91st Annual Meeting
August 16-20, 1996
New York Hilton and Towers
Sheraton New York Hotel & Towers
New York, New York

Theme: "Social Change: Opportunities and Constraints"

The aim of the 1996 Annual Meeting of the American Sociological Association is to increase our understanding of the processes that govern social change by specifying how opportunities interact with constraints to produce change. Is opportunity always limited by constraint? Under what conditions do constraints redefine opportunities or create new ones? Does social change occur through the dynamic interaction of opportunity and constraint or as the result of sequential processes where opportunities are redefined and modified by constraints? By collectively focusing our sociological imagination, theory, and analysis on the process of social change in each of our subdisciplines, it is hoped that we will improve our ability to explain, predict, and possibly influence societal events.

Program Highlights

Opening Plenary

The opening plenary session for the 1996 ASA Annual Meeting will look at contemporary issues and challenges to affirmative action in higher education. The featured speaker is Mark G. Yudof, Executive Vice President and Provost at the University of Texas-Austin, who will address “The Constitution and Race-conscious Admissions Policies in Public and Private Universities.” Commenting on Yudof’s remarks will be Marta Tienda, chair of the University of Chicago’s Department of Sociology, and Joyce Justus, Assistant Director for Social and Behavioral Science in the Office of the White House Science Advisor. This outstanding plenary session will be held at 8:30 p.m. on Friday, August 16, in the Imperial Ballroom at the Sheraton New York Hotel.

Address by President Hallinan

ASA Awards Ceremony

The Presidential Plenary features the formal address of ASA President Maureen Hallinan. All meeting attendees are invited to this session which begins with the ASA Awards Ceremony honoring the 1996 award recipients. All registrants are invited to a special reception immediately following the plenary session to honor President Hallinan and the award recipients.

HHS Secretary Shalala at Town Meeting

Social Policy and Social Research

A major plenary session on Social Policy and Social Research is scheduled from 12:30-2:15 p.m. on Sunday, August 18, at the New York Hilton. The Honorable Donna Shalala, Secretary of Health and Human Services, is the featured speaker.

This plenary is designed as a town meeting forum for all meeting participants. The session will focus on how social research contributes, or fails to contribute, to the current policy debates on welfare reform, health (e.g., teenage pregnancy, AIDS), and social well-being. A panel of sociologists will frame questions to the Secretary, and the full audience will participate in open discussion and exchange. Panelists include Robert Hauser (University of Wisconsin, Madison), Sara McLanahan (Princeton University), and Melvin Oliver (The Ford Foundation). The session will be moderated by Sam Roberts, urban affairs columnist of The New York Times.

Everyone is invited to this “don’t miss!” event over the luncheon hour. Registrants should check their badge envelopes for a seating pass and make sure to wear their name badges to gain access to the ballroom. There is no charge unless lunch is ordered through ASA; box lunch tickets are available for $15 at the ASA Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton until 5:30 p.m. on Friday, August 16. Whether you order a box lunch or “brown bag” it, plan to attend this important town meeting!

ASA Business Meeting and Open Forum

The ASA Business Meeting is an opportunity for members of the Association to gather in one place and to discuss issues important to the sociological community as a whole. Members are encouraged to attend this “town business meeting” convened by ASA officers and Council.

Among the topics already on the agenda are the number of ASA Sections and their increasing scope of activities. There are now 36 sections, one section-information, and two interest groups starting the formation process. How do section activities change in the light of electronic publishing? How can we encourage sections as specialty areas and further ASA as a whole? Should sections have their own budgets to stimulate innovation?

A second issue planned for discussion is the revision of the ASA Code of Ethics. This is a great opportunity for members to learn about key ethical issues under consideration (e.g., informed consent, confidentiality of data, data sharing, conflicts of interest) and to share their views.

Summary reports on the Association and its key activities this year will be given by President Hallinan, Secretary Sullivan, and Executive Officer Levine. The meeting concludes with the transition of duties from President Hallinan to incoming President Smelser.

All meeting attendees are invited to join ASA officers, Council members, and staff for continental breakfast and discussion at the ASA Business Meeting on Monday, August 19, 7:00-8:15 a.m., in the Trianon Ballroom at the New York Hilton.

Thematic Sessions

Thematic Sessions are devoted to investigating the meeting theme, "Social Change: Opportunities and Constraints." The Program Committee gave organizers strong encouragement to focus on both opportunities and constraints in their topic areas, including efforts to “turn the question” wherever possible. Topics introduced in the 23 Thematic Sessions are developed throughout the Annual Meeting Program in workshops, seminars, discussions, poster presentations, and paper sessions.

Special Issue Series:
Contract with America—A Sociological Perspective

The 1994 mid-term election brought a Republican majority to the Senate and House of Representatives. Along with this Congressional change came a pledge to establish a new “Contract with America.” Core goals of the “Contract” are to contain federal spending, to reduce the provision of services and benefits by government, and to strengthen and reinforce the rights and responsibilities of the family.

The “Contract with America” charts a course of social change that has major implications for the role of the state, the community, the family, and the individual in American society. In a year when the theme of the ASA Annual Meeting is social change, the new reality sought by this platform merits attention. The 1996 Annual Meeting—taking place after the Republican National Convention but before the Democratic National Convention—is a particularly apt time to examine the sociological implications of this new “Contract.”

This special series on the “Contract with America” is comprised of five sessions focusing on children, education, health, immigration, and welfare. Each of these sessions examines selected pieces of either proposed or adopted legislation under the “Contract,” or in response to the “Contract,” using a sociological lens and in light of social science knowledge. In each session, a panel of three scholars will assess the alignment between these bills and what we know about human social behavior; the empirical assumptions, implicit or explicit, in the legislation; and some possible outcomes or effects of these legislative initiatives. Panelists have developed “fact” sheets that briefly capture key studies and findings as they inform our understanding of these initiatives and capture how sociological knowledge is useful and relevant to these policy considerations.

By design, the format of the “Contract” series seeks to engage meeting participants in discussion and debate. For each session in the series, “Fact Packets” will be available on-site in advance of the session (on a complimentary basis in ASA Paper Sales) and will include excerpts of legislation, an outline of key issues and questions, and the “fact” sheets. The sessions themselves will be conducted much like Congressional briefings or policy seminars, with considerable time being allotted for questions and exchange.

The sessions are scheduled sequentially over the first three days of the meeting. The series, organized...

Book Panels

These book sessions and traditional Author Meets Critics panels are designed to bring authors of recent books deemed to be important contributions to the discipline together with discussants selected to provide different viewpoints. Session formats vary from formal panel-style debates to informal roundtable conversations.

Session 126, Saturday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Royal Ballroom B
Organizer: Roderick Bush, Seton Hall University
Presider: James Geschwender, State University of New York, Binghamton
Book Author: Stephen Steinberg, Queens College, City University of New York
Critics: Carole Marks, University of Delaware
Stanford Lyman, Florida Atlantic University
Patricia Hill Collins, University of Cincinnati
Cedric Robinson, University of California, Santa Barbara

Author Meets Critics. Robert Connell's Masculinities
Session 148, Saturday, August 17, 12:30-2:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Verasailles Terrace
Organizer and Presider: Myra Marx Ferree, University of Connecticut
Book Author: Robert Connell, University of Sydney
Critics: Patricia Yancey Martin, Florida State University
Ronald Taylor, University of Connecticut
David Collinson, University of Warwick

Author Meets Critics. Demie Kurz's For Richer, For Poorer: Mothers Confront Divorce; and Terry Arendell's Fathers and Divorce
Session 174, Saturday, August 17, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy A
Organizer: Myra Marx Ferree, University of Connecticut
Presider: Ruth Sidle, Hunter College
Book Authors: Demie Kurz, University of Pennsylvania; and Terry Arendell, Colby College
Critics: Clifford Broman, Michigan State University
Scott Coltrane, University of California, Riverside
Jane Hood, University of New Mexico

Book Panel. The Democracy Movement in China in 1989
Session 223, Sunday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Royal Ballroom A
Organizer and Presider: Anthony R. Oberschall, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Book Author: Craig J. Calhoun, University of North Carolina
Critics: Jackie Smith, University of Notre Dame
Dingxin Zhao, University of Chicago
Craig J. Calhoun, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
The Struggle for Tiananmen: Anatomy of the 1989 Mass Movement
Book Author: Nan Lin, Duke University
Discussion: Anthony R. Oberschall, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Nan Lin, Duke University

Authors Meet Critics. Melvin Oliver and Thomas Shapiro's Black Wealth/White Wealth
Session 248, Sunday, August 18, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton South
Organizer and Presider: William A. Edwards, University of San Francisco
Book Authors: Melvin Oliver, University of California, Los Angeles; and Thomas Shapiro, Northeastern University
Critics: Bart Landry, University of Maryland, College Park
Robert Newby, Central Michigan University
Jill Quadagno, Florida State University

Session 270, Sunday, August 18, 4:30-6:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton Center
Organizer: Jevian T. Mortimer, University of Minnesota
Presider: Seymour Martin Lipset, George Mason University
Book Author: William J. Brustein, University of Minnesota
Critics: Helmut K. Anheier, Rutgers University
William A. Gamson, Boston College

Author Meets Critics. Charles F. Manski's Identification Problems in the Social Sciences
Session 318, Monday, August 19, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Royal Ballroom A
Organizer: Gary D. Sanderlur, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Presider: Ross M. Stolzenberg, University of Chicago
Book Author: Charles Manski, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Critics: Peter Marsden, Harvard University
Ross M. Stolzenberg, University of Chicago

Author Meets Critics. Seymour Martin Lipset's American Exceptionalism
Session 368, Monday, August 19, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton North
Organizer: Myra Marx Ferree, University of Connecticut
Presider: Marylee Taylor, Pennsylvania State University
Book Author: Seymour Martin Lipset, George Mason University
Critics: Claude Fischer, University of California, Berkeley
Ellen McDonagh, Northeastern University
John Lie, University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana

Four Sections have also organized Author Meets Critics sessions or Meet the Author roundtable discussions as part of their program activities.

Section on Environment and Technology. Refereed Roundtables and Business Meeting
Session 16, Friday, August 16, 8:30-9:30 a.m.
Sheraton New York, Imperial Ballroom B
Organizer: Eugene Rosa, Washington State University
1. Citizen Activism: Authors Meet Critics
Local Environmental Struggles: Citizen Activism in the Treadmill of Production. Kenneth A. Gould, St. Lawrence University; Allan Schnaiberg, Northwestern University; and Adam S. Weinberg, Colgate University
Discussion: Thomas Rudel, Rutgers University; and David N. Pellow, Northwestern University

Section on Political Sociology. David Croteau's Politics and the Class Divide; and William Form's Segmented Labor, Fractured Politics
Session 264, Sunday, August 18, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Royal Ballroom A
Organizer: Beth Mintz, University of Vermont
Presider: Judith Stepan-Norris, University of California, Irvine
Book Authors: David Croteau, Virginia Commonwealth University; and William Form, The Ohio State University
Critics: Rick Fantasia, Smith College
Ruth Milkman, University of California, Los Angeles
Pamela Roby, University of California, Santa Cruz

Section on Collective Behavior and Social Movements. Author Meets Critics: The CBSM Award for Distinguished Scholarship
Session 418, Tuesday, August 20, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy B
Organizer: Clark McPhail, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
Critics: Craig Jenkins, The Ohio State University
Award Recipient: Charles Tilly, New School for Social Research
Bert Klandermans, Free University, Amsterdam
Clark McPhail, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Section on Organizations, Occupations, and Work. Author Meets Critics: Winner of the Max Weber Prize
Session 449, Tuesday, August 20, 2:30-3:30 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton South
Organizer: Neil Fligstein, University of California, Berkeley
Presider: Daniel F. Chambliss, Hamilton College
Panel: Charles Perrow, Yale University
Richard R. Nelson, Columbia University School of International and Public Affairs

Fifth Annual Research Support Forum
Baldwin, Justus, and Torrey Address ASA

The fifth annual Research Support Forum on Saturday and Sunday, August 17-18, features research funding opportunities and discussion of federal science policy issues. The forum begins Saturday morning, with two sessions key to obtaining and developing sources of support for social science research. The first session is a professional workshop, "Opportunities for Federal Funding and the Development of Competitive Research Proposals." Representatives from leading science agencies will discuss available support, offer advice on how to best develop competitive research proposals, and outline the review and evaluation process. The second event is a major session on "Social Science as a Science Priority: Opportunities and Constraints." Wendy Baldwin (NIH), Joyce Justus (OSTP), and Barbara Boyle Torrey (NRC) have accepted invitations to attend.

A key part of this Research Support Forum is a three-hour poster session, "Opportunities for Research Support." This session includes thirty public and private funding officials who are available to talk individually with conference participants about funding priorities, application procedures, and other specific issues of concern. It is an important opportunity to obtain face-to-face advice and information. (See page 191 for details on poster participants.)

The Research Support Forum concludes on Sunday morning with a second three-hour poster session on "Data Resources." This session provides meeting participants with an opportunity to meet principal investigators, researchers, and managers of large-scale data sets that are publicly available for use. Each exhibit showcases at least one major data set of tremendous value for primary or secondary analysis. With more than two dozen data resources being featured (many with hands-on exhibits and Internet access), this event is an excellent way of learning about available data and their potential for a range of research and teaching uses. See page 199 for complete details.

Professional Workshop. Opportunities for Federal Funding: The Development of Competitive Research Proposals
Session 104, Saturday, August 17, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy B
Organizer: Felice J. Levine, American Sociological Association
Presider: Havidan Rodriguez, American Sociological Association
Panel: Ronald P. Abeles, National Institutes of Health
William Sims Bainbridge, National Science Foundation
Special Session. Social Science as a Science Priority: Opportunities and Constraints
Session 124, Saturday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton North
Organizer and Presider: Felice J. Levine, American Sociological Association

Wendy Baldwin, Deputy Director for Extramural Research, National Institutes of Health
Joyce Justus, Assistant Director for Social and Behavioral Science, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy
Barbara Boyle Torrey, Executive Director, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, National Research Council

Poster Session. Research Funding Opportunities
Session 169, Saturday, August 17, 1:00-4:00 p.m.
New York Hilton, Rhinelander Gallery
Organizers and Presidents: Felice J. Levine and Carol Anne Davis, American Sociological Association

Poster Session. Data Resources
Session 217, Sunday, August 18, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon
New York Hilton, Rhinelander Gallery
Organizers and Presidents: Felice J. Levine and Christopher J. Hickey, American Sociological Association

Special Sessions

Special Sessions feature invited paper presenters or panelists on topics that further investigate the meeting theme or focus attention on other timely and important issues. Please refer to the program schedule for complete details on these sessions.

New York Hilton, Sutton North
Organizer and Presider: Alice Abel Kemp, University of New Orleans

The Changing Social Context of AIDS
Session 406, Tuesday, August 20, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Murray Hill A
Organizer: Karen A. Cerulo, University of Chicago

Corporate Policies and Practices (co-sponsored by the ASA Spivack Program in Applied Social Research and Social Policy)
Session 407, Tuesday, August 20, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Murray Hill B
Organizer: Edward Kincaid, Florida International University

Distortion of Academic Knowledge
Session 411, Tuesday, August 20, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Regent Parlor
Organizer and Presider: Joachim J. Savelberg, University of Minnesota

Regular Sessions
Regular Sessions are comprised of papers submitted in response to the 1996 Call for Papers. Seventy-nine general topics were announced for open submission, and each Regular Session organizer received anywhere from 3 to 60 submissions for review. A total of 161 formal paper sessions were organized from the submitted papers. (Last year 147 sessions were formed from 89 announced topics.) Please refer to the Program Schedule for details on each Regular Session.
Didactic Seminars

Didactic seminars are designed to keep sociologists abreast of recent scholarly trends and developments. Experts considered to be at the forefront of a given field are invited by the Program Committee to conduct these sessions. There are five seminars this year.

Seminar speakers will present materials to explain specialized developments within their topic areas. Seminars are scheduled for two to four hours, except for the pre-meeting course co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research and the ASA Section on Methodology. Please see the listing below for session details and brief descriptions provided by the leaders.

Attendance at each Didactic Seminar is limited to 50 people, and prepaid registration is required. Fees are noted with each seminar listing below. All persons registering for seminars must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting. Attendees who preregistered should have received their tickets with their name badges when they picked up their program materials at the PreRegistration counters. Those who did not make advance reservations may check at the Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton for possible openings.

Hierarchical Linear Models (co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research and the ASA Section on Methodology)
Thursday, August 15, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon; 1:00-4:00 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Fee: $100 Methodology Section member, $60 students, $125 other
Ticket required for admission
Stephen Raudenbush, Michigan State University
Hierarchically structured data arise in many studies including cross-sectional surveys of respondents nested within families, schools, neighborhoods, or organizations; panel surveys where times series data are clustered within persons; experiments in which treatments are administered to intact clusters such as classrooms, therapy groups, hospitals or cities; and meta analyses in which subjects are nested within studies. Hierarchical linear models (HLM) provides a conceptual framework and a set of flexible analytical tools for approaching such data. The course will introduce the basic two-level model for continuous outcomes with extensions to discrete outcomes and more complex designs including longitudinal studies that aim to assess the effects of context on the trajectories of individual change. Topics to be covered include the general two-level model using ANOVA, group means, cotextual effects, ANCOVA and cross-level models, with applications to clustered data and repeated measures (growth curve analysis) data. These will be extended to three-level models, cross-classified random effect models (individuals in multiple groups or migrating across groups) and non-normal error (binary and count) models. Participants should have strong backgrounds in matrix algebra and regression analysis.

Recent Advances in Social Network Analysis
Session 103, Saturday, August 17, 8:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Fee: $20; ticket required for admissions
Stanley Wasserman, University of Illinois, Champaign
The seminar will present new methods in social network analysis from both the statistics and algebraic literatures. Topics included are new distributions for social networks, particularly for ego-centered networks, recently developed approaches to the study of centrality in networks, the modelling of complex networks across a variety of relations using a merger of statistical and algebraic ideas, and correspondence and canonical analysis of relational data. Emphasis will be on the application of formal and rigorous methods to the social phenomena and social problems studied by the social network paradigm. Abundant illustrations of the methods will be given.

It is recommended that seminar registrants read Chapters 1-4 of Social Network Analysis: Methods and Applications, by S. Wasserman and K. Faust (Cambridge University Press; 1994) as background prior to attending the seminar.

Electronic Resources: The Great American History Machine Session 176, Saturday, August 17, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Fee: $20; ticket required for admissions
Chad McDaniel, University of Maryland, College Park
Interpreting the Results of Models for Limited and Categorical Dependent Variables
Session 198, Sunday, August 18, 8:30-11:30 a.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Fee: $20; ticket required for admission
J. Scott Long, Indiana University, Bloomington
Models for limited and categorical dependent variables, such as logit, probit, tobit, and Poisson regression, are increasingly common in sociology. While advances in software have made it very simple to estimate models for limited and categorical dependent variables, interpreting the results of these models remains difficult due to the nonlinearity of the model. This seminar begins by considering the general objectives involved in interpreting the results of any regression type model and then considers why achieving these objectives is more difficult when models are nonlinear. A variety of methods of interpretation are presented that can be used. These methods are illustrated using real data analyzed with binary logit and probit, ordered logit and probit, multinomial logit, tobit, and Poisson regression. The seminar assumes familiarity with the linear regression model and at least a limited background in one or more of the other models.

Software for Qualitative Analysis
Session 295, Monday, August 19, 8:30-11:30 a.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Fee: $20; ticket required for admission
Sharlene Hesse-Biber, Boston College
Udo Kelle, University of Bremen
This didactic seminar is for qualitative researchers who wish to use computer software to analyze textual data (e.g., case records, newspaper articles, fieldnotes, transcripts of interviews or focus group discussions), pictures, graphics or audio and video tapes. We will briefly explore the history of computer-assisted software programs in the social sciences. We will describe the range of computer software programs on the market today and will compare and contrast some of the most important programs. We will discuss the factors you should consider in selecting a software program. We will analyze the key methodological and theoretical issues involved in using computer-assisted software programs for qualitative data analysis. We will provide an in-depth demonstration of HyperRESEARCH—a software program for analyzing qualitative data (text, audio tapes, and video tapes).

Professional Workshops

The 18 Professional Workshops on this year’s program roster provide opportunities for attendees to update their knowledge and skills in a variety of professional areas. These workshops are open to all meeting registrants.
Representatives from leading science agencies will discuss available support and current research opportunities for social and behavioral science. Panelists will describe new and continuing initiatives; offer basic principles and tips for developing competitive research proposals; and highlight application procedures, the review process, evaluation criteria, and other key parts of proposal submission and consideration.

Internet and the World Wide Web (co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research)
Session 105, Saturday, August 17, 8:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizer: Richard C. Rockwell, ICPSR
Panel: Richard C. Rockwell, ICPSR
  Peter M. Joffis, ICPSR
  Gregory Haley, Columbia University

The purpose of this workshop is to provide an overview of the organization of the Internet, the hardware and software necessary for accessing its resources, and several services useful for sociological research. Participants who are new to the Internet should come away with an appreciation of the breadth of information available, and with the practical knowledge to begin exploring it.

First, Mr. Rockwell will briefly discuss the ways in which the computer/Internet revolution is changing behavioral and social science research. Next, Mr. Joffis will provide an introduction to navigating the Internet. Lastly, Mr. Haley will concentrate on sociological resources available over the Internet. The presentation will be a mixture of lecture, computer simulation, and live demonstration. Whenever possible, interaction between the speakers and participants will be encouraged.

Skill-Building for New PhDs: Planning Your Job Market Year
Session 127, Saturday, August 17, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton Center
Organizer: David John Frank, Harvard University
Panel: Penny Edgell Becker, Cornell University
  David John Frank, Harvard University
  Townsand Price-Spratlen, The Ohio State University

The panelists, all recent PhDs, will recount their experiences on the job market and address several substantive issues, such as when to go on the market, how to prepare your c.v. and job talk, and what to negotiate once you have an offer. Questions will be encouraged.

Negotiating the Sociological Job Market (co-sponsored by the ASA Committee on Employment)
Session 150, Saturday, August 17, 12:30-2:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizer: Jennifer Woolwich, M-Care-University of Michigan Managed Care Network
Panel: Steve Buff, Peace Corps
  Christine Heye, Nickelodean Cable Channel
  Mary Jo Nolin, Westat, Inc.
  Diane Phillips, Fashion Institute of Technology
  Mark Berends, RAND

Sociologists employed in the federal government, contract research organizations, and private corporations will provide practical information on skills that are in demand, how best to market oneself, and avenues of networking, such as on-line listings and who to contact.

Research Topics in the Sociology of Mental Health (co-sponsored by the ASA Minority Affairs Program)
Session 177, Saturday, August 17, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Clinton
Organizer: Havidan Rodriguez, American Sociological Association
Panel: Judith D. Auerbach, National Institutes of Health
  David Mechanic, Rutgers University

The aim of this workshop is to expose participants to cutting edge research in the sociology of mental health. Representatives from the Office of AIDS Research at the National Institutes of Health and from the Institute for Health, Health Care Policy, and Aging Research at Rutgers University will provide participants with information on state of the art research in the areas of AIDS, health care policy, aging, and mental health. The panelists will also focus on future trajectories and opportunities for research and training in these areas.
The New ASA Code of Professional Ethics
Session 198, Sunday, August 18, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy A
Organizers: John M. Kennedy, Indiana University, Bloomington; Sue Hoppe, University of Texas, San Antonio; and Cynthia Costello, American Sociological Association
Presider: Sue Hoppe, University of Texas, San Antonio
Panel: ASA President-Elect Neil J. Smelser, Center for Advanced Study in the Social and Behavioral Sciences
ASA Vice President-Elect Charles V. Willie, John M. Kennedy, Indiana University, Bloomington
Eleanor M. Miller, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee
The co-chairs of the ASA Committee on Professional Ethics, joined by several ASA Officers, members of COPE, and ASA staff, will lead a workshop on the draft of the revised Code of Ethics for the American Sociological Association. A draft of the new ASA Code of Ethics will be widely circulated and distributed prior to the Annual Meeting; copies are also available at the ASA Information counter on the second floor Promenade in the New York Hilton. This workshop will provide an opportunity to discuss the key issues that have informed the revision of the Code and to solicit feedback and input from ASA members on the content of the revision.

Websites and Discussion Groups for Sections and Other Sociological Interest Groups
Session 224, Sunday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizers: Barry Wellman, University of Toronto; and John M. Kennedy, Indiana University, Bloomington
This workshop discusses the place of web sites and online discussion groups in the context of better serving sociologists. Practical instruction will be given in how to set up a web page and how to run an online discussion group.

Tracking America: A Demonstration of the General Social Survey Data and Information Retrieval System (GSSDIR)
Session 250, Sunday, August 18, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Tom W. Smith, University of Chicago
GSSDIRS was jointly developed by the National Opinion Research Center and the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research. It uses the World Wide Web to provide users with unparalleled access to GSS data and documentation. It is possible to conduct data analysis, download project reports, and peruse a bibliography with about 4,000 GSS uses.

Bridging the Academic/Business Divide
Session 251, Sunday, August 18, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Gibson
Organizer: Cynthia B. Costello, American Sociological Association
Presider: Chris Wright-Isak, Young and Rubicam New York
Panel: Steve Collesano, American International Group
David Prensky, Trenton State College
Joan Waring, Equitable
David Woodrow, Standard and Poor's
Five sociologists whose careers are in business and academic marketing offer insights from their experience and encourage discussion and participation by session attendees. The subjects include job descriptions, role expectations, and the value of sociology in business as well as the relevance of business research for academic sociology.

"Surfing the Net" : How to Do So Efficiently for Research
Session 271, Sunday, August 18, 4:30-6:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizer: Russell K. Schutt, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Panel: Will Alexander, University of Minnesota and Minnesota State Department of Corrections
Dean Savage, Queens College, City University of New York
The goal of this workshop is to improve sociologists’ use of the Internet for research and teaching about research. We will describe the organization and functions of the Internet and the World Wide Web and review essential terms and techniques. We will focus on five ways in which use of the Internet can aid research: searching the literature, communicating with other researchers, obtaining empirical datasets, finding critical facts, and studying the Internet itself. We will also discuss the implications of Internet usage for the process and practice of research in academic and applied settings.

National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health: How to Use the Data
Session 296, Monday, August 19, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Murray Hill A
Organizer: J. Richard Udry, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Panel: J. Richard Udry, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Peter S. Bearman, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Karl E. Bauman, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
The panel will provide an overall description of the National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health (Add Health), including the research design and questionnaire content, and schedule for and conditions of public use. Panel members will then lead simultaneous small group discussions exploring individual interests and examining questionnaires with participants. Those planning to attend the workshop should have contracted the organizer (udry@unc.edu) to reserve questionnaire materials.

Consulting in Organizations
Session 319, Monday, August 19, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Organizer: Donald Palmer, University of California, Davis
Panel: William T. Biely, University of California, Santa Barbara
Ronald S. Burt, University of Chicago
Charles Fombrun, New York University
Donald Palmer, University of California, Davis
Annie Shlay, Temple University
This workshop is intended for sociologists interested in working as consultants in or for organizations. It will consider practical problems related to identifying consulting opportunities, obtaining consulting work, performing effectively as a consultant, and managing the client-consultant relationship—while at the same time retaining one’s personal, professional and intellectual integrity.

The Development of Education Standards for Applied and Clinical Programs (co-sponsored by the Society for Applied Sociology, the Sociological Practice Association, and the ASA Section on Sociological Practice)
Session 343, Monday, August 19, 12:30-2:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Royal Ballroom B
Organizers: Joyce lutcovich, Society for Applied Sociology and Keystone University Research Corporation; David Kallen, Sociological Practice Association and Michigan State University; and Stephen Steele, ASA Section on Sociological Practice and Applied Data Associates
Panel: Harry Peristadt, Michigan State University and Chair, Commission on Applied and Clinical Sociology
Dora Ludwick, Miami University and Co-Chair, Task Force on Accreditation Standards
Linda Weber, State University of New York, Utica, and Co-Chair, Task Force on Accreditation Process
Panelists will first present an overview that will include a brief history, mission, and task force structure of the Commission on Applied and Clinical Sociology. In addition, the progress of the two Commission’s task forces will be reported—the Task Force on Accreditation Standards and the Task Force on Accreditation Process. The audience will then be asked to break into work groups that can individually assess the content of the task force reports, then provide feedback and recommendations. that will be used by the Commission in its development of an accreditation system for undergraduate applied and clinical programs.

The Sociology GRE: Format Changes and Future Directions
Session 369, Monday, August 19, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Sutton Center
Organizer: Richard Hall, State University of New York, Albany
Panel: Richard Hall, State University of New York, Albany
Phyllis Teitelbaum, Educational Testing Service
Panelists will discuss recent changes in the format of the Sociology GRE. The most important change is the development of questions which test sociological reasoning by using excerpts from recent journal articles and books. Information about the predictive validity of the test will be discussed. Future developments, such as additional new formats and computerization, will also be considered.

ASA Chair Conference

The ASA Academic and Professional Affairs Program is convening the Third Annual ASA Chair Conference. The conference is designed for new and current chairs at all types of institutions. The conference provides “briefings” on issues of critical importance for departmental leadership. Panels and informal conversation will facilitate chairs sharing information and advice. As always, chairs will meet in groups with chairs from similar institutions to discuss common issues. The ASA Research Program on the Discipline and Profession will present data on faculty salaries and workload issues.

The conference begins in the Murray Hill B room at the New York Hilton on Thursday, August 15, at 1:00 p.m. and concludes at 2:15 p.m. on Friday, August 16. The major briefing sessions will focus on Preparing Your Department for a Program Review, Evaluating Faculty Work and Promotion Tenure, Effective Chair Leadership in Times of Retrenchment, Faculty Salaries and Working Conditions: Trends in Sociology and Other Social and Behavioral Sciences, and the Articulation among Sociology Degrees.

Preregistration and fee payment are required. Fees for the Chair Conference are $65 for chairs from Department Affiliates; $80 for chairs from non-affiliate departments. The registration fee includes all conference materials, coffee breaks, dessert on Thursday night, and breakfast and lunch on Friday.

Preregistered attendees should have received their tickets with their name badges when they picked up program materials at ASA. Those who did not preregister may check at the ASA Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton for possible openings.

Special Events for Directors of Graduate Study

ASA’s Academic and Professional Affairs Program and Committee on Graduate Education recognize the important role of Directors of Graduate Study (DGS) in the lives of students and for strong sociology graduate programs. In partnership with the Department Chair, the DGS is an important leader in shaping department policies and opportunities for an effective graduate program. Therefore, ASA has planned a series of events to encourage interchange among sociologists in the DGS role.

On Friday, August 16, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. there will be events pertinent to graduate studies. Session topics include preparing graduate students to teach, models for placement of graduate students, and articulation among sociology degrees.

Fees are $25 for Directors of Graduate Study from Department Affiliates; $35 for non-affiliate Directors of Graduate Study. Preregistered attendees should have received their tickets with their name badges when they picked up program materials at ASA. Those who did not preregister may check at the ASA Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton for possible openings.

Graduate Education Forum

The ASA Academic and Professional Affairs Program is sponsoring a day’s Focus on Graduate Education. At every session slot on Sunday, August 18, there is a workshop or event focusing on Graduate Education. There are no additional fees or preregistration. Just join in!

8:30-10:15 a.m. Teaching Workshop. Effective Strategies for Preparing and Using Teaching Assistants
New York Hilton, Green Room

10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m. Teaching Workshop. Graduate Education: Effective MA Programs
New York Hilton, Green Room

2:30-4:15 p.m. Poster Session: Graduate Programs in Sociology
New York Hilton, Rhinelander Gallery
Departments will display information about their programs. This session is intended for undergraduate students and their advisors, MA students, and anyone interested in the special features of graduate programs. Poster space must be reserved in advance; contact Kate Linnenberg at apap@asanet.org or 202-833-3410, x318, for details.

4:30-6:15 p.m. Teaching Workshop. Graduate Education: Professional Socialization of Graduate Students
New York Hilton, Gibson

6:30-8:00 p.m. Student Reception
New York Hilton, West Ballroom
All students are invited to a reception in their honor.

9:30 p.m. Departmental Alumni Night
Sheraton New York Hilton, Imperial Ballroom
Teaching Workshops

Teaching Workshops are a popular part of each Annual Meeting program. These sessions provide opportunities for attendees to enhance their teaching skills and discover ways to integrate new material into their courses. Teaching workshops emphasize interaction between leaders and audience, and attendees are encouraged to bring questions or problems for discussion and new ideas to enliven classroom activities. Workshops are open to all meeting registrants.

Preparing Graduate Students to Teach: Pragmatics, Poetics, and Politics of Training
Session 6, Friday, August 16, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy B
Jodi O’Brien, Seattle University
William G. Roy, University of California, Los Angeles
Panel Judy Howard, University of Washington
Karyn Loscocco, University at Albany
Brian Powell, Indiana University
Jill Stein, University of California, Los Angeles

This workshop is intended for those who conduct or plan to develop graduate teaching programs. The goals of this workshop are to: (1) present a case for the relevance of Graduate Teaching Seminars in the current political, economic, and intellectual context of the discipline; (2) present information on types of programs in various sociology departments; and (3) provide participants with ideas and materials for beginning and maintaining Graduate Teaching programs in their own departments. Panelists will discuss various issues and strategies for the design, implementation, and maintenance of Graduate Teaching Seminars. They will also provide sample syllabi and related materials.

Graduate Education: Models of Placement for Graduate Students
Session 22, Friday, August 16, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy B
Maureen Kelleher, Northeastern University
Gordana Rabrenovic, Northeastern University

This workshop will have a two-fold agenda. First, the co-leaders will facilitate a discussion of a general assessment of the state of graduate placement framed by the results of a report presented to the ASA’s Ad Hoc Committee on Graduate Education. They will discuss core placement activities, the shifting placement environment, moving beyond core activities, and how departments should address placement issues. Second, the co-leaders will facilitate a discussion that targets the particular needs of individual departments and participants at the workshop. This part of the workshop will emphasize available resources and networking techniques useful for individual participants and department representatives in finding jobs.

Teaching about Social Change
Session 23, Friday, August 16, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Clinton
Steven Vago, St. Louis University
Kay Snyder, Indiana University of Pennsylvania

The objective of this workshop is to help instructors develop materials and pedagogical methods for teaching about social change. The session will emphasize integrating course content with format and course objectives, identifying ways of involving students with change-related projects, using audiovisuals and computer technologies, stimulating student interest in social change, translating theoretical issues into practical applications, and designing classroom exercises to illustrate social change issues. Participants are asked to bring course syllabi and assignment guidelines.

Teaching Critical Thinking in Sociology
Session 41, Friday, August 16, 12:30-2:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Louis E. Anderson, Kankakee Community College
Dean Dorn, California State University, Sacramento

This workshop builds on previous presentations focused on teaching social problems through a critical thinking approach. The presenters will demonstrate the applications of critical thinking frames to statements about social issues. The session will develop examples of how to adapt critical thinking approaches to deal with different source materials. The session will consider the connection between critical reading and critical thinking. Participants will receive handouts used to implement the techniques discussed.

Teaching about and Responding to Hate Crimes on Campus
Session 61, Friday, August 16, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Marcia Teixer Segal, Indiana University Southeast
Claire M. Renzetti, St. Joseph’s University

The workshop will feature brief presentations/demonstrations of curricular and co-curricular approaches to dealing with hate and bias on campus with ample opportunity for discussion and contributions from those attending. Handouts will be available. Presenters will include Carol Brooks Gardner (Indiana University/Purdue University-Indianapolis), Jane Hood (University of New Mexico), Chrys Ingraham and Toni Blackwell (Russell Sage College), Gart Spencer (Syracuse University), and Lori Sudderth (Albion College).

Telescourses and Distance Learning in Sociology
Session 83, Friday, August 16, 4:30-6:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Susan Stall, Northeastern Illinois University
Stephen F. Steele, Anne Arundel Community College

The goals for this workshop are to help instructors who are teaching telecourses and other distance learning courses (interactive television, etc.) in sociology to consider relevant pedagogic issues and to begin to prepare a syllabus and course materials. Topics will include course materials and pedagogical methods for teaching about social change. The session will emphasize integrating course content, the syllabus, and supporting materials as well as a variety of alternative strategies for connecting students to the distance learning process. Participants should have the fundamentals for constructing their own distance learning courses at the workshop's close.

Teaching Social Psychology Courses
Session 200, Sunday, August 18, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Green Room
Diane E. Taub, Southern Illinois University
Michael Fraleigh, Bryant College

This workshop will focus on teaching social psychology courses within a sociological context. The interdisciplinary nature of social psychology and its implications for choosing textbooks and course readings will be addressed. Also discussed will be instructional materials such as syllabi, exercises, and assignments. Handouts, including materials from the ASA Teaching Resources Center, will be provided.

Effective Strategies for Preparing and Using Teaching Assistants
Session 201, Sunday, August 18, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Green Room
Organizer and Presider: Carla B. Howery, American Sociological Association
Panel: Mark Ellis, Northwestern University
Judith Howard, University of Washington
Carla B. Howery, American Sociological Association
Kim Mahaffy, University of New Hampshire
Teresa A. Sullivan, University of Texas, Austin
Tom Van Valey, Western Michigan University
Scott Desmond, Bowling Green State University

This panel will describe some of the programs in place within sociology departments and linking sociology departments to campus teaching centers to illustrate the importance of discipline-based partnerships. The important roles of the university administration and the national disciplinary associations will be explicated as well.
Graduate Education: Effective MA Programs
Session 225, Sunday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Green Room
Organizers: Carla B. Howery and Kate Linnenberg, American Sociological Association
Presider: Kate Linnenberg, American Sociological Association
Panel: Karen Hanson, Allyn & Bacon
Diana Kendall, Austin Community College
John Macianis, Kenyon College
Elizabeth Markson, Boston University
Alan McClare, Addison Wesley Longman
Steve Rutter, Pine Forge Press
Soyt Senn, Indiana University, South Bend
Henry Tischler, Framingham State College
What do authors (or publishers) think about the field of sociology before putting together a book? What are their visions of sociology and what considerations do they have when including or excluding material? Because introductory sociology may be the only sociology course many students take, how do these written materials present our field?

Teaching Medical Sociology
Session 320, Monday, August 19, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Sheraton New York, Riverside Ballroom
Anne Figert, Loyola University of Chicago
Gregory Weiss, Roanoke College
The goal of this workshop is to facilitate the sharing of ideas about successful and unsuccessful strategies for effectively teaching courses in medical sociology and incorporating medical sociology content into other courses. The session will focus on the use of textbooks and ancillary reading materials, films and documentaries, computer exercises,
Open Refereed Roundtables

The 1996 Program Committee has continued this open roundtable component which was added to the general program two years ago. Sophia Catsambis (Queens College, City University of New York) was invited to review submissions and organize sessions of 6-10 roundtables using a "mini-session" format: a general topic identified for each table, two to four paper presentations, and a table presider to coordinate presentations and discussion.

Six Open Refereed Roundtable Sessions are included on this year's program; details are in the Program Schedule.

Sociological Theory, and Interpretive Sociology
Session 64, Friday, August 16, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, West Ballroom

Gender Studies, Race and Ethnicity, and Disability
Session 17B, Saturday, August 17, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Rendezvous Trianon

The Welfare State, Social Policy, and Inequality; Cross-National and International Studies; and Technology, Ecology, and Law
Session 202, Sunday, August 18, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Murray Hill A

Occupational and Labor Studies, and Organizational Studies
Session 323, Monday, August 19, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Trianon Ballroom

Neighborhood, Community, and Culture; and Education Studies
Session 345, Monday, August 19, 12:30-2:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Rendezvous Trianon

Crime and Deviance, and HIV/AIDS Studies
Session 407, Tuesday, August 19, 8:30-10:15 a.m.
New York Hilton, Murray Hill A

Introductory Sociology Featured

This year, in coordination with ASA's Academic and Professional Affairs Program, a set of teaching-related sessions focuses on the teaching of Introductory Sociology. At every session slot on Monday, August 19, there is a workshop, panel, or other event on Introductory Sociology. What course is more important to our discipline than the introductory course? And what course is more challenging to teach? Whether you are a new or seasoned faculty member, you will benefit from the events on Monday, August 19, focusing on Introductory Sociology.

The day begins with a panel on How Sociology is Portrayed in Introductory Textbooks: Views from Authors and Publishers. In order to write (or publish) an introductory sociology textbook, reader, or other materials, an author must conceptualize the field, make choices, and develop or find examples, photos, or ways of expressing basic concepts in the field. How do these authors think about sociology as they portray it to students with little or no exposure? What are the important goals of introductory sociology for students?

The second session focuses on Innovative Ideas for Teaching Introductory Sociology. Poster sessions, roundtables, and other means will be used to share what works in the introductory sociology classroom.

Computer applications are a special kind of pedagogy. Josefin Card (Sociometrics, Inc.) will lead a demonstration session of software use and relevant to the introductory course.

In the afternoon, the popular teaching workshop on "Teaching Introductory Sociology for the First Time" features strategies for making the first teaching experience something other than a trial by fire. Veteran introductory sociology faculty and enthusiasts—Brent Bruton (Iowa State University) and Jerry Lewis (Kent State University)—will lead the session which will empower and prepare uninitiated teachers to teach the first course.

More and more introductory sociology courses include hands-on "doing sociology." Meg Wilkes Karraker, University of St. Thomas, has organized a set of demonstrations and presentations on research projects, community projects, critical thinking and skill building exercises pertinent to the introductory student.

The ASA Exhibits also feature book and software displays relevant to this focus on introductory sociology. Be sure to pencil in a time to look at all they offer to enhance this most important foundational course.

How Sociology Is Portrayed in Introductory Textbooks: Views from Authors and Publishers
Session 298, Monday, August 16, 8:30-10:15 a.m.

New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizer: Meg Wilkes Karraker, University of St. Thomas

Internet Action

In response to member interest, a variety of Internet-related sessions are included on the 1996 program. There are workshops to assist both novice and veteran Internet users in locating and utilizing resources pertinent to sociological work, as well as information on Home Page creation and management. Several paper sessions present research on the impacts of electronic communication and access. Sessions are highlighted below; refer to the Program Schedule for details.

Regular Session. The Internet and Social Change: Internet(Net)actions
Session 31, Friday, August 16, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy A
Organizer: Carl H.A. Dassbach, Michigan Technological University

Regular Session. The Internet and Social Change: Uses of the Internet
Session 72, Friday, August 16, 2:30-4:15 p.m.
New York Hilton, Gramercy A
Organizer: Carl H.A. Dassbach, Michigan Technological University

Professional Workshop. Internet and the World Wide Web (co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research)
Session 105, Friday, August 16, 8:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Organizer: Earl Babbie, Chapman University
Informal Discussion Roundtables

This popular program component is designed to bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. The 1996 Program Committee invited Ann Marie Ellis, Douglas Forbes, and Alvin P. Short (Southwest Texas State University) to review proposals and coordinate topics and discussion leaders.

Seven informal discussion sessions have been organized around general topics. Please refer to the Program Schedule for complete details on these sessions. Since discussions are held simultaneously in one large meeting room, no audio-visual equipment or recording devices may be used.

Research Poster Sessions

This program component features a series of display presentations that allow face-to-face conversation between authors and viewers. By facilitating informal discussions between presenters and "browsers," Poster Sessions provide a more direct forum for information exchange than do formal paper presentations.

The 1996 Program Committee invited Dale Blyth (Search Institute, Minneapolis) to review papers and select poster presentations. Six sessions have been arranged from the open submissions. These display presentations will be located in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton, near ASA Registration and Services. Be sure to include some time in your schedule to visit this year’s poster displays.

Family, Gender, and Health
Session 62, Friday, August 16, 2:30-4:15 p.m.

Research on Children and Youth
Session 63, Friday, August 16, 2:30-4:15 p.m.

International Research Studies
Session 106, Saturday, August 17, 8:30-10:15 a.m.

Social Psychological Research and Applied Approaches to Teaching Sociology
Session 372, Monday, August 19, 2:30-4:15 p.m.

Student Activities

The ASA welcomes the attendance of undergraduate and graduate students at the Annual Meeting. Special arrangements for students include discounted registration fees, special housing blocks, sessions sponsored by the ASA Honors Program and the Honors Program Student Association, and space for an informal Student Center.

Student Center. All students attending the Annual Meeting are welcome to use this small hospitality room. The Student Center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Friday through Monday, August 16-19, and 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 20, to provide a place for students to meet, make dinner arrangements, caucus, etc. Some coffee will be provided by ASA each morning.

Student Discounts. Registration fees are substantially discounted for students, and students were encouraged to pre-register before June 20 to take advantage of the lowest fees. Special blocks of hotel rooms were also arranged. Valid student IDs may be required at check-in to verify eligibility for student rates.

Student Reception. All students registered to attend the Annual Meeting are invited to a special student reception on Sunday, August 18, at 6:30 p.m., in the West Ballroom at the New York Hilton.

Student Sessions. Several student sessions have been organized by the ASA Honors Program and Honors Program Student Association, and some workshops are oriented toward issues of interest to students. See sessions 3, 125, 152, 163, 228, 272, and 348 in the Program Schedule for details.
Section Activities

ASA members with interests in specialized areas of sociological inquiry may join any of the 36 active Sections of the Association. These Sections promote ongoing communication among their members by publishing newsletters, supporting cooperative research ventures, recognizing outstanding work by professionals and students in their specialities, and sponsoring program activities at each Annual Meeting.

Section activities at the Annual Meeting are interspersed throughout the five-day schedule and are open to all meeting attendees. The number of sessions allocated to each Section is based on the size of the Section. For the 36 active sessions and one section-information, there are a total of 147 sessions/meetings scheduled. There are also two organizational meetings scheduled for groups interested in forming new sections, one on Sexualities and the other on History of Sociology; see “Activities of Other Groups” for details.

Section activities are summarized below for quick reference. Meeting days are Friday, August 16; Saturday, August 17; Sun-day, August 18; Monday, August 19; and Tuesday, August 20.

New York Tours

Enrich your visit to New York by participating in at least one, or perhaps several, of the special tours developed for the 1996 Annual Meeting. Tours are a vital segment of the Annual Meeting Program, enjoyed by meeting attendees and their guests. The opportunity to view local attractions through a sociological lens is one not widely available, so it is with much pride and enthusiasm that we present our 12th year of tour programming.

This year's tours cover a wide variety of subjects and illustrate the diversity and rich history which make New York the vibrant city that it is. Enjoy walking tours led by area sociologists, while discovering the old and new ethnic neighborhoods, rich in tradition and culture. Examine the world's largest collection of costumes, textiles, and accessories of dress. View a complex urban entertainment zone through the eyes of two ethnographers. Hear from a community action group about current projects including residential, commercial, and industrial sectors. Discover one of the finest and most comprehensive collections of Indian cultural materials in the world. Explore the oldest excavated African cemetery within any urban setting of the United States. Acquaint yourself with the history and the buildings of the Lincoln Center. Participate in discussions on key organizational and structural changes at a leading academic medical center in New York City.

The schedule of tours is provided below. Reservations are mandatory. Those already enrolled in tours should have received their tickets with their name badges. Many tours are sold out, but attendees who wish to join a tour may check at the ASA Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton for availability and any late cancellations.

Most tour sites are accessible to persons with disabilities; however, tours are generally not accessible to attendees in wheelchairs unless alternative transportation is arranged in advance. Attendees may make such arrangements on their own or contact the ASA Office in the Bryant Room at the New York Hilton for assistance.

Fees are noted with the descriptions below and include all entrance fees. All fees go toward tour handling, entrance fees, and group transportation costs. Tour fees are non-refundable. Some of the tours stop at local restaurants for lunch and this cost is generally not included in the tour fee. Please read the tour descriptions carefully for clarification.

Transportation costs are covered by tour fees, and the type of transportation involved is noted with each tour description. Attendees who opt to use an alternate mode of transportation, e.g., taking a cab instead of walking or using the subway, will be completely responsible for the cost of that transportation.

Limits on tour attendance are noted with the descriptions below.

All groups will depart from the 53rd Street entrance to the New York Hilton. Orientation rooms for Tours 7 and 11 are noted with the descriptions below. Attendees are asked to meet in the orientation room or the designated tour area in the lobby corridor on the 53rd Street side of the hotel. Please arrive promptly so that departure times may be observed. Keep in mind that the arrival times back to the hotel are estimates only and may vary somewhat due to traffic congestion.

Tour 1: Tenement House and Walking Tour of the Lower East Side
Friday, August 16, 9:15 a.m.-12:45 p.m.
Fee: $15.00
Tour Leader: Tenement House Museum historian
Take a guided tour of a 19th century tenement, at 97 Orchard Street, home to immigrants from over 20 nations. Meet Nathalie Gumpertz, a German Jewish seamstress in the 1870's and Adolfo and Rosaria Baldizzi, Italian Catholic immigrants, battling the Great Depression. Examine an unrestored apartment, full of the spirits of former residents, owners, and shopkeepers. Follow the Tenement House Museum's historian guide through historic apartments and then out onto the history-filled streets for a 45-minute walking tour around the neighborhood entitled, "The Streets Where We Lived: A Multi-Ethnic Heritage Tour." Discover how different immigrant groups shaped the Lower East Side from 17th century Dutch and Africans to today's Asian and Latino settlers. The tour will include parts of Chinatown, Little Italy, and the Jewish Lower East Side.

Visit the Museum's Gallery featuring a slide show on 97 Orchard Street in the context of Lower East Side history; a Discovery Case of objects uncovered during restoration; depression era photographs; as well as the Urban Log Cabin: A Tenement Dollhouse depicting changes between 1870 and 1915.

Subway transportation and museum entrance fee are included in the tour fee. (One hour limited walking tour and one hour museum viewing—limited to 60 participants)

Tour 2: Costume Collection at the Fashion Institute
Friday, August 16, 9:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Fee: $5.00
Tour Leader: Ruth P. Rubinstein, Fashion Institute of Technology
The Museum at the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT) is the repository of the world's largest collection of costumes, textiles, and accessories of dress. The museum attracts thousands of students, designers, researchers, fashion writers and historians who come to study its singular collection of apparel dating from the 18th century with a strong emphasis on the 20th century. Its extraordinary textile collections include 30,000 textiles dating from the 18th through 20th centuries, 250,000 indexed textile swatches, and 1,300 sample books from all over the world.

The museum's galleries provide a unique showcase for a wide spectrum of exhibitions relevant to fashion and its satellite industries. The museum draws upon its extensive collections for exhibitions, develops special projects with outside institutions, and presents traveling exhibitions. The exhibitions are selected to appeal to the 25 career majors offered at FIT. They explore both the art and design as well as the business and technology of fashion, interior design, toy design, and related industries. Not only the making of the products but also how they are marketed is of interest, as well as how they both affect and reflect the society in which they exist.

The Museum at the Fashion Institute of Technology is accessible to persons with disabilities. Subway transportation is included in the tour fee. (Two hour walking tour—limited to 25 participants)

Tour 3: The Changing Social Ecology of Times Square
Friday, August 16, 9:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Fee: $2.00
Tour Leaders: William Kornblum, Graduate School, City University of New York; and Robert P. McNamara, Furman University

This excursion is a walking tour through Times Square with two ethnographers who have conducted a variety of studies of the social ecology of this complex urban entertainment zone. The tour will conclude at lunchtime, and tour organizers will accompany those who are interested in lunch in the Times Square area. Lunch is not included in tour price nor tour ending time. (Two hour walking tour with an optional stop for lunch—limited to 20 participants)

Tour 4: The South Bronx and Banana Kelly Community Organization
Friday, August 16, 10:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.
Fee: $15.00
Tour Leaders: Yolanda Riveria, Joe Hall, and Marianne Cocchini, Banana Kelly Community Improvement Association

In 1977, 30 residents gathered to stop the demolition of their homes along Kelly Street, a crescent-shaped block in the heart of the Longwood/Hunts Point neighborhood of the South Bronx. Without any support or even tools, money, or title to the property, they succeeded in rehabilitating the buildings and in creating 21 units of high-quality affordable housing. These original activists formed the Banana Kelly Community Improvement Association to continue the work that they had started.

Banana Kelly has many achievements to date, some of which include raising or leveraging over $100 million of investment in Longwood/Hunts Point, rehabilitating 2,000 units of affordable housing, and providing 1,500 families with service referral and housing advocacy. Banana Kelly has been a leader in youth job training and is about to embark on a New Visions high school.

This tour will showcase various aspects of South Bronx communities, including the residential, commercial, and industrial sectors. The tour will be chaperoned by Banana Kelly staff, including Yolanda Riveria, the Chairperson and CEO, and partners in other South Bronx organizations. The tour will conclude with lunch at a local restaurant, Hortensia's, affiliated with Banana Kelly, which features Latin cuisine; lunch costs are included in the tour fee. In addition, there will be an informal roundtable discussion on the state of U.S. cities and the work in the South Bronx. (Bus excursion with 1.5 hours of limited walking and 1.5 hours of informal luncheon roundtable discussion—limited to 30 participants)

Tour 5: Museum of the Chinese in the Americas
Saturday, August 17, 9:00 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Fee: $15.00
Tour Leader: Vernon Takeshita for the Museum of the Chinese in the Americas; accompanied by Jan C. Lin, Amherst College

New York's dynamic Chinatown is both a first-generation immigrant community and an ethnic enclave whose history stretches back to the 19th century. Its history was shaped by its connections to its immigrant neighbors, by discriminatory immigration laws and by the demands and efforts of the immigrants and their children. As a vital part of Asian American history, this community continues its traditions of labor struggles, political activism, and cultural experimentation. This 1.5 hour tour will provide an overview of historical issues affecting the community and the challenges affecting those who live in Chinatown today.

Visit the Museum of the Chinese in the Americas' permanent exhibit that weaves artists' creations and historical interpretation with original documentation and personal and domestic artifacts to fully explore the Chinese American experience. The new gallery, designed by Billie Tsien, is divided into sections dealing with migrations, women, faith, youth, and home.

Subway transportation and museum entrance fee are included in the tour fee. (Half hour museum viewing and 1.5 hour walking tour—limited to 25 participants)

Tour 6: The Smithsonian Institution’s National Museum of the American Indian Sunday, August 18, 1:45-5:45 p.m.
Fee: $5.00
Coordinator: Barry Schwartz, University of Georgia
Discussion Leader: Joane Nagel, University of Kansas

The Smithsonian Institution’s National Museum of the American Indian contains one of the finest and most comprehensive collections of Indian cultural materials in the world. The collections comprise approximately one million objects, from areas ranging from the Arctic to Tierra del Fuego. There are collections from all major culture areas of the Americas, for virtually all tribes of the United States, most of those of Canada, and important tribal representations from Middle and South America as well as the Caribbean.

The Museum's current three exhibits are “Creation’s Journey: Masterworks of Native American Identity and Belief,” “All Roads are Good: Native Voices on Life and Culture,” and “This Path We Travel: Celebrations of Contemporary Native American Creativity.” Museums have often presented Native American materials from non-native perspectives, describing them in the words of art historians or anthropologists. These exhibits add seldom-heard voices to the discussion—those of Native-Americans, past and present.

Joane Nagel, University of Kansas, will start the tour with a 20-minute discussion titled, “The American Indian: Sociological Issues in Culture and Identity.” The group will go on a one hour tour of one of the Museum’s three exhibits with cultural interpreter from the Museum, and time is provided to visit the other two exhibits at leisure. Visitors may also go to the Resource Center to learn how to gain access to the Museum’s vast holdings.

A special session on “Collective Memory and Historic Preservation” has been organized to complement the museum tour. Although the session and tour are designed to stand alone, one makes the other more instructive and rewarding. The session will be held on Sunday, August 18, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m., prior to this tour.

The Smithsonian Institution’s National Museum of the American Indian is accessible to persons with disabilities. Subway transportation is included in the tour fee. (20 minute discussion, one hour guided exhibit tour, and one hour leisure museum viewing—limited to 50 participants)

Tour 7: "Middleman Minorities:" The New Asian Immigrants in New York
Sunday, August 18, 2:15-6:15 p.m.
Fee: $15.00
Tour Leaders: Manju Sheth, Consultant; Joseph Conforti, SUNY College at Old Westbury; and Kant Nimbar, Dowling College

Tour Orientation Room: Rendezvous Trianon

This Workshop on Wheels tour will begin with a brief orientation of literature on new (post-1965) Asian American immigration to the United States. Many of these immigrants have settled in New York and New Jersey, the largest new Asian American metropolis in the nation. Sociologists/authors of research on ethnic groups in the New York and New Jersey area will present a 15-minute orientation on their work before the tour departs from the hotel, and other presentations will be made during the tour.

With a running commentary by the tour organizers, researchers, and other leaders, tour attendees will observe or participate in the religious activities and discussions of Asian Indian and Caribbean Hindu, Korean Buddhist, and Bangladeshi Muslim immigrants in the borough of Flushing and the vicinity. In this complementary paradox of ancient Asian spirituality and the modern dynamic occupational activities, the tourists will see immigrant entrepreneurs (silk cloths, gold jewelry, books, spices, wigs, etc.) and new occupations, such as taxi driving by South Asians, in action, time permitting. The tourist will experience sights, sounds, languages, and fragrances of selected Asian nationalities, while they are struggling to "make it" for better educational and occupational success of their children. Sites of conflict and resolution between Asian "middleman

Tour 8: Latino Communities in New York City

Monday, August 19, 8:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Fee: $5.00

Tour Leaders: Catherina Villafuerte, New School for Social Research; and Hector Cordero Guzman, Hunter College, City University of New York

This tour focuses on the origin and history of the settlement of the two largest Latino groups in New York City—Puerto Ricans and Dominicans. We will explore the two largest settlements of Puerto Ricans and Dominicans in upper Manhattan. The first part of the tour will cover the Spanish Harlem area, home to the original settlement of Puerto Ricans in New York City, and will describe how the area has changed in the last few years. The tour will continue in the upper west side of Manhattan and will center on the Broadway area, which is home to the largest Dominican settlement in the city. Originally, this area included large numbers of Puerto Ricans but it has rapidly changed since the late 1960s. The tour will finish with an optional lunch (not covered by tour fee) at a Latino restaurant in the Broadway area.

Subway transportation is included in the tour fee; lunch cost is not.

This tour is co-sponsored by the ASA Section on Latino/o Sociology. (Two hour walking tour and an optional stop for lunch—limited to 25 participants)

Tour 9: Community Organizations in Brownsville and East New York, Brooklyn

Monday, August 19, 9:00 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Fee: $15.00

Tour Leader: Sharon Zukin, City University of New York

Brownsville and East New York are inner city ghettos on the outskirts of Brooklyn—low-income Black and Latino communities that suffer from high crime rates, lack of jobs, and inadequate public services. We will visit two unique grassroots projects—Nehemiah Houses, a dense development of privately-owned, single-family, suburban-style homes, built in the 1980's, and United Community Centers, an independent, multi-racial service organization providing drug and AIDS education, children's programs, and public forums since the 1970's. The tour will include conversations with Ken Thorbourne, lead organizer of East Brooklyn Congregations, the force behind Nehemiah Houses, organized on the model developed by Saul Alinsky, and with Mel Grizer, Director of United Community Centers. This tour is connected with a special session on community organizing in New York which will be held on Monday, August 19, 2:30-4:15 p.m. (Bus excursion with 1.5 hours limited walking—limited to 30 participants)

Tour 10: African Burial Ground

Monday, August 19, 9:45 a.m.-1:15 p.m.

Tour Leader: African Burial Ground Public Educator, accompanied by Susan Pearce, Gettysburg College

In September of 1991, a portion of the African Burial Ground was recovered from the lower Manhattan block bordered by Broadway, Duane, Elk, and Reade Streets, a short distance from City Hall. Construction of a federal office building had only recently begun when the first of what would become hundreds of remains were unearthed. Numerous historical references and 18th century maps confirm this site as the "Negro Burrying Ground." Although the date of the cemetery's origin remains a mystery, archaeologists, anthropologists, and historians believe the cemetery's use dates back to the 18th century and possibly even earlier. It has also been suggested that as many as 10,000 to 20,000 graves may have existed within the African Burial Ground's original five to six acres, although few graves markers were found. These findings and others confirm the African Burial Ground's status as the oldest excavated African cemetery within any urban setting of the United States.

This tour will offer a visit to the African Burial Ground National and New York City Historic Landmark, historical slide presentations and film screenings, as well as a tour of the Foley Square Archaeological Laboratory. In addition, tour participants may examine documents related to the African Burial Ground in the Archival Center and receive complimentary educational resource materials.

The African Burial Ground is accessible to persons with disabilities.

Subway transportation is included in the tour fee. (20-minute walking tour and two hours of presentation/discussion—limited to 30 participants)

Tour 11: Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts

Monday, August 19, 10:00 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Fee: $10.00

Tour Leaders: Judith Huggins Balfe, College of Staten Island and the Graduate Center, City University of New York; and Lincoln Center Visitors Services Staff

Tour Orientation Room: Madison

The tour will start with a half-hour orientation by Judith Huggins Balfe. This Introduction will provide background on the economic impact of the arts industry in New York City as well as on the emerging crisis for the performing arts, caused by declining rates of attendance along with declining public funding in New York and in the United States more generally. The tour itself will acquaint participants with the history and the buildings of Lincoln Center: the Metropolitan Opera House, Avery Fisher Hall (home of the New York Philharmonic) and the New York State Theater (home of the New York City Opera and the New York City Ballet).

Lincoln Center is wheelchair accessible with advance notice. The tour group will be walking from the hotel to Lincoln Center, approximately 12 blocks. Tour fees cover entrance fees, not transportation. (Half hour orientation prior to departure, one hour walking tour—limited to 25 participants)

Tour 12: Mount Sinai Medical Center: On the Forefront of Change

Monday, August 19, 9:00 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Fee: $7.00

Tour Leader: John Hallinan, Administrator, Department of Medicine

Mount Sinai, a leading academic medical center in New York City is undergoing a major reorganization in the way it delivers care. This tour will focus on two key organizational and structural changes, the new Mount Sinai Health System and the new Care Center model at Mount Sinai Hospital.

The group will focus first on the new Mount Sinai Health System. A senior health system administrator will describe the "new system" and its rationale, while exploring the managed care climate and marketing forces driving these changes.

The other area to be addressed is the new Care Center model at Mount Sinai Hospital. These new Care Centers, mini-hospitals in themselves, evolved out of a major re-engineering initiative that completely reorganized care delivery. A tour of at least one Care Center and key features of the new hospital will be provided.

Mount Sinai Medical Center is accessible to persons with disabilities. Taxi transportation is included in the tour fee. (20-minute walking tour and two hours of presentation/discussion—limited to 30 participants)

Sightseeing

Whether you are a new or returning visitor to New York City, you probably know the city for its landmarks, museums, historical architecture, theatres, and grand avenues. Beyond these well-known images is a city of neighborhoods, parks and people, rich in tradition, arts and culture. To help you get around the city and explore its famous attractions, as well as find some of its hidden treasures, the New York Convention & Visitors Bureau (NYCVB) has introduced several new tourist services.

NY96 FunPass MetroCard. This is a special-issued MetroCard providing access to discounts and special offers at tourism-related businesses throughout the city. The NY96 FunPass MetroCard package will include subway and bus maps, a brochure describing the program, an explanation on how to use the MetroCard, as well as a listing of participating merchants offering valuable discounts. Just show your free NY96FunPass special deals like discounted admission, free gifts, 2-for-1 admission, and big savings throughout the city. In addition, you can use the FunPass on NYC buses and subways. Simply take the FunPass to a MetroCard subway token booth and pay for the number of rides you would like.

You may get your NY96 FunPass MetroCard and Guide at the New York Visitors Information Center. You can also pick up a FunPass at the New York City Transit Museum Shop and the following Visitor Information Centers: Grand Central, Penn Station, Times Square, Two World Trade Center, and Port Authority Travel.

Please note that there are currently no reduced bus or subway fares with this pass; its primary benefits are the discounts with city merchants. If you have specific questions about the program, call (212) 484-1242.

New York City Visitor Information Center. When you arrive in New York City, stop by the Visitor Information Center at 2 Columbus Circle, on the southwest corner of Central Park, for the widest selection of complimentary brochures, city maps, guides, and personalized assistance from multilingual visitor counselors. Counselors are at your service every day of the year, Monday-Friday, 9:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m., as well as Saturday, Sunday, and Holidays, 10:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.

New York Convention Concierge. For personal assistance in planning your activities in New York City, call the New York Convention Concierge, a service designed to assist travelers in obtaining theatre tickets, restaurant reservations, car and limousine service; planning tourist activities; and even arranging floral deliveries. Just call the toll free hot-line to reach a highly trained representative who will listen to your needs and make recommendations and arrangements based on your taste, budget, and schedule. ASA meeting attendees interested in concierge services may call New York Convention Concierge at 1-800-NY-SHOWS and mention the ASA access code, C046, for a personal connection to what’s hot in New York City!

Special Events

Orientation for First-Time Attendees

This orientation to ASA and the Annual Meeting is a must for first-time meeting attendees. Scheduled 5:00-6:00 p.m. on Friday, August 16, in the Trianon Ballroom at the New York Hilton, this special orientation hour provides the opportunity to meet Association officers and begin networking with experienced colleagues prior to the Welcoming Party.

ASA Secretary Teresa A. Sullivan and Executive Officer Felice J. Levine host this orientation. Pointers on navigating the Annual Meeting will be shared in informal roundtable discussion. First-time attendees should look for an admission ticket in their badge envelopes as soon as they pick up their program packets and come prepared to ask “what makes it work?”

Welcoming Party

All meeting registrants are invited to the Welcoming Party on Friday, August 16, from 6:30-8:00 p.m., in the East Ballroom of the New York Hilton to celebrate the opening day of the 1996 Annual Meeting.

Make new acquaintances, chat with old friends, and find a first-time meeting attendee to befriend. Remember to bring the Welcoming Party flyer from your Program packet with you to exchange for a complimentary beverage!

DAN

Be sure your meeting schedule for Sunday, August 18, includes the 23rd annual Departmental Alumni Night (DAN), where sociologists from around the world meet to reminisce about graduate school days, create new coalitions, and catch up on the latest news!

The gathering will begin at 9:30 p.m. in the Imperial Ballroom at the Sheraton New York, and plenty of time is provided for chatting with colleagues and alumni.

Each graduate department of sociology in the United States and Canada was given the opportunity to sponsor a table to attract alumni and friends. Tables will also be provided for sociologists in business and industry as well as for international scholars and guests.

Make plans to meet your friends at the Sheraton New York for the alumni interaction beginning at 9:30 p.m. on Sunday, August 18!
In Remembrance

At the beginning of the Presidential Plenary (Saturday, August 17, 4:30-6:15 p.m.), there will be a "Moment of Silence" to remember those members of the profession who died during the past year. Names submitted to Footnotes since last year's Annual Meeting are listed below. If you know of other sociologists who should be on this list but whose names do not appear below, please contact ASA staff in the Bryant room at the New York Hilton by 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, August 17.

Honorary Reception

Since 1984, the American Sociological Association has been joined by social science departments and regional societies in co-sponsoring the annual Honorary Reception that follows the President's address. This year the Association is pleased to acknowledge the following co-hosts of the Honorary Reception:

Sponsors:
- Fordham University
- Hunter College, City University of New York
- Marymount College
- Molloy College
- New York University
- St. Joseph's College
- Stanford University
- Texas A&M University
- University of Chicago
- University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
- University of Notre Dame
- William Paterson College of New Jersey
- Yale University

Donors:
- College of St. Elizabeth
- Concordia College
- Cornell University
- Graduate Center, City University of New York
- Hudson County Community College
- Manhattanville College
- Princeton University
- Queens College, City University of New York
- Rutgers University
- University of California, Davis
- University of Texas, Austin
- Wesleyan University

All meeting attendees are invited to join with our sponsors and donors at the Honorary Reception at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, August 17, in the Trianon Ballroom complex at the New York Hilton to express appreciation, congratulations, and best wishes to President Hallinan and the major ASA award recipients on this festive occasion!

Just Desserts!
A Teaching Endowment Fundraiser

Escape the fast pace of paper sessions, books displays, and convention life to unwind with friends at the fundraising event for the Teaching Endowment Fund, "Just Desserts." Come to the West Penthouse of the New York Hilton Hotel at 9:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 17, for a terrific nighttime view of the city skyline. As the name Just Desserts implies, if your energy is flagging, enjoy special desserts, good coffee, stimulating conversation, and smile that all of this pleasure goes to a good cause.

Admission is by ticket only: $25 donor, $50 sponsor. A major portion of each ticket price will go toward supporting the fund. The Teaching Endowment Fund is a small grants program of the American Sociological Association designed to support teaching-related projects that have long lasting and transferable impact. Approximately four awards of $1000 each are made each year. Applications are due January 1.

Those who enrolled in advance should have received their tickets with their name badges. Others may purchase tickets at the ASA Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton. Ticket sales will close at 5:30 p.m. on Friday, August 16, however, so don't delay!
International Scholars Reception

Meeting registrants from outside the United States are cordially invited to a reception on Sunday, August 18, 6:30-7:30 p.m., in Hudson's on the lobby level at the Sheraton New York to meet members of the ASA Committee on International Sociology and Association officers. U.S. scholars with international interests are also welcome.

Other Group Activities

The wide-ranging interests of ASA members generate meetings of special interest groups during each year's Annual Meeting. Space is assigned as available to these groups to hold their meetings in evening time slots when no program sessions or other ASA activities are scheduled. "Other Group" activities range from ad hoc sessions sponsored by individual ASA members to meetings of sister/affiliated organizations.

In addition to the scheduled meeting time, some groups will have membership information and publications on display in the Table Space Area on the second floor Promenade at the New York Hilton and Towers.

Registration Services

Registration confirmations were mailed for all meeting registrations postmarked by July 31 or received via fax on July 31. Attendees who miss the July 31st deadline will find their paperwork held at the Situations counter in Rhinelander Gallery for on-site registration processing.

Pre-Registration Pickup. Attendees registered by July 31 may pick up badges, program kits and special tickets at the PreRegistration counters on the second floor Promenade at the New York Hilton and Towers.

Service hours are:

- Thursday, August 15 1:00-8:00 p.m.
- Friday, August 16 8:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m.
- Saturday, August 17 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
- Sunday, August 18 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
- Monday, August 19 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
- Tuesday, August 20 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Reminder: Access to all ASA services is restricted to meeting registrants. Badges are required for entry to the ASA Exhibits, Employment Service, Child Care Service, and Paper Sales areas. Also, attendance at events which require fee payment (e.g., Didactic Seminars, Chair Conference, Director of Graduate Studies Conference, TEF Just Desserts, Tours, Workshops) is restricted to those who have registered for the meeting.

Spouse/Guest Registration. A Spouse/Guest registration provides a name badge only (name only, no affiliation). Spouse/guest registrations are limited to one per registrant. Any spouse/guest who wants a program packet and access to didactic seminars and pre-meeting conferences or workshops must register individually and pay the full registration fee.

Refunds/Cancellations. Cancellation notice must be made in writing. 90% of non-participant registration fees will be refunded if written cancellation was received before July 1. Cancellations and refund requests received after July 1 will not be accepted. All fees are non-refundable after July 1, 1996. Unfortunately, under no circumstances can ASA issue refunds for no-shows.

Program participant registration fees are non-refundable; cancellations will not be accepted nor refunds issued.

Duplicate Payments. The 90% refund policy applies to any and all duplicate payments. If you fax your registration form with a credit card authorization, do not send confirming copy by mail.

Accessibility Resources and Services

The ASA offers several services and oversight arrangements to facilitate attendance at the Annual Meeting. The ASA Information desk will coordinate resources during the meeting week for registrants with physical disabilities who are attending the Annual Meeting. Special services which were arranged in advance may be verified with Information Desk staff on your arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you need. Should you encounter any problems during the week or need any additional information while in New York, please see ASA staff at the ASA Information Desk or in the on-site ASA Office (Bryant room, 2nd floor, New York Hilton).
Comfort Zone. Attendees coping with illness, meeting fatigue, or stress may use the small room set aside by ASA as a "safe haven" to escape briefly from the noise and bustle of meeting activities. The Comfort Zones are located in Room 548 on the fifth floor of the New York Hilton and in the Liberty 5 room on the third floor of the Sheraton New York. This space is provided in response to concerns brought to the ASA Council by the Sociologists' AIDS Network, Sociology Lesbian and Gay Caucus, and the ASA Committee on Society and Persons with Disabilities.

Sessions. ASA has made arrangements for sign language interpreters and other communication avenues for preregistered meeting registrants who requested such services. ASL sign language interpreters will be interpreting the following program activities: Sessions 23, 53, 80 or 120, 130, 145, 178, 214 or 203, 221 or 239, 262, 271 or 287, 297, 334, 403, 414 or 420, 427 or 432, 441 or 442, 454, 460 or 462; the Section on Medical Sociology reception; and the Committee on Medical Sociology meeting.

Housing. Attendees who requested wheelchair accessible rooms, bathrooms with safety equipment (grab bars), amplified telephone receivers, closed captioned TV equipment, TDD access, "shake awake" alarms, or other resources when making room reservations and who have not received the desired equipment are asked to contact the ASA Office immediately.

Travel. Attendees with mobility impairments who are flying in and out of New York are advised to notify their airline 24 hours before departure if they will need assistance in getting from their arrival gate to the baggage claim area. Elevator access is available but not as obvious as escalators and stairs. Airline and airport personnel will gladly assist any meeting attendee needing transportation aid.

Local Transportation. For information regarding public transportation services for the physically challenged in NYC, call (718) 596-8273 between 6:00 a.m.-9:00 p.m., seven days a week.

On-Site Requests. Registrants who did not make advance arrangements for services or equipment are requested to contact staff in the ASA Office in the Bryant room at the New York Hilton. Every reasonable effort will be made to assist registrants on-site. However, if you have a physical disability and need special services, equipment, or accommodations, and did not notify ASA in advance of your arrival at the meeting site, ASA may not be able to provide the proper services due to the limited availability of some equipment and services.

ASA Information

The ASA Information desk, located on the 2nd floor Promenade at the New York Hilton, is staffed with ASA Executive Office personnel who will be able to assist attendees who have questions about meeting events, activities, and accessibility resources. Information hours are 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 15. Hours on Friday-Tuesday, August 16-20 correspond to the On-Site Registration hours shown above.

Cafe ASA

Where do you go when you only have an hour to visit the exhibits and eat lunch? Why, Cafe ASA, of course! This convenient site for a bite is the place to buy coffee, sodas, sandwiches, and light snacks, as well as meet with friends and chat about the morning’s sessions.

Cafe ASA will be located in the Americas Hall I with the ASA Exhibits on Saturday-Monday, August 17-19. On August 16 and 20, "ASA a la cart" will be open in the Rhinelander Gallery near On-Site Registration counters. Both locations are central to meeting activities. Plan to meet friends, transact business, sociology watch, or just rest your feet at these quick-stop, low-key cafes.

Child Care

ASA is continuing the tradition of providing an innovative program of activities for children of Annual Meeting registrants. Arrangements have been made with KiddieCorp to offer a full child care program from 8:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on August 16-20 for children between the ages of 6 months to 12 years. Evening care must be arranged on an individual basis with KiddieCorp personnel or local babysitting agencies. KiddieCorp is dedicated to providing quality child care services across the nation for meeting attendees. Staffing is based on a 1:2 ratio for children 6 months to 1 year, 1:3 ratio for children 1-2 years of age, and a 1:5 ratio for children 3-12 years of age. The program includes a customized hourly schedule of creative and educational activities, age-appropriate toys and games, popular arts and crafts projects, and child-pleasing movies and cartoon videos.

The Child Care Service is located in Rooms 524 and 551 on the 5th floor of the New York Hilton. Daily use fees for preregistered families are $35 per day, $20 per half day. For those using the service for shorter periods, the half-day fees will apply in order to encourage more stable use, discourage frequent dropping in and out, and simplify staffing and payment. Fees include on-site activities and snacks; lunch is not included but meal arrangements can be made through the hotel and/or KiddieCorp. Parents/guardians using these services must be registrants for the Annual Meeting.

Non-preregistered families will be accommodated on-site only if space is available. Care providers reserve the right to refuse admittance to non-preregistrants. If admitted, fees for children who were not preregistered will be $55 per day per child. No half-day rates are available for non-preregistrants.

Comfort Zone

Attendees coping with illness, lack of stamina, or overexposure to meeting “buzz” may use the small meeting rooms set aside as "comfort zones" at the New York Hilton and the Sheraton New York, to escape briefly from the noise and bustle of meeting activities. The Comfort Zones are located in Room 520 on the fifth floor at the New York Hilton and in the Liberty 5 room on the third floor at the Sheraton New York.

This space is being provided in response to concerns brought to the ASA Council by the Sociologists’ AIDS Network and the Sociologists’ Lesbian and Gay Caucus. Anyone needing immediate medical attention may contact the ASA Office and hotel personnel by picking up the nearest house phone.

Employment Service

In addition to the monthly Employment Bulletin, now available on-line as part of ASA’s Home Page (http://asanet.org/), the Association assists prospective employers and employees by sponsoring an Employment Service during each year’s Annual Meeting.

The 1996 Employment Service will be open at the New York Hilton and Towers from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 15; and from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Friday-Monday, August 16-19. The service will not be open on Tuesday, August 20.

Anyone using this Service, whether as Candidate or Employer, must register for the Annual Meeting as well as with the Employment Service. Once registered, you will be issued a pass permitting your entrance to the Service any time it is open. No one will be admitted without a pass; no browsing by non-registered attendees is permitted.

The fee for using the Employment Service is $100 for employers; $20 for candidates who are members of the ASA; and $35 for candidates who are not ASA members. All employer listings must be prepaid (a valid purchase order will be accepted); post-meeting billing is not available. Candidates must pay by the time they activate their files.

Forms for listing positions (Employer Forms) and applications for individuals (Candidate Profile Forms) were printed in the Preliminary Program and the Employment Bulletin. Extra copies of these forms are available in the Employment Service Registration areas for those unable to preregister.

Facilities are available at the New York Hilton for reviewing employment listings, exchanging messages, and initiating introductory interviews. Position listings supplied by preregistered employers will be available for viewing when the Service opens on Thursday afternoon, August 15. Listings supplied by employers who register on-site will be posted as the listings are received and processed.

Employment Service Candidates should report to the Candidate Registration area in Americas Hall II as soon as possible after arrival in New York to activate their candidate profiles and deliver two copies of their complete resumes to the Service. These resumes will be used to create two supplemental resume reference books for use by registered employers during the meeting. For candidates unable to preregister, it is recommended that you visit the Employment Service as early as possible upon arriving in New York in order to start the required processing.

Representatives from organizations that are listing positions with the Employment Service should check in at Employer Registration in Americas Hall II to begin the candidate profile review and interview scheduling processes.

Candidate profiles are not supplied to employers until the candidate activates the file on-site. Since employers need some time to review the files, there will be a time lag between activation of a candidate file and the scheduling of interviews. Because of that processing and review time, those intending to make full use of the Service should register and activate their files/listings by 5:30 p.m. on Friday, August 16. No candidate files will be activated on the last day (Monday, August 19) of Employment Service operations.

During last year’s Annual Meeting, 63 employers listed 91 openings, including 12 positions outside academia, and 401 candidates registered with the Service. Over 870 interviews were scheduled.
Exhibits

The 1996 ASA Exhibits highlight the middle days of this year's Annual Meeting. Located in Americas Hall I at the New York Hilton, ASA Exhibits will be open to meeting registrants from 9:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m. on Saturday-Monday, August 17-19.

The location of the Exhibits offers excellent accessibility by meeting attendees, due to its close proximity to ASA Registration and Services. Cafe ASA, one of the highlights of previous meetings, will reappear in the exhibit area once it has opened. Always one of the most popular activities at the Annual Meeting, Exhibits offer variety, convenience, and an opportunity to discover current trends in sociological publishing, information processing, and services.

Meeting attendees are encouraged to schedule several visits to the exhibit area so that ample time can be given to leisurely exploring the many offerings. Browse through the latest sociological publications, explore current computer software, chat with representatives of statistical resources, informational literature, and financial services, meet with colleagues, and enjoy Cafe ASA.

See the Directory of Exhibitors elsewhere in this Program for the names and booth numbers of all exhibitors. Don't forget to look through the Program for special ads!

All persons wishing access to ASA Exhibits must be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges are required for entrance into this area.

Locator File and Message Center

All attendees are invited to fill out a "locator card" when picking up their meeting registration packets. These cards will then be made available at the ASA Information Desk during the meeting to help colleagues contact each other while in New York City.

The Message Center retains the traditional handwritten message "boxes" to facilitate 24-hour non-technical exchange of messages between meeting attendees. Boxes will be located beside the ASA Information Desk on the second floor Promenade at the New York Hilton.

Membership and Publications Center

Information on ASA membership, sections, subscriptions, and publications will be provided in the Membership and Publications Center in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton and Towers. The Center will be staffed by ASA Executive Office personnel and open during the same hours as ASA On-Site Registration.

Limited quantities of recent ASA publications will be available for inspection and purchase at the display tables. Price lists and order forms may be used when inventory is sold out or attendees wish to have materials shipped rather than carrying copies with them.

Allocate some time in your personal meeting schedule to browse through the display tables laden with current career publications, syllabi sets, sociological practice materials, section newsletters, recent journal issues, indexes, teaching resources, departmental guides and directories, minority fellowship application information, ethics code, and many other publications. Copies of the latest catalogues are also available for you to take home for further consideration!

Paper Sales

All session papers which were submitted to the ASA Paper Sales Service by July 15 will be available in the Paper Sales area in Americas Hall II at the New York Hilton on Friday through Monday, August 16-19, 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.; and Tuesday, August 20, 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

Check the list of "Available Papers" in your program packet for information on expected availability.

Authors who indicated that they would bring copies with them to the Annual Meeting are urged to deliver them to Paper Sales as soon as possible.

Meeting registrants may purchase papers for $3.00 each; these fees go toward covering shipping and service setup costs. Papers may be purchased as long as supplies last; orders for future delivery cannot be accepted. Authors must be contacted directly if copies of papers are not available in the Paper Sales Room nor accessible through the Sociological Abstracts Document Delivery Service. To facilitate communication with authors, the ASA Executive Office has compiled a Roster of Attendees with mailing addresses which may be purchased either at the meeting or from the Executive Office after the meeting.

Copies of papers will not be available from ASA following the Annual Meeting. The Executive Office is not able to return unsold copies of papers to individual authors; however, authors may pick up any remaining copies of their own papers after 1:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 20.

Copies of some papers may remain at the end of the meeting. Any institution wishing to obtain some of these should contact the ASA Office during the meeting.

All persons wishing access to the Paper Sales area must be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges are required for entrance into this area.

Section Information

Looking for information about 36 active ASA Sections and one section-in-formation, or copies of 1996 section newsletters? Check at the Sections
Display Table in the Membership and Publications Center located in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton.

Sections have been invited to designate representatives to attend the display table during each meeting day. Staff from the ASA Executive Office will also be available to answer your questions and assist you in joining any and all sections.

Tickets

Registrants already enrolled for didactic seminars,
NY Tours, and special events should have received tickets with their meeting packets. Those who did not make advance reservations may check at the ASA Tickets counter in the Rhinelander Gallery at the New York Hilton for ticket availability. The Tickets counter will be open from 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 15, and from 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m. on Friday-Monday,
August 16-19.

Event tickets are non-refundable and cancellations cannot be accepted. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

Hotel Information

The 1996 Annual Meeting is being held at the New York Hilton and Towers and the Sheraton New York Hotel & Towers. Program sessions will be held at both hotels. ASA services—Child Care, Employment Service, Exhibits, Paper Sales—are located at the New York Hilton.

Blocks of sleeping rooms for meeting attendees were reserved at the co-headquarters hotels in Manhattan and special meeting discounts on room rates arranged. The cutoff date for reservations at ASA rates was July 25; availability of rooms at ASA rates ($125 single, $145 double) after that date is not guaranteed and will be determined by the hotels.

All hotel rooms are subject to the 8.25% New York State sales tax and 5% city sales tax—total 13.25% sales tax—plus a $2 per night city occupancy tax.

For your convenience, a list of hotels where ASA registrants are staying is given below. Included is information on the headquarters hotels for the sister associations and societies, such as the Association for the Sociology of Religion (ASR), the Association of Black Sociologists (ABS), the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP), the Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction (SSSI), and Sociologists for Women in Society (SWS).

Travel Arrangements

The American Sociological Association appointed Association Travel Concepts (ATC) as the official travel coordinator for the 1996 ASA Annual Meeting. Arrangements were made to offer special fares on American Airlines and US Air. ATC guarantees lowest airfare on any airline, special negotiated fares of up to 10% off the lowest American Airlines or US Air fares, and $100,000 free flight insurance when booking through ATC. Those who booked their meeting travel through ATC will automatically be entered into a raffle for two free round-trip tickets for travel in the Continental U.S.

If you need assistance with your travel arrangements, please call ATC at 1-(800) 458-9383; assntravel@aol.com; or (619) 458-0364 fax. There is also an American Airlines desk on the lobby level at the New York Hilton and a travel office in the Sheraton New York.

To make train reservations seven days a week or receive further information on Amtrak, call 1-(800) 872-7245 or contact ATC at the number listed above. Those who travel by train can get from the Grand Central or Penn Station to the hotels by taxicab for under $5.00. Grand Central Railroad Terminal, located in Manhattan at 42nd Street and Park Avenue, is one of the city's two main railroad stations. It is open seven days a week. For further information, call (212) 935-3960. Pennsylvania Railroad Station, located in Manhattan at 31st-33rd Streets and Seventh-Eighth Avenues, is open seven days a week as well. Amtrak-National Railroad Passenger Corp. services Penn Station.

Airport Transportation

Three major airports service New York City. The closest airport to Midtown Manhattan is LaGuardia Airport, which services 15 airlines. This airport is 8 miles from Midtown, a 30-45 minute drive (during non-rush hours) to the headquarters hotels. John F. Kennedy International Airport services 84 airlines and handles most transcontinental and international flights. This airport is 15 miles from Midtown and takes approximately 50-60 minutes (during non-rush hours) to reach Midtown. Newark International Airport services 39 airlines and is located 16 miles from Midtown. It takes around 45-60 minutes (during non-rush hours) to reach Midtown.

Attendees with mobility impairments who are flying in and out of NYC are advised to notify their airline 24 hours before departure if they will need assistance in getting from their arrival gate to the baggage claim area. Airline and airport personnel will gladly assist any meeting attendee needing assistance. For information regarding public transportation services for the physically challenged in NYC, call (718) 596-8273 between 6:00 a.m.-9:00 p.m., seven days a week.

Carey Airport Express bus service provides a continuous transfer service between LaGuardia and John F. Kennedy airports and the Grand Central Terminal at 42nd Street and Park Avenue in Manhattan. Carey provides courtesy shuttles between Grand Central Terminal and most major hotels in Midtown, including the New York Hilton and Towers and the Sheraton New York Hotel & Towers. Arriving passengers need not make advance reservations. Carey buses stop outside baggage claim areas at all terminals at LaGuardia and JFK airports, and Carey Airport Express signs are displayed at the curbside. You may make reservations for the return trip to the airport when the courtesy shuttle driver drops you at the hotel, or you may call 1-800-678-1569 at least two hours prior to hotel departure to make a reservation. Advance reservations are required for wheelchair accessible service to/from both airports; call (212) 397-0303 between 8:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. EDT, Monday-Friday, or 1-800-456-1012. For more information on Carey Airport Express’ general schedule and services, call 1-800-456-1012.

The Gray Line Air Shuttle services all three airports. No individual discount coupons are available, but you may inquire at the Port Authority Ground Transportation Desk for two or more group party discounts. Direct service to the hotels is available from 6:00 a.m. until 11:30 p.m., seven days a week. Use the courtesy phone marked “Gray Line Air Shuttle” in the baggage claim area to request a shuttle pickup; a bus should arrive within 20 minutes. For the return trip, call (212) 315-3006 24-hours in advance to schedule your shuttle reservation.

Detailed information on various transportation options for all three airports is provided below.

LaGuardia Airport

Taxi. A yellow medallion taxi ride will cost around $20-25 and the trip will take 30-45 minutes.

Bus. Carey Airport Express service costs $10.00 one way and takes approximately 30-45 minutes (non-rush hours) to reach Grand Central Terminal. Service to Grand Central Terminal is available from 6:00 a.m. until 12:00 a.m., seven days a week, every 20-30 minutes. Courtesy shuttles are available from Grand Central to the New York Hilton & Towers and Sheraton New York & Towers and take approximately 5 minutes. The last bus from the airport to the courtesy shuttle is at 8:05 p.m. After 8:05 p.m., the airport bus can go directly to the hotels upon request. On the return trip, courtesy shuttles travel from the hotel to Grand Central for LaGuardia Airport from 5:00 a.m. until 1:00 a.m.

John F. Kennedy International Airport

Taxi. Taxis offer the most convenient as well as most costly transportation from JFK to downtown NYC. A yellow medallion taxi ride will cost around $30-40 for the nearly one hour trip.

Bus. Carey Airport Express service costs $13.00 one way and takes approximately 45-60 minutes (non-rush hours) to reach Grand Central Terminal. Service to Grand Central is available from 6:00 a.m. until 12:00 a.m., seven days a week. Courtesy shuttles are available from Grand Central to the New York Hilton and Towers and Sheraton New York Hotel & Towers and take approximately 5 minutes. The last bus from the airport to the courtesy hotel shuttle is at 8:05 p.m. After 8:05 p.m., the bus will go directly to the hotels upon request. On the return trip, the courtesy shuttles travel from the hotel to Grand Central Terminal from 6:00 a.m.-9:30 p.m. Buses depart the downtown terminal for JFK Airport from 5:00 a.m. until 1:00 a.m.

Newark International Airport

Taxi. Fares will run $35-40, and the trip from Newark to midtown Manhattan will take 45-60 minutes.

Bus. Gray Line Air Shuttle service to and from Newark costs $18.50 one way and takes approximately 45-60 minutes (non-rush hours) to reach the New York Hilton and Towers and the Sheraton New York Hotel & Towers. Service to the hotels is available from 6:00 a.m. until 11:30 p.m., seven days a week. To arrange transfer to the hotel upon arrival to the airport, use the courtesy phone marked “Gray Line Air Shuttle” in the baggage claim area. It will take up to 20 minutes for shuttle pick-up once the call has been placed. Reservations for the return trip should be made 24 hours in advance. For more information, call (212) 315-3006.

Local Transportation

New York City is connected by a broad network of buses and subway lines that operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Individual fares are $1.50 one way, regardless of distance traveled. Passengers receive free transfers to connecting buses and subway lines. A bus transfer ticket may be requested from the bus driver upon boarding. Bus transportation requires exact change or subway tokens. Bus fareboxes do not accept dollar bills. Subway transportation requires subway tokens or a MetroCard; however, the MetroCard is not accepted at all stations. For more information, contact the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) Public Bus and Subway System at (718) 330-1234.

The New York City Taxi and Limousine Commission regulates the city’s famous “yellow” fleet of almost 12,000 licensed medallion taxis. Yellow medallion taxis are the only vehicles authorized to pick up street hails. There are taxi stands at many hotels and transportation terminals. One fare covers all passengers; cabs need not be shared. Taxi fares begin at $1.50 and increase $.25 for each additional 1/5 mile or 20 minutes of waiting time. There is a nightly surcharge of $.50 for service between 8:00 p.m.-6:00 a.m. For more information, call (212) 840-4190.

Pre-Meeting Activities

Joint European and American Conference on Rational Choice (co-sponsored by the ISA Rational Choice Interest Group and the ASA Section on Rational Choice), Wednesday-Thursday, August 14-15, 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. (Conference preregistration required)—Sheraton New York, Empire 2

1. Seminar. Hierarchical Linear Models (co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research and the ASA Section on Methodology) New York Hilton, Nassau A Thursday, August 15, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon; 1:00-4:00 p.m. Ticket required for admission Stephen Raudenbush, Michigan State University Hierarchically structured data arise in many studies including cross-sectional surveys of respondents nested within families, schools, neighborhoods, or organizations; panel surveys where times series data are clustered within persons; experiments in which treatments are administered to intact clusters such as classrooms, therapy groups, hospitals or cities; and meta analyses in which subjects are nested within studies. Hierarchical linear models (HLM) provides a conceptual framework and a set of flexible analytical tools for approaching such data. The course will introduce the basic two-level model for continuous outcomes with extensions to discrete outcomes and more complex designs including longitudinal studies that aim to assess the effects of context on the trajectories of individual change. Topics to be covered include the general two-level model using ANOVA, group means, cotextual effects, ANCOVA and cross-level models, with applications to clustered data and repeated measures (growth curve analysis) data. These will be extended to three-level models, cross-classified random effect models (individuals in multiple groups or migrating across groups) and non-normal error (binary and count) models. Participants should have strong backgrounds in matrix algebra and regression analysis.

103. Didactic Seminar. Recent Advances in Social Network Analysis (to 12:15 p.m.)
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Ticket required for admission
Stanley Wasserman, University of Illinois, Champaign
The seminar will present new methods in social network analysis from both the statistics and algebraic literatures. Topics included are new distributions for social networks, particularly for ego-centered networks, recently developed approaches to the study of centrality in networks, the modeling of complex networks across a variety of relations using a merger of statistical and algebraic ideas, and correspondence and canonical analysis of relational data. Emphasis will be on the application of formal and rigorous methods to the social phenomena and social problems studied by the social network paradigm. Abundant illustrations of the methods will be given.
It is recommended that seminar registrants read Chapters 1-4 of Social Network Analysis: Methods and Applications, by S. Wasserman and K. Faust (Cambridge University Press; 1994) as background prior to attending the seminar.

New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizer: Richard C. Rockwell, ICPSR
Panel: Richard C. Rockwell, ICPSR Richard M. Joftis, ICPSR Gregory Haley, Columbia University
The purpose of this workshop is to provide an overview of the organization of the Internet, the hardware and software necessary for accessing its resources, and several services useful for sociological research. Participants who are new to the Internet should come away with an appreciation of the breadth of information available, and with the practical knowledge to begin exploring it.
First, Mr. Rockwell will briefly discuss the ways in which the computer/Internet revolution is changing behavioral and social science research. Next, Mr. Joftis will provide an introduction to navigating the Internet. Lastly, Mr. Haley will concentrate on sociological resources available over the Internet. The presentation will be a mixture of lecture, computer simulation, and live demonstration. Whenever possible, interaction between the speakers and participants will be encouraged.

Discussion: Richard Rockwell, Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Science Research
The political, fiscal, and organizational issues surrounding the proposed extensive changes in the federal statistical system—and their implications for the sociological community—will be discussed. The panel will emphasize the Census but touch upon the turbulence currently surrounding the statistical centers at Health, Education, Justice, Labor, and other agencies that produce data bases used by sociologists.

198. Didactic Seminar. Interpreting the Results of Models for Limited and Categorical Dependent Variables (to 11:30 a.m.)
New York Hilton, Nassau A
Ticket required for admission
J. Scott Long, Indiana University, Bloomington
Models for limited and categorical dependent variables, such as logit, probit, tobit, and Poisson regression, are increasingly common in sociology. While advances in software have made it very simple to estimate models for limited and categorical dependent variables, interpreting the results of these models remains difficult due to the nonlinearities of the model. This seminar begins by considering the general objectives involved in interpreting the results of any regression type model and then considers why achieving these objectives is more difficult when models are nonlinear. A variety of methods of interpretation are presented that can be used. These methods are illustrated using real data analyzed with binary logit and probit, ordered logit and probit, multinomial logit, tobit, and Poisson regression. The seminar assumes familiarity with the linear regression model and at least a limited background in one or more of the other models.

199. Professional Workshop. The New ASA Code of Professional Ethics

New York Hilton, Gramercy A

Organizers: John M. Kennedy, Indiana University, Bloomington; Sue Hoppe, University of Texas, San Antonio; and Cynthia Costello, American Sociological Association

President: Sue Hoppe, University of Texas, San Antonio

Panel: ASA President-Elect Neil J. Smelser, Center for Advanced Study in the Social and Behavioral Sciences
ASA Vice President-Elect Charles V. Willie, John M. Kennedy, Indiana University, Bloomington
Eleanor M. Miller, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee

The co-chairs of the ASA Committee on Professional Ethics, joined by several ASA Officers, members of COPE, and ASA staff, will lead a workshop on the draft of the revised Code of Ethics for the American Sociological Association. A draft of the new ASA Code of Ethics will be widely circulated and distributed prior to the Annual Meeting; copies are also available at the ASA Information counter on the second floor Promenade at the New York Hilton. This workshop will provide an opportunity to discuss the key issues that have informed the revision of the Code and to solicit feedback and input from ASA members on the content of the revision.

200. Teaching Workshop. Teaching Social Psychology Courses

Michael Fraleigh, Bryant College

This workshop will focus on teaching social psychology courses within a sociological context. The interdisciplinary nature of social psychology and its implications for choosing textbooks and course readings will be addressed. Also discussed will be instructional materials such as syllabi, exercises, and assignments. Handouts, including materials from the ASA Teaching Resources Center, will be provided.

201. Teaching Workshop. Effective Strategies for Preparing and Using Teaching Assistants

New York Hilton, Green Room

Organizer and President: Carla B. Howery, American Sociological Association

Panel: Mark Ellis, Northwestern University

217. Poster Session. Data Resources
New York Hilton, Rhinelander Gallery
Organizers and Presiders: Felice J. Levine and Christopher J. Hickey, American Sociological Association
Meet principal investigators, researchers, and managers of large-scale data sets which are publicly available for use. Each exhibit showcases a major data set or multiple data resources of tremendous value for primary and secondary analysis. Representatives are available to talk about the nature of these data sets, their analytic potential, and issues relating to access and use, including the development of state-of-the-art Internet services to access data sets. This is an opportunity for conference participants to learn about these data sets and their potential for research and teaching. All meeting attendees, including students, are encouraged to attend.
For detailed information on participants, see page 199.

251. Professional Workshop. Bridging the Academic/Business Divide
New York Hilton, Gibson
Organizer: Cynthia B. Costello, American Sociological Association
Presider: Chris Wright-Isak, Young and Rubicam New York

David Prensky, Trenton State College
Joan Waring, Equitable
David Woodrow, Standard and Poors

Five sociologists whose careers are in business and academic marketing offer insights from their experience and encourage discussion and participation by session attendees. The subjects include job descriptions, role expectations, and the value of sociology in business as well as the relevance of business research for academic sociology.

252. Teaching Workshop. Preparing Undergraduate and Graduate Students in Qualitative Methods

New York Hilton, Murray Hill B

Mary Margaret Fonow, The Ohio State University
Judith Cook, University of Illinois, Chicago

The goal of this workshop is to help instructors develop approaches to teaching qualitative methods to graduate and undergraduate students. Topics will include research design, negotiating research relationships, data collection, and strategies for analysis. Special attention will be given to analyzing the ethnographic interview. Handouts will be provided; participants are asked to bring a syllabus for a methods course or any course for which they wish to design a qualitative research project. The co-facilitators will present exemplars from their own teaching and research.

253. Teaching Workshop. Computer-based Curricula for the Social Sciences

New York Hilton, Green Room

Organizer: Roger Finke, Purdue University
Panel: Frances Hoffmann, University of Missouri, St. Louis
Richard Knies, Purdue University
Kevin Demmott, Clayton State College
Peter Sinden, State University of New York, Fredonia

This workshop will demonstrate how a social science curriculum can be strengthened with the use of computer-based student projects, textbooks, and classroom presentations. Panelists will discuss how their curricula have been revised to incorporate new innovations in computer software and the ready access to social scientific data. They will also demonstrate how students and instructors use the software and data in their curricula. Demonstrations will draw on a wide range of data sets to illustrate how computer applications can be developed in a variety of substantive areas.

254. Poster Session. Graduate Programs in Sociology

New York Hilton, Rhinelander Gallery

Organizer: Kate Linnenberg, American Sociological Association

Graduate programs will display information about their programs, special emphases, financial aid and admission criteria, and the opportunities to work with their faculty. Representatives from each department will be on hand to answer questions from undergraduate students and their advisors, MA students looking to pursue a PhD, and interested others. Departments will hand out information as well.

271. Professional Workshop. "Surfing the Net": How to Do So Efficiently for Research
New York Hilton, Nassau B
Organizer: Russell K. Schutt, University of Massachusetts, Boston
Panel: Will Alexander, University of Minnesota and Minnesota State Department of Corrections
Dean Savage, Queens College, City University of New York
The goal of this workshop is to improve sociologists' use of the Internet for research and teaching about research. We will describe the organization and functions of the Internet and the World Wide Web and review essential terms and techniques. We will focus on five ways in which use of the Internet can aid research: searching the literature, communicating with other researchers, obtaining empirical datasets, finding critical facts, and studying the Internet itself. We will also discuss the implications of Internet usage for the process and practice of research in academic and applied settings.

From the Student's Perspective: Reactions and Requests on Issues of Professional Socialization. John Gnida, Indiana University
Discussion: A Sociological Perspective on the Professional Socialization of Graduate Students. Stanley Eitzen, Colorado State University, Ft. Collins
This workshop considers one of the topics that the Ad Hoc Committee on Graduate Education addressed in its first year. The session offers a quick summary of the report and provide copies (including specific materials from a range of programs in Sociology departments) for workshop participants. In addition, presenters draw on the perspectives, resources, and materials from a number of other departments which have solid and innovative initiatives for the professional socialization of graduate students. Sociologists who occupy different positions regarding professional socialization (faculty, deans, and graduate students) contribute their views, materials, and suggestions for the future. The formal part of the workshop ends by bringing the issues together through a sociological overview and opens up to discussion of future directions with workshop attendees.

New York Hilton, Nassau B

Ticket required for admission

Sharlene Hesse-Biber, Boston College

Udo Kelle, University of Bremen

This didactic seminar is for qualitative researchers who wish to use computer software to analyze textual data (e.g., case records, newspaper articles, fieldnotes, transcripts of interviews or focus group discussions), pictures, graphics or audio and video tapes. We will briefly explore the history of computer-assisted software programs in the social sciences. We will describe the range of computer software programs on the market today and will compare and contrast some of the most important programs. We will discuss the factors you should consider in selecting a software program. We will analyze the key methodological and theoretical issues involved in using computer-assisted software programs for qualitative data analysis. We will provide an in-depth demonstration of HyperRESEARCH—a software program for analyzing qualitative data (text, audio tapes, and video tapes).

Panel: William T. Bielby, University of California, Santa Barbara
Ronald S. Burt, University of Chicago
Charles Fombrun, New York University
Donald Palmer, University of California, Davis
Anne Shlay, Temple University

This workshop is intended for sociologists interested in working as consultants in or for organizations. It will consider practical problems related to identifying consulting opportunities, obtaining consulting work, performing effectively as a consultant, and managing the client-consultant relationship—while at the same time retaining one's personal, professional and intellectual integrity.

The session will also explore broader theoretical issues related to the establishment and maintenance of trust between consultants and clients; tensions between the value-free pursuit of knowledge and the application of that knowledge for specific economic, social, or political purposes; and the relationship between theory and practice more generally. A wide range of consultant motivations (e.g., economic and political), settings (e.g., private sector business, labor union, and community-based organization), and activities (e.g., econometric analysis, expert testimony and strategic planning) are represented by the workshop panel participants.

320. Teaching Workshop. Teaching Medical Sociology
Sheraton New York, Riverside Ballroom

Anne Figert, Loyola University of Chicago
Gregory Weiss, Roanoke College

The goal of this workshop is to facilitate the sharing of ideas about successful and unsuccessful strategies for effectively teaching courses in medical sociology and incorporating medical sociology content into other courses. The session will focus on the use of paperbacks and ancillary reading materials, films and documentaries, computer exercises, simulations, guest speakers, field trips, writing exercises and panels, and other organizational strategies. Handouts will be provided. Participants are encouraged to come to the workshop prepared to share information about strategies and materials that have or have not worked in their classes.

New York Hilton, Murray Hill A

Norman A. Dolch, Louisiana State University, Shreveport
Mike D'Innocenzo, Hofstra University

The National Issue Forum Program (NIF) of the Kettering Foundation examines various topics of concern to American citizens such as poverty, affirmative action, and immigration. Forums attempt to foster informed public dialogue and deliberation with the intent of building grassroots consensus about responding to these issues. This consensus enhances a sense of community on both the local and national level. Poverty will be the illustrative topic for the seminar. Besides sharing the philosophy, techniques, and materials for conducting study groups and forums, the sociology of the NIF materials will be examined and its power as a learning tool for students examined.

A Sociologist's Perspective. John McCarthy, Catholic University of America
Saul D. Alinsky, still the best known community organizer, captures the ambivalent connection between community organization and sociology. Alinsky studied under Robert Park at the University of Chicago and clearly incorporated into his work both Park's vision of urban social structure and his field methods. Yet, and maybe because of his sociological perspective, he was profoundly disappointed at the failure of academic sociologists to apply their theoretical insights and methodological skills to grassroots organizing. In this session we probe: (1) lessons from Alinsky's organizing that are relevant to sociology today; (2) current community organizing activities by Alinsky's organization; (3) a non-sociologist's critique of sociological involvement in community organization activities; and (4) a sociologist's assessment of the implication of community organization for the discipline.

1996-97 ASA Council, Wednesday, August 21, 8:30 a.m.-to 1:00 p.m.—New York Hilton, Madison

Group Processes Research Conference, Wednesday, August 21, 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.—New York Hilton, Gibson
SPECIAL POSTER SESSION
OPPORTUNITIES FOR RESEARCH SUPPORT

Presiders/Organizers: Felice J. Levine and Carol Anne Davis, American Sociological Association
Saturday, August 17 ♦ 1:00 - 4:00 p.m.
Rhinelander Gallery

Meet program officers and representatives of major research funding institutions to talk about opportunities for research and fellowship support. This is a chance for conference participants to speak one-on-one with representatives and learn about new and continuing funding initiatives, application procedures and review processes, and elements of a competitive research proposal. Each exhibit provides a visual overview of research funding and the application process, materials for distribution, and time for direct individual discussion. All meeting participants, including students, are encouraged to attend.

1. National Science Foundation
Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences

Presenters: William Sims Bainbridge and Patricia White, Sociology Program, Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences (SBER), National Science Foundation, 4201 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, VA 22230; phone (703) 306-1756; fax (703) 306-0485; email: wbainbrige@nsf.gov or pwhite@nsf.gov; homepage: http://www.nsf.gov.

The Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences is the single most identifiable federal source of support for basic research in the social sciences. Social science research is primarily supported in the Division of Social, Behavioral and Economic Research where sociology is located. The Division consists of five program clusters: Anthropological and Geographic Sciences; Cognitive, Psychological and Language Sciences; Economic, Decision and Management Sciences; Social and Political Sciences (including Sociology); and Science, Technology and Society. It supports disciplinary and multidisciplinary research, data collection, and measurement and methodological research. Its goal is to develop basic scientific knowledge of social, behavioral, and economic systems, organizations and institutions, and human interaction and decision making. SBER also provides support for research conferences, doctoral dissertation research, international group travel, and data resource development.

2. National Institutes of Health
National Institute of Child Health and Development

Presenter: Christine Bachrach, Demographic and Behavioral Sciences Branch, National Institute of Child Health and Development (NICHD), 600 Executive Boulevard, Room B13, Bethesda, MD 20892-7510; phone (301) 496-1174; fax (301) 496-0962; email: bachracc@hd01.nichd.nih.gov.

National Institute of Child Health and Development (NICHD), through its Center for Population Research, is the nation's largest funder of behavioral and social science research on population. Program areas of interest include family and household structure and their relationship to children's well-being, fertility and contraceptive behavior, sexual behavior related to risk of pregnancy, HIV infection, and other sexually transmitted diseases; immigration, migration, and population distribution; the relation of demographic factors to labor markets and labor force participation; child care; social factors in mortality, especially infant mortality and child health; and formal demographic and methodological research. The Center for Research on Mothers and Children also supports behavioral and social research in the areas of child development, mental retardation, and nutrition and growth. A new program, the National Center for Rehabilitation Research, founded in 1991, supports work on the behavioral aspects of disability.
3. National Institutes of Health

National Institute for Mental Health

Presenter: Ann A. Hohmann, National Institute for Mental Health (NIMH), 5600 Fishers Lane, Room 10C-06, Rockville, MD 20857; phone (301) 443-4045; fax (301) 443-4045; email: ahohmann@nih.gov.

The National Institute for Mental Health (NIMH) supports and conducts research and research training in the following areas: health and behavior; violence and traumatic stress; law and mental health; the etiology, genetics, prevention, treatment, and clinical course of mental disorders; clinical mental health services and service systems research; psychiatric epidemiology; and assessment and classification of mental disorders.

4. National Institutes of Health

National Institute on Aging

Presenter: Ronald P. Abeles, National Institute on Aging (NIA), Gateway Building, Wisconsin Avenue, Room 533, Bethesda, MD 20892; phone (301) 496-3136; fax (301) 402-0051; email: ronald.abeles@nih.gov.

The National Institute on Aging (NIA) supports a wide variety of qualitative and quantitative sociological research and training related to aging processes, the relationship between the aging population and social institutions (including the health care system), and the impact on society of the changing age composition. Opportunities and options for Federal funding of aging research will be available. Of particular interest is the potential for sociological contributions to issues of women and minorities in later life.

5. National Institutes of Health

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism

Presenter: Susan Martin, National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA), 6000 Executive Boulevard, Suite 505, Rockville, MD 20892; phone (301) 443-8767; fax (301) 443-8774; email: smartin@willco.niaaa.nih.gov

The National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) supports basic and applied research related to the causes, consequences, treatment, and prevention of alcohol-related problems. Most social science research is funded through the Division of Clinical and Prevention Research and the Division of Biometry and Epidemiology. NIAAA also supports several alcohol research centers and an intramural research program. Research priorities include sociocultural and environmental determinants of drinking; safety, trauma, and alcohol-related performance; economic and socioeconomic issues in the prevention and treatment of alcohol problems; the prevention of alcohol-related problems in children, adolescents, and other at-risk populations; and alcohol-related health services studies.

6. National Institutes of Health

National Institute on Drug Abuse

Presenter: Susan Coyle, National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), 9A-53 Parklawn Building, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857; phone (301) 443-6720; fax (301) 443-6277.

The National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), one of the 16 NIH Institutes, supports a wide range of research and training, and is a prominent source of funding in support of research on drug abuse, dependence, and addiction. Sociologists and other social scientists are actively involved in the research and training programs of many NIDA units, especially the Prevention Research Branch of the Division of Epidemiology and Prevention Research. The NIDA Prevention Research Branch supports a broad extramural research program on prevention and early intervention of drug use and abuse. The Branch's primary focus is on efficacy studies of prevention and early intervention on the general population of school aged children and adolescents and subpopulations at risk, such as, school dropouts, runaways, and adolescents showing psychiatric disturbances.

7. National Institutes of Health

National Institute for Dental Research

Presenter: James A. Lipton, Division of Extramural Research, National Institute for Dental Research (NIDR), Natcher Building, Room 4AN-18J, Bethesda, MD 20892; phone (301) 594-2618; fax (301) 594-8764; email: liptonj@de45.nidr.nih.gov.

The National Institute of Dental Research (NIDR) supports research and training related to oral health promotion and disease prevention, as well as to understanding the etiology, epidemiology, diagnosis, and treatment of the craniofacial, oral, and dental diseases and disorders. Program areas of particular interest to sociologists include: health-related quality of life; innovative intervention approaches to promote behavior changes, such as smoking cessation; determinants of clinical decision-making; multidimensional model development and assessment for such behaviors as the adoption of new or more effective preventive or therapeutic measures, utilization of dental services, especially by subgroups at higher risk for oral disease, and impacts of oral conditions on social functioning; enhancing patient or provider behaviors which improve oral health or the outcomes of dental care; effect of demographic changes on prevalence of oral health and disease; and mechanisms through which the interactions among social/behavioral and biological factors influence the onset or progression of oral diseases.

8. National Institutes of Health
Office of Behavioral and Social Science Research
Presenter: Virginia S. Cain, Office of Behavioral and Social Science Research (OBSSR), Building 1, Room 326, Bethesda, MD 20892; phone (301) 402-1770; fax (301) 402-1798; email: virginia_cain@nih.gov.

In 1995, the National Institutes of Health established the Office of Behavioral and Social Sciences Research (OBSSR) to advance consideration of the social and behavioral aspects of health and disease. The OBSSR serves as a primary focal point for stimulating attention at NIH for behavioral and social factors that have been underfunded relative to their contributions to health and illness. OBSSR is seeking to integrate the behavioral and social sciences with other areas of the health research enterprise. This Office has discretionary funds for special initiatives and for coordinated activities across Institutes.

9. National Institutes of Health
Office of AIDS Research
Presenters: Judith Auerbach and Paul Gaist, Behavioral & Social Sciences, Office of AIDS Research (OAR), Building 31, Room 4C06, Bethesda, MD 20892; phone (301) 402-3555; fax (301) 796-4843; email: judith_auerbach@nih.gov.

The Office of AIDS Research (OAR) is located within the Office of the Director of NIH and coordinates the scientific, budgetary, legislative, and policy elements of the NIH AIDS Research Program. The OAR is charged with: developing an annual comprehensive plan outlining science priorities in AIDS research and a budget that corresponds to that plan; evaluating the NIH AIDS research program; and administering a discretionary fund.

10. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Health Statistics
Presenter: Audry Burwell, National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Presidential Building, Room 1100, 6525 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782; phone (301) 436-7062; fax (301) 436-4233; email: zb2@nch11a.em.cdac.gov.

The National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS), through its Minority Health Statistics Grants Program, supports research to improve the quality and quantity of health data on racial and ethnic minority populations. Projects supported by this program focus on the development of innovative methodologies for surveying minority populations; improved methods for analyzing existing data sets; and special studies to gain better understanding of factors that effect the health status of minority populations.

11. U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation
Presenter: Reuben Snipper, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation (ASPE), Department of Health and Human Services, 200 Independence Avenue, SE, Room 404E, Washington, DC 20201; phone (202) 690-5880; fax (202) 690-6562; email: rsnipper@osaspe.dhhs.gov.

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation (ASPE) serves as the principal advisor to the Secretary of Health and Human Services on policy development, program analysis, and economic policy. The Office is responsible for the major decisions and support activities that encompass legislative development, planning, policy analysis, and research and evaluation oversight. ASPE periodically announces Federal grants on a wide range of topics. For information, contact: Adrienne Little, DHHS/ASPE, Room 415F; (202) 690-8794; fax (202) 690-6518; email: aspeinfo@osaspe.dhhs.gov.

12. U.S. Department of Education
National Center for Education Statistics
Presenter: J. Michael Ross, National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), Department of Education, 555 New Jersey Avenue, NW, Room 412 Washington, DC 20208; phone (202) 219-1565; fax (202) 219-1728; email: michael_ross@ned.gov.

The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) collects and disseminates large, nationally representative data sets that include both cross-sectional and longitudinal sample of K-12 and post-secondary students. Many sociologists are familiar with High School and Beyond (HS&B) and the more recent National Education Longitudinal Study (NELS).
During the last 10-15 years, NCES has launched a series of new studies including a multi-level study of schools and teachers (Schools and Staffing Survey) in 1987, 1990, and 1993; a survey of student financial aid (National Postsecondary Student Aid Study); a new longitudinal survey of college students (Beginning Postsecondary Study); and a survey of college faculty (National Survey of Postsecondary Faculty). NCES data are important components of research funded through the department’s grant competitions and indirectly through its contracts with research firms.

In conjunction with the American Educational Research Association and the National Science Foundation, NCES sponsors three funding programs: a research grant program (up to $25,000 for 2 years), a resident fellows program (maximum $32,000 for 9 months), and a dissertation grants program ($20,000 for 2 years). Applications can be submitted at any time and will be reviewed three times during the next fiscal year. Since 1992, the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) has conducted a grant competition for secondary analysis of student achievement data. In conjunction with the American Statistical Association and National Science Foundation, NCES also hosts a second resident fellows programs. Finally, to encourage new research on higher education, NCES is sponsoring a grant program through the Association for Institution Researchers (maximum $30,000 for 2 years).

13. U.S. Department of Education
Office of Educational Research and Improvement
Presenter: Joseph Conaty, Office of Educational Research and Improvement (OERI), Department of Education, Room 510H, Capitol Place, 555 New Jersey Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20208; phone (202) 219-2079; fax (202) 219-2135; email: cnj@nih.gov.

Through support of basic and applied research, evaluations, and syntheses, the Office of Educational Research and Improvement (OERI) serves parents, teachers, school administrators, and policy makers at local, state, and national levels. OERI supports the National Center for Education Statistics, the Office of Reform Assistance and Dissemination, the National Institute on Early Childhood Education, the National Institute on At-Risk Students, the National Institute on Student Achievement and Assessment, the National Institute on Educational Governance, Finance, and Management, and the National Institute on Postsecondary Education, Libraries, and Lifelong Learning. A major function of OERI is to fund and coordinate research carried out at a national system of research and development centers and regional education laboratories. In addition, the Office supports a variety of grant programs, including Field-Initiated Studies that encourage individuals to pursue research clearly related to national education concerns and issues.

14. U.S. Department of Justice
National Institute of Justice
Presenter: Tom Feucht, National Institute of Justice (NIJ), Department of Justice, 633 Indiana Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20531; phone (202) 307-2949; fax (202) 307-6394; email: feucht@ojp.usdoj.gov.

The National Institute of Justice (NIJ) is the primary federal sponsor of research in crime and criminal justice and of evaluations of programs to reduce crime. NIJ’s mandate gives it other important missions, including developing and applying new technologies to enhance the capabilities and effectiveness of law enforcement and criminal justice agencies nationwide; evaluating the effectiveness of model programs to reduce crime and improve criminal justice operations; developing information about innovative approaches, and disseminating research findings. In selecting research, evaluation, and other projects, NIJ emphasizes those that best meet the needs of the criminal justice system and whose results can be put to practical use in the field.

NIJ’s current research priorities are outlined in its 1995-1996 Research Plan, which spells out general areas of interest and requirements for grant applicants. In addition, in 1996, NIJ is issuing focused solicitations addressing four major areas under the 1994 Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act: Community Policing, Violence Against Women, Boot Camps, and Drug Courts.

15. U.S. Department of Justice
Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention
Presenter: Betty Chimers, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), Department of Justice, 633 Indiana Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20530; phone (202) 307-3677; fax (202) 307-0091; email: chimersb@justice.usdoj.gov.

The Office of Juvenile and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) is the central Federal agency responsible for juvenile justice system and juvenile delinquency prevention matters. It administers a diverse program to foster improvement in the Nation’s understanding of and response to delinquent youth and missing children.
The Research and Program Development Division sponsors research on national trends in juvenile delinquency; promotes data collection and information sharing among juvenile justice agencies; identifies the developmental pathways to delinquent careers and the best methods for preventing, intervening, and treating delinquency; and analyzes practices and trends in the juvenile justice system.

16. U.S. Department of Agriculture
Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service
Presenter: Bronda Harrison, National Research Initiative Competitive Grants Program (NRICGP), Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service, Department of Agriculture, 323 Aerospace Center, 901 D Street, SW, Washington, DC 20250-2241; phone (202) 401-1924; fax (202) 401-6488; email: bharrison@reeusda.gov.

The National Research Initiative Competitive Grants Program (NRICGP) of the Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service, supports research on key problems of national and regional importance in the biological, environmental, physical, and social sciences relevant to agriculture, food, and the environment. The NRICGP supports a broad spectrum of research that bridges the basic and applied sciences and results in practical outcomes ensuring that U.S. agriculture and forestry are sustainable and that they remain competitive in the global arena.

17. U.S. Department of Defense
Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences
Presenter: Jacqueline A. Mottern, Research and Advanced Concepts Office, Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences (ARI), 5001 Eisenhower Avenue, Attn.: PERI-BR, Alexandria, VA 22333-5600; phone (703) 617-7805; fax (703) 617-7802; email: mottern@ari.fed.us.

The U.S. Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences (ARI) is responsible for the conduct of research and development relevant to manpower, personnel, and training issues for the Army. ARI also supports basic research in military sociology, which aims at understanding how major societal issues affect the Army, and how social factors affect military personnel and their performance.

18. U.S. Department of Labor
Bureau of Labor Statistics
Office of Research and Evaluation
Presenter: Roberta L. Sangster, Office of Research and Evaluation, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), 2 Massachusetts Avenue, NE, Washington, DC 20212; phone (202) 606-7517; fax (202) 606-7426; email: sangster_r@bls.gov.

The American Statistical Association (AStatA), jointly with the National Science Foundation (NSF) and the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), is accepting proposals for research fellowships at the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Fellowship terms are flexible and range from four to six months. Salaries are commensurate with qualifications and experience. Fringe benefits and a travel allowance are also provided. Applicants must have a Ph.D. and a recognized research record in their area of proposed research. Possible research areas related to BLS data or methodology include, but are not limited to: price index estimation, time series methodology, statistical quality control, statistical disclosure limitation methodology, questionnaire design, expert systems, computer-assisted interviewing, statistical computing and graphics, social and demographic studies, longitudinal data analysis, and analysis of labor markets, prices, and productivity.

Detailed research proposals are due by January 17, 1997 to Marie Argana, AStatA/NSF Fellowship Programs, American Statistical Association, 1429 Duke Street, Alexandria, VA 22314. In addition to the information at this Poster Session, information can be obtained via Internet (http://stats.bls.gov/orefell.htm) or from Dr. Cathryn Dippo, AStatA/NSF/BLS Fellowship Program, Bureau of Labor Statistics; phone (202) 606-7377; email: fellowprg@bls.gov.

19. U.S. Bureau of Census
Decennial Management Division
Presenter: John H. Thompson, Decennial Management Division, Bureau of Census, Room 3586, Federal Office Building 3, Silver Hill and Suitland Roads, Suitland, MD 20746; phone (301) 457-3946; fax (301) 763-3820; email: ohn.thompson@ccmail.census.gov.

In support of the Bureau of Census mission to serve as the preeminent collector of timely, relevant, and accurate data about the U.S. population, the agency supports a rich program of research. Recent projects have been supported mainly under indefinite quantity task order contracts, allowing the Bureau to channel over $20 million to technical and research organizations in support of work in statistical sampling; survey, cognitive, and motivational research; advanced computing technology; and so forth. Additional research into virtually any area of the Bureau of Census data and operations is conducted under Joint Project Agreements, Cooperative R&D Agreements, Interagency Personnel Agreements, and the American Statistical Association (AStatA)/NSF/Census Fellowship Program.

20. National Endowment for the Humanities

Presenter: Douglas Arnold, National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), 1100 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Room 318, Washington, DC 20506; phone (202) 606-8466; fax (202) 606-8204; email: arnold@neh.fed.us.

The National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) provides grants to individuals and institutions for exemplary work to advance and disseminate knowledge in all the disciplines of the humanities; these grants include fellowships for individual research. According to the act that established the NEH, "The term 'humanities' includes, but is not limited to, the study of the following: language, both modern and classical; linguistics; literature; history; jurisprudence philosophy; archaeology; comparative religion; ethics; the history, criticism and theory of the arts; those aspects of social sciences which have humanistic content and employ humanistic methods; and the study and application of the humanities to the human environment with particular attention to reflecting our diverse heritage, traditions, and history and to the relevance of the humanities to the current conditions of national life."

The Endowment awards grants through three divisions and one office: Preservation and Access, Public Programs and Enterprise, Research and Education, and Challenge Grants. Each application is assessed by knowledgeable persons outside the Endowment who are asked for their judgments about the quality and significance of the proposed projects.

21. United States Institute of Peace

The U.S. Institute of Peace is an independent, nonpartisan federal institution, authorized and annually funded by Congress for the express purpose of strengthening the nation's capabilities to promote the peaceful resolution of international conflicts. Its major research programs are funded through grants and fellowships. Solicited and unsolicited grants support research, education, training and dissemination of information to nonprofit organizations (including private colleges and universities), official public institutions, and individuals. The Jennings Randolph Fellowship Program provides resident fellowships and other forms of support to enable outstanding scholars, diplomats, journalists, and other professionals to conduct research and education projects focused on the nature of international conflict and methods for achieving peace. Fellowships are also available for doctoral candidates conducting dissertation research on topics concerned with sources and resolution of violent conflict.

22. Social Science Research Council

Presenter: Sheri Ranis, Social Science Research Council (SSRC), 605 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10158; phone (212) 377-2700; fax (212) 377-2727; email: ranis@ssrc.org

The Social Science Research Council (SSRC) is an autonomous, nongovernmental, non-profit, international association devoted to the advancement of interdisciplinary research in the social sciences. It does this through a wide variety of workshops and conferences, fellowships and grants, summer training institutes, scholarly exchanges, and publications.

Founded in 1923, the Council is governed by a board of directors comprised largely of social scientists. It is an international enterprise in which a rotating group of some 300 social scientists work together in pro bono service giving continued and cumulative attention to topics at the frontiers of research, training, field development, and public policy in both the United States and other regions of the world. SSRC's committees encourage the development of new methods, confront theoretical controversies, and identify promising topics and issues for new empirical investigation.

23. American Council of Learned Societies

Presenter: Andrzej Tymowski, American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS), 228 East 45th Street, New York, NY 10017-3398; phone (212) 697-1505, ext. 138 (grants); fax (212) 949-8058; email: grants@acls.org; homepage: http://www.acls.org.

The American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) supports research in the humanities and the social sciences through awards to individual scholars. Of the ACLS programs, the general Fellowship Program helps make it possible for scholars to devote six to twelve continuous months to research. In addition, ACLS sponsors several programs to encourage area and international social science and humanities research. In addition to the information provided at the Poster Session, information can be obtained from Ruth Waters, Office of Fellowships and Grants.

24. Council for International Exchange of Scholars Fulbright Scholar Program
Presenter: Pat Fesci, Fulbright Senior Scholar Program, Council for International Exchange of Scholars (CIES), 3007 Tilden Street, NW, Washington, DC 20008-3009; phone (202) 686-7871; fax (202) 362-3442; email: ciesl@ciesnei.cies.org.

The Council for International Exchange of Scholars (CIES) cooperates with the United States Information Agency in the administration of the Fulbright Senior Scholar Program. Each year over 800 grants are offered to U.S. academics and professionals for advanced research, university lecturing or combined lecturing, and research in approximately 130 countries around the world. The program also brings over 800 visiting scholars to U.S. institutions for research and/or lecturing annually.

25. Civic Education Project
Presenter: Rachel Schofer, Civic Education Project (CEP), PO Box 205445, Yale Station, New Haven, CT 06520; phone (203) 781-0263; fax (203) 781-0265; email: cep@cep.yale.edu; homepage: http://cep.yale.edu.

The Civic Education Project is an international non-profit organization committed to assisting in the revitalization of the social and policy sciences throughout Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. With 120 volunteer faculty teaching in 14 countries, CEP is a leading force in higher education reform in the region.

26. American Sociological Association Minority Fellowship Program
Presenters: Havidan Rodriguez; Minority Fellowship Advisory Committee Members, Orlando Rodriguez and Bruce B. Williams; MFP Fellows, Cecile T. David, Edith Chen, Tracy Faye Tolbert, Hilary Phillips, Gregg Taliaferro, Naima Brown, and Donna Marie Peters; Minority Fellowship Program, American Sociological Association (ASA), 1722 N Street, NW, Washington, DC 20036; phone (202) 833-3410, ext. 322; fax (202) 785-0146; email: minority.affairs@asanet.org; homepage: http://www.asanet.org.

Through its Minority Fellowship Program (MFP), the American Sociological Association supports the development and training of minority sociologists in mental health. Funded by a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH), the MFP seeks to attract talented minority students interested in mental health issues and to facilitate their placement, work, and success in an appropriate graduate program. In addition to providing financial support, the MFP works with Fellows and their faculty advisors at their home departments to help prepare Fellows in the sociology of mental health. Also, the MFP conducts symposia sessions at scholarly meetings, offers travel support to scientific conferences, and undertakes other initiatives that foster the development of formal and informal training for Fellows.

27. American Sociological Association Fund for the Advancement of the Discipline, Congressional Fellowships, and Community Action Fellowships
Presenter: Carol Anne Davis, American Sociological Association (ASA), 1722 N Street, NW, Washington, DC 20036; phone (202) 833-3410; fax (202) 785-0146; email: executive.office@asanet.org; homepage: http://www.asanet.org.

The Fund for the Advancement of the Discipline (FAD) is supported by the American Sociological Association and the National Science Foundation. The goal of FAD is to nurture the development of scientific knowledge by funding small, ground breaking research initiatives and other important scientific research activities. FAD provides grant support for substantive and methodological breakthroughs that can advance knowledge and provide leverage for acquisition of additional research funds.

Through its’ Sydney S. Spivack Program in Applied Social Research and Social Policy, the American Sociological Association supports Congressional Fellowships and Community Action Research Fellowships. The ASA Congressional Fellowship provides a Ph.D. level sociologist with in-depth experience as a staff member of a Congressional Committee or in a Congressional Office or agency. The Community Action Research Fellowships provide support for sociological work with community organizations, local public interest groups, or community action projects.
28. International Research & Exchanges Board
Presenter: Kelly Wienne, International Research & Exchanges Board (IREX), 1616 H Street, NW, Washington, DC 20006; phone (202) 628-8188; fax (202) 628-8189; email: kwieme@irex.org.

Founded in 1968, the International Research & Exchanges Board (IREX) provides field access for U.S. specialists to scholars, policy makers, and research resources of the Newly Independent States, Central and Eastern Europe, and Mongolia.

With funding from the U.S. Information Agency, the Department of State, and the National Endowment for the Humanities, IREX offers opportunities for Ph.D. candidates and senior scholars to conduct in-depth field research for periods ranging from one to 12 months.

29. Consortium of Social Science Associations
Presenter: Angela Sharpe, Consortium of Social Science Associations (COSSA), 1522, K Street, NW, Suite 836, Washington, DC 20005; phone (202) 842-3525; fax (202) 842-2788; email: alsharpe@aol.com.

The Consortium of Social Sciences Association (COSSA) was established as an advocacy organization in 1981 and is supported by nearly 100 professional association, scientific societies, universities and research institutes. COSSA stands alone in representing the full range of social scientists. COSSA lobbies Congress and the Executive Branch on issues affecting the social science portfolios of the National Science Foundation, the National Institutes of Health, the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Education, Justice, and Labor, and many other federal agencies. (The American Sociological Association is a founding member of COSSA and serves on its Executive Committee.)

30. National Humanities Alliance
Presenter: John Hammer, National Humanities Alliance (NHA), 21 Dupont Circle, NW, Suite 604, Washington, DC 20036; phone (202) 296-4994; fax (202) 872-0884; email: jhammer@cni.org.

The National Humanities Alliance (NHA) is not a grantmaking organization. NHA is a source of information for federal grantmaking programs of interest to scholars.

The NHA is a coalition of 85 scholarly and professional associations; organizations of museums, libraries, historical societies, higher education, and state humanities councils; university and independent centers for scholarship and other organizations concerned with national humanities policies. The alliance monitors and lobbies Congress and the Executive Branch for support for scholarly research, education, and public humanities. The NHA also works to assure scholarly access to information especially in terms of intellectual property laws and regulations, and federal policies affecting access to libraries, archives, and, in general, government information. Finally, NHA seeks to demonstrate to policy makers that scholarly research can inform and lead to better public policy. (The American Sociological Association is an active member of the National Humanities Alliance.)
DATA RESOURCES

Presiders/Organizers: Felice J. Levine and Christopher J. Hickey, American Sociological Association
Sunday, August 18 ♦ 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon
Rhinelander Gallery

Meet principal investigators, researchers, and managers of large-scale data sets which are publicly available for use. Each exhibit showcases a major data set or multiple data resources of tremendous value for primary and secondary analysis. Representatives are available to talk about the nature of these data sets, their analytic potential, and issues relating to access and use including the development of state-of-the-art Internet services to access data sets. This is an opportunity for conference participants to learn about these data sets and their potential for research and teaching. All meeting participants, including students, are encouraged to attend.

1. General Social Survey
Presenter: Tom W. Smith, National Opinion Research Center, University of Chicago, 1155 East 60th Street, Chicago, IL 60637; phone (312) 753-7877; fax (312) 753-7886; email: smitht@norcmail.uchicago.edu.

The Directorate for the General Social Survey (GSS) of the National Opinion Research Center, University of Chicago, monitors social change in the United States. Since 1972, the GSS has gathered data on contemporary American society in order to monitor and explain trends and constants in attitudes, behaviors, and attributes of the adult population. These high quality data are easily accessible to a broad-based user community, including researchers, teachers in colleges and universities, students at undergraduate and graduate levels, business and corporate planners, journalists, and public officials who need to understand the pulse of our country in their work. The 20 national probability samples include interviews of 32,380 respondents. Of the 2,400 items that have been asked, there are time trends for over 900 items.

Three recent developments regarding the GSS and the International Social Survey Program (ISSP) are featured: 1) The GSS Data and Information Retrieval System (GSSDIRS). This new Web product links together codebook, trends, bibliography, project reports, and other documentation; permits on-line analysis and data sub-setting; and provides the latest information via an announcement section, contact with the GSS staff, and a GSS newsgroup. 2) The 1996 GSS. Information on the new GSS items on gender, emotions, market exchange, giving and volunteering, mental health, race church attendance, national security, and genetic testing. 3) The ISSP. Information on the new ISSP modules on national identity and the role of government, a cumulative 1985-1992 CD-ROM file, methodological research, and the expansion of the ISSP into new countries. (See below.)

2. International Social Survey Program
Presenter: Tom W. Smith, National Opinion Research Center, University of Chicago, 1155 East 60th Street, Chicago, IL 60637; phone (312) 753-7877; fax (312) 753-7886; email: smitht@norcmail.uchicago.edu.

The International Social Survey Program (ISSP) is the cross-between the General Social Survey (GSS) and its counterparts in Germany, Britain, and Australia. Studies on 11 different topics from the environment to social inequality have been carried out. There are now 25 member countries participating in the ISSP. It is a valuable resource for researchers undertaking comparative analysis or studying attitudes, behaviors, and attributes of adult populations in other countries.
3. The Wisconsin Longitudinal Study

Presenters: Robert M. Hauser and Taissa S. Hauser, Department of Sociology, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 1180 Observatory Drive, Madison, WI 53706; phone (608) 262-2182; fax (608) 265-5389; email: wls@ssc.wisc.edu; homepage: http://dpls.dacc.wisc.edu.

The Wisconsin Longitudinal Study (WLS) is a 35-year study of the social and economic life course among 10,000 women who graduated from Wisconsin high schools in 1957, and who have been followed up at ages 25, 36, and 53-54. Data from the original respondents or their parents from 1957 to 1975 cover social background, youthful and adult aspirations, schooling, military service, family formation, labor market experience, and social participation. The 1992-93 surveys cover occupational histories; income, assets, and economic transfers; social and economic characteristics of parents, siblings, and children; and mental and physical health and well-being. Parallel interviews have been carried out with siblings in 1977 and 1993-94. WLS data and documentation are available on the world wide web at the above address.

4. The National Survey of Families and Households

Presenter: James A. Sweet, Center for Demography, University of Wisconsin-Madison, 4412 Social Science Building, Madison, WI 53706; phone (608) 262-2182; fax (608) 262-8400; email: nsfhhelp@ssc.wisc.edu.

In 1987-88 a national sample of 13,002 respondents were interviewed about numerous aspects of family life. Members of the original sample, along with their current and ex-spouse/partners, were reinterviewed in 1992-94. In addition interviews were completed with a son or daughter age 10-23 and with a parent of the respondent.

The resulting dataset, the National Survey of Families and Households (NSFH), includes information on family composition and history, relationship with spouse/partner, parenting practices, relationships with parents and kin, help given to and received from others, work and income, division of household labor, involvement with children living elsewhere, well-being, family attitudes and opinions, and a variety of other topics. Data are available from the Center for Demography at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. (The 1987-88 data are also available from ICPSR and other sources.)

5. The Panel Study of Income Dynamics

Presenters: Sandra Hofferth and Frank Stafford, Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48106-1248; phone (313) 763-5131 or (313) 963-0323; fax (313) 747-4575; email: psid_staff@umich.edu; homepage: http://www.umich.edu/~psid/.

Now in its twenty-ninth year of data collection, the Panel Study of Income Dynamics (PSID) is a longitudinal survey of a representative sample of U.S. men, women, and children and the families in which they reside. Data on employment, income, wealth, housing, and food expenditures, transfer income, and marital and fertility behavior have been collected annually since 1968. From 5,000 families in 1968, the study has grown to include over 10,000 families, including more than 2,000 families of Cuban, Puerto Rican, and Mexican descent, interviewed from 1990 through 1995. The study has collected high quality intergenerational data on economic capacity, income, and the transmission of wealth, as well as information on such issues as the long-term effects of life events (early childbearing, divorce, illness) on workers and their families, the relationship of business cycles to economic well-being, and the interaction of labor mobility and geographic mobility. In recent years, the value of the PSID has been further extended through matching PSID respondents to Census geocodes, permitting the addition of valuable neighborhood characteristics to individual files. The coverage of the PSID will be expanded in 1997 with the addition of an immigrant refresher sample and a child development supplement covering children from birth through age 12.

The Panel Study of Income Dynamics homepage is available to Internet browsers worldwide. The most recent versions of all PSID data and supplements can be downloaded from this site. Documentation, errata, and a newsletter are also available.

6. Health Retirement Study and Survey of Asset and Health Dynamics among the Oldest Old

Presenter: David Howell, Survey Research Center, Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48106-1248; phone (313) 936-1830; fax (313) 646-1186; email: hrsquest@isr.umich.edu or aheadask@isr.umich.edu.

The Institute for Social Research (ISR) at the University of Michigan is featuring two major data sets available for multi-investigator use, the Health and Retirement Study (HRS) and the Survey of Asset and Health Dynamics Among the Oldest Old (AHEAD). Both are nationally representative, longitudinal studies that provide new insights into why people retire and how they cope with declining health in later life.

HRS is an ongoing study of 12,600 individuals focusing on the transition to retirement. It provides a nationally representative sample of people ages 51 to 61 (in 1992), and their spouses. These individuals will be reinterviewed every two years to measure factors that affect work, retirement, health and financial decisions. The HRS is the most extensive data collection of this type ever undertaken and will provide up-to-date information for developing policy options.

AHEAD is a companion study to the HRS providing a nationally representative sample of persons age 70 and older (in 1993) and their spouses, total of 8,200 individuals. These respondents will be followed over time, including those entering nursing homes. Interviews with next of kin after the death of a respondent will yield data on the health care costs and family caregiving in the period before death. Over time, HRS and AHEAD surveys will be merged into one study, as respondents from the HRS sample grow older and reach age 70 and beyond.

7. The National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health

Presenter: J. Richard Udry, The ADD Health Study, Carolina Population Center, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, University Square, 123 West Franklin Street, Chapel Hill, NC 27516-3997; phone (919) 966-2829; fax (919) 966-7019; email: udry@unc.edu.

The National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health (ADD HEALTH) is a longitudinal study which provides data uniquely qualified to address the most important questions about adolescent health and health behaviors today. A national sample of 7th to 12th grade students completed 90,000 in-school questionnaires during the 1994-1995 school year. Twenty thousand of these students and their parents were interviewed in their homes during the summer of 1995 and re-interviewed during the summer of 1996.

ADD HEALTH provides a comprehensive view of the health and health behaviors of adolescents including: (1) physical, mental, and emotional health status, including self-reported and measured height and weight, injuries, physical disabilities, sleep disorders, self-esteem, suicide ideation; and, (2) health behaviors, including eating disorders, substance use and abuse, weapon carrying and use, measures used to prevent HIV and other sexually transmitted infections, sexual behavior, contraceptive use, nutrition, exercise, and use of health services.

The study’s unique design provides an unprecedented view of how an adolescent’s health is shaped by the characteristics of the world in which he or she lives. (1) Interviews with a parent of each adolescent provide independent measures of the adolescent’s family environment. (2) Peer influence is assessed through network data collected for same and opposite sex friends as well as for romantic partners. (3) School policies and characteristics are reported by school administrators in a short questionnaire. (4) A rich data set of local indicators will provide information about constraints and opportunities in the local community. For further information, contact Jo Jones, Project Manager, by e-mail at jo_jones@unc.edu.

8. Children of the National Longitudinal Survey of Youth

Presenter: Paula Baker, Center for Human Resource Research, 921 Chatham Lane, Suite 200, Columbus, OH 43221-2418; phone (614) 442-7300; fax (614) 442-7329; email: baker@pewter.chrr.ohio-state.edu.

The Children of the NLSY79 is a longitudinal data set that focuses on the cognitive, socioemotional, and physiological development of the children of the mothers in the NLSY79. Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor, with support from NICHD, the NLSY Child is an outgrowth of the National Longitudinal Surveys of Youth. Started in 1986 and repeated biennially, the NLSY Child uses mother report and direct assessment to gauge the children’s cognitive ability, temperament, motor and social development, behavior problems, perceived self-competence, and home environment. Since 1988, information has been gathered from older children on child-parent interaction, family decision-making, school attitudes, work activities, peer relationships, religious service attendance, substance use, and sexual activity. The 1994 Survey round replaced, for children 15 and older, the child assessment series with an hour-long CAPI interview on schooling, employment, training, family experiences, health and attitudes. Repeated in 1996, the young adult also includes a confidential self-report on substance use, sexual activity, non-normative activities, computer use, and prosocial behavior. By 1996, the child sample ranges in age from birth to early twenties. The Center for Human Resource Research (CHRR) issues the maternal and child data and documentation at nominal cost on CD-ROM. Topical research bibliographies and a child assessment handbook are available at no charge to users.

9. Mexican Migration Project

The Mexican Migration Project data are based on representative samples of 30 Mexican communities that send migrants to the United States, each one paired with a U.S. sample of out-migrants who have settled north of the border. The dataset contains information on the first and last trips of all people who have ever migrated to the United States, plus complete life histories of household heads with U.S. experience. These data have formed the basis for numerous articles in ASR and AJS and are publicly available to any and all users via the world wide web.

10. Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research

Presenter: Richard C. Rockwell, Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR), The University of Michigan, PO Box 1248, Ann Arbor, MI 48106; phone (313) 764-2570; fax (313) 764-8041; email: richard@icpsr.umich.edu, homepage: http://www.icpsr.umich.edu.

The Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR), located within the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan, is a membership-based, not-for-profit organization serving member colleges and universities in the United States and abroad. ICPSR provides access to the world's largest archive of computerized social science data, training facilities for the study of quantitative social analysis techniques, and resources for social scientists using advanced computer technologies. In addition to information provided at the poster session, further information may be found on ICPSR's home page, listed above.

11. Sociometrics Data Archives

Presenters: Elizabeth A. McKean and Jacqueline M. Cashen, Sociometrics Corporation, 170 State Street, Suite 260, Los Altos, CA 94022; phone (415) 949-3282; fax (415) 949-3299; email: xbh05@forsythe.stanford.edu.

Sociometrics Corporation is a research and development firm specializing in social science research applications. Of particular interest to sociologists are the company's five topically-focused data archives: the Data Archive on Adolescent Pregnancy and Pregnancy Prevention, the American Family Data Archive, the Data Archive of Social Research on Aging, the Maternal Drug Abuse Data Archive, and the AIDS/STD Data Archive.

Several features make these archives useful data resources. Search and retrieval software allows a user to search for variables of interest across the data sets in an archive or within an individual data set. An electronic link allows the user to call up a graphic image of the questionnaire used to gather the data. Finally, the data archives come with Data Extract software, which allows for easy production of SPSS or SAS program statements for any group of variables defined by the user with the Search and Retrieval software. The exhibit will describe and demonstrate all of these features, using the National Survey of Adolescent Males as a highlighted example.

12. Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation

Presenter: Veronica Fellerath, Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation, 3 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10016; phone (212) 532-3200, X264; fax (212) 684-0832; email: feller@mdrcnyc.mhs.compuserve.com.

Manpower Demonstration Research Corporation (MDRC), a non-profit social policy research organization located in New York City and San Francisco, makes available data files (and documentation) from a number of MDRC evaluations of welfare-to-work and youth programs. For example, the public use file for the California GAIN evaluation contains demographic data and three-year AFDC and earnings follow-up data (sample size: 33,000). The exhibit will provide information on all available files and how to obtain them.

Presenter: Dale L. Tuttle, The Consortium for International Earth Science Information Network (CIESIN), 2250 Pierce Road, University Center, MI 48710; phone (517) 797-2700; fax (517) 797-2622; email: dtuttle@ciesin.org, homepage: http://www.ciesin.org or http://sedac.ciesin.org.

The Consortium for International Earth Science Information Network (CIESIN) is a non-profit organization established to provide access to the expanding universe of data and information relevant to the understanding of human interactions with the global environment. CIESIN specializes in global and regional information network development, science data management, and decision-support analysis. CIESIN also provides internet training, education and technical consultation services.

CIESIN is the World Data Center A (WDC-A) for Human Interactions in the Environment and operates the Socioeconomic Data and Applications Center (SEDAC); one of nine National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) data centers in the Earth Observing Data and Information System (EOSDIS). CIESIN and SEDAC provide a wide variety of data and information; ranging from international environmental treaties and remotely-sensed data, to visualization tools which enable users to interactively view U.S. census data.

14. JSTOR (Journal Storage)

Presenter: Kristen Garlock, JSTOR User Support Librarian, 1152 Shapiro Undergraduate Library, Ann Arbor, MI 48109-1185; phone (313) 764-4426; fax (313) 764-6849; email: lynae@umich.edu; homepage: http://www.jstor.org/.

JSTOR (Journal Storage) is currently a world wide web database of core scholarly journals in the fields of ecology, economics, and history. A sophisticated search engine supports full-text searching of the entire runs of fourteen journals (over one million pages) and presentation of page images allows viewing of the articles exactly as they appear in print. JSTOR will soon expand to include journals in the fields of sociology, political science, population studies, and mathematics, as well as other fields, making it possible for scholars not only to search important journals in a particular field, but also to search across titles from a variety of related disciplines.

15. National Archives

Center for Electronic Records and Textual Reference Division

Presenter: Theodore J. Hull, Center for Electronic Records, National Archives, 8601 Adelphi Road, College Park, MD 20740-6001; phone (301) 713-6645; fax (301) 713-6911; email: theodore.hull@arch2.nara.gov.

The National Archives is the federal agency responsible for preservation of and access to the permanently valuable electronic records of the federal government. The Center for Electronic Records has custody of the permanently valuable computerized records of federal agencies transferred to the National Archives for long-term preservation. The Center has approximately 23,000 computerized data files from over 100 federal agencies in all three branches of government. Topics reflected in the Center’s holdings include agricultural data, attitudinal data, demographic data, economic and financial statistics, education data, environmental data, health and social services data, international data, military data, and scientific and technological data. The poster presentation will highlight the availability of data files in the Center’s custody of particular interest to sociologists.

16. U.S. Department of Education

National Center for Education Statistics

The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) disseminates large national data sets on CD-ROM with electronic codebooks and via the Internet at its world wide web page listed above. Current data releases include school and institutional censuses for basic data on enrollments and finances at the elementary, secondary, and post secondary levels of public and private education. More detailed data are available through repeated cross-sectional surveys of teachers and faculty. A Random Digit Dialing (RDD) household survey is used to collect population based education data on topics such as early childhood education, school safety, and adult education. In addition, the NCES collection of longitudinal data on elementary, secondary, and postsecondary cohorts continues. Longitudinal data are available from seniors in 1972, 1982, and 1992 as well as for students who have just started their post secondary education and students who just completed their baccalaureate. The NCES web site and data resources available on-line will be demonstrated.

17. U.S. Department of Justice

Bureau of Justice Statistics

Presenter: Bruce M. Taylor, Bureau of Justice Statistics, 633 Indiana Ave. NW, Washington, DC 20531; phone (202) 633-3051; fax (202) 307-5846; email: bruce@ojp.usdoj.gov.
The Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) collects, analyzes, publishes, and disseminates statistics on crime, victims of crime, criminal offenders, and operations of justice systems at all levels of government throughout the United States. Published information is distributed through the National Criminal Justice Research Service. Data files are disseminated by the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data, many on CD-ROM and diskette. Files typically include electronic documentation, along with SAS and SPSS control cards. All BJS files are now available via the Internet. BJS is currently working to provide worldwide web access to all of its products that will include hypertext links among publications, table spreadsheets, data documentation, and data files.

18. U.S. Department of Labor

The National Longitudinal Surveys (NLS) are a set of surveys, each of which has gathered information at multiple points in time on the labor market experiences of five groups of American men and women. Each of the NLS survey groups consists of 5,000 or more members, some of whom have been surveyed over many decades. NLS data have served as an important tool for economists, sociologists, and other researchers in the study of determinants of labor supply, earnings and income distribution, job search and separation, labor market inequities, and human capital investments.

19. National Institutes of Health
National Institute on Aging, Demography and Population Epidemiology Branch
Presenter: Nancy Moss, National Institutes of Health, National Institute on Aging, 7201 Wisconsin Avenue, Gateway Building, Room 533, Bethesda, MD 20892-9205; phone (301) 496-3138; fax (301) 402-0051; email: mossn@gw.nia.nih.gov.

   The Demography and Population Epidemiology Branch of the Behavioral and Social Science Research Program at the National Institute on Aging sponsors a variety of surveys that address the social, economic, and health characteristics of the population age 50+. Several of these are longitudinal, like the Health and Retirement Survey and the National Long Term Care Survey, and are designed for sophisticated modeling. Many are geocoded and linked to data from different agencies, including Census, Health Care Financing, and Social Security. NIA also sponsors comparative data sources such as the Luxembourg Income Study. Virtually all of the surveys are for public use and are available from worldwide web sites or from principal investigators.

20. National Institutes of Health
National Institute of Child Health and Development,
Demographic and Behavioral Sciences Branch
Presenter: Christine Bachrach, NICHD, 6100 Executive Blvd., Room 8B13, Bethesda MD 20892-7510; phone (301) 496-1174, fax (301) 496-0962; email: BachrachC@hd01.nichd.nih.gov.

   The Demographic and Behavioral Sciences Branch (DBSB) of the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), supports large-scale data collection activities that contribute to research on the determinants and consequences of demographic change. Surveys conducted in the United States with NICHD support include the National Longitudinal Survey of Youth-Child Supplement, the National Survey of Family Growth, the National Survey of Adolescent Males, the National Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Health (ADD HEALTH), the Intergenerational Panel Study of Parents and Children, the National Survey of Families and Households, and others. The program also supports data collection activities for research in international settings. Investigators supported through DBSB are strongly encouraged to place data sets in the public domain. With increasingly complex study designs, data files now often link individual data with information about other individuals and geographic contexts, as well as data from administrative records. These advances have required the development of procedures for protecting the privacy of research subjects in the sharing of data.

21. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Health Statistics, Data Dissemination Branch
Presenter: Sharon Ramirez, National Center for Health Statistics, Data Dissemination Branch, 6525 Belcrest Road, Room 1064, Hyattsville, MD 20782; phone (301) 436-6154; fax (301) 436-3797; email: slr1@nch10a.em.cdc.gov; homepage: http://www.cdc.gov/nchswww/nchshome.htm.
National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) is the principal vital and health statistics agency of the Federal Government. NCHS collects, analyzes, and disseminates data covering the full spectrum of concerns in the health field from birth to death, onset and diagnosis of illness and disability, and the utilization of health care resources in the United States. Data are disseminated in published reports, electronic media including CD-ROM, diskettes, and the Internet’s world wide web at the above address.

22. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Health Statistics, Division of Vital Statistics, Mortality Statistics Branch
Presenter: Donna L. Hoyert, National Center for Health Statistics Mortality Statistics Branch, Division of Vital Statistics, 6525 Belcrest Road, Room 840, Hyattsville, MD 20782; phone (301) 436-8884; fax (301) 436-7066; email: dlh7@nch08a.em.cdc.gov; homepage: http://www.cdc.gov/nchswww/nchshome.htm.

National and subnational (state, local) mortality data from the National Center for Health Statistics are available from vital records filed in each of the states for deaths of all ages, infant, fetal, and linked birth/infant deaths. Supplemental data at the national level are available from periodic surveys of samples of recent deaths. Data are released in publications, CD-ROMs, magnetic tape, CDC WONDER, and the Internet.

23. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Health Statistics, Natality, Marriage, and Divorce Statistics Branch
Presenter: Stephanie J. Ventura, National Center for Health Statistics, Natality, Marriage, and Divorce Statistics Branch, 6525 Belcrest Road, Room 840, Hyattsville, MD 20782; phone (301) 436-8954, ext. 131; fax (301) 436-7066; email: sjv1@nch08a.em.cdc.gov.

The National Center for Health Statistics collects and publishes information on a wide variety of demographic and health characteristics reported on the birth certificate for all births occurring in the United States. Demographic characteristics include age, race, Hispanic origin, education, birthplace, marital status, residence, live-birth order, sex, and month and day of birth. Health information includes month prenatal care began, number of prenatal visits, medical risk factors, tobacco use, alcohol use, obstetric procedures, attendant at birth, place of delivery, method of delivery, complications of labor and/or delivery, period of gestation, birthweight, Apgar score, abnormal conditions of the newborn, congenital anomalies, and plurality.

24. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Health Statistics, National Hospital Discharge Survey
Presenter: Lola Jean Kozak, National Center for Health Statistics, Division of Health Care Statistics, 6525 Belcrest Road, Room 9-52, Hyattsville, MD 20782; phone (301) 436-7125; fax (301) 436-5452; email: ljk@nch09a.em.cdc.gov.

The National Hospital Discharge Survey (NHDS), conducted continuously since 1965, collects data from a sample of inpatient records obtained from a national sample of short-stay hospitals. The survey produces national estimates of hospital use by demographic characteristics, diagnoses, and surgical and nonsurgical procedures.

25. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Health Statistics, The National Health Interview Survey
Presenter: Gerry Hendershot, National Center for Health Statistics, 6525 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782; phone (301) 436-7085, ext. 142; fax (301) 436-3484; email: geh2@nch08a.em.cdc.gov; homepage: http://www.cdc.gov/nchswww/nhis.htm.

Alcohol, drug abuse, violence, and HIV/AIDS are just a few of the health-related topics covered by this nationally representative annual survey of the household population of the United States. For about $20, users can purchase a CD-ROM with micro data files and documentation for all of the face-to-face interviews conducted in a year, with information on about 100,000 sample persons. A basic questionnaire module provides a wide range of demographic and health variables, and supplemental questionnaires provide additional information on health topics such as managed care, health insurance, child health, and disability. Annual surveys have been conducted since 1957, permitting long-term trend analyses during a period of rapid change in social and health behavior. Some special topics questionnaires have a longitudinal design, such as the 1984-90 Longitudinal Study of Aging and the 1989-92 Teenage Attitudes and Practices Survey.
26. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
   Center for Chronic Disease Prevention, Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System
   Presenter: Laurie Anderson, Behavioral Risk Factor
   Survey, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 1600 Clifton Road, Mail Stop K30, Atlanta, GA 30333; phone (770) 488-5291; fax (770) 488-5874; email: laal@ccdosal.em.cdc.gov.

   The Behavior Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) is the largest continuously conducted telephone health survey in the world. It enables the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), state health departments, and other health agencies to monitor modifiable risk factors for chronic diseases and other leading causes of death. The BRFSS is used by all states, the District of Columbia and three territories, through funds disbursed by CDC. Random digit dialing telephone interviews are conducted each month with a sample of adults in each state. Annually, approximately 125,000 interviews are conducted.

   The BRFSS provides data for many purposes including assessing risks for chronic diseases, identifying demographic differences and trends in health-related behaviors, designing and monitoring health interventions and services, addressing emerging health issues, and measuring progress toward achieving state and national objectives. The BRFSS can be adapted to meet state-specific needs, while allowing state-to-state comparisons. The BRFSS can be used to assess special populations, such as military personnel and members of health maintenance organizations.

27. Council of Professional Associations on Federal Statistics

   The Council of Professional Associations on Federal Statistics (COPAFS) is an independent organization established to act as an advocate for the development and dissemination of high-quality federal statistics. Through COPAFS, members have an opportunity to review and have an impact on issues including timeliness, quality, confidentiality, and relevance. One of the major goals is to make members of the federal statistical agencies aware of the needs of data users. COPAFS identifies areas where improvements are needed in federal statistical programs and suggests strategies to bring about these improvements. (The American Sociological Association is an active member of COPAFS.)

Minority Fellowship Program Fellows

The following MFP Fellows are participating in this year's Annual Meeting Program. ASA and the 1996 Program Committee are pleased to highlight these professional activities of current and former Fellows. The Minority Fellowship Program (MFP), in operation since 1974, has been a significant factor in recruiting minorities into sociology. Fellows continue to make important contributions to the growth of the discipline. The Association takes great satisfaction in acknowledging this form of professional activity.

Social Causes of Violence: Crafting a Science Agenda

ASA members ......................................................... $10
Non-member individuals/institutions ......................... $15
Add $3 for postage outside the U.S.

Social Causes of Violence: Crafting a Science Agenda highlights recent research and identifies priorities for further study. Based on a workshop of leading social scientists, the volume addresses such questions as: What social factors are central to understanding violence? What leads individuals to or away from violence? And, how do societal institutions respond to and affect the likelihood of violence? Chapters provide a concise, yet informative picture of what we know, and what we do not yet know, about the links between violence and demographic characteristics (e.g., race, gender, region); the prevalence and correlates of violence in families, schools, and communities; manifestations of violence in gangs; the impact of guns and drugs; and the effectiveness of incarceration. The book concludes with recommendations for crafting and implementing a national research initiative on violence.

Guide to Graduate Departments of Sociology, 1996

ASA student members .............................................. $20
ASA members/non-member students ......................... $30
Non-member individuals/institutions ....................... $50
Add $5 for postage outside the U.S.

The 1996 Guide to Graduate Departments of Sociology provides comprehensive information for academic administrators, advisors, faculty, students, and a host of others seeking information on social science departments in the U.S., Canada, and abroad. Included are listings for nearly 250 graduate departments of sociology. In addition to name and rank, faculty are identified by highest degree held, institution and date of degree, and areas of specialty interest. Special programs, tuition costs, types of financial aid, and student enrollment statistics are given for each department, along with a listing of recent PhDs with dissertation titles and current positions. Indices of faculty, special programs, and PhDs awarded are provided.

Directory of Sociologists in Policy and Practice, 1996

ASA members ......................................................... $15
Non-member individuals/institutions ....................... $30
Add $4 for postage outside the U.S.

The Directory of Sociologists in Policy and Practice is the latest in ASA's Directory Series to provide accessible and valuable information on sociologists for public use. This directory is specially designed as a resource to help local, state, and federal agencies; non-profit and profit organizations; and other groups identify sociologists with expertise relevant to their needs. Includes the address, telephone number, fax number, e-mail address, degrees, specialized training, and methodological areas of expertise for approximately 500 ASA members. Experts are also indexed by substantive area. The original survey questionnaire is included as an appendix.

Social Science Research
A Quarterly Journal of Social Science Methodology and Quantitative Research

EDITOR
James D. Wright

“Since its appearance in 1972, Social Science Research has been publishing pathbreaking papers representing a broad range of social science research areas. Its articles typically are new and innovative treatments of issues of broad interdisciplinary importance. In addition, it has published many now-classic papers involving the application of newly developed quantitative techniques. Social Science Research is must reading for all those who wish to keep up with current developments in the social and behavioral sciences.”

—LOWELL HARGENS
Ohio State University, Columbus

Social Science Research publishes papers devoted to quantitative social science research and methodology. The journal features articles that illustrate the use of quantitative methods in the empirical solution of substantive problems, and emphasizes those concerned with issues or methods that cut across traditional disciplinary lines. Special attention is given to methods that have been used by only one particular social science discipline, but that may have application to a broader range of areas.

Dragan Milovanovic

For many years, the importance of sexual, ethnic, and social factors in studying crime and its control was minimized or ignored. It is clear, however, that these categories are of critical importance in understanding crime and societal responses to it. Featuring work by some of the most important scholars in critical criminology, this volume focus on each of these important considerations and examines their interrelationship and implications for society.

Gay Rights, Military Wrongs
Political Perspectives on Lesbians and Gays in the Military
Edited by Craig A. Rimmerman,
Hobart and William Smith Colleges

This critical overview of President Clinton’s “Don’t Ask, Don’t Tell” compromise includes a comparison between Truman’s promise to integrate the military racially in 1948 and Clinton’s promise to ban discrimination against lesbians and gays; public opinion on the controversy; comparisons between how women, African Americans, and homosexuals are treated by the military; the response of Congress and the judiciary; the ban as a political spectacle and its implications for the gay community; and how the compromise has been implemented.

Comparative Delinquency
India and the United States
Clayton A. Hartjen, Rutgers University and Sesa Rajani Kumari Kathiyn

Delinquency laws are reviewed and delinquent behavior in India, the United States, and other countries is described, based on official statistics and surveys. A causal model incorporating strain, learning, and control theories of delinquent behavior is tested, with extensive discussion of the delinquency rates in the two countries. The study contends that delinquent behavior varies due to social/economic/cultural factors that affect the interpersonal associations of young people, the forms of social control, and the pressures they experience.

Sociology in a Changing World, Fourth Edition
William Kornblum
Widely known for its emphasis on the reality of social change and its impact on individuals, groups, and societies, Sociology in a Changing World carefully balances contemporary and classical theory and research. By applying all the major perspectives of sociology without undue emphasis to any single approach, Kornblum displays an unmatched standard of scholarship.

Sociology: An Introduction, Fifth Edition
Christopher Doob
An extensive revision marks this successful Harcourt Press title. New Sociology in Action sections demonstrate the practical uses of sociological concepts, ideas, and theories. The built-in study guide provides chapter summaries, a glossary of key terms, multiple-choice questions, and essay question examples.

Private Troubles and Public Issues: Social Problems in the Postmodern Era
David Simon
Joel Henderson
Private Troubles and Public Issues: Social Problems in the Postmodern Era employs the paradigm advocated by C. Wright Mills in The Sociological Imagination, which provides an integrated view of social problems. Critical thinking exercises at the end of each chapter illustrate the use of social science methodologies, such as content analysis, surveys, and qualitative analysis.

Elements of Criminal Justice
James A. Inciardi
Bold and brief, this new text offers the most current data and research in criminal justice in a concise, less expensive, paperback format. Elements of Criminal Justice is built on Inciardi's internationally recognized research in diverse areas such as drug policy, substance abuse, and AIDS prevention. It also draws extensively on his personal experience in law enforcement and corrections.

Inequality by Design
Cracking the Bell Curve Myth
Claude S. Fischer, Michael Hout, Martin Sánchez Jankowski, Samuel R. Lucas, Ann Swidler, and Kim Voss
"Inequality by Design devastates the claims in The Bell Curve. A group of highly respected and thoughtful social scientists from Berkeley have produced a succinct, well written, and powerfully argued book. Because it is bound to inform the national public policy debate, the timing of this publication could not be better."

A new series...

THE NEW SOCIAL FORMATIONS: BOOKS RETHINKING SOCIAL, Political, AND MORAL REALITIES
Charles Lemert, general editor

This series responds to rapidly evolving and deep structural changes of global proportions. Social foundations are being reshaped by forces that compromise prospects for social progress among the poor—and even threaten those who struggle to hold their ground in the traditionally secure middle class. Virtually every society today must contend with an undeniable contradiction: people know and expect more because information travels so fast, yet their hopes are frustrated by an equally pervasive decline in economic and social resources. The crisis is too easily defined by references to the erosion of traditional values or, alternatively, by celebrating the emergent politics of identity.

We will be publishing books that seek new understandings of social, political, and moral life shaped by these changing realities.

The Human Condition
(A Global Perspective)

What is the human condition? It's the social institutions we've created, the laws we live by, our beliefs, values, and ethics.

We provide thousands of resources for better insight into the complexities of the human condition and our rapidly changing global society.

Sociological Abstracts (sa) and Social Planning/Policy & Development Abstracts (SOPODA) contain a spectrum of information directly related to your areas of expertise and interest.

Drawing from more than 2,000 journals published in 35 countries, we present abstracts of articles, in addition to books and conference papers. Our bibliographic entries will guide you to important book and other media reviews. All expertly indexed for easy access.

You will find sa and SOPODA available in a variety of media: print, online, and on the sociofile CD-ROM.

We guarantee a global perspective on the human condition.

Unconditionally!

Portrait of American Jews
The Last Half of the Twentieth Century
Samuel C. Heilman

Heilman argues that the same conditions that have allowed Jews to live in relative security since the 1950s in the U.S. have also presented them with a greater challenge than did the adversity and upheaval of earlier years.

Sociology: Discovering Society
Jean Stockard, U. of Oregon

Through a unique “lens” that blends research and its methodology, theory, and social issues, this comprehensive text gives students a penetrating look at sociology. Its strong research focus—including cutting-edge studies on race, class, and gender—also offers an inside look at how sociologists approach their work. Featured Research Studies examine current issues while providing a close-up of field research methodology. Boxed profiles personalize sociological research, while other boxes explore social issues and the ways in which sociological analyses can address them. And, to deepen students’ understanding, special inserts ask readers to apply concepts to their own lives. End-of-chapter learning tools include Internet assignments along with tips for searching for data; a book-specific web site and a complete set of supplements also support the text. 0-534-24060-7. 640 pps. ©1997.

Sociology in Our Times
Diana Kendall, Austin Community College

More than a survey of sociological theory and research, this text uses compelling social issues and poignant first-person accounts to demonstrate how sociology speaks to the real conditions of our times. Kendall draws upon a wide variety of sources to emphasize the diversity of American society and the ways in which race, class, and gender shape individuals’ experiences. The book is accompanied by a full set of supplements, including a book-specific web site. 0-534-21024-4. 700 pps. ©1996.

Marriages and Families: Making Choices in a Diverse Society, 6th Edition
Mary Ann Lamanna, U. of Nebraska-Omaha; Agnes Riedmann, Diablo Valley College

With its inclusion of current research plus a stronger emphasis on making choices in an exceedingly diverse society, this book provides practical insight into today’s wide range of relationships, marriages, and families. A focus on decision-making continues to help students gain a better understanding of themselves, their family situations, and the broader society that can also affect their personal decisions. The up-to-date research and examples emphasize diversity issues; for instance, with a new section on the legal implications of marriage for gays and lesbians. A full set of supplements includes a web site and a video with four, 30-minute segments on gender roles, communication, conflict, and divorce. 0-534-50553-8. 752 pps. ©1997.
