The time has long passed, if it ever existed, when it is sensible to generalize from findings based on studies done entirely within the United States, without asking whether our findings are descriptive only of the U.S. or would apply as well to other developed countries, to other Western countries, to other capitalist countries, to other countries in general.

U.S. sociologists are coming to understand and appreciate the importance of cross-national research and the value of keeping abreast of sociological research done by our colleagues in other countries.

Yet, we are still a bit parochial. The time is ripe to impress upon U.S. sociology—not just on the area specialists and those already engaged in cross-national research, but upon U.S. sociology in general—the value of cross-national research and of seeing our country in comparative perspective. The 1987 Program Committee has therefore selected “Cross-National Research in Sociology” as the convention theme.

Our intent has been to fashion a rather large set of thematic sessions that will deal with most of the major topics in sociology in terms of what is to be learned from a cross-national perspective and from cross-national research. We shall deal with many of the major social institutions—medical institutions, the law, social stratification, social class, education, formal organizations, science—and many of the major social problems—immigration and ethnicity, gender inequality, problems of the welfare state, world conflict—from this perspective. We shall also deal with some of the principal methodological and conceptual issues in doing such research. We thus mean to bring cross-national research prominently into the vision of U.S. sociologists in our major national forum.

Major Evening Sessions

As an innovation this year, the Program Committee decided that in place of the two plenaries that are normally held on the first and third evenings, a more diverse fare would be offered—three Thematic Sessions and one Special Session each evening. These sets of sessions bracket the Presidential Plenary on Tuesday, August 18. Session groupings are provided below; please refer to the appropriate sections in these Program Notes for complete details.

Monday, August 17, 8:30 p.m.
Session 56, Thematic Session. Cross National Studies in Class Analysis
Session 57, Thematic Session. The Rise and Fall of Civilizations
Session 58, Special Session. Ethnicity, Poverty, and Family Structure in the Inner City

Wednesday, August 18, 8:30 p.m.
Session 158, Thematic Session. Social Change and the Life Course: Cross-National Perspectives
Session 159, Thematic Session. Welfare States in Crisis?
Session 160, Thematic Session. American Sociology and the study of International Conflict, War, and Peace: A Sociology of Neglect?
Session 161, Special Session. Anniversary Session: Emile Durkheim

Presidential Address and ASA Awards Ceremony

The Presidential Plenary features the formal address of the ASA President and all convention attendees are invited to this session. The Awards Ceremony, which will begin at the conclusion of the Presidential Address, will feature the 1987 award recipients and include an announcement about the 1987 Common Wealth Award. All registrants are invited to a reception immediately following the ceremony to honor the President and the award recipients.

Session 99, Tuesday, August 18, 4:30 p.m.
Presidential Address
Presider: Mayer N. Zald, University of Michigan
Introduction. Albert J. McQueen, Oberlin College
Presidential Address: Cross-National Research as an Analytic Strategy. Melvin L. Kohn, Johns Hopkins University

Awards Ceremony
Presider: Stanley Lieberson, Co-Chair, ASA Committee on Awards Policy
Common Wealth Award Announcement
Jessie Bernard Award:
Recipient: To be announced
Presenter: Diana R. Margolis for the Jessie Bernard Award Selection Committee
Distinguished Career Award for the Practice of Sociology:
Recipient: John W. Riley, Jr., Consulting Sociologist
Presenter: Larry E. Suter for the Distinguished Career Award for the Practice of Sociology Award Selection Committee
Distinguished Contributions to Teaching Award:
Recipient: William A. Gamson, Boston College
Presenter: Richard J. Gelles for the Distinguished Contributions to Teaching Award Selection Committee

Recipient: To be announced
Presenter: Cora B. Marrett for the Distinguished Scholarly Publication Award Selection Committee
Career of Distinguished Scholarship Award:
Recipient: Wilbert E. Moore, University of Denver
Presenter: Lenore J. Weitzman for the Career of Distinguished Scholarship Award Selection Committee

Honorary Reception (co-sponsored by Johns Hopkins University)

Thematic Sessions

The twenty-four Thematic Sessions organized by President Kohn and the Program Committee are devoted to investigating the meeting theme, “Cross-National Research in Sociology”, and dealing with major topics in sociology in terms of what is to be learned from a cross-national perspective and from cross-national research.

Session 3, Monday, August 17, 8:30 a.m.
Comparative Stratification and Mobility: New Directions
Organizer and Presider: David L. Featherman, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Worklife and Intergenerational Class Mobility: A Comparative Analysis. Robert Erikson, Stockholm University; John Goldthorpe, Oxford University
Family in the Stratification Process. Robert M. Hauser, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Class Formation and Demographic Identities in Norway and the Federal Republic of Germany. K. Ulrich Mayer, Max Planck Institute-Berlin; David L. Featherman and Kevin Salzbee, University of Wisconsin-Madison; Tom Colbjornsen, University of Bergen
Discussion: Judah Matras, Carleton University and Brookdale Institute-Jerusalem

Session 14, Monday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.
Cross-National Studies of Law and Social Control
Presider: Robert L. Kidder, Temple University
Imaginary Forums: The Bhopal Litigation as a Hall of Mirrors. Marc Galanter, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Attributions of Responsibility and Punishment in Japan and the U.S.: How Big Is the Cultural Gap. Joseph Sanders, University of Houston; Lee Hamilton, Wayne State University
Law, Ideology and Social Change in the European Economic Community.
Francis Snyder, University of Warwick
Discussion: Frank Munger, State University of New York-Buffalo; Robert L. Kidder, Temple University

Session 34, Monday, August 17, 2:30 p.m.
Comparative Urban Sociology
Organizer: Ivan Szelenyi, City University of New York-Graduate School
Comparative Urban Patterns and Processes. John Kasarda and Stephen J. Appold, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Comparing Capitalist and Socialist Urbanization. David Harvey, St. Peters College
A Comparative Approach to the Study of the Informal Economy. Ray Pahl, University of Kent-Canterbury
Discussion: Michael Alken, University of Pennsylvania

Session 45, Monday, August 17, 4:30 p.m.
Strategies of Cross-National Research
Organizers and Presiders: David Heise, Indiana University; Theda Skocpol, Harvard University
A Strategy for Cross-Cultural Research. Harry C. Triandis, University of Illinois
Theoretical Implications of Comparative Survey Research. Erwin K. Scheuch, Universität zu Köln
Comparative Studies and Social Theory. Stefan Nowak, University of Warsaw
Comparative Social Science in the 21st Century. Charles Ragin, Northwestern University
Discussion: David Heise, Indiana University; Theda Skocpol, Harvard University

Session 55, Monday, August 17, 8:30 p.m.
Cross-National Studies in Class Analysis
Organizer and Presider: Erik Olin Wright, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Cross Structure and Class Formation in the United States and Sweden. Carolyn Howe and Erik Olin Wright, University of Wisconsin
Spillover, Standardization and Stratification: Earnings Determination in the United States and Norway. Tom Colbjornsen, University of Bergen; Arne Kalfaerg, University of North Carolina
Semi-Peripheries or Particular Pathways: The Case of Australia, Canada and New Zealand as Class Formations. Paul Boreham, Mike Emmison, Gary Marks, and John Western, University of Queensland, Australia; Stewart Clegg, University of New England, Australia
Political Culture and the Politics of Class in Canada: A Comparative Analysis of Canada, Sweden and the United States. John Myles, Carleton University
Session 56, Monday, August 17, 8:30 p.m.
The Rise and Fall of Civilizations
Organizer and Presider: Christopher Chase-Dunn, Johns Hopkins University
Speakers: Samir Amim, Forum de Tiers-Monde-Senegal; Jonathan Friedman, University of Copenhagen; John W. Mayer, Stanford University; Immanuel Wallerstein, State University of New York-Binghamton

Session 57, Monday, August 17, 8:30 p.m.
The Nature of Sociological Research and Practice, Worldwide
Organizer: The Program Committee
Presider: William V. D’Antonio, American Sociological Association
Panel Discussion with Helga Hermes, Institute for Social Research-Oslo, Norway; Ken’ichi Tominaga, University of Tokyo, Japan; Lourdes Arizpe, Museo Nacional de Culturas Populares, Mexico; Aaron Antonovsky, Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, Israel; T.K. Commen, Jawaharlal Nehru University, India; Fernando Henrique Cardoso, CEBRAP-Sao Paulo, Brazil; and Stefan Nowak, University of Warsaw, Poland

Session 59, Tuesday, August 18, 8:30 a.m.
The New International Division of Labor: Implications for Working Women and Working Men
Organizer: Patricia Fernandez-Kelly, Johns Hopkins University
Panel: Saskia Sassen-Koob, Columbia University; Charles Wood, University of Florida; Fred Deyo, State University of New York-Brockport; Patricia Fernandez-Kelly, Johns Hopkins University

Session 66, Tuesday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.
Cross-National Research on Education Systems
Organizers: Ruth A. Wallace, George Washington University; Everett K. Wilson, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Presider: Ruth A. Wallace, George Washington University

Session 68, Tuesday, August 18, 2:30 p.m.
Theoretical Implications of Comparative Research on Gender Inequality
Organizer and Presider: Joan Acker, University of Oregon

Session 100, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 a.m.
Cross-National Research on Social Structure and Personality
Organizer and Presider: Karen A. Miller, Arizona State University

Session 112, Wednesday, August 19, 10:30 a.m.
Organization in Comparative Context
Organizers: Michael Alkin, University of Pennsylvania; Meyer N. Zald, University of Michigan
Presider: Michael Alkin, University of Pennsylvania

Session 124, Wednesday, August 19, 12:30 p.m.
The Trans-National Meaning of Concepts
Organizer and Presider: Edward A. Tiryakian, Duke University

Session 135, Wednesday, August 19, 2:30 p.m.
Comparative Health Systems
Organizer and Presider: Roberts G. Simmons, University of Minnesota

Session 156, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 p.m.
Comparative Perspectives on British and American Higher Education
Organizer and Presider: Mayer N. Zald, University of Michigan

Session 159, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 p.m.
Welfare States in Crisis?
Organizer and Presider: Theda Skocpol, Harvard University

Session 160, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 p.m.
Thematic Session. American Sociology and the Study of International Conflict, War, and Peace: A Sociology of Neglect
Organizer and Presider: Albert J. McQueen, Oberlin College

Session 162, Thursday, August 20, 8:30 a.m.
Comparative Research on Labor Markets: Internal and Secondary Labor Markets
Organizer and Presider: Alejandro Portes, Johns Hopkins University

Special Sessions

Topics not directly related to the meeting theme, yet of particular interest to the Program Committee, are highlighted by the two Special Sessions listed below.

Session 58, Monday, August 17, 8:30 p.m.
Session 161, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 p.m.

Authors Meet Critics

Thematic Sessions: continued

Session 174, Thursday, August 20, 10:30 a.m.
International Social Science
Organizer and Presider: T. W. Smith, National Opinion Research Center
Bee-tas and Bay-tas: How Social Structure Shapes Attitudes in Britain and the U.S.
James A. Davis, Harvard University
Class, Ideology and Politics. Jonathan Kelley, Australian National University
Loyalists or Welfare State? Attitudes toward the Role of Government in Five Advanced Western Nations. Max Hallet, Graz University of Technology
Abortion Attitudes in a Cross-National Perspective. Bruce L. Peterson, SPSS

Session 185, Thursday, August 20, 12:30 p.m.
Cross-National Research in Demography
Organizer and Presider: Andrew Cherlin, Johns Hopkins University
Participants: John Casterline, Brown University; William Mason and Arland Thornton, University of Michigan; Susan Watkins, University of Pennsylvania

Session 195, Thursday, August 20, 2:30 p.m.
Comparative Perspectives on Economic Development and Its Social Consequences
Organizer: Louis W. Goodman, American University
Economic Development and Social Consequences in "New Industrialized Countries." Fernando Henrique Cardoso, CEBRAP, Sao Paulo, Brazil
Comparative Analysis of Economic Development and Household/Family Survival Strategies. Enzo Minpigone, University of Messina, Italy
Economic Development and Social Consequences in a "Least Developed" Sub-Saharan African Country. David Hirschman, American University

Session 206, Thursday, August 20, 4:30 p.m.
Weber, Maed and Contemporary Cross-National Research
Organizer and Presider: Melvin K. Koh, Johns Hopkins University
Max Weber and Cross-National Research. Stephen Kalberg, Center for European Studies, Harvard University
The Relevance of George Herbert Mead for the Comparative Analysis of Contemporary Societies. Kurt Luscher, University of Konstanz
Max Weber on Chinese and Japanese Social Structure. Ken'ichi Tominaga, University of Tokyo
Legitimacy in Comparative-Historical Perspective. Wlodzimierz Wesolowski, Polish Academy of Sciences

Session 218, Friday, August 21, 8:30 a.m.
Cross-National Research on Race, Ethnicity, and Immigration
Organizer and Presider: Cora Marrett, University of Wisconsin-Madison
The Black Diaspora in Comparative Context. Ruth Simms Hamilton, Michigan State University
Issues in Comparative Research on Race and Ethnicity. Clovis White, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Cultural Pluralism and State Policy: India and America. T.K. Oommen, Jawaharlal Nehru University
Discussion: Donald L. Horowitz, Duke University

Roundtable Discussions

This popular program component is designed to bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. The Roundtable Organizing Committee (chaired by Cora Marrett, University of Wisconsin-Madison) reviewed proposals and selected topics and presenters to guide discussions. The two types, Luncheon Roundtables and Informal Roundtables, are similar except that one involves purchase of a luncheon ticket.

A complete listing of informal discussion roundtable topics and presenters is printed in the body of this Program under Session 5, Monday, 8:30 a.m.; Session 47, Monday, 4:30 p.m.; Session 61, Tuesday, 8:30 a.m.; Session 146, Wednesday, 4:30 p.m.; Session 164, Thursday, 8:30 a.m.; Session 208, Thursday, 4:30 p.m.; Session 230, Friday, 8:30 a.m.

Luncheon topics and presenters appear in the body of this Program under Session 25, Monday, 12:30 p.m.; Session 78, Tuesday, 12:30 p.m.; Session 125, Wednesday, 12:30 p.m.; Session 186, Thursday, 12:30 p.m. Tickets are still available for some luncheons; check at the Tickets Desk in the Registration Area. Cancellations cannot be accepted later than 48 hours prior to the scheduled luncheon; you may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend. Note: No one will be admitted to the luncheon room without a valid ticket. Observers are not permitted.
Didactic Seminars

Didactic seminars are designed to keep sociologists abreast of recent scholarly trends and developments. Experts considered to be at the forefront of a given field are invited by the Program Committee to conduct these sessions. Seminar speakers will present materials to explain specialized developments within their topic areas.

Seminars are scheduled for two to four hours. Please see the listing below for session details and brief seminar descriptions provided by the speakers.

Registration at each Didactic Seminar is limited to 50, and pre-paid registration is required. Seminar fees are $15 each, and all persons registering for seminars must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting. Those already enrolled should have received their tickets with their name badges, but should check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration Area (4th Floor) for any materials presenters might have provided for distribution. Those who did not reserve in advance but who wish to attend should check at the Tickets Desk for possible openings.

No one will be admitted without a paid reservation; tickets will be collected at the door.

Session 15, Monday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Cross National Field Research, Stephen G. Bunker, Johns Hopkins University
Case-based field studies often require, and may benefit from, the use of multiple methods, diverse data sources, and flexible research designs. Properly handled, these resources may permit richly detailed configurational analyses which suggest the extension, refinement, or qualification of theory. To the extent that these advantages are gained by adjusting field work strategies to the particulars of the individual case, however, they limit the possibility of comparison between cases. This seminar will consider theoretical and practical implications of the tension between configurational precision and comparability, with particular attention to the interaction between research design and day-to-day decisions about how to proceed in the field as this affects both the evolution of the field work and the eventual analysis of data.

Session 36, Monday, August 17, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Network Analysis, Ronald S. Burt (Columbia University)
This seminar is to enable participants to use recent developments in social network analysis in their own research. Models implementing basic principles of network analysis will be reviewed with empirical examples. To facilitate the transition from didactic seminar to research project, each seminar participant will be given microcomputer software and documentation making it possible to reproduce the didactic examples at home and apply the models to their own data. The topics to be covered include: common forms of network data, network subgroups under cohesion and structural equivalence, density tables and blockmodels, social contagion, prominence, range, and structural autonomy. A working knowledge of quantitative data analysis is a prerequisite. The seminar is open to professional and graduate students.

Session 70, Tuesday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Sociological Methods in Cultural History, John R. Hall, University of Missouri-Columbia
For cultural history to benefit from the interest of this generation of sociologists, we need to map research program carefully. This seminar explores (1) orientations toward historical sociology, and (2) the "faultlines" of classical and contemporary sociological approaches to culture. A methodological framework for linking analyses at the levels of narrative history, sociological explanation, historical explanation, and cultural interpretation is offered as a basis for mediating among theories concerned with production of culture, culture as institution, and cultural basis of individual conduct. The seminar does not assume specialized knowledge of historical sociology or culture; there are no prerequisites.

Session 69, Tuesday, August 18, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Sociologists Meet the Media: A Practical Guide, Laurel Richardson, Ohio State University; Jerry M. Lewis, Kent State University
Many sociological topics are of interest to popular audiences. As a result, sociologists are seeking media coverage for their work and are being sought by the media as experts. Although "seeking" and "being sought" present two different kinds of problems, there is a basic similarity in the solution: Both can be prepared for. The seminar is based on the leaders' experiences with television, radio, and print media and explores how to prepare for media interviews. Some sociologists are invited to attend.

Session 113, Wednesday, August 19, 10:30-12:20 p.m.
Historical and Comparative Methods, Charles Regin, Northwestern University
Historical and comparative methods in sociology are often presented as primitive approximations of more sophisticated statistical methods. This will not be the orientation of this seminar. The unique feature of comparative and historical methods will be emphasized, with special attention to the problem of making holistic comparisons. In order to explicate these distinctive features, these methods will be contrasted with mainstream statistical methods. This will involve examining a variety of basic issues related to causation, the nature of macro-sociological units, and the goals of social science. The seminar will be based on a forthcoming book, The Comparative Method (University of California Press, August, 1987). The only prerequisite is basic familiarity with social science methodology.

Session 137, Wednesday, August 19, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Quantitative Multi-Level Methods for Comparative and Contextual Analysis, William M. Mason, University of Michigan
This presentation will assume a good working knowledge of multiple regression and logistic regression. Multilevel techniques can be helpful when (1) the data are available with more than one level of observation—if there are just two, these might be labeled macro (e.g., countries) and micro (e.g., individuals); (2) there are many observations that quantification at all levels of observation becomes essential; and (3) the substantive conceptualizations appropriate to each level of observation are logically connected.

Session 176, Thursday, August 20, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Computer Assisted Analyses of Qualitative Field Data, David R. Hulse, Indiana University
Event studies conducted with program ETHNO constitute a new approach to qualitative data analysis. This does not mean a new way of doing tabulation or other numerical analyses involving "qualitative variables". Rather, ETHNO deals with verbal depictions of happenings, such as are acquired in ethnographic fieldwork, and projects grammars for interpreting events and for exploring potential event sequences. ETHNO models—based on symbolic logic more than on arithmetic—are tested non-statistically by validations and refutations in detail. The seminar will review theoretical ideas and illustrate the program. Participants are entitled to documentation and the program for MS-DOS personal computers.

Session 196, Thursday, August 20, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Comparative Historical Demography, J. Dennis Willigean, University of Utah
"Mankind is made up of people and things"—Fernand Braudel in The Structures of Everyday Life. Historical demography entails the study of past populations. Its basic goals are twofold: to reconstruct demographic characteristics of past population send to explain the causes and consequences of these characteristics. The didactic seminar will (1) provide an overview of the field of historical demography, (2) identify the relatively vast archival population data as yet untouched by modern scholarship, and (3) draw attention to aspects of comparative, structural research that appear most promising in the near future.

No special prerequisites are required of registrants although prior reading of Willigean's and Lynch's Sources and Methods of Historical Demography is highly recommended.

Workshops

Professional and Teaching Workshops have become a standard component of the Annual Meeting. This year 10 professional workshops and 8 teaching workshops provide opportunities for attendees to update their skills and knowledge in a variety of professional and disciplinary areas. Workshops are generally open to all convention registrants; however, please note that there are two pre-convention workshops (Sessions 1 and 2) which required advance registration and fee payment.

Professional Workshops

Session 1, Saturday, August 15, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 2:00-5:00 p.m.
Job Clinic, Richard Irish, Transcentury Corporation
Clinic fees: ASA Members, $170; Non-members, $245.

Session 4, Monday, August 17, 8:30 a.m.
International and Comparative Sociology: Problems and Opportunities of Research in the Soviet Union, East Europe, and China, Marilyn Reschweymer, Rhode Island School of Design and Brown University (co-sponsored by the ASA Committee on World Sociology), Soviet Union, Wesley Fisher, International Research and Exchanges Board Poland, Zdzislawe Walaszek, NORC Hungary, Ivan Szelenyi, City University of New York-Graduate School Cuba, Linda Fuller, University of Southern California

Session 37, Monday, August 17, 2:30 p.m.
International and Comparative Sociology: Africa, David Wiley, Michigan State University (co-sponsored by the ASA Committee on World Sociology)

Session 60, Tuesday, August 18, 8:30 a.m.
Writing Proposals for Federal Funding, Mark Abrahamson, National Science Foundation

Session 90, Tuesday, August 18, 2:30 p.m.
The Local Research Center: Some Tips on Getting Started, Stephen F. Steele, Center for the Study of Local Issues, Anne Arundel Community College

Session 101, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 a.m.
Dealing with Publishers, Caroline H. Prussell, New York University; H. Paul Chaffant, Texas Tech University; Judith Greisman, Senior Editor, Basic Books

Participants may discuss issues in scholarly, text, and trade publishing such as how to select and approach an appropriate publisher, whether to use a lawyer or agent, and contract negotiation.

Session 114, Wednesday, August 19, 10:30 a.m.
Writing for Sociology Journals, Richard L. Simpson, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

Session 147, Wednesday, August 19, 4:30 p.m.
Approaches to Comparable Worth Studies: Technical Issues, Ronnie Steinberg, Temple University; Lois Haignere, State University of New York-Albany

Many jurisdictions are undertaking pay equity studies to define wage discrimination. This workshop will describe the typical approach to compensation used by jurisdictions and review the range of technical options available for achieving equitable compensation in the workplace. Exercises will uncover gender and race biases in compensation systems and in the job evaluation systems used in comparable pay studies.

Session 177, Thursday, August 20, 10:30 a.m.
The Academic Sociologist as Consultant, Russell R. Dynes, University of Delaware; Brian F. Pendleton, University of Akron

Session 197, Thursday, August 20, 2:30 p.m.
The Presentation of Self in Corporate Settings, Stephen Collesano, American International Group; Hylmastrompolis, QualiData Research; David Prentky, Information Resources

Sociologists in different settings will discuss and compare their positions as relates to: their roles as sociologists; the manner in which they design and carry out projects; how they present findings and make recommendations; and other "institutional" norms of behavior.

Teaching Workshops

Session 2, Sunday, August 16, 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.
Academic Leadership: Orientation for New Chairpersons, Lee H. Bowker, Gustavus College; Gerald Marwell, University of Wisconsin-Madison; Dennis McSweeney, University of New Orleans

This workshop is sponsored by the ASA Teaching Services Program. Fees: $35 for ASA members, $50 for non-members.

Session 16, Monday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.
Teaching Sociology of Race and Ethnic Relations, Wilhelma E. Perry, Glassboro State College

Session 46, Monday, August 17, 4:30 p.m.
Teaching the Sociology of Religion, Edgar W. Mills, University of Texas-San Antonio

Session 71, Tuesday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.
Teaching Sociology in Large Classes, Reese McGee, Purdue University

Presidents: Paul J. Baker, Illinois State University; Edward L. Kain, Southwestern University; Rodney Stark, University of Washington; Ann S. Sundgren, Tacoma Community College

Discussion: Frederic L. Campbell, University of Washington; Carole B. Howey, American Sociological Association

The workshop will be organized into approximately one hour of brief presentations by the four participants on the organization and administration of very large classes, and teaching strategies which have proved effective in such classes. The remaining hour will be devoted to questions led by the two discussants and encouraging audience participation. All participants will be available to audience members for individual discussion.

Session 102, Wednesday, August 19, 8:30 a.m.
Teaching Medical Sociology, Janet Hankin, Wayne State University; Rosalind Drorkin, Baylor College of Medicine (co-sponsored by the ASA Teaching Services Program and the ASA Section on Medical Sociology)

The workshop will cover the teaching of undergraduate medical sociology and will focus on four topics: The Experience of Illness (Kathy Charmaiz); The Changing Health Care System (Fredric Wolinsky); Social Epidemiology of Mental Health (Alton Horwitz); and Community Mental Health Services (Richard Tesler).

Session 138, Wednesday, August 19, 2:30 p.m.
Using Visual Resources to Teach Sociology, Richard G. Mitchell, Jr., Oregon State University

Session 153, Thursday, August 20, 8:30 a.m.
Internationalizing the Curriculum, J. Michael Amor, Florida State University; Christopher Chase-Dunn, Johns Hopkins University; Larry Diamond, Hoover Institution; Leonard H. Jordan, Jr., Denison University; Henry R. Lesieur, St. John's University; Stephen K. Sanderson, Indiana University of Pennsylvania; Edward A. Tiryakian, Duke University

The importance of developing a global perspective for understanding our increasingly interdependent world is widely recognized by sociologists but not often achieved in their teaching. This workshop provide concrete perspectives into courses and curricula. Resource persons will share first-hand experience and provide consultation with participants on their own courses and departments.

Session 207, Thursday, August 20, 4:30 p.m.
Teaching Demography, Shirley Foster Hartley, California State University-Hayward

The workshop will include a variety of ideas and approaches to expand the possibilities for those who regularly teach Demography and for those who have not yet taught such a course. Emphasis on the use of life-cycle strategies, incorporating census materials, focus on social issues and international comparisons will all be covered. Each panelist will have appropriate handouts covering possible course content, reading materials, instructional devices, etc. Time for questions and discussion will also be included.

Use of Life-cycle Strategies, Robert E. Kennedy, University of Minnesota
Incorporating Census Materials, Steve Laue, U.S. Bureau of the Census
Population and Contemporary Social Issues, John Weeks, San Diego State University

Population Comparisons, Shirley Foster Hartley, California State University-Hayward

Tours

Visiting Chicago will be incomplete without participation in at least one or perhaps several of the special tours being planned by the Community Section and its Chair-Elect, Gerald D. Suttles. Practically anyone who has completed introductory sociology will have encountered some visualization of Chicago. It was the nation's first laboratory for empirical sociology and its "zones," "sectors," and "natural areas" have become generic statements about urbanism. There is both remarkable continuity and change from the Chicago still preserved in our textbooks. We want to invite you to get a first-hand view of these changes and continuities.

The schedule of tours is provided below. Reservations are mandatory. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration Area for availability and any late cancellations. Those already enrolled for tours should have received their tickets with their name badges.

All groups will depart from the Palmer House following a brief orientation period. Please refer to the information as listed below for exact location of the orientation room and plan to arrive promptly so that departure times are observed. Keep in mind that the arrival times back to the Palmer House are estimates only and may vary somewhat due to traffic congestion.

TOUR 1: The Ring Around the Loop
Tuesday, August 18, 9:30 a.m.-12:00 noon
Fee: $14.00
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Tour Leader: Albert D. Hunter, Northwestern University
Zorbaugh's old Gold Coast and the Slum maintains some of the features which date from the 1920's, but west and south of the loop are areas that are undergoing dramatic change through left conversion.
and new construction, which sometimes takes on a monolithic character. These areas bear some resemblance to the loft conversion in New York but there are also prominent differences, especially the presence of public-private partnerships to plan fully encircle the Loop with a new residential population. (Bus Tour)

TOUR 2: Beyond Lincoln Park on the North Side
Tuesday, August 18, 1:00 p.m.-3:30 p.m.
Fee: $14.00
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Tour Leader: Gerald D. Suttles, The University of Chicago

The Near North Side and Lincoln Park are consolidated areas of renewal, but north of them along the lakefront, there is a mosaic of areas in varying stages of gentrification, decay, preservation, and ethnic retreat. Community organizations in this region are engaged in a confusing battle between gentrifiers, preservationists, advocates for the poor, insular ethnic groups and new minorities. The area is the subject of a forthcoming book, The Man-Made City by Suttles. (Bus Tour)

TOUR 3: The Chicago School of Architecture
Wednesday, August 19, 9:00 a.m.-11:30 a.m.
Fee: $5.00
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Tour Leaders: Blair Gifford and Adam Bickford, University of Chicago

Within the Loop itself one can find examples of the different designs, periods, and technologies associated with the Chicago School of Architecture. This will be a relatively circumscribed walking tour that will examine about 15 sites. Not all the structures will be "masterpieces" and some are more notable for the controversy surrounding them than their design elements. Gifford and Bickford are graduate students at the University of Chicago. Gifford frequently gives tours for the Chicago Architectural Foundation and Bickford is studying locational decision making in Chicago. (Walking Tour)

TOUR 4: Landmarks in Labor History
Wednesday, August 19, 9:30-12:00 noon
Fee: $14.00
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Tour Leaders: William Kornblum, City University of New York-Graduate School and Edward Sadowski, United Steel Workers

By examining Chicago's cemeteries, monuments and other landmarks, one can recall and examine the city's labor history. The tour will extend to both past and contemporary signs of this movement and to leaders and groups standing on both sides of the labor movement. (Bus Tour)

TOUR 5: The Industrial Crescent
Wednesday, August 19, 1:00 p.m.-4:00 p.m.
Fee: $14.00
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Tour Leader: Philip Nyden, Loyola University of Chicago

South Chicago merges with northern Indiana to form one of the largest industrial agglomerations in the world. Some of its factories and communities have been described in William Kornblum's Blue Collar Community. The area is now undergoing deindustrialization and reindustrialization. There are high levels of industrial conflict with uncertain outcomes. Nyden lived and did research in the area subsequent to Kornblum's study and is co-author of the forthcoming book, Chicago: Race, Class and Response to Decline. (Bus Tour)

TOUR 6: Beyond the Black Belt
Thursday, August 20, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Fee: $14.00
Tour Leader: Sharon Hicks-Bartlett, University of Chicago

The size of Chicago's black community is increasingly matched by its political presence and the internal variation of its residential areas. This tour will include the old "Black Belt" studied by Drake and Cayton and extend beyond it to examine residential differences that are emerging within Chicago's black population. Hicks-Bartlett is a graduate student at the University of Chicago and has a wide knowledge of Chicago's South Side. (Bus Tour)

TOUR 7: Back of the Yards
Thursday, August 20, 1:30 p.m.-4:00 p.m.
Fee: $14.00
Orientation Room: Mezzanine, 2nd Floor
Tour Leader: Robert Slayton, Chicago Urban League

The Chicago Stockyards provided experiments in industrialism and in worker community formation which continue into the present. The tour will examine the area's history and that of the Alinsky organizational movement, as well as current changes in settlement pattern and the reuse of the yards. Slayton is author of Back of the Yards: The Making of a Local Democracy. (Bus Tour)

Member Orientation and Welcoming Party

All new members of the Association, and those who would like to know more about ASA's governance structure and how to become involved in ASA activities, are invited to the Member Orientation and Welcoming Party on Monday, August 17, from 6:30-8:20 p.m., in the Red Lacquer Room

This welcome is sponsored by the ASA Committee on Membership. Members of ASA Committees and Sections and several ASA officers will be on hand to discuss avenues for formal and informal involvement in the Association. Refreshments will be provided along with the free information. New members and first-time meeting participants are particularly encouraged to be present for this informative event!

DAN

The fifteenth annual Departmental Alumni Night (DAN) will be held on Monday evening at the close of the first set of major evening sessions, approximately 10:30 p.m., in the Grand Ballroom. Just find the banner from the institution you attended, served, are serving, or hope to serve, and meet colleagues to reminisce about graduate school days, catch up on the latest gossip, and enter into free-wheeling discussions on the future of sociology.

Each graduate department of sociology in the United States was invited to fly its banner and wave its signpost to attract alumni and friends. A "home base" will also be provided for sociologists in business and industry as well as for international scholars and guests. Make sure your meeting plans include the social event that brings all your friends together in one place at one time!

Presidential and Awards Reception

All convention attendees are cordially invited to the Presidential and Awards Reception on Tuesday, August 18, in the Red Lacquer Room, 4th Floor, Palmer House, following the Presidential Address and ASA Awards Ceremony (Session 99). A special "thank you" is extended to the Johns Hopkins University Department of Sociology for its co-sponsorship and contribution toward this year's Presidential and Award Reception.
ASA Business Meeting

The annual ASA Business Meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, August 20. All members of the ASA are encouraged to attend to hear Association officers present their reports to the membership and to consider resolutions from ASA members offered for discussion and action.

Resolutions for the Business Meeting must be delivered to the ASA Headquarters Office (Private Dining Room 2) in the Palmer House before 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, August 19. Each resolution must indicate the name and affiliation of the submitter and identify the person who will actually present the resolution at the Business Meeting. Those received before the deadline will be posted in the ASA Registration Area so that members may become familiar with upcoming business. Resolutions submitted to the Executive Office by the Wednesday deadline will be given preference on the Business Meeting agenda; unposted resolutions will be permitted, up to the limit of time available before the 10:30 p.m. adjournment.

Reminder...Only current voting members of the ASA may submit, present, discuss and vote on Business Meeting resolutions.

Student Hospitality Room

Provision has been made for a hospitality room for students attending the Annual Meeting. Private Dining Room 16, Club Floor, in the Palmer House will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday, to provide a place for students to meet, caucus, make dinner arrangements, etc. Some refreshments will be provided occasionally each day. All students registered for the Annual Meeting are welcome to make use of this hospitality room.

Section Activities

Section activities are interspersed throughout the five-day schedule of the Annual Meeting and are open to all meeting attendees. These specialized sessions range in format from formal paper presentations to mini-conferences. The number of sessions allocated to each Section is based on the size of the section; for the 25 active sections, there are a total of 117 separate program activities scheduled. This year there is a new section-in-formation (Science and Technology) which will be holding an organizational meeting. The Section Council/Business Meetings and the Section-sponsored Program Sessions are summarized below for quick reference; for more complete information, refer to the body of the Program.

ASA Executive Office—Private Dining Room 2, 3rd Floor

The Headquarters Office will be staffed from Sunday through Friday by Executive Office personnel from Washington, DC. The demands on staff time and equipment are limited to official ASA functions; secretarial services are not available. Individuals or groups requiring office equipment or copying services should go to the Conference Center Desk on the 7th Floor.

ASA Information Desk—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

The Information Desk is staffed with ASA Executive Office personnel who will be able to provide information on membership, subscriptions, and publications. Copies of the 1987 Guide to Graduate Departments and the new journal index are available for purchase, as are other ASA publications. Sample copies of ASA journals are available for inspection. In addition, Teaching Resources Center materials are on display, free copies of catalogues are available, and new TRC materials are for sale.

Child Care—Parlors E and J, 6th Floor

A child care program is being provided by personnel from The Crayon Campus Pre-School/Day Care Center of Chicago. Care will be available during daytime program sessions (8:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.) for infants and older children. Evening care must be arranged on an individual basis with babysitting personnel.

Lunch and snacks will be provided; however, parents may arrange to take their children out for lunch or bring a special bag lunch with them in the morning if they prefer.

Charges for those who did not pre-register their children for the Child Care Service will be $25.00 per child for a half day (8:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m.) and $35.00 per child for the entire day. (For children using the service for shorter periods, the half-day fee will apply in order to encourage more stable use, discourage frequent dropping in and out, and simplify payment.) Children who have not pre-registered with the service will be accepted on a space-available, first-come first-served basis only.

NOTE: All parents/guardians using this service must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting.

Employment Service—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

The 1987 ASA Employment Service will be open from 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Sunday, August 16; from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Monday through Thursday, August 17-20; and from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Friday, August 21.

Facilities will be available for reviewing employment listings, exchanging messages, and interviewing. If you have pre-registered for the Employment Service, report to Lower Exhibition Hall as soon as possible to activate your file. If you have not registered, you should do so as early as possible.

All persons using the Service must register for the Annual Meeting as well as for the use of the Employment Service. Once registered, you will be issued a pass permitting your entrance to the Service any time it is open. No one will be admitted without a pass. Fees for the use of the Employment Service are: ASA member applicants—$5; non-ASA member applicants—$25; Employers—$50.

Exhibits—Upper Exhibition Hall, 4th Floor

All Annual Meeting attendees are encouraged to browse through the Exhibits located in the Upper Exhibition Hall. Exhibits open on Monday, August 17, and close on Thursday, August 20. Exhibit hours are 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, August 17-18; 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, August 19; and 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 20.

Plan your schedule now to include several visits to the 1987 ASA Exhibits. This year’s exhibitors include book publishers, computer hardware and software companies, a film company, and statistical and informational literature suppliers. See the Directory of Exhibitors listed elsewhere in this Program for names and booth numbers for all exhibitors. Look through the Program for special ads too!

Media—Private Dining Room 11, 3rd Floor

Media representatives are invited to stop by for press registration packets.

Paper Sales—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

Papers will go on sale at 1:00 p.m. on Sunday at the price of $1.50 each. All session papers which were submitted to the Executive Office for duplication and/or distribution at the Annual Meeting appear on the list of "Available Papers" (in your registration packet). Papers may be purchased as long as supplies last; orders for future delivery cannot be accepted.

Requests for papers which have sold out or were not supplied may be sent directly to the author(s) and, in order to facilitate this procedure, a "Roster of Authors" which includes names and addresses of authors may be purchased for $1.50. Papers may also be available through Sociological Abstracts, Inc.; check the abstracts booklet for information.

The Executive Office is not able to return unsold copies of papers to individual authors after the Annual Meeting. However, authors may pick up remaining copies of their own papers (including those that the ASA duplicated) on Friday after 1:00 p.m.

NOTE: Persons wishing access to the Paper Sales Room must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges will be required for entrance into this area.

Restaurant Reservation Service—Upper Exhibition Hall, 4th Floor

The Chicago Convention and Visitors Bureau personnel will be present to provide information on restaurants and other attractions in Chicago, as well as assist in making reservations. Tickets for sporting events may also be reserved and purchased through this service.

Roster of Pre-registrants—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

A roster containing the convention addresses of pre-registrants is posted on bulletin boards at the entrances to the Lower Exhibition Hall. A Locator File will be maintained at the ASA Information Desk as the meeting progresses.

Section Information Table—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

Information on the 26 ASA Sections, including copies of 1987 Section newsletters, will be available in the ASA Information area. The section table will be staffed by representatives of the various sections.

Special Services—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

Personnel at the ASA Information Desk will provide services for attendees with physical disabilities who are attending the Annual Meeting.

If you sent in a special services request prior to the meeting, please check in at the Information Desk on your arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you need.

Tapes—Lower Exhibition Hall, 3rd Floor

Arrangements have been made with Teach'em, Inc., to record all Thematic, Special, and Author/Critic Sessions. (See Program Notes for session details.) Audio cassettes will be made available for purchase by convention registrants in the Lower Exhibition Hall on the third floor of the Palmer House.

Tours—West Lounge, 4th Floor

Those already enrolled for tours should have received their tickets with their meeting packets. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration Area for any cancellations or changes in site schedules. All groups will depart from the Palmer House following a 15-minute orientation session. Please refer to the Program Notes section for specific orientation room location for each tour.

Some tickets may still be available for tours; check at the Tickets Desk. Cancellations will not be accepted; you may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

NIGHT AS FRONTIER
Colonizing the World After Dark
MURRAY MELBIN
This pioneering work examines today's new temporal frontier and reveals how we are extending human activity into an incessant 24-hour cycle. Melbin explores the effects on ourselves and our world, and makes this provocative forecast: we may all be headed toward lives of round-the-clock work, play, even wakefulness. "This superb study opens a whole new territory for the sociological imagination. I have been deeply impressed by Melbin's pioneering work."—Lewis A. Coser, State University of New York at Stony Brook
1987 300 Pages ISBN: 0-02-920940-4 $19.95

METHODS OF SOCIAL RESEARCH
Third Edition
KENNETH E. BAILEY
Now in its Third Edition, this authoritative work includes the latest technological advances as well as theoretical breakthroughs in all phases of social science research. (Instructor's Manual also available)
1987 608 Pages ISBN: 0-02-901450-6 $27.95

GEORGE WASHINGTON
The Making of An American Symbol
BARRY SCHWARTZ
"In this solidly researched yet sparkling book Mr. Schwartz, venturing into an apparently almost exhausted field, manages to deal freshly, shrewdly, and also affectionately with George Washington as the prime example of American hero-worship."—Marcus Cunliffe, The George Washington University
1987 240 Pages ISBN: 0-02-928141-5 $22.50

THE QUESTION OF PORNOGRAPHY
Research Findings and Policy Implications
EDWARD DONNERSTEIN, DANIEL LINZ, and STEVEN PENROD
This definitive analysis of the scientific findings of the impact of media sex and violence reveals that sexually-explicit material—in itself—does not foster negative behavior unless it is combined with images of violence. "An excellent discussion of the scientific research in this area...a timely and important work."—Neil Malamuth, UCLA
1987 288 Pages ISBN: 0-02-907521-1 $24.95

THE SEVEN DAY CIRCLE
The History and Meaning of the Week
EVIAZAR ZERUBAVEL
"Working in an almost untouched area—namely, the sociology of time—Zerubavel has made an original, often brilliant contribution."—Peter L. Berger, Boston University
1985 208 Pages ISBN: 0-02-934680-0 $19.95
WHEN BATTERED WOMEN KILL
ANGELA BROWNE

"The progression of violent male/female relationships from courtship to death of the abuser has never been more dramatically described."
—Marvin E. Wolfgang, University of Pennsylvania

"Extremely important, theoretically sophisticated, compassionate and readable...This book could help to rectify this incredible injustice—if we act..."—Diana E.H. Russell, Mills College
1987 240 Pages ISBN: 0-02-903880-4 $19.95

TOUGH CHANGE
Growing Up On Your Own in America
BERNARD LEFKOWITZ

Interweaving four years of research and in-depth interviews, this work explores the plight of more than one million youths struggling not only to grow up but to survive on their own streets. "Must be read and strongly reacted to by all adults who profess to care about this country's children."
—Claude Brown
1986 304 Pages ISBN: 0-02-918490-8 $19.95

MARRIAGE AND FAMILY IN A CHANGING SOCIETY
Second Edition
Edited by JAMES M. HENSLIN

"Well organized, carefully edited...This very interesting and relevant collection represents an excellent sampling of current research in the field by a distinguished list of contributors."—Peter J. Stein, William Paterson College
1985 536 Pages ISBN: 0-02-914870-7 $15.95 paper

DOWN TO EARTH SOCIOLOGY
Introductory Readings, Fourth Edition
Edited by JAMES M. HENSLIN

"Henslin has revealed a grip on reality not felt since the writings of C. Wright Mills and Harry Elmer Barnes. Because students seek this kind of concreteness today, they fully enjoy Henslin's important contribution."
—John Leggett, Rutgers University

DISTRIBUTED FROM THE FREE PRESS—

MIDDLE AMERICAN INDIVIDUALISM
The Future of Liberal Democracy
HERBERT I. GANS

An inquiry into the values of American working and lower middle class people that reveals a widening gulf between them and the formal institutions of Big Government and Big Business. Perceiving a serious threat to democratic processes, Gans calls for a new understanding and respect between Liberal and Middle America and offers innovative measures to ensure the representation of all Americans in our national community.

New in Paperback—

THE DIVORCE REVOLUTION
The Unexpected Social and Economic Consequences for Women and Children in America
LENORE J. WEITZMAN

"Pathbreaking...social science at its best. Weitzman demonstrates again her command of the legal, sociological, and economic realities of marriage and divorce."—James F. Short, past president, American Sociological Association

THE NEW OTHER WOMAN
Contemporary Single Women in Affairs With Married Men
LAUREL RICHARDSON

Penetrates the secret world and changing moral rules of the "new other women" who in their own words explain why they become involved, how their liaisons progress, and what happens when they (almost inevitably) end. "An intelligent and thoughtful book, the best single source I have yet read on this subject."—Pepper Schwartz, co-author of American Couples
1987 192 Pages ISBN: 0-02-926891-5 $8.95 paper

LICENSE TO RAPE
Sexual Abuse of Wives
DAVID FINKELHOR and KERSTI YLLO

"I look forward to the day this book will be available at the supermarket checkout so no woman will think she is the only one whose husband rapes her. But most of all I look forward to the day when this book will be located in the history section of the library."—Pauline Bart, Philadelphia Inquirer
September 1987 258 Pages ISBN: 0-02-910401-7 $9.95 paper

Landlords and Capitalists:
The Dominant Class in Chile
Maurice Zeitlin and Richard E. Ratcliff

"This is the most systematic and, in my opinion, the best study of a national upper class ever written. The methodology will be a model for other studies for some time to come. . . . Zeitlin and Ratcliff construct an elaborate, and convincing, picture of the patterns of ownership and control of the commanding heights of the Chilean economy. . . ."—John D. Stephens, Northwestern University
Due Spring 1988
Paper: $12.95; Cloth: $45.00

The Civil Wars in Chile
(or the bourgeois revolutions that never were)
Maurice Zeitlin

". . . in the best tradition of historical sociology. Theoretically sensitive, methodologically precise, and historically grounded, it raises issues of an importance far beyond a peripheral interest in late nineteenth-century Chile, and tackles some of the major questions involved in the study of class conflict and capitalist development. . . . This is clearly going to be an important and controversial work. . . ."—Ian Roxborogh, Times Higher Education Supplement

The Chinese Debate about
Soviet Socialism, 1978–1985
Gilbert Rozman

"The 'internal circulation' [neo!] materials that Rozman presents are the most significant body of new information pertaining to Chinese views of the Soviet Union to emerge in years. To this material he brings the rare combination of the ability to survey a large volume of Chinese-language sources and the in-depth knowledge of the history and current affairs of both China and the Soviet Union necessary to interpret them."

Ingredients for Women's Employment Policy
Edited by Christine Bose & Glenna Spitze
This book gathers together the ideas of sociologists and economists, including both quantitative and qualitative research. It represents an important reassessment of the complex mechanisms through which labor markets are transformed and investigates the issue of whether there has been any real progress in eradicating inequality.
296 pp. • $12.95 paperback

Women and Language in Transition
Joyce Penfield, Editor
This collection of essays deals with the interplay of language and social change, asking the question: How can language and society be made gender equal? The contributors examine the critical role of language in the lives of white women and women of color in the United States. Since language pervades many dimensions of women's lives, this study takes a multi-disciplinary approach to the issues considered.
224 pp. • $12.95 paperback

Organization in a Changing Environment
Russell K. Schutt
This study deals with the interfaces between bureaucratized social service agencies, social workers, and clients. The author covers significant topics of the history and organization of labor unions.
243 pp. • $16.95 paperback

The Psychosocial Consequences of Natural and Alienated Labor
Michael L. Schwalbe
Drawing principally on Mead's philosophy of the act and theory of aesthetic experience, Schwalbe forges a natural labor perspective that is then used to guide an empirical study of work experiences and their consequences among employees in five capitalist firms.
233 pp. • $16.95 paperback

Under Construction: Work and Alienation in the Building Trades
Marc L. Silver
Offering a unique examination of organization and work in the construction industry, this book synthesizes organizational and labor relations orientations, and develops a comprehensive sociological perspective on work relations in construction.
251 pp. • $14.95 paperback

The Social Production of Technical Work
Peter Whalley
The author argues that engineers should be viewed as 'trusted employees,' selected, socialized, trained and rewarded to perform the discretionary tasks necessarily delegated by employers in the complex organizations of advanced capitalism.
237 pp. • $34.50 hardcover only

Sharing Ownership in the Workplace
Raymond Russell
This book traces the history of employee ownership in the United States and Western Europe by presenting three contemporary case studies of successful employee-controlled businesses, paying special attention to what caused them to endure while others failed.
267 pp. • $17.95 paperback

From Nationalism to Revolutionary Islam: Essays on Social Movements in the Contemporary Near and Middle East
Said Amir Arjomand, Editor
This study of dominant social movements in the Middle and Near East is the first to bring nationalism and contemporary Islamic movements into a unified thematic perspective.
256 pp. • $16.95 paperback

Life and Labor: Dimensions of American Working-Class History
Charles Stephenson and Robert Asher, Editors
This volume's 15 essays explore the impact of industrialization and technology on the lives of working people and their responses to the changes in society over the past 150 years.
243 pp. • $14.95 paperback

Gender and Work: A Comparative Analysis of Industrial Societies
Patricia A. Roos
A cross-cultural study of gender differentiation in employment, this book is a milestone in the research on sex and marital differences in employment, occupational distribution, and earnings.

NEW!

SOCIOMETRY IN A CHANGING WORLD

by William Kornblum, Graduate School of the City University of New York

"I am intrigued by an introductory text book which seeks to focus throughout the text on issues of social change.... To give the student an understanding of social change would be to give him or her a most useful perspective."

—Prof. Jack E. Dison, Arkansas State University.

Prof. William Kornblum's ground-breaking sociology text is designed to address recent changes in the discipline, the students, and the work of sociologists and presents a balanced picture of the strengths and weaknesses of the interactionist, functionalist, and conflict approaches to the discipline.

REVISED!

SOCIOMETRY: AN INTRODUCTION Second Edition

The American Perception of Class
Reeve Vanneman and Lynn Weber Cannon
"The central argument of this impressive work is outstanding, perhaps brilliant. The authors demonstrate the importance of structure over psychology and emphasize the need to examine those with power rather than placing all the weight of the analysis on those with little power. The book is a methodological tour-de-force. . . ." — Dan Clawson, University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Rethinking Rental Housing
John I. Gilderbloom and Richard P. Appelbaum
"[The authors] have provided us with an exhaustive and penetrating study of rental housing in the United States. They go beyond the usual preoccupation with market forces to demonstrate the social and political processes which determine the availability of rental housing. In the process, they make clear that the problems of housing are essentially a sociological problem: it is rooted in social processes, and it has large effects on social life. Anyone who wants to understand the growing crisis in rental housing in America will want to read this book."

SAS*-LIKE POWER, but SMALL & FAST.

THE BASS SYSTEM introduced with BASSBase a data management and statistics package. It's like mainframe SAS but uses fewer formats and pre-coded functions and is small and fast and runs on your 256K, 2-floppy drive PC . . . . for $95!

Add BASSView, and THE BASS SYSTEM has a true windowing environment—not a simplistic display manager like the competition. Its pulldown menu interface between you, BASSBase and the DOS operating system. Remember, unlike the competition, BASSBase has the ability to use programming language statements with analysis procedures. And don't think just because it's small it only does small jobs. It can handle up to 4,096 variables and 32,767 observations.

With BASSView you have the ability to run BASS in batch or interactive modes. Plus you can use windows to view up to 3 files simultaneously. With BASSView it's even easier to use BASSBase for SAS training.

COMING SOON.

BASSStat, the third component of THE BASS SYSTEM, is an expanded statistics package. It will enable you to perform stepwise regression, analysis of variance, factor analysis, two stage least squares regression, time series analysis, EDA and more . . . . ! Plus you will have the full power of the BASS language available with every procedure. No more extra passes through your data just to add a binary variable to a regression.

THE BASS SYSTEM™

THE BASS SYSTEM currently operates on IBM PC, XT, AT or clones; DOS 2.0 or higher. BASSBase requires 256K RAM and 2 floppy drives.

STATISTICS FOR SOCIAL DATA ANALYSIS
2nd edition
By George W. Bohrnstedt, Indiana University
David Knoke, University of Minnesota

Designed for both one and two semester introductory statistics courses in the social sciences. The text emphasizes the role of statistics in the larger context of doing social research.

The new edition retains the same structure as the first. However, several chapters have been extensively revised.

SOCIOLOGY OF OCCUPATIONS AND PROFESSIONS
2nd edition
By Ronald M. Pavalko, University of Wisconsin-Parkside Campus

This is a new edition of Pavalko’s successful text first published in 1971. The new edition contains chapters on women and work, minorities and work, and a chapter that deals with labor force trends. The remainder of the text is thoroughly updated in summarizing both theoretical issues and research findings that have appeared since the first edition.

March 1988 c. 400 pages paper

SOCIOLOGY
An Introduction, Third Edition
J. Ross Eshleman
Appalachian State University
Barbara G. Cashion
Laurence A. Basirico, Elon College

Highly acclaimed for its balanced, integrated presentation of sociological theory and its practical applications to everyday life, this popular introductory text has been thoroughly updated, revised, and expanded. The new Third Edition features an applied sociological perspective, carefully integrated into each chapter to show students the relationship between sociological theory and practice beyond the career level. As always, the text is accessible to introductory students, offering a direct, clear, and jargon-free style and interesting, relevant examples. The text's outstanding pedagogy includes "Sociology at Work" boxes; end-of-chapter Summaries, Key Terms, and Suggestions; "Readings in Applied Sociology" in each part; and an updated Appendix, "Exploring a Career in Sociology." Available in December

CRISIS IN AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS
Seventh Edition
Jerome H. Skolnick and Elliott Currie
University of California, Berkeley

Highly successful through six editions, this anthology presents penetrating discussions of the most pressing social issues of our time, providing a coherent and critical framework for understanding the nature of social problems. Retaining the text's popular two-part approach and high-quality readings, the Seventh Edition includes 15 new readings on such current issues as the tobacco industry lobby, hunger in America, teenage pregnancy, deregulation of the trucking industry, AIDS, and U.S. policy in Central America. In addition, the authors have updated their insightful introductions throughout. Available in November

HUMAN SEXUALITY
Third Edition
William H. Masters
Virginia E. Johnson
Robert C. Kolodny

This classic introduction to the field by a preeminent team of authors has once again been revised and updated. The Third Edition offers the most recent information available on AIDS—its detection, treatment, and psychosocial impacts—as well as the latest material on chlamydia and other STDS. Retaining their successful multidimensional perspective—biological, psychosocial, behavioral, clinical, and cultural—the authors have added new chapters on "Sex and the Law" and "An Anthropological Look at Human Sexuality." Other new coverage includes surrogate motherhood, a four-factor model for explaining pedophilia, biomedical methods of sex therapy, penile implants, new research on birth control, and stages of a homosexual relationship. As in the previous edition, "Personal Perspectives," "Research Spotlights," other special-interest boxes, plus an outstanding illustration program—now including four-color photos—offer students a realistic, humanizing view. Available in November

RACIAL AND ETHNIC GROUPS, Third Edition
Richard T. Schaefer
Western Illinois University

Now revised and updated in its Third Edition, this comprehensive text examines race relations in the U.S. and abroad from a balanced sociological perspective that also considers economic and psychological theories of discrimination. Emphasizing that institutional racism rather than individual action is the main source of conflict between races in the U.S., the text examines the social institutions and historical background of each group. New to the Third Edition is a chapter on Asian Americans, with added information on Koreans, Filipinos, and Southeast Asians and a new section on the Model Minority image. Other new or expanded coverage includes the Immigration Reform and Control Act, the Sanctuary movement, the Hopi-Navajo dispute, the Jesse Jackson campaign, the feminization of poverty, and much more. An outstanding graphics program and in-text aids help to draw students into the material. Available in October

AMERICA'S PROBLEMS
Social Issues and Public Policy, Second Edition
Elliott Currie and Jerome H. Skolnick
University of California, Berkeley

Taking a critical theoretical perspective, this exceptional text provides a coherent framework for exploring the broad social and economic structures and the forces that shape current social problems. Solidly based on the most recent and sophisticated research in the social sciences, the new Second Edition has been thoroughly updated to reflect changes since 1984, including trends in inflation and oil prices, the new tax laws, and the trade deficit. The text emphasizes the issues and problems at the center of current scholarly and political debate, and pays special attention to both social policy formulation and its implementation. Available in December

"THE MEAN SEASON is a compelling revelation of America's dirty little secret: that our welfare state is the cheapest in the Western world and under outrageous attack for excessive generosity at a time when it is needed more than ever." —Michael Harrington

"An eloquent and hard-headed defense of the welfare state, THE MEAN SEASON argues convincingly that social justice makes economic sense."
—Samuel Bowles, co-author of DEMOCRACY AND CAPITALISM and BEYOND THE WASTELAND: A Democratic Alternative to Economic Decline

A gainst the crescendo of fashionable attacks on the welfare state, The Mean Season argues for its real, hard-won accomplishments. It shows how current denunciations echo centuries-old laments as fallacious then as they are now. It exposes the reigning orthodoxies about welfare—that it destroys incentives to work, uses up investment capital, augments a decline in productivity and competitiveness, and so on—and explains why these lack any substance.

The Mean Season analyzes President Reagan's war on the poor and the welfare state to reveal its true beneficiaries—and its true targets. More than a defense of the welfare state's economic efficiency and fairness, The Mean Season is a reaffirmation of humane values so much under attack in Reagan's America.

AMERICAN WOMEN IN TRANSITION
Suzanne Bianchi and Daphne Spain
An authoritative account of dramatic changes in the status of women over the past two decades. This landmark study describes women's increasing educational attainment and labor force participation, their continued commitment to marriage and family, and the balancing act necessitated by this overlap of roles.
1986 320 pages $32.50 cloth $14.95 paper

THE COLOR LINE AND THE QUALITY OF LIFE IN AMERICA
Reynolds Farley and Walter R. Allen
A vital new assessment of the social reality of race. Compares characteristics of blacks and whites—including fertility, mortality, and migration; family structure and educational attainment; employment and earnings—to offer a comprehensive picture of how racial identity influences opportunities and outcomes in our society.
1987 520 pages $37.50 cloth

DOLLARS AND DREAMS
The Changing American Income Distribution
Frank Levy
A timely evaluation of American living standards since World War II. Traces the years of growth that ended in 1973 and the more recent years of faltering productivity and wages, providing an important new framework that clarifies many of today's pressing economic questions. "A luminous book....Indispensable."—Aaron Wildavsky
1987 256 pages $29.95 cloth

THE POLITICS OF NUMBERS
William Alonso and Paul Starr, editors
The first major study of the social and political forces behind the nation's statistics. More than a dozen distinguished contributors look at controversies and choices embodied in key decisions about how we count—in measuring the state of the economy, for example, or enumerating ethnic groups.
1987 496 pages $37.50 cloth

The four titles listed above belong to a special series, "The Population of the United States in the 1980s," which examines major trends and changes in American life as revealed by the latest Census data.

CONTEMPORARY MARRIAGE
Comparative Perspectives on a Changing Institution
Kingsley Davis, editor, in association with Amyra Grossbard-Shechtman
Offers a rich spectrum of approaches—sociological, anthropological, economic, historical, psychological, and legal—to fundamental questions about the meaning and future of marriage in the United States and other industrialized nations.
1986 425 pages $29.95 cloth

APPROACHES TO SOCIAL THEORY
Siegwart Lindenberg, James S. Coleman, Stefan Nowak, editors
The W. I. Thomas and Florian Znaniecki Memorial Conference, held at the University of Chicago, brought together an outstanding array of scholars representing a variety of approaches to social theory. But the conference was more than a forum for abstract theoretical debate. These papers and discussions represent original scholarly contributions that exemplify orientations to social theory by examining real problems in the functioning of society.
1986 450 pages $29.95 cloth
The American Anthropological Association, founded in 1902 to advance anthropology in all its aspects, is the world's largest organization of individuals interested in anthropology. Its purposes are to encourage scholarly and professional communication among anthropologists and to promote the public understanding of anthropology and its use to solve human problems. The AAA carries on the tradition of holism. Anyone with a professional or scholarly interest in anthropology is invited to join.

Every member receives the Anthropology Newsletter, published nine times a year, which reports grant and support opportunities, meetings of interest, new publications, current developments affecting the profession, and Association news. Members select unit memberships that include subscriptions to the American Anthropologist, American Ethnologist, Ethos, Anthropology and Education Quarterly, Anthropology and Humanism Quarterly, Cultural Anthropology, Medical Anthropology Quarterly, and City & Society. Subscriptions to publications apart from membership are also available. Discounted dues are available to students, foreign members, and spouses of members. Members also receive reduced rates for occasional publications, annual meeting registration, placement service, and other programs.

Lively and interesting

Criminology
Frank E. Hagan, Mercyhurst College
Many criminology texts focus on legalistic, administrative, and social control aspects of crime while devoting little attention to the various forms of criminal activity and the theories and research that explain crime. Hagan’s Criminology is an exception. While offering full coverage of legal and administrative issues, Hagan devotes seven chapters to the complete range of criminal behavior—from violent street crime to the more subtle organizational and corporate crime found in white collar settings. Hagan also thoroughly assesses current research methods and examines the classical and current criminological and sociological theories that deal with crime.

This is a lively, interesting text that deals with all the standard issues in criminology, offers insight into theory and research, and presents much thought-provoking material on actual criminal behavior. Instructor’s resource manual available. ISBN 0-8304-1068-6 cloth.

Social Problems: Issues and Solutions
Charles Zastrow and Lee Bowker
An optimistic text that indicates the role sociology plays in solving contemporary social problems. Student study guide, instructor’s resource manual.
ISBN 0-8304-1051-1 cloth

Oppression: A Socio-History of Black-White Relations in America
Jonathan H. Turner, Royce R. Singleton, Jr., and David Musick
A sociological and historical analysis of the black experience in America.
ISBN 0-8304-1117-8 paper

Sociology: The Science of Human Organization
Jonathan H. Turner, University of California at Riverside
Here is an introductory text that goes beyond the static typologies and functionalist bias found in many books. It offers a balanced approach that presents and integrates a variety of theoretical perspectives and introduces research findings and complex information in a way that students can readily understand. Comprehensive computerized learning and teaching packages available. ISBN 0-8304-1112-7 cloth

Sociology of Marriage and the Family: Gender, Love, and Property
Randall Collins, Editor Sociological Theory
This is an entirely new and original text that confronts recent changes in marriage and the family and accurately appraises class, race, and gender issues. It is theoretically and historically grounded with an emphasis on feminist and conflict theory, yet it reaches into the future with an optimistic, level-headed view of change in the decades ahead. Comprehensive computerized learning and teaching packages available. ISBN 0-8304-1072-4 cloth

Teaching Sociology: The Quest for Excellence
Frederick L. Campbell, Hubert M. Blalock, Jr., and Reece McGee, editors
In eleven essays the problems of teaching sociology in the university are examined.
ISBN 0-8304-1097-X cloth

Past or Future Crimes:
Deservedness and Dangerousness in the Sentencing of Criminals
Andrew von Hirsch
"Seeks to demonstrate the need for, as well as to provide, a principled resolution of the central issue that divides desert and crime preventive rationales...[von Hirsch] succeeds in these purposes admirably, and with eloquence."
--Criminology

Marxism and the Oppression of Women:
Towards a Unitary Theory
Lise Vogel
218 pp. Paper, $12.00.
"A significant contribution to a heated debate that has been going on for the past several years over the 'unhappy marriage' of Marxism and feminism... as the expression of one end point of the Marxist-feminist spectrum it is thought-provoking and intelligent."--Science and Society

The American Sociological Foundation's Endowment Fund Campaign has already matched its 1987 "Greeley Challenge" of $25,000 and may well match the combined 1987-88 goal of $50,000 before the year is over. In fact, the campaign committee is in the market for new matching challenges as a way of doubling the incentives and doubling the benefits. Campaign Chair Jay Demerath is hanging by his phones (413-545-2097 or, at home, 253-3198). While this conjures up a host of images, it is better than some alternative postures.

If you don't call him, he and members of his committee may well be calling you. They certainly will be calling on those attending the ASA meetings in Chicago to contribute. There will be no auction this year, nor is there truth to the rumor that a committee task force will be visiting the homes of conventioners to steal the silver in their absence. However, a few ASF T-shirts are still available as collector's items (in money-proclaiming "Sociology is well-founded"). In addition, the committee plans several surprises to raise the level of consciousness and commitment.

So far, the campaign has been conducted largely through letters and Footnotes. The next stage is one of personal solicitations. Committee members approaching you take no glee in the role, but they do it because the cause is vital. If you are uncomfortable as a target of these interactions, an early contribution and/or pledge will get you off the hook. The meetings will give you ample opportunity! Help us move this campaign into high gear.

Getting Around Chicago

Whether you are a Chicago native or a first time visitor, you will want to explore all of the beauty, culture and diversity that make Chicago a world class city. Chicago offers a variety of ways to see the city that are almost as exciting as the city itself.

For the “high flying”, more adventurous individual, Chicago offers thrilling helicopter rides that take passengers over Comiskey Park, the Gold Coast and Loop areas. Helicopter rides are offered only on Saturday afternoons from Meigs Field.

The Chicago Architecture Foundation at 330 South Dearborn Street, in downtown Chicago, conducts a variety of architectural tours which explore various parts of the city and outlying suburbs. One of the more popular walking tours is the Oak Park, Frank Lloyd Wright house tour which provides you with a close-up view of the landmark, prairie-style homes.

For a romantic approach, rent a horse-drawn carriage and choose your own route on Chicago’s Near North Side. Carriages park around the Water Tower Visitor Information Center and, with the exception of rush hour, can be hired year round until the early morning hours.

Board Chicago’s Culture Buses at the Art Institute (at Michigan and Adams Streets) to take you north to see the U.S.S. Silversides at Navy Pier, the John Hancock Observatory and Water Tower Place, south to the Prairie Avenue Historical District, Field Museum of Natural History, Museum of Science and Industry, or west to visit the Sears Tower, Merchandise Mart and Maxwell Street Market, along with dozens of other unique Chicago attractions. Passengers may disembark and reboard all day for only one $2.50 ticket. The Culture Bus runs on Sundays and holidays and holidays from mid-May through October 1st.

For the sports minded individual, renting a bicycle provides a day’s exercise as well as a spectacular view of Chicago. Bicycles and roller skates can be rented from the “Spokes for Folks” concession stands located at both North and Clark or Fullerton and Cannon streets. For 20 miles of unobstructed sightseeing, follow the marked bicycle path that runs north and south along the lakefront.

One of the three bus companies that run daily sightseeing tours can take you on a day or evening tour of Chicago. Day tours include two to seven hours along Chicago’s lakefront, downtown, Chinatown, the University of Chicago (site of the 1893 exposition) and other landmarks. Evening tour options include a stop at the John Hancock or Sears Tower observatories to view the dramatic lights of the city, dinner at one of the city’s finer restaurants and tickets to one of Chicago’s many theaters.

Of course, for the independent explorer, many taxis are available to take you to your destination and the city’s bus and rapid transit (the L) lines offer convenient, dependable transportation.

Public Sculptures

Visitors to Chicago will find a variety of art forms, designed by contemporary masters, in public plazas throughout the downtown area.

One need not be an art enthusiast to appreciate the beauty of Chicago’s plaza art by such famous artists as Alexander Calder, Marc Chagall and Pablo Picasso, to name a few. The accessibility of these art works makes it simple for everyone to admire, contemplate, discover and appreciate the varied art forms.

Alexander Calder’s “Flamingo” sculpture dominates the plaza at the Chicago Federal Center, located at Adams and Dearborn Streets. The bright red sculpture stands 53 feet high and weighs 50 tons. At the time the “Flamingo” was erected in 1974, a U.S. government official commented that this particular piece of artwork was probably the most expensive ($325,000) ever provided by the federal government for a public building.

Calder is also the artist of a mobile in the Wacker Drive lobby of the Sears Tower, the world’s tallest building. The mobile, entitled “Universe”, is 65 feet wide, 33 feet high and weighs 8 tons.

One of the most colorful exhibits of Chicago’s outdoor modern art gallery is the “Four Seasons”, a mosaic mural by Marc Chagall. The 70-foot long mosaic is composed of 350 different shades and hues of mosaic materials including glass, marble, stone and granite. The mural is located at the First National Bank Plaza at Monroe and Dearborn Streets.

Joan Miro’s “Chicago” sculpture is adjacent to the 69 West Washington Street building. The sculpture, which is quite different from what one might expect from the title, was unveiled on Miro’s 88th birthday, August 20, 1981. The artpiece is constructed from steel reinforced concrete with areas of brightly colored ceramics.

Just a few blocks away from the Miro sculpture is the “Sounding Sculpture” installed in the Standard Oil Building at 200 East Randolph Street. Harry Bertola, renowned American sculpture and furniture designer, created the sculpture for the reflecting pool of the Standard Oil Building, the fourth tallest building in the world. The sculpture produces muted sounds which are created by the movement of windblown rods.

A recent addition to Chicago’s outdoor art is the “Batcolumn.” Designed by Claes Oldenburg, the 101-foot high steel baseball bat rises in front of the Social Security Administration Building at 600 West Madison Street. The public sculpture, commissioned by the federal government at a cost of $100,000, is constructed from 1,608 pieces of welded steel.

No visit to Chicago would be complete without viewing Chicago’s first outdoor sculpture—the famous 50-foot high, 162-ton untitled sculpture created by Pablo Picasso for the people of Chicago. The artpiece, a Chicago landmark since 1967, is made of rusting steel and is located at the Richard J. Daley Plaza.

All of these artworks are located within easy walking distance from each other in and around Chicago’s Loop area.

Shopping

From designer fashions to antiques, to jewelry, artwork or novelty stores, Chicago has a store for all your shopping needs.

Starting at the Chicago River and extending north to Oak Street is Chicago’s premier shopping strip. “One Magnificent Mile” is the home of Neiman Marcus, Lord and Taylor, Saks Fifth Avenue, I. Magnin, Marshall Fields, Gucci, Ralph Lauren and the new Bloomingdale’s complex, to name just a few. Many of the world’s finest specialty stores are located among the architectural treasures of Michigan Avenue. Considered to be among the finest shopping areas in the world, “One Magnificent Mile” will delight and astound buyers and browsers alike.
No visit to Michigan Avenue would be complete without a trip to Water Tower Place. This indoor seven-level mall features a dazzling array of shops, boutiques, cinemas and restaurants. Considered to be one of Chicago's "in" places to shop, Water Tower Place attracts native Chicagoans, visitors and celebrities alike. Lending to the Water Tower Place's interior beauty and elegance is the Grand Atrium, which includes a sparkling indoor waterfall, glass and chrome enclosed elevators and ceiling mounted spotlights—indeed a photographer's playground.

Within a short distance from Water Tower Place is State Street, home of the world's largest outdoor mall. This newly refurbished, seven block long, shopping emporium features landmark Chicago department stores such as Carson, Pirie, Scott & Company and Marshall Fields, as well as the famed Chicago Theatre. An assortment of specialty shops, record stores, cookie factories, restaurants and one of Chicago's oldest hotels complete the adventure of shopping on State Street.

One block east of State Street is a book, jewelry, leather, shoe and art/photography potpourri. Wabash Avenue is rich in unique shops which run special sales throughout the year. Recently nicknamed "Jeweler's Row", Wabash Avenue is a delight for browsers and shoppers alike.

The Oak, Rush and Walton Street area will charm you with its brownstones that have been converted into boutiques featuring the latest fashions from Paris, London and Milan. For art enthusiasts, a number of galleries featuring impressive collections at various prices are available. A step into one of the many professional salons for a haircut, manicure, facial, pedicure or beauty consultation will refresh you after your shopping excursion.

A quick cab ride west of the Oak Rush and Walton Street area will take you to North Wells Street. Unusual collectibles fill many rooms in the assorted antique shops. Antique pieces ranging from fine jewelry to period furniture are available. Many dealers import directly from Europe for the best items. Out-of-town inquiries are always welcome and items can be shipped anywhere.

Wherever you choose to shop in the greater Chicago area, you won't be disappointed!

A SAMPLING OF CULTURE

Whether it's Benin art or Brueghel, you will find a museum or cultural facility that fits your interests (and those of your colleagues). Ponder the avant garde works at the Museum of Contemporary Arts, primitive landscapes and portraits at the Terra Museum of American Art, the incomparable paintings, sculpture and porcelain collections of the Art Institute.

Visit the museums in nearby Lincoln Park. A stroll along the lakefront will lead you to the Chicago Historical Society, the city's oldest cultural institution, and the Chicago Academy of Sciences, an outstanding natural history museum. You will also find ethnic museums tucked away in the neighborhoods and suburbs. And don't miss stopping by the local Byzantine church that looks as though it belongs in 19th century Russia.

Chicago has space—lots of it, and it's accessible. One thing that sets Chicago apart from other major cities is that there is enough space to not feel crowded. And Chicagoans use open spaces like no one else in the world. Enjoy lunch or a cool drink at one of the many sidewalk cafes you will find on the State Street Mall, Rush Street and everywhere on the Near Northside. Do as the natives do—grab a sandwich, stroll over to the nearest, free noontime concert and work on your tan while you listen.

You will find Chicago is a city worth looking at from the top to bottom, whether you choose the observatories high atop the Sears Tower and John Hancock Building (two of the tallest in the world) or the serenity of a boat ride along the lakefront and the Chicago River.

SPORTING LIFE

On a typical day, you will see thousands of Chicagoans enjoying limitless recreation and exercise possibilities. And just because you are away from home does not mean you cannot do the same. Spend one sunny afternoon at Wrigley Field and you will understand why Chicagoans don't want night baseball at the "friendly confines." Or cheer on the Chicago White Sox at Comiskey Park, just minutes away from McCormick Place.

Want to get in a quick nine holes while you're in town for the convention? What other city has golf courses on the lakefront just minutes away from downtown hotels? And tennis courts and even a gun club right on the water, in case you're in the mood for skeet shooting.

Or, rent a bike and follow the miles of bike trails along Chicago's lakefront, through its historic neighborhoods and into the adjoining suburbs. Rent a horse and take in the trails in one of the many Forest Preserves or Lincoln Park. Go fishing in the lagoon in Lincoln Park or just watch the sailboats tack their way out of Belmont Harbor.

Whatever your sports or recreation preference, Chicago is your kind of town.

AND ALL THAT JAZZ...

Chicago is justifiably famous for its music—from the world-acclaimed, Grammy-winning Chicago Symphony Orchestra to the blues sounds of Muddy Waters and the home-grown, big band sounds of Chicago-born clarinetist Benny Goodman.

And no city showcases its musical talent more than Chicago. You will find top jazz entertainment, quiet piano bars, the Symphony performing at their summer home in Ravinia Park, summer lawn concerts and city-sponsored blues and jazz festivals in Grant Park. You will find suburban shopping centers pride themselves on the wide range of concerts and special events they regularly provide. You might hear Chuck Mangione performing outside I. Magnin's or catch a few minutes of Maynard Ferguson right next door to another celebrity with the same initials—Marshall Field's.

Thrill to the famed Lyric Opera or to a string quartet in the acoustically perfect Auditorium Theatre, another lovingly restored Chicago architectural landmark.

Discover Rush Street—a glittering, non-stop thoroughfare of nightspots for every taste, from club to cabaret. You can sip champagne, dine and dance a hole in your shoe, and never notice it's three a.m. when you explore the Near North-side's Rush Street.

Theater in Chicago is big business—and good fun. You'll find companies putting on productions all over town and in a wide variety of settings. Where else but in Chicago could you find a Kabuki production of Medea, Eugene O'Neill being staged in a courtyard surrounded by ivy-covered Gothic buildings or a pre-Broadway production of the life of Bessie Smith tucked away in an office building in the Loop?

And when Broadway goes on tour, Chicago is always one of the first stops. You'll find the best of Broadway and top name stars appearing in major theaters in the Loop and at supper/theatre clubs throughout the city and suburbs.

For a special treat, visit Chicago's own Second City Improvisational company in Old Town. Second City has given the world the likes of Bill Murray, John Belushi and Joan Rivers. And who knows, you may discover tomorrow's top comic talent when you visit!

Many cities have major entertainment attractions, but few can match the number and diversity to be found in Chicago. And few cities make it easy to find out what's happening. There are half-price HOT TIX booths on the State Street Mall and in Oak Park and Evanston. Or take advantage of the Theatre Tix phone service where you can reserve tickets and charge them to your credit card. Plus, the Visitor Evetntline (312/265-2323), Curtain Call (312/977-1755), and FINE ARTS (312/346-3278) telephone hotlines are on call 24 hours a day to help you enjoy Chicago after dark.
Cumulative Index of Sociology Journals

The Cumulative Index of Sociology Journals is 763 pages and covers the 1971-1985 period. Compiled by Judith Lantz of Carbondale, it contains both an author and comprehensive subject index. Books reviewed in any of the journals that are part of the Index are included in both the author and subject listings. The following ASA-sponsored publications are included in the Cumulative Index: American Sociological Review, The American Sociologist, Contemporary Sociology, Journal of Health and Social Behavior, Social Psychology Quarterly, Sociological Methodology, Sociological Theory, and Sociology of Education.

In addition, both the American Journal of Sociology and Social Forces have been incorporated into the index. Their inclusion represents the Association’s first, and very preliminary, attempt to put together a single index of all major sociology journals. Future editions will include a larger number of journals.

The Cumulative Index is available to ASA members for $35, non-members, and institutions and libraries for $60 per copy. To reserve your copy of the Index, complete the order form below and return it to the ASA Executive Office (1722 N Street NW, Washington, DC 20036). Be sure to attach a check made out to ASA for prompt delivery of your copy of the Index. Or, if you prefer, we will issue a proforma invoice, which must be paid prior to shipment. Copies of the Index will be shipped upon payment.

Special Offer to Departments!

Departments ordering one copy of the Index for $60 are eligible to receive a second copy for a special half-price rate of $30. Act now to provide your faculty and students with this valuable new resource!

The American Sociological Association has sponsored and supported this outstanding and widely respected series since it first appeared in 1969. Published by Jossey-Bass until 1986, the hardcover annual series is now being produced by the Association. The quality of both its format and content remains undiminished.

Sociological Methodology 1986 (now available), edited by Nancy Brandon Tuma, includes:

Chapter 2: “Techniques for Disaggregating Centrality Scores in Social Networks,” Mark S. Misruchi, Peter Mariolis, Michael Schwartz, and Beth Mintz
Chapter 3: “A Methodological Analysis of Intergroup Marriage,” Robert Schoen
Chapter 4: “A General Reliability Model for Categorical Data Applied to Guttman Scales and Current-Status Data,” Joseph E. Schwartz
Chapter 6: “Some New Results on Indirect Effects and Their Standard Errors in Covariance Structure Models,” Michael E. Sobel
Chapter 7: “Linear Stochastic Differential Equation Models for Panel Data with Unobserved Variables,” Gerhard Arminger
Chapter 8: “Alternative Approaches to Unobserved Heterogeneity in the Analysis of Repeatable Events,” Kazuo Yamaguchi
Sociological Methodology 1987 (available June 1987), edited by Clifford C. Clogg, will include:

Chapter 3. "Estimation of Linear Models with Incomplete Data," Paul D. Allison
Chapter 5. "Logit Based Interval Estimation for Binomial Data Using the Jeffreys Prior," Donald B. Rubin and Nathaniel Schenker
Chapter 8. "Scaling Via Models for the Analysis of Association: Social Background and Educational Careers in France," Herbert L. Smith and Maurice A. Garnier
Chapter 11. "Effect Displays for Generalized Linear Models," John Fox

Each volume of Sociological Methodology is available for $25 to ASA members, $30 to non-members, and $35 to institutions and libraries. Standing orders are available. Send orders and inquiries to:
