Grants for Asian Sociologists

The American Sociological Association has received from The Asia Foundation a grant of $2500, for the purpose of encouraging closer relations between Asian and American Sociologists. The funds will be used in three ways:

(1) To enable Asian sociologists residing in Asia to become members of the American Sociological Association and to receive a three-year subscription to one or more of its official publications.

(Membership in the Association and a three-year subscription to the American Sociological Review will be $1.00; if all Association publications are desired, the three-year cost will be $2.00. Applicants should write directly to The American Sociological Association, New York University, Washington Square, New York 3, New York. Payment may be made in UNESCO coupons or in any way convenient and acceptable under the exchange regulations of the Asian country concerned. The privilege is extended to graduate students as well as to established sociologists.)

(2) To enable libraries, university departments, and research institutes in Asia, who have heretofore been unable to subscribe, to subscribe to publications of the Association at reduced rates.

(The cost of a three-year institutional subscription to the American Sociological Review will be $2.00; and for all the publications of the Association, including Sociometry, $3.00—payable as above.)

(3) To supplement travel expenses for Asian sociologists who are in the United States and who wish to attend meetings of the American Sociological Association.

(Applicants must be at least at the graduate level and may come from any Asian country from Afghanistan eastward. An applicant should write to the Chairman of the administering committee, as listed below. In his request the applicant should give his regular academic position, the nature of his study or visit in the United States, the meeting which he plans to attend, and the sum necessary for transportation to and from the meeting.)

The grant is being administered by a special committee composed of the following:

Professor Kingsley Davis, Department of Sociology and Social Institutions, University of California, Berkeley, California.
Professor Wolfram Eberhard, Department of Sociology and Social Institutions, University of California, Berkeley, California.
Professor Amon H. Hawley, Department of Sociology, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.
Professor Marion H. Levy, Jr., Department of Sociology, Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey.
Professor Bruce F. Ryan, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Miami, Coral Gables 46, Florida.
