Theme: CONFLICT AND DISSENSUS: CONTEMPORARY AND HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES

This theme has been chosen not because I claim any logical or sociological priority of social conflict over social integration, or of dissensus over consensus, but rather because I believe that the study of conflict and dissensus has been comparatively neglected even though it looms very large indeed in contemporary America as well as in the historical record. The discipline of sociology cannot afford to avert its gaze from the powerful ideal or material interests which set persons and groups against one another, though it should continue to focus attention on those forces that bind them together in common pursuits.

Gunnar Myrdal wrote recently that "progress in social science lies through controversy, which should be sharpened and not veiled." I fully agree with him, and thus this idea is embodied in the structure of our program for 1975 in a deliberate attempt to stimulate as much controversy at these meetings as possible. There will be occasions for functionalists to debate with Marxists, for ethnomethodologists to confront exchange theorists, and for symbolic interactionists to test their mettle against system theorists.

Controversy will not be limited to theoretical approaches, however. It will largely center on substantive matters. There will be occasions to debate the large macro-sociological issues of freedom vs. control, or centralization vs. decentralization. But there will also be occasion to discuss more specific issues, such as, traditional family planning vs. attempts to reach zero population growth; structural vs. social-psychological theories of revolutions; local vs. centralized control of community organizations; involvement vs. detachment in problem-oriented social research.

It is my fond hope that such discussions, debates, and controversies will help bring sociologists together. Our discipline seems in danger of increasing fragmentation and splintering. By engaging one another in debate and controversy sociologists may find it possible to develop the rudiments of a common language.

LEWIS A. COSER
President, ASA

ASA Executive Office—Walnut

The Headquarters will be staffed from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Sunday through Friday by Executive Office personnel. They are in attendance for the purposes of keeping the convention operating, solving problems as they arise, and serving the members in whatever way they are able.

Due to the heavy costs of equipment rental, no typewriters, copying equipment, or other such facilities will be available. For individuals or groups needing such facilities, typewriters may be rented on a weekly basis through the convention service office of the hotel, and xeroxing is available on a commercial basis within a short distance of the hotel.

ASA Information Desk—East Lounge

This desk will be staffed with ASA Executive Office personnel who will provide information on the program, membership, subscriptions, publications, etc. In addition, copies of the 1975 Guide to Graduate Departments of Sociology and the 1975 Directory of Members will be available for purchase.

Book Exhibits—Hilton Plaza

You are invited to visit the Book Exhibits in the Hilton Plaza on the Lobby Level of the Hilton. Access is through the main lobby as well as by escalators near the Anza and Balboa Rooms in the Hilton Tower. The exhibits will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Friday.

Cassette Recordings—East Lounge

ASA has made arrangements with Convention Seminar Cassettes to produce recordings of selected sessions on the program and to have them available for purchase both during and following the Meetings. Please check with the sales desk for order forms.

ASA has requested permission from all participants in the following sessions to make these recordings. However, if any participant withheld such permission, that specific session will not be recorded.

Sessions tentatively scheduled for recording are:

1	31	52	82	98	128	148	168
11	34	59	83	100	129	149	178
23	42	62	84	107	130	150	179
24	43	63	96	116	138	157
25	44	74	97	118	147	165

Child Care—Room 434/436

Final arrangements by the ASA Committee were not completed at press time. Interested persons should check Room 434/436 for details.

Daily Bulletin

Each morning, copies of the Daily Bulletin will be available at various locations throughout the hotel. Be sure to read your free copy for the latest information on program changes and additional activities.

Within the limits of space available and at the discretion of the ASA editor, other group activities may be announced in the Daily Bulletin. Copy must be in the Walnut Room before 2:30 p.m. each day for next-day publication. No announcements will be published more than one time.

Message Centers—East Lounge

A center for the distribution of written messages will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. each day. Only written messages will be accepted (no telephone calls) and they must be prepared on cards provided at the message center. Names of those for whom messages are left will be posted on a bulletin board. You should check the board frequently for your name. Messages and other materials not claimed after two days will be destroyed.

Telephone messages will all be routed to the special Telephone Message Center, located in the East Lounge, which the telephone company is providing for the convenience of the registrants. This center will be open Sunday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., California time. You should check this board frequently. When contacting your home or office after arrival, you should leave this direct-dial number for future contact: (415) 441-5845. This is the same number published in the August issue of FOOTNOTES. If you cannot be reached in your hotel, messages may be left to return the call at this number.

Both of these message centers are an attempt to aid communication, but the most efficient means is through the mail desks of the hotels. People are much more likely to check there than at the ASA message desk.

Paper Sales—Teakwood

Papers will go on sale at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday at the price of $1.00 per copy. All session papers which were submitted to the Executive Office for duplication and/or distribution at the Annual Meeting appear on the order form and may be purchased at the Paper Sales Desk. Orders will not be accepted for future delivery. Requests should be sent directly to the authors. In order to facilitate this procedure, a list of author's addresses may be purchased for $1.00. The Presidential Address and the Plenary and Thematic Session papers are scheduled for publication at a later date and, therefore, are not available.

Placement Service—Sir Francis Drake, Cypress

This service will be located in the Cypress Room of the Sir Francis Drake Hotel and will be conducted by the ASA staff under the direction of Mr. Bill Clement. The service will be open Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Facilities will be available for reviewing vacancy listings and applications, exchanging messages, and interviewing.

If you have pre-registered for this service, you should check in as soon as possible in order to activate your file. Others should register immediately.

Pre-registrants for the Placement Service have already paid the appropriate fees when they sent their materials to the Executive Office. Those registering at this time are required to pay the following fees before using the employment center: Employers, $25.00; Member applicants, $5.00; Non-Member applicants, $20.00. Registrants for the service will be issued identification cards which indicate receipt of payment and which must be shown to gain admittance.

Representatives of institutions listing vacancies and conducting interviews will be required to adhere to the affirmative action guidelines.

Press Room—Room 448/450

Accredited representatives of the news media should contact Dr. Larry Rhoades, Press Officer, to arrange interviews and press conferences.

PROGRAM NOTES

President Lewis A. Coser's address will be on Monday evening at 8:30 p.m. Neil J. Smelser will preside and Raymond W. Mack will introduce the President. The recipients of the Sorokin Award, the Stouffer Award, and the DuBois-Johnson-Frazier Award will be announced at this session.

Two additional Plenary Sessions will be presented as follows:

Tuesday, August 26, 8:30 p.m. "Variant Perspectives on American Society"; Suzanne Keller will preside over the panel consisting of David Riesman, Norman Birnbaum, and Peter H. Rossi.

Thursday, August 28, 8:30 p.m. "Variant Perspectives on American Sociology"; Robert A. Nisbet, Anthony Giddens, and James S. Coleman will comprise the panel with Robert K. Merton presiding.

Thematic Panel Sessions

Fourteen sessions on the central theme "Conflict and Dissensus" are included in the Program. For details on the topics and participants, refer to the following sessions:

Monday, numbers 11, 23, and 34; Tuesday, 52, 62, and 74; Wednesday, 96 and 107; Thursday, 118, 128, and 138; Friday, 157, 168, and 179.

Didactic Seminars

Attendance at the Didactic Seminars is by paid reservation only and attendance at each is limited to 35. Those already enrolled should have received their tickets with their badges, but should check at the Seminar desk in the East Lounge for any materials the presenters might have provided for distribution. Those who did not reserve in advance but wish to attend, should check at the Seminar Desk for possible openings.

No one will be admitted without a paid reservation.

Didactic Seminars are scheduled for three hour periods and are listed here by session number as well as within the body of this Program:

1. Monday, 8:30 a.m.	Techniques of Evaluation Research, Andy B. Anderson
24. Monday, 2:30 p.m.	History as a Data Bank, John L. Hammond, Jr.
25. Monday, 2:30 p.m.	Design and Use of Social Indicators, Robert Parke
43. Tuesday, 8:30 a.m.	Techniques in Analysis of Verbal Interaction, Jim Schenkein

44. Tuesday, 8:30 a.m. Uses and Abuses of Mathematical Models, Robert K. Leik and Barbara Meeker
63. Tuesday, 2:30 p.m. Subjective Approach to Quantitative Data Analysis, Elwood M. Beck
64. Tuesday, 2:30 p.m. Visual Techniques in Sociology, Timothy Jon Curry and Alfred C. Clarke
97. Wednesday, 2:30 p.m. Uses of Cross-Cultural Data Sources, Allen D. Grimshaw
98. Wednesday, 2:30 p.m. Techniques of Theory Construction, William J. Wilson
129. Thursday, 2:30 p.m. Path Analysis and Regression, Robert M. Hauser
130. Thursday, 2:30 p.m. Teaching of Teachers, Everett K. Wilson and Charles A. Goldsmid
148. Friday, 8:30 a.m. Field Observation, Rosalie H. Wax
149. Friday, 8:30 a.m. How to Write Good, Helen MacGill Hughes

Professional Workshops

The five Professional Workshops are planned to impart useful information and techniques concerning funding agency support for research and publication in journals and books. Each Workshop (Session no. 35, 45, 84, 119, and 150) will be conducted by experienced persons and will afford opportunities for exchange of information.

Working Papers

These papers have not been refereed but have been accorded a place on the program to enable interested persons to meet and discuss the topics with the authors. Papers were available from the authors prior to the Annual Meeting. They will also have copies to distribute at the time of the discussions. These papers are not for sale from the Paper Sales Desk.

The titles, authors, and times of presentation are listed on p. 144 of this Program.

Informal Discussions

In order to accommodate those small groups who wish to hold impromptu sociological discussions with colleagues, a limited number of conference style tables will be available at certain times during the Annual Meeting. Registrants wishing to utilize this format may obtain an assignment of time and space from a staff member in the ASA Headquarters office during the convention. If appropriate, such assignments will be posted on a bulletin board inviting participation.

Luncheon Roundtable Discussions—Imperial Ballroom

The list of luncheon topics and presenters is printed in the body of this Program under Session 22 on Monday, Session 61 on Tuesday, Session 94 on Wednesday, Session 127 on Thursday, and Session 166 on Friday. Some tickets are still available for some of the luncheons; the numbers are listed on a bulletin board at the Luncheon Ticket Desk in the East Lounge. Also listed here are the luncheon numbers for which the presenters have left materials for distribution to the participants.

Persons who have confirmed reservations should have received their tickets along with their badges. If, however, your check and reservation request were received in the Executive Office too late for processing, a refund will be made at a later date. Please check at the Ticket Desk. Ticket sales will be closed one-half hour before luncheons begin each day.

Cancellations will not be accepted later than 48 hours prior to the scheduled luncheon. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

Historically, there have been problems concerning admittance to the luncheon room. In fairness to members who have paid for their reservations, your cooperation with the personnel in charge is essential. No one will be admitted to the room without a valid ticket. Observers are not permitted. Waiters will not serve luncheon to anyone who is seated at the wrong table.

Section Meetings

Check the Program Summary and the body of the Program for details on Section activities. The Section Council and Business Meetings and the Section-Sponsored Program Sessions are scheduled as follows:

Two new Sections (Environment and Marxist Sociology) have been approved by Council, and three other groups are attempting to organize.

Persons interested in the establishment of these Sections should attend the organizational meetings listed below:

Section on Sociology of the Environment ..... Monday, 4:30 p.m.
 Section on Marxist Sociology ..... Wednesday, 8:30 a.m.
 Section on Political Economy of the World-System ..... Tuesday, 10:30 a.m.
 Section on Population ..... Thursday, 2:30 p.m.
 Section on Sociological Practice and Social Policy ..... Wednesday, 3:30 p.m.

Business Meetings—Ballroom 5

Two ASA Business Meetings, open to all members, are scheduled for Wednesday morning from 10:30 to 12:30 and Thursday morning from 8:30 to 10:30. Members wishing to present resolutions should submit them to a member of the Executive Office staff in the Walnut Room not later than 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday or Wednesday for presentation the following morning. These resolutions will be turned over to the ASA Secretary and will be given priority on the agenda. Resolutions not submitted beforehand will be placed at the end of the agenda, time permitting.

Film Showings

The California Room on the Ballroom floor of the Hilton has been set aside for the showing of films of sociological interest. Films are limited to educational-research films presented by non-profit organizations. A complete Schedule of showings will be posted outside the California Room and will be published in the Daily Bulletin.

Social Events

Three social events, under the auspices of the ASA, have been scheduled. All will begin immediately following the evening Plenary Sessions.

Monday—DAN, the third annual Departmental Alumni Night, more specifically designated Departmental Alumni, Students, and Faculty Cash Bar Cocktail Stand-Up Conversation and Meet Your Old Friends Under Your University Standard Night. Hopefully all graduate departments of sociology will participate. If you are an alumnus, student, faculty member, or friend, do come; if you are none of these, come anyhow.

Tuesday—ROAST, or Regional Organizations And Societies Taproom. Each regional association will be represented by its own cash bar. This is an effort to let everyone renew and reinvigorate their regional identity. Even though you are not a member of the regional society in your area, you may find you wish to join after locating your friends at the appropriate bar. This could be the first annual ROAST.

Thursday—The eleventh annual Jazz Session by the Society of Sociological Musicians. For those who have enjoyed this evening of music in previous years, no explanation is necessary; for newcomers, don't miss this one.

Activities of Other Groups

Meetings, times, and locations of unofficial ASA activities are listed elsewhere in this Program. Except in a few cases, these meetings are open to the membership. Several groups holding programs throughout the ASA Meetings will have details available at their designated headquarters room. All groups have been urged to have announcements available for distribution in the registration area in the East Lounge for members' information.

FUTURE MEETINGS OF THE ASA

INTRODUCTION TO CRIMINAL JUSTICE

By Donald J. Newman, State University of New York at Albany

A comprehensive overview of the criminal justice system: police agencies, prosecutors and criminal court judges, prisons, probation services, and parole boards. Legal and sociological aspects are blended, stressing both formal law and the operational realities of crime control.

507 pages/clothbound/$12.95

CORRECTIONS IN AMERICA

By Robert M. Carter, E.K. Nelson,
University of Southern California;
and Richard A. McGee, American Justice Institute

An up-to-date, authoritative overview of the entire field of corrections. Coverage ranges from initial detention following arrest of adults and juveniles through all categories of programs—local, state and federal.

497 pages/paperbound/$7.95

Third Edition

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

By Ruth Shonle Cavan, Northern Illinois University, and Theodore N. Ferdinand, Northern Illinois University

Completely revised and reset, this new edition gives greater attention to typologies of delinquency than previous editions. Chapters dealing with theory and delinquency control have been substantially revised.

471 pages/paperbound/$7.95

Third Edition

READINGS IN JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Edited by Ruth Shonle Cavan, Northern Illinois University

The editor has retained only twelve articles from the previous edition while selecting thirty-two additional articles reflecting changing attitudes toward delinquency, and changes in juvenile courts, procedures, and institutional treatment.

555 pages/paperbound/$7.95

SOCIAL PROBLEMS AS SOCIAL MOVEMENTS

By Armand Mauss, Washington State University

Within a theoretical framework that attempts to explain why social problems develop and why they develop when they do, the author deals consistently and systematically with the social movement aspects of contemporary social problems.

718 pages/clothbound/$11.95

SOCIAL DEVIANCE

Edited by Ronald A. Farrell and Victoria Lynn Swigert, State University of New York at Albany

The editors have carefully designed this collection of readings to provide comprehensive coverage of the major deviance theories, including both classical and contemporary statements. Each of the book's seven major sections is preceded by a detailed introduction.

400 pages/paperbound/$5.95

Third Edition

SOCIAL WORK: An Introduction

By Elizabeth A. Ferguson, Castleton State College

Thoroughly revised, updated, and reset, this new edition contains expanded material on social policy and social action, and reflects recent social work emphasis on race, ethnicity, migrants, welfare, aging, and alcoholism.

Man in Society

A Biosocial View

By Pierre L. van den Berghe, University of Washington. Man in Society takes a look at the nature of human nature by comparing Homo sapiens with other species, and it treats Western industrial societies as simply one special type of a social system among many. Thus, this text is heavily comparative, both in cross-species and in a cross-cultural way. The author is also concerned with problems of biological and social evolution, drawing on the past, as well as the present, to determine what the range of human behavior is. The content of the book is at least as much anthropological as sociological, as van den Berghe refuses to believe that there is a meaningful distinction between the two disciplines. 1975. 300 pages. ISBN 0-444-99000-3 $10.95, cloth. ISBN 0-444-99010-0 $6.95 paper.

Criminology Index

By Marvin E. Wolfgang, Robert M. Figlio, and Terence P. Thornberry, all of the Center for Studies in Criminology and Criminal Law, University of Pennsylvania. Criminology Index represents an important resource for scholars and researchers. For the first time, there exists a central source of detailed references to virtually every significant article and book relating to the etiology of crime and delinquency published since 1945. This means that relevant research findings will be conveniently available to guide researchers and practitioners in future efforts. Skillfully organized, the Index provides an easy-to-use reference tool for those interested in discovering the accumulated learning in a particular subject area. Its comprehensiveness and quality merit a large audience among criminologists. —Gerald M. Caplan, Director, National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. (From the Foreword). 1975. ISBN 0-444-99002-X 2 vols., 2432 pages. $60.00, the set

The Distorted Image

By Sidney Bolkosky, University of Michigan. Not so much "the self-image of the Jews in Weimar Germany," as an explanation and analysis of the curious manner in which the German-Jewish community and its spokesmen reacted to the rise of Hitler and the National Socialist movement. Bolkosky's work is a fresh and provocative approach to the subject. The self-image "business," linked to the idealized, mythical image of "the German" is part of his explanation of the strange and ultimately fatal blindness that so many educated German Jews exhibited in the face of the deadly danger represented by the Nazi movement. Bolkosky's conceptualization of the problem is both original and suggestive. 1975. ISBN 0-444-99014-3 224 pages. $10.95 (Text.)

Sociology of Leisure

By Joffre Dumazedier, Professor of Social Sciences, Department of Education, Université René Descartes, Paris. Translated from the French by Marea McKenzie. The basic definitions of leisure, its positive and negative aspects, and its origins (especially in France and the USSR), are discussed in this timely book. Until recently, leisure's dimensions were hidden by the myth of its connections with work and social obligations. The author views leisure as an historical creation evolving along with the changes in our institutions and the demands of the individual, and also as a social and economic movement which not only modifies social structures but radically changes the orientation of daily life. 1974. ISBN 0-444-41226-3 232 pages. $9.75

Dissent Denied

The Technocratic Reponse to Protest

By Marlis Krueger, University of Bremen and Frieda M. Silvert, Institute for the Study of Human Issues. Dissent Denied is an attempt to show critical sociology at work. Krueger and Silvert insist that the protest movements and the social science explanations about them are of a "piece" — a continuation of the contradictory elements of two American traditions: the forces demanding equality (the democratic ethos) and the countervailing forces denying this equality (imperial colonialism). Dissent Denied is, in essence, an inquiry into what happened to the university, to democracy, and to American society during the sixties. 1975. ISBN 0-444-99005-4 180 pages. $10.00

The Politics of Pluralism

A Comparative Study of Lebanon and Ghana

By David R. Smock and Audrey C. Smock, The Ford Foundation. Using a systematic comparative approach that contains new data and material on two contrasting societies, this book analyzes the dynamics of political and social life in the pluralistic states of Lebanon and Ghana. Ghana's leaders hold the conviction that ethnic identities are minor impediments to nation-building and will disappear with modernization. Lebanon's leaders have explicitly recognized the strength of primordial attachments and have devised a socio-political system built on communal blocks which promotes inter-group equilibrium rather than assimilation. The authors illustrate the effect of these two contrasting approaches on their respective societies and how they penetrate the political area. 1975. ISBN 0-444-99008-9 356 pages. $12.50

The Efficient Organization

By Selwyn W. Becker, University of Chicago; and Duncan Neuhauser, Harvard School of Public Health. In this book, Becker and Neuhauser present a theory of formal organization which is applicable to all formal organizations, ranging from voluntary organizations (unions, universities) to hierarchical systems (businesses, governmental bureaus). A distinctive feature of the theory is that, depending on environmental conditions, there is an optimal organization form or style that will maximize efficiency. The authors explore the various kinds of environmental uncertainty or complexity, linking these to the optimal organizational forms. 1975. ISBN 0-444-99004-6 240 pages. $12.50

Crime, Punishment, and Deterrence

By Jack P. Gibbs, Professor of Sociology, University of Arizona

An Introduction to Applied Sociology

By Paul F. Lazarsfeld, University of Pittsburgh, and Jeffrey G. Reitz, University of Toronto, in collaboration with Ann K. Pasanella, Bureau of Applied Social Research. In this book the authors develop a theory of social science utilization that focuses on cognitive processes and their relation to the social context of interaction between social scientists and policy-makers. 1975. ISBN 0-440-99006-2 200 pages. $10.95

PERSPECTIVE: AN INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY

Burton Wright II, Charles Unkovic, John Weiss

A text which provides the substance of modern sociology within the three theoretical models utilized in contemporary sociology - functional, conflict and interactional. The authors have consistently emphasized the great perspectives introduced to the discipline by the classical theorists - Marx, Weber, and Durkheim - to provide the student with a firm grasp of the significance of the classical thinkers for modern thought and analysis. The text is complemented by a student study guide and an instructor's guide.

POINTS OF DEPARTURE: BASIC CONCEPTS IN SOCIOLOGY 2nd edition

Reece McGee

A widely used text for the introductory course. The book is intended to permit the unprepared student to come to understand the logic of thinking which distinguishes sociology from other disciplines. It discusses seven basic organizing concepts: culture, society, socialization, social organization, social institutions, social stratification, deviant behavior, and six ways in which sociologists think about them: logic of science, probabilism, functionalism, models and theories, conflict theory and social change. The text is complemented by an instructor's manual.

SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY 4th edition

Alfred Lindesmith, Anselm Strauss, Norman Denzin

This text has been a leader in its field for its systematic presentation of the symbolic interactionist perspective on human behavior. This latest edition incorporates and evaluates recent theoretical and research developments including exchange theory, ethnomethodology and linguistics. An instructor's manual accompanies the text.

SOCIAL THEORY REVISITED

Clinton Jessor

A text-reader which presents and analyzes the work of the major social theorists from 1820 to 1940 (Comte to Mannheim).

MINORITIES

B. Eugene Griessman

A text presenting a cross-culture, interdisciplinary study of inter-group relations. Case studies and selected readings are incorporated into the text.

"Sesame Street" Revisited

By Thomas D. Cook, Hilary Appleton, Ross Conner, Ann Shaffer, Gary Tamkin and Stephen J. Weber. In the course of its long television lifetime, "Sesame Street" has taught alphabet- and number-related skills to hundreds of thousands of preschool children. Analyzing and reevaluating data drawn from the Educational Testing Service's evaluation of "Sesame Street," the authors of this book open fresh lines of inquiry into the effectiveness of the program's teaching, and also highlight a number of issues regarding the role of social scientists in examining the research work of other groups. 1975. In preparation.

The Legal System

A Social Science Perspective

By Lawrence M. Friedman. What is the impact of social forces on the legal system in our country and how do the rules and orders promulgated by that legal system affect our social behavior? This book by a leading professor of law attempts to answer that question by describing legal systems in behavioral terms. Friedman discusses the social forces that produce laws and theories of judicial decision-making. He explores the relationship between class structure and the work of legal systems in the light of the existing literature and analyzes the influence of the cultural elements contained in a legal system. 1975. Approx. 350 pages. $12.50

Social Indicator Models

Edited by Kenneth C. Land and Seymour Spilerman. The label "social indicators" has been with us now for nearly a decade. It is generally applied to indices of various social conditions within particular communities or societies. As this work illustrates, social indicators can also be used, potentially, to inform, and perhaps guide, social policy.

The book deals in comprehensive fashion with a diverse array of both objective and subjective social indicators. It brings together 14 thought-provoking articles by authorities such as James S. Coleman, James A. Davis, and Otis Dudley Duncan and Beverly Duncan. 1975. 424 pages. $15.00

The Sanctity of Social Life

Physicians' Treatment of Critically Ill Patients

By Diana Crane. Unlike other treatments of the subject, this study is concerned not with what physicians should do for the critically ill, but with their actual behavior. It tests the hypothesis that physicians evaluate the terminally ill patient in terms of both the physiological aspects of his illness and the extent to which he is capable of interacting with others and performing his social roles. Based on extensive interviews with physicians in several medical specialties and studies of the records of actual hospital patients, the book suggests that while keeping patients alive in certain types of cases is wide-spread, allowing them to die is relatively rare.

Academic and Entrepreneurial Research

The Consequences of Diversity in Federal Evaluation Studies

By Ilene N. Bernstein and Howard E. Freeman. As social action programs in health, education, and welfare have expanded, interest has grown in evaluating their implementation and effectiveness. Policy-makers and social planners — at all levels of government and in the private sector — are currently confronted with the problem of evaluating resource demands and rating the usefulness of competing social programs.

Academic and Entrepreneurial Research presents a systematic study of the expenditure of federal funds for evaluation research. It provides data about "high" and "low" quality evaluation research and contains recommendations for restructuring the entire evaluation research enterprise in light of the findings.

1975. 208 pages. $8.95

TV Violence and the Child

The Evolution and Fate of the Surgeon General's Report

By Douglass Cater and Stephen Strickland. In 1969, Senator John Pastore requested that the Surgeon General appoint a committee to conduct an inquiry into television violence and its effect on children. When the Surgeon General's report was finally released in 1972 it angered and confused a number of critics. In TV Violence and the Child, Douglass Cater and Stephen Strickland present a fascinating study of the Surgeon General's quest and, in effect, the process by which social science is recruited and its findings made relevant to public policy. 1975. 178 pages. $5.95

Working Communally

Patterns and Possibilities

By David French and Elena French. As the social upheavals of the last decade attest, many Americans — young and middle-aged alike — are searching for new patterns of living and working. The "counter-culture" of the 1960s failed, the authors believe, because it was too conservative at heart to develop a truly realistic new system. This provocative book proposes just such a challenging possibility — the communal work place where work, recreation, and living space are brought together in a unified setting.

For anyone interested in learning more about past American communitarian movements, as well as the activities of the new community experiments of the 1960s, this book is enlightening reading. 1975. Approx. 300 pages. $10.50

Social Statistics in Use

By Phillip M. Hauser. Prepared by an eminent sociologist who serves as Director of the Population Research Center at the University of Chicago, the book illustrates the many applications social statistics have for governmental agencies at the federal, state, and local levels; for the business community; for labor unions; for educators and researchers; and for the general public. Hauser explains why the collection and compilation of statistical information is required by our increasingly complex and interdependent society as a basis for sound policy and programmatic determination, both in the public and private sectors. 1975. ## Sociology and Public Policy

The Case of Presidential Commissions

Edited by Mirra Komarovsky, Barnard College, Columbia University.
An American Sociological Association Book

In a novel way, Sociology and Public Policy addresses an issue in sociology that has been there since its inception: the relationship of sociological knowledge to public policy. Distinguished, well-known sociologists, who have participated in four Presidential Commissions, reflect here on their experiences in a disciplined way. They discuss the Commission as a sociological phenomenon and the use, misuse, and non-use of sociology in the Commissions' recommendations. Three concluding chapters attempt to codify and to generalize the data presented in the four "case studies" of Presidential Commissions.

Sociology and Public Policy provides a kind of perspective that does not exist elsewhere in the social policy literature.

SOCIOLOGY A Text with Adapted Readings FIFTH EDITION

The Fifth Edition of the most innovative contemporary text contains about 50% new material: two new chapters—THE FAMILY and RACE AND ETHNICITY; new sections in many chapters (e.g., "Interaction and the micro-order," "The quest for community," "Intimacy and encounter," "Socialization for disadvantage," and "Man, nature, and the ecosystem"). These and many other changes reflect the authors' commitment to clear exposition, challenging examples, and social relevance. The format—self-contained sections within chapters, 43 adapted readings, and text inserts—makes the book a highly flexible instrument readily usable in courses of varying length and emphasis. 1973. 653 pages; $13.95. Instructor's Manual.

ESSENTIALS OF SOCIOLOGY from Sociology: A Text with Adapted Readings, Fifth Edition

The high standards of scholarship and clarity that have made SOCIOLOGY: A TEXT WITH ADAPTED READINGS the most widely adopted and respected introductory text are maintained in this abridgment. Much of the material has been simplified and reorganized to suit short introductory courses and to provide a sound core text for longer courses using supplements. 1975. 324 pages; $7.95: paper. ## THEORIES OF DEVIANCE

Edited by Stuart H. Traub and Craig B. Little, State University of New York, Courtland

This reader contains key theoretical foundation statements from diverse perspectives within sociology. It follows the development of the sociology of deviance from 19th century functionalism to the contemporary labeling-societal reaction school. The goal is to provide students with an opportunity to recognize cross-fertilization, compatibility, and counterpoint among the various theorists.

Mirror of Man Readings in Sociology and Literature

Second Edition

Jane W. Dabaghian

American River College

Jane Dabaghian's MIRROR OF MAN encourages students to look at the world at large through sociological "spectacles." Fiction and non-fiction selections culled from contemporary magazines (Harper's, Evergreen Review, Esquire, Saturday Review, etc.) and books (Mario Puzo's The Godfather, Anthony Herbert's Soldier, Alexander Solzhenitsyn's Cancer Ward, etc.) illustrate important sociological concepts. Over half of the material in the Second Edition is new.

Life Styles

Diversity in American Society
Second Edition

Saul D. Feldman

Case Western Reserve University

Gerald W. Thielbar

University of Wisconsin-Madison

This revision of a most successful reader examines the great diversity of life styles within American society and the impact of major sociological variables upon these life styles. Retaining the basic format of the first edition, the new Second Edition is more clearly directed to the introductory-level student, with selections drawn from a wide variety of descriptive sources (e.g., newspaper articles, McCalls, The Saturday Review, Esquire). The book is divided into units keyed to major sociological concepts; each section includes a balanced selection of popular articles and formal sociological studies. A major new unit on socialization and the life cycle has been added.

The Nacirema

James P. Spradley

Michael A. Rynkiewicz

Both at Macalester College

The title of this new collection of readings is borrowed from the first article included in it — the classic ethnographic piece by Horace Miner called "Body Ritual Among the Nacirema." THE NACIREMA (American spelled backward) provides an in-depth view of a single culture — our own. It represents an organized, meaningful blend of ethnographic insights with broad cultural concepts. The book begins with a consideration of the concept of culture itself, along with the means and agents by which it is transmitted. The readings then examine the various components of the American culture, making a gradual transition from a micro-level of society (family, the educational process, secondary groups) to macro-level institutions (religion, economy, law, politics). A final section looks at culture change and values.

Intimacy, Family and Society

Arlene Skolnick

University of California, Berkeley

Jerome H. Skolnick

University of California, Berkeley

A contemporary, sometimes controversial view of the family is stressed in this new reader. The traditional, deterministic roles of the family are re-examined in light of current thinking and research, and a variety of life styles are explored. The readings are interdisciplinary, with materials drawn from anthropology, psychology, and history, as well as sociology. There are chapters on the development of sexuality, women in society, men in society, love and pairing, and singleness and childlessness. Each selection is preceded by a lengthy introduction.

Family in Transition

Rethinking Marriage, Sexuality,
Child Rearing, and Family
Organization

Arlene Skolnick

Jerome H. Skolnick

Both at the University of California,
Berkeley

Challenging academic and popular assumptions about the family, sex, and society, the book covers four key topics: the family idea, the politics of sex and marriage, the politics of childrearing, and the politics of family and household organizations. The interdisciplinary readings — drawn from history, biology, sociology, psychology, and anthropology — were chosen both for their scholarly content and for their controversial perspective. But this is not an "anti-family" book; rather, it is a book that challenges the ideology of the nuclear family and its implications that there is one "best" way for people to live.

Paper 542 pages 1971 $6.95

The Intimate Environment

Exploring Marriage and the Family

Arlene Skolnick

University of California, Berkeley

It's no secret that family life today is under severe stress. Rising divorce rates, declining birth rates, communes, unmarried cohabitation, and the women's liberation movement have all had considerable impact on the traditional family group. This text attempts to rethink outdated conceptions of family life, using a wholly new interdisciplinary approach synthesized from past insights and the most current findings. Covering a wide range of life styles, it explores the personal relationships of husbands and wives, parents and children, as they are influenced by their sociological, historical, and psychological environment. A very complete Teacher's Manual provides additional material and test questions.

Social Problems Today

Scott G. McNall

Arizona State University

Arguing that most of the problems facing mankind stem not from the nature of man, but from the structural conditions of modern society, this new text presents an integrated approach to the study of social problems. Aging, poverty, racism, pollution, suicide, and alcoholism are often treated as if each were caused by a unique set of circumstances, and each required a separate and unique solution. Prof. McNall focuses instead on the institutional arrangements that give rise to sets of interrelated problems. He discusses sociology's duty, as a humanistic discipline, to both study and solve basic social problems. The clearly written, well-organized chapters feature outlines of major concepts plus questions for study and discussion.

Criminology

Analysis and Critique of

Crime in America

Richard Quinney

Brooklyn College CUNY

A major departure from standard criminology texts, Richard Quinney's new book offers a truly unified perspective on crime in America: a comprehensive survey of criminology; its institutional and societal bases. It also offers a critique of the system itself — the institutional framework that perpetuates crime. All the constituent elements of the system are discussed: the law, the offender, the policing and adjudicative functions, treatment and correction. CRIMINOLOGY is based upon a broad range of sources and materials, but Prof. Quinney has given it a distinctive and unified orientation. The convenient format of the text clearly separates documents, points of view, and excerpts from the narrative.

Booth 57 for Fall '75

Drop by Booth 57 and see what's up for Fall '75 at Addison-Wesley.

You'll see Ronald Federico's Sociology—a book that's interesting, lively, challenging. With clearly explained concepts. Including examples students can relate to.

The content includes full-range institutional coverage. And a series of inserts dealing with special problems. It's all thoroughly integrated too, and accompanied by a complete package of modern study aids.

Another book to see is Deviance: Action, Reaction, Interaction, a text-reader written and edited by Frank Scarpitti and Paul McFarlane. Unlike other books in the field, this one explores positive forms of deviant social action as well as the negative forms. The authors' symbolic interactionist and labeling perspectives, create entirely new content and organization.

When you stop by, also ask about our forthcoming books. Especially our brand new text, Introduction to Sociology by Daniel Hebding and Leonard Glick. And the new edition of Urbanism, Urbanization, and Change: Comparative Perspectives, by Paul Meadows and Ephraim Mizruchi.

THE CRUMBLING WALLS
Treatment and Counseling of Prisoners

edited by Ray E. Hosford and C. Scott Moss. With a foreword by Norman A. Carlson, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons. Staff members, administrators, and inmates describe and assess some of the promising experimental rehabilitation programs at the Federal Correctional Institution at Lompoc, California — including the Carkhuff training program, transactional analysis, and human relations training — demonstrating through specific case studies that traditional long-term psychotherapy is outmoded, and suggesting that prison "walls" will have to extend to local communities if prisoners are to learn to readjust to society. 270 pages. $8.95.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS IN ATHLETICS
Essays in the Sociology of Sport

edited by Daniel M. Landers. In one of the first volumes to focus on social problems in sport, contributors analyze such topics as the compelling will to win, the violent world of the hockey player, the bowling hystler, and the player who makes cheating an integral part of the game, as well as myths and problems concerning the black athlete. December. 280 pages. $10.00.

VARIATIONS IN BLACK AND WHITE PERCEPTIONS OF THE SOCIAL ENVIRONMENT

edited by Harry C. Triandis. Presenting a rich array of quantitative data concerning the effects of segregation and economic deprivation, Triandis illuminates the remarkable heterogeneity of the "black point of view" as he demonstrates that the ghetto black's perceptions of his social environment differ markedly from those of other samples of blacks as well as whites. December. 235 pages. 3 microfiche cards. $15.00.

CROSS-CULTURAL UNIVERSALS OF AFFECTIVE MEANING

Charles E. Osgood, William H. May, and Murray S. Miron. The result of one of the largest cross-cultural social science projects under way in any American university, this pioneering study based on the influential The Measurement of Meaning (Osgood, Suci, and Tannenbaum) verifies the existence of universal affective components which make languages mutually translatable. (Individual atlases for each of the 28 language cultures studied are also available.) 580 pages. $20.00.

LAWS AGAINST MARIJUANA
The Price We Pay

Arthur D. Hellman. Depicting the drastic social costs of the present laws against marijuana, Hellman "builds a powerful case for decriminalizing both marijuana possession and sale and substituting therefor a regulatory licensing distribution scheme. . . . a valuable treatment." — Library Journal. 224 pages. $10.00.

SLAVERY AND THE NUMBERS GAME
A Critique of *Time on the Cross

Herbert G. Gutman. Challenging the radical reinterpretation of Southern history presented in Time on the Cross, Gutman shows how the widely acclaimed book is "filled with egregious errors" and provides important new information on such pivotal issues as slave occupational structure and the slave family. ". . . devastating." — Richard Sutch. 192 pages. Paper, $2.95. Also in cloth, $7.95.

A GHETTO TAKES SHAPE
Black Cleveland, 1870-1930

Kenneth L. Kusmer. A systematic investigation of the development of Cleveland's black community based on extensive use of manuscript collections of local black leaders and organizations, this volume of comparative history provides the most detailed analysis of black occupations available, covers a longer time span, and deals with more aspects of black life than any other study to date. December. 320 pages. $10.95.

CORE
A Study in the Civil Rights Movement

August Meier and Elliott Rudwick. ". . . a masterful study. . . ." — American Journal of Sociology. ". . . the best account of a civil rights organization that we have; it should serve as a model for future studies. . . ." — James McPherson, American Historical Review. ". . . the most impressive book yet written on a major civil rights organization." — Allen Weinstein, Washington Post Book World. 583 pages. Paper, $5.95.

SOCIOLOGY AND JURISPRUDENCE OF LEON PETRAZYCKI

edited by Jan Gorecki. Leon Petrazycki evolved a theoretical system which anticipated later developments of the behavioral sciences and articulated many ideas of classical conditioning and instrumental learning theories in a manner that has never been excelled. This collection of essays by international scholars offers a concise and critical presentation of the social theorist's work in light of recent developments in scientific knowledge. October. 150 pages. $6.95.

SOCIETY AS IT IS: A Reader, Second Edition, Glen Gaviglio, Solano County Community College; and David E. Raye, Hartnell College

Gaviglio and Raye believe that student interest is foremost in any introductory course—their anthology has been compiled with the aim of whetting the intellectual appetite of every student. The selections are vibrant and dynamic, chosen primarily for their controversial and stimulating nature. Cartoons and satires are also included to capture student interest. In addition to such basic concepts as culture, socialization and total institutions, and social stratification, there is coverage of significant contemporary issues of relevance to students, e.g.: political corruption; alienation and the quality of work; education; ecology and community problems; women's rights; social change; bureaucracy; and minority revolt.

A summarizing statement appears before each section; these statements present basic concepts, reasons for including the essays in each section, and thought-provoking questions.

Of the 51 articles in SOCIETY AS IT IS, Second Edition, 34 are new to this edition.

1976 approx. 480 pages paper

SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY: A Book of Readings, Fourth Edition, Lewis A. Coser, State University of New York at Stony Brook; and Bernard Rosenberg, City College of The City University of New York

In the Fourth Edition of SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY:

- A whole new chapter on Structural Ambivalence including The Stranger (Simmel); Sociological Ambivalence (Merton and Barber); Authority and Structural Ambivalence in the Middle-Class Family (Coser); Social Basis of Personality (Slaten).

- New readings on the current state of theoretical work:

Life Cycle Structure and Functions: Is Reconstruction Possible? (Orlin-sky); The Notion of Power: Theoretical Developments (Coser); The Functional Theory of Stratification: Some Neglected Considerations (Wrong); Inequality and Social Structure: A Comparison of Marx and Weber (Bendix); The Vanguard Artist (Rosenberg and Fliegel); Conditions of Successful Degradation Ceremonies (Garfinkel).

1976 approx. 672 pages

STRATIFICATION AND MOBILITY: A Text with Integrated Readings, Mark Abrahamson, Ephraim H. Mizruchi, both, Syracuse University; and Carlton A. Hornung, University of Maryland

Combining textual material and pertinent selections from the literature in one volume, STRATIFICATION AND MOBILITY examines conceptual, theoretical, and methodological issues in the study of social stratification. The authors' broad perspective is classical; their discussion of social mobility is both American and cross-national in scope.

1976 approx. 448 pages

in '76: for your course*

DEVIANT BEHAVIOR: Crime, Conflict, and Interest Groups, Charles H. McCaghy, Bowling Green State University

This lively, highly readable new text discusses the wide range of topics currently comprising the rapidly evolving study of deviance—such diverse topics as homicide, rape, prostitution, organized crime, homosexuality, mental disorder, and drug use. An important feature of DEVIANT BEHAVIOR is that it ties interest group conflict to specific forms of behavior in an interesting, lucid analysis readily accessible to the undergraduate.

In addition to comprehensive treatment of traditional topics, DEVIANT BEHAVIOR includes thoughtful, current coverage of such new areas as Deviance within Business and Industry; Crimes by Business and Industry; Political Corruption; The Therapeutic State; Police Corruption; The "Rip-off" Philosophy.

1976 approx. 400 pages paper
An Instructor's Manual is available.

SOCIAL RESEARCH: Strategy and Tactics, Third Edition, Bernard S. Phillips, Boston University

The central theme of the completely rewritten Third Edition is that there is an emerging humanistic approach to social research combining the rigor of the physical sciences with the openness of the humanities. The scientific method is seen as an effort to extend our ordinary powers of understanding by means of systematic procedures for developing and testing ideas.

The Third Edition continues to maintain that:

- Theory is the most important research tool available to the scientist.
- Research methods are the products of a community of scientists and must be seen within their social historical contexts.

SOCIOLOGY: UNDERSTANDING SOCIAL BEHAVIOR

Alan P. Bates and Joseph Julian, both of University of Nebraska — Lincoln
1975 / 600 pages / $11.95 / Instructor's Guide and Resource Manual

This new introductory textbook explores the sociological perspective as it relates to the everyday experiences of students. Each chapter contains sections on social change, practical uses of sociological knowledge, and activities for "doing" sociology.

A beginning study of small social units, those most identifiable to students, establishes a base for later examination of larger, more complicated, and abstract units.

SOURCEBOOK in MARRIAGE and the FAMILY, Fourth Edition

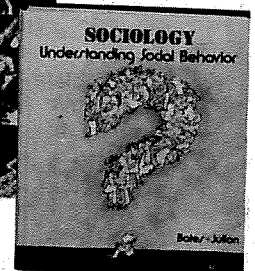

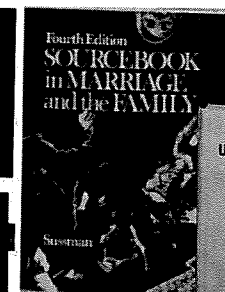

Edited by Marvin B. Sussman, Case Western Reserve University
1974 / 430 pages / paper / $6.95

The 1974 SOURCEBOOK contains thirty-six articles. Nineteen of them are new selections that describe recent trends in marriage styles and family forms, sex roles, socialization, theoretical perspectives, and empirical research. The book also includes examples of sampling and hypothesis testing.

SOURCEBOOK, Fourth Edition makes an excellent supplement for any family, child development, or home economics text.

Social Problems in American Society, second ed.

Edited by James M. Henslin, Southern Illinois University, and Larry T. Reynolds, Central Michigan University.

This updated selection of articles emphasizes the inter-relationship between social problems and the American social structure. This new edition takes a critical stance of American society, thus stimulating progressive and change-oriented thinking. It is designed for courses in social problems or introductory sociology. 1976, 6 x 9, paperbound, est. 420 pp.

Creative Marriage

Richard A. Hunt, Director of Human Development Services, Southern Methodist University and Edward J. Rydman, former Executive Director of the American Association of Marriage Counselors.

Using an interactive approach which is based upon recent developments in communications and systems theories, this book describes how two liberated, independent persons can form a dynamic, exciting partnership. The principles and suggested activities apply equally to engaged or married couples and to partners who are living together but not formally married. An Instructor's Manual is also available.

1976, 7-3/16 x 9-3/16, paperbound, est. 416 pp.

Encounter: Love, Marriage and Family, second ed.

Edited by Ruth E. Albrecht and E. Wilbur Bock, both of the University of Florida.

Designed to provoke lively class discussion, this book of readings now includes an additional 11 articles of particular interest to modern students. Selections center on current issues of interest to students such as changes that are taking place in the family, legal problems, the results of swinging, the cohabitation of unmarried college students, and divorce adjustments. Vignettes describing a conflict situation and pertinent discussion questions follow each section.

1975, 6-1/8 x 9-1/4, paperbound, 461 pp.

A better text can make you a better teacher.

hard-hitting sociology texts from John Wiley

INTRODUCTORY

SOCIOLOGY: A Critical Approach to Power, Conflict, and Change by J. Victor Baldridge, Stanford University

Examines from a sociological perspective such problem areas as economics, politics, and public policy, and gives more emphasis to sex discrimination than does any current sociology text.

Read and evaluated by diverse sociological specialists, the text discusses large-scale social institutions; power and inequality; conflict and social movements; racial injustice and social policy decisions. Sections on micro-sociology examine culture, socialization, and the family.

ACTION

An Experimental Approach to Sociology, Student Manual by J. Victor Baldridge

Incorporates 36 simulation games, at least 4 or 5 field activities, experience teams, media resources, study aids, and a host of reading material.

Designed, tested, and produced by nearly 20 sociologists and educational specialists, the manual took three years to complete.

1975 378 pages $5.95

SOCIOLOGY AND THE HUMAN EXPERIENCE

by Donald A. Hobbs and Stuart J. Blank, both of Catonsville Community College

Provides students what they need to feel sociology:

stated objectives at the head of each module . . . textual material on student-involving topics such as racial differentiation, sex roles in society, social deviance, and ecology.

MARRIAGE

FREEDOM AND GROWTH IN MARRIAGE

by James Leslie McCary, U. of Houston

Considers marriage from a personal rather than an academic or moralistic point of view. Stressing real, contemporary problems and approaches to their solutions, it enables your students to explore the alternatives to marriage, varying types of marital arrangements, and the problems of sexual adjustment. The implications for individual growth and freedom within marriage are a central concern.

Written to meet the special needs of today's students. While scientifically accurate and up-to-date, it is also a pleasure to read—lucid and compelling, even humorous.

1975 420 pages $9.95

SOCIAL PROBLEMS

CONTEMPORARY SOCIAL ISSUES

Edited by Rose Giallombardo

Thought-provoking articles about America in the mid-70's. Experts in various disciplines discuss equality and poverty; the work ethic, automation, and alienation; crime and the criminal justice system; the family; health care; education; population and the environment; economy, power, and nuclear war; technology and progress.

1975 612 pages $9.95

TWO REVISIONS OF TWO AMERICAN CLASSICS

ELMTOWN'S YOUTH AND ELMTOWN REVISITED

by August B. Hollingshead, Yale University

ELMTOWN'S YOUTH is the early 1940s study of the organization, structure, and functioning of an American county seat community. Long regarded as a sociological classic, it now returns as the basis for a new, in-depth study.

ELMTOWN REVISITED focuses on continuities and changes in the community over a thirty-year period. Where YOUTH gave particular reference to the impact of social class on adolescents, the new volume traces the lives of these adolescents into the 1970s, to disclose the community's reaction to the publication of ELMTOWN'S YOUTH . . . the community's social structure . . . problems in the school system . . . changes in leisure time activities . . . and the implications of pollution and urbanization for Elmtown. A timeless portrait of midwestern life.

1975 395 pages $10.95 cloth $6.95 paper

JUSTICE WITHOUT TRIAL 2nd Edition

Law Enforcement in Democratic Society by Jerome H. Skolnick, University of California, Berkeley

Now Skolnick's classic study is even more penetrating. The new edition contains an epilogue—"Ten Years After"—that examines such current topics as political crime, the concern over dissident groups, and the rise of law and order as a political issue.

Writes John Kaplan of Stanford University's School of Law, "To my mind it is by far the best thing that has been done on the police and is a must for anyone who attempts to understand the current controversy over the relation between individual rights and the protection of society. . . . This study should be a model for those it will inspire over the next generation."

1975 309 pages $9.95 cloth $5.95 paper

CRIMINOLOGY

CRIMINAL LAW IN ACTION

by William J. Chambliss, University of California, Santa Barbara

Here are 36 current readings that cover a wide range of issues—how criminal laws are enacted to the development of penal functions.

Of special interest is an article comparing drug addiction in the U.S. and England. American problems receive full coverage—including the economy of crime and law enforcement, and their social organization, the creation of legal norms, the impact of legal institutions, and recent political crimes.

SOCIAL WORK AND HELPING SERVICES

THE PARADOX OF HELPING

Introduction to the Philosophy of Scientific Practice

by Martin Bloom, Washington University, St. Louis

Combines new methods from information science, professional practice, and evaluative research, and shows how to use tools of the Philosophy of Science more effectively. Enables readers to identify the best available information concerning particular client problems; connect theories and research to their practice; and evaluate their efficiency.

1975 283 pages $11.95

CONSUMERS AND SOCIAL SERVICES

by Robert Perlman, Brandeis University

An original study of 4000 clients and their experiences with a neighborhood social service center. Stressing the frustration and fulfillment of users' expectations, it suggests a typology of social service consumers to be used in planning the delivery of services and shows how and why users and providers of social services interact as they do.

1975 126 pages $9.95 cloth $5.50 paper

BEHAVIOR MODIFICATION IN THE HUMAN SERVICES

A Systematic Introduction to Concepts and Applications by Martin Sundel, River Region Mental Health-Mental Retardation Board, and Sandra Stone Sundel, University of Louisville

A systematic introduction to the concepts and techniques of Behavior Modification, offering material in order of increasing difficulty, and enabling students to apply the methods of behavioral analysis to actual case studies. Emphasizing behavioral assessment and treatment, it uses numerous examples to illustrate the application of concepts.

1975 283 pages $9.95 cloth $5.95 paper

NEW, SPRING 1975

SOCIAL WELFARE: A History of the American Response to Need

By JUNE AXINN and HERMAN LEVIN, both University of Pennsylvania.
Paperback. 304 pages. $6.95.

A unique effort to assess the economic, social, political, and philosophical implications of the historical evolution of social welfare in America—supported by documents and illustrations.

THE BLACK COMMUNITY: Diversity and Unity

By JAMES E. BLACKWELL, University of Massachusetts at Boston.
Paperback. 396 pages. $6.95.

A comprehensive analysis of the black community. Its rich diversity is described in terms of social class, life styles, and attitudes; its unity as the response to racism and segregation by the larger American society.

ETHNIC AMERICANS: A History of Immigration and Assimilation

By LEONARD DINNERSTEIN, University of Arizona, and DAVID M. REIMERS, New York University. Paperback. 204 pages. $4.75.

Who came to America and why, the problems and struggles of the newcomers, and the eventual assimilation of successive generations are the broad themes of this concise account. The focus is on non-English immigrants who came voluntarily to the New World, with emphasis on the period after 1840. A noteworthy feature is the chapter on Spanish-speaking minorities.

ALSO

VIOLENCE IN THE FAMILY

Edited by SUZANNE K. STEINMETZ, University of Delaware, and MURRAY A. STRAUS, University of New Hampshire. Paperback. 314 pages. $5.50. 1974.

"This is a most unusual collection of articles dealing with a subject that is rarely explored in any depth in the study of the family or of violence in society. It demonstrates in precise ways the advantages to be found in the conflict model of human relations. Violence is seen as part and parcel of interaction within the family, not as an exceptional occurrence. And the wide range of violence is clearly marked." WILSON RECORD, Portland State University.

CN/395 $2.45

Lewis S. Feuer IDEOLOGY AND THE IDEOLOGISTS

"Until intellectuals cease to be prophets and ideologists, and become instead men of intellect, the 'intellectuals,' and their specific intellectual expression, 'ideology,' will be a force increasingly hostile to the advancement of civilization." —from the Preface
December TB/1840 $3.95

Christopher Norwood ABOUT PATERSON The Making and Unmaking of an American City

"Miss Norwood takes Paterson as a negative 'model city' and uses its sad fate to show how our urban centers . . . have yet to be saved." —New York Times Book Review
CN/393 $2.95

Leo Srole, et. al. MENTAL HEALTH IN THE METROPOLIS The Midtown Manhattan Study

Revised Edition. "An extraordinary example of a successful, collaborative research project which not only served to broaden our knowledge, but itself became, in part, a catalyst for social change. I am delighted that a new edition is about to be issued." —BERTRAM S. BROWN, M.D.

Twilight of Authority

ROBERT NISBET, Columbia University. □ In this important and controversial work, Professor Nisbet presents a major statement on the decline of modern society and the course of action necessary to arrest this decline. His analysis is filled with telling references to past societies, but the emphasis is always on the present condition.
October 1975 272 pp. $10.95

Strain of Violence

Historical Studies of American Violence and Vigilantism

RICHARD MAXWELL BROWN, College of William and Mary. □ Colonial rebels, frontier vigilantes, the assassins of the 1960's and violence prone regions such as Lyndon Johnson's central Texas highlight Richard Brown's chronicle of how and where violence erupted in the American past.
September 1975 432 pp. $13.95

Aggression and Crimes of Violence

JEFFREY H. GOLDSTEIN, Temple University. □ Differing sharply with the "over-biologized" views of Lorenz, Ardrey and Morris, Goldstein emphasizes the social and environmental causes of human aggression and suggests ways to re-structure those institutions that foster and re-inforce violent behavior.
September 1975 8 illustrations 208 pp. $8.95

The Drama of Social Reality

STANFORD M. LYMAN, The New School for Social Research; and MARVIN B. SCOTT, Hunter College. □ The authors of A Sociology of the Absurd propose that all human behavior is a form of theater, and support this argument with analysis of both sociological insights of Shakespeare and the theatrical dimension of modern theories of human interaction.
October 1975 160 pp. $8.95

Death Of A Utopia

The Development and Decline of Student Movements in Europe

GIANNI STATERA, University of Rome. □ Professor Statera closely examines the "peculiar utopian nature" of the European student movement of 1969, and the reasons for its rapid decline. He illuminates, in particular, the significance of the fringe position of students in modern industrial society.
1974 262 pp. $10.95

School For Soldiers

West Point and the Profession of Arms

JOSEPH ELLIS, Mount Holyoke; and ROBERT MOORE, University of Maryland. □ Scores of exclusive interviews, thorough research, and broad personal experience back up this first searching investigation of an influential American institution. ### Six Essays in Comparative Sociology

ANDRE BETEILLE. □ These essays form a rigorous examination of sociological concepts that are often only loosely applied to discussions of Indian and other traditional cultures. The titles are "Sociology and Social Anthropology," "Peasant Studies and Their Significance," "The Concept of Peasant Society," "Tribe and Peasantry," "Peasants and Workers," and "Marxism and Modern Sociology."

Studies in Agrarian Social Structure

ANDRE BETEILLE. □ "Beteille has brought together in this book, in refreshingly clear prose, his own analysis and discussions of the social structure in India. . . . Students of agrarian structure should find this carefully edited book useful. They can look forward to whatever else Professor Beteille may produce."—Rural Sociology

The Social Grading of Occupations

A New Approach and Scale

JOHN H. GOLDTHORPE and KEITH HOPE. □ The authors have produced a coherent system for grouping occupations, based on procedures used in the British Census, but more discriminating than the officially defined categories. They have obtained popular assessments of the social standing of several hundred occupations and, by a new application of sampling procedures, constructed a scale upon which the position of any employed male can be determined with a known degree of precision. ### Education, Society and Development

New Perspectives from Kenya

DAVID COURT and DHARAM GHAI. □ Fifteen essays from the Institute for Development Studies at the University of Nairobi represent some of the best recent research on the quality and social impact of Kenyan education. Their work places emphasis on the empirical analysis of educational issues as a basis for understanding broader questions of development and the conditions of under-development.

1975 356 pp. tables, figs. $13.75

Malay Peasant Society and Leadership

S. HUSIN ALI. □ The author examines the nature of rural Malay society, identifies the various types of leaders existing in the different communities, and traces their functions in the context of the environment. A pioneering work in its field, this book will be widely read by those concerned with social change as it infringes on peasant life in Malaysia and other once-traditional cultures. ### THE DILEMMAS OF EUTHANASIA

Edited by John A. Behnke and Sissela Bok. An interdisciplinary collection of original essays define the problems and explore the implications of life-preserving care for the dying, in an unemotional survey of all the legal, medical and ethical aspects of euthanasia. A Doubleday Anchor Original. Paperbound, $2.50

THE GOOD OLD BOYS

Paul Hemphill. Eloquent essays evoke and celebrate the vanishing South of country music, stock-cars and moonshine, hard living and high-power evangelism. "Crisply written . . . a valuable contribution on the contemporary South."—Library Journal Paperbound, $2.95

THE OLD ONES OF NEW MEXICO

Robert Coles; 32 photographs by Alex Harris. A concise and perceptive book about a unique group of aging Americans, written by the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of Children of Crisis—the man Time has called "the most influential living psychiatrist in the United States." Paperbound, $2.50

BLOOD OF MY BLOOD

The Dilemma of the Italian-Americans

Richard Gambino. "With greater impact than any other nonfiction book on the subject . . . it weaves together the history, sociology and psychology of first, second and third generation Italian-Americans."—N. Y. Times. "A valuable and necessary volume."—The New Republic. Paperbound, $2.95

CORPORATE WIVES — CORPORATE CASUALTIES?

Robert Seidenberg. At last, here is a thorough and sympathetic examination of problems facing today's executive wives, with emphasis on positive steps to be taken by every person and business to resolve them. "An incisive critique."—Chicago Tribune. Paperbound, $1.95

ANOTHER VOICE

Feminist Perspectives on Social Life and Social Science

Edited by Marcia Millman and Rosabeth Moss Kanter. In this original collection, twelve sociologists take a fresh look at the sociology of deviance, education, culture, medicine, etc., to show how and why they have been affected by a subtle kind of sexism, and what can be done to restore the balance. Paperbound, $3.50

THE GENTLEMEN'S CLUB

International Control of Drugs and Alcohol

Ketil Bruun, Lynn Pan, and Ingemar Rexed

With a Foreword by Norval Morris

Turning from the much-studied drug user, this book presents a comprehensive, critical analysis of the international control system for drug production and distribution.

Studies in Crime and Justice

1975 352 pages Cloth $12.50

THE ENDURING EFFECTS OF EDUCATION

Herbert H. Hyman, Charles R.
Wright, and John Shelton Reed

"This study will be a landmark in the continuing search for the nature and size of effects of formal education."

—James S. Coleman

1975 344 pages Cloth $12.50

NEWSMAKING

Bernard Roshco

The author of this timely study bypasses the usual issue of how well or poorly individual stories have been covered in order to view newsmaking as a social process.

1975 x, 164 pages Cloth $10.00

THE CHANGING FACE OF THE SUBURBS

Edited by Barry Schwartz

This volume is a major analysis of the historical development and the social, political, and cultural implications of metropolitan change. Published under the auspices of American Journal of Sociology

1975 Cloth TBA November

COMMUNITY TREATMENT AND SOCIAL CONTROL

A Critical Analysis of Juvenile Correctional Policy

Paul Lerman

With a Foreword by Lloyd Ohlin

The focus of this study is not the deviants themselves. Rather, Lerman's concern is with the ideal goals, actual decisions, and operating practices of those adults who attempt to control and change the deviants.

Studies in Crime and Justice

1975 240 pages Cloth $12.50

QUEUING AND WAITING

Studies in the Social Organization of Access and Delay

Barry Schwartz

Here is the first book-length study of a subject that has become increasingly important to our society: punctuality and delay.

"Perceptive and imaginative socio-psychological analysis . . . full of fascinating insights."—Peter M. Blau

1975 Cloth TBA December

NAVAJO KINSHIP AND MARRIAGE

Gary Witherspoon

With a Foreword by

David M. Schneider

Witherspoon questions the adequacy of traditional sociological approaches to kinship and offers a new theoretical insight based on the cultural dimension of kinship.

"This book will be considered the definitive work on Navajo kinship and marriage."—David M. Schneider

1975 148 pages Cloth $9.50

The University of Chicago Press
Chicago 60637

THE SOCIAL CHALLENGE TO BUSINESS

Robert W. Ackerman

"This is a distinct contribution to the growing literature on corporate responsibility. The issue of making social responsibility programs operational in large corporations is a comparatively new one and very little has been written on it. Certainly there has been no published study which is as thorough as that contained in Ackerman's book. He is out front in this area." — George A. Steiner $15.00

THE REBELLIOUS CENTURY: 1830-1930

Charles Tilly, Louise Tilly, and Richard Tilly

A new theory on the origins of collective violence and its relation to modern economic and social transformations and to political action by the state. Written by a sociologist, an historian, and an economist, this provocative study presents a comparative history of group actions leading to violence in France, Italy, and Germany. $15.00

A THEORY OF PUBLIC BUREAUCRACY

Politics, Personality, and Organization in the State Department

Donald P. Warwick

This is one of the first books ever to look at the roots of bureaucracy in an agency's immediate setting and in the personality of the bureaucrat, rather than in macro-scopic, impersonal Weberian forces. In the author's words: "It does for one set of agencies what Parkinson, in his mock-scientific essay, played around with provocatively, but left dangling." And to this is added a personal account of the research experience itself, which is immensely illuminating in and of itself. $12.00

WHAT WOMEN WANT

The Ideas of the Movement

Gayle Graham Yates

Concentrating chiefly on the movement from 1959 to 1973, Gayle Yates has produced the first comprehensive history of contemporary women's groups. Scholars and the general public alike will find Yates' book not only an indispensable contribution to women's studies, but also a strong and timely addition to contemporary American life and thought. $10.00

BECOMING MODERN

Individual Change in Six Developing Countries

Alex Inkeles and David Horton Smith

This major work on modernization identifies the process whereby people have shifted from the traditionalism that restrains progress to the individual modernity that helps nations "move into the twentieth century." Based on an extraordinary sample of almost 6,000 men in six nations, the conclusions of the study are striking and controversial. $15.00
