their work. In Year 1, fellows work up to 12 hours a week on a mentor’s existing projects. In Year 2, fellows dedicate their attention primarily to conducting an original applied research project in conjunction with a Jewish organization, under the guidance of the fellowship director, with additional input from the fellow’s faculty mentor.

The following mentor placements are available for the 2024-2026 cohort:

Briana Barocas, New York University (in-residence or remote)
Areas of Expertise: The study of violence, trauma, resiliency, and recovery, gender relations, restorative justice.

Active projects: Studying a restorative justice approach, the Circles of Peace model, to address domestic violence and other crimes; Evaluating how crime victims experience perceptions of healing when engaging in restorative justice.

Facets of applied research mentor can support: Randomized controlled trials, qualitative studies, mixed methods research design, evaluation, studies using secondary sources of data.

Requirements: Candidates should have basic methodological training (qualitative or quantitative).

Amy Berman, Deputy Director of the National Academy of Education (NAEd), (in residence or remote)
Areas of expertise: Civil rights law, education civil rights law, education policy.
Candidates who hold a doctorate outside of the social sciences must demonstrate in their application the skills and capacities to conduct applied social science research. (The letter should include milestones and timeline for completion.)

Applicants must have an earned doctorate before the application deadline or a signed letter from the advisor specifically stating they are on track to defend no later than March 1, 2024.

Stipulations

Candidates who hold a doctorate outside of the social sciences must demonstrate in their application the skills and capacities to conduct applied social science research.

Fellows must be US-based. They must be legally permitted to work in the USA. All research must be based in the USA. CASJE will not sponsor individuals for visas.
Submitting the Application

All applications must be submitted via the GWU application portal.

Please email casje@gwu.edu with your intention to apply. We will notify you when the GWU application portal is open.

Applicants should submit the following documents via the GWU application portal:

1. CV

2. Statement of Interest (max. 3-5 pages) in this fellowship program. Include in your essay a response to the following prompts:
   - Explain your interest in developing applied research skills regarding American Jewish education, culture, and communal life and how it relates to your own professional goals.
   - Share your understanding of and approach to applied research.
   - Identify an issue or challenge faced by a particular American Jewish organization or program. Describe a study that could be undertaken to address this particular concern specifying its focus and methods.
   - Indicate which mentor/s you would like to work with and what you hope to gain by working with them.

3. An academic writing sample of no more than 30 pages

4. Letters of recommendation:
   - Submit 2 confidential letters of recommendation that speak to the candidate’s research capacity. These should be emailed to: casje@gwu.edu.
   - Please instruct recommenders to include the applicant’s LastName_FirstName FELLOWSHIP2023 in the subject field.

All materials, including recommendation letters, must be received no later than 11:59 pm Eastern Time on Sunday, December 17, 2023.

Selected candidates will be notified in late January 2024 and invited for a virtual interview. Selection of fellows will be made by April 2024.

For any uploaded documents, please use 12-point Times New Roman font, double-spaced with one-inch margins.

The CASJE Applied Research Fellowship in Jewish Education is sponsored by a grant from the Jim Joseph Foundation.

Employer Description:

About CASJE

CASJE (Collaborative for Applied Studies in Jewish Education) is an alliance of researchers, practitioners, and philanthropic leaders dedicated to improving the quality of knowledge that can be used to guide the work of Jewish education. Our mission is to ensure that the field of Jewish education has the capacity to develop, use and share research-based evidence to fuel improvements in teaching and learning. CASJE works with partners who see the value of research-informed evidence to guide investments in Jewish communal life. Founded at Stanford University, CASJE’s programmatic home has been in the Graduate School of Education and Human Development at George Washington University since 2016. CASJE’s work is guided by an Advisory Board that includes Jewish educational leaders with a deep understanding of the diverse arenas in which Jewish education happens today and scholars of education from Boston College, Brandeis University, George Washington University, Harvard University, Stanford University, UC Berkeley, and Vanderbilt University.

Contact: Ms. Naomi Gamoran
Email: naomi.gamoran@gwu.edu
Phone: 6088524078
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19754: Instructional Professor in Law, Letters, and Society (Open Rank)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023

Institution: The University of Chicago
Department: Law, Letters, and Society
Region: Midwest
Title: Instructional Professor in Law, Letters, and Society (Open Rank)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Instructor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Law and Society, Law and Society
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Job Description:

The Social Sciences Collegiate Division at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for a full-time Instructional Professor who will teach in the program in Law, Letter appointment is renewable, and the initial three-year term begins September 1, 2024. Appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor will be consi candidate’s experience. The program in Law, Letters, and Society (LLSO) is an undergraduate program that offers a major, courses, student research opportunities, and a variety of co-curricular activities. designed to develop students’ analytical skills and enable informed and critical examination of law broadly construed. Rather than situating the study of the law solely in contempor field of American constitutional law, LLSO seeks to organize its exploration of law through the broader terms of “letters” and “society.” LLSO has approximately 120 undergraduate courses taught by instructors from diverse disciplines. More information about the program in Law, Letters, and Society can be viewed in the College's online catalog: http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/lawlettersandsociety/

The position involves teaching up to six quarter-length courses during the academic year, depending on program responsibilities and needs, including required and elective course Society. The successful applicant will have a scholarly expertise related to law. We are especially interested in candidates whose work focuses on international law, comparative law traditions. Candidates may be asked to teach one or two sections of the major’s B.A. thesis seminar, a two-quarter sequence. They should also be prepared to teach the requ "Introduction to Legal Reasoning." The successful candidate will also participate in developing new coursework for the Law, Letters, and Society major; participate in planning and curricular activities; support the Faculty Director and Program Director in developing workshops, student research experiences, and opportunities for internships and professional practice. They may advise up to five B.A. theses.

The terms and conditions of employment for this position are covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and the Un

Qualifications

The position requires either a J.D. or a Ph.D. in a relevant field in the social sciences or humanities. Candidates must have completed all degree requirements no later than August. Experience teaching at the college level is required.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, you must submit your application through the University of Chicago Interfolio job board at http://apply.interfolio.com/135672 and upload the following:

1. A letter of application describing your academic interests and teaching background;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. Syllabi of courses previously taught and/or designed by the candidate or sample syllabi of proposed courses
4. A teaching statement;
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as student evaluations or performance reviews;
6. A chapter-length piece of writing;
7. Three letters of recommendation.

The review of applications will begin on November 30, 2023, and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community the expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.
Employer Description:
The program in Law, Letters, and Society (LLSO) is the University of Chicago's selective interdisciplinary major in the social sciences. It is organized around the study of law broadly construed. Our students develop a uniquely diverse set of analytical skills through a series of required LLSO courses and by designing their own focus fields within the major, which allows them to take courses across the College's curriculum as they study a particular theme or question in depth. In their final year, all students produce a BA thesis that builds upon the skills and knowledge that they have gained in the program. LLSO's commitment to undergraduate research means that it also seeks to cultivate student involvement in the research life of University faculty. While many LLSO graduates pursue careers in law a significant number do not. LLSO majors have successful careers in government, journalism, business, and academia, among other industries.

Contact: Alex Bean
Email: bean@uchicago.edu
Phone: 773-702-8622
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
3. University of Houston

Job 19737: Assistant or Associate Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 1/29/2024
Institution: University of Houston
Department: Sociology
Region: Southwest
Title: Assistant or Associate Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Environmental Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology and UH Population Health at the University of Houston invite applications for a joint hire at the Assistant or Associate Professor level to begin Fall semester 2024. This is a 9-month benefits-eligible position, with rank and salary based upon qualifications and experience. It is a shared appointment with Sociology as the home department for tenure, promotion, and annual performance reviews.

Applicants should have established a portfolio of research in Environmental Sociology with an emphasis on environmental health and climate-related disasters. Of particular interest would be a candidate whose research addresses timely societal challenges which could include environment-related health outcomes and disparities, sustainability, environmental justice, societal impacts of climate change, and/or environmental movements. Moreover, the ideal candidate will have a strong track record of extramural funding to support their research.

The applicant must hold a PhD in Sociology at the time of the appointment. Scholarly publications are required. In addition, the candidate should be able to teach courses that ideally could be cross-listed among Sociology, Population Health, or Environmental Engineering, such as environmental sociology, environmental justice, environment and health, and/or the sociology of disasters.

Candidates should apply online at http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/. The position number keyword is: FAC005190. Application materials should include a cover letter describing research agenda and teaching experience; curriculum vitae; copies of two recent publications and the names of three references. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2023, but the position will remain open until an acceptable short list is compiled. Questions about the position should be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Kathryn Anderson at kander20@uh.edu.

Qualifications: The applicant must hold a PhD in Sociology or a related discipline at the time of the appointment.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for a faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check.

Employer Description:
The UH Department of Sociology (https://uh.edu/class/sociology/) has a research-focused, highly active faculty. The Department offers undergraduate degrees (B.A. and B.S.) and an M.A. in Sociology, with approximately 230 majors and 220 minors in the undergraduate program and approximately 25 students in the graduate program. Undergraduate and graduate students receive a strong foundation in sociological theory, research methods, and both qualitative and quantitative methods.

The successful candidate will join a dynamic group of interdisciplinary scholars (UH Hurricane Resilience Research Institute, https://hurri.uh.edu and UH Population Health, https://uh.edu/population-health/) conducting significant research on climate and health. This active and engaged collective work together on these timely social challenges, and an environmental sociologist will be able to contribute to these efforts.

University of Houston is a Tier 1, Carnegie designated research intensive institution and its student body reflects the racial, ethnic, and international diversity of the Houston metropolitan area. Located in the fourth largest city in the U.S., Houston is home to one of the largest medical centers in the world, numerous global energy corporations, and a vibrant arts community, all of which provide exciting research opportunities. UH has 15 colleges including four health professional schools. In Fall 2020, the University of Houston welcomed the first incoming class to its medical school, which focuses on primary care and underserved populations.

The University of Houston is an ADVANCE institution, one of a select group of universities in receipt of National Science Foundation funds in support of our commitment to increase the number and success of women faculty in the STEM fields. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action institution and recognizes protected classes of race, color, sex (including pregnancy), genetic information, religion, age (40 and above), national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or status, and gender expression as required by federal law. Veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Contact: Kathryn Anderson
Email: kander20@uh.edu
Phone: (713) 743-3940
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

4. University of Massachusetts-Amherst

Job 19755: Assistant Professor of Gender/Feminisms, Ethnography, and the Global South

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023

Institution: University of Massachusetts-Amherst
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Gender/Feminisms, Ethnography, and the Global South
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Ethnography (Anthropology)
Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at the University of Massachusetts Amherst is accepting applications for a tenure-track assistant or associate professor position to begin September 1, 2024. The preferred candidate will be an advanced assistant professor. Under exceptional circumstances, highly qualified candidates at other ranks may receive consideration.

This position requires a specialization in Gender/Feminisms, Ethnography, and the Global South. The department has a strong preference for scholars whose work takes a transnational or global approach that focuses on Black, Indigenous, and/or Latinx critiques and communities and includes Global South locations. Candidates should have a demonstrated track record of outstanding academic or creative scholarship, as well as evidence of excellence in teaching and a commitment to service. The selected candidate will typically teach a 12 hour credit load, advise undergraduate and graduate students, and perform service duties for the Department, College, and University. If hired at a senior rank, they will also be expected to help mentor their colleagues.

Requirements

Ph.D. is required, preferably in Sociology or a closely related field. ABD candidates with an expected completion date by August 31, 2024 will be considered.

Teaching experience at the undergraduate level and a robust research or creative scholarship record are strongly preferred. A candidate who is eligible to be appointed at a mid-career or senior-level position will be reviewed for tenure on an expedited basis if the qualifications permit. They are expected to have at least five (5) years of experience in a tenure-track professorship post in Sociology, including undergraduate teaching experience and a robust record of research or creative scholarship.

Additional Information

Rank and salary will be commensurate with qualifications; salary and benefits are competitive. This position is eligible for membership in the Massachusetts Society of Professors, the faculty and librarian union at UMass Amherst.

UMass Amherst is a leader in providing institutional support for faculty to combine work and family/personal responsibilities and was listed among the Chronicle of Higher Education’s “Great Colleges to Work For.” For more information on work-life balance at UMass Amherst, see https://www.umass.edu/prospective-faculty/work/balance.

The sociology department includes a diverse and eclectic group of faculty members with research clusters in the areas of: Gender, Sexuality, and Families; Race, Immigration, and Citizenship; Culture, Identity, and Social Psychology; Crime, Law, and Deviance; Politics, Movements, & Global and Transnational Sociology; Labor, Work, and Organizations; Social Networks; and Social Demography. The department is also currently the home of the American Sociological Review, and the President of the American Sociological Association. The department is particularly committed to public sociology, and our students are placed in excellent jobs inside and outside of academia.

Application Instructions

Along with the application, please submit the following:

- A 2-3 page letter of interest addressed to Joya Misra, Search Committee Co-chair, Thompson Hall 200 Hicks Way, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA 01003, USA.
- A curriculum vitae.
- A 2-3 page research statement that describes your current project(s) and future research agenda.
- A teaching portfolio, which includes a 1-2 page teaching statement/philosophy and materials that allow us to assess teaching effectiveness.
- A 1-2 page diversity statement that discusses the candidate's skills, experiences and commitment to teaching and mentoring diverse and historically underrepresented student populations; professional service that assists in achieving equity, inclusion, and diversity; and how the candidate's past or future research addresses fundamental questions important to a diverse and global society.

- Contact information for three (3) professional references who are willing to submit letters upon request through the UMass online application system.

Shortlisted candidates that are suitable for an upper rank position will be asked to provide materials that demonstrate the candidate's eligibility and qualifications to show they meet the criteria and the standards for tenure at the University of Massachusetts Amherst.

Evaluation of applications will begin December 1, 2023, and will continue until the position has been filled. Questions about this position should be directed to the search committee co-chairs, Joya Misra (misra@umass.edu) and Agustin Lao-Montes (lao@soc.umass.edu).

The university is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The University of Massachusetts Amherst is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will holistically assess the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research or other work activities. We will also favorably consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to an academic degree and career.

Employer Description:

About UMass Amherst

UMass Amherst, the Commonwealth's flagship campus, is a nationally ranked public research university offering a full range of undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees. The University sits on nearly 1,450-acres in the scenic Pioneer Valley of Western Massachusetts, and offers a rich cultural environment in a bucolic setting close to major urban centers. In addition, the University is part of the Five Colleges (including Amherst College, Hampshire College, Mount Holyoke College, and Smith College), which adds to the intellectual energy of the region.

Contact: Joya Misra
Email: socchair@umass.edu
Phone: (413) 545-0577
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Sponsors of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19736: Assistant/Associate Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: University of Missouri-St. Louis
Department: Criminology and Criminal Justice
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant/Associate Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice, Criminal Justice
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:
Curators of the University of Missouri
The Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, University of Missouri-St. Louis campus

Job Description
The Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, which is located at the University of Missouri-St. Louis campus, invites applications for one Assistant or Associate Professor position beginning in August 2024 (or negotiable). Strong candidates conducting research in all substantive areas will be considered, including but not limited to crime, law, and deviance; race, crime, and justice; and punishment. Given the value of diverse perspectives to our research, teaching, community engagement, and departmental culture, we welcome individuals from various backgrounds and experiences to join our faculty.

Duties and Responsibilities:
- Execute an impactful research program
- Support the success of graduate and undergraduate students from a wide range of diverse backgrounds through excellence in teaching and mentorship.
- Be actively involved in the department, university, and field through service
- Contribute to a welcoming, inclusive, and collegial department culture

Qualifications
- Ph.D. in criminology or a closely-related field at the time of appointment
- Evidence of scholarly research and productivity commensurate with experience
- Demonstrated teaching skills commensurate with experience

Application Materials
Applicants should submit a letter of interest addressing the rank you are seeking, the position requirements and responsibilities, and how your experiences and expertise align with the UMS System Values Statement (below); curriculum vita (CV); and one writing sample (e.g., journal articles). Questions can be directed to Christopher J. Sullivan, Department Chair, at cjsullivan@umsl.edu. Apply online at Careers at UMSL.

Application Deadline
The review of applications will begin on November 27, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled.

Other Information
About the Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice: The Department currently has ten full-time faculty with diverse research interests and a shared commitment to excellence in scholarship, teaching, mentorship, and service. Our mission is to conduct and disseminate the findings of theoretically-informed basic and applied research on crime and justice; offer excellent teaching at the Bachelor, Master, and Doctoral levels; and provide service to the campus, profession, and community. The department provides an active, theoretically and methodologically diverse research environment and strong support for faculty scholarship. Departmental faculty members consistently publish the results of their research in top-tier, peer-reviewed journals and books and generate external funding. Teaching activities include not only traditional undergraduate and graduate courses, but also intensive training and mentoring of a talented, diverse, and committed student body. Our small student-to-faculty ratios foster engagement with students at all levels. CCJ faculty members are involved in many local, state, national and international service activities; hold offices in organizations such as the American Society of Criminology, and serve in editorial positions on major journals. More information on the Department’s academic programs, faculty, and students can be found at https://www.umsl.edu/ccj/index.html

Benefit Eligibility
The University of Missouri - St. Louis offers benefit-eligible employees a wide variety of benefits including: health, dental and vision coverage effective on the first day of employment, retirement, paid time off, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents and employee and dependent life insurance. For more information about our benefits, please visit:
Values Commitment

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person’s success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eeo.

Employer Description:

With more than 15,000 students, the University of Missouri–St. Louis is the St. Louis region’s premier public research university. UMSL provides excellent learning experiences and leadership opportunities to a diverse student body whose influence on the region upon graduation is immense.

UMSL is spread across more than 350 acres in suburban St. Louis County with a mix of modern and historic academic buildings as well as a variety of student residence halls, condominiums and apartments. It’s the perfect setting for students to gain unique insights from outstanding faculty and work experience from internships at companies and organizations found only in this world-class metropolitan region.

While UMSL graduates can be found in all 50 states and countries around the globe, their greatest impact is felt right here in St. Louis. More than 80,000 UMSL alumni call the St. Louis region home. They drive the region's economy and contribute mightily to its social well-being.

Contact: Christopher Sullivan
Email: cjsullivan@umsl.edu
Phone: 314-516-3032
Website: https://www.umsl.edu/ccj/faculty/christopher-j-sullivan.html

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19742: Assistant Professor of Sociology and Data Science

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology and Data Science
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Mathematical Sociology, Quantitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Primary Purpose of Organizational Unit: The UNC Chapel Hill School of Data Science and Society (https://datascience.unc.edu) and the Department of Sociology (https://sociology.unc.edu) work to advance data science foundations and applications as well as sociological knowledge and the public’s understanding of society through research and teaching at the highest levels of the disciplines. We are committed to a vision where all members of the community feel welcome and valued and can thrive. We encourage our faculty and staff to actively contribute to fostering an academic workplace climate that is welcoming and supportive for all.

Position Summary: The Department of Sociology and the School of Data Science and Society (SDSS) at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invite applications for a primary tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor in Sociology in the College of Arts and Science with a full joint appointment in the School of Data Science and Society. Candidates should exhibit a record of strong and innovative research and excellence in teaching. We welcome applications from candidates whose work aligns with the mission of the SDSS and the Department of Sociology values as outlined on our websites. Candidates must possess a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field.

Minimum Education and Experience Requirements: Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field by July 1, 2024.

Preferred Qualifications, Competencies, and Experience: We prefer candidates with expertise in health, data science, and computational methods who can teach courses in our undergraduate data science majors (BA & BS). Candidates must have a strong research agenda combining data science and computational methods to sociological fields. Areas of particular interest include, but are not limited to:

- Data: Methods of collection, storage, dissemination, and translation of data into actionable information
- Algorithms and Models: Computational and statistical tools to enable researchers and stakeholders to discover, create, analyze, present, synthesize, and consume data
- Applications: Sound and creative deployments of both data and models to advance interdisciplinary health science, as well as offer solutions to pressing health problems.
- Social Scientific Study of Health: Advance the study of population health and/or health disparities in the United States or internationally.

Campus Security Authority Responsibilities: Not Applicable.

Special Instructions: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and the names and contact information of four references through UNC’s online recruitment system. Please use the “Other Document” attachment to provide the teaching statement. Applications will be considered until the position is filled, but our review of applications will begin on November 3, 2023.

Employer Description:

If you experience any problems accessing the system or have questions about the application process, please contact the University’s Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost office at (919)-962-1091 or send an email to facultymail@unc.edu.

Please note: The Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost office will not be able to provide specific updates regarding position or application status.

If you have any questions about the job requirements or the hiring department notify the Department Contact.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Contact: Jennifer Issing
Email: jissingj@email.unc.edu
Phone: (919) 962-1007
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Sponsors of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
Job 19725: Tenured Full (or advanced associate) Professor and Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Tenured Full (or advanced associate) Professor and Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Primary Purpose of Organizational Unit: As the largest unit on campus, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the Carolina experience. The College consists of 43 academic departments and curricula and numerous programs, centers and institutes. It is home to more than 18,000 undergraduate students, including all of the University’s first-year and second-year students. About 2,300 graduate students study and teach in the College.

The Division of Undergraduate Education is the administrative home to many of the College’s high-impact and experiential learning opportunities, including Honors Carolina, the First-Year Seminar and First-Year Launch Program, and undergraduate research, as well as academic support resources such as the Thrive Academic Advising, the Center for Student Success (including the Writing and Learning Center, Peer Mentoring Program, Summer Bridge), and the Interdisciplinary Studies Program.

The Office also supports the work of the College’s Curriculum Committees and helps the College explore inclusive pedagogies and both curricular and co-curricular approaches to teaching and learning in the 21st century. Carolina’s IDEAs in Action general education curriculum began in fall 2022 and reflects some key directions for students – with a more structured first year, focus capacities that allow for practice of key skills, and for reflection and integration with required high-impact experiences. OUE additionally provides support for faculty and departments as the general education requirements as well as all their undergraduate degree programs and minors.

The Office serves as a resource for students, faculty and staff in other campus units engaged in various aspects of the College’s undergraduate education mission.

At the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, we pride ourselves on our tradition of academic excellence and our dedication to cultivating a diverse and inclusive learning environment. As a global public research university, we are seeking a dynamic and forward-thinking individual to join our faculty as a Tenured advanced associate or Full Professor, specialization open. This professor appointment may be in any field where tenure may be approved in one of our more than forty college departments. This tenured faculty position will also hold a term-limited secondary appointment as the Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education. We seek applicants with well-established records of research, teaching, and leadership experience, especially in undergraduate curricula. We are interested in understanding of effective strategies for teaching, mentoring, and/or fostering student success. This position is located in the Arts and Sciences Deans Office.

Responsibilities and expectations of this role include, but are not limited to, the following:

Senior Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

At UNC-Chapel Hill, 87% of all undergraduate students graduate from the College of Arts and Sciences, and the senior associate dean oversees the academic curricula, progress, and support of Carolina’s >20,000 undergraduate students across the University. The senior associate dean for undergraduate education reports to the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Working in close partnership with the College dean’s office and University leadership, including the chancellor, provost, and deans from professional schools, this senior associate dean plays an integral role in shaping strategy and advancement of undergraduate education. This collaborative approach extends to engaging with faculty members from various academic departments, the Graduate School, and dedicated professional staff. This position is the point of contact for departments during enrollment growth and as we manage enrollment in the general education curriculum.

Position Summary: The senior associate dean for undergraduate education is a key member of the University’s leadership team, responsible for guiding, enhancing, and overseeing all aspects of the undergraduate educational experience. This position collaborates with faculty members, administrators, and students to develop and implement strategic initiatives that align with our institution’s mission and educational goals as driven by the strategic plan (see below). Key responsibilities include:

- Providing leadership to develop and execute innovative strategies for enhancing student learning and undergraduate education.
- Fostering a student-centered approach, ensuring all academic programs and support services meet the diverse needs of our student population.
- Forging collaborations with academic departments to support faculty and enhance student learning within their curricula, ensuring academic rigor and relevance.
- Advocating for the seamless integration of technology and pedagogy, fostering dynamic, and effective learning experiences.
- Spearheading initiatives to enhance undergraduate research, experiential learning, and interdisciplinary studies.
- Collaborating closely with student affairs to provide a holistic and enriching educational experience for students.
- Overseeing assessment and continuous improvement efforts related to undergraduate education outcomes, including working with faculty, the general education curriculum, and student cohort programs.

Full (advanced associate) Professors teach broadly in the curricula of the tenure-appointing department, mentor and advise students, serve on departmental, school, and university-wide committees. Courses that any faculty member may teach varies depending on specialization and established course load. This position may be expected to maintain a significant research and publication agenda and to pursue appropriate external funding opportunities.

For a more detailed job description, please visit: go.unc.edu/SAD-UndergradEd

The ideal candidate for the senior associate dean for undergraduate education should hold tenure at the associate professor rank or higher. The candidate should hold a Ph.D. or equivalent qualification in a discipline represented within the College of Arts and Sciences. They should have an outstanding professional background with national standing in their field, underscored by an outstanding track record of accomplishments in research scholarship, teaching effectiveness and service.
Minimum Education and Experience Requirements: A noteworthy facet of the successful candidate’s profile should include significant involvement and accomplishments in undergraduate curricula, the study of effective pedagogy, teaching and mentoring effectiveness, and/or fostering student success. This candidate needs to be adept at clearly specifying an innovative and forward-looking vision for undergraduate education, tailored to the demands of the 21st century.

Demonstrated administrative acumen and the ability to come to consensus are critical skills, including the capacity to harmonize the priorities of diverse stakeholders. This candidate will have a proven history of managing administrative responsibilities effectively. Of utmost importance is an unwavering dedication to initiatives and interventions that enhance the caliber of the undergraduate student experience as they move through college to graduation.

Preferred Qualifications, Competencies, and Experience:

- Full professor with tenure.
- Previous direct supervision of executive level staff.

Campus Security Authority Responsibilities: This position is designated as a Campus Security Authority in accordance with the Clery Act. This position will be required to report Clery crimes to the Clery Compliance Manager and complete annual training about reporting responsibilities.

Special Instructions Please provide the following documents when applying for this position:

- CV
- Cover letter that addresses your leadership experience in undergraduate education
- Research statement
- Teaching statement (uploaded as Teaching Philosophy/evaluations)
- Service statement (uploaded as Other Document)
- Contact information for 5-6 references

Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled.

If you experience any problems accessing the system or have questions about the application process, please contact the University’s Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost office at (919)-962-1091 or send an email to facultyrecruitment@unc.edu

Please note: The Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost office will not be able to provide specific updates regarding position or application status. If you have any questions about the job requirements or the hiring department notify the Department Contact.

Employer Description:
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Contact: Anne Belote, Executive Assistant to the Dean
Email: abelote@email.unc.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19745: William Burwell Harrison Distinguished Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: William Burwell Harrison Distinguished Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Migration/Immigration , Labor and Labor Movements
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Primary Purpose of Organizational Unit: The UNC Chapel Hill Department of Sociology (https://sociology.unc.edu/) works to advance sociological knowledge and the public’s understanding of society through research and teaching at the highest levels of the discipline. We are committed to a vision where all members of the community feel welcome and valued and can thrive.

Position Summary: The Department of Sociology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a Senior Full Professor to fill the William Burwell Harrison Distinguished Professorship of Sociology. We seek applications from scholars specializing in any area of Sociology who exhibit a record of strong and innovative research and excellence in teaching. Applications from scholars studying immigration, work or inequality are especially welcome. Candidates’ work should align with our departmental mission and values as outlined on our website.

Minimum Education and Experience Requirements: Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field and be a Full Professor at their institution.
Preferred Qualifications, Competencies, and Experience: Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field and be a Full Professor at their institution. Applications from candidates with strengths in areas of immigration, work, or inequality are especially welcome. A record of external funding for this research program is also desirable.

Campus Security Authority Responsibilities: Not Applicable.

Special Instructions: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and the names and contact information of four references through UNC’s online recruitment system. Please use the “Other Document” attachment to provide the teaching statement. Applications will be considered until the position is filled, but our review of applications will begin on November 15, 2023.

Employer Description:

If you experience any problems accessing the system or have questions about the application process, please contact the University’s Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost office at (919)-962-1091 or send an email to facultyrecruitment@unc.edu.

Please note: The Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost office will not be able to provide specific updates regarding position or application status.

If you have any questions about the job requirements or the hiring department notify the Department Contact

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Contact: Jennifer Eissing
Email: sociology@unc.edu
Phone: (919) 962-1007
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

9. University of Pittsburgh

Job 19739: Associate/Full Teaching Professor of Sociology and Director of Undergraduate Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023

Institution: University of Pittsburgh
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast

Title: Associate/Full Teaching Professor of Sociology and Director of Undergraduate Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Sociology Department at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for an Appointment Stream colleague at the rank of Associate or Full Teaching Professor, beginning in Fall 2024. Whereas teaching specialization is open, the successful applicant will assume the significant administrative role of Director of Undergraduate Studies. As Director of Undergraduate Studies, the professor will guide the undergraduate program (including strategic and tactical program management, mentorship for teaching faculty and teaching assistants, and participation in hiring and renewal processes). Given the scope of the position the Director of Undergraduate Studies will be part of the department Leadership Team. Most significantly, the person in this position will lead discipline-informed efforts to develop our undergraduate curriculum and guide both assessments and proposals for courses to meet General Education requirements.

Essential qualifications are:

- A Ph.D. in sociology and at least five years of relevant professional experience by the time the appointment begins.
- Undergraduate teaching experience, and demonstrable impact in shaping undergraduate curricula.
- Teaching excellence, in an R1 institution
- Strong commitment to continuous improvement and to working effectively with diverse undergraduate student audiences, including nontraditional and adult students.

Desired additional qualifications are:

- Special consideration will be provided to applicants with evidence of pedagogical publications and/or research.

The Department of Sociology has a world-class reputation as an intellectual leader and has a commitment to high-quality undergraduate education; we invite applicants who can prove a sustained commitment to pedagogical innovation, department-level curricular management, and a strong connection between their research and the classroom teaching they undertake. For more information about the Department, please visit www.sociology.pitt.edu.

The Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences is committed to building and fostering a culturally diverse environment. Excellent interpersonal and relationship-building skills and the ability to work effectively with a wide range of individuals and constituencies in support of a diverse community are required.

Pittsburgh is consistently ranked one of the most livable cities in America, and the University has a commitment to providing world-class research and computing facilities. Our proximity to other highly active research communities (including Carnegie Mellon University, which is just across the street) and commitment to community-engaged scholarship also make Pitt an exciting and engaging place to work.

Salary is competitive.

Review of applications will begin November 20, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please submit the following:

- Cover letter of 1-2 pages addressed to the Sociology DUGS Search Committee that summarizes your qualifications for the position and as needed, provides additional relevant information not solicited by other application requirements.
- Current curriculum vitae.
- Teaching statement that details your approach to instructional design and undergraduate programs.
- A description of how your teaching and service demonstrate a commitment to inclusion and diversity.
- Sample syllabi for two courses and some sample assignments or assignment sequences
- Student evaluations for three classes (if available).
- Contact information (full name, title, and email) for the three people providing reference letters for you.
Questions can be directed to Dr. Michael Glass, at glass@pitt.edu.

The Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences is committed to building and fostering a culturally diverse environment. Excellent interpersonal and relationship-building skills and the ability to work effectively with a wide range of individuals and constituencies in support of a diverse community are required.

- Assignment Category: Full-time regular
- Campus: Pittsburgh
- Required Attachments: Cover Letter, Curriculum Vitae, Teaching Statement, Teaching Evaluations, Other (see posting for additional details).

Employer Description:

Contact: Nicole Troy
Email: nit72@pitt.edu
Phone: 412-648-7583
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

10. University of Pittsburgh

Job 19738: Teaching Assistant Professor in Urban Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023

Institution: University of Pittsburgh

Department: Urban Studies

Region: Northeast

Title: Teaching Assistant Professor in Urban Studies

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=23007618&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York

Job Description:

Teaching Assistant Professor in Urban Studies - Full-Time

Urban Studies Program - Pennsylvania-Pittsburgh

The Urban Studies Program at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a non-tenure-stream Teaching Assistant Professor position to begin Fall 2024, pending budgetary approval. The successful applicant will teach undergraduate courses for the BA in Urban Studies and BA in Law, Criminal Justice, & Society (LCJS). We are seeking an urban scholar with a focus on the intersection of urban inequality and the criminal legal system. We are especially interested in candidates who can enhance the diversity of our faculty. The successful candidate should be able to teach Social Justice & the City (URBNST 0112), Crime, Punishment, Justice, Reintegration (URBNST 0140), Intro to Urban Studies (URBNST 0100), Intro to Law, Cj, and Society (LCJS 0100), and Ethics in Criminal Justice (LCJS 1700). The appointment is for a three-year renewable term after a 1-year probationary contract. Renewal is contingent on satisfactory performance, curricular and programmatic needs, and continued availability of funding for the position. The regular teaching load is three courses per semester (six courses per academic year), with 3 sections taught for Urban Studies, and 3 taught for LCJS.

Essential qualifications are:

- A Ph.D. in urban sociology, urban studies, or a related social science or public policy field in hand by the time the appointment begins.
- Undergraduate teaching experience
- Strong commitment to continuous improvement and to working effectively with diverse undergraduate student audiences, including nontraditional and adult students.

Desired additional qualifications are:

- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively in developing curriculum, organizing events, and participating in collective governance.

The Urban Studies Program at the University of Pittsburgh is a growing interdisciplinary hub for research and education about the complex urban processes that shape the Pittsburgh city region and metropolitan areas worldwide. The program is home to a diverse community of interdisciplinary students and scholars. Students can presently gain an undergraduate BA in Urban Studies, or a BS in Urban Planning & Geographic Analysis. Our top scholars can induct into the Upsilon Sigma Honor Society, and all faculty and students engage in an active events calendar. For more information about the program, please visit www.urbanstudies.pitt.edu. The Law, Criminal Justice, and Society (LCJS) major examines the workings of the criminal justice system in the broader context of society and the legal system. Having launched in the Fall of 2021, the LCJS undergraduate program has grown to 320 majors across the College of General Studies (CGS) and the Dietrich School of Arts & Sciences (DSAS). To learn more about the LCJS program, start here (https://www.cel.pitt.edu/cjs-ba).

Pittsburgh is consistently ranked one of the most livable cities in America, and the University has a commitment to providing world-class research and computing facilities. Our proximity to other highly active research communities (including Carnegie Mellon University, which is just across the street) and commitment to community-engaged scholarship also make Pitt an exciting and engaging place to work.

The Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences is committed to building and fostering a culturally diverse environment. Excellent interpersonal and relationship-building skills and the ability to work effectively with a wide range of individuals and constituencies in support of a diverse community are required.

Salary is competitive.

Review of applications will begin November 20, 2023, and continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please submit the following:

- Cover letter of 1-2 pages addressed to the Joint URBNST-LCJS TAP Search Committee that summarizes your qualifications for the position and as needed, provides additional relevant information not solicited by other application requirements.
- Current curriculum vitae.
- Teaching statement.
- A description of how your teaching and service demonstrate a commitment to inclusion and diversity.
- Sample syllabi for two courses and some sample assignments or assignment sequences...
- Student evaluations for three classes (if available).
- Contact information (full name, title, and email) for the three people providing reference letters for you. Your writers should email their letters directly to Nicole Troy (nit72@pitt.edu).

Questions can be directed to Dr. Wes Hiers, Director of Law, Criminal Justice, & Society, at wjh16@pitt.edu.

The Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences is committed to building and fostering a culturally diverse environment. Excellent interpersonal and relationship-building skills and the ability to work effectively with a wide range of individuals and constituencies in support of a diverse community are required.

- Assignment Category: Full-time regular
- Campus Pittsburgh
- Required Attachments Cover Letter, Curriculum Vitae, Teaching Statement, Teaching Evaluations, and others (see posting for additional details)

Employer Description:
Contact: Nicole Troy
Email: nit72@pitt.edu
Phone: 4126487583
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19748: Assistant Professor

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
11. University of Texas at Austin

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: University of Texas at Austin
Department: Department of American Studies
Region: Southwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Urban Sociology , Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $100,000 - $109,999
Submission Link: < a href='http://apply.interfolio.com/132280)' target='_blank'>apply.interfolio.com/132280)

Job Description:

Position Description

The Department of American Studies at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position at the intersection of Urban Studies and American Studies with a focus on the historical and contemporary United States. We seek an interdisciplinary scholar whose work engages U.S. cities within broad social and cultural formations.

Having recently incorporated an undergraduate major in Urban Studies, job responsibilities include teaching innovative courses, both broadly general and on specialized topics in Urban Studies and American Studies. Expected course offerings include a large in-person course called “Introduction to American Studies” and a smaller course called “Methods in Urban Studies,” along with upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses in American Studies. We welcome imaginative, interdisciplinary pedagogy that spurs student engagement and critical analysis. Additional duties include research as well as service to the department, college, and university.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. (by August 15, 2024) in American Studies, Anthropology, Ethnic Studies, Feminist Studies, Geography, Planning, Sociology, Urban Studies, or related fields. Also required are training and experience with social science research methods, broadly defined, including research design, data collection and analysis, as applied to the study of U.S. cities. Preferred qualifications include evidence of excellent teaching; an established publication record; demonstrated potential to supervise and mentor undergraduate and graduate students at a large research university with a diverse student body; demonstrated interest in public-facing work; demonstrated potential for deep engagement in the life of our vibrant department; and demonstrated experience working collaboratively.

Application Instructions

The deadline for submission of applications is December 10, 2023.

Applicants must submit the following items via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/132280): a cover letter with description of teaching and research interests; a CV; evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., course syllabi, student evaluations); writing sample (approximately 25 pages); link to website and/or digital portfolio.

Letters of recommendation will be solicited from candidates at a further stage in the selection process.

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Questions about application submission should be directed to our department manager, Stephanie Kaufman, at stephanie.kaufman@austin.utexas.edu.

Employer Description:

Contact: Stephanie Kaufman
Email: stephanie.kaufman@austin.utexas.edu
Phone: 5122322337
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19756: HISPANIC HEALTH DISPARITIES RESEARCH FOCUS ASSISTANT PROFESSOR COHORT SEARCH (6 faculty positions)

The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) is recruiting a cohort of six tenure-track Assistant Professors who will advance knowledge in areas related to Hispanic health disparities. The positions are part of the NIH-funded Faculty Institutional Recruitment for Sustainable Transformation (FIRST) grant (https://commonfund.nih.gov/FIRST) awarded to UTEP. The UTEP FIRST program goals are: (1) fostering sustainable institutional culture change; (2) promoting institutional inclusive excellence by hiring a diverse cohort of new faculty; and (3) supporting faculty development, mentoring, sponsorship, and promotion.

Addressing and eventually eliminating disparities within Hispanic communities requires understanding the intersection of numerous variables at multiple levels of integration. UTEP is committed to expanding interdisciplinary research initiatives that include multiple areas of research foci and entail collaborations across campus to study the health of Hispanic communities. The framework of the UTEP FIRST program is to hire a cohort of faculty whose expertise spans a range of domains. Participating UTEP colleges and schools include:

- College of Business
- College of Education
- College of Engineering
- College of Health Sciences
- College of Liberal Arts
- College of Nursing
- School of Pharmacy
- College of Science

FIRST faculty will receive competitive salary and startup packages, as well as 75% protected research time for the duration of the NIH FIRST award. They will also be provided investigative space in the new UTEP interdisciplinary research building (IDRB), which houses open-concept laboratories and state-of-the-art facilities. FIRST faculty will have the opportunity to interact with senior investigators in a highly collaborative interdisciplinary environment. They will benefit from a support system involving multiple mentorship touchpoints and platforms including one-on-one mentoring with sponsors, advocates, and grant writing coaches. FIRST faculty will be guided by institutional and Faculty Development Core leaders and invited to join a community of practice aligned with their interests. Tailored mentoring will ensure that each faculty member builds a network of support to foster their independent research program in a clear, impactful, and competitive manner to address their individual and cohort needs. Notably, FIRST faculty will engage in a series of integrated activities that will propel them from early-stage investigators to established principal investigators and, ultimately, to emergent institutional leaders.

UTEP is a Carnegie R1 research intensive, Hispanic-serving institution with a prominent focus on addressing health disparities and health equity for the predominately Hispanic demographic living on the United States-Mexico border. The UTEP Border Biomedical Research Center, supported by the National Institutes of Health Research Centers in Minority Institutions (NIH RCMI) Program, has for many years been the focal point for biomedical research at UTEP, and provides support through state-of-the-art core facilities to UTEP biomedical researchers. Importantly, UTEP has aggressively expanded biomedical research capacity in recent years through the development of a new building focused on interdisciplinary research, enhanced outreach to hospital systems in the city and surrounding area, building of a new NIH-funded Imaging and Behavioral Neuroscience Laboratory, development of a Center for Integrative and Translational Research that supports health disparities research initiatives, and collaborations with Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center in El Paso and the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. UTEP is classified as a Carnegie Community Engaged Institution, which demonstrates the university’s commitment to forming sustainable partnerships and collaborations to address the expressed needs of the community, facilitating community based participatory research as well as disseminating findings to vested stakeholders.

QUALIFICATIONS

Required Qualifications

- Holds a PhD, MD,PhD, PharmD, DrPH, or other doctoral degree at the time of appointment.
- Has not held a prior tenure-track position but may have held a non-tenure track Research Assistant Professor position.
- Satisfies the NIH Early-Stage Investigator criteria (https://grants.nih.gov/policy/early-stage/index.htm), including completing their terminal degree within the past 10 years and not having already been the Principal Investigator or Program Director on a substantial NIH independent research award. comparable to an R01.
- Conducts research and scholarly work that contributes to knowledge about understanding and reducing Hispanic health disparities.

Preferred Qualifications

- Evidence of a commitment to provide an excellent education for all students.
- Strong publication record in areas related, or with potential relation, to Hispanic health disparities research.
- Research in an area appropriate for NIH funding.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Candidates are encouraged to apply by November 30, 2023 to ensure full consideration. Positions will remain open until filled.

- Cover Letter (1-2 pages): Candidates should describe their suitability for the position by addressing their qualifications, experiences and contributions that elucidate their congruence with the UTEP institutional mission and strategic plan (https://www.utep.edu/strategic-plan/). In addition, candidates should indicate their preferred home department(s) and provide contact information for three professional references.
- Curriculum Vitae
- Research Statement (3 pages maximum, not including references): Candidates should summarize previous research experience and include short- and long-term research goals. They also should describe how their research plans are tied to potential NIH R01 and other funding opportunities (https://grants.nih.gov/grants/funding/roi.htm).
- Teaching Statement (2 pages maximum): Candidates should describe their teaching experience, their teaching philosophy, and overall pedagogical strategy. In addition to specifying courses they would like to teach, candidates should identify other areas of interest that would contribute to the course offerings of the preferred home departments. They should also describe their experiences in mentoring and/or student professional development.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/4743119. For questions about the position, contact the Search Committee Co-Chairs, Drs. Michael Kenney or Ann Quiroz Gates at utepfirst@utep.edu.

ABOUT UTEP AND EL PASO

The University of Texas at El Paso is a Carnegie R1 and Community Engaged research university at the heart of the U.S.-Mexico border region. We advance discovery of public value and positively impact the health, culture, education, and economy of the community we serve. UTEP enrolls 24,000 students, 84% of whom are Hispanic, and half of whom are the first in their families to attend college. UTEP is one of the major economic engines in the region, adding more than $1.4 billion to the local economy annually.

El Paso’s active arts and culture community features the state’s longest-running symphony orchestra, a nationally recognized chamber music festival, art galleries, museums, and a full schedule of seasonal events and festivals. UTEP adds to the arts and entertainment scene with an award-winning dinner theater, music and dance productions, contemporary and student art galleries, and a natural history museum.

For sports fans, the UTEP Miners offer exciting Division I college athletics. Southwest University Park, located a mile away in downtown El Paso, is home to the El Paso Chihuahuas, the Triple-A affiliate of the San Diego Padres, and the El Paso Locomotive, a professional soccer team founded in 2019.

El Paso County is a highly livable, bi-cultural community of more than 850,000 people that offers affordable homes and is the safest city in the U.S. with a population of over 500,000. Shielded by mountains on three sides, El Paso enjoys more than 300 days of sunshine annually and a dry climate, making it possible to engage in outdoor activities year-round. The city of El Paso adjoins both the state of New Mexico and the country of Mexico; it is one of the largest international communities in the world. See https://visitelpaso.com (visitelpaso.com) for more information.

In keeping with its Access and Excellence mission, The University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all. We seek to attract faculty and staff who share our commitment.

The University of Texas at El Paso is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or gender identity in employment or the provision of services in accordance with state and federal law. Discrimination on the basis of sex includes an employee’s or prospective employee’s right to be free from sexual harassment under Title IX of the Higher Education Amendments of 1972.

Employer Description:

Contact: Michael Kenney or Ann Quiroz Gates
Email: utepfirst@utep.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19753: Assistant Professor of Sociology and Public Health

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/31/2023 to 11/30/2023
Institution: University of Texas-Dallas
Department: Sociology Department
Region: Southwest
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology and Public Health
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Public Policy, Political Economy
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Sociology Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Sociology and Public Health.

The Sociology program at UT Dallas offers a B.A. in Sociology, a recently established B.A. in Public Health, and an M.S. in Applied Sociology with an emphasis on applied social research and participates in a Health and Social Policy concentration within a multidisciplinary PhD in Public Policy and Political Economy. We invite applications from broadly trained scholars in sociology and public health who could offer instruction in sociology and public health related courses, work well in an interdisciplinary environment, and are actively pursuing a research agenda.

The appointment commences for the fall 2024 semester.

Qualifications

Minimum Education and Experience: A PhD in sociology or public health-related field is required prior to employment; those with ABD status will be considered at the application/interviewing stage. Candidates are expected to demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a highly collaborative, engaging, and dynamic environment comprised of individuals with a range of backgrounds, skills, and perspectives. We are seeking candidates able to produce research and scholarly or creative achievements that enhance the program and the discipline, and able to deliver high quality teaching using evidence-based practices to effectively engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at UT Dallas is a national leader in research addressing critical social, political, and economic issues. Our graduates work in government, nonprofits, and the private sector, with many pursuing advanced degrees that prepare them for leadership roles in advancing positive change on the local, national, and global level.

Application Instructions

Applicants should upload the following via the https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/24809:

- Full curriculum vitae and cover letter summarizing their interests and qualifications for the position.
- Statement of teaching philosophy describing their conceptualizations of teaching and learning, and teaching and assessment methods, and how their teaching practices will engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.
- Research statement describing past, present, and future research, including how they mentor (or will mentor) student researchers and foster (or will foster) collaborative research environments.
- Full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Priority will be given to completed applications received by December 15, 2023. Reviews will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed on January 15, 2024.

Employer Description:

The University and Community

UT Dallas is a top public research university located in one of the nation’s fastest-growing metropolitan regions. Our seven schools offer more than 140 undergraduate and graduate programs, plus professional certificates and fast-track programs. Our student body is 31,000 strong, reflecting students from over 100 countries and a multiplicity of identities and experiences. Over 65% of our undergraduate students receive some form of need- or merit-based financial aid; and 66% of graduating seniors have no student debt compared to 48% in Texas and 32% in the nation (2021 TICAS report).
UT Dallas is committed to graduating well-rounded members of the global community whose education has prepared them for rewarding lives and productive careers in a constantly changing world. A diversity of people, ideas, and perspectives is crucial to our vision and mission. UT Dallas is a place where members of the community from all backgrounds are welcomed, treated fairly, and encouraged in their pursuit of excellence.

The University has a variety of programs and initiatives to support engagement and success for all members of the campus community. Employee benefits include a range of physical and mental wellness resources. “LilyPad” lactation facilities are located throughout the campus. There are several Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) comprised of individuals who share common interests to help build community among UT Dallas faculty and staff (e.g., Universal Access ERG, Military and Veteran ERG, UT Dallas Young Professionals).

Rich with visual and performing arts venues, museum districts, professional and semi-professional athletics teams, botanical gardens, accessible trails and so much more, the Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) metroplex has something for everyone to explore. UT Dallas partners with regional higher education institutions and school districts and with the Richardson Innovation Quarter (Richardson IQ), a major hub for innovation, entrepreneurship, and educational activities.

Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful, and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an equal opportunity/affirmative action university.

Contact: Richard Scotch
Email: ph.soc@utdallas.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19731: Lecturer in Sociology

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
14. University of Florida

Job Description:

Lecturer in Sociology

The Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, non-tenure accruing position, renewable appointment at the rank of Lecturer in Sociology, to begin August 16, 2024. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in Sociology by date of hire.

The Lecturer will typically teach three (3) high-demand or foundational courses each semester, such as Principles of Sociology and Development of Sociological Thought. Preference will be given to applicants who can also offer courses such as Race and Racism in the US and/or Sociology of Gender, and to those with experience in teaching large enrollment courses. The Lecturer will also provide other instructional needs to the undergraduate Sociology program, such as undergraduate advising duties and serving as the Course Coordinator to assist graduate students teaching Principles of Sociology. In addition, the Lecturer will be expected to actively contribute to campus- and college-wide initiatives designed to increase the quality of the educational experience provided to students, while also helping them create a path from their studies to their future professions. These include offering courses to UF Quest (https://undergrad.aa.ufl.edu/uf-quest/) and participating in the Beyond120 program (https://www.advising.ufl.edu/beyond120).

Applications

For full consideration, applications must be submitted online at jobs.ufl.edu, search job # 529129.

A complete application includes (1) a letter of application summarizing the applicant's qualifications, interests, experience, and suitability for the position; (2) a complete curriculum vitae; (3) a statement of the applicant's teaching philosophy; (4) peer or student teaching evaluations (as available); (5) sample syllabi; and (6) the names and email addresses of three references. An email will be sent to your references, requesting them to upload their confidential letter to the submission packet.

Applications will be reviewed beginning November 17, 2023, and the position will remain open until filled. Only complete applications will be reviewed at this time. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

The selected candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered “official” if a designation of “Issued to Student” is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at http://www.naces.org/.

Employer Description:

The Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law is a large and dynamic department with nearly 1,500 undergraduate majors and almost 100 graduate students. The Department has multiple undergraduate programs offered via in-person and online courses, and has recently developed new minors in Sociology of Social justice & Policy and Environmental Justice & Policy. We encompass a concentration of faculty using Artificial Intelligence methods in their research and teaching. Faculty are also known for research in other areas, including criminology and criminal justice; psychology and law; families and gender; health, aging, and the life course; environment and resources; and race and ethnicity. Many faculty are affiliated with other academic programs at UF, including the School of Natural Resources and the Environment, the Emerging Pathogens Institute, the Center for Latin American Studies, the Center for European Studies, the Center for Women's Studies and Gender Research, and the Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise:

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Lecturer

Title: Lecturer in Sociology

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link:

https://undergrad.aa.ufl.edu/uf-quest/

https://soccrim.clas.ufl.edu/

http://www.advising.ufl.edu/beyond120

https://undergrad.aa.ufl.edu/uf-quest/

https://soccrim.clas.ufl.edu/

https://www.advising.ufl.edu/beyond120

https://www.naces.org/

The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity Institution.

25/210
Contact: Alin Ceobanu
Email: aceobanu@ufl.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
15. University of La Verne

Job 19727: Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/30/2023 to 11/29/2023
Institution: University of La Verne
Department:
Region: West
Title: Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

University of La Verne

Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology

Job Description Summary:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology at the University of La Verne invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor in Sociology with a specialty in Criminology. Candidates would be expected to teach courses such as Law and Society, Introduction to Criminology, Quantitative or Qualitative Methods, Mass Incarceration, Criminological Theory, Internship, and Criminal Justice System, in addition to special topics in their area of expertise. In addition, candidates are expected to engage in research and provide departmental service, including advising majors and minors. Preference is given for candidates with departmental leadership experience. We welcome candidates from underrepresented groups in college faculties.

The University of La Verne is a private not-for-profit university founded in 1891 located in La Verne, California. The core values that we live by are Ethical Reasoning, Diversity and Inclusivity, Lifelong Learning and Community and Civic Engagement.

If you're passionate about these values, join us at the University of La Verne!

Specific Duties:

- Teach courses on a 3-3 course load in the department using strategies that support the success of students from diverse populations.
- Teach courses both in person and online.
- Maintain an active research agenda in the candidate’s area of expertise that engages undergraduate students.
- Mentor and advise students in the major and minor.
- Participate in service to the department, the college, and the university.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in sociology or criminology from an accredited institution at the time of appointment (July 1, 2024) and have prior teaching experience.

Preferred Qualifications:

Consistent with the mission of the university and the department, the ideal candidate for this position should be a teacher-scholar who is a good departmental citizen and demonstrates a commitment to the principles of diversity, inclusion, and social justice. Candidates should demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and a commitment to working with diverse populations, including first generation and Latinx students. We welcome candidates with departmental leadership experience.

Location: La Verne Main Campus
Special Instructions:

To be considered for this position please visit our web site and apply on line at the following link: https://apptrkr.com/4719405

Institutional Profile

Located in Southern California, the University of La Verne offers a distinctive and relevant educational experience to a diverse population of students, preparing them for successful careers and a commitment to lifelong learning across the liberal arts and professional programs. The academic units of the not-for-profit university include the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Business and Public Management, the LaFetra College of Education, and the College of Law. The university offers both undergraduate and graduate programs, including degree programs tailored for working adults. The university’s central campus is located 30 miles east of Los Angeles in the historic Old Town section of La Verne, a city with a population of approximately 35,000 at the foothills of the San Gabriel Mountains. The university also has eight regional campuses throughout California and the College of Law campus in Ontario, California. The university is classified as a Carnegie Doctoral Institution with moderate research activity. Core values are reflected throughout all curricular and co-curricular programs, its emphasis on close professor-student interaction, personal support of its students, and its diversity.

The University of La Verne prides itself in being reflective of the diversity of Southern California. Approximately 80 percent of its nearly 8,500 students come from diverse backgrounds and the U.S. Department of Education has designated the university as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI). With 80,000 alumni, the university fulfills a critical community function in educating students from underserved populations, many of whom are the first generation in their family to attend college.

The University of La Verne is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against employment or employees on any basis prohibited by state and federal law. University of La Verne hires and promotes individuals based on their qualifications and is consistent with applicable state and federal laws, without regard to race, color, religion, gender, disability, medical condition or sexual orientation.

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

jeid-ed3a8886b46d944a619bfa1894ab24a

Employer Description:

Contact: Human Resources
Email: lavernehr@laverne.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
16. University of La Verne

Job 19728: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/30/2023 to 11/29/2023
Institution: University of La Verne
Department: Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Race, Class and Gender
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

University of La Verne

Assistant Professor of Sociology

Job Description Summary:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology at the University of La Verne invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Sociology with specialty in teaching or researching inequality among underrepresented groups. Candidates would be expected to teach courses such as Introduction to Sociology, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods, Gender Inequality, Race and Ethnicity, and Social Class and Inequality, in addition to special topics in their area of expertise. In addition, candidates are expected to engage in research and provide departmental service, including advising majors and minors. We welcome candidates from underrepresented groups in college faculties.

The University of La Verne is a private not-for-profit university founded in 1891 located in La Verne, California. The core values that we live by are Ethical Reasoning, Diversity and Inclusivity, Lifelong Learning and Community and Civic Engagement.

If you're passionate about these values, join us at the University of La Verne!

Specific Duties:

Teach courses on a 3-3 course load in the department using strategies that support the success of students from diverse populations.
Teach courses both in person and online.
Maintain an active research agenda in the candidate’s area of expertise that engages undergraduate students.
Mentor and advise students in the major and minor.
Participate in service to the department, the college, and the university.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in sociology from an accredited institution at the time of appointment (July 1, 2024) and have prior teaching experience.

Preferred Qualifications:

Consistent with the mission of the university and the department, the ideal candidate for this position should be a teacher-scholar who is a good departmental citizen and demonstrates a commitment to the principles of diversity, inclusion, and social justice. Candidates should demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and a commitment to working with diverse populations, including first generation and Latinx students.

Location: La Verne Main Campus
To be considered for this position please visit our website and apply online at the following link: https://apptrkr.com/4719417

Institutional Profile

Located in Southern California, the University of La Verne offers a distinctive and relevant educational experience to a diverse population of students, preparing them for successful careers and a commitment to lifelong learning across the liberal arts and professional programs. The academic units of the not-for-profit university include the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Business and Public Management, the LaFetra College of Education, and the College of Law. The university offers both undergraduate and graduate programs, including degree programs tailored for working adults. The university’s central campus is located 30 miles east of Los Angeles in the historic Old Town section of La Verne, a city with a population of approximately 35,000 at the foothills of the San Gabriel Mountains. The university also has eight regional campuses throughout California and the College of Law campus in Ontario, California. The university is classified as a Carnegie Doctoral Institution with moderate research activity. Core values are reflected throughout all curricular and co-curricular programs, its emphasis on close professor-student interaction, personal support of its students, and its diversity.

The University of La Verne prides itself in being reflective of the diversity of Southern California. Approximately 80 percent of its nearly 8,500 students come from diverse backgrounds and the U.S. Department of Education has designated the university as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI). With 80,000 alumni, the university fulfills a critical community function in educating students from underserved populations, many of whom are the first generation in their family to attend college.

The University of La Verne is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against employment or employees on any basis prohibited by state and federal law. University of La Verne hires and promotes individuals based on their qualifications and is consistent with applicable state and federal laws, without regard to race, color, religion, gender, disability, medical condition or sexual orientation.

Employer Description:

Contact: Human Resources
Email: lavernehr@laverne.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19732: Social Determinants of Health Faculty Cluster Hire

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 10/30/2023 to 11/29/2023
Institution: University of South Carolina-Columbia
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Southeast
Title: Social Determinants of Health Faculty Cluster Hire
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Sex and Gender, Race, Class and Gender
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of South Carolina announces a faculty cluster hire in the multidisciplinary area of Social Determinants of Health. We invite applications from scholars with expertise at the intersections of health and social positionalities such as race and ethnicity, gender, class, and/or sexualities. The aims of this initiative are to advance the College’s expertise in these areas and to contribute to high-impact, interdisciplinary scholarship, instruction and innovation within the university. We are seeking scholars who will push the frontiers of conceptual and methodological advances in addressing the social determinants of health and health justice. This inaugural cohort will play a crucial role in establishing a faculty collective on the social determinants of health. Resources and infrastructure to support the collective’s success and impact will be identified, including, but not limited to, interdisciplinary pilot funding.

With a start date of August 16, 2024, the College seeks to hire four full-time faculty positions on a 9-month pay basis, two at the tenure-track Assistant Professor rank and two additional open-rank positions at the tenured/tenure-track Assistant, Associate or Professor rank. The positions require a Ph.D. by the appointment start date in one of the following key disciplines or closely related fields: African American Studies, Biological Sciences, Criminology and Criminal Justice, Geography, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, or Women's and Gender Studies, plus a demonstrated record of or promise of scholarly and instructional excellence aligned with the academic unit where they would expect to be tenured. Applicants for the rank of Associate or Full Professor must also have years of relevant academic experience commensurate with USC academic policy by the appointment start date. Successful candidates are expected to teach courses appropriate to their area of expertise at the undergraduate and graduate levels and contribute to departmental and university service.

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2023, and continue until the positions are filled. Qualified individuals must submit a CV, cover letter that identifies preferred academic unit for tenure within the College of Arts and Sciences that describes how they will complement and extend existing areas of expertise within that unit, a research statement that identifies how their scholarship aligns with the priorities of the Social Determinants of Health initiative, a teaching/mentoring statement, and the names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least three references.

This position is open until filled. This employment site is updated on a regular basis. The length of the recruitment and screening process may vary from position to position, depending upon a variety of factors. Should review of your qualifications result in a decision to pursue your candidacy, you will be contacted by phone or email.

Employer Description:

From the Upstate to the Lowcountry, the University of South Carolina system is transforming the lives of South Carolinians through the impact of our eight institutions and 20 locations throughout the state. More than 50,000 students are enrolled at one of eight institutions, including the research campus in Columbia and comprehensive four-year universities in Aiken, Upstate and Beaufort. In addition, our Palmetto College campuses in Salkehatchie, Union, Lancaster and Sumter enable students to earn associate or bachelor’s degrees through a combination of in-person, online or blended learning. All of our system institutions place strong emphasis on service — helping to build healthier, more educated communities in South Carolina and beyond.

Contact: Wendy Regoeczi
Email: rregoeczi@mailbox.sc.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
18. Valparaiso University

Job 19733: Assistant Professor of Sociology and Criminology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/30/2023 to 11/29/2023
Institution: Valparaiso University
Department: Department of Sociology and Criminology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology and Criminology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Theory, Science and Technology
Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Job Description:

Valparaiso University invites applications for the position of Tenure Track Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology and Criminology (https://www.valpo.edu/sociology/). Valparaiso University (“Valpo”), a community of learning grounded in the Lutheran tradition of scholarship, freedom, and faith, prepares students to lead and serve both church and society. Located one hour southeast of Chicago on a 310-acre campus, Valpo is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of approximately 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students. Valpo is consistently recognized as one of the best private universities in the Midwest and is located in Valparaiso Indiana, a county seat of 30,000 residents with high quality schools and an active social community.

The successful candidate will teach courses in Sociological Theory, Research Methods and Statistics, Deviance, Introduction to Sociology, and Inequality/Social Stratification, typically with a 21-credit teaching load, plus additional research and campus citizenship activities. The area of specialization is open, though the Department is particularly interested in candidates who can teach courses related to deviance, gender, race/ethnicity, and/or social psychology. Candidates should have a Ph.D. (ABD considered) in Sociology or a closely related field.

As a campus with an increasingly diverse student body, we encourage applications from individuals with a commitment to mentoring students from underrepresented communities. Please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three references to Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/135035. In your cover letter, please include brief statements of (a) how you might contribute to the university’s distinctive mission, and (b) what experiences you have had which will enable you to mentor a diverse student body. Candidates who submit names of references should advise their references to upload letters via Interfolio and expect that the search committee will contact these references, in confidence. Credentials will be confirmed prior to hire and employment will require a satisfactory criminal background check. Applications will be considered until the position is filled; however, applicants are encouraged to apply by November 25, 2023 for timely consideration. Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support its diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at http://www.valpo.edu/general-counsel/policies/equal-opportunity-policy/.

Employer Description:

Valparaiso University is an independent lutheran university located in northwest Indiana, one hour from Chicago. Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support a diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at https://www.valpo.edu/general-counsel/policies/equal-opportunity-policy/. Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to cultural diversity and the ability to work with individuals or groups from diverse backgrounds. In addition to strong academic qualifications and excellence in teaching, the University highly values experience in working across cultural and other significant differences. At the same time, candidates should be interested in working at a university engaged in issues in Christian higher education in the Lutheran tradition. Employment at Valparaiso University will require a satisfactory criminal background check.

Contact: Danielle Lavin-Loucks
Email: danielle.lavin-loucks@valpo.edu
Phone: (219) 464-5004
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Sponsors of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19665: Tenure-Track Position in Business and Climate Change

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/27/2023 to 11/26/2023
Institution: University of British Columbia
Department: Sauder School of Business
Region: Canada
Title: Tenure-Track Position in Business and Climate Change
Position/Rank: Open
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Salary Range: Above $159,999
Submission Link: deansoffice.reception@sauder.ubc.ca

Job Description:
The Sauder School of Business at the University of British Columbia (Vancouver Campus, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track faculty position in the broad area of business and climate change. The rank of this position is open across the Assistant, Associate, and Full Professor levels.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose climate-related expertise lies in areas of fundamental interest to business. Examples include, but are not limited to: climate finance and investing, ESG accounting and reporting with particular emphasis on climate, climate economics and markets, green operations and supply chain management, climate risk and analytics, and climate-focused topics in decision making, marketing, and responsible leadership. We note that the position will have a primary home in one of the following divisions within the School: Accounting and Management Information Systems, Finance, Marketing and Behavioural Science, Operations and Logistics, Organizational Behaviour and Human Resources, and Strategy and Business Economics.

Applicants must have a record of research commensurate with the rank they apply for. Senior-level candidates should have accomplished excellence in research and will be expected to publish high-impact research in the top journals in their respective field. Early career candidates should demonstrate an interest in and potential to conduct high quality research in one of the core divisions of the school, and be very close to completing or have completed a Ph.D. in a related field. Candidates will be expected to teach climate change topics and courses in our undergraduate, graduate, and professional degree programs, and should demonstrate experience and/or aptitude in teaching such courses. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank appropriate to their qualification and experience.

Duties include developing and maintaining an active research program aimed at making a significant contribution to the profession, teaching in the undergraduate, MBA and Ph.D. programs, supervising Ph.D. students, as well as participating in other administrative initiatives at the UBC Sauder School of Business. Teaching and service requirements are similar to other research-intensive universities. The ideal candidate will also have the ability to engage with industry partners.

Applications should be submitted via email to Sauder Dean's Office Reception <deansoffice.reception@sauder.ubc.ca>. Please submit your complete application before 5pm, Pacific Daylight Time on November 24th, 2023.

Applications should include:

1. Cover letter that summarizes your research, teaching, service, and/or other relevant information. Equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) are important components of the UBC Sauder culture. If you wish, you may include in your cover letter any experiences regarding equity, diversity and inclusion that you think are relevant and/or comment on your ability to work with a culturally diverse student body (giving specific examples where possible).
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Research papers (i.e., two recent published research papers or current working papers)
4. Teaching dossier or record of teaching effectiveness, if applicable
5. 3 letters of reference (these may be included as part of the application package, or may be separated separately by the letter writers, to ensure confidentiality)

Subject to budgetary approval, the positions start July 1, 2024. Information regarding hiring is available on our website at: http://www.sauder.ubc.ca/FacultyPeople/Faculty_Openings

Applicants to faculty positions at the Sauder School of Business are asked to complete the following equity survey. The link to the survey is https://ubc.ca1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_aVtaMWjwsMEcO4l

Your participation is voluntary and anonymous. The information will not be used to determine eligibility for employment. The answers will be collated to provide data that can assist us in understanding the diversity of our applicant pool and identifying potential barriers to the employment of designated equity group members. This survey takes only a minute to complete. You may self-identify in one or more of the designated equity groups. You may decline to identify in any or all of the questions by choosing "prefer not to disclose." Thank you in advance for your participation.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Employer Description:
The Sauder School of Business is part of the University of British Columbia (UBC). UBC ranks among the top 30 universities worldwide, attracting a high-quality and diverse student body. UBC is located in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, a city that routinely ranks as one of the best places to live in the world. With a population of 2.5 million, Vancouver is a vibrant and multicultural city situated between the mountains and the Pacific Ocean and is located two hours from Whistler and Seattle, Washington.

Contact: Prof. Danielle van Jaarsveld
Email: vanjaarsveld@sauder.ubc.ca
Phone: 604-822-8441
Website: http://www.sauder.ubc.ca/FacultyPeople/Faculty_Openings
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19674: Director, Center for Population Studies and Professor of Sociology

Date Available: Summer 2024

Institution: University of Mississippi
Department: Dept of Sociology & Anthropology

About the University of MS & Oxford, MS
Founded in 1848, the University of Mississippi (UM), affectionately known to alumni, students and friends as Ole Miss, is Mississippi's flagship university. Included in the elite group of R-1: Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity by the Carnegie Classification, it has a long history of producing leaders in public service, academics and business. The University of Mississippi, consistently named by The Chronicle of Higher Education as a "Great College to Work For," is located in Oxford, MS, which is ranked one of the "Top 10 Best College Towns." With more than 24,000 students, UM is the state's largest university and is ranked among the nation's fastest-growing institutions. The University of Mississippi, which has aggressively implemented many health and wellness initiatives for its more than 2,900 employees, has consistently been named one of Mississippi's Healthiest Workplaces.

About Oxford, MS
Oxford is a thriving center for the arts and sciences. As the home of the University of Mississippi and the Ole Miss Rebels, there is always something here to immerse yourself in. Oxford has also been featured as a literary and arts destination in such publications as The New York Times, Southern Living, Condé Nast Traveler, and GQ. Among other cultural activities, annual events include the Oxford Conference for the Book, the Oxford Film Festival, a thriving local music scene, and the Ford Center Performing Arts Series. Oxford is a vibrant university town, filled with unique shops and galleries, eclectic restaurants and clubs, historic landmarks, and comfortible inns.

Minimum Qualifications A Ph.D. in Sociology, Demography, or Rural Sociology is required by the time of appointment. The prospective Director should possess a proven record of accomplishment in leadership, securing grant funding, and managing projects. Candidates should have an active scholarly research agenda, evidenced by a consistent record of external funding, grant oversight, and expertise in leading teams of both staff and students. Application Procedures For full consideration, candidates will be requested to submit the following documents: 1. a cover letter outlining your research and teaching qualifications for the advertised position, 2. a curriculum vitae, and 3. a research statement, along with your future aspirations as the Center’s Director. Candidates selected for further review will be asked to provide four references. Three academic references knowledgeable about the applicant's skills and capabilities in relation to this Director and tenured Sociology position. One community partner reference knowledgeable about the applicant’s capacity for building and sustaining non-higher education partnerships.

Position Description Director, Center for Population Studies Professor of Sociology (open rank), Department of Sociology & Anthropology Job Location: Oxford, MS The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is a vibrant intellectual community of scholars with a strong interdisciplinary focus. Faculty within the department are award-winning teachers and scholars, with national and international reputations. Both the Sociology and Anthropology programs offer BA and MA degrees that support cross-disciplinary efforts, from team teaching to collaborative research. The Department and the College of Liberal Arts offer resources and support for scholars dedicated to community-based research, as well as those who integrate undergraduate and graduate students into their research activities. Position Details Appointment: 9 Month Assignment Type: Tenure Track The Department of Sociology & Anthropology invites applications for a sociologist at any rank (Assistant, Associate, or Professor). The University, in cooperation with the College of Liberal Arts, and with the Office of the Provost, is actively recruiting for faculty in Sociology and Anthropology. Submit a complete application including a cover letter that includes a description of your research and teaching interests, a current CV, a summary of your research statement, a statement on the role of diversity and inclusion in teaching and research, and three letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Albert Nylander, chair of the search committee at nylander@olemiss.edu or (662) 915-2050.

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://careers.olemiss.edu

Note for Current UM Employees Current employees must apply internally via connectU > connectu.olemiss.edu

Position Description Director, Center for Population Studies Professor of Sociology (open rank), Department of Sociology & Anthropology Job Location: Oxford, MS The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is a vibrant intellectual community of scholars with a strong interdisciplinary focus. Faculty within the department are award-winning teachers and scholars, with national and international reputations. Both the Sociology and Anthropology programs offer BA and MA degrees that support cross-disciplinary efforts, from team teaching to collaborative research. The Department and the College of Liberal Arts offer resources and support for scholars dedicated to community-based research, as well as those who integrate undergraduate and graduate students into their research activities. Position Details Appointment: 9 Month Assignment Type: Tenure Track The Department of Sociology & Anthropology invites applications for a sociologist at any rank (Assistant, Associate, or Professor). The University, in cooperation with the College of Liberal Arts, and with the Office of the Provost, is actively recruiting for faculty in Sociology and Anthropology. Submit a complete application including a cover letter that includes a description of your research and teaching interests, a current CV, a summary of your research statement, a statement on the role of diversity and inclusion in teaching and research, and three letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Albert Nylander, chair of the search committee at nylander@olemiss.edu or (662) 915-2050.

Note for Current UM Employees Current employees must apply internally via connectU > connectu.olemiss.edu

Employer Description:
About the University of MS & Oxford, MS Founded in 1848, the University of Mississippi (UM), affectionately known to alumni, students and friends as Ole Miss, is Mississippi's flagship university. Included in the elite group of R-1: Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity by the Carnegie Classification, it has a long history of producing leaders in public service, academics and business. The University of Mississippi, consistently named by The Chronicle of Higher Education as a "Great College to Work For," is located in Oxford, MS, which is ranked one of the "Top 10 Best College Towns." With more than 24,000 students, UM is the state's largest university and is ranked among the nation's fastest-growing institutions. The University of Mississippi, which has aggressively implemented many health and wellness initiatives for its more than 2,900 employees, has consistently been named one of Mississippi's Healthiest Workplaces. Touted as the “Cultural Mecca of the South,” creativity abounds in Oxford as musicians, artists and writers alike find inspiration in Oxford’s rich history, small town charm and creative community. Oxford is a one-hour drive south of Memphis, TN and is known as the home of Nobel Prize winning author William Faulkner. Over the years Oxford has also been known for offering exceptional culinary experiences and as the home of the University of Mississippi and the Ole Miss Rebels, there is always something here to immerse yourself in. Oxford has also been featured as a literary and arts destination in such publications as The New York Times, Southern Living, Conde Nast Traveler, and GQ. Among other cultural activities, annual events include the Oxford Film Festival, a thriving local music scene, and the Ford Center Performing Arts Series. Oxford is a vibrant university town, filled with unique shops and galleries, eclectic restaurants and clubs, historic landmarks, and comfortable inns.

Background Check Statement The University of Mississippi is committed to providing a safe campus community. UM conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

EEO Statement The University of Mississippi provides equal opportunity in any employment practice, education program, or education activity to all qualified persons. The University complies with all applicable laws regarding equal opportunity and affirmative action and does not unlawfully discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment based upon race, color, gender, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, citizenship, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or genetic information. Interview Requirements: Any candidate who is called for an interview must notify the Department of Equal Opportunity/Regulatory Compliance in writing of any reasonable accommodation needed prior to the date of the interview.

Contact: Albert Nylander
Email: nylander@olemiss.edu
Phone: (662) 915-2050
Website: https://careers.olemiss.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://careers.olemiss.edu

Note for Current UM Employees Current employees must apply internally via connectU > connectu.olemiss.edu

Position Description Director, Center for Population Studies Professor of Sociology (open rank), Department of Sociology & Anthropology Job Location: Oxford, MS The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is a vibrant intellectual community of scholars with a strong interdisciplinary focus. Faculty within the department are award-winning teachers and scholars, with national and international reputations. Both the Sociology and Anthropology programs offer BA and MA degrees that support cross-disciplinary efforts, from team teaching to collaborative research. The Department and the College of Liberal Arts offer resources and support for scholars dedicated to community-based research, as well as those who integrate undergraduate and graduate students into their research activities. Position Details Appointment: 9 Month Assignment Type: Tenure Track The Department of Sociology & Anthropology invites applications for a sociologist at any rank (Assistant, Associate, or Professor). The University, in cooperation with the College of Liberal Arts, and with the Office of the Provost, is actively recruiting for faculty in Sociology and Anthropology. Submit a complete application including a cover letter that includes a description of your research and teaching interests, a current CV, a summary of your research statement, a statement on the role of diversity and inclusion in teaching and research, and three letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Albert Nylander, chair of the search committee at nylander@olemiss.edu or (662) 915-2050.

Note for Current UM Employees Current employees must apply internally via connectU > connectu.olemis
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
21. Auburn University

Job 19724: Visiting Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/26/2023 to 11/25/2023

Institution: Auburn University
Department: Dept of Soc, Anthro & Social Work
Region: South

Title: Visiting Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency , Criminal Justice

Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Job Description:
The Sociology Program within the Department of Sociology, Anthropology, and Social Work at Auburn University invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure track Visiting Assistant Professor of Sociology position beginning August 16, 2024. The course load is five classes over two semesters and is expected to include Introduction to Sociology, Criminology, and Methods of Social Research, as well as other topical courses such as Sentencing & Corrections, Juvenile Delinquency, Health and Society, etc. Applicants should address readiness to teach these courses in the cover letter. ABD in Sociology at the time employment begins is required; PhD in Sociology desired. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated dynamic, innovative, and cutting-edge pedagogical skills and experience.

Apply online at https://www.auemployment.com/postings/41300. Please be prepared to submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin November 01, 2023, and will continue until a suitable candidate is chosen.

The candidate selected for this position must be able to meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States at the time appointment is scheduled to begin and continue working legally for the proposed term of employment; excellent communication skills teaching Sociology courses are required.

Employer Description:
Auburn University is an EEO/VET/Disability employer.

Contact: Dr. Carole Zugazaga
Email: zugazcb@auburn.edu
Phone: (334) 844-5049
Website: auburn.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19666: Professor of Philanthropic Studies, Philanthropy and Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/26/2023 to 11/25/2023
Institution: Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis
Department: Lilly Family School of Philanthropy
Region: Midwest
Title: Professor of Philanthropic Studies, Philanthropy and Justice
Position/Rank: Open
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Race, Class and Gender, Human Rights
Salary Range: $90,000 - $99,999

Job Description:
The Lilly Family School of Philanthropy seeks faculty for the first school of its kind. Research and teaching on diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice (DEIJ) in philanthropy is sought. Applications submitted by December 1, 2023 will receive best consideration. However, the position will remain open until filled.

This position is a 10-month open-rank tenured or tenure-track faculty position. A developing research portfolio on topics related to DEIJ is required. The duties will include teaching and mentoring students as well as conducting research, publishing, and providing service to the School, campus, and the field of Philanthropic Studies. We are Located on the campus of Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI).

IUPUI is committed to being a community that reflects and enacts the values of diversity, equity and inclusion that inform academic excellence. We hope to identify individuals who will assist in our mission to dismantle racism so that everyone has the opportunity to succeed at IUPUI.

Qualifications: Required: A Ph.D. is required but the candidate’s background may come from Philanthropic or Nonprofit Studies, History, Women’s Studies, Religious Studies, or other appropriate disciplinary areas. Teaching and research experience in philanthropic studies or related area of interest is strongly desired.

Indiana University is an equal employment and Affirmative Action Employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Employer Description:
The IU Lilly Family School of Philanthropy is globally recognized as the first of its kind. School faculty and staff train and empower students and practitioners to innovate and lead—and to create positive and lasting change in the world. The Indiana University Lilly Family School of Philanthropy increases the understanding of philanthropy and improves its practice worldwide through critical inquiry, interdisciplinary research, teaching, training, and civic engagement.

Contact: Dr. Young-joo Lee
Email: yj225@iu.edu
Phone: 317-274-4200
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19716: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/26/2023 to 11/25/2023
Institution: Princeton University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Statistics, Economic Sociology
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=32362
Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Princeton University seeks applicants for postdoctoral or more senior research associate positions in the Eviction Lab. Successful candidates will have a Ph.D. in Sociology, Economics, or a related field. The Eviction Lab at Princeton University is an interdisciplinary and multi-generational research team who has built the first-ever national database of evictions in America.

We seek self-driven, creative thinkers with strong quantitative skills to work with a team of researchers to analyze large administrative data sets and coauthor papers reporting findings on evictions. The successful candidate will have a strong research background in quantitative methods and an interest in social inequality.

Applicants should submit a dossier online at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/32362 including: (1) a complete vita, (2) a cover letter of interest, (3) names and contact information for three references.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or disability.

Requisition No: D-24-SOC-00003
Employer Description:
Contact: Donna DeFrancisco
Email: chairsoc@princeton.edu
Phone: (609) 258-4543
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19717: Open Rank, Assistant or Associate Faculty

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/26/2023 to 11/25/2023

Institution: University of New Mexico
Department: Center on Alcohol, Substance Use, and Addictions (CASAA)

Region: Southwest

Title: Open Rank, Assistant or Associate Faculty

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Other

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Alcohol and Drugs , Alcohol and Drugs

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://casaa.unm.edu

Job Description:

The University of New Mexico (UNM) is seeking a tenure-track faculty member at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the College of Arts and Sciences and the Center on Alcohol, Substance Use and Addictions (CASAA). This is a full-time, probationary, tenure-track or tenured appointment targeted to begin in Fall 2024. Candidates must have earned a doctoral degree in Psychology, Sociology, Economics, or related discipline by the time of the appointment, and demonstrate a record of peer-reviewed publications in the addictions field.

We seek an outstanding researcher who can contribute to the research and teaching missions in their home department in the College of Arts and Sciences (includes Psychology, Sociology, Economics; a full list of departments is located here). The specific research focus and area(s) of technical expertise should complement existing areas of strength and research interests within the home department and CASAA. The successful candidate is expected to collaborate with CASAA investigators in the conduct of human research on alcohol or other substance use, and/or other addictive behaviors. CASAA investigators, affiliated with the Departments of Psychology, Sociology, and Economics, are leaders nationally in 12-step research; research on Motivational Interviewing, Cognitive Behavioral Treatment, mindfulness-based interventions, and the Community Reinforcement Approach; family-involved treatment models; training, dissemination, and implementation research; development of instruments; studies of mechanisms of change; clinical research in special populations, particularly adolescents, women, veterans, Hispanic, American Indian/Alaska Native, and criminal legal populations; and research on methods to reduce harm from risky alcohol or other drug use (for more information, see casaa.unm.edu).

A Category III Center at UNM, CASAA reports directly to the Vice President for Research and is the home for the UNM Campus Office of Substance and Alcohol Prevention (COSAP). CASAA has long-standing relationships with several community-based treatment programs that are available as sites for clinical trials. The relationships between CASAA and these treatment facilities are on-going and reciprocal, and CASAA is widely regarded as a key resource for the development and testing of empirically supported treatments for alcohol and other substance use disorders. In addition, CASAA has uniquely strong relationships with several pueblos. CASAA investigators are supported by research grants from the National Institutes of Health, other Federal Agencies, Private Foundations, the State of New Mexico, and the University of New Mexico.

UNM is the state’s flagship University and is one of only twenty Hispanic-serving, Carnegie Research/Doctoral-Extensive institutions in the U.S. UNM is located in Albuquerque, the largest urban area within one of the most diverse states in the nation. The UNM main and Health Sciences campuses are adjacent to one another, facilitating interdisciplinary collaboration. Our campus is located in the heart of Albuquerque, which has cultural, outdoor and recreational opportunities for everyone. UNM is located on the traditional homelands of the Pueblo of Sandia. The original peoples of New Mexico – Pueblo, Navajo, and Apache – and their connection to this land remains significant. Learn more about our city, our welcoming campus, and research opportunities at http://advance.unm.edu/why-abq/ and https://advance.unm.edu/why-unm/.

A complete application consists of 1) a letter of interest/personal statement; 2) research statement, 3) a comprehensive CV that clearly shows meeting the minimum doctorate requirement; 4) at least two representative reprints; 5) a teaching statement; and 6) the titles, names and contact information (address, phone number and email address) of at least three professional references. The position will remain open until filled. Inquiries can be directed to Matthew Pearson, Ph.D., Chair, CASAA Faculty Search Committee, drmateo@unm.edu. Applications can be submitted at https://unmjobs.unm.edu/.

Employer Description:

Contact: Colton Newman
Email: casaaactr@unm.edu
Phone: 505-564-701
Website: https://casaa.unm.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
25. Xavier University of Louisiana

Job 19720: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/26/2023 to 11/25/2023
Institution: Xavier University of Louisiana
Department: Xavier University of Louisiana
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Instructor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Sociological Practice
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://jobs.xula.edu/postings/2759

Job Description:
The successful candidate will teach four courses each semester which may include interdisciplinary courses in Xavier’s core curriculum, in the African American and Diaspora Studies program, and/or in the Women’s Studies program. Summer school teaching opportunities are available but not required for this position. The department is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion and is particularly interested in candidates who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds, minimizing barriers, and increasing equity and completion rates between members of different demographic groups.

Duties:
- Teach undergraduate courses each year with an emphasis on theory and topical courses that coordinate with our concentrations in Crime & Social Justice and Health, Medicine & Society in-person;
- Participate in curriculum and course development and revision/updates to the Sociology curriculum;
- Advise and mentor undergraduate students;
- Establish a record of research productivity, proportional to experience, in any area mentioned above;
- Participate in service activities for the department, university, and community;
- Participate in on-campus department, college, and university meetings and assemblies, as well as university convocations and graduation

Employer Description:
The Department of Sociology at Xavier University of Louisiana invites applications for a tenure-track entry-level/early career assistant Professor position with a research focus in Crime & Social Justice, or Health, Medicine & Society, to start in August 2024. The department is particularly interested in candidates who have a vision for involving undergraduate students in externally funded research projects, and success in community partnering or experience working in social or public policy. A Ph.D. in Sociology before August 2024 is required. Candidates who will contribute to the university’s mission and align with college curricula preparing students to advance social justice are desirable. The candidate should be prepared to teach a broad range of courses and to utilize quantitative methods to investigate causes, consequences, and/or policies associated with varied forms of social inequalities. The ideal candidate should demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research and be able to support HBCU students through advising and mentorship.

Contact: Chenoia Bryant
Email: cbryan13@xula.edu
Phone: (504) 520-7400
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
Race? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
26. Eastern Kentucky University

Job 19711: Assistant Professor (Sociology)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/25/2023 to 11/24/2023
Institution: Eastern Kentucky University
Department:
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor (Sociology)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Eastern Kentucky University

Title: Assistant Professor (Sociology)

Search Type: External - minimum 7 days

Department: 21R010 - College of Letters, Arts & Soc Sci

Division: 2R0000 - Academic Affairs

Position Location: Richmond Campus

Driver Classification: Non-Driver

FLSA: Exempt

Schedule Type: Full Time (37.5 hrs per week or more)

Posted Salary Grade: Faculty Full Time - 01

Retirement: KTRS

Contact Person: Alison Buck

Job Summary/Basic Functions

Department of Language & Cultural Studies, Anthropology, and Sociology at Eastern Kentucky University invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor position (Tenure-Track) with a 9-month academic appointment starting Fall 2024. Area of specialization is open, but candidates with experience teaching undergraduate research methods will be given preference. The successful applicant will teach a 4-4 load during the fall and spring semesters respectively, supporting both General Education Sociology courses and required and elective courses within the major. Candidates should demonstrate their commitment to highly-effective teaching and creating hands-on research opportunities for undergraduate students. ABD considered but must have completed the Ph.D. in Sociology at the time of appointment. We encourage applicants from under-represented populations to apply.

Minimum Qualifications

Education: ABD considered but must have completed the Ph.D. in Sociology at the time of appointment.

Sponsorship: Visa sponsorship will be considered on a case-by-case basis, depending upon the needs of the unit, available sponsorship budget, and the qualifications of the candidate.

Funding Source: Institutional

AA/EEO Statement

Eastern Kentucky University is an Equal Opportunity employer and educational institution and does not discriminate on the basis of age (40 and over), race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, ethnicity, disability, national origin, veteran status, or genetic information in the admission to, or participation in, any educational program or activity (e.g., athletics, academics and housing) which it conducts or any employment policy or practice.

Background Check Statement

Offers of employment are contingent upon satisfactory background check.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/4720750

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

Employer Description:

Contact: Human Resources
Email: human.resources@eku.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
27. Rutgers University-Camden

Job 19679: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/212911

Institution: Rutgers University-Camden
Department: Dept. of Childhood Studies
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Disabilities, Children and Youth
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/212911

Job Description:

The Department of Childhood Studies, Rutgers University—Camden, New Jersey, invites applications for an Assistant Professor (Tenure-Track) in Childhood and Critical Disability Studies expected to commence on September 1, 2024. To view the complete position description, including minimum qualifications required, and to apply, please visit https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/212911

The Department of Childhood Studies seeks an outstanding scholar whose research and teaching interests address topics and practices regarding childhood and disability with a focus on intersecting systems of oppression in either domestic and/or global contexts. We are particularly keen on receiving applications from those who center racial justice in their scholarship and teaching. We value research quality, the demonstrated appreciation for multidisciplinary approaches to the study of childhood and disabilities, and an eagerness to continue the department's mission of expanding childhood studies at the BA, MA and PhD levels.

Applicants must have earned their Ph.D. in Disability Studies, Education, Childhood Studies, Anthropology, Sociology, African-American Studies, Gender Studies, Latinx Studies, Media Studies, or a related field, and have a demonstrated promise of research and teaching excellence. The duties of a tenure-track assistant professor include engaging in an active research program, teaching two courses per semester (four courses per academic year) in the area of Childhood Studies, supervising MA and Ph.D. students, contributing to our innovative graduate program, and generally participating fully in the life of the department.

Rutgers University and the Department of Childhood Studies is committed to fostering diversity within its community. We welcome applications from those who would contribute to the further diversification of our program including, but not limited to: Black, Indigenous and people of color, persons with disabilities and persons of any sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression.

Established in 2007 as the first doctoral program in childhood studies in the USA, the department graduated its first Ph.D. students in May 2013. Childhood Studies offers a robust, multidisciplinary curriculum for BA, MA, and Ph.D. degrees. Candidates may learn about the campus and the Department of Childhood Studies at http://childhood.camden.rutgers.edu and by contacting Dr. Susan Miller, department chair.

Applications must include: a cover letter indicating the ways in which the applicant's research adds to the department's strengths and focusing on how their teaching and research may enhance a multidisciplinary program, a current CV, a personal statement that speaks to the academic, professional, and/or institutional work the candidate has undertaken to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion, the names and contact information of at least three people who will speak to the candidate's work (only the references of shortlisted candidates will be contacted), and an example of published scholarship. Applications received by December 1, 2023, will receive the fullest consideration.

Employer Description:

Contact: Susan Miller
Email: guillerma@camden.rutgers.edu
Phone: (856) 225-6741
Website: http://childhood.camden.rutgers.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouse of Employee? Yes
- Domestic Partners of Employee? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19714: Faculty Position in Criminal Justice Studies/Sociology

Date Position is Available: Spring 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/25/2023 to 11/24/2023
Institution: Truman State University
Department: Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice Systems
Region: Midwest
Title: Faculty Position in Criminal Justice Studies/Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Criminology/Delinquency
Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999
Submission Link: http://employment.truman.edu

Job Description:
Truman State University seeks applicants for either a tenure track or non-tenure track faculty position in Criminal Justice Studies/Sociology to begin January or August 2024. Eligibility for tenure-track position depends on candidate’s qualifications at the time of hire (PhD in hand or planned defense by December 2024, as well as an active research agenda).

Responsibilities: Provide classroom instruction in lower and upper division courses including both sociology and criminal justice studies; fulfill additional faculty duties including advising and developing an active research program, preferably involving undergraduates; collaborate in the ongoing assessment of the program; participate in departmental activities including student recruitment; and perform other regular service to the University and community.

Required Qualifications: Tenure track appointment requires a Ph.D. in Criminology or Sociology or a closely related field; ABD candidates (with Masters in Criminology or Sociology or a closely related field) will be considered with an expected Ph.D. completion by December 2024.

Applicants will be evaluated on:
•academic qualifications,
•compatibility with department needs,
•teaching background or the potential for teaching core classes in both criminal justice studies and sociology,
•teaching background or potential for teaching courses in criminological theory, advanced (critical) criminological theory, sociological theory, and/or a research design/ data analysis and report writing sequence
•teaching background or the potential for teaching additional classes in social psychology, social institutions, social problems, gender, global sociology and/or advanced seminars,
•teaching background or the potential for teaching introduction to criminal justice studies, policing, corrections, and/or rehabilitation,
•evidence of teaching effectiveness, including potential for developing critical thinking and problem solving skills in undergraduates,
•demonstrated ability to develop an active research program, preferably involving undergraduates,
•evidence of experience with or interest in interdisciplinary and/or cross-disciplinary teaching,
•potential to contribute to interdisciplinary majors or minors such as Social Issues Advocacy, African and African Diaspora Studies, or Women and Gender Studies, and
•strong oral, written, and interpersonal communication skills.

Compensation and Rank: This is an entry-level academic position with a salary commensurate with experience; benefits package includes health insurance, retirement contributions, and reimbursed assistance for moving expenses.

Program: For more information about the Sociology/Anthropology program, please visit https://www.truman.edu/majors-programs/majors-minors/sociology-anthropology-major/, and for the Criminal Justice studies program visit https://www.truman.edu/majors-programs/majors-minors/criminal-justice-major/.

Application: The School of Arts and Humanities coordinates the application process. Applications must be submitted electronically at http://employment.truman.edu/. For assistance with submitting an application, please contact Human Resources at 660-785-4031 or hrstaff@truman.edu.

Completed applications must include a letter of application that clearly addresses the qualifications and evaluative criteria listed above; statement of scholarly activity interests; teaching portfolio including statement of teaching philosophy that includes the candidate’s commitment to inclusive excellence, the liberal arts and sciences, and student development and teaching evaluations; writing sample; current curriculum vitae; official or unofficial graduate college transcripts; names and contact information for 3 references. Questions about this position may be directed to Dr. Amber Johnson Professor of Anthropology, ajohnson@truman.edu.

Review of applications will begin on December 8, 2023 and continue until the position is filled. If hired, applicants must provide proof of eligibility to work in the United States, official graduate transcripts, or documentation of degrees if transcripts are not available. Final candidates will be expected to undergo and successfully pass a background check.

Employer Description:

The University: Truman State University is home to a vibrant educational community. The approximately 3,500 students who make up its student body are well prepared for the challenging academics in a supportive environment. More than 25% engage in significant undergraduate research and creative projects. Nearly 40% gain leadership experience, and nearly half plan to go on to graduate or professional school.

Founded in 1867, Truman is known for its focus on student learning and outcomes and places an emphasis on high-impact experiences such as internships, research, and study abroad opportunities. Truman has the highest overall graduation rate among the state’s public four-year colleges and universities. For more than two decades, Truman has been recognized as the No. 1 public university in the Midwest regional category by U.S. News & World Report, and Washington Monthly consistently ranks Truman as one of the best master’s universities in the nation. For more information regarding additional rankings and acknowledgments, visit truman.edu/about.
The Community: Located in northeast Missouri, Kirksville is a cultural and economic hub in the region. In addition to being the home of Truman, Kirksville is the birthplace of osteopathic medicine and features a medical school, dental school and community college, and the Kirksville School District is consistently recognized for academic excellence. The community takes pride in several annual events including the Red, White and Blue Festival and the FLATS Trail Half-Marathon. The charming downtown area features an arts center, as well as several local shops and restaurants. It is also the site of numerous community events including weekly farmers' markets from May through October, as well as the Red Barn Arts and Craft Festival each fall. Just a few minutes outside of town is beautiful Thousand Hills State Park with hiking and biking opportunities surrounding the 700-acre Forest Lake. Kirksville offers easy access by car to Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Des Moines. Daily flights from Kirksville Regional Airport to Chicago O'Hare provide quick access to one of the country's major metropolitan areas. More information about Kirksville can be found at visitkirksville.com.

Truman State University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer committed to assembling a diverse, broadly trained faculty and staff. Women, minorities, people with disabilities and veterans are strongly encouraged to apply. In compliance with applicable laws and in furtherance of its commitment to fostering an environment that welcomes and embraces diversity, Truman State does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, national origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, or protected veteran status in its program or activities, including employment, admissions, and educational programs. Direct inquiries to the Institutional Compliance Officer, 660-785-4354 and titleix@truman.edu.

Truman State is committed to providing reasonable accommodation to qualified individuals with disabilities upon request. To request this document in an alternate form or to request an accommodation, please contact Human Resources, McClain Hall 101, 100 E. Normal, Kirksville, MO 63501, 660-785-4031 or hrstaff@truman.edu.

Contact: Amber Johnson
Email: ajohnson@truman.edu
Phone: (660) 785-4322
Website: http://employment.truman.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19710: Faculty Position in Sociology

Date Position is Available: Spring 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/25/2023 to 11/24/2023

Institution: Truman State University
Department: Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice Systems
Region: Midwest
Title: Faculty Position in Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Submission Link: http://employment.truman.edu

Job Description:
Truman State University seeks a diverse pool of applicants for a tenure track Assistant Professor in Sociology to begin January 2024 or August 2024.

Responsibilities: Provide classroom instruction in lower and upper division courses including research methods or sociological theory across integrated levels of our curriculum; fulfill additional faculty duties including advising and developing an active research program, preferably involving undergraduates; collaborate in the ongoing assessment of the program; participate in departmental activities including student recruitment; and perform other regular service to the University and community.

Required Qualifications: Requires a Ph.D. in Sociology; ABD candidates (with Masters in Sociology) will be considered with an expected Ph.D. completion prior to the start of the next contract year in August 2025.

Applicants will be evaluated on:
• academic qualifications,
• compatibility with department needs,
• teaching background or the potential for teaching core classes in introductory sociology, aa research design/data analysis and report writing sequence, and sociological theory,
• teaching background or the potential for teaching additional classes in social psychology, social institutions, social problems, gender, global sociology and/or advanced seminars,
• evidence of teaching effectiveness, including potential for developing critical thinking and problem solving skills in undergraduates,
• demonstrated ability to develop an active research program, preferably involving undergraduates,
• evidence of experience with or interest in interdisciplinary and/or cross-disciplinary teaching,
• potential to contribute to interdisciplinary majors or minors such as Social Issues Advocacy, African and African Diaspora Studies, or Women and Gender Studies, and
• strong oral, written, and interpersonal communication skills.

Compensation and Rank: This is an entry-level academic position with a salary commensurate with experience; benefits package includes health insurance, retirement contributions, and reimbursed assistance for moving expenses.

Program: For more information about the Sociology/Anthropology program, please visit: https://www.truman.edu/majors-programs/majors-minors/sociology-anthropology-major/

Application: The School of Arts and Humanities coordinates the application process. Applications must be submitted electronically at http://employment.truman.edu. For assistance with submitting an application, please contact Human Resources at 660-785-4031 or hrstaff@truman.edu.

Completed applications must include a letter of application that clearly addresses the qualifications and evaluative criteria listed above; statement of scholarly activity interests; teaching portfolio including statement of teaching philosophy that includes the candidate’s commitment to the liberal arts and sciences, and student development and teaching evaluations; writing sample; current curriculum vitae; official or unofficial graduate college transcripts; names and contact information for 3 references. Questions about this position may be directed to Dr. Amber Johnson Professor of Anthropology, ajohnson@truman.edu.

Review of applications will begin on December 4, 2023 and continue until the position is filled. If hired, applicants must provide proof of eligibility to work in the United States, official graduate transcripts, or documentation of degrees if transcripts are not available. Final candidates will be expected to undergo and successfully pass a background check.

Employer Description:

The University: Truman State University is home to a vibrant educational community. The approximately 3,500 students who make up its student body are well prepared for the challenging academics in a supportive environment. More than 25% engage in significant undergraduate research and creative projects. Nearly 40% gain leadership experience, and nearly half plan to go on to graduate or professional school.

Founded in 1867, Truman is known for its focus on student learning and outcomes and places an emphasis on high-impact experiences such as internships, research, and study abroad opportunities. Truman has the highest overall graduation rate among the state’s public four-year colleges and universities. For more than two decades, Truman has been recognized as the No. 1 public university in the Midwest regional category by U.S. News & World Report, and Washington Monthly consistently ranks Truman as one of the best master’s universities in the nation. For more information regarding additional rankings and acknowledgments, visit truman.edu/about.

The Community: Located in northeast Missouri, Kirksville is a cultural and economic hub in the region. In addition to being the home of Truman, Kirksville is the birthplace of osteopathic medicine and features a medical school, dental school and community college, and the Kirksville School District is consistently recognized for academic excellence. The community takes pride in several annual events including the Red, White and Blue Festival and the FLATS Trail Half-Marathon. The charming downtown area features an arts center, as well as several local shops and restaurants. It is also the site of numerous community events including weekly farmers’ markets from May through October, as well as the Red Barn Arts and Craft Festival each fall. Just a few minutes outside of town is beautiful Thousand Hills State Park with hiking and biking opportunities surrounding the 700-acre Forest Lake. Kirksville offers easy access by car to Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Des Moines. Daily flights from Kirksville Regional Airport to Chicago O’Hare provide quick access to one of the country’s major metropolitan areas. More information about Kirksville can be found at visitKirksville.com.

Truman State University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer committed to assembling a diverse, broadly trained faculty and staff. Women, minorities, people with disabilities and veterans are strongly encouraged to apply. In compliance with applicable laws and in furtherance of its commitment to fostering an environment that welcomes and embraces diversity, Truman State does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, national origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, or protected veteran status in its program or activities, including employment, admissions, and educational programs. Direct inquiries to the Institutional Compliance Officer, 660-785-4354 and titleix@truman.edu.

Truman State is committed to providing reasonable accommodation to qualified individuals with disabilities upon request. To request this document in an alternate form or to request an accommodation, please contact Human Resources, McClain Hall 101, 100 E. Normal, Kirksville, MO 63501, 660-785-4031 or hrstaff@truman.edu.

Contact: Amber Johnson
Email: johnson@truman.edu
Phone: (660) 785-4322
Website: http://employment.truman.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19713: Postdoctoral Research Fellow: Health Equity Data Lab

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/25/2023 to 11/24/2023
Institution: University of Notre Dame
Department: Lucy Institute for Data and Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Postdoctoral Research Fellow: Health Equity Data Lab
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Health Equity Data Lab (HEDL) at the Lucy Family Institute for Data and Society (LFIDS) seeks highly motivated and enthusiastic candidates to fill a post-doctoral fellow position at the intersection of data and health related topics. Of special interest to this position are topics of sexual and reproductive health measure development, maternal health measure development, health-related comparative studies, or related subjects. The post-doctoral fellow will work with Dr. Sarah Mustillo and Dr. Nitesh Chawla, as well as other faculty and staff at the HEDL and industry partners from multiple major organizations from health care field. This fellowship presents unique opportunities for post-doctoral researchers to gain research experience, professional development, and work on a national project with a dynamic interdisciplinary team.

Launched less than a year ago, the HEDL at the Lucy Family Institute is working to advance interdisciplinary research and translation at the intersection of health equity and data science / AI, identified through a collaborative process. HEDL will develop a comprehensive framework for tackling health and health care equity challenges, specifically at the intersection of medical and social care. The Lab will take a data-driven approach, which will work to identify measurable and actionable health inequities to prioritize resource allocation.

The vision of HEDL is to become the pre-eminent convening center of discussions, problem scoping, and solutions on health equity data and responsible AI for health & wellbeing. Post-doctoral research associates will play a critical role in working with Notre Dame community and the industry to develop novel, groundbreaking research that helps execute this vision.

Responsibilities: There will be multiple projects using both qualitative and quantitative methodologies. Job responsibilities may include assistance in developing surveys instruments, conducting qualitative/cognitive interviews, and analyzing interview and survey data, including with the use of advanced data analysis tools. Post-docs will play an integral part in conducting data analyses using both quantitative and qualitative data, writing of manuscripts, preparation of reports, and dissemination of results at academic conferences.

The position is funded for a year with a possibility for an extension for another year, depending on performance. Salary will commensurate with skills and experience, and the position is benefit-eligible. Position can start immediately, but will be open until filled. To find out more about the Lucy Institute for Data & Society and the Health Equity Data Lab within the institute, please refer to the Institute's annual report, https://online.fliphtml5book.com/view/8399999272/.

Qualifications:
Qualifications: Applicants are invited from any relevant discipline including social and behavioral sciences (e.g., sociology, psychology, public health, political science). Candidates must have received a doctoral degree from an accredited educational institution by the start of appointment. The successful applicant will have a strong interest and research experience in quantitative methodology including data management such as merging datasets, recoding variables, cleaning data, and data analysis including categorical data analysis and regression, and experience managing research projects. Interest and experience in qualitative methodology including conducting interviews and analyzing interview data is a plus. Experience in any of the following: machine learning, multi-modal data integration, imbalanced learning, or responsible AI topics is desirable. The applicant must have excellent oral and written communication skills as well as interpersonal and organizational skills. Demonstrated successful dissemination of scholarship would be an advantage. Women, minorities, and members of other underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions:
Applicants should send a brief description of their research interests, a curriculum vitae, anticipated start dates, and three confidential letters of recommendation via Interfolio Dossier. https://apply.interfolio.com/134381

Employer Description:

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
The University of Notre Dame seeks to attract, develop, and retain the highest quality faculty, staff and administration. The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and is committed to building a culturally diverse workplace. We strongly encourage applications from female and minority candidates and those candidates attracted to a university with a Catholic identity. Moreover, Notre Dame prohibits discrimination against veterans or disabled qualified individuals, and requires affirmative action by covered contractors to employ and advance veterans and qualified individuals with disabilities in compliance with 41 CFR 60-741.5(a) and 41 CFR 60-300.5(a).

Background Check
This appointment is contingent upon the successful completion of a background check. Applicants will be asked to identify any felony convictions and/or pending felony charges. Felony convictions do not automatically bar an individual from employment. Each case will be examined separately to determine the appropriateness of employment in the particular position. Failure to be forthcoming or dishonesty with respect to felony disclosures can result in the disqualification of a candidate. The full procedure can be viewed at https://facultyhandbook.nd.edu/?id-link=73397.

Contact: Nitesh Chawla
Email: nchawla@nd.edu
Phone: (574) 631-7895
Website: https://lucyinstitute.nd.edu/
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
31. University of Tennessee-Knoxville

Job 19715: Assistant Professor-Environmental Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/25/2023 to 11/24/2023
Institution: University of Tennessee-Knoxville
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: South
Title: Assistant Professor-Environmental Sociology
Position Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/131045

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at the University of Tennessee – Knoxville invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of environmental sociology, beginning August 1, 2024. The UTK Sociology Department helped to establish environmental sociology within the discipline and we are looking for a scholar who will add to our reputation as a leader in this field. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the Department of Sociology’s strength in social justice (http://sociology.utk.edu) and whose research resonates with our other departmental areas: criminology, political economy and globalization; and critical race and ethnic studies. Applicants must demonstrate promise of distinguished scholarship and excellent teaching and will be expected to seek external funding as a condition of tenure and promotion. A Ph.D. in Sociology or a related area is required at the time of appointment.

The Department of Sociology at the University of Tennessee – Knoxville has a strong international reputation for excellence. We offer a supportive and collegial atmosphere in which scholars make a variety of important contributions to research, teaching, and public engagement. The Department and the University seek candidates who can contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University. Currently, the University has approximately 27,000 undergraduate and 6,000 graduate students. The City of Knoxville has a beautiful and walkable downtown, active neighborhoods, and eclectic cultural activities, restaurants, and shopping. The Knoxville metropolitan area has a population of more than 907,000 and is located within easy driving distance to Asheville, Atlanta, Nashville, and the Great Smoky Mountains.

Review of applications will begin November 1 and will continue until the position is filled. Please upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, research statement, and teaching statement to apply.interfolio.com/131045. In addition, we request contact information for 3 people who have agreed to serve as references. We will contact references after an initial review of applicants. Direct all questions to Dr. Christina Ergas, Search Committee Chair, via e-mail (cergas@utk.edu). More information on the Department of Sociology is at http://sociology.utk.edu.

Employer Description:

Department of Sociology at the University of Tennessee – Knoxville invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of environmental sociology, beginning August 1, 2024.

The University of Tennessee is an EEO/AA/Title VI/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA institution in the provision of its education and employment programs and services. All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status.

Contact: Dr. Stephanie Bohon
Email: sbohon@utk.edu
Phone: (865) 974-6021
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19709: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/24/2023 to 11/23/2023

Institution: Northern Michigan University

Department: Dept of Sociology and Anthropology

Region: Midwest

Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Sex and Gender, Sexualities

Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Submission Link: https://workatnmu.nmu.edu/

Job Description:

Sociologist – Gender and Sexuality

Position:
The Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Northern Michigan University in Marquette, Michigan invites applications for an Assistant Professor of Sociology (tenure-track) faculty position specializing in gender and sexuality. We seek applications from passionate sociologists committed to teaching and scholarship, with active research interests that will involve undergraduate students and promote our department’s concentration in social justice. This is a full-time, campus-based position at the rank of Assistant Professor, with a 3-3 teaching load, beginning August 19, 2024. Salary and benefits are competitive.

Duties and Responsibilities:
The individual who is offered and accepts this position will teach three (3) courses each fall and spring semester and will have the option to teach additional courses during summer sessions. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory sociology, gender and sexuality, and additional upper-level sociology courses as needed. Efforts to enhance and build on the curriculum offered by the sociology program are encouraged. The individual who is offered and accepts this position will demonstrate scholarly accomplishments or strong potential for research and publication relevant to the position, including the ability to maintain an active scholarly research agenda. The successful candidate is expected to actively participate in service in support of the department, college, and university.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities Required (Minimum Qualifications):
• Expertise in gender and sexuality;
• Ph.D. in Sociology (ABD candidates will be considered if there is a reasonable expectation to have their degree in-hand by June 30, 2024);
• Ability to establish an active research agenda with students;
• Ability to teach introductory sociology, upper-level courses in gender and sexuality, and other upper-level sociology courses as needed;
• Excellent oral and written communication skills and time management skills;
• Commitment to undergraduate education and demonstrated excellence in teaching;
• Ability to work well with an instructional team, including but limited to fellow instructors and assistants;
• Ability to develop and deliver curriculum.

Additional Desirable Qualifications Include:
• Demonstrated teaching experience, particularly in areas related to gender/sexuality
• Emphasis on social justice and social inequality
• Commitment to the mission of a public comprehensive university
• Record of peer-reviewed publications appropriate to career stage
• Potential for collaborative research
• Record of successful grant writing
• Willingness and ability to work interdepartmentally

Required Documents:
1. Detailed cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching Statement
4. Research Statement
5. Writing Sample
6. Unofficial transcript

Additional documents and information may be requested.

To Apply:
To apply for this position please visit: https://workatnmu.nmu.edu/ Applications must be completed online to be considered.

Posting Date: October 18, 2023

Closing Date: December 1, 2023

Employer Description:
Northern Michigan University, with approximately 7,000 students and 194 degree programs, is located along the shore of Lake Superior in the vibrant, historic city of Marquette, consistently named a top location in the nation to raise a family, vacation, and enjoy an excellent quality of life. See more at www.nmu.edu/marquette.

Northern Michigan University is an equal opportunity employer and complies with all applicable federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination in employment or the provisions of services. NMU provides, upon request, reasonable accommodation including auxiliary aids and services necessary to afford individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to participate in all programs and activities. Persons having inquiries regarding discrimination/complaints may contact the Equal Opportunity Office at (906) 227-2420.

Contact: Dr. Alex Stoner
Email: alstoner@nmu.edu
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
33. PSTC Brown University

Job 19706: Postdoctoral Research Fellow/Postdoctoral Research Associate

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/24/2023 to 11/23/2023

Institution: PSTC Brown University
Department: PSTC
Region: Northeast
Title: Postdoctoral Research Fellow/Postdoctoral Research Associate
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Demography
Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

The Population Studies and Training Center (PSTC) at Brown University invites applications for multiple postdoctoral positions to start on or around July 1, 2024. The initial term of appointment is one year, but reappointment for a second year is expected, subject to satisfactory performance. We welcome applications from candidates with a Ph.D. in a relevant social science discipline (e.g., anthropology, economics, sociology, demography, public policy, or related) at the time of appointment. We also welcome applicants with financial support from other sources, including the NIH F32 Individual Postdoctoral Fellowship.

The PSTC builds scientific understanding of local, national, and global population challenges and their implications for health and well-being. PSTC focuses on demographic research in six main areas: children, families, and health; social inequalities; population, development, and environment; migration and urbanization; social foundations of health disparities; and reproductive health and HIV/AIDS. Potential applicants are encouraged to consult the PSTC website to learn more about research activities, intra-institutional links, and faculty affiliate interests.

Postdoctoral Research Fellows and Associates are expected to spend their time working on independent research, and they may also collaborate with one or more members among our faculty affiliates. In addition, Postdoctoral Research Fellows and Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to be active members of the PSTC community (e.g., participate in relevant workshops, regularly attend weekly PSTC Colloquia, present their work to the PSTC community, present research at the Population Association of America (PAA) annual meetings, and submit one or more articles for publication). They are also encouraged to prepare grant applications. In some cases, they may teach a course. Applicants should visit our PSTC faculty page and identify one or two potential faculty mentors; however, applicants are not required to contact potential mentors prior to submitting an application.

Employer Description:

Applicants must have obtained a Ph.D. in a relevant social science discipline (e.g., anthropology, economics, sociology, demography, public policy, or related) at the time of appointment. One of the positions (Postdoctoral Research Fellow) is funded by NIH and requires that applicants be citizens or permanent residents of the United States at the time of application. At least one other position (Postdoctoral Research Associate) is open to applicants regardless of citizenship status. One position (Postdoctoral Research Associate) may be a joint appointment, open to all applicants who work in any area of demography and data science and fit the intellectual mission of both PSTC and Brown’s Data Science Institute.

Apply via Interfolio at this link (http://apply.interfolio.com/134027). Screening of applications will begin on December 8, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should provide a CV, 2 examples of written work, and a cover letter with the following information: background, research interests and plans during the postdoctoral period, commitment to diversity and inclusion, and future employment goals. Please have three letters of recommendation submitted online through Interfolio.

PSTC seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our postdoctoral research associates richly varied disciplines, perspectives, viewpoints, and ways of knowing and learning.

Contact Meaghen Hanrahan (meaghen_hanrahan@brown.edu) or Margot Jackson (margot_jackson@brown.edu) with any questions.

Contact: Meaghen Hanrahan
Email: meaghen_hanrahan@brown.edu
Phone: 4015591262
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
34. Stony Brook University

Job 19705: Assistant Professor, Anthropology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/24/2023 to 11/23/2023
Institution: Stony Brook University
Department:
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor, Anthropology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Medical Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Assistant Professor, Anthropology

Location: Stony Brook, NY

Open Date:
Oct 20, 2023

Deadline:
Nov 15, 2023 at 11:59 PM Eastern Time

Description

Stony Brook University invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Anthropology at the level of Assistant Professor, beginning in Fall 2024. We seek candidates specializing in medical and/or development anthropology.

We welcome research focusing on societies undergoing reorganization due to globalization, economic development, political transformation, and/or climate change. Potential research themes might include but are not limited to changing patterns of disease transmission in emerging high-density populations; chronic illnesses, infectious diseases, and species crossover events associated with human settlement expansion, habitat loss, or food insecurity; or emerging disease and illness threats due to climate change. Candidates might also probe the relations between health or development and inequalities in wealth, gender, race, and ethnicity. Candidates should have a strong applied research component, generating insights that can spawn meaningful policy changes. The successful candidate may contribute to broader university initiatives such as the https://www.stonybrook.edu/globalstudies/ and https://www.stonybrook.edu/commcms/cas/about/shared_vision/global-processes-connections-and-flows/health-and-disparities.php.

Qualifications

Required qualifications:
A PhD (or foreign equivalent) in Anthropology or related fields by the position start date, with a focus on Medical and or Development themes. The successful candidate should be ready to teach Introduction to Cultural Anthropology, Medical Anthropology, and/or Development Anthropology, and more advanced courses.

Preferred qualifications:
Demonstrated ability to obtain external research funding, evidence of research productivity, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Application Instructions

To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/4718822.
Applicants should apply via Interfolio. Application documents include a cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, DEI statement, curriculum vitae, up to three examples of publications, and names and email addresses for three reference letter writers. For full consideration, applications should be submitted before November 15, 2023. Applicants should inform their reference writers that if requested by the committee, letters should be submitted before December 15, 2023. Questions about the search should be directed to the Search Committee at . Stony Brook University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

The selected candidate must successfully clear a background investigation.

In accordance with the Title II Crime Awareness and Security Act, a copy of our crime statistics is available upon request. It can also be viewed online at the University Police website at http://www.stonybrook.edu/police.

Stony Brook University is committed to excellence in diversity and the creation of an inclusive learning, and working environment. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, familial status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status and all other protected classes under federal or state laws.

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

jeid-abebc2fc20817a4fb60702ad6b9d560a

Employer Description:

Contact: Human Resources
Email: hrs_info@stonybrook.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19708: Post Doctoral Research Fellows

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/24/2023 to 11/23/2023
Institution: Texas A&M International University
Department: Center for Center-Human Trafficking
Region: South
Title: Post Doctoral Research Fellows
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track:
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Post Doctoral Research Fellows

Job Title
Post Doctoral Research Fellows

Agency
Texas A&M International University

Department
Office of the Provost & VP for Academic Affairs

Proposed Minimum Salary
Commensurate

Job Location
Laredo, Texas

Job Type
Staff

Job Description

Job Summary

The Post-Doctoral Research Fellow will conduct research on human trafficking research, develop training materials/courses, and teach courses for the Center for Center-Human Trafficking (CCHT). This is a Congressionally Directed Project funded through the U.S. Department of Education at Texas A&M International University (TAMIU).

Essential Duties and Responsibilities

• Conduct research on human trafficking.

• Develop curriculum and training materials.

• Provide training on human trafficking.
• Teach undergraduate or graduate courses on human trafficking and/or criminal justice.

This document represents the major duties, responsibilities, and authorities of this job, and is not intended to be a complete list of all tasks and functions. Other duties may be assigned.

Minimum Requirements

• Education - Doctorate degree in criminal justice, psychology, political science, public health, economics, or related field

• Experience - Knowledge of human trafficking or its intersection with labor economics, immigration, health disparities, education, and other related areas.

• ABDs will be considered but must have earned a doctorate before the time of appointment.

Preferred Education and Experience

• Experience developing curriculum and delivering in-person and online training.

Preference will be given to candidates who have:

• Prior experience conducting research on human trafficking or related topics.

• Teaching experience at the undergraduate or graduate level

• Policy formulation as it relates to human trafficking.

Knowledge and Abilities

Knowledge of:

• Proficient with software that has to do with quantitative - R, SAS, SPSSS, etc. and qualitative - NVIVO, LLMs research.

Ability to:

• Conduct research on human trafficking.

• Teach undergraduate and graduate courses.

• Develop program curriculum.

• Provide training.

• Effectively communicate orally and in writing.

• Interact professionally with University personnel, the general public, and students.

• Demonstrate strong planning and organizational skills.

• Multitask, prioritize, and work with deadlines.

• Maintain confidentiality.

Registration, Certification, or Licensure - None.
Physical Requirements - None.

The physical demands described here are representative of those that must be met by an employee to successfully perform the essential functions of this job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

Supervision Received/Given

This position does not supervise employees.

Other Requirements

• 12-month grant funded position - 23-24 academic year. Position is eligible for renewal for the 2024-2025 academic year

• Start date August 16, 2023

• Position may require evening and/or weekend hours.

• Position requires on campus, face-to-face interactions.

• Position requires maintaining a regular schedule of attendance on campus and in the workplace.

Salary: $60,000/annually

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANT: During the application process you have only one opportunity to enter the requested information, upload documents and Submit the application. You will not be able to make changes or add additional documents once you “Submit” the application materials. The software does not allow you to “Save” your application and return to complete the process at a later time. The page “My Experience” has an area provided under Resume/CV to drop or upload files. Be sure to include:

• Resume/CV

• Cover Letter

• At least 3 references and their full contact information, and

• Unofficial transcripts (if applicable)

Applications received by Texas A&M International University must have all job application data entered. Failure to provide all job application data could result in an invalid submission and a rejected application. “See resume” is not an acceptable entry in the job application.

All positions are security-sensitive. Applicants are subject to a criminal history investigation, and employment is contingent upon the institution's verification of credentials and/or other information required by the institution's procedures, including the completion of the criminal history check.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

To apply, visit https://apptkr.com/4719993

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19699: Social Scientist Program Manager

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: Friday, November 10, 2023,
Listing Active: 10/24/2023 to 11/23/2023
Institution: U.S. Department of Energy
Department: Office of Science
Region: Northeast
Title: Social Scientist Program Manager
Position/Rank: Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Program Manager
Salary Range: Above $159,999

Job Description:

The Office of Scientific Workforce Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (SW-DEI) within the Department of Energy (DOE) Office of Science (SC) is seeking qualified applicants to fill a Social Scientist (GS-0101-13/14) position to serve as a Program Manager for SC’s initiatives to advance diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility (DEIA) within its extramural research programs and national laboratories.

The Social Scientist will serve as an expert advisor and program manager in areas concerning behavioral and/or social science research and evidence-based best practices for promoting and supporting DEIA in scientific fields and research environments and for understanding and addressing barriers to participation by individuals from groups underrepresented in the science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields.

The DOE Office of Science mission is to deliver scientific discoveries and major scientific tools to transform our understanding of nature and advance the energy, economic, and national security of the United States. The Office of Science is the Nation’s largest federal sponsor of basic research in the physical sciences, supporting research and training of thousands of individuals at over 300 academic institutions and across the DOE National Laboratories. SW-DEI was established to lead SC initiatives to advance diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility in how SC manages over $8 billion in annual funding for competitive extramural research and scientific user facilities, and advance DEIA with the 10 DOE national laboratories SC stewards. Critical to the success of these initiatives is understanding, incorporating, and applying evidence-based practices for advancing DEIA in the context of managing and executing scientific research programs.

In addition to having recognized expertise within the social sciences, applicants must have experience conducting studies and analyses that contribute to original social science research relevant to understanding factors affecting the advancement of students and professionals in STEM educational, workplace, and/or community environments. Applicants must have demonstrated experience in coordinating and leading interdisciplinary groups focused on addressing complex management or organizational challenges and identifying evidence-based solutions related to advancing diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility in STEM research and/or training environments.

This position focuses on supporting initiatives related to SC’s competitive, extramural basic research programs and the institutions where SC-funded work is carried out; this position does not focus on the management of DEIA within the Federal workforce.

For more information on the duties of this position, please visit the announcement on USAJOBS: https://www.usajobs.gov/job/754146800.

More information about the SW-DEI office can be found at: https://science.osti.gov/SW-DEI.

How to Apply:

This announcement is posted on USAJOBS and is open to all U.S. citizens starting on Tuesday, October 31, 2023. Interested persons should submit their application in response to the following USAJOBS announcement: https://www.usajobs.gov/job/754146800. Only applications submitted by the deadline, Friday, November 10, 2023, will be considered for this position.

You must submit your application, including a resume and other required documents identified in the announcement, through USAJOBS to be considered for this position. Your application should describe how your experience demonstrates that you meet the requirements for a GS-13 or GS-14 position and should show that you possess the knowledge and abilities to successfully perform the duties of this position. Including a cover letter with your application is strongly encouraged.

If there are questions regarding the position, please contact Dr. Julie Carruthers, julie.carruthers@science.doe.gov.

Employer Description:
The U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Science is the nation's largest support of basic research in the physical sciences.

Contact: Mariam Elsayed
Email: s_oidb@science.doe.gov
Phone: 2405397122
Website: science.osti.gov

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19707: Senior Research Associate

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
37. University of Chicago

Application Deadline: Winter 2024

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The University of Chicago's Knowledge Lab (KLab) seeks to understand collective systems of thinking and knowing, ranging from science and technological advance to cultural innovation to the rising role of (mis)information and AI in society, to the transformation of skills and work. The recent explosion of digital information offers an unprecedented opportunity to study the dynamics that shape human understanding, investigation, and certainty. KLab researchers are developing new big data, machine learning, adaptive surveys and experiments, and simulations with AI “digital doubles” to (1) harvest knowledge and judgment from experts, people, articles, preprints, software, patient records, artifacts, videos, and sensors; (2) learn how knowledge is made, used, certified and forgotten; (3) represent, recombine and generate knowledge in powerful ways; and (4) improve knowledge generation, representation, management and innovation practices everywhere.

Responsibilities

The Senior Research Associate will work closely with the KLab faculty director, lab affiliates and postdocs to develop KLab’s distinctive approach to understanding, predicting, visualizing, communicating, and ultimately improving human knowledge, technological innovation, healthy information environments, and enriching work. This will involve familiarity with the data requirements, workflows, and products associated with an ambitiously interdisciplinary research program. Specifically, the Senior Research Associate will have the following research-related responsibilities. The appointee will:

- participate in original research (with PI rights), generally in close collaboration with other KLab researchers;
- secure, fuse, and transform relevant data; and
- play a leadership role in developing social, knowledge, and technology representations and visualization strategies for the public presentation of KLab projects.
- train and supervise student research assistants who will be working in support of specific KLab research projects.
- more generally support the KLab’s ongoing work on the science of science, innovation, and AI.

The Senior Research Associate will also have research-related administrative responsibilities, such as:

- help to manage KLab’s computational environment;
- design collaborations and partnerships with research groups at universities, research institutes, companies, and governments;
- convene workshops and conferences on topics related to science, innovation, AI, and the future work; and
- seek out grants and contracts in support of this work.

Qualifications

KLab welcomes applicants from a range of disciplinary backgrounds, skilled in diverse methods and modes of investigation, but ideally with familiarity or expertise in computational methods and/or the social, informational, cultural, and/or technical nature of science, technology, and innovation. The position requires PhD with disciplinary backgrounds that include, but are not limited to, the social and behavioral sciences (e.g., sociology, political science, economics, psychology, anthropology); computer, information, and data science; physics, statistics, and math; and other fields with special relevance to science, knowledge, and/or innovation (e.g., science studies, history and philosophy of science) or complex, emerging methods and data (e.g., ecology and evolution, engineering). Methods and modes of investigation may include (but are not limited to) some combination of the following:

- deep learning, including large language models, autoencoders for large-scale and unstructured multi-modal data, and/or reinforcement learning;
- complex networks and associated network analysis;
- theoretical and methodological approaches from science and technology studies (e.g., actor-network theory);
- geometric and topological approaches to data analysis;
- complex information representation, visualization, and manipulation
- machine learning and statistical approaches to the science of science
- Data visualization and media
- historical and philosophical approaches to the formation of knowledge and ideas

Candidates should demonstrate a strong record of research-oriented work drawing from academic and/or professional experience. This may include advanced scholarship and/or professional experience in a role participating in and supporting scientific activities. The ideal candidate should have some experience convening conferences and seminars, university teaching, and research on questions related to KLab’s mission, with a minimum of four years of work or scholarly experience and a record of previous engagement with KLab’s core research agendas.

Application Instructions

https://apply.interfolio.com/135089
Applications must be submitted online, at the University of Chicago's Interfolio website,
https://apply.interfolio.com/135089
and are required to include: 1) a brief cover letter; 2) CV; 3) a portfolio or other relevant documentation of previous relevant work; 4) contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin on November 20, 2023 and will continue until the position is filled or the search has ended. Appointments will begin as soon as January 3, 2024.

Employer Description:

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans

Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination (https://www.uchicago.edu/about/non_discrimination_statement/).

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Contact: James Evans
Email: jevans@uchicago.edu
Phone: (773) 834-3612
Website: https://www.knowledgelab.org/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
38. California State University, Monterey Bay

Job 19704: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/23/2023 to 11/22/2023
Institution: California State University, Monterey Bay
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Theory, Race, Class and Gender
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://apptrkr.com/4719400

Job Description:
Assistant Professor of Sociology

Job no: 533203
Work type: Instructional Faculty - Tenured/Tenure-Track
Location: Monterey Bay

Categories: Unit 3 - CFA - California Faculty Association, Faculty - Social Sciences, Tenured/Tenure-Track, Full Time

Classification: Academic Year Faculty
Priority Screening Date: November 21, 2023
Recruitment Status: Open Until Filled
Appointment Date: Fall 2024

California State University, Monterey Bay is a mid-sized university in California's Central Coast that grants undergraduate and graduate degrees. Powered by an inspiring vision, the university, which educates nearly 460,000 students every year.

With a vibrant, diverse student body of over 7,000 students, CSU Monterey Bay is both a Minority Serving Institution and a Hispanic Serving Institution. Our staff and faculty transform students' lives with a focus on student success and engagement through experiential learning, service learning, and a strong emphasis on multicultural and global perspectives. CSUMB's sustainability goal is to be carbon neutral by 2030.

The university's mission prioritizes inclusive excellence through recruiting and investing in developing a diverse body of faculty, staff, and administrators. Many appreciate living and working close to the shores of beautiful Monterey Bay, with easy access to recreational areas from Big Sur to Santa Cruz. Nearby opportunities for collaborative research include working in the Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary and Silicon Valley, and with colleagues at local research universities, including UC Santa Cruz and Stanford University.

As one of the 23 campuses in the CSU system, CSUMB offers excellent benefits, including access to below-market-rate rental housing on East Campus, and competitive salaries for faculty and staff. With proximity to the San Francisco Bay Area and San Jose, opportunities for faculty, staff, and students are as endless as the shores of the nearby Pacific Ocean.

The B.A. Degree in Sociology from the Department of Social Sciences and Global Studies, housed in the Cahss department invites candidates to apply for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the field of Sociology. We are seeking a sociologist committed to undergraduate teaching, active scholarship, and professional service. The successful candidate should have expertise in teaching Sociological Theory (classical and contemporary), with additional research and/or teaching expertise in Race/Ethnicity.

This position is meant to grow our new Sociology major, housed within our interdisciplinary department of Social Sciences and Global Studies, and set to launch in Fall 2024. We are looking for a candidate who is capable of engaging our diverse student population in sociological theory and application, including student capstone research. The successful candidate will be able to integrate sociological and other disciplinary perspectives, especially disciplines across the social sciences. We seek a colleague who emphasizes outcomes-based education and high-impact educational practices, and who is excited to collaborate across disciplines. The successful applicant will teach 12 units per semester in courses covering sociological theory, race/ethnicity, and other courses in sociology or interdisciplinary social sciences. Teaching responsibilities may include a combination of in-person and online modalities.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

• Teaching
• Advising and mentoring students in the major
• Research and other scholarly or creative activities
• Service/Contribution to the Institution/Community
• Curriculum development and Assessment of the Major

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

• Ph.D. or ABD in Sociology from an accredited university by time of appointment
• Demonstrated success in teaching Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory
• Demonstrated expertise in the Sociology of Race/Ethnicity
• Demonstrated potential or evidence of successful research and scholarly publication and/or creative activities
• Demonstrated success in working with a diverse student population
• Demonstrated commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

• Experience strengthening outreach, recruitment, retention, and development of diverse student populations
• Ability to leverage the diversity of the university community to enhance the educational experience for all students
• Experience with using instructional technologies to teach courses in various modalities
• Ability to mentor and work with diverse students in applied and action research, service learning, community engagement, internship, study abroad, and other faculty directed and supported student development activities
• Experience teaching in interdisciplinary social sciences

SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT:

The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in http://www.calstate.edu/ao/EO-1083.html as a condition of employment.

The incumbent is required to maintain confidentiality as outlined in the Department of Education's Family Educational Rights and Privacy and California's Educational Code Chapter 13 regarding sensitive student issues.

All offers of employment are contingent upon the successful completion of a background check (including a criminal records check).

Working in the State of California is a condition of employment.

COMPENSATION:

Anticipated Hiring Salary Range: $76,432/annual - $81,432/annual

https://www.calstate.edu/csu-system/Careers/Compensation/Pages/SalaryScheduleDetails.aspx?RecordId=52081#-Keyword=2360-Class=0-Date=1-Pl Year=2023-PLNumber=2304-Recs=15

BENEFITS:

CSUMB offers a premium benefit package that includes outstanding health, dental & vision plans; a fee waiver education program; and membership in the California Public Employees Retirement System (CalPERS). For more information, visit: https://www.calstate.edu/csu-system/Careers/Benefits/Documents/employee-benefits-summary.pdf. Additionally, the University Corporation at CSU Monterey Bay provides access to affordable campus housing based on availability, visit: https://www.schoonoverparkapartments.com/ for more information.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

For full consideration, applicants must complete the required online application and submit required documents by the priority screening date found at http://www.csumb.edu/jobs. Application submissions received after the application screening date will be reviewed at the discretion of the University. Materials submitted become the property of CSUMB and will not be returned.
Required Documentation:

• A completed CSUMB Application
• Curriculum Vitae
• A cover letter (no more than 5 pages) that includes:
  • A statement of teaching philosophy as it pertains to student success and inclusive excellence
  • A statement of research experiences and scholarly interests
  • A diversity statement that must include specific examples of how your background, educational/professional experiences, and area of expertise prepared you for this position
• Unofficial copies of all postsecondary degree transcripts (official transcripts will be required prior to appointment)

Reasonable accommodations will be provided for qualified applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting Human Resources at (831) 582-3389 or humanresources@csumb.edu.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

CSUMB hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States and is an E-Verify employer. In compliance with state and federal crime awareness and campus security legislation, including The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act, California Education Code section 67380, and the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA), the Cal State University, Monterey Bay Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available at: https://csumb.edu/clery

The health and safety of our students, faculty, and staff remain our highest priority. While on campus, students, faculty, staff, and the community will be expected to follow all campus safety mandates.

CSUMB is a smoke and tobacco-free campus.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER:

CSUMB is an Equal Opportunity employer seeking to recruit and support a broadly diverse community of faculty and staff. We value and celebrate diversity in all its forms and strive to foster an inclusive culture built on respect that affirms inter-group relations and builds cohesion. We consider qualified applicants for employment for their anticipated contributions and without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, pregnancy, marital status, veteran status, or disability.

To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/4719400

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

Employer Description:

Contact: Human Resources
Email: humanresources@csumb.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

39. University of California-Santa Cruz

Job 19700: Assistant Teaching Professor of Community Engagement and Technology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/23/2023 to 11/22/2023
Institution: University of California-Santa Cruz
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: West
Title: Assistant Teaching Professor of Community Engagement and Technology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: $100,000 - $109,999
Submission Link: https://recruit.ucsc.edu/JPF01630

Job Description:

This Everett Program assistant teaching professor position will bolster a thriving program on applied technology and community engagement that attracts a diverse student body from across campus to the program’s interdisciplinary minor and intensive Sociology major, and helps build synergies between Sociology and other initiatives on campus and across the UC, including the Public Interest Technology University Network (https://transform.ucsc.edu/work/jpf01630) and Center for Information Technology Research in the Interest of Society (https://citris.ucsc.edu/). Students in the Everett Program develop technology-linked applied projects with community partners, both locally and globally, simultaneously supporting their own learning and the social justice goals of their community partners.

We seek candidates whose expertise includes practical experience and scholarly achievement at the intersection of technology and social change, particularly the use of information and communication technologies (ICTs) to help address critical social and environmental problems. Examples of experience and expertise could include: participatory mapping and community geographic information systems (GIS); photo-voice; non-profit technology use and management; links between technology and activism/organizing; interactive data visualizations; the use of ICTs in international development work (ICT4D); appropriate technology; and other participatory research and community development processes. Experience in project management, monitoring and evaluation, and social entrepreneurship is also desirable. This is a permanently funded position with the potential for security of employment. The successful candidate will be expected to primarily teach at the undergraduate level and mentor students in applied project development. The successful candidate must be committed to advancing the equity and inclusion goals of the Everett Program, be an excellent teacher, and able to work with students, faculty, staff and community partners from a wide range of social and cultural backgrounds. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their research, scholarly activity, and service.

Employer Description:
The Sociology Department (https://sociology.ucsc.edu) at the University of California, Santa Cruz (UCSC) invites applications for an Assistant Teaching Professor of Community Engagement and Technology to support the Everett Program (https://everettprogram.ucsc.edu/) and other community engaged student learning in the department. The Sociology Department is a mid-sized department with approximately 20 faculty, 6 staff, 30 graduate students, and 600 undergraduate students, and also offers the Global Information and Social Enterprise Studies (GISES) course sequence associated with the Everett Program.

Contact: Jessica Lawrence
Email: jlawrence@ucsc.edu
Phone: (831) 459-2831
Website: https://sociology.ucsc.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19703: Instructional Professor

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
40. University of Chicago

The Division of Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for Instructional Professors (IP) in the MA program in Computational Social Science (MACSS, macss.uchicago.edu). This is a full-time, career-track teaching position. Appointments at the Assistant, Associate, and Full rank will be considered with an initial term of at least three years, depending on rank, beginning by September 2024. Rank will be considered based on the candidate’s experience.

The Master of Arts in Computational Social Science (MACSS) is a two-year interdisciplinary MA program that trains students in the theory and methods of algorithmic, cutting-edge computational techniques—such as deep learning, AI, complex systems, and network science, broadly defined—to gain social scientific insights (in fields such as political science, psychology, sociology, anthropology, and history). Approximately 20% of our graduates go on for a PhD, while 80% seek research-oriented positions in industry, government, consulting, and a variety of think tanks.

The IP will annually teach four courses, including 2-3 in our MACSS curriculum and 1-2 computational social science electives, some of which may include introductory undergraduate courses for those new to computational social science. Our current course offerings are here: http://graduateannouncements.uchicago.edu/graduate/computationalsocialscience/competency. We welcome candidates from the broad research and teaching areas of computational social science, computational psychology, information science, and data science. Potential areas of focus include but are not limited to machine learning, deep learning, digital experimentation, natural language processing, data science, and data mining.

In addition, the IP will: advise a group MA students from matriculation through convocation and serve as the second reader on 7-9 MA theses; serve as the primary reader for an additional 2-3 MA theses each year; attend and participate in the weekly MACSS workshop; hold weekly office hours; coordinate teaching assistants; contribute to program admissions, staff hiring, and student recruitment; attend staff meetings; support students in their applications to doctoral programs; and participate in occasional committee work. The position includes support for professional development.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD in computer science, data science, information science, sociology, political science, psychology, or a related discipline. The PhD must be in hand prior to the start date. Prior teaching experience is expected.

Application Instructions

The following materials must be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/135034: (1) a cover letter, outlining the applicant’s prior training experience in their discipline, their prior teaching or mentoring experience, and their suggested course offerings; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) at least one course syllabus; (4) an article-length writing sample employing a computational research design; (5) course evaluations or other evidence of past experience in teaching or mentoring; (6) a teaching statement; and (7) the names and contact information for three recommenders.

Review of applications will begin on November 30, 2023 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

This position will be part of the Service Employees International Union.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all our members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity. The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Employer Description:

Contact: Jean Clipperton
Email: clipperton@uchicago.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes

71/210
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19702: Assistant Professor in Health Inequalities and Environmental Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/23/2023 to 11/22/2023
Institution: University of Florida
Department: Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor in Health Inequalities and Environmental Justice
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:
Job Description:

The Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-accruing position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research and teaching interests related to health inequalities and environmental justice beginning August 16, 2024. Candidates will have a Ph.D. in sociology or a relevant social science field by date of hire. The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience and includes a full benefits package.

We seek scholars whose research focuses on issues of health disparities and environmental justice. Approaches to health disparities should feature race/ethnicity and other social inequalities as related to environmental exposures, and may focus on unequal outcomes including those in healthcare access, specific health risks, substance use/addiction, and mental health conditions. Scholars may examine environmental racism or victimization as well as mobilization related to climate, energy, food, or water justice. We are especially interested in scholars whose research is grounded in theoretical perspectives that attend to power and cross-scale processes in human and environmental systems, and who have strong methodological and analytical skills.

We seek applicants whose records show commitment to rigorous scholarship with the promise of external funding, as well as excellence in teaching. The ability to contribute significantly to graduate education and the mentoring of graduate students is highly desirable.

Applications

For full consideration, applications must be submitted online at jobs.ufl.edu, search job #528968. Applications will be reviewed beginning November 10, 2023, and the position will remain open until filled. Only complete applications will be reviewed at this time. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority.

A complete application includes: (1) A letter of application summarizing the applicant’s qualifications, interests, experience, and suitability for the position, (2) A complete curriculum vitae, (3) A statement on teaching and research goals, (4) The names and email addresses of three references. An email will be sent to your references, requesting them to upload their confidential letter to the submission packet.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education. The selected candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered “official” if a designation of “Issued to Student” is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at http://www.naces.org/.

Employer Description:

The Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law is a large and dynamic department with nearly 1,500 undergraduate majors and almost 100 graduate students. The Department has multiple undergraduate programs offered via in-person and online courses, and has recently developed new minors in Sociology of Social Justice & Policy and Environmental Justice & Policy. We encompass a concentration of faculty using Artificial Intelligence methods in their research and teaching. Faculty are also known for research in other areas, including criminology and criminal justice; psychology and law; families and gender; health, aging, and the life course; environment and resources; and race and ethnicity. Many faculty are affiliated with other academic programs at UF, including the School of Natural Resources and the Environment, the Emerging Pathogens Institute, the Center for Latin American Studies, the Center for European Studies, the Center for Women’s Studies and Gender Research, and the Health Science Center. More information about the Department is available at https://soccrim.clas.ufl.edu/, including biographical information about our faculty, students, and staff; and a description of the various projects and research interests in which our members are involved.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked Number 1 public university in the United States by Wall Street Journal in its “2024 Best Colleges in the U.S.” report with exceptional research and teaching. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville). The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF’s large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program. Learn more about what Gainesville has to offer at Visit Gainesville.

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida's Sunshine Law. If an accommodation due to disability is needed in order to apply for this position, please call (352) 392-2477 or the Florida Relay System at (800) 955-8771 (TDD).

The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity Institution.

Contact: Charles Gattone
Email: cgattone@ufl.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes
Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19701: Assistant Professor, Organizational Studies
University of Richmond

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/23/2023 to 12/22/2023
Institution: University of Richmond
Department: School of Professional and Continuing Studies
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor, Organizational Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: http://jobs.richmond.edu

Job Description:
Assistant Professor, Organizational Studies
School of Professional and Continuing Studies
University of Richmond

The University of Richmond School of Professional and Continuing Studies (SPCS) invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor to begin in the 2024-2025 academic year. The position is a twelve-month, full-time, non-tenure track faculty position that includes teaching in Human Resource Management (HRM), Nonprofit Studies (NPS), and/or Liberal Arts (LA) programs, community engagement, research, academic program administration, and School and University service.

The initial appointment will be made for a probationary period of up to three years at the Assistant Professor level, with an ideal start of July 1, 2024, with opportunity for recurring continuing appointments of up to five (5) years per appointment. Applicants must have an earned Ph.D. or terminal degree in an appropriate field of study related to nonprofit organizations, human resources, organizational leadership, or management. Appropriate disciplines of study for candidates include, but are not limited to, human resource management; business; social work; sociology; psychology; law; and public administration.

The following areas of interest or experience are preferred: teaching, especially in a higher education setting; adult and continuing education; evaluating students; online teaching and course development; community engagement, networking, and strategic outreach; administrative and strategic planning; and organizational change, behavior, or leadership.

Responsibilities include the following:

Teaching
• Teach five courses per year, in the Nonprofit Studies, Human Resource Management, and/or Liberal Arts programs.
• Develop and teach courses serving the diverse academic and professional needs of adult learners
• Teach across different modalities (in person, hybrid, or online) as needed

Administrative Duties
• Support Program Chairs in Human Resource Management (HRM), Nonprofit Studies (NPS), and Liberal Arts (LA) programs, with curriculum development, program assessment, adjunct faculty recruitment, and other administrative duties.
• Collaborate with Program Chairs and Program Coordinators in the above programs in the development and implementation of course schedules.
• Assist with student advising in the programs noted above.
• Support recruiting efforts with a focus on diversifying a pipeline of future students and organizational leaders.

Partnerships/Collaboration/Networking
• Serve as liaison to create and maintain community partnerships with professional groups, local businesses, nonprofits, government agencies, community colleges and other universities.

Scholarship and Applied Research
• Undertake scholarship, broadly conceived, that would allow candidate to successfully gain promotion in the School and would advance the mission of SPCS. This could include new knowledge or creative solutions for problems related to the diverse fields of study in SPCS.

Service
• Work collaboratively with faculty in other academic programs in SPCS and with faculty in the other schools at the University.
• Serve on SPCS and University committees that are consistent with the duties of this position.

Employer Description:
The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With approximately 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse and inclusive campus community, which values the expression of difference in ways that promote a sense of belonging as well as excellence in teaching, learning, and personal development. Our academic community in SPCS fully supports the University's commitment to promoting a diverse and inclusive campus. We encourage candidates from diverse backgrounds and communities to apply.

SPCS offers a variety of academic and professional education courses for adult students and is focused especially on serving individuals, groups, and communities in the Richmond region. For more information on the School and its programs, please see spcs.richmond.edu.

Applicants should apply online at http://jobs.richmond.edu and submit a curriculum vitae and cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position in detail. Candidates selected for interviews may be asked to provide statements that articulate the candidate’s teaching philosophy, research interests, and future professional development goals as well as involvement in and commitment to inclusive pedagogy. In addition, please include the names and contact information of three references. A review of applications will begin on November 3, 2023 and close on January 5, 2024.

Contact: Dr. Andrew Schoeneman
Email: aschoeneman@richmond.edu
Phone: 804-289-8681
Website: http://jobs.richmond.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19698: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
43. Columbia University

Job Description:
Open Rank – Tenure Track Faculty Position in Healthcare Management

The Department of Health Policy & Management (HPM) of Columbia University's, Mailman School of Public Health invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in healthcare management at the level of assistant professor or higher, beginning 07/01/2024.

HPM seeks scholars who conduct research related to healthcare management. Individuals with doctoral degrees from any relevant field (including healthcare management, psychology, economics, sociology, management, strategy, health services research, and others) are encouraged to apply.

Assistant professor
Candidates appointed at the Assistant Professor rank will have a strong research portfolio and a commitment to excellence in both teaching and research. In particular, we seek individuals who could teach management and organizational behavior, strategy, qualitative methods, and/or quantitative methods at the Masters level.

Associate Professor or Professor
Candidates appointed at the Associate or Professor rank will be asked to lead in both research and educational endeavors within the department. They will have an established research portfolio, a demonstrated capacity to secure substantial external funding, and the ability to teach management and organizational behavior, strategy, qualitative methods and/or quantitative methods.

Successful candidates will be joining one of the first health policy and management programs in the country. Founded in 1945, HPM has a long history of participation in research, teaching, and service designed to produce more effective, efficient, and equitable health systems, the mission of HPM's Management Program is to conduct research that generates actionable insights and to create an inclusive educational environment for students with a range of professional and academic experience from across the globe.

Successful applicants will demonstrate an understanding of this mission.

HPM's multidisciplinary faculty blend research and education on the development, implementation, and evaluation of health policies and the administrative functioning of health systems and organizations. We train master’s level students in health policy and health administration to become the next generation of healthcare leaders and policy makers. As a department and faculty, we maintain close ties with Columbia's Graduate School of Business, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, College of Physicians and Surgeons, and School of International and Public Affairs, as well as with many New York area healthcare delivery and research institutions.

Application materials
To apply, please submit:
- a cover letter explaining your interest in the position and how your research and/or teaching demonstrates a commitment to the Management Program’s mission.
- current curriculum vitae
- a research statement that makes clear how your work advances the discipline of healthcare management
- a sample of research
- a teaching statement
- contact information for three recommenders

The direct link for this position is: https://apply.interfolio.com/134499.

Please address any questions to the search committee co-chairs, Yuna Lee (ysl2118@cumc.columbia.edu) or John McHugh (jpm2192@cumc.columbia.edu). Application deadline November 15, 2023.

Columbia University values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. Columbia University is an equal opportunity employer and an affirmative action employer. Columbia University is committed to ensuring that University employment is based upon personal capabilities and qualifications without discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, pregnancy, sexual orientation, marital status, status as a victim of domestic violence, alienage or citizenship status, creed, genetic predisposition or carrier status, unemployment status, or any other protected characteristic as established by law.

Salary Range: $120,000 - $260,000
Assistant Professor - $120,000 - $150,000
Associate Professor - $140,000 - $190,000
Professor - $180,000 - $260,000
Employer Description:
Health Policy and Management (HPM) is home to education, research, and service programs that provide students with the skills, networks, credentials, and practical experience to obtain professional positions in a complex and changing healthcare environment.

The Mission of HPM is to advance theory and practice throughout the healthcare industry and to produce a more equitable and more efficient health system. This mission is fulfilled through research and education focused on the development, implementation, and evaluation of health policies and the administrative functioning of health systems and organizations.

Health Policy and Management (HPM) website is https://www.publichealth.columbia.edu/academics/departments/health-policy-management

Contact: John McHugh
Email: jpm2192@cumc.columbia.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19695: TEACHING TRACK ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY [CRIMINOLOGY]

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
44. Illinois Wesleyan University

Job Description:

ILLINOIS WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY
SOCIOLOGY PROGRAM
TEACHING TRACK ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY [CRIMINOLOGY]

Illinois Wesleyan University invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Sociology (Teaching Track) who specializes in criminology and broadly contributes to our program. We are especially interested in applicants who can develop new courses for the program in criminology. Illinois Wesleyan University is seeking candidates interested in working at a small liberal arts college, which includes teaching, mentoring, and advising undergraduate students, along with forging interdisciplinary partnerships across the university. This teaching track position will begin August 15, 2024, with a renewable appointment built on consecutive six-year contracts. Salary and benefits are competitive.

The teaching track focuses on developing innovative curricula as well as contributing to the success of students, the department, and the university. Typically, initial appointments are at the rank of Assistant Professor, with the possibility of promotion to the ranks of Associate Professor and Professor. While not eligible for tenure, appointments on the teaching track are designed to support long-term engagement and professional growth. Teaching track faculty are eligible for sabbatical following the successful renewal of an initial 6-year contract and every seven years thereafter.

Founded in 1850, Illinois Wesleyan University is a private undergraduate liberal arts university with approximately 1600 students. We are located in Bloomington, IL, a metro area of 170,000 people, which is about a two hour drive from Chicago and St. Louis. Illinois Wesleyan emphasizes quality teaching and student-faculty research collaboration. We are strongly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community of outstanding faculty, staff, and students. Illinois Wesleyan University is an EEO Employer. Candidates from marginalized or underrepresented backgrounds are highly encouraged to apply.

Qualifications:

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in criminology, sociology, or related field when they start the position. Those nearing completion of the doctorate (ABD) will be considered with the expectation that they will complete their degree by August 1, 2024. Ideal candidates will have a record of successful teaching and be able to expand the program’s current course offerings, particularly in criminology. We strongly encourage all candidates who meet the qualifications to apply.

Responsibilities:

The primary responsibility will be to teach 8 undergraduate sociology courses per year (4 per semester). Class sizes in sociology range between 15 and 35 students. Applicants are expected to demonstrate a commitment to a high-quality, liberal arts undergraduate education through their teaching, advising, and mentoring. To do so, the candidate will be expected to remain current in the field and profession. The position also will eventually include service commitments, including to the department and university.

The review of applications will begin on November 17, 2023. To apply, submit the following files to our Social Science Division administrative specialist, Amy Aldeman, aaldeman@iwu.edu

1. a cover letter addressing your qualifications for the position;
2. a curriculum vitae;
3. a teaching portfolio which must include at least one syllabus for a class you can/have taught;
4. a diversity statement on your commitment to inclusive teaching and how you could contribute to broader campus diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts;
5. five letters of recommendation from references who can speak to your qualifications should be emailed separately.

Questions may be directed to the Department Chair: Dr. Todd Fuist, Associate Professor of Sociology at tfuist@iwu.edu.

Employer Description:

Founded in 1850, Illinois Wesleyan University is a private undergraduate liberal arts university with approximately 1600 students. We are located in Bloomington, IL, a metro area of 170,000 people, which is about a two hour drive from Chicago and St. Louis. Illinois Wesleyan emphasizes quality teaching and student-faculty research collaboration. We are strongly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive community of outstanding faculty, staff, and students. Illinois Wesleyan University is an EEO Employer. Candidates from marginalized or underrepresented backgrounds are highly encouraged to apply.

Contact: Dr. Todd Fuist, Associate Professor of Sociology
Email: tfuist@iwu.edu
Phone: (773) 456-5044
Website: https://www.iwu.edu/sociology/
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19694: Tenure-Track Faculty Positions in Sustainability - DeGroote School of Business

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: 10/20/2023 to 1/18/2024

Institution: McMaster University
Department: DeGroote School of Business
Region: Canada
Title: Tenure-Track Faculty Positions in Sustainability - DeGroote School of Business
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://hr.mcmaster.ca/careers/

Job Description:

McMaster University is located on the traditional territories of the Haudenosaunee and Mississauga Nations and, within the lands protected by the Dish With One Spoon wampum agreement.

Position Description

The DeGroote School of Business at McMaster University is pleased to announce a cohort hiring initiative of up to five tenure-track faculty appointments who will contribute to the advancement of McMaster’s Brighter World campaign fostering education and research focused on the health and well-being of all (https://brighterworld.mcmaster.ca/). This cohort of faculty will help to advance programs and research contributing towards the Planetary Health pillar of this Brighter World strategy. This cohort will join existing scholars to bolster DeGroote’s capacity to contribute towards addressing issues related to climate-resilient businesses, energy systems and management, net zero pathways, green startups, and sustainable and inclusive growth and development.

Candidates will be expected to demonstrate competency and/or experience with interdisciplinary research and teaching.

The positions are intended to be predominantly at the rank of Assistant Professor and will begin on July 1, 2024. Exceptional candidates at the rank of Associate Professor, with or without tenure, may also be considered. Positions will be filled across multiple Areas of business, as follows:

Human Resources and Management: Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in topics at the intersection of sustainability and approaches in Organizational Behaviour (OB), Organizational Theory (OT), entrepreneurship and/or Human Resources Management (HRM), broadly defined. We understand sustainability primarily in terms consistent with the UN social sustainability goals, such as, for example (a) gender equality, (b) decent work and economic growth (i.e., job quality), (c) reduced inequalities (e.g., supporting disadvantaged or marginalized populations), (d) peace, justice, and strong institutions, and also in terms of effective leadership and human resource management to promote other UN goals such as environmentally sustainable economic growth and production and consumption patterns.

Finance and Business Economics: Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in topics at the intersection of sustainability and finance, broadly defined. For instance: responsible investment, microfinance, financial implications of climate change, pricing of non-renewable resources, corporate governance impact on sustainability, market valuation of firm sustainability efforts, financing development of alternative energy sources, the design and pricing of social impact securities.

Information Systems: Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in topics at the intersection of sustainability and information systems, broadly defined, where information technologies are used to promote human, environmental, social, and economic sustainability. This includes sustainable and responsible design, use, and disposal of information systems, ethical AI and data privacy, digital inclusion and social equity, and smart cities.

Marketing: Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in topics at the intersection of sustainability and marketing, broadly defined, such as sustainability marketing strategy and firm value, sustainable innovation and branding, stakeholder orientation, corporate social responsibility, corporate activism, green alliances and acquisitions, and supply-chain & inter-organizational networks in the circular economy.

Strategic Management: Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in topics at the intersection of sustainability and business strategy, broadly defined. These areas may include sustainability business models, social entrepreneurship, sustainable innovation, stakeholder engagement, community inclusion, sustainable governance, circular economy, and sustainability performance measurement. Preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience with the case method.

Successful candidates must have a PhD in a relevant Area of specialization, from a reputable institution, at the time of the appointment or near the time of appointment. They will also have a record of, or evidence of strong potential for, excellence in research, teaching, and service. Upon appointment they will be expected to develop and maintain active research programs which will be reflected in research funding from both internal and external sources, publications in high-quality peer-reviewed journals, conference presentations, and supervision of graduate students. Successful candidates will be expected to actively contribute to the School’s undergraduate and graduate academic programs at both its Hamilton and Burlington locations through teaching excellence and innovations. They will also be expected to provide effective service to School and University committees, contribute to the School’s initiatives in the business and/or other external communities, as well as the University’s inclusive excellence goals and priorities.

Commitment to Inclusive Excellence

The diversity of our workforce is at the core of our innovation and creativity and strengthens our research and teaching excellence. In keeping with its Statement on Building an Inclusive Community with a Shared Purpose, McMaster University strives to embody the values of respect, collaboration, and diversity, and has a strong commitment to employment equity. The University seeks qualified candidates who share our commitment to equity and inclusion, who will contribute to the diversification of ideas and perspectives, and especially welcomes applications from First Nations, Métis and Inuit peoples, members of racialized communities (“visible minorities”), persons with disabilities, women, persons who identify as 2SLGBTQ+. We invite all applicants to complete a brief Diversity Survey, which takes approximately two minutes to complete. All questions are voluntary, with an option to decline to answer. All information collected is confidential and will be used to support efforts to broaden the diversity of the applicant pool and promote a fair, equitable and inclusive talent acquisition process. Inquiries about the Diversity Survey may be directed to hr.employequity@mcmaster.ca.

Job applicants requiring accommodation to participate in the hiring process should contact the Office of the Dean of Business at dbego@mcmaster.ca to communicate accommodation needs.

How to Apply

Please apply online via the McMaster Academic Careers website: https://hr.mcmaster.ca/careers/, (Faculty Postings, Job #58495), addressing your application documents to:

Dr. Khaled Hassanein, Dean, DeGroote School of Business, McMaster University, 1280 Main Street West, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada L8S 4M4.

Please submit the following materials:
• Submit a letter of application indicating the Area in which they would like to be considered for a position and describing the impact that career interruptions have had on research productivity, if applicable (including a statement regarding Canadian citizenship/permanent resident status (see below))

• Curriculum Vitae

• Research statement including a selection of research work (published articles or working papers)

• Statement of teaching interests and philosophy (including evidence of teaching effectiveness)

• Submit a brief statement describing any contributions made or planned in relation to advancing equity, diversity and inclusion or inclusive excellence in teaching, research or service within higher education, community-based or other professional settings (2-page maximum)

• Provide the names of at least three referees. The letters of reference are not required and will not be reviewed at the application stage. The Area will request letters of recommendation directly from referees only for short-listed candidates.

Review of applications will continue until the positions are filled. All applicants will receive an online confirmation of receipt of their application; however, only short-listed applicants will be contacted for interviews.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

To comply with the Government of Canada’s reporting requirements, the University is obliged to gather information about applicants’ status as either Permanent Residents of Canada or Canadian citizens. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or current citizenship, however, all applications must include one of the following statements:

• Yes, I am a citizen or permanent resident of Canada

• No, I am not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada

Employer Description:

Contact: Ms. Carol Gerritsen
Email: dsbeo@mcmaster.ca
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19693: Assistant Teaching Professor in Ethnic Studies and Global Health

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/20/2023 to 11/19/2023

Institution: University of California-San Diego
Department: Department of Ethnic Studies
Region: All US Regions

Title: Assistant Teaching Professor in Ethnic Studies and Global Health
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Lecturer, Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

Submission Link: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF03801/apply

Job Description:

POSITION OVERVIEW

Position title: Assistant Teaching Professor in Ethnic Studies and Global Health
Salary range: A reasonable salary range estimate for this position is $74,600-$97,200. The posted UC Academic salary scales set the minimum pay as determined by rank and/or step at appointment. See the following table(s) for the salary scale(s) for this position: https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/_files/2023-24/oct-2023-acad-salary-scales/t1-l.pdf. The base salary range, from the salary table(s), for this position is $74,600-$97,200. “Off-scale salaries” and other components of pay, i.e., a salary that is higher than the published system-wide salary at the designated rank and step, are offered when necessary to meet competitive conditions, qualifications, and experience. Additional UCSD salary information can be found here: https://aps.ucsd.edu/compensation/apo-salary.html

Review timeline: Applications received by 11/19/2023 will be given full consideration. However, the position will remain open until filled.

APPLICATION WINDOW

Open date: October 11, 2023
Next review date: Monday, Nov 20, 2023 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.
Final date: Friday, Mar 1, 2024 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Applications will continue to be accepted until this date, but those received after the review date will only be considered if the position has not yet been filled.

POSITION DESCRIPTION

The Ethnic Studies Department and the Global Health Program invite applications for a tenure-track Assistant Teaching Professor position (also termed Lecturer with Potential Security of Employment, LPSOE), with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2024.

The Assistant Teaching Professor or LPSOE series parallels that of the research-focused series but with emphasis upon excellence in teaching and other instruction-related activities. Individuals in the position are expected to provide outstanding teaching, as well as to engage in professional activity and service related to the pedagogical mission of the program and university. This appointment confers membership in the Academic Senate, and, contingent upon promotion, tenure-paralleling security of employment.

Department of Ethnic Studies: https://ethnicstudies.ucsd.edu/
Global Health Program: https://globalhealthprogram.ucsd.edu/

We seek candidates who will be able to contribute to the BS in Ethnic Studies: Critical Health and Medical Sciences (CHAMS) and to the full range of Global Health degree programs including Minor, BA, BS, and MA.

Preferred candidates will have strong demonstrated accomplishments in areas contributing to diversity, equity and inclusion, and a desire to play a leadership role in advancing UC San Diego’s commitment to achieving excellence and diversity. We especially welcome candidates whose professional experience and community engagement have facilitated their understanding of and ability to better serve students from traditionally underrepresented communities in higher education.

Faculty are expected to have an inclusive approach to mentoring and advising that incorporates working with underrepresented genders and underrepresented undergraduate and graduate students. This position will include an appointment in the Department of Ethnic Studies and in the Global Health Program.

Applications received by 11/19/2023 will be given full consideration. However, the position will remain open until filled.

Salary is commensurate with experience and based on the University of California pay scales.

For questions about this job announcement, email Gennie Miranda at gbmiranda@ucsd.edu

Department: https://ethnicstudies.ucsd.edu/
Program: https://globalhealthprogram.ucsd.edu/
School: https://socialsciences.ucsd.edu/

QUALIFICATIONS

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Must currently hold a Ph.D. (or be ABD - all but dissertation) in medical social science (e.g., medical anthropology, medical sociology), global health, ethnic studies, or a closely related field.

Additional qualifications (required at time of start)
Candidates must have a Ph.D. in medical social science (e.g., medical anthropology, medical sociology), global health, ethnic studies, or a closely related field.

Preferred qualifications:

Excellence in teaching and advising students.

Scholarly impact and research productivity relevant to course content and pedagogy.

Strong demonstrated accomplishments in areas contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

We seek candidates who have experience in teaching excellence at the undergraduate and graduate level, and who will contribute to instruction-related activities (e.g., conducting TA training, curriculum development, creation of instructional materials, employ new technological tools) at the campus, statewide and national level.

We especially welcome candidates who have already participated in, contributed to, or created programs that increase the access and success of underrepresented students and faculty in the sciences, can articulate how this experience helped shape their plan, and who have a commitment to helping shape and expand the University’s diversity initiatives (http://diversity.ucsd.edu).

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Document requirements:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research
- Statement of Contributions to Diversity - Applicants should summarize their past or potential contributions to diversity. See our Faculty Equity site for more information. A successful candidate should have a well-articulated plan of contributing to programs that increase the access and success of underrepresented students and faculty in the sciences.
- Syllabus or Course Proposal
- Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness - This may include course evaluations or feedback on teaching
- Covid-19 Impact Statement - We understand that the COVID-19 pandemic may have had a substantial impact on academic productivity. In our academic hiring processes, we will be keeping this in mind as we consider faculty achievement relative to opportunity. We encourage you to reflect on constraints on opportunity in your field that were caused by the events of the pandemic and where applicable, to discuss your achievements in this light. (Optional)

Reference requirements:

- 3-4 required (contact information only)

Apply link: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF03801

Help contact: gbmiranda@ucsd.edu

Employer Description:

CAMPUS INFORMATION

The University of California, San Diego is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, covered veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, state, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.

The University of California prohibits smoking and tobacco use at all University controlled properties.

The UC San Diego Annual Security & Fire Safety Report is available online at: https://www.police.ucsd.edu/docs/annualclery.pdf. This report provides crime and fire statistics, as well as institutional policy statement & procedures. Contact the UC San Diego Police Department at (858) 534-4361 if you want to obtain paper copies of this report.

JOB LOCATION

La Jolla, CA

Contact: Gennie Miranda
Email: gbmiranda@ucsd.edu
Phone: (858) 534-3278
Website: https://ethnicstudies.ucsd.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19697: Assistant Teaching Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/20/2023 to 11/19/2023

Institution: University of Southern Mississippi
Department: School of Social Science and Global Studies
Region: South
Title: Assistant Teaching Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas

Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Job Description:

Primary Duties and Responsibilities
1. Teach four courses per semester, fall and spring.
2. Hold regular office hours.
3. Mentor and advise students in the program.
4. Attend faculty meetings as determined by the Director of the School of Social Science and Global Studies.
5. Engage in professional development and/or scholarly activities appropriate to the mission of the School, College and University.
6. Provide service to assist the functioning of the School, College, and University.
7. Performs other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications
Master's degree in Sociology.

Preferred Qualifications
PhD or ABD in Sociology conferred by August 2024 with a record of high-quality teaching.

Special Instructions to Applicants
Candidates should submit (a) a cover letter philosophy and a list of courses you would be most interested in teaching, (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., one example syllabus and a summary of teaching evaluations), and (5) names and contact information for three academic references. Unofficial transcripts will be requested of finalists prior to interviews. Official transcripts are required prior to extending an offer to the preferred candidate. Review of applications will begin November 6th and will continue until finalists are selected.

Employer Description:
About The University of Southern Mississippi
The University of Southern Mississippi (USM) is a comprehensive public research institution delivering transformative programs on campuses in Hattiesburg and Long Beach, at teaching and research sites across the Mississippi Gulf Coast, as well as online. Founded in 1910, USM is one of only 131 universities in the nation to earn the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education’s "RI: Doctoral Universities - Very high research activity" designation, and its robust research enterprise includes experts in ocean science and engineering, polymer science and engineering, and large event venue safety and security, among others. USM is also one of only 37 institutions in the nation accredited in theatre, art and design, dance and music. As an economic driver, USM generates an annual economic impact of more than $600 million across the state. USM welcomes a diverse student body of more than 14,000, representing 71 countries, all 50 states, and every county in Mississippi. USM students have collected four Truman Scholarships and 37 National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships, while also leading Mississippi with 27 Goldwater Scholarships, an honor that recognizes the next generation of great research scientists. Home to the Golden Eagles, USM competes in 17 Division I sports sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). For more information, visit www.usm.edu.

As an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity employer/Americans with Disabilities Act institution, The University of Southern Mississippi encourages minorities, women, veterans and persons with disabilities to apply.

Contact: Matthew Ward
Email: mward@usm.edu
Phone: (601) 266-4964
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19690: Research Manager

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
48. Congressional Black Caucus Foundation

Date Position is Available: Winter 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: Congressional Black Caucus Foundation
Department: Policy and Research
Region: Northeast
Title: Research Manager
Position/Rank: Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Researcher, Open, Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: All
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link:

Job Description:

I. POSITION SUMMARY:

The Research Manager, under the direction of the Vice President of the Center for Policy Analysis and Research (CPAR), will play a key role in the management of CPAR research initiatives and be primarily responsible for reviewing and editing department research deliverables. Currently, CPAR initiatives include Voter Engagement, Tech Equity, and Health Equity; NREI initiatives include Criminal Justice, Economic Equity, Education Equity, and Health Equity. The ideal candidate will have experience with managing the development and execution of policy research and peer-reviewing research-related pieces (e.g., fact sheets, policy briefs, case studies, reports, op-eds, etc.), an exceptional ability to write and carry out original research with guidance from senior staff, and superior communication skills. Candidates with interest in and/or experience with researching key and intersecting issues facing the global Black community are preferred, and prior experience with crafting content for research- and policy-based programmatic activities (e.g., private and public conferences, workshops, brain trusts, webinars, summits, etc.) is a bonus. They report to the VP, CPAR.

II. WORKING RELATIONSHIPS:

A. Reports to: VP, CPAR
B. Directly Supervises: Research and Program Coordinator, CPAR
C. Indirectly Supervises: Vendors providing professional services or deliverables.
D. Type of Supervision Received: Minimal supervision.
E. Internal Relationships: Close coordination with the President's Office, Strategic Events Director, Marketing and Communications Director, and NREI Senior Director. Ideally, thrives in cross-functional settings to optimize and execute research initiatives and programmatic.
F. External Relationships: CPAR Partners, Journal Contributors, Speakers, and Facilitators

III. SPECIFIC RESPONSIBILITIES:

Essential duties and responsibilities include the following:

1. Manages research on various public policy issues, conducts peer-review and fact-checking of research, and manages research rollout.
2. Monitors and communicates the process and progress of research assignments.
3. Oversees the work of and collaborates with the research coordinator and vendors providing professional services or deliverables.
4. Monitors and analyzes historical, current and proposed federal policies related to program priority areas.
5. Oversees the layout, editing, and dissemination of publications, not limited to but including JCPAR.
6. Serves as a Managing Editor for JCPAR, including supervise and oversee editorial production from idea generation to publication; collaborate with editor-in-chief and managing editors to plan journal issues and solicit articles from JCPAR contributors; and manage the dissemination of publication.
7. In coordination with VP, develops in-person and online policy issue forums throughout the year and during CBCF’s Annual Legislative Conference (ALC) to include crafting content, producing event fact sheets, and directing briefing calls.
8. Ensures efficient department operations, to include writing correspondence, maintaining quality data, and monitoring for latest research and policy activities specifically impacting the global Black community.
9. Liaises between departments to produce relevant documents or needs to facilitate objectives.
10. Acts as a thought partner to CPAR department leads.
11. Attends research trainings and acts as a resource for the CPAR team on knowledge obtained during trainings.
12. Other administrative and research tasks as needed.

IV. RESPONSIBILITY FOR ACCURACY/ACCOUNTABILITY:

The Incumbent must communicate with stakeholders on a national and local level to positively influence the effectiveness of CBCF in achieving its objectives. The Research Manager must follow and adhere to federal, state and local ethics laws, as well as CBCF policies governing conduct, in addition to performing his/her duties in an ethical, professional and objective manner. Failure to comply may result in penalties for CBCF and the Research Manager.

V. SPECIFICATIONS:

A. Knowledge: An advanced degree in social science, public policy, economic or community development, communications, or a related field; academic training in public policy or economic/community development preferred. At least four years of post-graduate, professional experience conducting research and/or policy analysis in a social policy research organization, academic institution, or governmental agency or office.
B. Skills and Abilities:

- Ability to develop aptitude in public policy areas beyond the candidate’s area of expertise
- Superior writing and analytical skills
- Ability to manage competing priorities and multiple projects under tight deadlines
- In depth knowledge of the federal legislative and regulatory processes

Excellent quantitative research skills and policy analysis skills; experience with qualitative research a plus
- General working knowledge of SPSS and Microsoft Word, EXCEL, and PowerPoint; knowledge of Microsoft Access, Excel and qualitative data analysis software a plus
- Excellent written and oral communication skills; experience with authoring research/policy analysis publications and presenting findings preferred
- Ability to synthesize information from different sources and present information in a variety of formats for different audiences
- Ability to work well under pressure and with minimal supervision, strong attention to detail, manage multiple tasks and prioritize assignments
- Ability to communicate effectively with different audiences on a broad range of issues
- Ability to work well independently or as a team player within and across departments

C. Computer and Technical Proficiencies: Highly proficient skills in Microsoft Office applications (Outlook, Word, Excel, and PowerPoint) and overall aptitude for technology and cloud-based software are required.

D. Physical Requirements: Ability to work in a fast-paced environment with strict deadlines, ability to work evening and weekend events and/or off-hours responses as necessary. Some light travel may be required. Must work well under pressure and be able to manage simultaneous priorities and deliverables.

CBCF is an equal opportunity employer and offers a competitive salary and excellent benefits package including health, dental, vision, 403(b), paid vacation and sick time. Qualified applicants only must forward a cover letter, resume, salary requirements and three professional references using CBCF’s online employment portal only. Incomplete submissions will not be considered. Position is open until filled. No phone calls accepted.

Employer Description:
Founded in 1976, the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation (CBCF) is a non-profit organization focused on eliminating disparities within the global black community by developing leaders, informing policy, and educating the public. Our primary focus areas are Education, Public Health, Economic Empowerment, and the Environment. Applicants may visit the website at www.cbcfinc.org, to view more information on CBCF programs and initiatives.

Contact: Director, HR Candice Willmore
Email: cwillmore@cbcfinc.org
Phone: 2022635715
Website: www.cbcfinc.org

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19682: Affiliate Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: Grand Valley State University
Department: Sociology Department
Region: Midwest

Title: Affiliate Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Instructor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://jobs.gvsu.edu/en-us/job/495034/affiliate-faculty-of-instruction-sociology

Job Description:
Summary:
The Sociology Department at Grand Valley State University invites applications for an Affiliate Professor of Sociology to begin in August 2024. The initial appointment for this non-tenure track position will be for one academic year on a full-time basis, renewable once for an additional academic year. Thereafter, appointments will be for three (3) consecutive academic years until one reaches the rank of Senior Affiliate and becomes eligible for 6-year contracts. Affiliate faculty teach 4 courses each semester in Fall and Winter, mostly Introduction to Sociology and/or Social Problems.

Required Qualifications and Education:
• Master’s degree in Sociology or a related field.
• Experience teaching at the undergraduate level.

Preferred Qualifications and Education:
• Demonstrated understanding of, or interest in pedagogical approaches and modalities that engage and support diverse students.
• Strong organizational and communication skills, including the ability to engage others with respect and empathy.
• Demonstrated understanding and commitment to the success of first-generation students, and/or students from historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

Responsibilities:
Teach four sections of Introduction to Sociology and/or Social Problems, each semester under the guidance of tenured faculty, typically with two preps in each of Fall and Winter. Affiliate faculty do not have scholarship obligations but are invited to participate in the life of the department and provide limited departmental service of their choosing.

Salary/Benefits:
The university offers salary competitive and commensurate with qualifications. The university offers excellent comprehensive package on health/vision/dental plans, life insurance, retirement, sick/leave disability, tuition waiver, adoption resources, wellness coaching, and free access to campus fitness facilities. Family and childcare options on and off-campus are also available. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit Benefits and Wellness - Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu).

Affiliate Professor of Sociology - Grand Valley State University

Employer Description:
At Grand Valley State University, we empower learners in their pursuits, professions, and purpose. The university enriches society through excellent teaching, active scholarship, advancement of equity, and public service.

Contact: Richard Yidana
Email: yidanar@gvsu.edu
Phone: (616) 331-3730
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
50. Randolph College

Job 19688: Associate Professor of Criminology and/or Criminal Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: Randolph College
Department:
Region: Southeast
Title: Associate Professor of Criminology and/or Criminal Justice
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice, Criminology/Delinquency
Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Job Description:

Randolph College seeks a scholar of Criminology or Criminal Justice with a PhD in Criminology, Criminal Justice, or a closely related field for a tenure-track appointment to direct and teach in our new major in Criminal Justice and Criminology. Date of employment is July 2024; report date is mid-August. The ideal candidate must be able to teach a broad range of undergraduate courses in criminology and criminal justice and to work effectively with partners in other departments to manage the department’s curriculum. An emphasis on racial justice in a criminology/criminal justice context is highly valued.

Responsibilities include directing and teaching in the Criminology and Criminal Justice Department, academic advising, service to the college including committee work, and an active scholarly agenda. Tenure-track faculty teach six courses per academic year, typically three per semester. The College’s innovative TAKE2 curriculum includes 4 seven-week sessions in an academic year, allowing students to sharpen their focus with immersive learning, gain life balance with a more flexible schedule, and, most importantly, thrive within a supportive, student-centered environment. Resources for professional and teaching development are available.

We are especially interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching, research, and service, and demonstrate evidence and commitment to student-centered and inclusive teaching practices.

Randolph College, founded as Randolph-Macon Woman’s College, is in Lynchburg Virginia at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Randolph College has a longstanding reputation for excellence in teaching and an appreciation for and commitment to diversity. Randolph was recognized as one of the nation’s “best and most interesting” institutions in the 2022 edition of the Fiske Guide to Colleges and was recently ranked 12th in the nation for “most accessible professors” by the Princeton Review.

Please complete the Paycom application and send your application documents as described below to crimjusticeassocsearch@randolphcollege.edu

The full job description and application can be found here. Please submit the following application materials to crimjusticeassocsearch@randolphcollege.edu in a single pdf document with “Criminology and Criminal Justice” in the subject line:

- A letter of application
- A curriculum vitae
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- A statement of research interests
- A diversity statement (addressing how your teaching, service, and/or scholarly pursuits contribute to an inclusive and diverse community)
- The names of three professional references, from whom letters may be obtained upon request
- Unofficial transcripts
- A sample syllabus

Applications received by November 20th, 2023 will receive priority. The Randolph community values and supports diversity and an inclusive environment. We are particularly interested in hiring candidates who will enrich the diversity of our campus. Randolph is an EOE employer.

Employer Description:
Contact: Alex Southworth-Molchan
Email: employment@randolphcollege.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19683: Assistant Professor, Criminal Justice Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023

Institution: The University of Akron

Department:

Region: All US Regions

Title: Assistant Professor, Criminal Justice Studies

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Job Description Summary

Demonstrates quality of teaching, quality of research and scholarly activity, quality of professional, University, and community service, and professional conduct. Must have experience and credentials as outlined in academic unit guidelines for Assistant Professor.

The tenured tenure track teaching faculty generally have a full range of responsibilities, including teaching, research, scholarship and other creative professional work, and service to the unit, the university and the public.

Job Description

Subject to Collective Bargaining Agreement Requirements. The mission of the Department of Criminal Justice studies is to enhance the public good through community engagement and action research. The successful candidate, through research and community service, will assist criminal justice organizations in enhancing organizational accountability, reducing bias and deviance, improving recruitment and selection of personnel from various backgrounds, and effectively directing limited resources through evidence-based and data-driven practices.

We seek to assemble a cohort of teacher-scholars who will offer a strong contribution to the excellence of UA through teaching, scholarship, service and collaboration. Specifically, as an urban-research university, we are particularly interested in scholars whose work touches on the pressing needs of cities and urban communities, including but not limited to the challenges surrounding crime and punishment and social justice. As our university’s strategic plan states, “we promise to increase our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion,” and therefore we invite applicants to demonstrate in their application materials how they can contribute, through their teaching, scholarship, and community-engaged service, to these ongoing efforts.

Qualified applicants will have a demonstrated interest in research and teaching in policing studies. Areas of interest may include policing administration, policing theories, police accountability and risk management. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to programs in police leadership and crime analysis.

The successful candidate will possess a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice or a related field. The candidate must demonstrate potential for a successful research agenda.

College-level teaching experience is preferred. Experience in program evaluation, policy analysis and/or community engagement initiatives in an urban environment is preferred. Ability to teach introductory and advanced courses in policing at the undergraduate level, with the potential of contributing courses to majors/minors in crime analysis and forensic studies.

Ability to conduct research in area of expertise at a level of national recognition. Research and/or teaching should be in line with the Department of Criminal Justice Studies’ mission to engage, improve, and inform justice agencies and urban communities in Akron and Northeast Ohio.

Additional Position Information:

Application Deadline: For best consideration, please apply by November 12, 2023. Applications will be accepted until December 13, 2023, 12:00am. Application review will begin on November 12, 2023 and applications received after this date will be reviewed if the position is not filled out of the initial candidates.

Compensation: The compensation for this position is commensurate with experience and qualifications. The University of Akron offers a competitive total compensation package comprised of a competitive salary and comprehensive benefits for eligible employees including medical, dental, vision, short and long-term disability, life insurance, and paid leave of absences including time off for illness, vacation, and maternity or paternity leave. In addition, eligible employees and their dependents are provided tuition remission. All staff and eligible non-bargaining unit faculty have the option to request a Flexible Work Arrangement (FWA). The University of Akron participates in state retirement systems and offers alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions. Optional investment opportunities are available including deferred compensation programs (403b) and 457(b)). Please visit our benefits home page for more information.

Recruiter:
Danielle Ester

Phone Number:
+1 (330) 9724708
Background Check Statement
The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, all offers of employment with The University of Akron are contingent upon verification of credentials, and satisfactory completion of a criminal background check. Some positions may require additional credit investigation and a pre-employment driving record search.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
The University of Akron, as an equal education and employment institution, is committed to achieving a diverse and inclusive workforce. All qualified individuals in its education programs or activities, including applicants for admissions or employment, will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, genetic information, military status or status as a veteran. To further this commitment, the University complies with state and federal laws which prohibit discrimination.

Questions or concerns about the administration of this commitment can be directed to the University’s Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action Office (uakron.edu/hr/eeoaa).

The University also strives to provide an environment free from the negative impacts of gender-based discrimination and harassment as prohibited by Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972. Questions about Title IX can be referred to the University’s Title IX Coordinator, the Assistant Secretary for the U.S. Department of Education or both. For more information on Title IX at the University of Akron, including how to contact the Title IX Coordinator, how to file a complaint under Title IX with the University or the Title IX process at the University of Akron, please visit the University’s Title IX page at uakron.edu/title-ix/at-uakron.

State of Residence Statement
It is the expectation of the University of Akron that all work performed as an employee of the University will be performed in Ohio.

Employer Description:
Contact: Danielle Ester
Email:
Phone: +1 (330) 9724708
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
  Age? Yes
  National Origin? Yes
  Race? Yes
  Religion? Yes
  Sex? Yes
  Sexual Orientation? Yes
  Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
  Spouses of Employees? Yes
  Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
  Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19686: Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
52. University of Arkansas Fayetteville

Application Deadline: Fall 2024
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: University of Arkansas Fayetteville
Department: Department of Sociology and Criminology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology and Criminology in the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Arkansas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology to start in August 2024. This is a standard nine-month faculty appointment.

This tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor position entails conducting research leading to publication, engaging in creative and/or scholarly activities, designing graduate and undergraduate courses, developing and implementing new methods of teaching to reflect changes in the field, providing curriculum material, constructing syllabi, leading classroom instruction, writing and administering exams, mentoring and evaluating students, creating interest and understanding among students, serving on various faculty- and student-oriented committees, providing service on campus in related professional organizations, and participating in faculty governance in the department and on campus.

Regular, reliable, and non-disruptive attendance is an essential job duty, as is the ability to create and maintain collegial, harmonious working relationships with others.

Employer Description:
About the Department of Sociology and Criminology
The Department is a very dynamic, productive, collegial, and student success-oriented unit in Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences. The Department offers undergraduate degrees in Sociology and Criminology, and an M.A. in Sociology, and affiliation with three research units: the Center for Social Research, Community and Family Institute, and the Terrorism Research Center. The Department contributes to the larger university strategic mission that is part of eight priority areas that have been outlined in detail in the Chancellor’s guiding priorities. For more information, please visit https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/.

Founded in 1871, the University of Arkansas is a land grant institution, classified by the Carnegie Foundation among the nation’s top 2 percent of universities with the highest level of research activity. The University of Arkansas works to advance Arkansas and build a better world through education, research and outreach by providing transformational opportunities and skills, promoting an inclusive and diverse culture and climate, and nurturing creativity, discovery and the spread of new ideas and innovations.

The University of Arkansas campus is located in Fayetteville, a welcoming community ranked as one of the best places to live in the U.S. The growing region surrounding Fayetteville is home to numerous Fortune 500 companies and one of the nation’s strongest economies. Northwest Arkansas is also quickly gaining a national reputation for its focus on the arts and overall quality of life.

As an employer, the University of Arkansas offers a vibrant work environment and a workplace culture that promotes a healthy work-life balance. The benefits package includes university contributions to health, dental, life and disability insurance, tuition waivers for employees and their families, 12 official holidays, immediate leave accrual, and a choice of retirement programs with university contributions ranging from 5 to 10% of employee salary.

Contact: Shaun Thomas
Email: shaun@uark.edu
Phone: 479-575-3206
Website: https://fulbright.uark.edu/departments/sociology/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITEd.
Job 19691: Assistant Professor, Crime and Deviance

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: N/A

Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 12/18/2023

Institution: University of Central Florida

Department: Dept of Sociology

Region: Southeast

Title: Assistant Professor, Crime and Deviance

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency, Quantitative Methodology

Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

Job Description:

Unleash Your Potential With Us

As a next-generation public research institution, we are an inclusive community of thinkers, doers, creators, innovators, healers, and leaders striving to shape the future and solve the world’s most challenging problems. No matter what your role is, when you join Knight Nation, you become an integral part of our mission to become a university for the future. You’ll be met with opportunities to connect and collaborate with uniquely talented faculty, staff, and students across 13 colleges and multiple campuses and regional locations. That means greater challenges to tackle, more meaningful opportunities to grow, and rewarding experiences that go beyond a paycheck.

The Opportunity

The Department of Sociology at the University of Central Florida (UCF) invites applications for a full-time, 9-month, tenure-earning assistant professor, anticipated to begin August 2024.

The ideal candidate will value engagement in Public Sociology and will have a record of, or potential for, external research funding as appropriate for the discipline. We are especially interested in an individual who can contribute through their research, teaching and service to the diversity and excellence of our academic community and foster an environment in which faculty, staff, and students from a variety of backgrounds, cultures and personal experiences are welcomed and can thrive.

The Department of Sociology has an active graduate program, offering both Applied M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. The department includes 17 tenured and tenure-track and 4 full time instructional faculty members who are committed to impactful scholarly research, public dissemination of research findings, innovative teaching, and collaborative community relationships, and are actively involved in professional organizations. Sociology faculty have their research activities funded by the National Institute of Justice, the U.S. Department of Justice, the National Institute of Health, and the National Science Foundation, as well as state and regional agencies. Faculty are also affiliated with diverse campus research centers. Several faculty members are members of the Violence Against Women Cluster at UCF which works across the disciplines of social work, criminal justice, sociology, and public health to create knowledge to guide policymaking and practice designed to reduce the experience and impact of gendered violence. The department houses the Institute for Social and Behavioral Science which specializes in research relevant to public policy issues in the state of Florida. The department also collaborates with the GIS Research Cluster Laboratory, focusing on the use of mapping and drones to understand social and environmental inequalities. Lastly, the Puerto Rico Research Hub, led by a faculty member in sociology, is the center of activities dedicated to the study of Puerto Ricans at UCF. For more information, visit https://sciences.ucf.edu/sociology/.

UCF, located in Orlando, Florida, is classified as a Very High Research Activity University by the Carnegie Foundation. With a diverse student body of more than 68,000 students, UCF is one of the largest universities in the country. The university offers more than 240 degree programs. UCF is a Hispanic Serving Institution. For more information, visit http://www.ucf.edu.

Minimum Qualifications:

A doctorate in Sociology or a closely related field (e.g., Criminology) from an accredited institution by time of hire. In addition, the successful applicant will have scholarly expertise in crime and deviance, an active research agenda, and a commitment to effective teaching.

Preferred Qualifications:

Preference will be given to candidates who have research and teaching interests in one of the following areas: (1) neighborhoods and the community context of crime and victimization, or (2) social inequalities in crime and victimization, may include utilizing geographic information system (GIS) and social inequalities in crime and victimization.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents be submitted electronically through the Human Resources employment opportunities website, https://www.ucf.edu/jobs/. In addition to the online application, (1) a curriculum vitae and (2) a letter of application addressing (a) how the candidate meets the qualifications and preferences listed in the ad, (b) their research agenda, and (c) their teaching interests. Additionally, candidates must provide the names and contact information for three professional references.

Questions regarding the position should be directed to Dr. Amy Reckdenwald, Associate Professor, at amy.reckdenwald@ucf.edu.

Special Instructions to the Applicants:

N/A

Job Close Date:

11/30/2023

Are Benefits Important to You?

Working in UCF has its perks! In addition to helping drive change and having a positive impact by supporting our students, staff, and faculty, UCF offers:

- Benefit packages including medical, dental, vision, life insurance, healthcare flexible spending accounts, and an Employee Assistance Program.
- Paid time off, including annual and sick leave and paid holidays.
- Retirement savings options.

Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

Reference to Institution: University of Central Florida

Region: Southeast

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency, Quantitative Methodology

Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

- Employee discounts, including tickets to many Orlando area attractions.
- Education assistance.
- Flexible work environment.

And more… For more benefits information, go to 'Prospective Employees' on the UCF Human Resources website (https://hr.ucf.edu/).

Additional Requirements related to Research Positions

Pursuant to Florida State Statute 1010.35, prior to offering employment to certain individuals in research-related positions, UCF is required to conduct additional screening. Applicants subject to additional screening include any citizen of a foreign country who is not a permanent resident of the U.S., or who is a citizen or permanent resident but is affiliated with or has had at least 1 year of higher education, employment, or training in China, Cuba, Iran, Russia, North Korea, Syria, or Venezuela.

The additional screening requirements only apply to employment in research-related positions, including, but not limited to faculty positions (including employed visiting positions), graduate positions, individuals compensated by research grants or contract funds, postdoctoral scholar positions, and undergraduate positions.

Employer Description:

Who Are We?

Founded in 1963 to fuel the region's talent pipeline and support the growing U.S. space program, UCF is built to make a better future for our students and society. It's one of the reasons U.S. News & World Report ranks UCF among the nation's top 20 most innovative colleges, while Forbes, Kiplinger, and The Princeton Review rank us a best-value university. UCF is one of 14 universities nationwide designated as both a Hispanic-Serving Institution and a Research 1 university. With 13 colleges, including a fully accredited College of Medicine, UCF offers more than 240 degree programs between its main campus, downtown campus, hospitality campus, academic health sciences campus, and 11 UCF Connect centers located throughout the region. In addition, UCF extends its reach to communities in and beyond Central Florida by offering complete online programs leading to bachelor's degrees, master's degrees, Ph.D.'s, certificates, and more.

The University of Central Florida is proud to be a smoke-free campus and an E-Verify employer. Unless explicitly stated on the job posting, it is UCF's expectation that an employee of UCF will reside in Florida as of the date the employment begins.

Contact: Amy Reckdenwald
Email: amy.reckdenwald@ucf.edu
Phone: (407) 823-3744
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19684: Associate/Full Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023

Institution: University of Connecticut
Department: Department of Sociology and El Instituto
Region: Northeast
Title: Associate/Full Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Salary Range: Negotiable

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Latina/o Sociology

Job Description:

INTRODUCTION

El Instituto (Institute of Latina/o, Caribbean and Latin American Studies) and the Department of Sociology of the University of Connecticut (UConn) seek to hire an Associate or Full Professor, specializing in any area of sociology and Latina/o, Caribbean and Latin American Studies. This person will have an outstanding record of professional accomplishments commensurate with appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with the opportunity for tenure at hire. The successful candidate will be expected to conduct research, teach undergraduate- and graduate-level courses, provide guidance in conducting policy-relevant research to graduate students in El Instituto (Master’s students), Sociology (Master’s and Ph.D. students), and other social research units, and contribute to the leadership and administration within El Instituto and the Department. Positive factors for consideration include but are not limited to: a strong record of scholarly accomplishment; research interests that complement other areas of strength within the Institute, Department, and/or University; effective undergraduate teaching; demonstrated excellence in mentorship and/or graduate training; and active engagement with professional, University, and community life. The teaching load will be one course per semester in Sociology and one course per semester in Latina/o Studies, with either or both courses being possibly cross-listed under both Sociology and El Instituto.

Founded in 1881, UConn is a Land Grant and Sea Grant institution and member of the Space Grant Consortium. It is the state’s flagship institution of higher education and includes a main campus in Storrs, CT, four regional campuses throughout the state, and 13 Schools and Colleges, including a Law School in Hartford, and Medical and Dental Schools at the UConn Health campus in Farmington. The University has approximately 10,000 faculty and staff and 32,000 students, including nearly 24,000 undergraduates and over 8,000 graduate and professional students. UConn is a Carnegie Foundation R1 (highest research activity) institution, among the top 25 public universities in the nation. Through research, teaching, service, and outreach, UConn embraces diversity and cultivates leadership, integrity, and engaged citizenship in its students, faculty, staff, and alumni. UConn promotes the health and well-being of citizens by enhancing the social, economic, cultural, and natural environments of the state and beyond. The University serves as a beacon of academic and research excellence as well as a center for innovation and social service to communities. UConn is a leader in many scholarly, research, and innovation areas. Today, the path forward includes exciting opportunities and notable challenges. Record numbers of undergraduate applications and support for student success have enabled the University to become extraordinarily selective.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The successful candidate is expected to contribute to research and scholarship through high-quality publications in top-tier venues and externally funded research; mentoring of graduate and undergraduate students on research design, methods, and substantive areas; participate in the Latina/o Studies curriculum; and help lead the future of Latina/o Studies/Latina/o Sociology at UConn.

In the area of teaching, the successful candidate will share a deep commitment to effective instruction at the undergraduate and graduate levels of Latina/o Studies and Sociology in both El Instituto and Sociology. Successful candidates will highlight a commitment to enhancing graduate student recruitment and funding in El Instituto and Sociology, with the longer-term aim of enhancing each unit’s well-established POC-centered environment of scholarly, social, and emotional nurturance for students of historically marginalized groups; broaden participation among members of underrepresented groups; demonstrate through their research, teaching, and/or public engagement multiple perspectives as the foundation of a rich learning experience; integrate diverse experiences into instructional methods, research design, and research tools; help train students to and/or provide leadership in developing pedagogical techniques designed to meet the needs of diverse populations and intellectual interests.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- Doctoral degree (or equivalent foreign degree) completed in sociology.
- Teaching experience or demonstrated capacity to teach courses with documentation of a commitment to teaching.
- A strong record of scholarly productivity.
- The ability to contribute through research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the Institute and Department.
- Effective communication skills (both written and oral).

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- Demonstrated history of or potential for external research funding.
- Experience teaching courses relevant to areas of specialization.
- Demonstrated experience and commitment to teaching and/or mentoring a diverse student population.
- Ability to engage productively with faculty across disciplines.

APPOINTMENT TERMS

This is a full-time, 9-month, tenure-track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2024. The successful candidate’s academic appointment will be at the Storrs campus. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must meet University requirements for appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with tenure.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT
Employment of the successful candidate is contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check.

TO APPLY

Please apply online to Academic Jobs Online https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/26278 and submit the following application materials:

- A cover letter,
- Curriculum vitae,
- Research and scholarship statement (e.g., prior research findings and impact; future research plans);
- Teaching statement (e.g., teaching experience, mentoring experience, teaching philosophy, courses prepared to teach);
- Commitment to diversity statement (e.g., values around diversity, equity, and inclusion; diversity-related experience in teaching, research, and service; plans to continue to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion);
- Writing sample and any supporting materials,
- Contact information for three (3) letters of reference. References will not be contacted without notification of the candidate.

Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2023, and continue until the position is filled. For more information please visit the unit websites: https://elin.uconn.edu/ and Sociology. For questions about this position, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Christin Munsch Naples, christin.munsch@uconn.edu.

At the University of Connecticut, our commitment to excellence is complemented by our commitment to building a culturally diverse community. These positions will be filled subject to budgetary approval.

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics, which may be found at http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp.

All members of the University of Connecticut are expected to exhibit appreciation of, and contribute to, an inclusive, respectful, and diverse environment for the University community.

The University of Connecticut aspires to create a community built on collaboration and belonging and has actively sought to create an inclusive culture within the workforce. The success of the University is dependent on the willingness of our diverse employee and student populations to share their rich perspectives and backgrounds in a respectful manner. This makes it essential for each member of our community to feel secure and welcomed and to thoroughly understand and believe that their ideas are respected by all. We strongly respect each individual employee’s unique experiences and perspectives and encourage all members of the community to do the same. All applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, genetics, disability, age, or veteran status.

The University of Connecticut is an AA/EEO Employer.

Employer Description:

Contact: Dr. Christin Munsch
Email: christin.munsch@uconn.edu
Phone: (860) 486-4423
Website: https://elin.uconn.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19681: Research Professor (Open Rank)/ Assistant/Associate Research Scientist

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: University of Michigan
Department: Survey Research Center
Region: Midwest
Title: Research Professor (Open Rank)/ Assistant/Associate Research Scientist
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track:
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Children and Youth
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:
Job Description:
The Survey Research Center in the Institute of Social Research at the University of Michigan seeks to hire two positions in the Youth and Social Issues program (YSI). YSI's flagship research study is Monitoring the Future (MTF) (www.monitoringthefuture.org), which is an ongoing study of substance use among adolescents and adults that began in 1975.

The Assistant/Associate Research Scientist will provide research and administrative support, as well as conducting research both independently and as part of the YSI faculty. The Research Scientist track provides an opportunity for a scholar to contribute to existing funded social science research. In particular, this position will provide key support in designing and executing a pilot study of a new MTF Early Panel study that would begin in 8th and 10th grades. This position will help with the project's aim to disseminate high quality data and documentation, with a focus on expanding the project's capacity to offer online and in-person MTF data workshops to reach wider and more diverse research audiences. This position will design and lead multiple data workshops throughout the year and support MTF data users. In addition, this position will lead strategy for additional data dissemination activities, such as attending and presenting at scientific research conferences to share information about available MTF data with potential users. To see the full job description and apply: http://apply.interfolio.com/134042

The Research Professor (Open Rank) position will collaborate with an existing team of social scientists in SRC's Youth and Social Issues (YSI) Program. The Research Professor track provides an opportunity for a scholar to collaborate on the ongoing MTF study, as well as to pursue their own lines of research and secure additional independent research funding. Faculty in the YSI program study epidemiological and developmental trends in substance use and other health-related behaviors across historical time and age, examine risk and protective factors for these behaviors, and seek to identify long-term consequences. Related research interests include substance use behaviors, policies, and interventions; HIV risk behaviors; human development across the lifespan; longitudinal data analysis and statistical weighting; predictors of morbidity and mortality; and historical changes in a range of behaviors and attitudes. Survey methodological innovations are embedded in the annual large-scale data collection activities of the MTF study. To see the full job description and apply: http://apply.interfolio.com/134040

Employer Description:
Contact: Patrice Whitney
Email: srcsearches@umich.edu
Phone: Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
SPOUSES of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19689: Mellon Endowed Chair and Associate Professor/Full Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: University of Pittsburgh
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Mellon Endowed Chair and Associate Professor/Full Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Mellon Endowed Chair in Sociology. The Sociology Department at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications to fill the Mellon Endowed Chair in Sociology. The position is a tenured faculty appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor and will begin in the 2024-2025 academic year, pending budgetary approval.

In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship. Substantive areas are open. We are especially keen to attract a scholar whose research and teaching employ civically engaged, participatory, and/or public sociology of social change. We welcome scholars engaged in these approaches in local, regional, global, or comparative contexts. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in sociology or a related discipline, a significant record of publications, and a demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, contribute to an inclusive climate, and attract and retain a diverse student body.

Sociology is a Ph.D.-granting department and is home to active and vibrant scholars with strengths in social movements; politics & culture; global, comparative, and area studies research; race, gender, sexualities, intersectionality, and other systems of inequality; and environment. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world-renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies; the University Center for Social and Urban Research (UCSUR); the Center for Race and Social Problems; the World History Center; and the Gender Inequality Research Lab (GIRL). The Department also benefits from collaborations that reach beyond the University, such as the Collaboratory against Hate Research and Action Center. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops “most livable city” rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and relatively low cost of living.

Review of applications will begin January 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants can apply online at Home | Talent Center: Careers at Pitt | University of Pittsburgh. Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, diversity statement, and contact information (full name, title, and email) for the three people providing reference letters for you.

Please direct applicant inquiries to Professor Melanie M. Hughes, Search Committee Chair, hughesm@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

Employer Description:
Contact: Melanie Hughes
Email: hughesm@pitt.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Sponsors of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
57. University of Wisconsin - Madison

Job 19685: Assistant/ Associate Professor of Civic and Organizational Leadership

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: University of Wisconsin - Madison
Department: Robert M. La Follette School of Public Affairs
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant/ Associate Professor of Civic and Organizational Leadership
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Public Policy
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The La Follette School of Public Affairs at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and in the Division of Extension at University of Wisconsin-Madison seek a high performing faculty member to engage in research, teaching, and outreach. The faculty member will develop a nationally recognized research agenda in the area of civic and organizational leadership.

Civic and Organizational Leadership is a core research and expertise area in the Division of Extension's Community Development Institute and at the La Follette School of Public Affairs. The faculty member will conduct productive research, be committed teachers, and will welcome being part of an inter-disciplinary department dedicated to promoting good public policy. Candidates with a strong potential to conduct externally-supported research and research grants are preferred.

This joint position will have a 100% tenure home at the La Follette School with the recruitment occurring at the Assistant Professor (tenure-track) or early Associate Professor (tenured) level. The selected scholar will teach one course per year at the La Follette School in its graduate or undergraduate programs and will be active in the service and intellectual life of the School. Candidate must be capable of teaching a course in public sector leadership. The successful candidate, as a member of the College of L&S, will proactively contribute to, support, and advance the college's commitment to diversity among all aspects of their teaching, research, and service.

The faculty member will also hold an appointment in the Division of Extension and will serve as the "Leadership Wisconsin Endowed Chair" for Extension. The expectations of the endowed chair position include:
- developing and sustaining a basic and applied research agenda in civic and organizational leadership;
- promoting the sharing of knowledge, trends, and innovations in the realm of civic leadership development within the State;
- expanding civic leadership development opportunities in rural, urban and suburban Wisconsin;
- deepening connections with local leadership programs;
- providing civic leadership professional development opportunities to promote civic engagement throughout Wisconsin;
- supporting and coordinating with the Extension Organization and Leadership Development Program.

For this position, the strongest candidate will be a scholar who is capable and interested in engaging in public dialogues, including interactions with the media, as well as in advising state and local government officials.

Tasks:
Successful candidates will be expected to teach at the undergraduate and masters/graduate level, lead scholarly research program, perform university and professional service, interact with the media and public officials, and complete public outreach.

Employer Description: The La Follette School is a highly ranked school of public affairs, and one of many highly ranked social science units at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The University is consistently ranked among the top universities in terms of success in federally funded research grants and is highly supportive of an interdisciplinary approach to scholarship.

The College of Letters & Science is committed to creating an inclusive environment in which all of us - students, staff, and faculty - can thrive. Ours is a community in which we all are welcome. Most importantly, we strive to build a community in which all of us feel a great sense of belonging.

There is no excellence without diversity in all its forms; diverse teams are more creative and successful than homogeneous ones. We are better when we are diverse and when we acknowledge, celebrate and honor our diversity. In acknowledging and honoring our diversity, we also assume a responsibility to support and stand up for each other.

The successful applicant will be responsible for ensuring eligibility for employment in the United States on or before the effective date of the appointment. University sponsorship is not available for this position.

Contact: Anne Oyamada
Email: oyamada@lafollette.wisc.edu
Phone: 608 263 2409
Website: https://jobs.wisc.edu/jobs/professor-of-civic-and-organizational-leadership-madison-wisconsin-united-states

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19692: University Faculty Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: Weber State University
Department:
Region: West
Title: University Faculty Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

University Faculty Sociology

Requisition Number: F00366P:

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology & Anthropology in the College of Social & Behavioral Sciences at Weber State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in sociology. The appointment will be effective July 1, 2024.

We seek candidates whose research and pedagogy has an applied focus and who are willing to explore areas of cross-disciplinary collaboration in accordance with their area of expertise. The successful candidate will be encouraged to develop creative opportunities for student involvement in high-impact, community-based learning experiences, with an eye towards skills development and preparation for academic and non-academic careers.

Job Duties:

The successful candidate should be prepared to undertake undergraduate teaching duties in some of the major courses, with the ability to teach social statistics on a regular basis as well as other core courses to the major, i.e., introduction to sociology, theory, research methods, and capstone. Additional teaching opportunities also include general education, as well as upper-level elective courses in the candidate’s fields of expertise. The teaching load is 4 courses, 3 preps per semester. They will be expected to facilitate and mentor student research, internships and/or other applied community projects in the context of their teaching and/or research. In addition, the position requires service activities at the department, college and/or university level.

Required Qualifications:

Required Qualifications

- Applicants must have a Ph.D. in sociology by the position start date.
- A demonstrated record of teaching excellence.
- A record of research productivity.

Preferred Qualifications:

Preferred Qualifications

- Quantitative data-based research, experience or expertise in one or more of the following areas:
  - Sociology of health and mental health;
  - Sociology of environment and sustainability;
• Quantitative research methods, data analysis, and data interpretation;
• Sociology of technology and applied sciences.

• A record of and commitment to student mentorship, student research and/or community-based, high impact learning.
• Ability to develop applied, practice-oriented projects in local or regional contexts that could involve students.
• Willingness to explore areas of cross-disciplinary collaboration in accordance with areas of expertise, and which complement institutional and/or departmental strengths.
• Ability to engage with and mentor a diverse student body, particularly first-generation and minority students.

Background Check? Yes

Benefits Summary:

WSU offers a generous benefits package that includes medical, dental, long-term disability, life insurance, retirement, a wellness program with release time and paid incentives, tuition benefits, free tickets to athletic and performing arts events, and paid holidays.

Full/Part Time: Full Time

Open Date: 09/08/2023

Close Date: Open Until Filled: Yes

Notes to Applicants:

If you are passionate about what you could offer and accomplish here at WSU, we would love to hear from you. To apply, please complete the online application and attach these five items:
• a curriculum vitae;
• a cover letter explaining how you match program hiring expectations with regard to your teaching, research experience and future professional plans;
• a short statement of your teaching philosophy and teaching style;
• a summary statement and sample of recent teaching evaluations;
• the names and contact information of three professional references.

Review of applications will begin October 30, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled. Weber State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Criminal background check required as a condition of employment.

The Sociology Program offers BS degree, BS of sociology teaching, sociology minor, sociology teaching minor, and Ethnic Studies minor. This year, the program has over 100 declared sociology majors and 84 minors with 6 full-time sociology faculty and 6 adjuncts.

Weber State University is a comprehensive public institution that was founded in 1889, and has established a reputation as one of the premier undergraduate teaching institutions in the Intermountain West. The university has embedded the goal of becoming a Hispanic Serving Institution within its strategic plan, and has a strong collaborative relationship with communities in northern Utah, particularly with the city of Ogden through the Ogden Community Action Network. WSU is a leading proponent of sustainability in the Intermountain West, hosting the annual Intermountain Sustainability Summit, and has been recognized with the Community Engagement Classification from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching for its work in partnership with numerous community organizations in the region.

Physical Activity of this position: Expressing or exchanging ideas. Those activities in which they must convey detailed or important instructions to other workers accurately or quickly. , Ability to receive detailed information with or without assistance.

Physical Requirements of this position: Sedentary work. Exerting up to 10 pounds of force occasionally and/or negligible amount of force frequently or consistently to move objects, including the human body. Sitting most of the time. Walking and standing only occasionally if ever.

Visual Acuity Requirements including color, depth perception and field of vision: Required to perform activities such as preparing and analyzing data and figures; transcribing; using a computer terminal; extensive reading.

The conditions the worker will be subject to in this position: None. The worker is not substantially exposed to adverse environmental conditions (such as in typical office or administrative work).
To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/4711120

EEO

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

Employer Description:

Contact: Human Resources
Email: hr@weber.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19687: Assistant Professor of Criminology and/or Criminal Justice

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
59. www.randolphcollege.edu

Job 19687: Assistant Professor of Criminology and/or Criminal Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/19/2023 to 11/18/2023
Institution: www.randolphcollege.edu
Department: Dept of Sociology
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Criminology and/or Criminal Justice
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice, Criminology/Delinquency
Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Job Description:

Randolph College seeks a scholar of criminology or criminal justice with a PhD in criminology, criminal justice, or a closely related field (or anticipated completion prior to July 2024) for a tenure-track appointment at the level of Assistant Professor in a new major in Criminology and Criminal Justice. Date of employment is July 2024; report date is mid-August. The ideal candidate must be able to teach a broad range of undergraduate courses in Criminology and Criminal Justice and work effectively with partners in other departments. An emphasis on racial justice in a criminology/criminal justice context is highly valued.

Responsibilities include teaching in the Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, academic advising, service to the college including committee work, and an active scholarly agenda. Tenure-track faculty teach six courses per academic year, typically three per semester. The College’s innovative TAKE2 curriculum includes 4 seven-week sessions in an academic year, allowing students to sharpen their focus with immersive learning, gain life balance with a more flexible schedule, and, most importantly, thrive within a supportive, student-centered environment. Resources for professional and teaching development are available.

We are especially interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching, research, and service, and demonstrate evidence and commitment to student-centered and inclusive teaching practices.

Randolph College, founded as Randolph-Macon Woman’s College, is in Lynchburg Virginia at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Randolph College has a longstanding reputation for excellence in teaching and an appreciation for and commitment to diversity. Randolph was recognized as one of the nation’s “best and most interesting” institutions in the 2022 edition of the Fiske Guide to Colleges and was recently ranked 12th in the nation for “most accessible professors” by the Princeton Review.

Please complete the Paycom application and send your application documents as described below to crimjusticeasstsearch@randolphcollege.edu

The full job description and application can be found here. Please submit the following application materials to crimjusticeasstsearch@randolphcollege.edu in a single pdf document with “Criminology and Criminal Justice” in the subject line:

- A letter of application
- A curriculum vitae
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- A statement of research interests
- A diversity statement (addressing how your teaching, service, and/or scholarly pursuits contribute to an inclusive and diverse community)
- The names of three professional references, from whom letters may be obtained upon request
- Unofficial transcripts
- A sample syllabus

Applications received by November 20th, 2023 will receive priority. The Randolph community values and supports diversity and an inclusive environment. We are particularly interested in hiring candidates who will enrich the diversity of our campus. Randolph is an EOE employer.

Employer Description:

Contact: Alex Southworth-Molchan
Email: employment@randolphcollege.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19678: Assistant Professor of Criminology and Criminal Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 10/18/2023 to 11/17/2023
Listing Active: 10/18/2023 to 11/17/2023
Institution: Emmanuel College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: East
Title: Assistant Professor of Criminology and Criminal Justice
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Criminology and Criminal Justice (CCJ) program at Emmanuel College, housed in the Department of Sociology, invites candidates to apply for an Assistant Professor position specializing in criminology and/or criminal justice, starting in fall 2024. This position may be tenure-track based on the experience and research portfolio of the successful candidate. The CCJ program is an active program with high student interest at Emmanuel College with ample opportunities for growth and expansion. The Sociology department offers two majors: Sociology and CCJ; this position requires teaching and research interests in the area of CCJ. The candidate should maintain an active CCJ-related research agenda or commitment to professional practice. In addition, a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate teaching is required and professional experience in the criminal justice field is preferred. The teaching load is three courses per semester with average class sizes typically ranging from 15-35 students. Courses to be taught could include Research Methods, Crime and Justice (equivalent to Introduction to Criminal Justice), Professional Ethics in CCJ, Criminal Justice Reform, Deviant Behaviors and Social Controls, and Senior Seminar in CCJ. It is expected that future courses such as Social Inequality and the Criminal Justice System, Cybercrime, Terrorism, or other coursework in the candidate's area of specialty can be developed. This position expects ongoing active participation in the CCJ program and department-wide meetings, events, committees, formal and informal student advising, admissions events, and other college-wide activities and events. The CCJ program and its faculty are committed to teaching in a learning community where equity and inclusion are valued.

Candidates must have a terminal degree. PhD; Criminology or Criminal Justice is preferred. Candidates with a PhD in Sociology and a concentration in CCJ or a related field will also be considered.

To apply, please use the following URL:

http://emmanuel.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=167327

Employer Description:

Emmanuel College—a Catholic, coeducational, residential, liberal arts and sciences college in Boston—has been educating critical thinkers, ethical decision makers and community leaders since 1919. Situated in Boston’s Fenway neighborhood within the Longwood Medical and Academic Area, Emmanuel’s 17-acre campus is home to nearly 2,000 undergraduate and graduate students. The College provides boundless opportunities for students to expand their worldview through rigorous coursework, significant internship and career opportunities throughout the Boston area and beyond, collaborations with distinguished and dedicated faculty, and participation in a dynamic campus community. Emmanuel’s more than 70 programs in the arts, humanities, education, natural sciences, business and nursing foster spirited discourse and substantive learning experiences that honor the College’s commitment to educate the whole person and prepare students to emerge as tomorrow’s leaders. For more information, visit www.emmanuel.edu.

Contact: Scott Lerner
Email: lernesc@emmanuel.edu
Phone: (617) 735-9991
Website: www.emmanuel.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
61. University of Chicago

Job 19680: Instructional Professor in the Social Sciences Core - Social Science Inquiry (Open Rank)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 10/18/2023 to 11/17/2023
Listing Active: 10/18/2023 to 11/17/2023
Institution: University of Chicago
Department: Social Sciences Collegiate Division
Region: Midwest

Title: Instructional Professor in the Social Sciences Core - Social Science Inquiry (Open Rank)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Lecturer
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Statistics
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Job Description:
The Social Sciences Collegiate Division at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for a full-time Instructional Professor who will teach in the Social Sciences Core sequence Social Science Inquiry (General). The emphasis in the General Social Science Inquiry Sequence is on questions of research design (with special attention to causal inference, through both experimental and observational approaches), statistical analysis, and presentation. The appointment is renewable, with an initial term of at least three years, beginning September 1, 2024. Appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor will be considered based on the candidate’s experience. More information about the Social Sciences Core can be viewed in the College’s online catalog: http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/socialsciences/. The Instructional Professor will teach six quarter-length courses each academic year (typically 2-2-2) in the Social Sciences Collegiate Division, primarily in the Social Science Inquiry sequence. In addition to teaching, the Instructional Professor will contribute to the ongoing development of the Core’s curriculum. The successful candidate will be required to participate actively in weekly staff meetings, attend other course-related events, and hold regular office hours.

Qualifications
The position requires a Ph.D. in a social science with a specialization in quantitative research and a demonstrated record of teaching experience.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago’s Interfolio jobs board at http://apply.interfolio.com/134140 and upload the following:

- a letter of application describing your academic interests and teaching background;
- a curriculum vitae;
- Syllabi of courses previously taught and/or designed by the candidate or sample syllabi of proposed courses;
- a teaching statement;
- evidence of pedagogical accomplishment and promise: such as a teaching portfolio, recent course evaluations, third-party observations of the applicant’s teaching if available, or other relevant assessments;
- a chapter-length piece of writing;
- three letters of recommendation.

Only complete applications will be considered.

The review of applications will begin on November 18, 2023, and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

The terms and conditions of employment for this position are covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and the University.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Employer Description:
The Social Sciences Collegiate Division (SSCD) is home to the undergraduate curriculum in the social sciences. Our 16 programs immerse students in the full range of social scientific inquiry, exploring the conceptual frameworks, theories, and methodologies essential to understanding the economic, political, cultural, and psychological phenomena by which human communities organize themselves. This encounter with foundational concepts is defined by an open and critical exchange of ideas, the practice of careful reading, precise writing, and engaging debate.

Contact: Alex Bean
Email: bean@uchicago.edu
Phone: 773-702-8622
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes
Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19677: Faculty - Assistant Professor - Sociology

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
62. Utah Valley University

Job Description:

Faculty - Assistant Professor - Sociology

Salary: Depends on Qualifications

Job Type: Faculty

Job Number: FY2401765

Closing: 1/12/2024 11:59 PM Mountain

Location: 800 W University Parkway, Orem

Division: College of Humanities/Social Science

Position Announcement

The Sociology Program - housed within the Behavioral Science (soon to be Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences) at Utah Valley University - invites application for one Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position, beginning on August 1, 2024. Successful candidates should be able to teach Sociology of Aging, and preference will be given to those who can also teach Sociology of Gender and/or Race and Minority Relations. Candidates should be able to supplement and strengthen current Sociology program offerings. We are looking for candidates who are collegial, motivated, flexible in teaching assignment, able and willing to develop some online classes, have excellent interpersonal skills, and are able to collaborate with colleagues, and mentor students. Ideal candidates should be able to work with first-generation and nontraditional students and can contribute to UVU's mission as an integrated university and community college (https://www.uvu.edu/president/mission.html)

The teaching load for tenure-track faculty is four courses in both fall and spring semester. Successful candidates will demonstrate teaching excellence in two or more modalities, including face-to-face, online (synchronous or asynchronous), and hybrid. Our faculty is supported in their instructional activities by the Office of Teaching and Learning, an outstanding center for faculty development that has robust staff support for online/hybrid courses and possesses a well-equipped technology lab. Research support is also available through the Office of Sponsored Programs.

Utah Valley University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to cultural diversity in its people and programs. As such, we have implemented an inclusion-based mission, incorporated inclusion within strategic planning, and actively participate in inclusive programs, such as ElevateHER along with many academic and student-engaged offices such as the Center for Social Impact, The Global Intercultural Initiative, LGBTQ+ Student Services, UVU Women's Success Center, and is a member of Utah Women in Higher Education Network (UWHEN). UVU encourages the application of individuals from diverse backgrounds.

Utah Valley University is a rapidly growing regional university of more than 40,000 students and is located in Orem, Utah—about 40 miles south of Salt Lake City and only 15 minutes south of “Silicon Slopes,” a flourishing tech hub. UVU operates multiple campuses including the Capital Reef Field Station. Central Utah boasts not only fine restaurants and cultural events, but also access to world-class ski resorts, hiking, fishing, biking, and other outdoor activities. Nearby ski resorts include Alta, Brighton, Deer Valley, Park City, Snowbird, Solitude, and Sundance. UVU is a day’s drive or less from Arches National Park, Canyonlands National Park, Zion National Park, Glacier National Park, Yellowstone National Park, Grand Teton National Forest, Grand Canyon National Park, Monument Valley, and others. Aside from Salt Lake City International Airport and Provo Airport, other airports within a day’s drive include Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Phoenix, and Denver.

Screening of applicants will begin on December 1, 2023, and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment of this position. For additional information, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Grace Chou (chougr@uvu.edu).

Minimum Qualifications

Qualifications:
The position requires a Ph.D. degree in sociology by the time of employment (August 1, 2024), with a minimum of one year teaching or training experience (required), and experience of teaching and mentoring a diverse or non-traditional student body (preferred).

Required Documents:

• A letter of application outlining relevant qualifications and experiences
• A curriculum vitae
• Research statement with one writing sample (published or unpublished article or chapter)
• Teaching Statement with evidence of effective teaching at the undergraduate level (such as sample syllabi, teaching observation letters, etc.)
• Student rating of instructor over the last three years (if applicable)
• A statement outlining your plans for contributing to Justice, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion at Utah Valley University
• Unofficial transcripts at the graduate level

EEO Statement:

UVU employment decisions are made on the basis of an applicant's qualifications and ability to perform the job without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, genetic information, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

To apply, please visit https://apotrkr.com/4688476
American Sociological Association Job Lists
Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
63. Harvard University

Job 19675: Inequality in America Initiative Postdoctoral Fellowship

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline: 10/17/2023 to 11/16/2023
Institution: Harvard University
Department: Division of Social Science
Region: All US Regions
Title: Inequality in America Initiative Postdoctoral Fellowship
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: https://inequalityinamerica.fas.harvard.edu/postdoctoral-program

Job Description:
The Inequality in America Initiative seeks applications from recent doctoral degree recipients interested in joining a multidisciplinary network of Harvard researchers working to address the manifold challenges of inequality. This program is intended to seed new research directions, facilitate interdisciplinary collaboration, and develop new leaders in the study of inequality.

We expect to appoint up to four fellows in 2024, with two positions dedicated to research on issues of racial and ethnic inequality and at least one position focused on work, family, and opportunity.

The fellowship is a two-year postdoctoral training program, with a salary of $76,500/year plus fringe benefits, including health insurance eligibility.

The award will also include office space and up to $17,500 for research expenses across the two years.

Fellows are expected to be in residence at Harvard. The program director will connect fellows with mentors, and fellows will have ample opportunity to make connections with faculty and students from across the University.

Applicants to the fall 2024 program must have received a doctorate no earlier than April 2021; those applicants without a doctorate must demonstrate that they will receive such a degree no later than August 2024.

Learn more at https://inequalityinamerica.fas.harvard.edu/postdoctoral-program

Employer Description:
The FAS Inequality in America Initiative is a multidisciplinary effort to elevate and energize teaching and research on social and economic inequality and to use what we learn to inform the public debate and public response to these challenges.

What makes Harvard special are our people. Through continued efforts in inclusion and belonging, Harvard has built a community comprising many backgrounds, cultures, races, identities, life experiences, perspectives, beliefs, and values. Learn more at https://www.harvard.edu/about/

Contact: Jennifer Shephard
Email: iai@fas.harvard.edu
Phone: (617) 495-7906
Website: https://socialscience.fas.harvard.edu/directory/jennifer-shephard/?cp-dir-id=4579

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19676: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/17/2023 to 11/16/2023

Institution: Purdue University Northwest

Department: Behavioral Sciences

Region: Midwest

Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Job Summary

Purdue University Northwest’s Department of Behavioral Sciences invites applications for one tenure-track assistant or associate professor of Sociology, to begin August 2024. Rank depends upon qualifications and experience. Candidates must be able to perform high quality teaching, have an active research and publication agenda, be willing to perform service and participate in professional development activities, and demonstrate a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Area of expertise is open, but the department has needs in the areas of race and ethnicity, social inequality, research methods, and criminology. The successful candidate will also demonstrate a commitment to working with student populations that are historically underrepresented in the university environment (e.g., first-generation college students, BIPOC, LGBTQ+, etc.).

Position Qualifications

PhD in Sociology - Required (ABDs will be considered, but must have PhD by start date)

Ability to teach foundational courses such as Introductory Sociology, Social Problems, Research Methods, and Racial and Ethnic Diversity

College teaching experience preferred

University Profile

Purdue University Northwest (PNW), a premier metropolitan university located in Northwest Indiana, is dedicated to empowering transformational change in its students on its two campuses in Hammond and Westville, Indiana. Part of the Purdue University system and offering more than 70 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, PNW is committed to academic excellence, supports growth, and celebrates diversity. PNW’s colleges, schools and centers are distinguished through prestigious accreditations, national recognitions, and competitive rankings.

PNW's Hammond campus is located only 30 miles from Chicago with the Westville branch campus just 15 miles from the Indiana Dunes National Park. Fostering a university community full of contrasts—urban and rural, industrial and natural, with a well-established history and forward-thinking mindset—PNW’s two campuses serve its students, many of whom are the first in their families to attend college to make the most of this rich range of resources. Moreover, PNW has been designated as a Hispanic-serving public institution dedicated to excellence in teaching and learning and committed to the advancement of a diverse and under-served student population.

College Profile

The College of Humanities, Education, and Social Sciences serves over 1,400 undergraduate students and 170 graduate students across a wide range of programs. Departments and Schools within the college include: Behavioral Sciences; Communication and Creative Arts; English and World Languages; History, Philosophy, Politics and Economics; Psychology; School of Education and Counseling.

The College houses two community mental health centers - the Community Counseling Center and the Couple & Family Therapy Center - that provide quality affordable mental health services and the Institute for Social and Policy Research, which uses social science and policy analysis methods to find solutions to educational, social, and health-related challenges facing the citizens of Northwest Indiana and the Chicago metropolitan region. The college is also home to the Willie T. Donald Exoneration Advisory Coalition to support those who have been wrongfully convicted in the state of Indiana.

Department of Behavioral Sciences Profile

Behavioral Sciences is a vibrant department with several programs and opportunities for collaboration. In addition to Social Work, we offer undergraduate majors in Behavioral Sciences, Criminal Justice, Human Development and Family Studies, and Sociology and a graduate program in Couple and Family Therapy. The department also houses the Couple and Family Therapy Center, which is located in the PNW Indianapolis Boulevard Counseling Center. Our students are primarily first-generation college students. In support of the University's Strategic Plan, the Department is committed to recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and staff who foster diverse learning environments for students.
How to Apply
To apply, submit a cover letter, CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, and contact information for three references at https://careers.purdue.edu/job-invite/28559/

Screening of applications will begin immediately. Applications must be received by November 26, 2023 to receive full consideration. All inquiries and applications will remain confidential; references will not be contacted without notice. For questions about this position, please contact Lee Michael Johnson, Department Chair, at john2598@pnw.edu.

Purdue University Northwest is committed to free and open inquiry in all matters. Candidates are encouraged to address in their cover letter how they are prepared to contribute to a climate that values free inquiry and academic freedom.

PNW is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in their cover letter, indicating their experiences, current interests, or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Employment is contingent upon completion of a successful background check.

Purdue University Northwest is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

FLSA Status
Exempt

Employer Description:
Contact: Lee Michael Johnson
Email: john2598@pnw.edu
Phone: (219) 989-2384
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

65. American University of Sharjah

Job 19668: Faculty Position in Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/16/2023 to 11/15/2023

Institution: American University of Sharjah
Department: Department of International Studies
Region: Middle East
Title: Faculty Position in Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Open, Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of International Studies at American University of Sharjah (AUS) in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) invites applications for an Assistant Professor position (rolling-track) in Sociology, to begin in Fall Semester 2024.

While we welcome applications from all subfields in sociology, we are particularly interested in applications from candidates who focus on environmental sociology, urban sociology and/or the sociology of technology. Special consideration will be given to candidates whose research agendas and teaching interests add to the department’s existing strengths. Candidates must be able to teach introductory classes in sociology, as well as a range of upper-division courses at the undergraduate and master’s levels in their area of expertise.

Successful candidates will have a PhD in Sociology; a record of excellent teaching, ideally no less than one year; a proven record of scholarship; and an active research agenda. Candidates whose PhD is not in Sociology but in a related subject area are also welcome to apply.

The new colleague in the department will be expected to reside in the UAE starting in August 2024. All department colleagues are expected to contribute to a range of faculty and student-oriented service activities in what is a vibrant interdisciplinary department. The regular teaching load is 3-3, with support for conference travel and research.

As a university formed on the American model and with English as the language of instruction, American University of Sharjah will give priority to candidates who have substantial experience in American models of higher education.

Application materials must be uploaded as two files. One file should contain a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and names and contact information of three references. A second file should contain a writing/publication sample and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please apply online at <https://acg-apps1.aus.edu/cas/empapp/apply.php?p=INT-23-03>

Situated nearby Sharjah International Airport in the expansive University City area, and only 30 minutes from Dubai International Airport. AUS is located in a dynamic and cosmopolitan area that includes abundant opportunities for travel, entertainment, cultural experiences and natural beauty. Salary and benefits are competitive.

American University of Sharjah is a not-for-profit, independent, coeducational institution of higher education formed on American models but thoroughly grounded in Arab culture. Located in University City, Sharjah, AUS offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs to more than 5,700 students from approximately 90 nations. English is the language of instruction and the workplace. AUS has been ranked among the top ten Arab universities by QS World University Rankings every year for the past eight consecutive years.

AUS is licensed and its programs are accredited by the Commission for Academic Accreditation of the Ministry of Education’s Higher Education Affairs Division in the United Arab Emirates. AUS has been accredited in the United States of America by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (1007 North Orange Street, 4th Floor, MB #166, Wilmington, DE 19801 USA) since June 2004.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

You are welcome to contact Dr. Yuting Wang, Head of Department, at ywang@aus.edu with any questions about the position.

Employer Description:
https://www.aus.edu

Contact: Dr. Mahmoud Anabtawi
Email: gtaboktab@aus.edu
Phone: 97165152412
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19670: Director, Center for Indian Education

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/16/2023 to 11/15/2023

Institution: Arizona State University
Department: School of Social Transformation
Region: Southwest
Title: Director, Center for Indian Education
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/134325

Job Description:

The School of Social Transformation (SST), part of The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, seeks applications for Director of the Center for Indian Education (CIE) with a concomitant faculty member at the Associate Professor or Professor rank. The anticipated start date for this position is July 1, 2024.

Essential Functions:

- Advance the vision of CIE as stated above.
- Provide strong administrative leadership
- Serve as co-editor of the JAIE
- Develop grants and donor relations
- Demonstrated effectiveness serving Indigenous student populations, diverse faculty, and/or reaching out to tribal communities

About the Center for Indian Education

The CIE was founded in 1959, and is the oldest research center focused on Indigenous education issues in the world, as well as one of the oldest Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) research centers. The CIE houses the Journal of American Indian Education (JAIE), now in its 62nd volume year. The CIE engages in research focused on Indigenous education and has published policy briefs for the U.S. Department of Education, the Spencer, Mellon and Ford Foundations, and the state of Arizona, and convenes local, state, national, and international conversations. CIE has a history of partnering with indigenous communities to offer doctoral programs and teacher preparation programs focused on building capacity in Indian country communities.

About the School of Social Transformation

SST is an innovative, interdisciplinary unit that places just solutions to societal challenges at the center of its scholarship and teaching. SST champions ASU’s vision of the New American University measuring itself “not by whom it excludes, but by whom it includes and how they succeed.” SST faculty represent humanities, social sciences, and interdisciplinary fields (including they are distinguished nationally and internationally for their scholarship. The faculty seek to train students to think in more complex ways about race, ethnicity, gender, class, sex, economic justice, immigration status, and labor; to be accountable to the communities with which they engage; and to foreground social transformation on local, national, and global location in Arizona, where demographic changes and social issues reflect the challenges taking place nationally, highlights the relevance of the school’s mission.

The successful candidate will develop vision and goals for CIE, including how it will work with tribal nations and communities in Arizona and elsewhere. This should include but is not limited to collaborating with American Indian Student Support Services (AISSS), Office of American Indian Initiatives (OAI), Office of American Indian Projects (OAIIP), Labriola National American Indian Center, and American Indian Studies (AIS). As an intellectual leader, the director must be strongly committed to supporting and advocating for the educational needs of tribal nations.

About the University

ASU Tempe offers the resources of a major metropolitan area (5 million) in a state with spectacular natural beauty and recreational areas, sublime winters, and a culturally rich population. Arizona State University is a leading public university ranked #1 Most Innovative News & World Report seven years in a row and is leading a bold reinvention of higher education as the New American University. ASU is a research-intensive university and has developed new programs and units that defy and bridge disciplinary boundaries to enable the exploration and discovery of new knowledge while developing solutions to the most challenging problems.

ASU is located on four campuses and two research parks in the Phoenix metropolitan area, ASU is one of the largest universities in the United States and has strong and simultaneous c educational access, research, and teaching excellence. With the University’s location in the nation’s fifth largest city, the Phoenix region provides a rich context for applied research engagement around issues of human communication.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. or Ed.D. (or other appropriate terminal degree) in American Indian Studies, Indigenous Studies, Ethnic Studies, Humanities, Social Sciences, Education, or related field
- Administrative experience commensurate with the director position
- Compelling record of ongoing, high-quality scholarship appropriate to rank
- Demonstrated interest in generating external funding (fellowship, grants, etc.)
- Strong, demonstrated commitment to work with sovereign Native nations
- Demonstrated commitment to working with faculty, staff, students and communities to advance the principles of the ASU Charter

Desired Qualifications:
Employer Description:

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

A background check is required for employment. Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law.

In compliance with federal law, ASU prepares an annual report on campus security and fire safety programs and resources. ASU’s Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available online at https://www.asu.edu/police/PDFs/ASU-Clery-Report.pdf. You may request a hard copy of the report by contacting the ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456.

Questions about the position should be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Amber Wutich at Amber.Wutich@asu.edu.

Application Instructions

To apply, please submit the following materials electronically to apply.interfolio.com/134325

1. A cover letter outlining a research program, a teaching philosophy, an administrative philosophy, and relevant administrative experience.
   a. Cover letter can be addressed to Dr. Amber Wutich, Search Committee Chair.

2. A curriculum vitae.

3. A list of three references, including contact information.

This is a paperless search; only electronic materials will be accepted. Applicant’s last name should appear in each uploaded file name.

Initial deadline for receipt of complete applications is November 11, 2023. If not filled, review of complete applications will continue every two weeks thereafter until the search is complete.

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19671: Professor (Assistant, Associate, Full)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/16/2023 to 11/15/2023

Institution: Northeastern University
Department: College of Social Sciences and Humanities
Region: Northeast

Title: Professor (Assistant, Associate, Full)
Position: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Eligible

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Science and Technology , Open to All Specialty Areas

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Northeastern University’s College of Social Sciences and Humanities seeks to fill two open-rank faculty positions as Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Full Professor (commensurate with qualifications/experience) at the intersection of Technology and Social Power, with a focus on how technology structures social organization, institutions, and relationships, as well as how it simultaneously empowers and creates dependencies and vulnerabilities. Technology here is broadly construed to encompass everything from the design of information systems to urban infrastructure. There is the possibility of a secondary appointment in the College of Engineering or the Khoury College of Computer Sciences.

Academic rank at the Associate Professor and Full Professor levels will be commensurate with experience and qualifications reflecting a record of demonstrated teaching and scholarly excellence.

We welcome applicants from STS, anthropology, sociology, history, criminology, computational social science, digital humanities, or related fields. Successful candidates will have demonstrated expertise in and a robust research agenda on the intersection of technology and social structures and systems. Candidates should also demonstrate commitment to graduate and undergraduate teaching, interest in pedagogical innovation, and the desire and capacity to support the interdisciplinary mission of the college, university, and the experiential liberal arts. Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments. We welcome applicants who, in addition to publishing research findings in top traditional venues, are committed to producing and expressing research findings in alternative forms and fora, and that engage diverse audiences.

Applicants will be considered as part of a single pool for both positions.

Responsibilities:

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities seeks individuals conducting cross-cutting research in technology and social power. Faculty members at Northeastern are expected to develop independent research agendas and participate in collaborative research programs that (where appropriate) can attract external funding; teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate level; supervise students in their areas of research; and participate in service to the department, university, and discipline(s) as commensurate to rank.

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in STS, anthropology, sociology, history, criminology, computational social science, digital humanities, or related fields in hand by the appointment start date is required.
- Evidence of interdisciplinary expertise and capacity for collaboration across disciplines
- Commitment to enhancing diversity, equity, and inclusion
- A record in graduate and undergraduate teaching, research, scholarship, and service is required for an appointment at the Associate or Full Professor rank.
- Commitment to faculty development and mentoring, if a senior candidate
- Commitment to and record of impactful research and innovation
- Commitment to the continued development of Northeastern University’s signature experiential learning model

Documents to Submit:

Applicants should submit a cover letter that addresses the applicant’s interest in and qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a diversity statement, and the names and contact information for at least three individuals who can provide a letter of recommendation.

In the diversity statement, please describe how you can support Northeastern’s commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging. Describe how your teaching, service, research, and/or leadership (as applicable) has supported the success of students and/or colleagues; and or describe the impact others have had on you as relating to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Additional documents, such as a writing sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, or sample syllabi may be requested at a later time.

The application deadline for this position is November 15, 2023.

Questions should be addressed to Prof. Laura Senier, search committee chair, at lsenier@northeastern.edu

Employer Description:

Northeastern University considers factors such as candidate work experience, education and skills when extending an offer.
Northeastern has a comprehensive benefits package for benefit eligible employees. This includes medical, vision, dental, paid time off, tuition assistance, wellness & life, retirement- as well as commuting & transportation. Visit https://hr.northeastern.edu/benefits/ for more information.

Northeastern University is an equal opportunity employer, seeking to recruit and support a broadly diverse community of faculty and staff. Northeastern values and celebrates diversity in all its forms and strives to foster an inclusive culture built on respect that affirms inter-group relations and builds cohesion.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, disability status, or any other characteristic protected by applicable law.

To learn more about Northeastern University’s commitment and support of diversity and inclusion, please see www.northeastern.edu/diversity.

Contact: Laura Senier
Email: l.senier@northeastern.edu
Phone: 617.373.2687
Website: https://cssh.northeastern.edu/faculty/laura-senier/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19669: Dean of the Faculty of Social Science

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
68, The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/16/2023 to 11/15/2023

Institution: The Chinese University of Hong Kong
Department:
Region: Asia

Title: Dean of the Faculty of Social Science
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas

Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:
The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Dean of the Faculty of Social Science

The University

Founded in 1963, The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) (http://www.cuhk.edu.hk) is a forward-looking comprehensive research university with a global vision and a mission to combine tradition with modernity, and to bring together China and the West. Today CUHK is home to over 30,000 students and over 8,000 staff members (including a faculty team of over 3,400 full-time teaching and research staff members joining from all around the world). The University offers a broad spectrum of programmes up to the PhD level in various disciplines organized under eight Faculties (namely, Arts, Business Administration, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Science and Social Science). Graduates worldwide stay connected with their alma mater through an extensive alumni network.

The Faculty

The Faculty of Social Science (http://www.socsc.cuhk.edu.hk) with its dedicated team of 320+ teaching and research staff members, 2600+ undergraduate and 2,000+ postgraduate students will be celebrating its 50th anniversary in 2024. With eight schools and departments - Architecture, Economics, Geography and Resource Management, Government and Public Administration, Journalism and Communication, Psychology, Social Work, and Sociology - the Faculty is committed to achieving excellence with purpose and responsibility in both education and research. Its degree programmes, including five interdisciplinary programmes, attract some of the most outstanding students from Hong Kong, the Chinese Mainland and around the world. Research excellence is a hallmark of the Faculty, which encourages interdisciplinary research that not only extends the frontiers of knowledge but also delivers positive impact and value for society. Several programmes have been recognized globally for their outstanding accomplishments: in the 2023 QS World University Rankings, CUHK was ranked 20th globally in Communication and Media Studies; 23rd in Sociology; 24th in Geography; 45th in Psychology; and 59th in Economics. On the university level, CUHK placed 45th in the 2023 The Times Higher Education World University Rankings.

The Faculty of Social Science houses a number of research units, e.g., the Computational Social Science Laboratory, Centre for Cognition and Brain Studies, Centre for Chinese Media and Comparative Communication Research and CUHK-Tsinghua Joint Research Centre for Chinese Economy, to name but a few. The Faculty works closely with government, industry and other organizations in research and education, addressing the pressing challenges society faces and providing experiential learning opportunities for students. To expand the scope of its research impact and educational offerings, the Faculty collaborates actively with a wide network of national and international partners.

The Deanship

The Dean is a member of the University senior management team, reporting to the Vice- Chancellor/President, the Provost, and the University Council. As the academic and executive head of the Faculty, the Dean is responsible for shaping the Faculty’s development in alignment with the University’s strategic plan. He/she is responsible for the management of the Faculty’s resources, including human resources, budget and space, as well as educational programmes and activities and research performance. He/she is also expected to engage actively in cultivating alumni, donor and community relations, building ties with industry, and extending educational and research networks and collaborations with regional (e.g., the Hong Kong-Macau-Guangdong Greater Bay Area) and global partners.

The successful candidate is expected to be an internationally recognized leader in his/her areas of specialization, with a proven record of academic excellence appropriate for appointment at the level of a full Professor in the Faculty. Requirements for the role include a broad vision, understanding of education and research in all areas within the Faculty, prior experience in academic leadership roles, proficiency in high-level planning and management, and the foresight needed for planning the Faculty’s long-term development. Excellent interpersonal and communication skills are essential.

Remuneration and benefit package for the post will be globally competitive, commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Applications and Nominations

We welcome applications from and nominations for qualified candidates for the post. Please send applications and or nominations in strict confidence to the Search Committee for the Dean of the Faculty of Social Science, c/o Mr Kieran Pollentine, Perrett Laver (Job reference no.: 6898; email: kieran.pollentine@perrettlaver.com).

The Personal Information Collection Statement will be made available upon request. All enquiries, applications and nominations will be treated in strict confidence.

Consideration of applications/nominations will begin in January 2024 and will continue until the post is filled. The University reserves the right to fill the post by invitation.

Employer Description:
Contact: Kieran Pollentine
Email: kieran.pollentine@perrettlaver.com
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes

Website: https://ams3.enoah.com/DesktopModules/ASA_JobBank/PrintJobSearch.aspx
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
  Spouses of Employees? No
  Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
  Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
69. University at Albany

Job 19667: Assistant Professor in Criminal Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/13/2023 to 11/12/2023
Institution: University at Albany
Department: School of Criminal Justice
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor in Criminal Justice
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable

About University at Albany:
Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of approximately 17,000 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses. Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:
UAlbany has recently received $75 million from New York State for the Albany Artificial Intelligence Supercomputing Initiative (Albany AI). Through our signature strengths in cybersecurity, climate science, health sciences, and emergency preparedness, UAlbany is uniquely positioned to leverage this computing power to tackle some of society's biggest challenges. The University at Albany, State University of New York, seeks an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in the School of Criminal Justice. The new hire will be a member of the UAlbany AI Institute. We seek outstanding candidates with demonstrated research in one or more areas of AI related to criminal justice, including but not limited to: applications of AI in any field of the discipline; computational social science (e.g., machine learning, natural language processing, data visualization, text analytics); the impact of AI on institutions, justice, and equality; critical or normative approaches to AI, including ethics of AI. The successful candidate will address how AI is integral to their research program. We are also interested in candidates who complement the School's existing research and teaching expertise.

Requirements:
Minimum Qualifications:
- A Ph.D. in social and/ or computer science (e.g., criminology, criminal justice, sociology, psychology, political science, computer science) from a college or university accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization by 8/31/2024. Candidates who will not hold the degree by this date will not be considered.
- Applicants must demonstrate evidence of a research program that addresses big questions in one or more areas of AI related to criminal justice, including but not limited to: applications of AI in any field of the discipline; computational social science (e.g., machine learning, natural language processing, data visualization, text analytics); the impact of AI on institutions, justice, and equality; critical or normative approaches to AI, including ethics of AI.
- Record of quality publications in the field of Criminal Justice or a related field
- Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effectively teaching courses that address the big questions in one or more areas of AI related to criminal justice described above.
- Applicants must demonstrate an ability to develop inclusive and equitable relationships within our diverse campus community
- Applicants must demonstrate an ability to support diversity, equity, access, inclusion, and belonging relative to their role

Preferred Qualifications:
- Record of successfully publishing research that addresses the big questions in one or more areas of AI related to criminal justice described above
- Experience teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses.
- Record of, or demonstrated potential for, applying for and obtaining external funding.

Additional Information:
Professional Rank and Salary Range: Assistant Professor

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=168351
Application Instructions:

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

- CV
- Research Statement
- Teaching Statement
- Cover letter stating all the required minimum qualifications and any of the applicable preferred qualifications.
- Contact information for three references

Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.).

See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.

Returning Applicants - Login to your UAlbany Careers Account to check your completed application.

A review of applications will start on November 6, 2023, and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Employer Description:

About University at Albany:

Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of approximately 17,000 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Contact: HR
Email: ugs@albany.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19661: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/13/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Please see Special Instructions for more details.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and the names and contact information of four references through UNC’s online recruitment system. Please use the “Other Document” attachment to provide the teaching statement. Applications will be considered until the position is filled, but our review of applications will begin on October 30, 2023.

Applications must be submitted through the UNC job application system at this link: https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/267386.

PRIMARY PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATIONAL UNIT: The UNC Chapel Hill Department of Sociology (https://sociology.unc.edu/) works to advance sociological knowledge and the public’s understanding of society through research and teaching at the highest levels of the discipline. We are committed to a vision where all members of the community feel welcome and valued and can thrive.

POSITION DESCRIPTION: The Department of Sociology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) faculty position. We seek applications from scholars specializing in any area of Sociology who exhibit a record of strong and innovative research and excellence in teaching. We welcome applications from candidates whose work aligns with our departmental mission and values as outlined on our website. Candidates are expected to hold a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field by July 1, 2024.

MINIMUM EDUCATION and EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENTS: Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field by July 1, 2024.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and the names and contact information of four references through UNC’s online recruitment system. Please use the “Other Document” attachment to provide the teaching statement. Applications will be considered until the position is filled, but our review of applications will begin on October 30, 2023.

Applications must be submitted through the UNC job application system at this link: https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/267386.

If you experience any problems accessing the system or have questions about the application process, please contact the University’s Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost office at (919)-962-1091 or send an email to facultyrecruitment@unc.edu.

Please note: The Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost office will not be able to provide specific updates regarding position or application status.

If you have any questions about the job requirements or the hiring department notify the Department Contact.

Employer Description:
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Contact: Ted Mouw
Email: sociology@unc.edu
Phone: (919) 962-1007
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
71. Middle Tennessee State University

Job 19657: Department Chair

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: Middle Tennessee State University
Department: Dept of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Southeast
Title: Department Chair

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The College of Liberal Arts at Middle Tennessee State University invites applicants for the chair position (#129030) of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology. Specialists in either discipline are welcome to apply. Applicants must have a record of teaching, research or creative activity, and service for appointment at the rank of Associate or Full Professor. Expedited tenure upon appointment is possible. The start date for the position is August 1, 2024.

The successful candidate will have a distinguished record of scholarship, dedication to quality instruction and effective mentorship, a commitment to student success initiatives, a collaborative leadership style, and the ability to inspire faculty, staff, and students across both disciplines. In addition, the successful candidate will demonstrate the skills to manage operation details while focusing on long-range plans to sustain the growth and excellence associated with all of the department's undergraduate and graduate programs.

A terminal degree in sociology, anthropology, or a closely related field is required. Sociologists with teaching and research expertise in family, medical/health, aging, race/ethnicity, social inequality, or social justice will receive special consideration. Anthropologists with teaching and research expertise in any of the four fields—archaeology, bioanthropology, linguistic anthropology, and social-cultural anthropology will receive special consideration.

To apply or for more detailed information visit https://careers.mtsu.edu. MTSU is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that values diversity in all its forms. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Employer Description:
MTSU is proud to provide a comprehensive benefits package and perks to aid in providing protection and promotion of a healthy life for you and your family.

View the Perks!

MTSU desires to serve our faculty and staff with information and resources to support you in your quest to achieve a work/life balance. While this balance may mean something different to everyone, we hope the information available here contributes to your success in managing your healthy balance.

Read more!

Located in the geographic center of the state of Tennessee, Murfreesboro (“the ‘Boro”) is known for its enviable quality of life. Named among the nation’s top 50 “boomtowns,” it is one of the fastest-growing cities in the country. A vibrant and charming historic square (just four minutes from campus), offers retail shops and restaurants, and enjoys the benefit of the Main Street Murfreesboro organization’s community events taking place throughout the year. Located just 34 miles from Nashville, TN, the ‘Boro is considered the largest suburb of Nashville, which offers an added opportunity for shopping, dining, entertainment, and more.

Learn more about our town!

Contact: Karla Barnes
Email: karla.barnes@mtsu.edu
Phone:
Website: https://careers.mtsu.edu.

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes

National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

72. Rutgers University

Job 19557: J. Robert Beyster and EOF/Louis O. Kelso and other Fellowships

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 4/9/2024

Institution: Rutgers University

Department: Institute for the Study of Employee Ownership and Profit Sharing

Region: All US Regions

Title: J. Robert Beyster and EOF/Louis O. Kelso and other Fellowships

Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: All, Fellowships/Post-docs: Pre-doctoral, Fellowships/Post-docs: Other

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Salary Range: $20,000 - $29,999

Submission Link:

Rutgers University. School of Management and Labor Relations

Institute for the Study of Employee Ownership and Profit Sharing

J. Robert Beyster Fellowship, Employee Ownership Foundation/Louis O. Kelso Fellowship & Other Fellowships

The Institute invites applications from Ph.D. students, and junior & senior scholars for the 2024–2025 research fellowship competition in sociology. The fields are economic sociology, inequality/poverty/mobility, organizations/occupations/and work, sociology of race and gender, sociology of wealth and inequality, labor and labor movements, organizational sociology, political sociology, and social movements with particular interest in the role of worker ownership shares and profit shares in public policy and addressing wealth inequality. Several $25,000 fellowships will be available for scholars from the United States, Canada, and internationally. Other smaller fellowships may also be available. Stipends can be used for research, travel, or other expenses and are awarded for residence at the scholar’s home university. The analysis of all forms of broad-based employee share ownership, equity compensation, employee ownership trusts (EOTs), worker cooperatives, profit sharing, and gain sharing are welcome, with emphasis on the Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) for the Kelso Employee Ownership Foundation Fellowships. Scholars may inquire about available datasets. Scholars will be in residence at their own Universities.

Submit a CV and a 1500-word detailed research plan with 3 letters of reference (sent separately) by March 31, 2024 for decisions by April 15, 2024 to: fellowship_program@smlr.rutgers.edu or beysterfellowships@smlr.rutgers.edu. For more information visit: smlr.rutgers.edu/EOInstute

Employer Description:
The Rutgers School of Management and Labor Relations (SMLR) is the world’s leading source of expertise on managing and representing workers, designing effective organizations, and building strong employment relationships. SMLR’s Institute for the Study of Employee Ownership and Profit Sharing conducts empirical research on share plans, sponsors the leading global fellowship program and academic conferences in the field, and does policy analysis. The Institute also manages a technical assistance center (The NJ/NY Center for Employee Ownership) and a program to help college professors teach about these subjects (The Curriculum Library for Employee Ownership).

Contact: Joseph R. Blasi
Email: blasi@smlr.rutgers.edu
Phone: 609-240-4657
Website: https://smlr.rutgers.edu/faculty-research-engagement/institute-study-employee-ownership-and-profit-sharing/call-rutgers-smlr

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
73. San Jose State University

Job 19663: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor - Chicana and Chicano Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: San Jose State University
Department: Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor - Chicana and Chicano Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Cultural Sociology
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999
Submission Link:

Job Description:
Assistant Professor or Associate Professor - Chicana and Chicano Studies

Compensation: Commensurate with qualifications, experience, and rank as established by the CSU Salary Schedule. Anticipated hiring academic year annual salary range: $83,000 - $100,000. See Benefits Summary for details about the CSU's excellent employment benefits.

Target Start Date: August 2024
Application Deadline: December 1, 2023 (Applications accepted until filled or closed)

The Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies (CCS) at San José State University (SJSU) seeks qualified applicants for the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor with training in Chicana/o Studies, History, Political Science, and/or Policy. We especially welcome scholars who specialize in Critical Latinx Indigenousities, Queer Studies, or AfroLatinx Studies.

Since 1968, CCS at SJSU has served students through interdisciplinary education based on principles of social justice. CCS curriculum prepares students to critically examine and address intellectual traditions and contemporary issues resulting from political, historical, economic, and cultural constructs of race, class, and gender, as they manifest in Chicana/o and US Latinx communities. CCS at SJSU has the oldest Graduate Program in Chicana/o Studies in the United States, one of five Graduate Programs in Chicana/o Studies in California, and the only one north of Santa Barbara, California.

CCS offers three degree programs: a master’s degree with areas of specialization in Policy, Education, and Comparative Ethnic Studies; an undergraduate major with areas of specialization in Cultural and Creative Expression, Institutions and Community Engagement, and Transnationalism and Global Relations; and a popular undergraduate minor that draws students from across the university. Alumni have careers in teaching, social services, public policy, health care, government, and nongovernment organizations in community service. Additionally, many alumni pursue advanced degrees in Education, History, Social Work, and Humanities fields.

SJSU is committed to growing Ethnic Studies across the university. In 2018, CoSS launched the Ethnic Studies Collaborative (ESC), bringing together faculty, staff, and students to promote research and leadership contributions of SJSU’s Ethnic Studies programs and departments. The ESC includes the Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies, Department of African American Studies, and the Programs of Asian American Studies and Native American and Indigenous Studies. The ESC serves as a nexus for Ethnic Studies faculty, student, and community collaboration at SJSU. The ESC supports Ethnic Studies curriculum and co-curricular projects that address issues of settler colonialism, racial capitalism, immigration, and structural racism that impact the lived experiences of several populations in the United States and Americas, more broadly. With a focus on the comparative histories and experiential knowledges of marginalized racial and ethnic groups in the United States, the ESC plays a key role in the implementation of AB 1460, the CSU graduation requirement in Ethnic Studies.

The Department of Chicana and Chicano Studies is part of the College of Social Sciences, which is committed to equitable and inclusive teaching and learning. The College sees faculty and student success as inextricably linked, and strives to provide culturally-sustaining, and academically-affirming approaches to supporting and engaging students and faculty. CoSS provides opportunities for faculty development around asset-based, holistic student success, and support scholarship of engagement that addresses issues that affect our campus and community. In all of endeavors, CoSS strives to build leadership capacity and foster a culture of support and belonging for faculty, staff, and students.

For a complete job description and to apply: https://jobs.sjsu.edu/en-us/job/532673/assistant-professor-or-associate-professor-chicana-and-chicano-studies

Equal Employment Statement:

SJSU is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, or disability.

It is the policy of SJSU to provide reasonable accommodations for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose.
Employer Description:
Contact: Human Resources
Email: hrsg@sjsu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
74. Towson University

Job 19662: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023

Institution: Towson University

Department: Dept of Sociology, Anthropology & Criminal Justice

Region: All US Regions

Title: Assistant Professor

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track:

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice , Criminal Justice

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and to working with a diverse student population on our main campus and at our Towson University Northeast campus in Harford County, MD. The candidate will be required to teach a variety of undergraduate courses in criminology and/or criminal justice depending on the candidate’s area of specialty and the needs of the department (e.g., Critical Criminology; Race, Crime & Justice); to maintain an active research agenda with consistent and demonstrated scholarship activity and potential for grant-funded research; to advise undergraduate students; and to participate actively in shared governance.

Employer Description:

Towson University:

Towson University (www.towson.edu) was founded in 1866, is recognized by U.S. News and World Reports as one of the top public universities in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions, is Baltimore’s largest university, and is the largest public, comprehensive institution in the University of Maryland System. TU enrolls over 19,000 undergraduates and more than 3,000 graduate students across six academic colleges (business, education, fine arts, health professions, liberal arts, science & mathematics), has of 900 full-time faculty, and offers 65 bachelor’s 42 master’s, and 4 doctoral programs. Our centrally located campus sits on 330 rolling green acres and is 10 miles north of Baltimore, 45 miles north of Washington D.C., and 95 miles south of Philadelphia.

Contact: Michelle Manasse
Email: soan@towson.edu
Phone: (410) 704-2852
Website: www.towson.edu/cla/departments/socioanthrocrim

---

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
75. Trinity College

Job 19653: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor of Public Policy and Law

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: Trinity College
Department: Public Policy and Law Program
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor of Public Policy and Law
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Public Policy
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com/postings/3123
Job Description:

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor of Public Policy and Law – Deadline 11/1

The Trinity College Public Policy and Law Program seeks applications for an open-rank professor position (advanced tenure-track assistant, tenured associate, or tenured full professor) focusing on public policy and/or public law, commencing in Fall 2024. The successful candidate will have the following qualifications:

1. A Ph.D. in Public Policy, Political Science, Sociology, or a related field.
2. A strong record of published research related to public policy and/or public law.
3. Demonstrated excellence in undergraduate teaching related to public policy and/or public law.

We prefer candidates with a record of departmental service and/or leadership and an interest in collaborating with colleagues to strengthen our unique interdisciplinary program. We encourage applicants who share our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

The typical teaching load is 2-3 with a one-semester leave every fourth year. The successful candidate will receive annual research and conference travel funds.

To ensure full consideration please submit the following materials by November 1, 2023 to https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com/postings/3123:

- a cover letter (describing research; teaching; and commitment to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion),
- CV, sample of scholarly writing, course syllabi, course evaluations, and contact information for at least three individuals who will provide letters of reference.

Employer Description:

Trinity College seeks a faculty that reflects the changing demographics of our student body, including candidates from backgrounds historically underrepresented in higher education. Our student body is diverse, representing 41 states and 70 countries, with 21 percent U.S. students of color and 50 percent who identify as women. More than 90 percent of students live on campus. Trinity is a highly selective, independent, nonsectarian liberal arts institution located in the capital city of Hartford, Conn. With more than 1,100 full-time undergraduate students and 91 graduate students, the college maintains a rigorous academic profile complemented by a vibrant and diverse co-curricular program. We consider our location in a culturally and socioeconomically diverse capital city to be among Trinity’s most distinctive assets, and we cultivate strong connections with our surrounding neighbors and with institutions and organizations throughout Hartford and the region.

As a preeminent liberal arts college in an urban setting, Trinity College prepares students to be bold, independent thinkers who lead transformative lives.

Contact: Abigail Fisher Williamson, Ph.D.
Email: Abigail.Williamson@trincoll.edu
Phone: (860) 297-2371
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
76. University of Missouri-Columbia

Job 19654: Coleman-Ganong Endowed Professorship in Family Structure and Family Process

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: University of Missouri-Columbia
Department: Human Development and Family Studies
Region: Midwest
Title: Coleman-Ganong Endowed Professorship in Family Structure and Family Process
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/

Job Description:
The Department of Human Development and Family Science (HDFS) at the University of Missouri seeks applicants for the endowed Coleman-Ganong Endowed Professorship in Family Structure and Family Process in HDFS at the rank of Professor with tenure (9-month appointment). The successful candidate will have a doctorate in Human Development and Family Science, or a related field, national reputation for excellence in scholarship, track record of external funding, recent publications in top-tier journals, and scholarly emphasis on family structure and process in human development and/or family science. Successful applicants will demonstrate scholarly activity consistent with the University’s status as an AAU member and a “Very High” Research Productive institution.

The Coleman-Ganong Endowed Professorship in Family Structure and Family Process will maintain an active and vibrant program of research that complements the research of current HDFS faculty, secure external funding to support such research efforts, emphasize family dynamics, family relationships, and individual and interpersonal wellbeing of members of structurally complex families, with preference given to faculty studying stepfamilies, families following divorce and separation, and single-parent households.

The start date is August 2024. Salary is commensurate with experience, and the position includes ongoing supplemental monetary support for scholarly activities.

Responsibilities:
· Maintain an active, externally funded program of research and scholarship
· Teach courses related to family theory, structure and process consistent with the program and departmental instructional needs
· Advise and provide research supervision to graduate students in Human Development and Family Science and serve on dissertation committees for students in the department
· Provide leadership to the program, department, college, and university

This position will be housed in the Department of Human Development and Family Science at the University of Missouri – Columbia.

Candidates will be evaluated on:
· Record of scholarly productivity and evidence of maintaining such scholarship
· Success as principal investigator on externally-funded projects
· Emphasis on diversity and multicultural studies within HDFS or related field
· Ability to teach and mentor students in family structure and process topics
· Ability to work and engage with department, university, and community members

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:
· An earned doctorate in Human Development and Family Science or a related field

Application Materials

How to apply. Upload application materials including a cover letter describing research/ scholarly interests and qualifications, curriculum vitae, two reprints or preprints of recent manuscripts, and names and contact information for three references (no reference letters are required at this time) to: http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/

Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2023 and continue until the position is filled. Priority will be given to the applications received by February 1, 2024. Applicants from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.
Questions about the online application system are best directed to MU Human Resources at (573) 882-7976.

Questions about the Coleman-Ganong position should be addressed to the search committee co-chairs: Drs. Francisco Palermo (palermof@missouri.edu) and Louis Manfra (manfral@missouri.edu).

Other Information

The HDFS Department. Faculty in the department conduct research about child, adolescent, and adult development, diversity and multiculturalism, family and relationship science, health and family functioning. HDFS offers both undergraduate degrees (BA and BS) and graduate degrees (MA, MS, and PHD) programs, and has a significant presence on campus and within the state through its Extension outreach and services. HDFS is home to two large centers: Center for Family Policy and Research (CFPR) and Child Development Laboratory (CDL). The CFPR offers faculty and students opportunities to work on grant-funded research and intervention projects that directly serve children, families, and communities. The CDL provides childcare for children under six years and serves as a teaching and research laboratory for faculty and students. The Department currently has over 4- million in externally funded grants and contracts.

The College of Education and Human Development. The College of Education and Human Development serves more than 2,700 students in degree programs spanning the baccalaureate, Master’s, and doctoral levels. In 2021, U.S. News and World Report ranked it in the top 50 colleges of education in the nation. Several of its degree programs are recognized nationally as leaders in their fields. The College boasts an impressive research and outreach footprint, with over $45 million in externally funded grants and contracts, as well as outreach activities in every county throughout Missouri.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits

Values Commitment

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person’s success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate.

In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, call the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at 573-882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

The city of Columbia, MO. Ranked by the American Institute for Economic Research as one of the nation’s top 10 college towns, Columbia combines small-town comforts, community spirit and a low cost of living with big-city culture, activities and resources. Our city of about 120,000 people lies midway between Missouri’s largest metro areas: St. Louis and Kansas City. It is home to nationally recognized public schools including two top-ranked high schools and two other colleges and educational centers. It is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues, home to multiple parks and outdoor recreation sites such as Rock Bridge State Park and the MKT Trail, and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals, such as the True/False Film Festival. Come see why Men’s Journal, Money magazine, U.S. News & World Report, Men’s Journal, MSN.com and others have all named Columbia, Missouri one of the best places in the country to live. https://www.como.gov/

Employer Description:
Contact: Louis Manfra
Email:
Phone:
Website: https://mizzou.us/48330

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
77, University of Missouri-Columbia

Job 19656: Fellows, Post Doctoral at the Center for Family Policy and Research

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: University of Missouri-Columbia
Department: Human Development and Family Studies
Region: Midwest
Title: Fellows, Post Doctoral at the Center for Family Policy and Research
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track:
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Development
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: < a href='http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/' target='_blank'>http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/

Job Description:
Job ID: 48961
Location: Columbia
Full-Time

The Department of Human Development and Family Science (HDFS) at the University of Missouri is seeking applicants for three Postdoctoral Fellows to work with faculty at the Center for Family Policy and Research (CFPR). These postdoctoral fellow positions are 12-month appointments, with potential for renewal or long-term academic appointments (Research Scientist or Non-Tenure Track Research Faculty), pending an externally funded program of research. The successful candidate will have a doctorate in Human Development and Family Science or a related field, a demonstrated trajectory towards excellence in scholarship, recent publications in top-tier journals, and of utmost importance, the familiarity with external funding and the potential to develop a federally funded program of research.

The prospective candidate will join an active group of researchers interested in a wide range of translational and policy-relevant topics at CFPR. Successful applicants will be engaged in scholarship that is theoretically and empirically driven, innovative, methodologically rigorous, and has implications for improving the lives of individuals and families. The successful applicant will contribute to a team science infrastructure to build multidisciplinary collaborations working with faculty who have active research funding through the CFPR. They will aid faculty with seeking and writing federal grants, building on a strong state contract infrastructure, as well as seeking training grants and other larger projects. The successful candidates will collaborate with teams of faculty on peer-reviewed research publications and traditional scholarly outputs. They will also work on the translational side of their research by assisting the CFPR faculty and CFPR Director in translational documents such as white papers, policy reports or infographics. Finally, these postdocs will focus on writing NIH Pathway to Independence Awards (K99/R00) or related federal grants for themselves.

We will hire one Fellow with a scholarly emphasis in each of these three primary research areas: 1) Early Childhood Education, Care, Health, and Development; 2) Interpersonal, Familial, and Intimate Relationships; and 3) Adult Family Relationships, Stress, Health, and Well-Being.

We are particularly interested in candidates who have strong quantitative research skills, who are interested in informing social policy, and whose research complements the growing multidisciplinary teams at Mizzou; areas include social determinants of health, health disparities, school readiness, intervention, and prevention pathways to resiliency, and/or strengthening individual health and family well-being.

Successful applicants will demonstrate scholarly activity consistent with the University’s status as an AAU member and a “Very High” Research Productive institution. Postdoctoral Fellows will maintain an active and vibrant program of research that complements the research of current CFPR faculty and work to secure external funding to support independent and team science research efforts.

The start date is July 1, 2024. Applicants from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Responsibilities:
• Maintain and establish an active, externally funded program of research and scholarship.
• Conduct research on translational policy-relevant topics that improve the lives of individuals and families.
• Contribute to a team science infrastructure to build multidisciplinary collaborations with current center faculty.
• Write issue-, white- or policy-briefs, talking points, infographics, news briefs with the Center Faculty and Director.

Qualifications
Minimum Qualifications:
• An earned doctorate in Human Development and Family Science or a related field by time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:
• Record of scholarly productivity and evidence of maintaining such scholarship.
• Success or potential for success as principal investigator or co-investigator on externally funded projects.
The City of Columbia, MO

Columbia Missouri Information

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, contact the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at (573) 882-7976.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.
MKT Trail; and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals, such as the True/False Film Festival. See why Money magazine, Fortune magazine, U.S. News & World Report, Men's Journal, MSN.com and others have all named Columbia, Missouri one of the best places in the country to live.

Employer Description:

Contact: Louis Manfra
Email: manfral@missouri.edu
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
78. University of Missouri-Columbia

Job 19655: Millsap Endowed Professorship of Diversity and Multicultural Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: University of Missouri-Columbia
Department: Human Development and Family Studies
Region: Midwest
Title: Millsap Endowed Professorship of Diversity and Multicultural Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Development
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/

Job Description:

The Department of Human Development and Family Science (HDFS) at the University of Missouri seeks applicants for the endowed Millsap Professorship of Diversity and Multicultural Studies in HDFS at the rank of Professor with tenure (9-month appointment). The successful candidate will have a doctorate in Human Development and Family Science, or a related field, national reputation for excellence in scholarship, track record of external funding, recent publications in top-tier journals, scholarly emphasis on diversity and multiculturalism in human development and/or family science and meet expectations to maintain or be promoted to “full” professor upon hire. Successful applicants will demonstrate scholarly activity consistent with the University’s status as an AAU member and a “Very High” Research Productive institution.

The Millsap Professor will maintain an active and vibrant program of research that complements the research of current HDFS faculty, secure external funding to support such research efforts, emphasize diversity and multiculturalism in any area within human development and family science, provide leadership and insight about topics pertaining to diversity and multiculturalism to the campus and local communities, and teach and advise students.

The start date is August 2024. Salary is commensurate with experience, and the position includes ongoing supplemental monetary support for scholarly activities. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2023, and continue until the position is filled. Priority will be given to the applications received by February 1, 2024. Applicants from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Responsibilities:

• Maintain an active, externally funded program of research and scholarship
• Teach courses related to diversity and multiculturalism consistent with the program and departmental instructional needs
• Advise and provide research supervision to graduate students in Human Development and Family Science and serve on dissertation committees for students in the department
• Provide leadership to the program, department, college, and university

Candidates will be evaluated on:

• Record of scholarly productivity and evidence of maintaining such scholarship
• Success as principal investigator on externally-funded projects
• Emphasis on diversity and multicultural studies within HDFS or related field
• Ability to teach and mentor students on diversity and multicultural topics
• Ability to work and engage with department, university, and community members
• Is a “full” Professor or meets the requirements to be promoted to “full” Professor

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

• An earned doctorate in Human Development and Family Science or a related field

Application Materials

How to apply. Upload application materials including a cover letter describing research/ scholarly interests and qualifications, curriculum vitae, two reprints or preprints of recent manuscripts, and names and contact information for three references (no reference letters are required at this time) to: http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/ Questions about the online application system are best directed to MU Human Resources at (573) 882-7976. Questions about the Millsap position should be addressed to the search committee co-chairs: Drs. Francisco Palermo (palermof@missouri.edu) and Louis Manfra (manfral@missouri.edu).

Application Deadline

Priority will be given to the applications received by February 1, 2024.
The HDFS Department. HDFS joined the College of Education July 1, 2021, as the sixth and newest department. Faculty in the department conduct research about child, adolescent, and adult development, diversity and multiculturalism, family and relationship science, health and family functioning. HDFS offers both undergraduate degrees (BA and BS) and graduate degrees (MA, MS, and PhD) programs, and has a significant presence on campus and within the state through its Extension outreach and services. HDFS is home to two large centers: Center for Family Policy and Research (CFPR) and Child Development Laboratory (CDL). The CFPR offers faculty and students opportunities to work on grant-funded research and intervention projects that directly serve children, families, and communities. The CDL provides childcare for children under six years and serves as a teaching and research laboratory for faculty and students. The Department currently has over 4 million in externally funded grants and contracts.

The College of Education and Human Development. The College of Education and Human Development serves more than 2,700 students in degree programs spanning the baccalaureate, Master’s, and doctoral levels. In 2021, U.S. News and World Report ranked it in the top 50 colleges of education in the nation. Several of its degree programs are recognized nationally as leaders in their fields. The College boasts an impressive research and outreach footprint, with over $45 million in externally funded grants and contracts, as well as outreach activities in every county throughout Missouri.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at http://umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits

Values Commitment

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person’s success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate.

In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, call the Director of Employee and Labor Relations or federal law. This policy shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to violate the legal rights of religious organizations or the recruiting rights of military organizations associated with the Armed Forces or the Department of Homeland Security of the United States of America. For more information, call the Director of Employee and Labor Relations at 573-882-7876.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility and ADA at 573-884-7278.

Know Your Rights

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

- Know Your Rights English Version
- Know Your Rights Spanish Version

Columbia Missouri Information

The city of Columbia, MO. Ranked by the American Institute for Economic Research as one of the nation’s top 10 college towns, Columbia combines small-town comforts, community spirit and a low cost of living with big-city culture, activities and resources. Our city of about 120,000 people lies midway between Missouri’s largest metro areas: St. Louis and Kansas City. It is home to nationally recognized public schools including two top-ranked high schools and two other colleges and educational centers. It is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues; home to multiple parks and outdoor recreation sites such as Rock Bridge State Park and the MKT Trail; and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals, such as the True/False Film Festival. Come see why Money magazine, Fortune magazine, U.S. News & World Report, Men’s Journal, MSN.com and others have all named Columbia, Missouri one of the best places in the country to live. www.gocolumbiamo.com.

Employer Description:

Contact: Louis Manfra
Email: manfral@missouri.edu
Phone:
Website: https://mizzou.us/48828

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

79. University of Southern California

Job 19652: Turpanjian Early Career Chair in Contemporary Armenian Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/12/2023 to 11/11/2023
Institution: University of Southern California
Department:
Region: West
Title: Turpanjian Early Career Chair in Contemporary Armenian Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Other Program/Area
Salary Range: $100,000 - $109,999
Job Description:
The Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor or tenured associate professor position to be appointed as the Turpanjian Early Career Chair in Contemporary Armenian Studies.

The department of appointment is to be determined. We invite applicants from a broad range of social science fields and disciplines. Possible departments include Anthropology, Economics, Political Science and International Relations, and Sociology, among others. Candidates for the Early Career Chair must work in contemporary Armenian studies and have a PhD degree in their field by the time of appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest and CV with names of three potential referees to turpanjiansearch@dornsife.usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted. In order to be considered for this position, applicants are also required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/turpanjian-early-career-chair-in-contemporary-armenian-studies/1209/54608857568. All application materials must be received by November 1st.

The annual base salary range for this position is $104,500 - $141,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate’s work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

Employer Description:
USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Contact: Turpanjian Search Committee
Email: turpanjiansearch@dornsife.usc.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19651: Assistant / Associate Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/11/2023 to 11/10/2023

Institution: North Central College
Department: Department of Sociology, Criminology, & Anthropology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant / Associate Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology, Criminology, & Anthropology in the College of Arts and Sciences at North Central College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Sociology to begin August 1, 2024. Candidates will be considered regardless of field of specialization; those with training in quantitative methods are particularly encouraged to apply. Teaching excellence is paramount, and the ability to instruct a range of undergraduate courses in the sociology curriculum is required. Applicants should also demonstrate their ability in mentoring of students and active scholarship. Scholarship providing research opportunities for undergraduates will be considered favorably. Candidates with a record of or interest in program building at the undergraduate level are particularly encouraged to apply.

Successful applicants are expected to have completed their Ph.D. in Sociology or a closely related field by August 2024. Rank is open and dependent on qualifications. The contract is for 9.5 months with a competitive salary and 3-2 teaching load.

North Central College values diversity, equity and inclusion and strongly encourages candidates who would enrich the diversity of the campus community to apply. Experience working with diverse student populations and communities is highly desirable. As a department, we are committed to enhancing the diversity of our campus and creating inclusive spaces both in and outside the classroom. We are seeking candidates who share this commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion and will partner with us as we advance our efforts in this area.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, diversity statement, description of research interests, and contact information for three professional references in an electronic format to https://northcentralcollege.peopleadmin.com/postings/11920.

Review of applications will begin October 23, 2023 and continue until the position is filled.

An offer of employment is contingent upon successful completion of the College's background screening process.

Employer Description:
Founded in 1861, North Central College is a nationally recognized institution of about 3000 students, located in Naperville, IL, a thriving suburb just west of Chicago. The College is in a period of growth with the addition of a $60 million Science Center (2017), and a new Health Sciences and Engineering building (2020). North Central College is within walking distance of the Naperville Metra station and is next to downtown Naperville. The Naperville area is home to many excellent school districts and Naperville, IL has been ranked as one of the best places to live by Money magazine. For more information, please visit: http://www.noctri.edu. North Central College is an EEO Employer.

Contact: Dr. Raleigh Blasdell | Search Committee & Department Chair
Email: rblasdell@noctrl.edu
Phone: 6306375311
Website: https://www.northcentralcollege.edu/college-arts-sciences/sociology-criminology-and-anthropology

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
81. Clemson University

Job 19650: Full or Associate Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 12/10/2023

Institution: Clemson University
Department: Dept. of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice
Region: Southeast
Title: Full or Associate Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenured position beginning August 2024 at the rank of Associate or Full Professor. This position is also intended to serve as the Director of the Center for Criminal Justice and Social Research. While specialization is open, research expertise and experience should align with the existing mission and portfolio of the Center for Criminal Justice and Social Research (https://www.clemson.edu/cbshs/departments/sacj/research/justice.html). Tenure-track faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

The purpose of this dual position is: a) to build organizational capacity to advance the mission of the Center for Criminal Justice and Social Research - to advance social research, train future social scientists, and develop collaborative partnerships with governmental, criminal justice, and non-profit organizations to strengthen communities and b) to further the mission of the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice – to foster a student-centered learning community engaged in excellent research, teaching, and service. Applicants should exhibit a clear strategy for continuing to develop the portfolio of the Center for Criminal Justice and Social Research and highlight how they will contribute to the department’s M.S. in Social Science program.

Employer Description:

Clemson University is a Carnegie Research 1 (R-1) public land-grant institution with over 20,000 undergraduates and 5,500 graduate students, located near the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice is a member of the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences and is home to 25 faculty members across the three represented disciplines. Successful candidates will integrate and complement existing strengths in our program and contribute to the interdisciplinary focus of the department.

Contact: Admin
Email: sacj@clemson.edu
Phone:
Website: www.clemson.edu/cbshs/departments/sacj

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITEd.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
82. JHU SNF Agora Inst

Job 19645: SNF Agora Academy Postdoctoral Fellowship

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 11/9/2023
Institution: JHU SNF Agora Inst
Department: SNF Agora Institute
Region: East
Title: SNF Agora Academy Postdoctoral Fellowship
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/134071

Job Description:
The SNF Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University invites sociologists and political scientists to apply for its SNF Agora Academy Postdoctoral Fellowship. The SNF Agora Institute, an academic and public forum, is dedicated to strengthening global democracy through civic engagement and informed, inclusive dialogue.

The postdoctoral program is a one-year program, with the opportunity for a two-year fellowship, intended to support recent doctoral degree recipients whose scholarship engages with questions and topics directly related to the institute’s mission. The SNF Agora Academy seeks two fellows who would engage actively with and benefit from a multidisciplinary scholarly community that enables them to extend their research and public engagement in new directions, with the active mentorship of SNF Agora Institute faculty. The fellows will contribute actively to the academic mission of institute. They will carry out their own research, participate in seminars, and be full members of the intellectual community. As part of their commitment to the institute, they are expected to participate actively in a research/practice project of the institute, reside in the Baltimore-DC area, and regularly engage in institute activities, including weekly Tuesday and Thursday seminars.

One of the central goals of the SNF Agora Institute is to foster conversations and collaboration that don’t happen elsewhere. The fellows must have a strong academic record and be on a trajectory to contribute to key disciplinary conversations, but also be excited about being part of a community that is not simply made up of academics, whether that helps them integrate other perspectives into their scholarship, employs their scholarship to help strengthen democracy in tangible ways, or both. We strongly encourage applicants to think creatively about how their research interacts with scholars in other disciplines and efforts to strengthen democracy in the world and, thus, support the SNF Agora mission. Getting your work into the public domain is not the same as having impact. How do you hope to have impact? Are there civic and political entities, including movements, parties, governmental organizations, media, etc. that you could partner with? Do you have ideas that could contribute to public debates around democracy as well as academic ones? This work should be in addition to and not a replacement for a strong academic trajectory.

Compensation
Fellows will be appointed initially for a one-year term, and will have the opportunity to extend their fellowship for a second academic year. They will receive a stipend of $70,000, health insurance, and a modest moving and research budget.

The fellowship start date is July 01, 2024.

Qualifications
The fellows must have a strong academic record and be on a trajectory to contribute to key disciplinary conversations, but also be excited about being part of a community that is not simply made up of academics, whether that helps them integrate other perspectives into their scholarship, employs their scholarship to help strengthen democracy in tangible ways, or both.

Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2023.

Employer Description:
The Johns Hopkins University is committed to equal opportunity for its faculty, staff, and students. To that end, the university does not discriminate on the basis of sex, gender, marital status, pregnancy, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, veteran status or other legally protected characteristic. The university is committed to providing qualified individuals access to all academic and employment programs, benefits and activities on the basis of demonstrated ability, performance and merit without regard to personal factors that are irrelevant to the program involved.

Contact: Kara Piccirilli
Email: kara.piccirilli@jhu.edu
Phone: 410-516-8724
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Sponsors of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

Job 19647: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Ethnic Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 11/9/2023

Institution: Lawrence University
Department: Ethnic Studies
Region: Midwest

Title: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Ethnic Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:
The Ethnic Studies program at Lawrence University, a selective undergraduate liberal arts college and conservatory of music, invites applications for a cluster hire of two tenure-track assistant professors whose research and teaching are focused on Black, Indigenous, Latinx or ethnic studies, and/or sociology (with a focus on Black, Indigenous, or Latinx communities). Thematic focus areas may include creative and critical approaches to Latinx migration, diaspora, and borders; Black feminisms and/or queer of color critique; and ancestral knowledge and indigenous ways of knowing. The ideal candidates will have successfully completed a PhD or terminal degree appropriate to their discipline in Ethnic Studies, Sociology, American Studies, Gender Studies, or closely related fields – with specialization in Black, Indigenous, and/or Latinx/o/x Studies. Ph.D. or other terminal degree must be in hand by Sept. 1, 2024. While the methodological approach is open, community-based participatory research would be highly valued. Although all applications will be given serious consideration, first generation scholars, scholars from public state schools, HBCUs, HSIs, and tribal colleges, are especially encouraged to apply.

We seek applications from scholars who will help us create a more inclusive Lawrence by: (1) further diversifying the faculty; and/or (2) demonstrating experience with successful diversity-related initiatives, creative activity and/or critical community-based research methodologies; and (3) demonstrating interest in developing inclusive pedagogy to address the needs of a diverse student body. Candidates are encouraged to read more about Lawrence at Lawrence University.

We anticipate making two appointments, to start on Sept. 1, 2024. Responsibilities include the ability to teach core courses in the Ethnic Studies major, such as Intro to Ethnic Studies, Theories in Race and Ethnicity, and Research Methods in Communities of Color. Candidates are also expected to develop upper-level courses in their areas of interest and expertise; collaborate with other interdisciplinary departments that work closely with Ethnic Studies, such as Gender Studies, Education, Environmental Studies, and Global Studies; and contribute to our First-Year Studies program on a regular basis. A passion for teaching in a liberal arts setting is expected of all Lawrence University faculty members.

Located in Appleton, Wisconsin, Lawrence University is ranked among the top 50 private colleges in the country for the 2023-2024 Princeton Review of Best Value Colleges, ranked as the number one liberal arts college in Wisconsin, and is one of the best undergraduate teaching programs in the country, according to US News and World Report 2022-2023. We are excited to hire scholars whose research and teaching will benefit from joining our supportive group of colleagues from across the university who are committed to collaboration, consensus-building, social justice, and antiracism.

Applicants should complete the online application and submit a letter of application and curriculum vitae. All applicants will be asked to provide the contact information for three references who may be asked directly by Lawrence University to provide a letter of recommendation should the candidates be selected as a finalist. Additionally, finalists will be asked to submit separate statements of teaching philosophy and research interests at a later date. The review of applications will begin 10/23/2023 and will continue until the position is filled.

For further information, contact Dr. Jesús Gregorio Smith (smithj@lawrence.edu), Chair of the Ethnic Studies Program (http://www.lawrence.edu/academics/study/ethnic_studies)

Employer Description:
Contact: Dr. Jesús Gregorio Smith
Email: smithj@lawrence.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Job 19644: Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science - Dr. Onoso Imoagene

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 11/9/2023

Institution: New York University-Abu Dhabi

Department:

Region: Middle East

Title: Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science - Dr. Onoso Imoagene

Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
We are inviting applications for a Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi from individuals who have or will soon receive a PhD in sociology or a related discipline. The appointment will begin September 1, 2024, subject to final budget approval.

The Post-Doctoral Associate will spend half their time on independent research, and half of their time on collaborative research with Professor Onoso Imoagene. The collaborative research will be in international migration research with a focus on second generation Africans in the United States, Africans in China, and Chinese migrants in Africa.

The ideal candidate would have a specialization in international migration and race and ethnicity but scholars with interests in other subfields are also encouraged to apply. The candidate should have experience working with quantitative survey data, and additional quantitative skills are preferred. Fluency in Chinese languages is ideal but not a requirement for the position.

The position does not require teaching, but it may be possible to get teaching experience for compensation. You would be part of a group of over 20 post-doctoral fellows and 70 faculty in the Division of Social Science.

The terms of employment are very competitive and include housing and educational subsidies for children.

For consideration, applicants need to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae with full publication list, transcript of degree, statement of research interests, and two letters of reference, all in PDF format.

The deadline is November 15, 2023, and applications will be accepted immediately and considered until the position is filled.

If you have any questions, please email Professor Onoso Imoagene at oii1@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Employer Description:

Contact: Dr. Onoso Imoagene
Email: oii1@nyu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

SPOUSES OF EMPLOYEES? Yes
SAME-SEX DOMESTIC PARTNERS OF EMPLOYEES? Yes
OTHER-SEX DOMESTIC PARTNERS OF EMPLOYEES? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
Job 19649: Assistant Professors of Criminology, Criminal Justice, and/or Sociology (Tenure Track, F0343A1 & F0480A1)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Listings Active: 10/10/2023 to 11/9/2023
Institution: Old Dominion University
Department: Sociology & Criminal Justice
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professors of Criminology, Criminal Justice, and/or Sociology (Tenure Track, F0343A1 & F0480A1)
Position: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://jobs.odu.edu/postings/19058

Job Description:
Old Dominion University’s Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice seeks applicants for two Assistant Professor positions to begin Fall 2024. We are seeking criminologists or sociologists whose research addresses inequality, public policy, and social justice within the criminal justice system and its responses to crime and scholars whose research focuses on social inequality and social justice with an emphasis in the sociology of health and illness; at least one of the two positions must be focused on criminology/criminal justice.

The Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice offers bachelor’s degrees in Sociology and in Criminal Justice and the Ph.D. in Criminology & Criminal Justice. Our PhD in Criminology & Criminal Justice is a sociological criminology program that highlights social inequality and public policy in the study of crime and justice issues. In addition, we are proposing an online MS Criminology program. The department has an accomplished, collaborative, and diverse faculty and student body committed to equality, social justice, and transformative policies and practices and the successful candidate will enrich this environment. Opportunities exist to participate in ODU’s Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity, Department of Women’s and Gender Studies, School of Cybersecurity, and School of Public Health. The surrounding 14 localities and their criminal justice and social service agencies offer tremendous opportunities for research and community engagement partnerships.

Minimum Qualifications:
1. Ph.D. in criminology, criminal justice, or sociology required; candidates who are ABD are expected to complete the degree by August 2024.
2. Able to teach existing on-campus and online courses in our undergraduate programs in Criminal Justice and in Sociology (including CRJS/SOC 436 Capstone Research Project) and in the Ph.D. program in Criminology & Criminal Justice (https://catalog.odu.edu/courses/crjs/, https://catalog.odu.edu/courses/crim/).
3. A demonstrated ability to conduct research, publish, and teach in criminology/criminal justice and/or sociology
4. A demonstrated commitment to promoting and enhancing diversity.

Preferred Qualification: Evidence of potential grant writing success.

How to Apply: To apply, submit the following documents to https://jobs.odu.edu/postings/19058:
1. Cover Letter,
2. CV,
3. Statement of Research Interests,
4. Statement of Teaching Philosophy,
5. Unofficial graduate transcripts, and
6. Contact information for three professional references.

Inquiries should be directed to Dr. Tracy Sohoni tsohoni@odu.edu. More information about the department is available at http://odu.edu/sociology.

It is the policy of Old Dominion University to provide equal employment, educational and social opportunities for all persons, without regard to race (or traits historically associated with race including hair texture, hair type, and protective hairstyles such as braids, locks, and twists), color, religion, sex or gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions), national origin, gender identity or expression, age, veteran status, disability, political affiliation, sexual orientation or genetic information. Individuals from minoritized communities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Employer Description:
Old Dominion University is a residential and R1 very high research activity public institution with a student enrollment of 24,000, one-half of whom are students of color and one-quarter are military affiliated, with nearly 5,000 graduate students, and a diverse and multicultural faculty. ODU is a national leader in supporting social mobility in higher education, helping underrepresented students succeed, and serving the community: among the top 10% of U.S. colleges and universities in the 2019 Social Mobility Index (CollegesNET, the top 15% in the nation for overall diversity (College Factual), the top 5 in the country and top 60 in the world for reducing inequality (Times Higher Education), and a 2020 Carnegie Foundation Community Engagement classification recipient. The university's main campus is in Norfolk, one of the seven cities that make up the historic Hampton Roads region of Virginia, a major recreational area with a population of 1.8 million near the Atlantic Ocean and Chesapeake Bay.

Contact: Dr. Tracy Sohoni
Email: tsohoni@odu.edu
Phone: 7578636895
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
1. Age? Yes
2. National Origin? Yes
3. Race? Yes
4. Religion? Yes
5. Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19586: Anschutz Distinguished Fellow in American Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 12/10/2023

Institution: Princeton University
Department: Effron Center for the Study of America
Region: North
Title: Anschutz Distinguished Fellow in American Studies

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All, Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

Submission Link: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/31402

Job Description:
The Anschutz Distinguished Fellowship, created through an endowment by the Anschutz family, will be awarded in the academic year 2024-25 to a distinguished writer, critic, jour...

To apply, please visit https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/31402 and submit the following materials by no later than 11:59pm EST on December 1, 2023: A cover let
For additional information, please see our website, https://ams.princeton.edu/, or call (609) 258-4710.

Employer Description:
The Effron Center for the Study of America at Princeton University works to fulfill Princeton's institutional vision - in the nation's service and the service of humanity - by offering cu

Contact: Ms. Jordan Dixon
Email: effron-center@princeton.edu
Phone: 609-258-4710
Website: https://effroncenter.princeton.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
87. Princeton University

Job 19630: Fellows Program

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 11/9/2023
Institution: Princeton University
Department: Center for Information Technology Policy
Region: Northeast
Title: Fellows Program
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Communication and Information Technologies , Science and Technology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Center for Information Technology Policy (CITP) at Princeton University is a nexus of expertise in technology, engineering, public policy, and the social sciences. Our researchers work to better understand and improve the relationship between technology and society. The CITP Fellows Program is a competitive in-residence program that supports scholars and practitioners in research and policy work tied to the Center’s mission. CITP current research falls into the following three areas: Platforms and Digital Infrastructure; Data Science, AI and Society; and Privacy and Security. Fellows accepted into this program conduct research with members of the Center’s community — including faculty, scholars, and other fellows — across disciplines, and engage in our public programs, such as workshops and conferences.

We hire new fellows each year for the following three tracks:
- Postdoctoral track: for people who recently received a Ph.D.
- Visiting professional track: for academics and professionals (e.g., lawyers, journalists, technologists, former government officials, etc.)
- Microsoft Visiting Professor track: for academics

Applicants may apply for more than one track, and applications can be found here on the Princeton University hiring page. Click on the drop-down box that says, "Filter By Academic Unit" and click on "Center for Information Technology Policy" for the list of openings.

Completed applications are due by Friday, December 1, 2023 at 11:59 p.m. EST. This is the date that the CITP committee will begin reviewing applications. Applications that come in after that date will only be considered if a position has not already been filled. Contact information for three references must be included in the application materials. References will only be contacted if the candidate becomes a finalist.

Employer Description:
Princeton University
Contact: Center for Information Technology Policy
Email: citp@princeton.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19641: Associate Professor or Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 11/9/2023

Institution: Stanford University

Region: West

Title: Associate Professor or Professor

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Senior appointment in the Department of Sociology at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

The Department of Sociology at Stanford University seeks applicants for a senior appointment in the Department of Sociology at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. Applicants must have demonstrated a commitment to effective teaching and mentoring and the ability to maintain a world-class research program. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in a related field and will be expected to teach and advise students at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The term of appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2024.

Candidates should apply through the link below and submit:

• a cover letter
• curriculum vitae (including a publication list)
• a research and teaching statement (no more than three single-spaced pages)
• a brief (no more than 300 words) summary of their research program

The Sociology Department, School of Humanities and Sciences, and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research or teaching statements, a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals. Additional information about Stanford’s IDEAL initiative may be found here: https://ideal.stanford.edu/about-ideal/diversity-statement

The salary range for this position is $151,168 – $298,338, for 2023-24.

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the qualifications of the selected candidate, budget availability, and internal equity.

Further information about Stanford’s Department of Sociology may be found at sociology.stanford.edu. Inquiries may be directed to Edwin Mendoza, Faculty Affairs Administrator, edwinm1@stanford.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2023; later applications may be considered at the discretion of the search committee.

Employer Description:

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University’s research, teaching, and clinical missions.

Contact: Edwin Mendoza
Email: edwinm1@stanford.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
89. Tulane University

Job 19646: Mid-Career Fellowship

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 12/9/2023
Institution: Tulane University
Department: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research
Region: South
Title: Mid-Career Fellowship
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Political Sociology, Political Economy
Salary Range: $30,000 - $39,999
Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/133082

Job Description:
The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) at Tulane University seeks visiting research fellows for the 2024-2025 academic year. The Center supports empirical research in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, and the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs.

Fellows will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of their disciplinary department, CIPR, and the Stone Center for Latin American Studies. They are expected to participate in weekly CIPR seminars and workshops, as well as lectures, conferences, and other events organized by the Center. Fellows will collaborate with resident faculty and students on projects of mutual interest in addition to developing their independent research agendas on related topics, as well as mentor junior colleagues at the Center when possible.

Fellowships are for one or two semesters depending on applicant preferences; however, the stipend is $37,000 plus benefits regardless of the duration. Applicants are requested to indicate the period of their preference. Fellows may also obtain funding from their own academic institutions, outside foundations or personal resources. Round-trip travel expenses of up to $3,000 are also supported. Foreign applicants will need to obtain separate health insurance coverage.

Applications must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting apply.interfolio.com/133082 and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests, fit to the program, and intended research plan to be developed at CIPR if selected. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Peoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2023.

Employer Description:
Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Contact: Ms. Sefira Fialkoff
Email:
Phone:
Website: cipr.tulane.edu

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? No
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19648: Instructional Professor in Human Rights (Open Rank)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/10/2023 to 11/9/2023
Institution: University of Chicago
Department: Pozen Center for Human Rights
Region: Midwest
Title: Instructional Professor in Human Rights (Open Rank)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Instructor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The University of Chicago's Social Sciences Collegiate Division are seeking applications for the position of Instructional Professor (IP) (Open Rank) in Human Rights. This full-time, renewable position will begin on September 1, 2024, with an initial term of at least three years. The successful candidate will be an instructor with expertise in human rights who will contribute to the Pozen Family Center for Human Rights undergraduate curriculum.

The Instructional Professor in Human Rights will be responsible for teaching six courses per year, including an introductory course "Global Challenges to Human Rights," as well as other courses in their area of specialization. They will support the Center's new human rights major, which examines the theory and practice of human rights through interdisciplinary inquiry, experiential learning, and capstone research or practice-based projects.

The successful candidate will complement the teaching specialties of the Pozen Center and have a focus on one or more of the following issues: climate justice, technology and human rights, social movements, legal pluralism, race, ethnicity, indigeneity, gender, sexuality, and decolonizing human rights.

Additionally, the IP will work with fellow Pozen faculty members to plan co-curricular events for the major, support student-led projects, advise BA essays, and participate in the intellectual life of the Pozen Family Center for Human Rights.

To learn more about the Pozen Center and its initiatives, please visit https://humanrights.uchicago.edu.

Qualifications

The position requires a Ph.D. in a social sciences or humanities discipline with a focus on human rights. Teaching experience and a record of scholarship or creative work are also required.

Application Instructions

Applicants must submit their application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio jobs board at http://apply.interfolio.com/127803 and upload the following:

- letter of application describing your academic interests and teaching background;
- curriculum vitae;
- syllabi of courses previously taught and/or designed by the candidate or sample syllabi of proposed courses
- teaching statement (which should include information about the candidate’s teaching and mentoring activities, teaching philosophy and goals, and should also, where possible, include a description of the candidate’s experience in teaching and mentoring students and in fostering ability to undertake research; the teaching statement may also include relevant experience in teaching and mentoring students from a diversity of backgrounds, if applicable); evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as course evaluations or a performance review;
- a chapter-length piece of writing.

Short-listed candidates will be contacted and asked to provide three letters of recommendation.

Applications will begin on November 10, 2023, and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

Terms and conditions of employment for this position are covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and the University.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.
The Social Sciences Collegiate Division (SSCD) is home to the undergraduate curriculum in the social sciences. Our 16 programs immerse students in the full range of social scientific inquiry, exploring the conceptual frameworks, theories, and methodologies essential to understanding the economic, political, cultural, and psychological phenomena by which human communities organize themselves. This encounter with foundational concepts is defined by an open and critical exchange of ideas, the practice of careful reading, precise writing, and engaging debate.

Contact: Alex Bean
Email: bean@uchicago.edu
Phone: 773-702-8622
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19643: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
91. University of Michigan

Job Description:
The Population Studies Center (PSC) at the University of Michigan is currently accepting applications for two Postdoctoral Research Fellowship openings, beginning on or about September 1, 2024. One of the available fellowships will be sponsored by the National Institute on Aging (NIA) and the other will be sponsored by the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD). Fellows devote most of their time to independent research. Positions offer exceptional opportunity for collaboration at the Institute for Social Research on major projects in the U.S. and overseas. Our NIH supported fellowships provide health insurance, childcare support and stipends to support living expenses. Stipend will be commensurate with experience, based on levels mandated by NIH. The term of fellowship appointment will be for two years, contingent on continued funding. Fellows are expected to work primarily on-site. We are interested in reviewing applications from a pool of highly talented scientists from diverse backgrounds including applicants from underrepresented backgrounds, persons with a disability, or individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, public health, public policy, or one of the social sciences (e.g., sociology, economics, psychology) by the starting date. Selection will be based on scholarly potential and compatibility with the interests of a faculty mentor. When considering applicants we will take into consideration current NIH guidelines with respect to the scope of population studies research supported by NICHD, NIA, and the NIH priorities for Health Economics Research. The application window is September 1, 2023 – December 1, 2023. Applications are accepted through Interfolio. Please visit the Population Studies Center website for complete application requirements.

Employer Description:
The Population Studies Center (PSC) is located within the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan - Ann Arbor. The Population Studies Center has a vibrant interdisciplinary group of postdoctoral fellows. Our fellows benefit from fruitful relationships with PSC faculty mentors and programming designed to provide training in population science perspectives and methods, exposure to interdisciplinary scholarship, and continued development of scholarly independence. Our postdoctoral fellows have been very productive in the program, have found excellent positions, and have built successful careers after their training at Michigan. The University of Michigan seeks to recruit diverse postdoctoral fellows as a reflection of our commitment to serve the diverse people of Michigan, to maintain the excellence of the university, and to ground our research in varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. The University of Michigan is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Contact:
Miriam Rahl
Email: pscpostdoctoralrecruitment@umich.edu
Phone:
Website: https://psc.isr.umich.edu/training/postdoctoral/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19639: Assistant Professor in Africana and Latin American Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023

Institution: Colgate University
Department: Dept of Africana and Latin American Studies
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor in Africana and Latin American Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Latina/o Sociology
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999
Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Africana and Latin American Studies Program at Colgate University invites applications for a tenure-stream position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning fall semester 2024. We seek an interdisciplinary candidate whose work focuses on transoceanic and/or circum-Atlantic topics within the broader field of Black and Latinx Studies. Fields of specialization are flexible; they could include but are not limited to: Afro diasporic practices of healing and medicine; cultural and racial impacts of climate change; non-metropolitan migrations or digital diasporas; racialized geographies of resistance and (un)belonging; activism, artivism, and political change in transregional contexts. Scholars who employ interdisciplinary, transnational, comparative, diasporic, decolonial, feminist, and/or queer approaches are encouraged to apply. Completion of a Ph.D. is required prior to or shortly after the date of hire.

While we welcome a range of areas of expertise, we are especially interested in scholars who can contribute in robust and innovative ways to our newly revised major, Africana and Latin American Studies at Colgate has developed beyond its former geographically oriented tracks of study (African American, Latin American and Caribbean Studies) to an interconnected interdisciplinary and dynamic program of study that centers Black, Latinx, and diasporic experiences, historical and ongoing structures of colonialism, and projects of resistance within these contexts. We seek a scholar-teacher who, through their area(s) of expertise, can inspire students to explore a wide range of intellectual and cultural interests as part of our program.

Full-time faculty at Colgate teach five courses a year (or their equivalent). The successful candidate will teach both introductory and advanced undergraduate electives in their area(s) of expertise, as well as the required introductory course and research seminar for the Africana and Latin American Studies major. Colgate faculty are committed to excellence in both teaching and scholarship, and all faculty are expected to participate in all-university programs, including the Liberal Arts Core Curriculum.

We invite applicants to submit a cover letter (2-3 pages), a CV, and the names and email addresses of three references willing to write letters on their behalf through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/1335777. A candidate’s cover letter should outline their scholarly work and their approach to teaching. At a later stage of the review process, candidates shortlisted for campus visits will be asked to submit a writing sample of up to 30 pages (double-spaced) in length. Colgate strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities, and candidates may want to review Colgate’s key goals in this area. In their cover letter, candidates must also describe how their approach to teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and/or community service might support the university’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Review of applications will begin on October 30, 2023 and continue until the position is filled.

Colgate is a vibrant liberal arts university of 3200 students located in central New York state that sits on the traditional lands of the Onyota’a:ká, known as the People of the Upright Stone and Oneida Indian Nation of New York. Further information about the Africana and Latin American Studies Program can be found on this page.

Applicants with dual-career considerations can find postings of other employment opportunities at Colgate and at other institutions of higher education in upstate New York here.

It is the policy of Colgate University not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of their race, color, creed, religion, age, sex, pregnancy, national origin, marital status, disability, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, being or having been victims of domestic violence and stalking, familial status, or any other categories covered by law. Colgate University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, women, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Employer Description:

Contact: Pascal Dafinis
Email: paf@colgate.edu
Phone: (315) 228-7763
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

SPOUSES of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
93. Columbia World Projects

Job 19632: Postdoctoral Research Scholar - Firms and Industrial Policy

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023

Institution: Columbia World Projects
Department: Columbia Center for Political Economy
Region: Northeast

Title: Postdoctoral Research Scholar - Firms and Industrial Policy
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Political Economy, Political Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: politicaleconomy@columbia.edu

Job Description:

About the Columbia Center for Political Economy

The newly formed Columbia Center for Political Economy at Columbia World Projects promotes a new political economy with robust philosophical underpinnings and a cross-disciplinary orientation that connects economics to history, law, political science, sociology, public health, engineering, data science, and other fields. At the core of its work, the Center is developing “idea labs.” Designed to develop, support, and advance fresh thinking, shape research agendas, affect graduate training, and serve as intellectual and policy incubators, the idea labs will be undergirded by an explicit focus on power, inequality, and uncertainty.

This Postdoctoral Research Scholar will be embedded in the idea lab on “Firms and Industrial Policy,” which develops new intellectual frameworks for understanding firm behavior, providing the basis for policies to promote shared prosperity. Industrial policy – government interventions to stimulate innovation, accelerate technological change, and promote selected industries – is back on mainstream policy agendas in the U.S., Europe, and many developing countries. But even as the policy pendulum swings back toward government intervention, the knowledge base to guide industrial policy remains underdeveloped. Work in the Lab will aim to strengthen this knowledge base and provide the groundwork for policy interventions that stimulate growth, promote innovation, and ensure that the gains are shared broadly. The Firms and Industrial Policy Idea Lab will be an interdisciplinary and collaborative space. We are soliciting applicants whose research agendas intersect these themes, and who have the desire and capacity to converse across disciplines.

Position Summary

The Columbia Center for Political Economy is seeking a full-time Postdoctoral Research Scholar. This is a one-year position (one additional year may be possible) with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2024. Under the direction of the Center’s faculty co-directors and advisory board, the Scholar will have the opportunity to pursue their own research while supporting the work of the Center. The Center is part of Columbia World Projects at Columbia University.

Funding for the Postdoctoral Research Scholar will cover salary for up to one academic year. The scholar will commit to jointly organize seminars and conferences, public events, and additional programmatic support and outreach.

The salary range for this position is $64,000 to $84,000.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD, JD, JSD, or equivalent from across the social sciences, history, and law.

Key Deadlines:

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. All application materials must be received no later than December 1, 2023 5:00PM EST.

Award announcements are expected to be made in February 2024, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2024.

Application

Interested applicants should submit the following materials to politicaleconomy@columbia.edu using the subject line structure: First Name_Last Name_CPE Postdoc Application. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

1. Cover Letter;
2. Curriculum Vitae;
3. Writing sample consisting of a single journal article, essay, or book chapter (published or unpublished);
4. A detailed research plan (around two pages single-spaced) for the position stating specific goals to be accomplished during the period it will be held; and
5. Letters of references from three faculty members (including your doctoral supervisor, if applicable).

Please reach out to politicaleconomy@columbia.edu with any questions.

Employer Description:

Columbia World Projects (CWP) is a university-wide initiative that aims to forge closer and more useful connections between Columbia University’s research capabilities and the needs of the world by mobilizing researchers and scholars in collaboration with governments, organizations, businesses, and communities to tackle critical global challenges.
Contact: Madeline Neighly
Email: politicaleconomy@columbia.edu
Phone:
Website: https://worldprojects.columbia.edu/opportunities

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
94. Columbia World Projects

Job 19633: Postdoctoral Research Scholar - Money and Finance Idea Lab

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023
Institution: Columbia World Projects
Department: Columbia Center for Political Economy
Region: Northeast
Title: Postdoctoral Research Scholar - Money and Finance Idea Lab
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Political Economy, Political Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: politicaleconomy@columbia.edu

Job Description:

About the Columbia Center for Political Economy

The newly formed Columbia Center for Political Economy at Columbia World Projects promotes a new political economy with robust philosophical underpinnings and a cross-disciplinary orientation that connects economics to history, law, political science, sociology, public health, engineering, data science, and other fields. At the core of its work, the Center is developing “idea labs.” Designed to develop, support, and advance fresh thinking, shape research agendas, affect graduate training, and serve as intellectual and policy incubators, the idea labs will be undergirded by an explicit focus on power, inequality, and uncertainty.

This Postdoctoral Research Scholar will be embedded in the idea lab on “Money and Finance,” which explores the relation of money and finance both in theoretical terms and in institutional configurations, including the design of financial instruments as well as the policy instruments employed by central banks, but also the design of financial intermediaries and their relation to central banks and financial market regulators. The deeply imbricated institutional relation of money and finance has important implications for political economy. Topics may include the future of central banking, the rise of digital money systems, the role of money and finance in climate change as accelerator or mitigator, the impact of large asset managers on financial systems, as well as the search for alternative forms for financing R&D, land preservation, and social protection.

Position Summary

The Columbia Center for Political Economy is seeking a full-time Postdoctoral Research Scholar. This is a one-year position (one additional year may be possible) with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2024. Under the direction of the Center’s faculty co-directors, particularly Katharina Pistor who co-leads the Money and Finance Idea Lab, the Scholar will have the opportunity to pursue their own research while supporting the work of the Center. The Center is part of Columbia World Projects at Columbia University.

Funding for the Postdoctoral Research Scholar will cover salary for up to one academic year. The scholar will commit to jointly organize seminars and conferences, public events, and additional programmatic support and outreach.

The salary range for this position is $64,000 to $84,000.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD, JD, JSD, or equivalent from across the social sciences, history, and law.

Key Deadlines:

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. All application materials must be received no later than December 1, 2023 5:00PM EST. Award announcements are expected to be made in February 2024, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2024.

Application

Interested applicants should submit the following materials to politicaleconomy@columbia.edu using the subject line structure: First Name_Last Name_CPE Postdoc Application. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

1. Cover Letter describing your interest and relevant experience;
2. Curriculum Vitae;
3. Writing sample consisting of a single journal article, essay, or book chapter (published or unpublished);
4. A summary of the research plan for which the position is sought (limited to 350 words);
5. A detailed research plan (up to five pages, single-spaced) for the position stating specific goals to be accomplished during the period it will be held; and
6. Contact information for three references familiar with your work (including your doctoral supervisor, if applicable, or other professor).

Please reach out to politicaleconomy@columbia.edu with any questions.

Employer Description:

Columbia World Projects (CWP) is a university-wide initiative that aims to forge closer and more useful connections between Columbia University's research capabilities and the needs of the world by mobilizing researchers and scholars in collaboration with governments, organizations, businesses, and communities to tackle critical global challenges.

Contact: Madeline Neighly
Email: politicaleconomy@columbia.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19636: Assistant Professor in Black Cultural Studies

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 12/5/2023
Institution: New York University Arts and Science
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor in Black Cultural Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Cultural Sociology , Latina/o Sociology

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
Assistant Professor in Black Cultural Studies
Department of Social and Cultural Analysis
New York University Arts & Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in Black Cultural Studies. We are particularly interested in applicants whose work focuses on the Caribbean or the African continent and its diasporas, and whose research and teaching take an interdisciplinary and comparative approach.

This position is part of a multi-departmental cluster hire in “Black Diaspora Cultural Studies,” which includes the Arts and Science departments of Art History, History and Music. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars at NYU working across a range of disciplines. More information about this cluster can be found here, along with background on NYU’s broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is an interdisciplinary department committed to developing innovative approaches in urbanism, migration, diaspora, critical race, ethnic and indigenous studies, gender and sexuality, art, culture, politics, and economic life. The Department has degree programs in Africana Studies, American Studies, Asian/Pacific/American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latinx Studies, Urban Studies, and Social and Cultural Analysis. The department encourages innovative teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Candidates should submit the following materials via this Interfolio link http://apply.interfolio.com/132712

Letter of application
Curriculum vitae
Writing sample of 20-25 pages
Three confidential letters of recommendation

Your letter of application should focus on the contributions your research makes to the field and to the department. You may also address how your work in the university, such as classroom teaching, has contributed toward equity and inclusion.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on November 10, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions about the position please consult the NYU Department of Social and Cultural Analysis website: http://sca.as.nyu.edu, referring to the homepage link “Employment Opportunities.” For questions not answered here please contact the Assistant to the SCA Department Chair, Marty Correia at mc2828@nyu.edu.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2024, pending administrative and budgetary approval. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by September 1, 2024.

In compliance with NYC’s Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary range for this position is $85,000 - $135,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate’s work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
Arts & Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber, who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis.

NYU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the Arts & Science commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, visit https://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html.

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Employer Description:
Contact: NYU Department of Social and Cultural Analysis
Email:
Phone:
Website: https://apply.interfolio.com/132712

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

Job 19625: Clinical Assistant Professor - African Cultures

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 12/5/2023
Institution: New York University Arts and Science
Department: Liberal Studies
Region: Northeast
Title: Clinical Assistant Professor - African Cultures
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Cultural Sociology
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/131853
Job Description:
Clinical Assistant Professor - African Cultures
Liberal Studies
New York University Arts & Science

Liberal Studies at New York University invites applications for a Clinical Assistant Professor position to begin September 1, 2024, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

The Liberal Studies Core is a dynamic liberal arts curriculum that provides a global and interdisciplinary foundation for nearly 100 NYU majors. The Global Liberal Studies Bachelor of Arts is an innovative global studies major grounded in the spatial, conceptual, and temporal understandings of a highly interconnected world, with a program of study that is distinguished by experiential learning, study away, and independent research focused in an interdisciplinary concentration. In both the LS Core and the GLS major, small, seminar-style classes and close faculty-student interaction provide students with the benefits of a liberal arts college within a large urban research university. We are especially interested in hiring qualified candidates who can contribute their research, teaching and service to the diversity and excellence of Liberal Studies and NYU.

We seek applicants for the following position:

AFRICAN CULTURES
PhD in the humanities or social sciences with a focus on the study of African cultures from a transnational, comparative, and regionally specific perspective. Candidates must have the ability to teach a broad, introductory undergraduate African Cultures course with a global, interdisciplinary, and intercultural emphasis. They may also be called upon to teach a course in Liberal Studies’ tripartite “Arts and Cultures” or “Global Works and Society” sequences. In that capacity, they would be tasked with decentering those courses beyond traditional euro-centric texts and working collaboratively with colleagues interested in integrating African texts, ideas and cultural expressions into their curriculum. Candidates are also expected to develop seminars in their area of specialization for the Global Liberal Studies Degree program. We encourage applications from scholars whose work takes an innovative approach to area studies, oceanic and/or contact zones, and the critical study of cultural production. Applicants who focus on transcultural exchange and who combine historical methodologies with an interest in larger theoretical frameworks (such as postcolonial and/or decolonial theory) are especially encouraged to apply.

All Liberal Studies full-time faculty hold renewable term contracts, initially three years, and later six years in duration. Faculty are eligible for promotion within the Clinical faculty ranks (Assistant, Associate, Full). Faculty normally teach three classes per semester, advise undergraduates, and contribute service to Liberal Studies and to the University.

In compliance with NYC’s Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary range for this position is $70,000 - $80,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate’s work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Qualifications
Minimum qualifications: PhD by the date of appointment; three years of college-level teaching experience; and demonstrated excellence in teaching. We are especially interested in qualified candidates who share Liberal Studies’ commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and who can contribute to the diversity of intellectual life in LS and NYU. Candidates must present demonstrated experience and commitment to interdisciplinarity, intersectionality, and a teaching approach informed by global perspectives. Publications and evidence of outstanding scholarship and relevant professional activity are strongly encouraged.

Application Instructions
Applications include ONLY (1) a cover letter, (2) a current CV, and (3) a Diversity and Inclusion Statement addressing past and/or potential future contributions to diversity through teaching, professional activity, and/or service. (Additional information can be found here: http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html). Complete applications must be recorded by 11:59 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (US), November 1st, 2023. Applications recorded after this deadline will not be considered.

Applicants may apply directly through the following link: apply.interfolio.com/131853

Liberal Studies seeks diversity, equity and inclusion and belonging as essential to education and the development of leadership in a globally interconnected world. These values inform LS as a collegial and respectful environment for students, faculty and staff—with particular attention to improving the student experience. Liberal Studies strongly encourages applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. To learn more about the Liberal Studies commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion please read here: https://liberalstudies.nyu.edu/content/nuv-as/liberalstudies/student-life/diversity-equity-inclusion.html

NYU affirms the values of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the Arts & Culture commitment to diversity, equality, and inclusion, please read here: http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Employer Description:
Contact: NYU Liberal Studies
Email:
Phone:
Website: apply.interfolio.com/131853

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes

Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19626: Clinical Assistant Professor - South Asian Cultures

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 12/5/2023

Institution: New York University Arts and Science

Department: Liberal Studies

Region: Northeast

Title: Clinical Assistant Professor - South Asian Cultures

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: South Asian Studies, Cultural Sociology

Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/131847

Job Description:

Clinical Assistant Professor - South Asian Cultures

New York University Arts & Science

Liberal Studies at New York University invites applications for a Clinical Assistant Professor position to begin September 1, 2024, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

The Liberal Studies Core is a dynamic liberal arts curriculum that provides a global and interdisciplinary foundation for nearly 100 NYU majors. The Global Liberal Studies Bachelor of Arts is an innovative global studies major grounded in the spatial, conceptual, and temporal understandings of a highly interconnected world, with a program of study that is distinguished by experiential learning, study away, and independent research focused in an interdisciplinary concentration. In both the LS Core and the GLS major, small, seminar-style classes and close faculty-student interaction provide students with the benefits of a liberal arts college within a large urban research university. We are especially interested in hiring qualified candidates who can contribute their research, teaching and service to the diversity and excellence of Liberal Studies and NYU.

We seek applicants for the following position:

SOUTH ASIAN CULTURES

PhD in South Asian Studies, or Politics, History, Sociology, Anthropology, or Comparative Literature with a focus on South Asia. Candidates must have the ability to teach a broad, introductory undergraduate South Asian Cultures course. They may also be called upon to teach a course in Liberal Studies’ tripartite “Arts and Cultures” or “Global Works and Society” sequences. In that capacity, they would be tasked with decentering those courses beyond euro-centric texts and working collaboratively with colleagues interested in integrating South Asian texts, music or cultural expressions into their curriculum. The successful candidate will also have an opportunity to develop seminars in their areas of specialization for the Global Liberal Studies degree program. Applicants who focus on transcultural exchange and transregional contacts, particularly in relation to the Indian Ocean, and who have an interest in larger theoretical frameworks (such as postcolonial and/or decolonial theory) are encouraged to apply.

All Liberal Studies full-time faculty hold renewable term contracts, initially three years, and later six years in duration. Faculty are eligible for promotion within the Clinical faculty ranks (Assistant, Associate, Full). Faculty normally teach three classes per semester, advise undergraduates, and contribute service to Liberal Studies and to the University.

In compliance with NYC’s Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary range for this position is $70,000 - $80,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate’s work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Qualifications

Minimum qualifications: PhD by the date of appointment; three years of college-level teaching experience; and demonstrated excellence in teaching. We are especially interested in qualified candidates who share Liberal Studies’ commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and who can contribute to the diversity of intellectual life in LS and NYU. Candidates must present demonstrated experience and commitment to interdisciplinarity, intersectionality, and a teaching approach informed by global perspectives. Publications and evidence of outstanding scholarship and relevant professional activity are strongly encouraged.

Application Instructions

Applications include ONLY (1) a cover letter, (2) a current CV, and (3) a Diversity and Inclusion Statement addressing past and/or potential future contributions to diversity through teaching, professional activity, and/or service. (Additional information can be found here http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html). Complete applications must be recorded by 11:59 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (US), November 1st, 2023. Applications recorded after this deadline will not be considered.

Applicants may apply directly through the following link: apply.interfolio.com/131847

Liberal Studies sees diversity, equity and inclusion and belonging as essential to education and the development of leadership in a globally interconnected world. These values inform LS as a collegial and respectful environment for students, faculty and staff—with particular attention to improving the student experience. Liberal Studies strongly encourages applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. To learn more about the Liberal Studies commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion please read here: https://liberalstudies.nyu.edu/content/nyu-as/liberalstudies/student-life/diversity-equity-inclusion.html

NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the Arts & Science commitment to diversity, equality, and inclusion, please read here: http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Employer Description:

Contact: NYU Liberal Studies

Email:

Phone:

Website: apply.interfolio.com/131847

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
SPOUSES OF EMPLOYEES? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19634: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023

Institution: Regis University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Social Welfare/Social Work , Sociological Practice
Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

The Department of Anthropology, Sociology & Criminal Justice at Regis University (Denver) is seeking an Assistant Professor of Sociology and/or Social Work to apply for a full-time (9 month), tenure-track, assistant professor position.

Major Duties and Responsibilities:

The Department of Anthropology, Sociology, and Criminal Justice is part of Regis College, the traditional undergraduate small liberal arts college of Regis University that serves approximately 2000 traditional undergraduate students (~50% students of color; ~26% first-generation college students, and most are 18-21 years old). Classes are small, in person/on campus, and interdisciplinary collaboration is common. We are a Jesuit college dedicated to free exploration of ideas and our mission to build "...a more just and humane world through transformative education." The University has a strong moral commitment to the principles of nondiscrimination: "Regis University does not unlawfully discriminate in either the provision of educational services or in employment practices on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, creed, ancestry, gender, age, marital status, sexual orientation, military or veteran status, physical or mental disability, or any other characteristic protected by local, state, or federal law."

Duties:

- Desired (but not required) expertise and interest includes Latiné/x communities, immigration, and quantitative methodology.
- Teaching load is 3/3 with expectations of research, service, and student advising/mentoring.
- Faculty also frequently teach in the Core and cross-list some courses with the Racial Justice minor, Peace and Justice Studies, Environmental Studies, and/or Women's and Gender Studies.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in Sociology or Social Work by 1 August 2024 (start date);
- Evidence of teaching excellence;
- Demonstrated commitment to inclusive pedagogy, diversity, and equity;
- Demonstrated commitment to effective mentoring, especially for students of color and first-generation students; Plans to maintain an active research program, often with undergraduate students.

Application: Electronically submit to ruworks.regis.edu:
(1) a letter of application (cover letter) summarizing your interest and qualifications;
(2) a curriculum vitae;
(3) a document showing evidence of teaching excellence (example content: comprehensive teaching evaluations, teaching philosophy, syllabus, etc.).

Additional documents may be requested of semifinalists. The position will remain open until filled, though submitting your application by October 16, 2023 will ensure full consideration. Address questions to Dr. Jude Fokwang, Search Committee Chair, at jfokwang@regis.edu.

Employer Description:
As Regis employees, we embrace our Jesuit Catholic values of respect, inclusion and equity, and welcome employees, faculty and students from all faiths and cultures. Together, we perform our duties in alignment with the mission of the University and seek dedicated individuals to contribute to and strengthen that mission and our service to students.

Take a moment to consider our Total Rewards package:
- A generous tuition benefit for employees, spouses, and dependents
- Paid Mission leave to give employees time to volunteer in the community
- Options for flexible work
- Additional time off each year when the University closes for Winter Break
- Medical, dental, and vision insurance

Contact: Jude Fokwang
Email: jfokwang@regis.edu
Phone: (303) 458-3551
Website: www.regis.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
99. Stonehill College

Job 19637: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023
Institution: Stonehill College
Department: Department of Sociology and Criminology
Region: Northeast
Title: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://jobs.stonehill.edu/postings/24168

Job Description:

Founded by the Congregation of Holy Cross in 1948, Stonehill is a private Catholic college located just 22 miles from downtown Boston on a beautiful 384-acre campus in Easton, Massachusetts. With a student-to-faculty ratio of 13:1, the College engages its 2,500+ students in 80+ rigorous academic programs in the liberal arts, sciences, and pre-professional fields.

Faithful to the Holy Cross tradition in education, Stonehill College is committed to developing the moral, spiritual, intellectual, physical, and social competencies of its students and seeks to build and sustain a campus community that embraces diversity and inclusion in its teaching, learning, living, and working. Stonehill values the diversity of persons, opinions, and cultural and religious perspectives. In fulfillment of its motto, Lux et Spes (“Light and Hope”), the College cultivates in its students the competence to think, act, and lead with courage toward creating a more just and compassionate world.

Equal Employment Opportunity shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, veteran status, disability, and/or ancestry. Stonehill College will adhere to the Federal Requirements of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Civil Rights Act of 1991, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and its amendments, the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, the Massachusetts Fair Employment Practice Law, and all other applicable State and Federal laws. The College is committed to providing a work environment that is free of discrimination. All employees and applicants will be treated fairly, equitably, and with courtesy. Stonehill College encourages diversity and welcomes individuals who will enrich the cultural and diverse experiences of the campus. In accordance with Massachusetts law, employees of Stonehill College are considered employees-at-will.

The Sociology and Anthropology Department and the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Social Justice at Stonehill College seek candidates for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Sociology position to begin in August 2024. We invite applicants whose expertise is in the sociology of race, racism, and racial inequalities in public health. This position is a cluster hire between the Sociology and Anthropology Department and the CRESJ. Launched in fall 2021, the Center is a new home for innovative and interdisciplinary teaching, research, and public dialogue at Stonehill College. With scholars trained to offer intersectional approaches to critical race and ethnic studies, CRESJ aims to be a vital force in educating the next generation of thought leaders, organizers, activists, and visionaries in the service of social justice.

This cluster hire should be foregrounded in “race, ethnicity, and social justice” in order to address justice broadly during these times of proliferating anti-Black racism; anti-Asian racism; ongoing indigenous dispossession and settler-colonialism; and widespread xenophobia, Islamophobia, ethnonational populism, and white supremacy. The successful candidate for this position would have a departmental home in Sociology and Anthropology and work with CRESJ to build a major and minor in race, ethnicity, and social justice. Through research partnerships, reading groups, and mentoring, CRESJ and partnering departments will support scholars from underrepresented backgrounds and communities of color.

Essential Duties & Responsibilities

We seek enthusiastic applicants who are committed to excellence in teaching, advising, and mentoring undergraduates, have a demonstrated awareness of the importance of diversity and social justice in education, and exemplify the teacher-scholar model with a clear understanding of how to integrate vibrant teaching, research, and student engagement. The teaching load for tenure-track faculty is 3 courses per semester. Successful candidates will be ready and able to teach key departmental classes such as Introduction to Sociology, Sociological Theories, Quantitative and Qualitative Research Methods. We are looking for candidates in the area of African American/Black Studies, Indigenous Studies, and/or Latinx Studies who have expertise on theories about racialization, racism, women of color feminisms, and intersectionality. Preference will be given to the candidates whose scholarship involves researching racial inequality in public health and how racism affects health and well-being in Black, Indigenous, Latinx, and/or immigrant communities. Candidates who are willing and able to teach Quantitative Research will be preferred.

Education & Experience

Applicants should have a completed Ph.D. in Sociology, Anthropology, or other relevant disciplines. ABD candidates will be considered based on experience and an approved plan to finish the degree by September 1st, 2024. Applicants are asked to complete the online application and also provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a teaching portfolio. The teaching portfolio should include evidence of teaching experience, course syllabi, and a statement of teaching philosophy. In your teaching philosophy statement, please explain how diversity and social justice are incorporated into your teaching materials and methods. Applicants are not required to provide an example of their scholarly work at this time. However, those who make it to the interview stage will be asked to submit a sample of their work. References will be requested before the time of a prospective interview. Submit the required documentation via the URL link:

https://jobs.stonehill.edu/postings/24168

Review of applications will begin November 6, 2023. Please email inquiries to Dr. Erica Tucker (etucker@stonehill.edu), Interim Chair of the Sociology and Anthropology Department, or Dr. Stan Thangaraj (sthangaraj@stonehill.edu), Director of the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Social Justice.

Applicants who will enrich the diversity of the campus community are strongly encouraged to apply. Stonehill College is an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity.

Employer Description:

Contact: Erica Tucker
Email: etucker@stonehill.edu
Phone:
Website:

https://jobs.stonehill.edu/postings/24168
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
100. University of Connecticut

Job 19640: Assistant Professor, Sociology (Quantitative Methods)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023

Institution: University of Connecticut
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor, Sociology (Quantitative Methods)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

INTRODUCTION

UConn's Department of Sociology in the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences seeks a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor with expertise in quantitative methods to be based at our fast-growing campus in Stamford, CT. The Stamford campus offers access to a diverse student body, a city environment, and proximity to New York City. The successful candidate would fulfill needs on the Stamford campus and also participate in UConn Sociology’s full department culture. They would teach quantitative methods courses required of all Sociology majors, as well as introductory and upper-level courses in the major, and mentor students interested in quantitative research. At Stamford, they would contribute to an emerging research cluster of faculty in the social sciences. They would also join a vibrant cluster of quantitative researchers within the Sociology department as a whole, including a group engaged with the University’s new data science program.

The successful candidate is expected to contribute to research and scholarship through high-quality publications in top-tier venues, externally funded research, and mentoring of students.

The successful candidate will teach four courses per year at the Stamford campus, including the required quantitative methods course, introductory-level classes, and advanced undergraduate courses in their area of interest. They may occasionally teach a graduate course in their area of interest at the Storrs campus in lieu of one Stamford course. Engagement in service and outreach activities will also be expected.

In the area of teaching, the successful candidate will share a deep commitment to effective instruction and mentoring for a diverse student population. Successful candidates will highlight a commitment to broaden participation among members of under-represented groups; demonstrate through their research, teaching, and/or public engagement multiple perspectives as the foundation of a rich learning experience; integrate diverse experiences into instructional methods and research tools; and/or provide leadership in developing pedagogical techniques designed to meet the needs of diverse populations and intellectual interests.

The Department of Sociology has 21 tenure-stream faculty members spread across the Storrs, Stamford, and Hartford campuses, and 32 graduate students based in Storrs. In our commitment as a public institution to serve diverse populations, we particularly welcome colleagues from underrepresented or minoritized communities.

UConn Stamford is an urban campus at the center of Fairfield County's robust non-profit and business community and approximately one hour from New York City by train. The campus serves 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students, including many first-generation college students. It offers 14 undergraduate majors, including psychology, human development and family sciences, communication, digital media and design, history, computer science, and English.

Founded in 1881, UConn is a Land Grant and Sea Grant institution and member of the Space Grant Consortium. It is the state's flagship institution of higher education and includes a main campus in Storrs, CT, four regional campuses throughout the state, and 13 Schools and Colleges, including a Law School in Hartford, and Medical and Dental Schools at the UConn Health campus in Farmington. The University has approximately 10,000 faculty and staff and 32,000 students, including nearly 24,000 undergraduates and over 8,000 graduate and professional students. UConn is a Carnegie Foundation R1 (highest research activity) institution, among the top 25 public universities in the nation. Through research, teaching, service, and outreach, UConn embraces diversity and cultivates leadership, integrity, and engaged citizenship in its students, faculty, staff, and alumni. UConn promotes the health and well-being of citizens by enhancing the social, economic, cultural, and natural environments of the state and beyond. The University serves as a beacon of academic and research excellence as well as a center for innovation and social service to communities. UConn is a leader in many scholarly, research, and innovation areas. Today, the path forward includes exciting opportunities and notable challenges. Record numbers of undergraduate applications and support for student success have enabled the University to become extraordinarily selective.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- Doctoral degree (or equivalent foreign degree) completed in sociology by the time of appointment.
- Teaching experience or demonstrated capacity to teach courses with documentation of a commitment to teaching.
- A strong record of scholarly productivity in the areas of specialization.
- The ability to contribute through research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the Department.
- Effective communication skills (both written and verbal).

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- Demonstrated history of or potential for external research funding.
- Experience teaching courses relevant to areas of specialization.
- Demonstrated experience and commitment to teaching and/or mentoring a diverse student population.
- Ability to engage productively with faculty across disciplines.

APPOINTMENT TERMS

This is a full-time, 9-month, tenure-track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2024. The successful candidate’s academic appointment will be at the Stamford campus. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

Employment of the successful candidate is contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check.

TO APPLY

Please apply online to Academic Jobs Online https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/26113 and submit the following application materials:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Research and scholarship statement (e.g., prior research findings and impact; future research plans)
- Teaching statement (e.g., teaching experience, mentoring experience, teaching philosophy, courses prepared to teach)
- Commitment to diversity statement (e.g., values around diversity, equity, and inclusion; diversity-related experience in teaching, research, and service; plans to continue to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion)
- Writing sample and any supporting materials
- Contact information for three (3) letters of reference. References will not be contacted without notification of the candidate.

Review of applications will begin November 6, 2023, and continue until the position is filled. For more information please visit the unit website: Sociology. For questions about this position, please contact the search committee chairs, Ruth Braunstein (ruth.braunstein@uconn.edu) and Ingrid Semaan (ingrid.semaan@uconn.edu).

At the University of Connecticut, our commitment to excellence is complemented by our commitment to building a culturally diverse community.

This position will be filled subject to budgetary approval.

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics, which may be found at http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp. All members of the University of Connecticut are expected to exhibit appreciation of, and contribute to, an inclusive, respectful, and diverse environment for the University community.

The University of Connecticut aspires to create a community built on collaboration and belonging and has actively sought to create an inclusive culture within the workforce. The success of the University is dependent on the willingness of our diverse employee and student populations to share their rich perspectives and backgrounds in a respectful manner. This makes it essential for each member of our community to feel secure and welcomed and to thoroughly understand and believe that their ideas are respected by all. We strongly respect each individual employee’s unique experiences and perspectives and encourage all members of the community to do the same. All applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, national origin, genetics, disability, age, or veteran status.

The University of Connecticut is an AA/EEO Employer.

Employer Description:

Contact: Ruth Braunstein or Ingrid Semaan
Email: sociology@uconn.edu
Phone: (860) 486-4416
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
101. University Of North Dakota

Job 19635: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 12/5/2023
Institution: University Of North Dakota
Department: Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency, Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Assistant Professor of Sociology

Grand Forks, North Dakota, United States

Full-time Faculty

Salary/Position Classification

- $69,000 - $72,000, 9-month contract, Tenure-track, Exempt
- 40 hours per week
- 100% Remote Work Availability: No
- Hybrid Work Availability: No

Purpose of Position

The Department of Sociology is seeking a tenure-track Assistant Professor specializing in health, deviance, or inequalities to begin August 16, 2024, contingent on availability of funding.

Duties & Responsibilities

The successful candidate will receive a competitive salary for teaching a 3/2 load. Courses will be a mix of face-to-face, online, and hybrid offerings at the undergraduate and graduate levels involving some combination of sociological theory, research methods, and statistics, and other courses related to the candidate’s specialty area(s).

The successful candidate will demonstrate the potential to establish a productive research agenda, seek external funding if appropriate, and contribute to the UND LEADS Strategic Plan through a commitment to strong teaching, community service, and meaningful scholarly activity. All faculty are expected to contribute to service within the department, college, university, and professional community. UND and the College of Arts & Sciences value diverse perspectives and seek applicants who are committed to helping students from underrepresented backgrounds succeed.

The University of North Dakota is supportive of dual-career assistance both within the University and the local community. Please contact UND’s Recruiting Manager, Hannah Whalen (Hannah.Whalen@UND.edu) to explore dual-career opportunities.

Required Competencies

- Excellent written and oral communication skills, including the ability to teach, inspire, and mentor students.
- Effective interpersonal skills, including the ability to collaborate effectively with faculty, staff, and students.
- Ability to work with and engage diverse students and colleagues within and outside the Department of Sociology.
- Ability to adapt to current methods of teaching, including online delivery.
- Ability to independently conduct sociological research and publish findings in reputable sources.
Minimum Requirements

- Ph.D. in Sociology by August 15, 2024.
- Successful completion of a Standard Criminal History Background Check

In compliance with federal law, all persons hired will be required to verify identity and eligibility to work in the US and to complete the required employment eligibility verification form upon hire.

Preferred Qualifications

- Track record of teaching, research, and education as a sociologist, emphasizing health, deviance, and/or inequalities.
- Demonstrated experience teaching undergraduate and/or graduate level courses.
- Experience teaching online courses.
- Experience with assessment of student learning.
- Potential for publishing original research.
- Potential for securing external funding to support scholarly research.

Contract Period/Start Date

Position is full-time, benefitted and exempt. Dates of initial contract are August 16, 2024 to May 15, 2025.

To Apply

To assure full consideration, applications must be received by December 1, 2024 and include the following materials:

- Letter of application
- Curriculum vitae
- List of at least three references (including contact information)
- Unofficial transcripts. Please note that the selected candidate will be required to submit official transcripts upon hire.
- Research statement
- Teaching statement

Position is open until filled.

Questions can be directed to the Department Chair, Dr. Krista Lynn Minnotte, at krista.minnotte@und.edu.

Please note, all employment postings close at 11:55pm CST.

Employer Description:

The Department of Sociology is housed in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Dakota. It offers a B.A. in Sociology and serves approximately 150 majors and minors. The department is in the process of revitalizing its Master’s program, which will be offered in an online format.

Established in 1883, the University of North Dakota is the oldest research university in North Dakota. It is the state’s flagship university and is classified by the Carnegie Foundation as having high research activity. Founded with a strong liberal arts foundation, UND has grown into a prominent scientific research university and was recently ranked among the top 100 public and top 25 most innovative universities in the country by U.S. News and World Report, and is widely regarded as among the top universities in the American Northern Plains region. UND offers degrees in more than 225 fields of study with nearly 14,000 students. It is the home of the state’s only School of Law. The School of Medicine has major initiatives in rural and public health, and Aerospace is home to one of the first and largest unmanned aerial vehicle programs in the world.

UND is located in Grand Forks, North Dakota, a vibrant college town of over 57,000 people located on the border of North Dakota and Minnesota. Short commutes, a great public school system, high quality medical facilities, low crime, ample parks and theaters, and a cost of living below that found in large American cities are some of Grand Forks’ advantages. Ranked as one of the top 5 Best Small College Towns, and America’s Best Hockey Town, Grand Forks offers stellar quality of life without the metropolitan hassles.

Contact: Krista Lynn Minnotte
Email: krista.minnotte@und.edu
Phone: 701.777.4419
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes

Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
102. University of Pittsburgh

Job 19638: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/6/2023 to 11/5/2023

Institution: University of Pittsburgh
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Assistant Professor of Sociology - Quantitative Methods: The Sociology Department at the University of Pittsburgh seeks a colleague qualified for a full-time, tenure-stream faculty appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in quantitative methods, pending budgetary approval. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or related Social Science discipline, present evidence of excellence in research, demonstrate potential for securing external funding, and show interest in teaching graduate courses in introductory and advanced quantitative methods. Substantive areas are open. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and pedagogy contribute to and expand existing departmental strengths, including in social movements, politics & culture; global, comparative, or area studies research; race, gender, sexualities, intersectionality, and other systems of inequality; and environment. The appointment will be tenure-track at the Assistant Professor level and will begin in the fall of 2024, pending budgetary approval. Review of applications will begin November 1 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants can apply online at Job Search (taleo.net) (requisition number 23007611). Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, a two-page description of research interests, one article-length sample of research writing, a two-page diversity statement, and names of three references. The diversity statement should include the candidate’s experience and plans to contribute to diversity in teaching and service activities. Please direct applicant inquiries to Professor Melanie M. Hughes, Search Committee Chair, hughesm@pitt.edu.

Employer Description:

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. EOE, including disability/vets. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

Contact: Nicole Troy
Email: socdept@pitt.edu
Phone: (412) 648-7580
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
103. Bryant University

Job 19631: Assistant Professor, Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/5/2023 to 12/4/2023

Institution: Bryant University
Department: Politics, Law, and Society
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor, Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: < a href='https://employment.bryant.edu/postings/3821' target='_blank'>https://employment.bryant.edu/postings/3821

Job Description:

The Department of Politics, Law and Society at Bryant University invites applicants for a tenure track position at the Assistant rank in the area of Sociology to begin August, 2024. Applications should be submitted by November 1 to assure consideration.

The Sociology faculty contribute to our major in Sociology and Anthropology, as well as concentrations and minors in Sociology. Courses also contribute to Bryant's general education program with a focus on social science, ethics, problem solving, and the UN Sustainability Goals.

Principal responsibilities of this position include:

- Teaching undergraduate courses including Principles in Sociology and upper-level courses.
- Helping to enhance the Sociology and Anthropology program and curriculum through developing and teaching new courses.
- Building ties to the community and working on issues with social impact.
- Advising students at all levels of the department's curriculum.
- Assisting students with research or other relevant projects.
- Developing and pursuing an active program of research resulting in peer-reviewed publications.
- Participating in appropriate service to the department, the college, and the university at large.

At the time of the appointment, candidates must:

- Have a doctoral degree in Sociology or a related field from an accredited university.
- Demonstrate evidence of a strong commitment to, and excellence in, teaching.
- Demonstrate the ability to develop a strong research program that will include peer-reviewed publications.

Certain requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate persons with disabilities.

Employer Description:

Throughout its more than 150 year history, Bryant University has earned a distinguished reputation for innovative academic programs and technology that are marketplace driven and highly attuned to the emerging needs of industry and society. Bryant's close-knit, student-centered community of scholars delivers challenging academic programs that integrate business and the arts and sciences, with an emphasis on real-world application and a global perspective. Abundant co-curricular opportunities, service learning programs, internships, and practicums allow students to put theory into practice while building character and leadership skills.

Bryant University is comprised of the College of Business, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the School of Health and Behavioral Sciences. Bryant's academic programs are distinguished by an integration of business and the arts and sciences with a global perspective.

Bryant is located on a 435 acre campus in Smithfield, RI, which is situated 15 minutes from Providence, RI, and 45 minutes from Boston, MA.

Contact: John Dietrich
Email:
Phone:
Website: https://employment.bryant.edu/postings/3821

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes

Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
  Spouses of Employees? Yes
  Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
  Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
104. Denison University

Job 19629: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: None
Listing Active: 10/5/2023 to 11/4/2023
Institution: Denison University
Department: Women's and Gender Studies
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology, Sex and Gender
Salary Range: Negotiable
Job Description:

Assistant Professor of Women's and Gender Studies, Denison University

Location: Granville, Ohio, USA
Position Type: Tenure-track Faculty

Position URL: https://apply.interfolio.com/130483

The Women's and Gender Studies Program at Denison University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in Women's and Gender Studies, beginning Fall 2024. Successful candidates are expected to be excellent teachers, maintain a productive, ongoing research agenda that results in scholarly publications, and contribute actively to the program and the college. We invite applications from a range of disciplines which engage in critical data and digital technologies, as scholars and practitioners in the area of critical data and digital technology studies bring particularized sets of disciplinary and interdisciplinary expertise. We are particularly interested in candidates who take an intersectional and/or transnational feminist approach to the fields of Global Health and/or Data Analytics. The successful candidate will possess expertise in social, cultural, economic, and/or political examinations of data and the digital world, as well as technical expertise in quantitative data analysis and problem solving.

Women’s and Gender Studies faculty routinely teach a combination of “core” courses at the introductory and advanced levels, plus electives at the intermediate/advanced levels each year. Faculty are additionally required to advise senior majors on their senior research projects. Denison’s teaching load is a 3/2 (5 courses per academic year). The candidate for this position is required to teach in the “core” curriculum at the introductory level, specifically Issues in Feminism, and at the advanced level, specifically either Feminist Research Methods or Feminist Theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who evidence strong potential to teach both of the advanced-level courses. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to regularly offer at least two distinct intermediate/advanced level elective courses in their area of specialization. The successful candidate is expected to develop and teach courses that reflect the WGST Program’s commitment to feminist pedagogy.

We strongly encourage applicants whose work and teaching practice could build curricular connections between the WGST Program and the university’s Global Health (GH) Program and/or Data Analytics (DA) Program. Of particular interest would be a cross-listed elective course that could contribute to an anticipated future WGST domain specialization within the DA Program. Information about the DA Program can be found at https://denison.edu/academics/data-analytics, and the GH Program can be found at https://denison.edu/academics/global-health.

Opportunities to contribute to additional interdisciplinary programs, like Digital Humanities (DH), are also possible. Information about the DH Program can be found at https://denison.edu/academics/digital-humanities/about.

Women’s and Gender Studies currently has three department faculty members with joint appointments (in Black Studies, International Studies, and Biology) and 12 faculty with affiliate appointments in Women’s and Gender Studies who come from all divisions of the college. The Women’s and Gender Studies Program offers both a major and a minor and forms a vibrant intellectual community of faculty and students. Information about our program, curriculum, and teaching mentorship can be found at https://denison.edu/academics/womens-gender-studies, https://denison.edu/academics/womens-gender-studies/degree-requirements, and https://denison.edu/academics/teaching-center. The Women’s and Gender Studies Program administers the Laura C. Harris Program, which sponsors major speakers and performers each year. For more information about the Laura C. Harris Program, see https://denison.edu/series/laura-c-harris.

Contributions to the life of the department, institution, and the larger community are an essential part of Denison’s mission. We anticipate our new colleague will regularly engage in service activities within these communities.

Denison is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2,300 students from across the nation and around the world. The college is located in the village of Granville, 30 minutes from Columbus, Ohio, the state capital, which hosts a wide range of cultural and artistic opportunities. Granville offers an excellent public school system and easy access to outdoor activities. Denison is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty and to providing a work and learning environment free from discrimination. A supportive environment for teacher-scholars who value both classroom and research excellence, Denison offers extensive support for its faculty, including competitive professional development funding, a one-semester research leave after a successful pre-tenure review, opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, and a range of workshops and mentoring programs to develop our strengths as teacher-scholars. Denison offers a competitive salary and a comprehensive benefits package, including tuition benefits to attend Denison or other affiliated colleges and a generous retirement contribution.

Qualifications

Candidates with a PhD are preferred, but we will consider applicants who are ABD status with an anticipated completion date of August 15, 2024 (ABD will be considered as Instructor until PhD is attained).

Application Instructions

Applications must be submitted online at http://apply.interfolio.com/130483. Applications received by October 21, 2023, will receive full consideration. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Application should include:

1) A letter of interest that states a candidate’s evidence of appropriate undergraduate teaching experience and strong research agenda. Applicants should address their capacity to contribute to Women’s and Gender Studies “core” course offerings, including an indication of their two proposed intermediate/advanced level elective courses in their area of specialization.

2) Curriculum Vitae

3) A transcript of all graduate work

4) A teaching statement that discusses the candidate’s teaching philosophy and specific approaches they have used or envision using to support a diverse student community and to expose students to a wide range of ideas and perspectives.

5) A list of three professional references and contact information (They will submit their letters of recommendation online.)
A sample course syllabus in a candidate's area of teaching, if available (optional)

Employer Description:
Denison is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2,300 students from across the nation and around the world. The college is located in the village of Granville, 30 minutes from Columbus, Ohio, the state capital, which hosts a wide range of cultural and artistic opportunities. Granville offers an excellent public school system and easy access to outdoor activities. Denison is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty and to providing a work and learning environment free from discrimination. A supportive environment for teacher-scholars who value both classroom and research excellence, Denison offers extensive support for its faculty, including competitive professional development funding, a one-semester research leave after a successful pre-tenure review, opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, and a range of workshops and mentoring programs to develop our strengths as teacher-scholars. Denison offers a competitive salary and a comprehensive benefits package, including tuition benefits to attend Denison or other affiliated colleges and a generous retirement contribution.

Contact: Dr. Clare Jen
Email: jenc@denison.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19628: Assistant Professor of Instruction

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/5/2023 to 11/4/2023

Institution: The University of Texas at Austin

Department: Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies

Region: Southwest

Title: Assistant Professor of Instruction

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other, Academic Positions: Instructor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas

Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999

Submission Link: https://apply.interfolio.com/133477

Job Description:

Description

The Department of Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, College of Liberal Arts, The University of Texas at Austin, invites applications for a professional-track Assistant Professor of Instruction. The field of doctoral research is open; we seek a talented teacher/mentor interested in a faculty position that does not carry research obligations. This is a non-tenured appointment subject to regular renewal, contingent on performance, available funding, and programmatic need. Although the initial term of appointment is for one year, this position is designed to be long-term and continuing, with eventual extension to multi-year contracts, themselves expected to be renewed on a continual basis. This is a full-time position with a teaching load of three courses per long semester (six courses per academic year). Job responsibilities will include independently designing approaches to regularly-offered requirements for our degree programs, such as:

- Introduction to Women's and Gender Studies
- Introduction to LGBTQ Studies
- Feminist Theories (undergrad and/or grad)
- Feminist Research Methods (undergrad and/or grad)
- Senior Seminar (topic of instructor’s choice)
- Writing Workshop (grad)

Service responsibilities may include serving as Graduate Advisor, Undergraduate Advisor, Honors Program Director, or committee work as needed by the department. Research, publication, creative practice, and other contributions to the University will be acknowledged and evaluated as part of Annual Review if desired, but are not required for this position. Specific teaching, service and other assignments will be negotiated and will vary with departmental needs and faculty interests.

DWGSS is a newly-approved department dedicated to research, teaching and learning about gender and sexuality, committed to intersectional, transnational, queer and feminist teaching and learning. Area of specialization is open, but areas of particular need and interest include:

- Climate and environment
- Science and technology studies
- Indigenous, Black, American-American and/or Latinx feminist, queer and trans studies
- Global feminisms, transnationalism, diaspora, migration
- Critical policy analysis, demography, quantitative research
- Popular culture, fine arts, sport, and performance
- Disability studies, health, and medicine, reproductive justice
- Religion, epistemologies, philosophy, critical theory
- Restorative justice, legal and violence studies
- Student and community-engaged research

The College of Liberal Arts also houses several successful departments and programs in related fields, including African and African Diaspora Studies, Mexican-American and Latino Studies, Native American and Indigenous Studies, Asian American Studies, Latin American Studies, the South Asia Institute, Russian and East European Studies, European Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, and East Asian Studies. WGSS works closely with these and other units, especially through the GRIDS (Gender, Race, Indigeneity, Disability, Sexuality) Studies group and RIM (Race, Indigeneity and Migration) undergraduate major. The University of Texas at Austin is the top-ranked Research-1 public universities in the country, located in the lively city of Austin, famous for its greenbelts, nightlife, and thriving subcultures.

Professional-track faculty members in the College of Liberal Arts, and especially within the department, are fully integrated members of our faculty, serving alongside research-intensive faculty members in all facets of department life. The Department of Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies is committed to mentoring professional-track faculty and advancing their teaching careers by supporting professional development, pathways to promotion, pedagogical innovation, academic leadership, and contributions to the university’s broader curriculum.

Qualifications

An earned doctoral degree in Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies or related field and teaching experience at the college level is required. Preferred qualification: evidence of teaching excellence.

Application Instructions

Review of applications will start immediately and continue until the position is filled. Appointment start date could be anytime between January 15, 2024 and Sept. 1, 2024. Please submit the materials below via Interfolio at https://apply.interfolio.com/133477.

- Curriculum Vitae
- A letter of application (1-2 pages that summarizes your intellectual, scholarly, and pedagogical training and experience, and ability to work effectively with a broadly diverse student population.
- Statement of teaching philosophy (1-2 paragraphs), plus separate one-paragraph descriptions of a lower-division and upper-division course you would like to teach
- Three letters of recommendation, at least one of which includes a detailed evaluation of your teaching, including a teaching observation

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Employer Description:
At The University of Texas at Austin, we live and work on occupied Indigenous land and acknowledge the Carrizo & Comecrudo, Coahuiltecan, Caddo, Tonkawa, Comanche, Lipan Apache, Alabama-Coushatta, Kickapoo, Tigua Pueblo, and all the American Indian and Indigenous Peoples and communities who have been or have become a part of these lands and territories in Texas.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
The University of Texas at Austin, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions.

Contact: Dr. Lisa Moore
Email: llmoore@austin.utexas.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Sponsors of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19589: Assistant Professor of Justice

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
106. University of Alaska Anchorage

Job Description:

The University of Alaska Anchorage Justice Center is seeking to fill two tenure-track Assistant Professor of Justice positions, with initial appointments for both positions beginning in the Fall 2024 semester. We especially encourage applications from candidates who reflect the increasing diversity present in our community and student body, and who will enhance and promote engagement with other cultures. For the first position, preference will be given to candidates with an interest in community reentry, correctional rehabilitation, or the intersection of behavioral health and criminal justice. All substantive specialties will be considered for the second position. All applications will be considered for both positions. For both positions, the Justice Center desires applicants whose teaching, research, or service background demonstrates an interest and/or expertise in minority or ethnically diverse populations, or in multicultural issues.

Duties:

These positions are responsible for: (1) teaching, (2) organizing, conducting, and reporting criminology and criminal justice research; and (3) providing service to the University, community, and profession. To accomplish these responsibilities, successful applicants will be expected to engage in the following: organize and teach undergraduate courses, potentially including online delivery of course materials; participate in the provision of technical assistance to justice agencies; design and implement applied quantitative and/or qualitative research; work with other faculty and staff to prepare grant and contract proposals; conduct research and provide professional services related to justice policy and administrative issues in both urban and remote rural locations in Alaska; serve as a research team member as appropriate for both proposal development and project implementation; supervise support staff in the performance of ancillary research functions; write and prepare timely reports and publications related to these responsibilities; and perform other faculty duties assigned by the chair or dean, which may include curriculum and research development, service on University and public committees, student advising and professional governance processes. The standard instructional workload is three course sections per semester.

Employer Description:

ABOUT THE JUSTICE CENTER: The UAA Justice Center, established by the Alaska legislature in 1975, has a mandate to provide statewide justice-related education, research, and service. The Justice Center is an interdisciplinary unit that provides undergraduate and professional education; conducts research in the areas of crime, law, and justice; and provides service to government units, justice agencies, and community organizations throughout urban and rural Alaska to promote a safe, healthy, and just society. The Justice Center houses an organized research unit (the Alaska Justice Information Center) and academic programs in Justice and Legal Studies. As an organized research unit, the Justice Center conducts basic and applied research related to justice issues in both urban and rural areas of the state, disseminates the findings from that research widely and in diverse formats, and provides students with the opportunity to participate in research endeavors. The Justice Center’s academic programs include a Bachelor of Arts in Justice, a Minor in Justice, a Bachelor of Arts in Legal Studies, a Minor in Legal Studies, an Associate of Applied Science in Paralegal Studies, and a Post-Baccalaureate Certificate in Paralegal Studies. The Center has very strong research relationships with Alaska’s justice community and is committed to community-based participatory research. For more information, see the Center website: www.uaa.alaska.edu/justice.

Contact: Sharon Chamard
Email: sechamard@alaska.edu
Phone: 907/786/1813
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Sponsors of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19622: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/4/2023 to 12/3/2023
Institution: Arizona State University-West
Department: Social and Behavioral Sciences
Region: Southwest
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Global and Transnational Sociology, Environmental Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The School of Social and Behavioral Sciences in the New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences at Arizona State University (ASU) invites applications for a full-time, benefits-eligible tenure-track Assistant Professor of Sociology in Social Justice and Human Rights. We are seeking applicants in one of three areas: (1) Environmental Justice, (2) Transnationalism and/or Diaspora Studies, or (3) International and/or Indigenous Law.

The current position coincides with a general rebuilding of the Global Sociology program on Social Justice and Human Rights within the School. This scholar will be expected to: (1) conduct their own independent program of research, (2) teach, supervise, and mentor BA and MA students, and (3) engage in service at the unit, college, and university levels. Of particular interest to the School are scholars who use comparative historical, ethnographic, participatory, and/or Indigenous methods in their research.

Essential Functions of the Position:
• Teach courses in relevant areas
• Conduct an independent program of research
• Engage in service at the unit, college, and university levels

Qualifications
Required Qualifications:
• Doctorate or terminal degree in Sociology or related field at time of hire

Desired Qualifications:
• Potential of demonstrated excellence in research commensurate with appointment at the level of Assistant Professor at ASU
• Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population, including first-generation college students
• International, transnational, or global research and/or teaching focus that complements current faculty expertise in social movements, gender studies, migration and citizenship, comparative diaspora studies, food and agriculture, and energy democracy
• Interest in engaging in interdisciplinary collaborations in research
• Willingness to pursue extramural funding to support their program of research
• Interest in creating new and innovative curriculum

Application Instructions
Application Deadline:
The initial application deadline is November 12, 2023 at 11:59 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. Applications will continue to be accepted on a rolling basis for a reserve pool. Applications in the reserve pool may then be reviewed in the order in which they were received until the position is filled. A background check and official transcripts are required prior to employment.

Application Procedure:
Only electronic submissions via Interfolio will be reviewed. All required materials must be submitted at time of initial application. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Please submit all application materials to http://apply.interfolio.com/133226.

Applications must contain:
• Cover letter that addresses the required and desired qualifications and how your experience will demonstrate the University Charter
• Curriculum vitae with contact information, including telephone number and e-mail address
• One writing sample – e.g. article, book chapter, dissertation chapter, or unpublished paper
• Evidence of teaching effectiveness – e.g., student evaluations, syllabi, peer observation, annual evaluations, etc.
• Unofficial graduate transcripts
• Information for three professional references (their position, title, e-mail, phone number),one reference must be from your current or most recent employer.

ASU conducts pre-employment screening for all positions which includes a criminal background check, verification of work history, academic credentials, licenses, and certifications. Employment is contingent upon the successful passing of the background check.
Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

A background check is required for employment. Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. (See https://www.asu.edu/aud/manuals/acd/acd401.html and https://www.asu.edu/titleIX.)

In compliance with federal law, ASU prepares an annual report on campus security and fire safety programs and resources. ASU’s Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available online at https://www.asu.edu/police/PDFs/ASU-Clery-Report.pdf. You may request a hard copy of the report by contacting the ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456.

Employer Description:

The School of Social and Behavioral Sciences offers 15 majors, six graduate programs, six certificates, and 11 minors. With an academically rigorous, career-focused, student-centered approach, the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences at New College offers an unmatched educational experience. The mission of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences is consistent with that of a metropolitan research university. A founding premise of the school is that the study of human behavior, social institutions, and culture can be best understood through interdisciplinary perspectives that integrate diverse intellectual and methodological systems of inquiry.

For more information about ASU’s School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, please visit our website at https://newcollege.asu.edu/ssbs. For more information about New College, visit https://newcollege.asu.edu.

ASU is a new model for American higher education, an unprecedented combination of academic excellence, entrepreneurial energy, and broad access. This New American University is a single, unified institution comprising four differentiated campuses positively impacting the economic, social, cultural and environmental health of the communities it serves. Its research is inspired by real-world applications blurring the boundaries that traditionally separate academic disciplines.

ASU serves more than 80,000 students in metropolitan Phoenix, Arizona, the nation’s fifth-largest city. ASU champions intellectual and cultural diversity and welcomes students from all fifty states and more than one hundred nations across the globe.

All we do at ASU is guided and inspired by the University Charter, which reads:

ASU is a comprehensive public research university, measured not by whom it excludes, but by whom it includes and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities it serves.

Successful candidates will demonstrate throughout their materials how their teaching, research, and service will contribute to the fulfillment of this charter.

Contact: Simone Gagnon
Email: sgagnon2@mainex1.asu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
108. Clemson University

Job 19624: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/4/2023 to 11/3/2023
Institution: Clemson University
Department: Dept. of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Stratification/Mobility , Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Job Description:

Description

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning August 2024. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Sociology or a closely related field by the time of the appointment. We are especially interested in scholars focused on social inequality (broadly defined) who will strengthen the department’s existing areas of expertise.

Clemson University is a Carnegie Research 1 (R-1) public land-grant institution with over 20,000 undergraduates and 5,500 graduate students, located near the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice is a member of the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences and is home to 30 faculty members across the three represented disciplines. Candidates will have the opportunity to engage with our growing department’s newly formed Center for Criminal Justice and Social Research. Successful candidates will integrate and complement existing strengths in our program and contribute to the interdisciplinary focus of the department.

Qualifications

Interested individuals must demonstrate both an active research agenda and a track record of publishing their work in well-respected peer-reviewed outlets. Applicants should also exhibit a clear strategy for funding their research through external grants, with preference given to those with prior success in securing extramural funding. The ideal candidate will also demonstrate a willingness and ability to teach across the discipline of Sociology. While not necessary, the ability to teach graduate methods (quantitative and qualitative), health or medical sociology, and/or social class and poverty is an asset. Applicants should highlight how they will contribute to the department M.S. in Social Science program and an interdisciplinary Ph.D. in Policy Studies program. Tenure-track faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following items via Interfolio: (1) a letter of application, (2) a Curriculum Vitae, (3) a research statement, (4) a teaching philosophy, along with teaching evaluations for up to two classes, (5) one writing sample, and (6) the names and email addresses of three references. Applicants should submit materials to Interfolio. Application review will begin on October 27, 2023 and will continue until the position is filled.

Employer Description:
Contact: Tom Maher
Email: tvmaher@clemson.edu
Phone: (864) 656-3238
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITEd.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
109. University of Cincinnati

Job 19620: Dean of the College of Education, Criminal Justice, and Human Services

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024
Application Deadline: 11/3/2023
Listing Active: 10/4/2023 to 11/3/2023
Institution: University of Cincinnati
Department: Education
Region: Midwest
Title: Dean of the College of Education, Criminal Justice, and Human Services
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The University of Cincinnati seeks an innovative and dynamic leader to serve as Dean of the College of Education, Criminal Justice, Human Services, and Information Technology (CECH).

Founded in 1819, the University of Cincinnati (UC) ranks among the nation’s best urban public research universities. Home to more than 50,000 students, about 11,000 faculty and staff, and 332,000 alumni, UC combines a Top 35 public research university with a physical setting The New York Times calls "the most ambitious campus design program in the country."

With the launch of Next Lives Here, the Cincinnati Innovation District, a $100 million JobsOhio investment, eight straight years of record enrollment, worldwide leadership in cooperative education, a dynamic academic health center, and entry into the Big 12 athletic conference, UC’s momentum has never been stronger. UC’s annual budget tops $1.65 billion and its endowment totals $1.8 billion.

Interdisciplinary by design, CECH encompasses the three academic schools that give the college its acronym (Education, Criminal Justice, and Human Services), as well as the School of Information Technology. The college is nationally recognized for its high-ranking programs, both in-person and online, including Early Childhood Education, Criminal Justice, Substance Abuse Counseling, and Information Technology, among others. With over 6,500 students and 180 full-time faculty members, the college offers 38 undergraduate and 42 graduate degrees, minors, and certificates. CECH is thriving creatively and is among the most forward-looking and collaborative such colleges in the nation.

CECH is dedicated to making a difference in the community through outreach, academic programs, and community partnerships. Students and faculty work side-by-side with educators, athletic directors, community wellness experts, cybersecurity analysts, and local, state, and federal law enforcement officials. CECH values experiential learning as an important element of degree programs. Current research is incorporated into every course to ensure graduates are prepared to maximize their ability to have a positive impact in addressing the most urgent challenges of our society. The college is committed to the principles of access, diversity, partnership, and success; and the college's faculty provides excellence in teaching, research, service, and leadership.

Reporting to the executive vice president for academic affairs and provost, the dean serves as the chief academic officer of the College of Education, Criminal Justice, and Human Services. The incoming dean will work with faculty, staff, students, and administrators to develop, refine, and enhance the college's role within the university and its connection to the community at large, in coordination with the university’s https://www.uc.edu/about/strategic-direction.html vision. The new dean will be a fierce advocate for the disciplines within this highly interdisciplinary college and will connect research to all the college's teaching and scholarly activities. The dean will champion student success through innovation in teaching and learning, while fostering and promoting an environment that encourages collaboration, diversity, inclusion, and excellence. The next dean should be prepared to develop strategies to recruit, develop, and retain distinguished and diverse faculty, administrators, and staff to ensure CECH continues to deliver high quality, outstanding education.

The successful candidate should be an innovative and inspiring leader who embraces and expands upon the exciting educational and research innovations happening in the college and across the university. The dean will be a fiscally responsible and visionary leader with a demonstrated commitment to academic excellence. The dean should be a strong communicator who embraces a shared governance leadership style through transparency and collaboration. Candidates must have earned a terminal degree in their discipline, and credentials that are commensurate with a tenured full professor at UC.

All applications, nominations, and inquiries are invited. Applications should include, as separate documents, a CV or resume and a letter of interest addressing the themes in https://www.wittkieffer.com/position/25071-dean-of-the-college-of-education-criminal-justice-and-human-services/. In addition, the University of Cincinnati, as a multi-national and culturally diverse university, is committed to providing an inclusive, equitable and diverse place of learning and employment. As part of a complete job application, you will be asked to provide a Contribution to Diversity and Inclusion statement.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer with diverse faculty, staff, and student population, please provide a personal statement sharing how you are prepared to work in an environment with people from cultures and backgrounds different than your own. Please summarize your contributions to diversity, inclusion, and leadership.
WittKieffer is assisting the University of Cincinnati in this search. For fullest consideration, candidate materials should be received by November 10, 2023. Application materials should be submitted using WittKieffer’s https://apptrkr.com/4656123. Nominations and inquiries can be directed to: Lauren Bruce-Stets and Randi Miller at UCDeanCECH@wittkeiffer.com.

The University of Cincinnati is an Affirmative Action/ Equal Opportunity Employer/M/F/Veteran/Disabled.

Employer Description:

Contact: Lauren Bruce-Stets
Email: UCDeanCECH@wittkeiffer.com
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19623: Assistant Professor in Violence and Victimization

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/4/2023 to 11/3/2023

Institution: University of Florida
Department: Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor in Violence and Victimization
Position/Rank: Academic Position: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-accruing position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research and teaching interests related to violence and victimization beginning August 16, 2024. Candidates will have a Ph.D. in Criminology or Criminal Justice, Sociology or a relevant social science field by date of hire. The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience and includes a full benefits package.

Substantive interests in violence and victimization may include but need not be restricted to: interpersonal violence, firearms violence, violence against women or children, and violence and victimization in the family, school, or community contexts. Scholars may also examine the victim/offender overlap, or the ways in which exposure to violence is linked to the perpetration of violence, as well as policies and services intended to prevent violence. We are especially interested in scholars who conduct research on gender or racial-ethnic disparities in violence, whose research is well grounded in theoretical perspectives, and who have strong methodological and analytical skills.

We seek applicants whose records show commitment to rigorous scholarship with the promise of external funding, as well as excellence in teaching. The ability to contribute significantly to graduate education and the mentoring of graduate students is highly desirable.

Applications

For full consideration, applications must be submitted online at jobs.ufl.edu, search job #528781. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 25, 2023, and the position will remain open until filled. Only complete applications will be reviewed at this time. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority.

A complete application includes: (1) A letter of application summarizing the applicant's qualifications, interests, experience, and suitability for the position. (2) A complete curriculum vitae. (3) A statement on teaching and research goals. (4) The names and email addresses of three references. An email will be sent to your references, requesting them to upload their confidential letter to the submission packet.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

The selected candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered “official” if a designation of “Issued to Student” is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at http://www.naces.org/

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida’s Sunshine Law. If an accommodation due to disability is needed in order to apply for this position, please call (352) 392-2477 or the Florida Relay System at (800) 955-8771 (TDD).

The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity Institution.

Employer Description:

The Department of Sociology and Criminology & Law is a large and dynamic department with nearly 1,500 undergraduate majors and almost 100 graduate students. The department has multiple undergraduate programs offered via in-person and online courses, as well as over 50th students in Sociology of Social Justice & Policy and Environmental Justice & Policy. We encompass a concentration of faculty using Artificial Intelligence methods in their research and teaching. Faculty are also known for research in other areas, including criminology and criminal justice; psychology and law; families and gender; health, aging, and the life course; environment and resources; and race and ethnicity. Many faculty are affiliated with other academic programs at UF, including the School of Natural Resources and the Environment, the Emerging Pathogens Institute, the Center for Latin American Studies, the Center for European Studies, the Center for Women’s Studies and Gender Research, and the Health Science Center. More information about the Department is available at https://soccrim.clas.ufl.edu/, including biographical information about our faculty, students, and staff, and a description of the various projects and research interests in which our members are involved.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked Number 1 public university in the United States by Wall Street Journal in its “2024 Best Colleges in the U.S.” report with exceptional research and teaching. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville).

The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF's large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program. Learn more about what Gainesville has to offer at Visit Gainesville.

Contact: Abigail Fagan
Email: afagan@ufl.edu
Phone:
Website: https://soccrim.clas.ufl.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes

Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023

111. University of Texas-El Paso

Job 19621: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/4/2023 to 12/3/2023
Institution: University of Texas-El Paso
Department: Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Region: Southwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: https://utep.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp;jsessionid=A115E600DEFF0AB64B07D50C5D894DC1?JOBID=168269

Job Description:
The UTEP Dept of Sociology & Anthropology invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin fall 2024. We seek a quantitative sociologist who studies health, Latinx/ethnic health disparities, immigration, and/or the environment. Regional focus on U.S.-Mexico border is desirable though not exclusive. We are a PhD granting department in one of the top Hispanic Serving Institutions in the country. Our PhD in Sociology has tracks in Health & Culture, Environmental Justice and Borders and Mobility. We are looking for scholars with innovative research, skills, experience in pursuing external funding, and interest working with underserved student populations. We place extra value on scholars who include comprehensive and culturally relevant course readings and assignments. Applicants who can teach statistics and/or quantitative methods at the graduate level will be given particular consideration. Responsibilities include conducting research, teaching courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels, mentoring students who are primarily first-generation college students, participating in outreach and contributing to departmental, college, and university service, and expanding collaborations with community partners.

Requirements:
A Ph.D. in Sociology is required at the time of appointment. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who through their research, teaching, and service, will contribute to UTEP's mission.

Additional Information:
Hiring decisions are subject to budgetary approval.

In keeping with its access, excellence, and impact mission, The University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all. We seek to attract faculty and staff who share our commitment.

The University of Texas at El Paso is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or gender identity in employment or the provision of services in accordance with state and federal law. Discrimination on the basis of sex includes an employee's or prospective employee's right to be free from sexual harassment under Title IX of the Higher Education Amendments of 1972. Inquiries-including the filing of a Formal Complaint or reporting an incident-about the application of Title IX may be referred to the Title IX Coordinator, who can be reached by phone at (915) 747-8358, by email at titleix@utep.edu, or by mail at 500 W. University Ave., El Paso, TX, Kelly Hall, Room 312.

For accommodation information for employees and applicants with disabilities, please contact UTEP's Equal Opportunity Office at eoaas@utep.edu.

Application Instructions:
Applicants must electronically submit: (1) letter of interest that summarizes qualifications and how your experience would benefit or add value to the department, (2) curriculum vita, (3) one scholarly publication or dissertation chapter, (4) names and contact information of three references that we may contact.

If you have questions about the position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Ophra Leyser-Whalen: oleyserwhalen@utep.edu.
Employer Description:

The University of Texas at El Paso is a Carnegie R1 and Community Engaged research university at the heart of the U.S.-Mexico border region that is increasing access to excellent higher education. We advance discovery of public value and positively impact the health, culture, education, and economy of the community we serve. UTEP enrolls 24,000 students-eight-four percent of whom are Hispanic, and half of whom are the first in their families to attend college. Deeply woven into the University's character are the distinctive strengths of the people whom we serve. At UTEP, our 24,000 students have access to 169 bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs. Located in the second-most educated city in Texas, UTEP is recognized as one of the best research universities in the country for connecting students with the community around them. We are deeply connected to our neighbors in Ciudad Juárez, Chihuahua and have growing ties to Mexican institutions of higher education that will continue to enrich this vibrant region and our institution as the leading Hispanic Serving Institution in the nation.

About El Paso: The city's border location makes it an ideal venue for academic programs and research studies on topics of national interest such as bilingual education/language acquisition, border environment and immigration, environmental sustainability and infrastructure, health disparities, and international trade and commerce.

The Paso del Norte region's center for intellectual capital, UTEP is one of the major economic engines in the region, adding more than $1.4 billion to the local economy annually.

El Paso's active arts and culture community features the state's longest-running symphony orchestra, a nationally recognized chamber music festival, art galleries, museums, and a full schedule of seasonal events and festivals. UTEP adds to the arts and entertainment scene with an award-winning dinner theater, music and dance productions, contemporary and student art galleries, and a natural history museum.

For sports fans, the UTEP Miners offer exciting Division I college athletics at several campus venues including Sun Bowl Stadium, the Don Haskins Center, Kidd Field, University Field and the Helen of Troy Softball Complex. Southwest University Park, located a mile away in lively downtown El Paso, is home to the El Paso Chihuahuas, the Triple-A affiliate of the San Diego Padres, and the El Paso Locomotive, a professional soccer team founded in 2019.

About the Department: The UTEP Department of Sociology & Anthropology is the historical home of the field of U.S.-Mexico Border Studies and had a major role in the growth of border studies as a global academic field. The department has 12 tenured and tenure-track faculty members in the fields of Sociology, Anthropology, and Geography. We have an active M.A. program and a vibrant research agenda especially concerned with Latinx Studies, U.S.-Mexico Border Studies, immigration, criminalization, environmental justice, social inequality (i.e. race/ethnicity, class, gender, and citizenship), health issues, and the U.S. Southwest. Our new PhD in Sociology admitted its first cohort in the Fall 2023.

Contact: Ophra Leyser-Whalen
Email: oleyserwhalen@utep.edu
Phone: (915) 747-5740
Website: https://utep.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp;jsessionid=A115E600DEFF04AB64B07D50C5D894DC17JOBID=168269

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
112. Harvard Kennedy School of Government

Job 19615: Democracy Postdoctoral Fellow

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/3/2023 to 11/2/2023
Institution: Harvard Kennedy School of Government Department: Ash Center for Democratic Government and Innovation
Region: All US Regions
Title: Democracy Postdoctoral Fellow
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

About the Fellowship

The Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation invites postdoctoral students who will be completing or will have recently completed a Ph.D. to apply for its Postdoctoral Democracy Fellowship. The Democracy Fellowships aim to support postdoctoral scholars whose research illuminates aspects of democratic governance in ways that are innovative and push the boundaries of their academic disciplines, whether political theory and philosophy, political science, sociology, law, or history. Furthermore, their research should have the potential for normative or practical relevance regarding urgent substantive policy or social problems related to democratic governance.

Postdoctoral Fellows join the Ash Center’s academic community and participate in the Democracy Fellows weekly seminar. The fellowship then provides time and space for the fellows to work on preparing either a book manuscript based on their dissertation or related academic publications.

Eligibility

Preference will be given to postdoctoral scholars whose research interests coincide with the Ash Center’s current focus on innovations in public participation and political participation in democracies or non-democracies. Eligible applicants will be completing or will have just recently completed dissertations—within the previous three years—in the fields of political theory, political philosophy, political science, sociology, law, or history. The duration of the fellowship is two academic years.

The Ash Center is a global and values-driven community that believes diverse perspectives are paramount to better understanding and addressing real-world problems. In fostering an environment of rigor, curiosity, and integrity, we value and respect different opinions, lived experiences, and diverse research and policy areas and approaches. We actively seek candidates who share our commitment and values.

Benefits

Fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 annually, shared office space at the Ash Center, and access to Harvard’s libraries and online library services. The fellowship appointment period is August 1st through July 31st of the second year.

How to Apply

Application URL: https://hks.my.site.com/ashfellowships/s/login/?ec=302&startURL=%2Fashfellowships%2Ff%2F

Employer Description:
The mission of the Ash Center of Democratic Governance and Innovation is to develop ideas and foster practices for equal and inclusive, multi-racial and multi-ethnic democracy and self-governance.

Contact: Jose Martinez
Email: jose_martinez@hks.harvard.edu
Phone:
Website: https://ash.harvard.edu/democracy-postdoctoral-fellowships

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? No
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
113. Indiana University-Bloomington

Job 19619: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/3/2023 to 11/2/2023
Institution: Indiana University-Bloomington
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice, Qualitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology (https://sociology.indiana.edu/index.html) and the Department of Criminal Justice (https://criminaljustice.indiana.edu/index.html) at Indiana University, Bloomington, invite applications for a tenure-track position jointly appointed in both units at the level of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall of 2024. We seek an individual with expertise in the area of criminology with a preference for qualitative methods and is committed to excellence in scholarship and teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The tenure home for this position will be in the Department of Sociology and teaching and service responsibilities will be shared between the Departments of Sociology and Criminal Justice. This individual will be expected to mentor and support undergraduate and graduate students in sociology and criminal justice. Ph.D. in Sociology is required at time of appointment. Applicants should apply online at https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/20448, including a cover letter; CV; statements on research and teaching; statement on fostering diversity, equity, and inclusion in and out of the classroom; up to three writing samples; and contact information for three letters of reference. Applications received by November 3, 2023, will be assured of full consideration; however, the search will remain open until a suitable candidate is found. Queries can be sent to Fabio Rojas (frojas@indiana.edu), Department of Sociology Chair, the Department of Criminal Justice Chair Natalie Hipple (nkroovan@indiana.edu), or Jennifer Barber (jenbarb@iu.edu), Chair of the Personnel Committee.

The College of Arts and Sciences is committed to building and supporting a diverse, inclusive, and equitable community of students and scholars. Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Employer Description:
Contact: Jennifer Barber
Email: jenbarb@iu.edu
Phone:
Website: https://sociology.indiana.edu/about/faculty/barber-jennifer.html

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19616: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 10/3/2023 to 11/2/2023
Institution: Southern Methodist University
Department: Department of Religious Studies
Region: Southwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Religion
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999
Submission Link: http://apply.interfolio.com/128579

Job Description:

Position No. 53620. As one of eight tenure-line positions associated with Southern Methodist University’s faculty cluster in urban research, this position offers opportunities for rich interdisciplinary connections among new and existing SMU faculty [https://www.smu.edu/Dedman/Research/Clusters]. The cluster fosters research on cities and urbanization from local and global perspectives. SMU’s location in Dallas, the fourth largest metropolitan area in the country, is an ideal setting for studying the opportunities and inequities that individuals, groups, and communities confront as they navigate and shape urban life.

Assistant Professor in Urban Religions

The Department of Religious Studies in Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences at Southern Methodist University invites applications for a tenure track position in Urban Religions at the rank of Assistant Professor. The position requires residency in Dallas and begins August 1, 2024.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Religious Studies or related field at time of appointment; ability to teach courses on religion in urban American or other urban global contexts, and topics related to religion and intersectional identities, social scientific and/or cultural approaches to the study of religion.

Preferred Qualifications: Ability to teach courses on Religion and Space/Place, Social Scientific methodologies, Religion and Economics, Religion and Climate Change, and/or African-American or Latino-American religious identities; research and teaching that will contribute to a research cluster in Urban Studies; experience mentoring culturally diverse students; interest in contributing to a robust graduate program in Religious Studies and broader culture of excellent teaching and research on campus.

Application: Submit letter of application highlighting the candidate’s qualifications, complete curriculum vitae, two letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching excellence (teaching philosophy statement, sample syllabi, pedagogical publications) to http://apply.interfolio.com/128579.

Review of applications will begin November 7th, but the committee will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. The committee will notify applicants of the employment decision after the position is filled. Hiring is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of a background check.

Department of Religious Studies: The Department of Religious Studies at SMU is a dynamic, collegial group of researchers and teachers with intellectual breadth that spans the globe, multiple academic disciplines, and several thousand years of history. Our research has been recognized with numerous fellowships, grants, and awards, including a Guggenheim Fellowship, a Templeton Foundation grant, and several national and international book awards. Faculty in the department are also dedicated to undergraduate and graduate teaching and have been recognized multiple times at the university, national, and international levels. Visit us at http://www.smu.edu/Academics/Departments/Religious-Studies

About SMU: Located near the center of Dallas, SMU is a private, non-sectarian university of about 12,000 students offering strong undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs through seven schools – Dedman College of Humanities and Sciences, Cox School of Business, Meadows School of the Arts, Lyle School of Engineering, Perkins School of Theology, Dedman School of Law, and Simmons School of Education and Human Development. To learn more about the rich and vibrant culture of SMU, please visit www.smu.edu.

Employer Description:

SMU will not discriminate in any program or activity on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or gender identity and expression. The Executive Director for Access and Equity/Title IX Coordinator is designated to handle inquiries regarding nondiscrimination policies and may be reached at the Perkins Administration Building, Room 204, 6425 Boaz Lane, Dallas, TX 75205, 214-768-3601, eeo@smu.edu.

Department Type: Religious Studies

Location of Position:
Texas United States

Contact: Steven Lindquist
Email: slindquist@smu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19614: Assistant Professor of Human Rights and Environmental Justice in Latin America

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
115. University of Florida

Job Description:

The Center for Latin American Studies (https://www.las.uff.edu) at the University of Florida invites applicants who take an intersectional approach to conducting theoretically driven, empirical research for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position of human rights and environmental justice in Latin America and/or the Caribbean. We are particularly interested in considering applications from candidates whose research and teaching focus on Indigenous or Afro-descendant populations, incorporating a broad range of methods. We encourage candidates to apply whose interests and scholarship include such fields as Indigenous studies, Afro-diasporic studies, environmental racism, ecological economics, law and governance, social conflict, conflict mediation, gender, education, political ecology, environmental conservation, sustainability, grassroots organizing, civil society, art and culture, institutional politics, or media studies.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD by the start date of the position and have substantial knowledge of Latin America and/or the Caribbean.

Preferred Qualifications: The Candidate should have strong knowledge of Latin America and/or the Caribbean, and fluency or proficiency in one or more non-English languages spoken in Latin America or the Caribbean. Preference will be given to candidates with collaborators based in Latin America and/or the Caribbean, a record of conducting empirical research, and theoretical expertise on human rights and environmental justice as it applies to Indigenous and/or Afro-descendant communities in Latin America/the Caribbean. Prior teaching experience with evidence of commitment to creative teaching and student mentoring is highly desirable. We strongly encourage applicants from historically underrepresented groups in the profession.

Compensation: Salary will be commensurate with qualifications. The anticipated start date is August 2024.

Instructions for Submitting Applications: Applications must be submitted online at Careers at UF, visit jobs.ufl.edu (Job No. 528704) and include (1) a letter of interest, 2-page max; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) a research statement, 1-page max; (4) a statement of teaching interests and any prior experience teaching and mentoring students; (5) a writing sample; and (6) contact information for three professional references who will be prompted to submit letters through the online application system. Applications received by November 15, 2023 will receive fullest consideration, but the search committee will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

Applicants must submit a published or unpublished writing sample, such as a journal article, book chapter, or dissertation chapter. The writing sample should be the best representation of an applicant's work in the area of human rights and environmental justice.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education. The final candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an education institution outside of the United States are required to be evaluated by a professional credentialing service provider approved by National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at http://www.naces.org/.

The University of Florida is committed to non-discrimination with respect to race, creed, color, religion, age, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, marital status, national origin, political opinions or affiliations, genetic information and veteran status in all aspects of employment including recruitment, hiring, promotions, transfers, discipline, terminations, wage and salary administration, benefits, and training.

The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity Institution. If an accommodation due to a disability is needed to apply for this position, please call (352) 392-2477 or the Florida Relay System at (800) 955-8771 (TDD). Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the US. Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida's Sunshine Law.

Employer Description:

About the Center: The UF Center for Latin American Studies (LAS) was founded in 1931 and is one of the top-ranked and oldest centers of its kind. It is renowned for the richness and breadth of its intellectual life, which is sustained in part by the diverse perspectives, backgrounds, and identities of its members. Over 20 LAS faculty and 300 affiliate faculty across the university integrate approaches from social sciences, natural sciences, the humanities and professions. LAS has a vibrant Outreach Program that targets K-16 educators and hosts an annual Bacardi Scholar program that invites a distinguished scholar of Latin American Studies to conduct a semester-long teaching and service to the Center, University, and their respective disciplines.

The anticipated start date is August 2024.

Salary Range: Negotiable

Application Link: [Apply Online]
research residence. Additionally, the Center hosts an annual conference/workshop on an area of relevance to Latin American Studies that brings together scholars, graduate students, and participants from socio-political sectors to contribute to the advancement of research and thought surrounding key issues impacting communities across Latin America and the Latin American Diaspora.

The Center is home to vibrant master’s degree programs in Latin American Studies (MALAS), Sustainable Development Practice (MDP), and combined JD/LAS that attract students from Latin America, the Caribbean, the United States, and across the globe. It also offers graduate certificate programs in Tropical Conservation and Development (TCD) and Latin American Studies. The Center currently hosts eleven specialization that bring together faculty and students in research and learning communities. Finally, the Center’s core and affiliate faculty, as well as its students, are supported by the UF Libraries’ Latin American and Caribbean Collection (LACC) and the Smathers Library. The LACC holds a range of collections that attract scholars from around the world to the University of Florida campus, and it helps bolster teaching and research by offering immediate access to various archives, manuscripts, and texts.

About the University: Founded in 1853, the University of Florida (UF) is a public land-grant, sea-grant, and space-grant research university and one of the most academically renowned universities in the nation. The Wall Street Journal ranks UF as the No. 1 public university in the nation. Other national rankings, such as 2nd by Forbes and 7th by Kiplinger, are a result of UF’s commitment to provide the highest quality education at the best value. UF is home to 16 colleges and more than 200 research, service, and education centers, as well as various bureaus and institutes. UF boasts more than 4,000 faculty members, 50,000 students and 415,000 living alumni. In 2021, faculty scholars generated more than $950 million in research awards. In 2013, the Florida Legislature designated UF as a “preeminent” state university. UF is also an “emerging” Hispanic serving institute with more than 23% of the full-time student body identifying as Hispanic or Latinx.

About the Area: UF is in Gainesville, a progressive college town in north central Florida that blends big-city cultural and athletic offerings with small-town friendliness and charm, along with excellent schools. Gainesville sits about halfway between the Atlantic Ocean and Gulf of Mexico, is often recognized as one of America’s best college towns and is easily accessible from three major metropolitan areas (Jacksonville, Orlando, and Tampa). The National Arbor Day Foundation has recognized Gainesville as a “Tree City USA” every year since 1982. Add the allure of Florida’s famous sunshine, tropical breezes, and abundant wilderness, springs, rivers, and seashores nearby, and it is little wonder that top-caliber faculty and students find our university to be the perfect balance of premier academics and a fulfilling lifestyle.

Contact: Catherine Tucker
Email: tuckerc@ufl.edu
Phone:
Website: https://www.latam.ufl.edu

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 19612: Postdoctoral Fellow in Sexual & Reproductive Health Measure Development

Date Position is Available: Summer 2024

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 10/2/2023 to 12/31/2023

Institution: Indiana University-Bloomington
Department: School of Public Health
Region: Midwest
Title: Postdoctoral Fellow in Sexual & Reproductive Health Measure Development
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Sex and Gender

Submission Link: https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/20418

Job Description:

The Department of Applied Health Science comprises approximately 70 faculty and professional staff members, offers B.S.P.H., B.S., M.S., and/or M.P.H. degrees in behavioral, social and community health; public health administration; school and college health education; safety management; nutrition and dietetics and human development and family studies as well as a highly regarded PhD in health behavior. Faculty pursue research in a wide array of areas including alcohol, tobacco and other drug abuse prevention, HIV/STD prevention, human sexuality, sexual and reproductive health, nutrition, obesity, maternal and child health, population health, public health policy, and application of health behavior theory.

Researchers are invited to apply for a post-doctoral fellowship to work with Drs. Kristen Jozkowski and Brandon Crawford (PIs at Indiana University – School of Public Health) and Drs. Ronna Turner and Wen-Juo Lo (Co-PIs at the University of Arkansas – College of Education and Health Professions) on a project focused on developing and validating measures to evaluate sexual and reproductive health behaviors. This project is supported by the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD). The fellow will work on conducting surveys that assess sexual and reproductive health behaviors among diverse populations, including college students, sample data for three years. The fellow will also conduct qualitative interviews and analyze survey data to develop and refine measures of sexual and reproductive health behaviors. The fellow will conduct analyses using both quantitative and qualitative data, writing manuscripts, preparation of reports, and dissemination of results at academic conferences.

Responsibilities: The fellow will work with the research team to conduct surveys and qualitative interviews, analyze data, and write manuscripts.

Qualifications: Applicants are invited to apply. Requirements include the ability to conduct surveys and qualitative interviews, analyze data, and write manuscripts.

Application Procedure: Submit a CV, cover letter summarizing research interests and fit for position, writing sample, and a list of three references.

Kristol Jozkowski: knjozkow@iu.edu
Brandon Crawford: brancraw@iu.edu

About Us: Located on the Flagship Campus of the Indiana University System, IU School of Public Health-Bloomington has over 200 faculty in five departments. Indiana University is classified as an R1-Highest Research Activity university, a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities (AAU), and boasts numerous resources. IU School of Public Health-Bloomington combines aspects of a traditional university campus with a strong teaching focus and the research infrastructure of a research-intensive institution.

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Applications accepted until the position is filled. The fellowship is expected to live in the Bloomington, Indiana area.

Individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.
Contact: Kristen Jozkowski
Email: kjozkowski@iu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
117. Kalamazoo College

Job 19559: Director of African Studies Concentration

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/2/2023 to 11/1/2023
Institution: Kalamazoo College
Department: Dept of African Studies
Region: Midwest
Title: Director of African Studies Concentration
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area, Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://provost.kzoo.edu/faculty-information/facultyjobs/director-of-african-studies-concentration/

Job Description:

Director of African Studies Concentration

Kalamazoo College invites applications for Advanced Assistant or Associate Professor position as Director of the African Studies Concentration at Kalamazoo College. The Director of the African Studies Concentration would be a candidate with a specialty in one or more of the following areas:

1. African epistemologies and intellectual traditions about Africa and the Diaspora
2. Africa’s, Africans’, African Diaspora’s transnational relationships, cultures and identities
3. Contemporary debates on, in and around Africa
4. Local particularities, categories and identities in more than one region related to Africa or the African diaspora.

The position involves administering the program and teaching six courses (across three, ten-week terms) in African Studies, including at least three out of the four following courses: Africa Now (umbrella contemporary Africa course), Global Africa (umbrella transnational Africa course), Thinking Africa (umbrella African epistemologies course) and Geographies of Africaness (umbrella regional course), and two upper-level elective courses chosen or designed in consultation with the concentration members, and possibly a contribution to the college’s Shared Passages program.

Field and discipline of specialization are open, but the position is responsible for broad African and African Diaspora courses and the candidate will need to be versatile in and knowledgeable of interdisciplinary approaches to African and African diaspora studies. Candidates with a comparative approach across geographic areas are especially encouraged to apply.

We anticipate that prospective candidates will demonstrate strong leadership and the capacity to build on the research, programmatic goals, and established connections to the African continent that have propelled the concentration’s success over the past half century. Simultaneously, we seek candidates with visions and ideas that can move the concentration in new directions that reflect emerging disciplinary and global issues and embody Kalamazoo College’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion on our campus and in our programs and curricula.

PhD required, prior teaching experience is necessary and program development experience is desirable. The position also requires advising senior thesis. Kalamazoo College has made a commitment to inclusive excellence. We especially encourage applications from candidates whose intellectual and pedagogical approaches will be effective in attracting and retaining historically underrepresented students. The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to working with students, faculty and staff from diverse social, cultural, and economic backgrounds. They will also demonstrate a high aptitude for and interest in undergraduate teaching, a commitment to the liberal arts, and the ability to establish an ongoing research record.

Kalamazoo College is a highly selective liberal arts college offering an integrated undergraduate experience that weaves a traditional liberal arts curriculum into educational experiences and civic engagement in both domestic and international settings. As such, it attracts students from diverse backgrounds interested in social justice and activism. The College is a member of the Posse Program and home to the Arcus Center for Social Justice Leadership. It is located in Kalamazoo, MI, a diverse and vibrant city in western Michigan and home of the first nationwide city-based college tuition remission program, the Kalamazoo Promise. Sitting half way between Detroit and Chicago, Kalamazoo is also home to a large research university that shares many of its resources with members of the Kalamazoo College community. Thirty-five miles from the beautiful beaches and coastal towns of Lake Michigan, the area also offers many opportunities for outdoor activities.

Completed applications received by January 1, 2024 will receive full consideration, with later applications reviewed as needed until the position is filled. Please electronically submit in pdf format: cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement on equity and inclusion as it relates to teaching and community engagement, and a 1-2 page statement of teaching and program development philosophy. This statement should include a discussion of how the candidate meets the requirements expressed in this call in course design and classroom practices. Prior to Zoom interviews, three letters of recommendation, sample syllabi of a course the candidate has taught, and a 10-page writing sample will be requested of a short list of candidates, and preliminary interviews will be conducted via Zoom. Candidates who advance to on-campus interviews will be asked to provide a sample syllabus for one of the four core concentration courses.

Kalamazoo College encourages candidates who will contribute to the cultural diversity of the College to apply and to identify themselves if they wish. Equal Opportunity Employer.

Employer Description:

Contact: Sarah Gillig
Email: sarah.gillig@kzoo.edu
Phone: (269) 337-7162
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employee? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employee? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employee? Yes

203/210
Job 19613: Dean's Research Associate (Post-Doc)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/2/2023 to 11/1/2023
Institution: Michigan State University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Dean's Research Associate (Post-Doc)
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Eligible
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

Job Description:

Position Summary

College of Social Science Dean's Research Associate (Postdoc) Program
Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry.

Program Description
The College of Social Science (SSC) Dean's Research Associate Program at Michigan State University was established in 2018, as a major College initiative aimed at promoting an inclusive scholarly environment in which outstanding scholars in the social sciences support the advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the academy. The Dean's Research Associates will have a minimal teaching load, will be mentored and supported, and will participate in a SSC Dean's Research Associate Development Institute, with the goal of possibly transitioning them into tenure-system positions at Michigan State University.

Appointments
Appointments will be made to applicants who show promise for tenure-track positions in Michigan State University's College of Social Science in accordance with MSU academic hiring process. Each appointment is for a minimum of 9 months, renewable for an additional year, contingent upon a demonstration of meeting the performance expectation in research and teaching, with an emphasis on demonstrated research productivity. The selected candidate will receive a salary that is comparable to that of a starting Assistant Professor in the Research Associate's discipline, plus benefits, and a budget for research and travel. Transitioning into a tenure-track faculty position at Michigan State University will require a series of structured, merit-based evaluations, which will include substantial peer input. MSU's academic hiring process will be followed in appointing the candidates that advance into the tenure-track.

Required Degree
Doctorate

Minimum Requirements
Applicants who have attained a PhD degree from an accredited university no later than July 2024, and no earlier than May 2021, with degrees and research interests in areas covered by the College's Departments and Schools.

Required Application Materials
To apply, submit application materials online through careers.msu.edu. Search for posting 901426 and electronically attach the following:

1. a 3 page statement addressing how your research, teaching, and service, contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion
2. a curriculum vitae
3. an academic research paper
4. a 3 page research proposal outlining research interests and plans for the fellowship year(s)
5. a ½ page statement describing your teaching philosophy, and the course(s) you could teach during the fellowship period
6. three letters of reference which should address your potential for employment as a faculty member at MSU

Special Instructions
Review of applications will start on October 31, 2023, and will continue until positions are filled. Questions concerning the search may be addressed to Nwando Achebe, Associate Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, College of Social Science (achebe@msu.edu).

Review of Applications Begins On 10/31/2023

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, age, disability or protected veteran status.

MSU Statement
Michigan State University has been advancing the common good with uncommon will for more than 160 years. One of the top research universities in the world, MSU pushes the boundaries of discovery and forges enduring partnerships to solve the most pressing global challenges while providing life-changing opportunities to a diverse and inclusive academic community through more than 200 programs of study in 17 degree-granting colleges.

Contact: Aaron McCright
Email: mccright@msu.edu
Phone: (517) 355-6640
Website: https://sociology.msu.edu/people/directory/mccright-aaron.html

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
119. University of Cincinnati

Job 19611: Assistant OR Associate Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2024
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 10/2/2023 to 11/1/2023
Institution: University of Cincinnati
Department: School of Criminal Justice
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant OR Associate Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice , Criminology/Delinquency
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999
Submission Link: https://jobs.uc.edu

Job Description:

The School of Criminal Justice at the University of Cincinnati is seeking applications for two (2) Assistant or Associate Professor positions, with appointments starting August 15, 2024, although the start date is negotiable. UC is a Research I Institution that grants doctorates in 98 areas. The School of Criminal Justice grants the BS, MS, and PhD degrees. The School also houses research centers specializing in corrections, policing, criminal justice, justice and communities, and crime science. The School offers specializations in crime prevention, policing, corrections, criminal justice, and criminology.

Further information about the University and the School is available at http://www.uc.edu/criminaljustice/. The city of Cincinnati offers a range of multi-cultural activities and amenities in addition to attractive and affordable housing.

Essential Function: An Assistant/Associate Professor at the University of Cincinnati is expected to teach, conduct research, and perform other professional or creative activities. This position will support the University of Cincinnati’s mission and commitment to excellence and diversity in our students, faculty, staff, and all of our activities.

Minimum Qualifications: Must have obtained a Doctorate or terminal degree from a regionally accredited college or university of recognized standing in Criminology/Criminal Justice or a related discipline in the social or behavioral sciences by the time of appointment.

Additional Qualifications: Areas of specialization are open. Applicants should have a strong research record.

Interested persons must apply online at https://jobs.uc.edu. Please include a CV, a cover letter that includes a statement on research and teaching, and contact information for three references. All required documents must be attached to your online application. Questions regarding the search may be directed to:

J.C. Barnes, Ph.D. (jc.barnes@uc.edu)
School Director
School of Criminal Justice
University of Cincinnati
Cincinnati, OH 45221-0389

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The position is contingent on available funding.

Women, People of Color, persons with a disability, and covered veterans and disabled veterans are encouraged to apply. We are committed to increasing the diversity of the University community. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to identify their strengths or experiences in this area in their applications. Apply at https://jobs.uc.edu; requisition ID: 94192.

The University of Cincinnati, as a multi-national and culturally diverse university, is committed to providing an inclusive, equitable and diverse place of learning and employment. As part of a complete job application, you will be asked to include a Contribution to Diversity and Inclusion statement.

As a UC employee, and an employee of an Ohio public institution, if hired you will not contribute to the federal Social Security system, other than contributions to Medicare. Instead, UC employees have the option to contribute to a state retirement plan (OPERS, STRS) or an alternative retirement plan (ARP).

Employer Description:

Contact: Erin Cochran
Email: Erin.Cochran@uc.edu
Phone: 513-556-8599
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 19610: Assistant Professor of Criminology

Date: Wednesday, November 1, 2023
120. University of North Carolina-Wilmington

Brief Summary of Work for this Position

The Department of Sociology and Criminology is seeking to hire a nine month, tenure-track criminologist at the assistant professor level starting A

Upon initial appointment, the successful candidate will teach a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses in the program's curriculum. Further advise students, and will provide community engagement and professional service. This position carries a teaching load of three courses per term while maintaining an active research agenda in their specialization area. The position includes summer school teaching. The selected candidate should have the potential for innovation and leadership in teaching, research and service. We are looking for a candidate who complements our existing strengths.

The Department of Sociology and Criminology is committed to increasing knowledge of human societies from a broad diversity of perspectives at our faculty, and our curricula are essential elements in that vision. We are seeking a colleague who shares that commitment and is interested in being part of the University Studies Program, through which all undergraduates gain a full complement of minors including interdisciplinary minors such as Africana studies, American studies, Asian studies, African American studies, medical humanities, Middle East and Islamic studies, Native American studies, and women's studies.

Preference will be given to candidates with:

• Expertise and interest in teaching core courses at the undergraduate and graduate level in criminological theory, quantitative data analysis, or forensic science, journalism, Latin American studies, medical humanities, Middle East and Islamic studies, Native American studies, and women's studies.

• Experience in innovative methods, and in working with culturally diverse populations.

• Teaching and research specializations in juvenile delinquency/justice and/or comparative criminology.

• Experience in innovative methods, and in working with culturally diverse populations.

Minimum Education and Experience Requirements

Ph.D. in criminology, criminal justice, sociology, or a closely related field. Note: ABD will be considered; however, doctoral degree must be obtained by the time of appointment

Preferred Education, Knowledge, Skills & Experience

Preference will be given to candidates with:

• Expertise and interest in teaching core courses at the undergraduate and graduate level in criminological theory, quantitative data analysis, or forensic science, journalism, Latin American studies, medical humanities, Middle East and Islamic studies, Native American studies, and women's studies.

• Experience in innovative methods, and in working with culturally diverse populations.

• Teaching and research specializations in juvenile delinquency/justice and/or comparative criminology.

• Experience in innovative methods, and in working with culturally diverse populations.

Primary Function of Organizational Unit

The Department of Sociology and Criminology (www.uncw.edu/soccrm) at the University of North Carolina Wilmington has 26 full-time faculty members, offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in sociology and criminology (general and public), including an online bachelor's degree in criminology, and a Master

The College of Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Arts (CHSSA) is home to 14 academic departments and offers a wide variety of undergraduate programs including Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Music, Master of Arts, Master of Fine Arts, and Master of Public Administration as well as comb Spanish and English. The CHSSA also houses the Gender Studies and Research Center, an interdisciplinary and intersectional community of study that focuses on social justice and equity.

In addition, the CHSSA offers a full complement of minors including interdisciplinary minors such as Africana studies, American studies, Asian studies, African American studies, medical humanities, Middle East and Islamic studies, Native American studies, and women's studies.

Applied learning is a hallmark of the student experience in the College of Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Arts. Each of the CHSSA's departments offers a variety of learning opportunities that are part of the college's offerings. Upon completion of their studies, all CHSSA students will have the necessary preparation for rewarding careers, advanced study, effective citizenship, and the Arts offers limitless opportunities to engage in collaborative and interdisciplinary research and service while a and join our vibrant academic environment that values discovery, innovation, and creativity.

https://www.uncw.edu/soccrm
The University of North Carolina Wilmington, the state's coastal university, is dedicated to the integration of teaching, mentoring, research and service for faculty and staff and continuously recognized at a national level for scholarly excellence and affordability, UNCW offers a powerful academic experience in critical thinking and a community rich in diversity, inclusion and global perspectives.

A public institution with nearly 18,000 students, UNCW offers a full range of baccalaureate- and graduate-level programs, as well as doctoral degree programs in nursing practice and psychology, and many distance learning options, including clinical research, an accelerated RN-to-BSN program, an Executive Master of Business Administration, and the nation's only bachelor's degree program focused on coastal engineering.

The university's efforts to advance research and scholarly activities have earned UNCW the elevated designation of "Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity" in the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education.

UNCW has been part of the University of North Carolina System since 1969.

Contact: Dr. Shannon Santana
Email: soccrm@uncw.edu
Phone: (910) 962-3420
Website: https://uncw.edu/academics/colleges/chssa/departments/sociology-criminology/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.