American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
1. Brandeis University

Job 18123: Jack Meyerhoff Chair of American Environmental Studies

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 11/26/2022
Institution: Brandeis University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Jack Meyerhoff Chair of American Environmental Studies
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Environmental Sociology , Urban Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology in the School of Arts and Sciences at Brandeis University invites applications for a tenure-track position, at the rank of Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor, to hold the title of The Jack Meyerhoff Chair of American Environmental Studies. The position would begin in academic year 2023-2024. This position is subject to budget approval. We seek candidates whose research addresses environmental justice in the United States, which could include a focus on environmental racism, the disproportionate impacts of climate change, climate related migration, or the impacts of environmental processes and policies on health, housing, or employment. We welcome a variety of disciplinary perspectives and methodological approaches, including historical work, qualitative and quantitative methods, and spatial analysis.

Candidates must have a PhD in Sociology or a related interdisciplinary field. Candidates should have the PhD in hand by June 2023. Applicants should demonstrate potential for high-quality research and a strong commitment to teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. More senior candidates should have a proven publication record and a substantial teaching portfolio. Teaching duties will include graduate and undergraduate courses in the candidate’s area of specialization, including undergraduate courses that can be cross-listed with the American Studies and Environmental Studies Programs, and core courses in Sociology as appropriate.

Dissertation advising in the field of Sociology, undergraduate thesis advising, and service at all levels of the university will also be expected. The course load is two courses each semester. Applicants should submit a cover letter; a curriculum vitae; an article-length writing sample; a statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion; and names and contact information for three referees. Recommendation letters may be requested at a later date.

Brandeis University is committed to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and service. In the statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion, applicants should address how their experiences, interests, commitments, or future goals could promote and build departmental and institutional pluralism, justice, and unity. Finally, applicants should provide a teaching portfolio that includes syllabi and evidence of teaching excellence.

Only online applications will be accepted. Application materials may be uploaded here: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/22186. First consideration will be given to applications received by September 15, 2022, and review of applications will continue until the position is filled. Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee chair: Professor Siri Suh (jssuh@brandeis.edu). Additionally, members of the search committee will be available to meet informally with potential applicants during the ASA meeting in Los Angeles, CA between August 5 and 8. Please contact Professor Suh to arrange a meeting.

At Brandeis, we believe that diversity, equity, and inclusion are essential components of academic excellence. Brandeis University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer that is committed to creating equitable access and opportunities for applicants to all employment positions. Because diversity, equity, and inclusion are at the core of Brandeis’ history and mission, we value and are seeking candidates that represent a variety of social identities, including those that have been underrepresented in higher education, who possess skills that spark innovation, and who, through their scholarly pursuits, teaching, and/or service experiences, bring expertise in building, engaging, and sustaining a pluralistic, just, and inclusive campus community.

Employer Description:
Brandeis University is a private research university in Waltham, Massachusetts. Founded in 1948 as a non-sectarian, coeducational institution sponsored by the Jewish community, Brandeis was established on the site of the former Middlesex University.

Contact: Cheri Hansen
Email: chansen@brandeis.edu
Phone: (781) 736-2631
Website:
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
2. Cornell University

Job 18119: Open-Rank Position(s) in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 8/28/2022
Institution: Cornell University
Department: School of Industrial Labor Relations
Region: Northeast
Title: Open-Rank Position(s) in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Open-Rank Position(s) in Diversity, Equity and Inclusion
ILR School, Cornell University

The ILR School at Cornell University is seeking candidates with expertise in topics related to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) whose record in research, teaching or service has prepared them to contribute to Cornell’s historical commitment to diversity. We have up to two open-rank tenure-track positions set to begin in Fall 2023. Successful candidates will join either the Department of Human Resource Studies and/or Department of Organizational Behavior, based on their particular research and teaching interests. Candidates should demonstrate an ability to publish in top management or relevant disciplinary journals as well as the ability to teach effectively to both undergraduates and graduate students on Cornell’s main campus in Ithaca, New York.

The ILR School offers a particularly appealing home for DEI scholars:

- You will have the chance to join a productive and collegial group of scholars working on similar issues both at ILR and across the other colleges and schools at Cornell.
- You will have access to research and teaching support from ILR WIDE, our new center for Workplace Inclusion and Diversity Education. Recently launched with philanthropic support, ILR WIDE works with faculty to develop and deliver innovative teaching methods, conduct cutting-edge research and establish partnerships with leading organizations to help promote the mission of workplace inclusion and develop approaches that foster a culture of inclusive leadership through diversity education.
- The ILR school is also home the Center for Advanced Human Resources Studies and the Yang Tan Institute for Employment and Disability Studies. Both provide unique access to guest speakers for class and potential research partners. Faculty also have the opportunity to engage with the Center for the Study of Inequality, the Cornell Center for Social Sciences, and the currently forming Racial Justice and Equitable Futures Center, among other research centers.
- Our newly redesigned curriculum provides the opportunity to teach courses focused specifically on topics related to diversity, equity and inclusion. Successful candidates will teach Foundation of Diversity Dynamics. ILR also offers substantial freedom to create and/or customize additional courses around your personal areas of expertise.
- Our students tend to be very interested in social justice issues, which makes for a good teaching experience. Also, our students are extremely bright, hold leadership positions across the university, and motivated to improve the world of work and have a positive impact on society.

We welcome applications at the Assistant, Associate, and Full Professor levels. We are particularly interested in scholars with expertise in topics including (but not limited to): diversity in groups and teams, social inequality, social identity, culture, stereotyping, bias, discrimination, organizational approaches to DEI, and more.
For those candidates unfamiliar with ILR, we are a leading institution of applied social sciences focusing on work, employment, and labor policy issues in the U.S. and internationally. The School offers undergraduate and graduate education as well as career-long learning for professionals. The Human Resource Studies and Organizational Behavior departments are part of a rich intellectual environment for management scholars at Cornell, with strong ties to SC Johnson College of Business (comprised of the Johnson Graduate School of Management, Dyson School of Applied Economics and Management, and Nolan School of Hotel Administration) as well as the Sociology and Psychology Departments.

Cornell University is committed to supporting the work-life balance of its faculty.

To be considered, please apply via Academic Jobs Online at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/22196. All interested candidates should submit a cover letter, vita, research statement, teaching statement, diversity and inclusion statement, and writing sample. We ask candidates at the Assistant Professor level to submit three reference letters. For applications at the Associate and Full Professor levels, we ask that candidates submit the names of three references. Applications from women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged.

We will begin reviewing applications on September 15, 2022, and will continue our review until the position is filled.

Questions about this position can be directed to Professors JR Keller (jrkeller@cornell.edu), Lisa Nishii (lhn5@cornell.edu), Emily Zitek (emily.zitek@cornell.edu) or Devon Proudfoot (devon.proudfoot@cornell.edu).

Diversity and Inclusion are a part of Cornell University’s heritage. We are a recognized employer and educator valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans and Individuals with Disabilities. We also recognize a lawful preference in employment practices for Native Americans living on or near Indian reservations. Cornell University is an innovative Ivy League university and a great place to work. Our inclusive community of scholars, students, and staff impart an uncommon sense of larger purpose, and contribute creative ideas to further the university’s mission of teaching, discovery, and engagement.

Employer Description:

Contact: Professor JR Keller
Email: jrkeller@cornell.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
3. New York University

Job 18108: Open-Rank Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Environmental Policy

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 8/28/2022
Institution: New York University
Department: Robert F. Wagner School of Public Service
Region: Northeast
Title: Open-Rank Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Environmental Policy
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Environmental Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://apply.interfolio.com/109517

Job Description:

Description

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service at New York University invites applications for an open-rank, tenure-track faculty position in the field of environmental policy with appointment to begin September 1, 2023. Applicants must have at least two years of post-doctoral research experience, a demonstrated record of publications and research excellence in the field of environmental policy, and a Ph.D. in a relevant field.

NYU Wagner is a multidisciplinary school that prepares public service leaders to translate ideas into actions that have an effective and lasting impact on the public good. Wagner’s nearly 40 full-time faculty members are trained in a wide variety of disciplines and share a commitment to addressing issues of public importance in their teaching and research. Wagner faculty members collaborate with other schools and departments across the university, including the Departments of Politics, Economics, and Sociology in Arts & Science; School of Law; Stern School of Business; Tandon School of Engineering; and the College of Global Public Health. Successful candidates will teach in our Master of Public Administration program.

We seek faculty candidates who have experience or evidence of the potential for success in teaching a diverse population of students, including first generation students, students from diverse racial and ethnic groups, and international students.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in economics, political science, sociology, public policy, public administration, urban planning, or a related field completed in or before 2020.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, two completed research papers, and a diversity statement describing how they address issues of equity, diversity, and inclusion in their teaching and/or research.

Application review will begin on July 15, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. Early applications are encouraged.

Employer Description:

Contact: Christina Powell
Email: wagner-fac-search@nyu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes

Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18112: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 9/27/2022
Institution: North Carolina State University
Department: Dept of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Racial and Ethnic Relations
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is accepting applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of Sociology with a focus on race to begin Fall 2023. The successful candidate will have an active research and publication agenda and will contribute primarily to the Race, Racism, and Anti-Racism (RRA) graduate program area. The individual hired for this position will conduct research in the substantive area of race. Qualifications include a Ph.D. in sociology or related field by the start date, a strong record of research and publications that demonstrates potential for extramural funding, skills in theory and qualitative and/or quantitative research methods, and a clear commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring students. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their experience, research, teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community, and who can demonstrate an ability to foster an inclusive environment and work with underrepresented students.

Applicants should submit (1) a cover letter that describes their qualifications, research agenda, and teaching experience and interests; (2) a vita; and (3) contact information for three references. Applicants may be contacted for additional materials, such as writing samples and letters of recommendation. To apply, please visit https://jobs.ncsu.edu/postings/search and search for job number PG191931EP. The committee will begin reviewing applications on September 12th, 2022.

Employer Description:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology serves students and the broader public by informing and influencing theory and practice in areas such as gender, class, and ethnic/racial inequalities; work and occupations; archaeological science; family issues; food culture and environments; state formation; social movements; health and the body; and crime and social control. Across this range of interests, the Department collectively values purposeful research that creates new knowledge and addresses pressing social concerns. As part of our university's land-grant mission, we bring a spirit of service to our research and engagement and are dedicated to attracting, recruiting, and retaining students and faculty from all backgrounds.

With about 25 full-time faculty, in addition to staff, lecturers and instructors, the department teaches more than 9,000 students each academic year. At the graduate level, we offer a Ph.D. in Sociology, an M.A. in Sociology, and an M.A. in Anthropology to approximately 70 graduate students. At the undergraduate level, our 500 majors can earn a B.A. in Anthropology, a B.A. in Criminology, a B.A. in Sociology, or a B.S. in Sociology.

Contact: Melvin Thomas
Email: thomas@ncsu.edu
Phone: (919) 515-9019
Website: https://socant.chass.ncsu.edu/

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Job 18113: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 9/27/2022
Institution: North Carolina State University
Department: Dept of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Sex and Gender, Sexualities
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: https://jobs.ncsu.edu/postings/167510

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is accepting applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of Sociology with a focus on gender to begin Fall 2023. Qualifications include a Ph.D. in sociology or related field by the start date, a strong record of research and publications that demonstrates potential for extramural funding, skills in theory and qualitative and/or quantitative research methods, and a clear commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring students. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their experience, research, teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community, and who can demonstrate an ability to foster an inclusive environment and work with underrepresented students. Applicants should submit (1) a cover letter that describes their qualifications, research agenda, and teaching experience and interests; (2) a vita; and (3) contact information for three references. Applicants may be contacted for additional materials, such as writing samples and letters of recommendation. To apply, please visit https://jobs.ncsu.edu/postings/search and search for job number PG191920EP. The committee will begin reviewing applications on September 12th, 2022.

Employer Description:
The Department of Sociology and Anthropology serves students and the broader public by informing and influencing theory and practice in areas such as gender, class, and ethnic/racial inequalities; work and occupations; archaeological science; family issues; food culture and environments; state formation; social movements; health and the body; and crime and social control. Across this range of interests, the Department collectively values purposeful research that creates new knowledge and addresses pressing social concerns. As part of our university's land-grant mission, we bring a spirit of service to our research and engagement and are dedicated to attracting, recruiting, and retaining students and faculty from all backgrounds.

With about 25 full-time faculty, in addition to staff, lecturers and instructors, the department teaches more than 9,000 students each academic year. At the graduate level, we offer a Ph.D. in Sociology, an M.A. in Sociology, and an M.A. in Anthropology to approximately 70 graduate students. At the undergraduate level, our 500 majors may earn a B.A. in Anthropology, a B.A. in Criminology, a B.A. in Sociology, or a B.S. in Sociology.

Contact:
Martha Crowley
Email: mlcrowle@ncsu.edu
Phone: (919) 515-9022
Website: https://socant.chass.ncsu.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
6. North Carolina State University

Job 18114: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 9/27/2022

Institution: North Carolina State University
Department: Dept of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Submission Link: https://jobs.ncsu.edu/postings/167508

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology is accepting applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of Sociology with a focus on criminology to begin Fall 2023. The faculty hired will contribute primarily to the Crime, Law, and Social Control graduate program area. The successful candidate should have an active research agenda that takes a sociological approach to crime and/or social control. Qualifications include a Ph.D. in sociology or related field by the start date, a strong record of research and publications that demonstrates potential for extramural funding, skills in theory and qualitative and/or quantitative research methods, and a clear commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring students. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their experience, research, teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community, and who can demonstrate an ability to foster an inclusive environment and work with underrepresented students. Applicants should submit (1) a cover letter that describes their qualifications, research agenda, and teaching experience and interests; (2) a vita; and (3) contact information for three references. Applicants may be contacted for additional materials, such as writing samples and letters of recommendation. To apply, please visit https://jobs.ncsu.edu/postings/search and search for job number PG191919EP. The committee will begin reviewing applications on September 12th, 2022.

Employer Description:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology serves students and the broader public by informing and influencing theory and practice in areas such as gender, class, and ethnic/racial inequalities; work and occupations; archaeological science; family issues; food culture and environments; state formation; social movements; health and the body; and crime and social control. Across this range of interests, the Department collectively values purposeful research that creates new knowledge and addresses pressing social concerns. As part of our university's land-grant mission, we bring a spirit of service to our research and engagement and are dedicated to attracting, recruiting, and retaining students and faculty from all backgrounds.

With about 25 full-time faculty, in addition to staff, lecturers and instructors, the department teaches more than 9,000 students each academic year. At the graduate level, we offer a Ph.D. in Sociology, an M.A. in Sociology, and an M.A. in Anthropology to approximately 70 graduate students. At the undergraduate level, our 500 majors may earn a B.A. in Anthropology, a B.A. in Criminology, a B.A. in Sociology, or a B.S. in Sociology.

Contact: Stacy De Coster
Email: smcoster@ncsu.edu
Phone: (919) 515-9008
Website: https://socant.chass.ncsu.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
7. Rice University

Job 18121: Research Scientist

Date Position is Available: Summer 2022

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 8/28/2022

Institution: Rice University
Department: Houston Education Research Consortium
Region: Southwest
Title: Research Scientist
Position/Rank: Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Researcher
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Position Summary
The Houston Education Research Consortium (HERC), a program of the Kinder Institute for Urban Research (KIUR) at Rice University, is seeking a full-time Research Scientist with expertise in education research who can design, plan, and implement complex and specialized research projects. The Research Scientist researches projects in close collaboration with HERC’s associate directors and Houston-area partner school districts. They effectively communicate research findings through research briefs and papers, presentations, and conferences to various audiences, including partners and stakeholders. The Research Scientist supervises and trains small research teams. They work in cooperation with our staff grant writer to pursue external research grants.

Salary
$70,000 - $85,000

Essential Functions

- Conducts independent and team-based research studies and specialized research projects
- Effectively communicates and translates research findings through research briefs and papers, presentations, and conferences to various audiences
- Communicates and builds relationships with our school district partners and stakeholders
- Mentors, supervises, and trains researchers by including them in ongoing research in a meaningful manner
- Leads and develops research studies from start to finish, including managing a research team
- Seeks new research grant opportunities
- Performs all other duties as assigned

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. or other Doctoral Degree in sociology, education, other social science, or related field
- Minimum of 3 years of postdoctoral experience in an applied social science research center or organization
- Ability to work and solve problems independently
- Good interpersonal skills such as patience, determination, flexibility, and decisiveness
- Excellent listening, verbal and written communication, analytical, and research skills
- Ability to communicate research findings to multiple audiences, which may include practitioners, community members, students, families, other researchers or academics, and other relevant actors in the education space.
- Excellent scientific and methodological skills with meticulous attention to detail and accuracy
- Proficient in multiple regression (OLS, logistic); familiarity with multilevel models
- Advanced knowledge and skill in the use of Stata, SAS, or R

Preferred Qualifications

- Ph.D. in sociology, education, psychology, public policy, or a related field
Experience developing and managing research projects, managing data and conducting quantitative and qualitative analyses, such as multilevel modeling, causal modeling, quasi-experimental methods, survey design, interviews
Mission-driven with a passion for advancing educational equity
Experience as a Research Analyst or Research Assistant
Can conduct and lead quantitative, qualitative, or mixed methods research
Able to oversee various research projects while managing and mentoring other research staff
Able to interact effectively with internal and external stakeholders
Able to work well with many people and many personalities
Adaptable to change and able to think creatively to address issues

Working Conditions

- Occasional travel
- Evening and/or weekend work as needed
- Optional hybrid work schedule

Rice University is an Equal Opportunity Employer with commitment to diversity at all levels, and considers for employment qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Current Rice University COVID policies, which include vaccination, face mask, testing, gatherings, occupancy limits, and travel policies can be found here: https://coronavirus.rice.edu/policies

Employer Description:

Boasting a 300-acre tree-lined campus in Houston, Rice University is ranked among the nation’s top 20 universities by U.S. News & World Report. Rice has a 6-to-1 undergraduate student-to-faculty ratio, and a residential college system, which supports students intellectually, emotionally and culturally through social events, intramural sports, student plays, lectures series, courses and student government. Developing close-knit, diverse college communities is a strong campus tradition, which is why Rice is highly ranked for best quality of life and best value among private universities.

Contact: Arania Archoleka
Email: aa72@rice.edu
Phone:
Website: https://kinder.rice.edu/

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18117: Full, Associate, or Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 9/27/2022
Institution: Singapore Management University
Department: School of Social Sciences
Region: Asia
Title: Full, Associate, or Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Full Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://smucareers.taleo.net/careersection/smu_ext_ft/jobdetail.ftl?job=2200006Q&tz=GMT%2B08%3A00&tzname=

Job Description:

The School of Social Sciences at Singapore Management University invites applications for two tenure-track positions in sociology at the Full, Associate, or Assistant Professor rank, to commence in July 2023 at the latest. Both positions are open to all specializations in sociology, though for the second position preference will be given to candidates with a research focus on sustainability and climate change or those whose research is situated in Asia. Candidates must demonstrate a strong record of (or high potential for) scholarly research.

The position requires a doctorate in sociology or a related discipline by the date of appointment.

Singapore Management University is a research university committed to an interdisciplinary and integrated curriculum, providing opportunities to work with faculty across the social sciences. The research support is excellent. Salary and benefits are highly competitive. The teaching load is three courses per year for the first four years, and four courses per year thereafter. Undergraduate classes are capped at 45 students.

Full evaluation of applications will start on 12 September 2022. To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by 11:59pm (GMT) on 11 September 2022. Campus visits will be conducted in October and November 2022. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

The application package should be in electronic form (Word or PDF file) and include: (1) a cover letter, (2) an up-to-date curriculum vitae (including a list of three referees), (3) a 1-2 page research statement, (4) a 1-2 page teaching statement, (5) up to three writing samples, and (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness (such as teaching evaluations).

Applicants for the Assistant Professor position should arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent directly to: The Dean’s Office, School of Social Sciences, Singapore Management University, 10 Canning Rise, Level 5, Singapore 179873, or e-mailed to: socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg

Applicants for the Associate and Full Professor position only need to submit the contact information of their three referees. Referees will be contacted for recommendation letters if the applicant is shortlisted.

Further information about the University and the School can be found at https://socsc.smu.edu.sg/

To apply, click here

Employer Description:

A premier university in Asia, the Singapore Management University (SMU) is internationally recognised for its world-class research and distinguished teaching. Established in 2000, SMU's mission is to generate leading-edge research with global impact and to produce broad-based, creative, and entrepreneurial leaders for the knowledge-based economy. SMU's education is known for its highly interactive, collaborative, and project-based approach to learning.

Home to over 12,000 students across undergraduate, postgraduate professional and postgraduate research programmes, SMU comprises seven schools:

- College of Integrative Studies
- School of Accountancy
- Lee Kong Chian School of Business
- School of Economics
- School of Computing and Information Systems

SMU offers a wide range of bachelors', masters', and PhD degree programmes in the disciplinary areas associated with its schools, as well as in multidisciplinary combinations of these areas.

SMU emphasises rigorous, high-impact, multi- and interdisciplinary research that addresses Asian issues of global relevance. SMU faculty members collaborate with leading international researchers and universities around the world, as well as with partners in the business community and public sector. SMU's city campus is a modern facility located in the heart of downtown Singapore, fostering strategic linkages with business, government, and the wider community.

Contact: Jancy Poon
Email: socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022

9. Slover Linett Audience Research

Job 18118: Researcher

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 8/28/2022

Institution: Slover Linett Audience Research
Department: Social research & evaluation in the arts & culture sector
Region: All US Regions
Title: Researcher

Position/Rank: Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Researcher
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Applied Sociology/Evaluation Research, Open to All Specialty Areas

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

For this expansion position, we are seeking a Researcher with a passion for equity in the arts/culture/community field and a demonstrated ability to apply the tools of social research and/or program evaluation to that goal. Researchers and Senior Researchers are the heart of our firm and work on all aspects of our projects, from study design, instrument development and sampling to fieldwork and data collection, analysis, interpretation, reporting writing, and co-presenting findings and recommendations. Our Researchers collaborate with Project Directors/VPs and are supported by the firm’s Research Managers, who help across the firm’s engagements. The ideal candidate will bring experience in social research data-collection and analysis in both qualitative and quantitative forms, the ability to understand and communicate the implications of that data to our clients and the ability to juggle multiple projects while meeting deadlines and staying on budget. Day-to-day responsibilities for this position include:

Research Design:

1. Work with clients to understand their strategic goals and research objectives through active participation in meetings, co-facilitating kickoff and planning workshops, and discussing the project with the Project Director
2. Create and monitor project timelines
3. Design quantitative survey instruments based on client goals, with sensitivity to equitable research practices and the needs, experiences and assets of the audiences/communities of interest in the study
4. Develop survey sampling and analytical plans
5. Design qualitative interview guides, focus group screeners, focus group guides and observation-and-interviewing protocols, with sensitivity to equitable research practices and the needs and experiences of the audiences/communities of interest
6. Participate in and co-lead key touchpoints with the client team, such as instrument reviews

Research Implementation:

1. Monitor and manage recruits for interviews and focus groups in collaboration with our Research Manager/Coordinator
2. Conduct video and in-person interviews, conduct participant observation and in-context intercept interviewing at various public locations, client venues and research facilities, and moderate focus groups
3. Collaborate in qualitative debriefs and meaning making with other project team members
4. Lead client trainings and strategy sessions in collaboration with the Project Director
5. Work with Research Manager/Coordinator to test survey language and programming, then make updates via our survey software (Forsta)
6. Manage and monitor survey launch, reminders and response rates
7. Clean and analyze data in SPSS using syntax to run descriptive statistics, crosstabs, factor analysis, regression analysis, cluster analysis, etc.
8. Create and apply weighting schemes for quantitative data
9. Run and analyze detailed data tables & other analysis outputs

Research Dissemination:

1. Write comprehensive research reports for a range of audiences in both bulleted and narrative text formats, including key findings, implications and both strategic and tactical recommendations
2. Participate in the presentation of reports to clients and discussion of implications and recommendations
3. Create clear, accurate and compelling data visualizations (charts, tables, diagrams, etc.) using Excel, PowerPoint and other programs for our reports and presentations, training documents, etc.
4. Review reports to ensure accuracy, clarity, polish and readability
5. Review the formatting of appendix materials for reports (e.g., research protocols/instruments, detailed data tables and open-ended responses)

- CORE QUALIFICATIONS

The successful candidate will have all of these core qualifications:

1. Experience with social research, including some of the following: quantitative survey research, in-depth interviewing, community-based or participatory research, moderating group discussions, observation and in-context interviewing. (Note: While we welcome qualitatively trained researchers, we need this new hire to bring some experience with quantitative research and analysis.)
2. Experience using research to increase equity and support organizations in making cultural spaces, experiences, or communities-of-practice more welcoming and relevant to all, and a desire to do the same in the arts and culture field
3. Experience conducting research with and in communities of color
4. Ability to write clearly and concisely and tell compelling stories from research data

In addition, candidates should have some or all of these desired qualifications:

1. a demonstrated ability to communicate and collaborate richly with colleagues in both written and verbal forms
2. experience applying principles of equitable research and evaluation in practice
3. experience with a statistical analysis software package (e.g., SPSS, SAS, R) and with Microsoft Excel (including functions and formulas), Word and PowerPoint
4. an interest in data visualization (e.g., charts and graphs, infographics, diagrams, interactives, etc.)
5. being a proactive, flexible colleague who can shift focus with ease, learn new skills, embrace new challenges despite uncertainty, and be extremely well-organized and detailed-oriented
6. being able to work both independently and in close collaboration with project teams, research and consulting partners, and vendors, all of whom may have different goals and needs

- We are open to diverse academic and work backgrounds, including but not limited to qualitative and quantitative social science disciplines (cognitive or social psychology, sociology, anthropology, ethnography, public policy, etc.), program evaluation, learning sciences research, user experience (UX) research, market research, visitor studies, cultural policy research, etc. Given that we are working more and more with Spanish-speaking populations, fluency in a second language, particularly Spanish, is a plus though not required.

- HOURS, OFFICE EXPECTATIONS, & TRAVEL

This is a full-time, salaried position based in Chicago. Although hours can be somewhat flexible, we work during regular business hours (Central Time) and occasionally on the weekends as needed to meet deadlines. Researchers typically work an average of 45 hours per week, with some weeks in the 50-60 hour range and some in the 30-40 hour range. The Researcher will travel occasionally for on-site fieldwork, client trainings, presentations and conferences (likely not more than two or three trips per quarter, depending on pandemic-related policies). Our current structure includes at least two days per week in the office and up to three days working from home, but that may shift toward more in-office days in the future. We require all employees to be vaccinated and boosted.

COMPENSATION
We’re offering a starting annual salary of between $60,000 and $75,000, depending on experience. (For the right candidate, we would be open to hiring at the Senior Researcher level, with a salary starting on the higher end of this range.) In addition, we offer a benefits package of paid vacation days (15 days, which increases to 20 days after 5 years at the firm), paid holidays (10.5 days), unrestricted episodic sick days, health insurance reimbursement of $275 per month (along with assistance in selecting a plan), disability insurance, a 401k plan with no waiting period plus an annual employer contribution, and sometimes year-end bonuses when revenue goals are exceeded.

COMMITMENT TO SOCIAL JUSTICE AND EQUITY
Slover Linett is committed to creating an inclusive and diverse working environment, and we particularly encourage applicants from historically excluded communities to apply.

Regarding physical disability, we are currently working to improve the accessibility of our office building, but it includes a step to enter the building and a double-gated elevator to reach our suite on the third floor. The building does not have automatic or push-button doors. Please let us know if you have accessibility concerns about the office and we will make alternate arrangements.

TO APPLY
If this position is a good match with your interests and experience, please visit the job-page for this posting, which provides additional details about how to apply: https://sloverlinett.com/careers/researcher/
We look forward to hearing from you!

Employer Description:
Slover Linett Audience Research works with cultural and community organizations and major foundations across the U.S., including performing arts venues and ensembles, museums of all kinds to libraries, parks, public spaces, public media enterprises, science engagement producers, immersive experiences and placemaking projects. Founded in Chicago in 1999 and still based in the Windy City, the firm uses the tools of social research, evaluation and dialogue to help changemakers increase equity and access, deepen engagement and collaborate with their communities. Our projects grapple with a wide range of questions, from programming, experience design and community needs to marketing, audience development, social impact measurement, co-creation and strategic planning.
We’re empirical researchers above all, but also consultants and facilitators dedicated to justice and change; we strive to help practitioners, funders and policy leaders make culture more responsive, relevant and rewarding to more people.

Our Chicago-based team includes social scientists from disciplines such as psychology, anthropology and public policy, many with advanced degrees, and includes people with a wide variety of personal identities and experiences. We believe that only a staff with diverse cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds and a wide range of perspectives and experiences can successfully tackle the complex challenges ahead, and we aspire to help create a more inclusive cultural research field with every new hire.

Contact: Camila Guerrero
Email: jobs@sloverlinett.com
Phone:
Website: http://sloverlinett.com/careers/researcher

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18089: Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/29/2022 to 9/27/2022
Institution: Washington University-St. Louis
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Urban Sociology, Racial and Ethnic Relations
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor or tenured associate professor position in community and urban sociology, broadly defined. This might include research on policing and criminal justice; race/ethnicity; immigration, and educational, health, political, and/or economic inequalities. We seek candidates who, as part of their research program, will contribute to the development of an ambitious multi-method project adopting Du Boisian perspectives to examine the economic, political, occupational, and other social determinants of inequality in and beyond the St. Louis region.

Candidates must have a recent Ph.D. in sociology or related field, or else complete all requirements for the Ph.D. by July 1, 2023. Candidates must have an active research agenda and a commitment to excellent teaching. Candidates for the rank associate professor should have an outstanding teaching, service, and publication record commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties include research for scholarly publication, teaching, student advising, and participation in department and university service. Diversity and Inclusion are core values at Washington University, and strong candidates will demonstrate the ability to create inclusive classrooms and environments in which a diverse array of students can learn and thrive. Washington University and the Department of Sociology especially encourage applications from women and members of underrepresented and minority groups. Salary, teaching requirements, and research support will be highly competitive.

The search committee will consider applications until the search is closed, but applications should be received by September 15, 2022, to ensure full consideration. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, names and contact information for three references, and two writing samples. Applications and supporting materials should be submitted electronically via Interfolio (http://apply.interfolio.com/110331).

If applicants have questions about the application process, they should contact Opal Anderson at opal@wustl.edu or call the department at (314) 935-8660.

Employment eligibility verification required upon hire.

Employer Description:

This employer offers benefits to all regular full-time and part-time benefits-eligible employees and their spouses, dependents, and domestic partners.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University’s policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Contact: Opal Anderson
Email: opal@wustl.edu
Phone: 314-935-8660
Website: sociology.wustl.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18109: Open Rank, Management & Organizations

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/28/2022 to 8/27/2022
Institution: Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University Department: Management and Organizations
Region: Midwest
Title: Open Rank, Management & Organizations
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Organizations, Formal and Complex
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://facultyrecruiting.northwestern.edu/apply/MTU0NA

Job Description:

Open Rank, Management & Organizations
Department: Management & Organizations

The Management and Organizations Department of the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions. We are primarily interested in applications at the rank of Assistant Professor, but we will also consider outstanding candidates at the rank of Associate or Full Professor. Applicants should demonstrate an interest in topics relevant to management or organizations and provide evidence of outstanding research potential and an ability to enhance the department’s research and teaching portfolio. The department supports diverse approaches to research, grounded in psychology, sociology, organizational behavior and theory, strategic management and computational social science. A PhD or equivalent degree must be in hand or expected by employment start date.

To apply, please submit the following: a brief cover letter, a current CV, a research statement, one to three publications or working papers, and three letters of recommendation.

For full consideration, all application materials must be received by September 30, 2022.

Information about the department can be found on our website https://www.kellogg.northwestern.edu/faculty/academics/management-and-organizations.aspx Further inquiries about the position can be directed to MORSrecruiting@kellogg.northwestern.edu

Applications accepted here: https://facultyrecruiting.northwestern.edu/apply/MTU0NA==

Northwestern requires all staff and faculty to be vaccinated against COVID-19, subject to limited exceptions. For more information, please visit our COVID-19 and Campus Updates website.

The Northwestern campus sits on the traditional homelands of the people of the Council of Three Fires, the Ojibwe, Potawatomi, and Odawa as well as the Menominee, Miami and Ho-Chunk nations. We acknowledge and honor the original people of the land upon which Northwestern University stands, and the Native people who remain on this land today.

Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply. Click for information on EEO is the Law.

Employer Description:

Contact: Earlyn C. Felix
Email: MORSrecruiting@kellogg.northwestern.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
12. University of Wisconsin - Madison

Job 18111: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/28/2022 to 9/26/2022
Institution: University of Wisconsin - Madison
Department: Department of Educational Policy Studies
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Education
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Job Summary:
The Department of Educational Policy Studies seeks a candidate who will contribute to the department's expertise in educational policy and practice. Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. or terminal degree in educational policy studies, political science, public policy, sociology, or a related field by the position start date. Expertise in out-of-school contexts is strongly preferred.

Responsibilities:
The individual hired for the position is expected to conduct original research and generate scholarly publications sufficient for tenure at a major research university; develop and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in educational policy studies, with a focus on comparative and international education; supervise and serve on the committees of Master's and Doctoral candidates; serve on departmental, School of Education, and university committees; and engage in professional service at the university, local, regional, national and/or international level commensurate with their appointment level. Salary is commensurate with experience.

Institutional Statement on Diversity:
Diversity is a source of strength, creativity, and innovation for UW-Madison. We value the contributions of each person and respect the profound ways their identity, culture, background, experience, status, abilities, and opinion enrich the university community. We commit ourselves to the pursuit of excellence in teaching, research, outreach, and diversity as inextricably linked goals.

The University of Wisconsin-Madison fulfills its public mission by creating a welcoming and inclusive community for people from every background - people who as students, faculty, and staff serve Wisconsin and the world.

For more information on diversity and inclusion on campus, please visit: Diversity and Inclusion

Education:

Required
PhD or other terminal degree, or a degree at least one level above the level of instruction, or otherwise approved as qualified by the Dean.
Earned doctorate (or equivalent), by starting date, in educational policy studies, political science, public policy, or sociology.
Preference for a focus on out-of-school contexts.

Qualifications:

Minimum Years and Types of Work Experience:
Candidates should have earned or be completing a PhD or terminal degree in educational policy studies, political science, public policy, or sociology
Expertise in out-of-school contexts is strongly preferred
Evidence of established research and scholarship
Evidence of success in securing external funding to support research preferred
Evidence of excellence in teaching preferred
Demonstrated commitment to furthering socially just education
Experience working with diverse students and colleagues preferred

COVID-19 Considerations:
UW-Madison continues to follow necessary health and safety protocols to protect our campus from COVID-19. All employees remain subject to the COVID-19 Workplace Safety Policy: https://policy.wisc.edu/library/UW-5086. Please visit https://covidresponse.wisc.edu for the most up-to-date information.

Work Type:
Full Time: 100%

It is anticipated this position requires work be performed in-person, onsite, at a designated campus work location.

Appointment Type, Duration:
Ongoing/Renewable

Anticipated Begin Date:
AUGUST 21, 2023

The Department of Educational Policy Studies resides in the UW-Madison School of Education, which is regularly ranked as one of the top Schools of Education in the nation. The School is proud of the outstanding breadth of its programs, with departments in Education, Health and the Arts. The School views this broad range of programs as a tremendous strength.

The Department of Educational Policy Studies occupies land in Teejop, the ancestral territory of the Ho-Chunk nation. Information about UW-Madison's commitment to Our Shared Future may be found at: https://oursharedfuture.wisc.edu/.

The UW-Madison School of Education is dedicated to maintaining and growing a culture that embraces diversity, inclusion, and equity, believing these values are foundational elements of our excellence and fundamental components of a positive learning/work environment for students, faculty, and staff. At the School of Education, we acknowledge that, historically, bias, prejudice, racism, discrimination, and hate have taken many forms, and we commit to take action to create a school that is welcoming to all.

Departmental Information: The Department of Educational Policy Studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison is one of the highest-ranked public programs in educational policy and practice. We examine educational policies, practices, movements, outcomes, dilemmas, and controversies - as well as the forces shaping them - through the lenses of international and comparative education, anthropology, economics, geography, history, sociology, philosophy, policy analysis, and politics. Our efforts are guided by a commitment to furthering socially just education. We value a collegial interdisciplinary environment for research and teaching.

How to Apply:
Link to job application on jobs.wisc.edu.

Please click "Apply Now" and follow the instructions. You will be asked to create a profile and upload the following documents: (a) letter of interest with a description of current and future research, as well as relevant teaching experience, (b) curriculum vitae, (c) two samples of scholarly writing, and (d) a list with the names and contact information for three references as a part of the online application. To ensure consideration, application materials must be received by 31 October, 2022. The position will remain open and applications may be considered until the position is filled.

Contact:
Jacob Leonard
jacob.leonard@wisc.edu
608-265-5956

Relay Access (WTRS): 7-1-1 (out-of-state: TTY: 800.947.3529, STS: 800.833.7637) and above Phone number (See RELAY SERVICE for further information.)

Employer Description:

Contact: Jacob Leonard
Email: jacob.leonard@wisc.edu
Phone: 608-265-5956
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
Job 18116: Assistant Professor- Data Science/ Quantitative Methodology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/28/2022 to 9/26/2022
Institution: Western Washington University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northwest
Title: Assistant Professor- Data Science/ Quantitative Methodology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology , Statistics
Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Western Washington University seeks candidates with emerging or established expertise in data science, management, and quantitative methodologies to fill a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin September 16, 2023. Beyond data science expertise, area of research focus is open. The individual will be responsible for directing and maintaining the Tedrow Lab for Demographic and Social Research, and assisting sociology majors, minors and faculty in learning and advancing their statistical expertise independently and on specific research projects. The standard course load is two classes each quarter for a total of six classes per year. The Tedrow Lab director has a reduced course load that is negotiated with the Department of Sociology chair. The Department of Sociology seeks candidates who can also contribute to teaching one or more of our core courses in sociological theory, research methods, or statistics. The successful candidate will be expected to fulfill teaching and mentoring responsibilities in ways that provide equitable and inclusive learning environments for all students.

Position Responsibilities

- Teach courses within the department’s existing curriculum.
- Develop new courses in specialized area(s) of methodological expertise (including but not limited to courses such as introduction to R, advanced statistical methods, data visualization, and GIS).
- Ability and willingness to consistently teach the department’s core course in statistics.
- Direct the Tedrow Lab for Demographic and Social Research and provide statistical and methodological support to students, faculty, and staff.
- Active engagement in scholarship, including scholarly publications.
- Active participation in service activities within the Department, University, and discipline.

Required Qualifications

- An earned Ph.D. at time of application in Sociology or a closely related social science discipline.
- Successful teaching experience, which could include teaching assistantships.
- Demonstrated interest in teaching advanced statistics and ability to teach the department’s core introductory statistics course
- Proficiency in programming with SPSS, and additional experience with Stata and R.
- Demonstrated ability to work effectively with underrepresented student populations and promoting an environment of diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Demonstrated potential to maintain an active program of research/scholarship and publication.
- Demonstrated interest in directing and maintaining the Tedrow Lab for Demographic and Social Research

Preferred Qualifications

- Proficiency with data visualization and GIS software.
- Prior experience with management or as a director.
- Successful teaching experience in statistics or data analytics.
- Strong interpersonal and communication skills.
• Interest in collaborative research with undergraduates

To apply, please submit your application via WWU’s PageUp, Western’s online employment management system: Careers - Faculty | Human Resources | Western Washington University (wwu.edu)

Please submit: (a) a letter of application which addresses each of the preferred and required qualifications, (b) your curriculum vita, (c) a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi and related teaching materials, and teaching evaluations (if available), (d) a statement discussing your ability and commitment to work effectively with underrepresented students and to foster and promote an environment of diversity, equity, and inclusion; you may draw upon your personal as well as professional experience in developing this statement. For more information about Western’s commitment to and work on equity, inclusion, and diversity, please see Western President’s page on Advancing Inclusion and Diversity; and (e) sample publications electronically via the PageUp system.

Required Supplemental Materials

Additionally, as part of your application, you are required to provide the names and contact information of three professional references. Please do not submit letters of recommendation; these will only be required for semi-finalists, with requests for three letters of reference addressing teaching and scholarship to be generated from the PageUp application system to the references provided.

Application review begins September 1, 2022; position is open until filled.

Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair:

Dr. Cameron T. Whitley
Search Committee Chair
Department of Sociology
516 High Street, MS 9081
Western Washington University
Bellingham, WA 98225-9081
Phone: 360.650.3618
Email: cameron.whitley@wwu.edu

Employer Description:

Western Washington University (WWU) is located in Bellingham, Washington (approximate population 90,000) 60 miles south of Vancouver, British Columbia, and 90 miles north of Seattle. The campus is situated on the ancestral homelands of the Coast Salish Peoples who have lived in this area from time immemorial. Approximately 16,000 students attend the WWU; about 96% of these students are undergraduates; students of color represent 27% of the campus population; 29% new first-year students enrolled are first generation students. WWU is on the quarter system (10 weeks per quarter). WWU is the highest-ranking public, master’s-granting university in the Pacific Northwest, according to the 2022 U.S. News and & World Report college rankings. For more information, please visit the WWU website.

At this time, the university requires that all WWU students, faculty and staff are vaccinated against COVID-19 with limited exceptions. Learn more at: https://www.wwu.edu/coronavirus/vaccines

The Department of Sociology is comprised of twelve full-time faculty engaged in a wide range of research activities who often involve undergraduate students in research and teaching. The Sociology Department is one of fourteen departments in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences (CHSS). The department maintains the Tedrow “Lucky” Lab for Demographic and Social Research, which was opened and directed by Lucky Tedrow from 1977-2018. It is designed to assist students and faculty in collaboration and the development of advanced quantitative research skills. The quantitative sciences/demography lab at WWU has been responsible for launching the careers of many demographic scholars with important contributions to the field of sociology. The Department does not offer graduate level degrees, but there are opportunities to work with graduate students as an affiliate member with other departments. For more information, please visit the Department website.

Western Washington University (WWU) is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer committed to assembling a diverse, broadly trained faculty and staff. Women, minorities, people with disabilities and veterans are strongly encouraged to apply. In compliance with applicable laws and in furtherance of its commitment to fostering an environment that welcomes and embraces diversity, WWU does not discriminate based on race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex (including pregnancy and parenting status), disability, age, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status or genetic information in its programs or activities, including employment, admissions, and educational programs. See WWU’s Policy on Ensuring Equal Opportunity and Prohibiting Discrimination and Retaliation. Inquiries may be directed to the Office of Civil Rights and Title IX Compliance, Title IX and ADA Coordinator, Western Washington University, Old Main 345 (MS 9021), 516 High Street, Bellingham, WA 98225; 360.650.3307 (voice) or 711 (Washington Relay); crtc@wwu.edu

Annual Security and Fire Safety Report: This report is provided pursuant to the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (“The Clery Act”). It includes statistics for the previous three calendar years concerning reported crimes that occurred on Western's campus; in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by Western; and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from, the campus. The report also includes institutional policies concerning campus security, such as policies concerning alcohol and drug use, crime prevention, the reporting of crimes, sexual assault, and other matters. You can obtain a copy of this report in printed or alternate formats by contacting the Office of the Vice President for Enrollment and Student Services at vpsa.office@wwu.edu. The report can be found at Annual Security and Fire Safety Report.

WWU is committed to providing reasonable accommodations to qualified individuals with disabilities upon request. To request this document in an alternate format or to request an accommodation, please contact Human Resources Disability Services, 360.650.3774 or 711 (Washington Relay).

All new employees must comply with the immunization policy and show employment eligibility verification as required by the U.S. Citizen and Immigration Service before beginning work at WWU. A thorough background check will be conducted on all new hires.

Contact: Dr. Cameron Whitley
Email: cameron.whitley@wwu.edu
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18095: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/27/2022 to 10/25/2022

Institution: Brown University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Sex and Gender, Sexualities

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Brown University Department of Sociology invites applications for two tenure-track assistant professor positions, to begin July 1, 2023, for scholars in the area of gender/sexuality. Preference will be given to candidates whose research focuses on the United States context. Analysis approaches may vary. Secondary substantive areas of sociology should reflect areas of concentration in our department (https://www.brown.edu/academics/sociology/people/faculty).

We particularly seek candidates who conceive their work broadly, whose research contributes to the discipline at large, and who can engage creatively with other areas of strength in the department. The successful candidate must be engaged in a theoretically strong research program with the potential to influence the field, demonstrate the intention to obtain external funding, and manifest the potential for excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. Candidates must have strong analysis skills in qualitative, quantitative, or mixed methodological approaches.

All candidates should submit: (1) a cover letter describing research completed and planned, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a writing sample, (4) a teaching statement, and (5) a diversity statement that describes how the candidate addresses diversity and inclusion in the scope of their teaching and broader work. Candidates should have three letters of reference sent at the time of the application.

To receive full consideration applications must be received by September 1, 2022. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled or the search is closed. Contact Justine Brown at justine_brown@brown.edu with any questions.

Employer Description:

Diversity, equity, and inclusion are integral to the Sociology Department and Brown University. Accordingly, we seek qualified candidates who can contribute to equity, diversity and inclusion through service, mentorship, teaching and scholarship. Further, we are keenly interested in diversifying and encourage applications from diverse candidates. Applicants who have a commitment to building a diverse and inclusive environment are essential.

Contact: Justine Brown
Email: justine_brown@brown.edu
Phone: (401) 863-2369
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
15. Bryn Mawr College

Job 18101: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/27/2022 to 10/25/2022
Institution: Bryn Mawr College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology at Bryn Mawr College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Sociology to begin August 1, 2023. We are searching for a colleague specializing, domestically and/or globally, in the areas of economic sociology, social networks, organizational sociology, and/or sociology of law. The successful candidate will contribute to the development and teaching of a diverse and inclusive undergraduate curriculum, including interdisciplinary programs and college-wide initiatives such as the 360 Program and the Emily Balch Seminars, A Ph.D. in Sociology is preferred; we also welcome applications from related fields. Candidates must have completed all Ph.D. requirements by the start date.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, research statement, and a statement of demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion to the Department of Sociology Search Committee via Interfolio at: http://apply.interfolio.com/108609. In addition, candidates should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via Interfolio to the Sociology Department Search Committee. Applications received by September 30, 2022 will receive full consideration.

The College will be as flexible as possible in determining the nature of any interviews or meetings (virtual/remote and/or in-person interaction) that are conducted for this search.

Employer Description:
Bryn Mawr College is a distinguished liberal arts college for women with a vibrant faculty of scholar-teachers, a talented staff and intellectually curious students eager to make a difference in the world. The College is committed to increasing the diversity of its students, faculty, staff, and curricular offerings with a particular focus on enhancing ethnic and racial diversity and advancing social justice and inclusion. We believe diversity strengthens our community and enriches the education of our students. We have a student body of 1,421 undergraduates (32 percent are U.S. students of color and 15 percent are international students). There are 353 graduate students in coeducational graduate programs in social work, humanities and science. Bryn Mawr College is located in metropolitan Philadelphia and enjoys strong consorital relationships with Haverford College, Swarthmore College, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Bryn Mawr College is an equal-opportunity employer; candidates from underrepresented groups and women are especially encouraged to apply.

Contact: Nathan Wright
Email: nwright@brynmawr.edu
Phone: (215) 526-5030
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
16. University of California, Berkeley

Job 18100: Assistant Professor - Management of Organizations - Haas School of Business

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/27/2022 to 8/26/2022

Institution: University of California, Berkeley
Department: Haas School of Business
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor - Management of Organizations - Haas School of Business
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Organizations, Formal and Complex
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Assistant Professor - Management of Organizations - Haas School of Business

Position overview

Position title: Assistant Professor, MORS

Anticipated start: July 1, 2023

Application Window

Open July 12th, 2022 through Thursday, Sep 15, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

Position description

The Haas School of Business at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the Management of Organizations group.

The Management of Organizations group seeks to hire an individual with expertise in the micro or macro side of management and/or organizational behavior. We are open to a wide range of theoretical traditions and methodological approaches but are especially interested in individuals whose work uncovers novel insights about the psychological or sociological mechanisms that drive behavior in organizations.

The Haas School of Business has an unequivocal commitment to supporting diversity, equity, and inclusion as defined by Berkeley's Division of Equity & Inclusion: https://diversity.berkeley.edu/. Integrating diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) throughout our organization is essential to our mission as a public university. As a community, we aspire to leverage our unique Berkeley Haas culture https://haas.berkeley.edu/about/the-haas-difference/our-culture/ to make collective progress toward our objective of being the top business school at equipping students, faculty, staff, and alumni to lead in a diverse world.

Berkeley Haas is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty.
School: https://haas.berkeley.edu/

Qualifications Basic qualifications (required at time of application)
Applicants must have a PhD (or equivalent international degree) or be enrolled in a PhD (or equivalent international degree) granting program at the time of application.

Preferred qualifications
We are especially interested in applicants with a PhD in Management, Organizational Behavior, Psychology, Sociology or in other closely related fields. We prefer applicants who currently have a PhD or who have advanced to PhD candidacy and will complete the doctoral degree or equivalent degree within six months of the start date.

Application Requirements

Document requirements

• Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.

• Job Market Paper

• Statement of Research

• Statement of Teaching

• Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion - Statement on your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, including information about your understanding of these topics, your record of activities to date, and your specific plans and goals for advancing equity and inclusion if hired at Berkeley (for additional information go to https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity).

• Cover Letter (Optional)

• Teaching Evaluations (Optional)

• Additional Research Paper (Optional)

• Additional Research Paper (Optional)

Reference requirements

• 3 required (contact information only)

References will only be contacted for candidates under serious consideration and we will seek your permission before doing so.

Apply link: https://apprkr.com/3245786
Help contact: facultyrecruitment@haas.berkeley.edu

Campus Information
Diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging are core values at UC Berkeley. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students, and academic and non-academic staff who share our commitment to these values. Successful candidates for our academic positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to advancing equity, inclusion, and belonging.
The University of California, Berkeley is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct

In searches when letters of reference are required all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (http://apo.berkeley.edu/ucb-confidentiality-policy) prior to submitting their letter.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. Please refer to Appendix F, Section II.C. of the policy for the deadlines applicable to new University of California employees. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Positions that are represented by a collective bargaining unit or agent have particular contracts. For more information, please refer to the relevant contract: https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/ix/index.html, https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/px/index.html, https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/ra/index.html, and https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/lx/index.html. Questions about represented positions can be directed to the hiring unit.

Job location Berkeley, CA

To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/3245786

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

Employer Description:

Contact: Search Committee
Email: facultyrecruitment@haas.berkeley.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18102: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/27/2022 to 9/25/2022
Institution: University of Wisconsin-Madison
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor rank beginning in August, 2023. While our aim is to welcome in a new faculty member at the assistant level, we would consider a current advanced assistant professor for the associate level in special situations. The successful candidate will have a primary appointment and tenure home in the Department of Sociology, will teach and mentor undergraduate and graduate students, engage in scholarly research, and participate in University and professional service.

The successful candidate will have a primary appointment and tenure home in the Department of Sociology, will teach and mentor undergraduate and graduate students, engage in scholarly research, and participate in University and professional service.

Applicants must hold a PhD in sociology or a similar field prior to the start of the appointment. Successful candidates will have a record of or demonstrate potential for:

- Excellence in scholarly research, preferably in the areas of race/ethnicity, health and aging, medical sociology, stratification and inequality, education, methods (non-specified), organizations, or economic sociology;
- Working with, teaching, and mentoring diverse groups and diverse students;
- Teaching and curriculum development in higher education.

Open until filled; the deadline for assured consideration is September 2, 2022.

For additional details and to begin the application process, please go to https://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/en-us/job/514684/assistant-professor-of-sociology.

Employer Description:
The University of Wisconsin is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer. We promote excellence through diversity and encourage all qualified individuals to apply. If you need to request an accommodation because of a disability, you can find information about how to make a request at the following website: https://employeedisabilities.wisc.edu/disability-accommodation-information-for-applicants/

Contact: Ivan Ermakoff
Email: ermakoff@ssc.wisc.edu
Phone: (608) 262-8206
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
18. Fondation Nationale des Sciences Politiques (Sciences Po)

Job 18094: Assistant Professor in computational social science

Date Position is Available: Winter 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/26/2022 to 8/25/2022

Institution: Fondation Nationale des Sciences Politiques (Sciences Po)

Department: médialab

Region: Europe

Title: Assistant Professor in computational social science

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Mass Communication/Public Opinion , Social Networks

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: [barbara.bender@sciencespo.fr, drh.poleacademique@sciencespo.fr](mailto:barbara.bender@sciencespo.fr, drh.poleacademique@sciencespo.fr)

Job Description:

GENERAL PROFILE OF THE POSITION

Profile: Assistant professor (tenure track) in computational social science Sciences Po médialab is recruiting an Assistant Professor in computational social science to reinforce its capacity for quantitative analysis of the digital public space. The position is intended for a candidate who has, during his/her academic career, demonstrated a capacity to renew methods of analysis of digital data which may have an impact in social science research (sociology, political science, history). The position is open to a variety of approaches: machine learning, statistical analysis, network, text or image analysis.

Candidates may hold a PhD centered on data computation and modeling approaches (computer science, mathematics, physics) or have demonstrated their involvement in data science. Special attention will be paid to the candidate’s ability to articulate the data-intensive methods that s/he develops with research questions pertinent to médialab’s research axis on the digital public space and the quality of online democratic debate.

Candidates with different research interests are invited to apply as long as they adopt approaches involving computational social science.

We expect the candidate to develop his/her own research program, but also to frame his/her activity in a collective setting and take full part in the interactions with other members of the laboratory. In particular, the person recruited will benefit from the médialab experience in engineering and design, so that the methodological innovations that s/he develops are disseminated widely throughout the scientific and student communities.

FUNCTIONS

Research:

The recruitee will conduct his/her research program at the médialab. S/He should have a thorough knowledge of recent theoretical and methodological developments in the analysis of digital data (the data could be of any type: text, network, image, etc.). We expect strong capacities in computer science and mathematical formalism. The candidate should also demonstrate some experience with working with massive datasets in a collaborative setting. S/He will develop his/her research program through Sciences Po’s own research networks, both national and international. The recruited person is also expected to take an active part in the collective activities of the center: seminars, scientific events, collaborations, call for projects from French, European or international tenders, and the supervision of students.

Teaching:

The annual teaching service is 128 hours, divided into 3 courses (CM) of 24 hours each, and 56 hours (equivalent CM) of complementary pedagogical tasks (juries, supervision of dissertations, missions, etc.) at all levels of education offered by Sciences Po: undergraduate (in one of the seven campuses of Sciences Po), graduate, and PhD. Courses may be taught either in French or in English. Teaching service is limited to 96h/year during the first 3 years of the tenure track (2 courses of 24 hours each and 48 hours of complementary pedagogical tasks).

Administration:

The recruited person will be welcome to assume various responsibilities in Sciences Po, but is not bound to any administrative obligation a priori.

Employer Description:

Sciences Po is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The policy at médialab is to extend opportunities to qualified applicants and employees on an equal basis regardless of an individual’s origin or sex.
AFFILIATION

Médialab at Sciences Po

Created in 2009, médialab is a university research center (EA7033) whose research aims to explore the transformations of our societies using digital traces produced online. Closely associating approaches from sociology, design and data science, the médialab team seeks to design techniques for exploring digitized worlds and to set up mechanisms for public participation and involvement. Various research projects in médialab are already articulated around the question of the quality of debate in online settings. The candidate will then be offered the opportunity to collaborate with the various related on-going projects having to do with the circulation and reception of misinformation, the self-regulation of content on social media, the dynamics of online social movements, and so forth.

In addition, médialab plays a strategic role at the heart of Sciences Po's research community by supporting projects that focus on the study of digital worlds. As a mixed group motivated by various approaches (software development, science studies, data visualization, design, etc.), the médialab team has produced original digital tools and methods that complement projects in social science.

médialab : https://medialab.sciencespo.fr/fr/

RECRUITMENT PROCESS

Application:

The application file will consist of the following documents:

- An application letter;
- The research project that the candidate intends to pursue (2-3p);
- A syllabus;
- A CV and a complete list of publications;
- Three significant publications;
- The name of three academic referees.

Applications must be sent (by email) by 15 September 2022, to Barbara Bender, General Secretary of médialab, as well as to the academic human resources department of Sciences Po.

All applications will be reviewed by the Selection Committee, candidates who are shortlisted will be invited to present their research work during a job talk at Sciences Po in front of the academic community.

Job talks and interviews:

Job talks and interviews will take place in Paris in October 2022. They will be divided into two parts. The first part, open to Sciences Po's academic community, will include a presentation of the candidate's work, followed by a discussion with members of the selection committee and members of the public. The second part will consist of an interview with the selection committee only.

Effective start date: January 1st, 2023

Contact: Ms Barbara Bender
Email: barbara.bender@sciencespo.fr
Phone: +33 1 45 49 7256
Website: https://medialab.sciencespo.fr/en/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18098: Assistant Professor of Education

Job Description:

The Department of Education at Wellesley College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level beginning in the academic year 2023-24. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching focus on the intersection of race and education in the K-12 school context.

Possible areas of specialization include but are not limited to: the experiences of BIPOC students in schools, bilingual education, Indigenous and decolonial knowledge systems, and ethnic studies in K-12 schools. We also invite scholars with intersectional approaches and have a preference for candidates whose research agendas are embedded in K-12 school communities. Our proximity to cities such as Boston, Cambridge, and Framingham offers ideal research/partnership opportunities with school districts. This aligns with our vision for community engagement and integrating education research, theory and practice.

The person hired will be expected to teach one of our introductory education courses (one with a focus on education policy or one with a focus on school transformation), one qualitative research methods course, and additional courses related to their areas of interest. Faculty members at Wellesley teach two courses per semester.

Due to the interdisciplinary nature of education, we plan to consider candidates who are trained in education PhD and EdD programs; interdisciplinary, ethnic, cultural and area studies PhD programs (e.g., African-American Studies, Africana Studies, Asian-American Studies, Chicana Studies, Colonialism and Diaspora Studies, Indigenous Studies, and Latinx Studies); and humanities and social science PhD programs such as history, linguistics, anthropology, sociology, political science, and psychology. Our commitment to historically marginalized students lies at the center of our work as teachers and scholars. We look for candidates who display a commitment to anti-oppressive teaching, student mentoring, and engaged research.

Applications should be submitted online through the college’s career application website (https://www.wellesley.edu/hr/jobseekers). Please submit the following: a cover letter, c.v., one-page diversity statement, research writing sample, teaching statement, three letters of recommendation, and graduate school transcript. The deadline for receipt of all application materials is November 15, 2022. If circumstances do not allow you to submit materials through our online application system, please email working@wellesley.edu.

Wellesley College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer, and we are committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and the curriculum. Candidates who believe they can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply. All employees hired after August 2, 2021 are required to upload proof of vaccination against COVID-19, subject to approved medical or religious exemptions or disability accommodations.
Inquiries should be addressed to Professor Soo Hong, chair of the department and search committee at shong@wellesley.edu.

Employer Description:

Contact: Cristina Degaetano
Email: working@wellesley.edu
Phone: 7812833303
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18092: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/25/2022 to 8/24/2022
Institution: Florida State University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Demography
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Florida State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position, effective August 2023 in the area of Demography. The successful candidate must be able to teach demographic methods/techniques and other substantive courses in the Masters of Demography program in the Center for Demography and Population Health. Interested individuals should demonstrate both an active research agenda and a track record of publishing their work in well-respected peer-reviewed outlets. The ideal applicant will have a clear strategy for funding their research through external grants. In addition, the candidate will contribute to service work and other undergraduate and graduate coursework in Sociology and Demography that meshes with the faculty member’s expertise and fits the department’s and the Center for Demography and Population Health’s needs.

Basic Minimum Qualifications: completion of all Ph.D. or equivalent degree requirements except the dissertation at the time of application. Additional Qualifications: completion of all Ph.D. or equivalent degree requirements by the date of hire. We welcome applicants with expected or completed degrees in Sociology, Demography, or related fields.

Applicants are encouraged to read about the department’s areas of concentration. Applicants should submit a letter of application indicating their relevant research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, a one-page statement indicating commitment to diversity and inclusion, and the names and contact information for three references. Please submit materials to Florida State University at https://hr.fsu.edu/facultyjobs [Job ID# 52557] by September 15, 2022. Questions may be directed to Dr. Mathew Hauer (search committee chair) at mehauer@fsu.edu.

Employer Description:

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 45,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida’s capital city, with a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions, including an HBCU.

Florida State University is committed to diversity and inclusion (diversity.fsu.edu). The College of Social Sciences & Public Policy seeks individuals dedicated to excellence in teaching and research with a strong commitment to equity and inclusiveness, reflective of the diversity of our student body. The successful candidate will work effectively, respectfully, and collaboratively in a diverse, multicultural, and inclusive setting. We especially encourage applications by individuals from underrepresented groups, with a demonstrated commitment to a culturally and intellectually diverse workplace.

Contact: Dr. Mathew Hauer
Email: mehauer@fsu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
21. Florida State University

Job 18093: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/25/2022 to 8/24/2022

Institution: Florida State University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Latina/o Sociology, Qualitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link:

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology at Florida State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position, effective August 2023. We are looking for a scholar who will contribute to our department’s area of concentration in inequalities and social justice. Preference will be given to those whose research focuses on qualitative methods and/or the Latinx experience. The position will entail teaching and mentoring both undergraduate and graduate students, conducting and publishing research, and providing service to the department through work on committees.

Basic Minimum Qualifications: completion of all Sociology Ph.D. requirements except the dissertation at the time of application. Additional Qualifications: completion of all Sociology Ph.D. requirements by the date of hire.

Applicants are encouraged to read about the department’s areas of concentration. Applicants should submit a letter of application indicating their relevant research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, a one-page statement indicating commitment to diversity and inclusion, and the names and contact information for three references. Please submit materials to Florida State University at https://hr.fsu.edu/facultyjobs [Job ID# 52544] by September 15, 2022. Questions may be directed to Dr. Miranda Waggoner (search committee chair) at mwaggoner@fsu.edu.

Employer Description:
Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 45,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida’s capital city, with a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions, including an HBCU.

Florida State University is committed to diversity and inclusion (diversity.fsu.edu). The College of Social Sciences & Public Policy seeks individuals dedicated to excellence in teaching and research with a strong commitment to equity and inclusiveness, reflective of the diversity of our student body. The successful candidate will work effectively, respectfully, and collaboratively in a diverse, multicultural, and inclusive setting. We especially encourage applications by individuals from underrepresented groups, with a demonstrated commitment to a culturally and intellectually diverse workplace.

Contact: Dr. Miranda Waggoner
Email: mwaggoner@fsu.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
Job 18088: Faculty Position in Qualitative Research Methodology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/25/2022 to 8/24/2022
Institution: UNC-Chapel Hill
Department: School of Education
Region: South
Title: Faculty Position in Qualitative Research Methodology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Qualitative Methodology, Qualitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The School of Education at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a position in Qualitative Research Methodology, with a focus on teacher education, early literacy, and/or cultural studies, starting July 1, 2023. This is a full-time, 9-month tenure-line or tenured appointment depending on rank at the time of hire.

Context:
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (Carolina), established in 1793 as the first public university in the nation, is a doctoral-granting institution situated in the beautiful college town of Chapel Hill, NC. Ranked fifth among public institutions by US News & World Report, and one of the original public ivy schools, Carolina has earned a reputation as one of the best universities in the world. We pride ourselves on a strong, diverse student body, unparalleled academic opportunities, and a value unmatched by any public university in the nation. The School of Education is among the best in the nation and currently ranked #23 among all, and #14 among public, schools of education by US News & World Report.

Responsibilities:
Candidates will carry out a research program, actively pursue external funding, and contribute to collaborative and interdisciplinary efforts across the School of Education and campus. Candidates also will (a) develop and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in qualitative research methodology and related areas delivered in face-to-face, online, and/or blended formats; (b) support strategic initiatives across the School and campus; (c) contribute to the ongoing development of undergraduate and graduate programs; (d) actively recruit and supervise undergraduate and graduate students; and (e) provide leadership and service at the local, state, and national levels.

Educational Requirements and Preferences:
Candidates must hold a doctorate in education or a closely related field, with a specialization in qualitative research methodology. Strong preference will be given to candidates who apply their work in the areas of teacher education, early literacy, and/or cultural studies.

Qualifications:
Candidates at the assistant professor level must have an earned doctorate at the time of hire. Candidates at the associate and full levels must have an established record of research, funding, teaching, and service to meet the University’s requirements for tenure and appointment at the respective rank. Depending on rank, candidates will demonstrate a research program that will lead to an outstanding and sustained record of scholarship and securing external funding or will already have such an established record. Candidates will have strong potential, or an established record, of outstanding university teaching and guiding students through dissertation research projects.

Salary and Starting Date:
Salary will be competitive and commensurate with rank and experience. The proposed starting date is July 1, 2023.

Online Application Process:
Submit a letter of interest, curriculum vita, and the names with full contact information of four references at https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/235617. For full consideration, all application materials should be received by September 12, 2022, at which time the search committee will begin reviewing applications. The search will remain open until filled. For more information, email the search committee chair, Dr. Thad Domina, tdomina@email.unc.edu.
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Employer Description:
Contact: HR Specialist Madison Wood
Email: soe-hr@unc.edu
Phone:
Website: https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/235617

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18090: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/25/2022 to 9/23/2022
Institution: Ursinus College
Department: Department of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Racial and Ethnic Relations
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Assistant Professor - Sociology (Tenure Track)

Department
Anthropology & Sociology

The Department offers a single, inter-disciplinary major, in Anthropology & Sociology.

Overview
Ursinus College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Sociology. We seek a sociologist with expertise on race in the United States.

Position Requirements

- *Clear and compelling vision of how the discipline of sociology can contribute to a liberal arts education.
- *Clear and compelling vision of how quantitative or mixed-method approaches to research can contribute to a joint anthropology and sociology department.
- *Evidence of promise as a teacher, particularly in discussion-based courses.
- *Evidence of ability to teach quantitative and qualitative methods.
- *Evidence of promise as a researcher on the topic of race in the United States. Quantitative or mixed-method researcher preferred.
- *PhD in sociology by Fall 2023.

Expectations

- *Teach Thinking Sociologically (SOC 100) and upper-level topical courses in sociology, including one or more courses on race in the United States.
- *Teach the core, interdisciplinary requirements of the Anthropology & Sociology major, including Methods in Anthropology & Sociology (ANSO 200), which covers quantitative and qualitative methods; Using Social Theory (ANSO 210), which covers anthropological and sociological theory; and Seminar in Anthropology & Sociology (ANSO 460W), the capstone course for the major.
*Teach in the College’s signature writing-intensive, discussion-based first-year liberal arts seminar, the Common Intellectual Experience (CIE).

*Supervise student research and honors theses, particularly those employing quantitative or mixed methods.

*Establish an ongoing program of research on race in the United States.

*Academic advising of majors and non-majors.

*The Ursinus College faculty is a diverse community of teacher-scholars dedicated to providing transformative experiences for a diverse student body in a highly reflective process embedded in our core curriculum. It is the expectation of all faculty members that they will be similarly reflective.

Anticipated Start Date

Fall 2023

Application Process

What to send?

- Cover letter
- CV
- Statement describing teaching philosophy
- Statement describing scholarship/research program
- Statement describing experience and/or ideas for supporting an inclusive community
- Undergraduate and graduate transcripts
- Candidates who are invited for phone interviews will be asked to provide three letters of reference

Where to send?

- Upload at: https://apply.interfolio.com/110130

When to send?

- To ensure full consideration apply by September 30, 2022.

Employer Description:

Ursinus College is a highly selective, independent, co-educational, residential liberal arts college of approximately 1500 students located about 25 miles northwest of center city Philadelphia. With a diverse community of students, it is an expectation of all faculty to contribute to the inclusion, engagement, and success of all students. Ursinus is an EO/AA employer. Ursinus College does not discriminate on grounds of race, color, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, age, creed, ancestry, veteran status, marital status, disability, or other classification protected by applicable law in the administration of any of its educational programs or activities or with respect to employment.

Contact: Jonathan L. Clark
Email: jclark@ursinus.edu
Phone: 484-762-4283
Website:

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
24. American University

Job 18086: Governance and Humanitarian Crisis in the Middle East (Full-Time, Tenure-Line)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/21/2022 to 8/20/2022
Institution: American University
Department: School of International Service
Region: Middle East
Title: Governance and Humanitarian Crisis in the Middle East (Full-Time, Tenure-Line)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: http://apply.interfolio.com/109607

Job Description:

The School of International Service (SIS) at American University (AU) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-line position in Governance and Humanitarian Crisis in the Middle East at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2023.

We welcome applicants who work at the intersection of governance, human rights, and humanitarian crisis in the Middle East. We are especially interested in candidates who work on gender and sexuality; forced and irregular migration; political economy, social mobilization, and community development; political and state responses to crisis and conflict; and environmental and climate change. The successful candidate may be rooted in any discipline but must combine language and field-work expertise with a capacity for conceptual and interdisciplinary reach compatible with our graduate programs.

The successful candidate will also be enthusiastic about teaching international affairs from a multidisciplinary perspective at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Willingness to mentor PhD candidates in our vibrant PhD program is also desirable.

The successful candidate will also share a commitment to the university’s diversity and inclusion plan.

Applicants should hold a PhD or the highest equivalent degree in a social science discipline by the start date, though ABD applications will be considered. The standard course load for a tenure line faculty is 2/2, with an annual service requirement. Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on October 10 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted electronically via the Interfolio application system [http://apply.interfolio.com/109607]. Applications should include the following:

- A cover letter detailing the applicants research, teaching and service record to date
- A curriculum vitae
- Sample publications
- A short teaching portfolio with statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations)
- A statement describing past examples of your contributions to diversity and inclusion in your scholarship, the classroom and/or in other professional settings.
- You will be asked to submit the names and email addresses of three references and to request that the Interfolio system contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation.

Queries about the search may be sent to Professor Elizabeth F. Thompson (eft@american.edu). Queries about the online application system may be sent to SIS faculty affairs coordinator Alissa Iwaniuk (aiwaniuk@american.edu) and help@interfolio.com.

Employer Description:

American University is a private institution of higher education in the nation's capital (Please visit www.american.edu for more information). American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs with 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. SIS faculty produce transformational research and our prime location provides opportunities for collaboration with professionals in government, the private sector, and think tanks and other non-profits. Learn more about SIS at www.american.edu/sis.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual’s genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively “Protected Bases”) in its programs and activities.

American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus. To ensure the health and safety of our community, American University requires that all faculty and staff are vaccinated for Covid-19. To learn more about American University's health and safety directives please click here.
Hiring offers for this position are contingent on the successful completion of a background check.

Contact: Professor Elizabeth F. Thompson
Email: eft@american.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18087: Assistant Professor Position in Marketing

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 7/21/2022 to 8/21/2022
Listing Active: 7/21/2022 to 8/21/2022
Institution: University of Illinois
Department: Business Administration
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor Position in Marketing
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS AT URBANA-CHAMPAIGN
Gies College of Business, Department of Business Administration
Assistant Professor Position in Marketing

Gies College of Business at the University of Illinois invites applications from qualified individuals for a 100% full-time Assistant Professor position in Marketing within the Department of Business Administration.

The successful candidate will support the academic excellence of this well-respected department. This includes a record of visible and rigorous scholarly achievement appropriate for the candidate’s rank; contributing to the innovation in programs and curricula for which the department is known; delivering an exceptional experience to highly motivated students; and advancing the College’s strategic priorities.

The University of Illinois offers an outstanding tradition of scholarship and a supportive environment for faculty development and excellence. The Gies College of Business at Illinois is a world leader in research, teaching, and public engagement. We offer exceptional support for data collection, data acquisition, and programming through the Gies Behavioral Research Lab, Data Science Research Services, and numerous other well-resourced units. In 2020, the Gies iMBA program was named one of the top-ten “Biggest B-School Innovations of The Decade” by Poets and Quants. The college has also become a leader in experiential learning. Gies Business is committed to being a model for a diverse, equitable and inclusive community, being actively anti-racist, helping the next generation of business leaders do the same, and engaging the public and our corporate partners in these efforts. We are interested in candidates who will bring excellence to campus via outstanding research, teaching, and service.

The Department of Business Administration is a large and diverse unit, which includes graduate and undergraduate programs across seven academic areas (i.e., Organizational Behavior, Strategic Management, International Business, Marketing, Operations Management, Information Systems, and Supply Chain). We offer a uniquely hospitable environment for interdisciplinary work, as well as the opportunity to work with talented doctoral students. We seek like-minded individuals who are committed to engaged scholarship of the highest caliber. Additional information about the Department may be found here.

SPECIFIC DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Maintain an active and productive program of research in marketing.
- Teach at the graduate and undergraduate levels
- Perform service for the department.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- Candidates should expect to have completed their doctoral degree (preferably in marketing) by Fall 2023.
- Strong research potential
- Demonstrated teaching effectiveness
- Leadership potential.

SALARY: Salary will be commensurate with experience.

PROPOSED STARTING DATE: June 16, 2023, July 16, 2023 or August 16, 2023

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

For consideration, please create your candidate profile at http://jobs.illinois.edu and upload a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, a sample publication or working paper, evidence of past teaching success, and names and contact information of three professional references by August 20, 2022. Doctoral candidates must also send three letters of recommendation to business-bahr@business.illinois.edu for inclusion with the application documents.

Interviews may occur prior to the initial closing date; however, the review of applications will continue until suitable candidates are identified. Only applications submitted through the University of Illinois Job Board will be considered. For questions regarding application procedures, please email business-bahr@business.illinois.edu. For questions regarding the application system, please contact 217-333-2137.

The University of Illinois System is an equal opportunity employer, including but not limited to disability and/or veteran status, and complies with all applicable state and federal employment mandates. Please visit Required Employment Notices and Posters to view our non-discrimination statement and find additional information about required background checks, sexual harassment/misconduct disclosures, COVID-19 vaccination requirement, and employment eligibility review through E-Verify.

Applicants with disabilities are encouraged to apply and may request a reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (2008) to complete the application and/or interview process. Requests may be submitted through the reasonable accommodations portal, or by contacting the Accessibility & Accommodations Division of the Office for Access and Equity at 217-333-0885, or by emailing accessibility@illinois.edu.

Employer Description:
The University of Illinois offers an outstanding tradition of scholarship and a supportive environment for faculty development and excellence. The Gies College of Business at Illinois is a world leader in research, teaching, and public engagement. We offer exceptional support for data collection, data acquisition, and programming through the Gies Behavioral Research Lab, Data Science Research Services, and numerous other well-resourced units. In 2020, the Gies IMBA program was named one of the top-ten “Biggest B-School Innovations of The Decade” by Poets and Quants. The college has also become a leader in experiential learning. Gies provides the environment and resources that foster meaningful actions, empower students to make their mark, and put their purpose into practice – to make the world a better place. Gies Business is committed to being a model for a diverse, equitable and inclusive community, being actively anti-racist, helping the next generation of business leaders do the same, and engaging the public and our corporate partners in these efforts. We are interested in candidates who will bring excellence to campus via outstanding research, teaching, and service.

The Department of Business Administration is a large and diverse unit, which includes graduate and undergraduate programs across seven academic areas (i.e., Organizational Behavior, Strategic Management, International Business, Marketing, Operations Management, Information Systems, and Supply Chain). We offer a uniquely hospitable environment for interdisciplinary work, as well as the opportunity to work with talented doctoral students. We seek like-minded individuals who are committed to engaged scholarship of the highest caliber. Additional information about the Department may be found here.

Contact: Stephanie Menacher
Email: business-bahr@business.illinois.edu
Phone: 2173334240
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
26. American University

Job 18082: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/20/2022 to 8/19/2022
Institution: American University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: East
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology in the College of Arts and Sciences at American University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2023. Applicants should have a PhD, or an anticipated PhD completion by August 2023, in Sociology.

Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. Potential to secure extramural funding is a plus. We welcome applications from candidates engaged in high-quality, theoretically-grounded scholarship in one or more areas of departmental emphases, and in particular: intersecting social inequalities; race/racialization; urban dynamics; and/or environment and society. Teaching specialization in one or more of these areas as well as in social theory is preferred. In addition to scholarship and teaching, responsibilities will include participation in department, college, and university service.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin October 10, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit applications via: http://apply.interfolio.com/109981. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recently published papers or working papers. Please contact Michael Murphy, Senior Administrative Assistant, 202-885-2475 or mmurph@american.edu if you have any questions.

Employer Description:
American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities.

American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus. To ensure the health and safety of our community, American University requires that all faculty and staff are vaccinated for Covid-19. To learn more about American University's health and safety directives please click here:

https://www.american.edu/hr/how-we-work/vaccinations.cfm

Contact: Michael Murphy
Email: mmurph@american.edu
Phone: 2028852475
Website: www.american.edu/cas/sociology

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

Job 18080: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/20/2022 to 10/18/2022

Institution: Bowdoin College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Latina/o Sociology, Migration/Immigration
Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://careers.bowdoin.edu

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Bowdoin College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in the fields of Latinx Sociology and International Migration using quantitative methodologies beginning July 1, 2023. Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful research and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource: Williams, et. al., Toward a Model of Inclusive Excellence). We are particularly interested in candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate liberal arts education. A PhD by the start of the appointment is required.

Bowdoin has highly motivated students and a two-course teaching load per semester. The successful candidate will teach courses in their areas of expertise and core courses in Sociology, including Introduction to Sociology, Quantitative Analysis (i.e., statistics), and our Senior Capstone Seminar. We are especially interested in candidates who can offer elective courses not currently offered by our tenure-track faculty, courses that reflect the interests of our increasingly diverse student body, and courses that make connections with interdisciplinary programs on campus, including but not limited to the Latin American, Caribbean, and Latinx Studies Program.

The Bowdoin community warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the instruction and support of a diverse student population and those who will enrich and contribute to the College’s multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals. Support for teaching, grant-writing, digital initiatives, computing software, and community partnerships in courses is readily available to all faculty. The College also offers robust programming and resources for establishing and enhancing mentoring networks.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit https://careers.bowdoin.edu to submit: 1) a cover letter that details your scholarly research agenda, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and your commitment to inclusive excellence in the classroom; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) one writing sample (preference will be given to candidates who submit quantitative work), and 4) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2022.

Employer Description:
Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland, the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin’s reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (40% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 17% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: http://www.bowdoin.edu
Contact: Ingrid Nelson, Chair
Email: inelson@bowdoin.edu
Phone: (207) 725-3651
Website: https://www.bowdoin.edu/sociology

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18081: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline: October 15, 2022
Listing Active: 7/20/2022 to 10/18/2022
Institution: Bowdoin College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology, Cultural Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Bowdoin College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level in the field of computational social science beginning July 1, 2023. Candidates are expected to have expertise in quantitative methodologies, with the substantive field of specialization open. Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful research and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource: Williams, et. al., Toward a Model of Inclusive Excellence). We are particularly interested in candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate liberal arts education. A PhD by the start of the appointment is required.

Bowdoin has highly motivated students and a two-course teaching load per semester. The successful candidate will teach courses in their areas of expertise and core courses in Sociology, including Introduction to Sociology, Quantitative Analysis (i.e., statistics), and our Senior Capstone Seminar. We are especially interested in candidates who can offer elective courses not currently offered by our tenure-track faculty, courses that reflect the interests of our increasingly diverse student body, and courses that make connections with interdisciplinary programs on campus.

The Bowdoin community warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the instruction and support of a diverse student population and those who will enrich and contribute to the College’s multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals. Support for teaching, grant-writing, digital initiatives, computing software, and community partnerships in courses is readily available to all faculty. The College also offers robust programming and resources for establishing and enhancing mentoring networks.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit https://careers.bowdoin.edu to submit: 1) a cover letter that details your scholarly research agenda, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and your commitment to inclusive excellence in the classroom; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) one writing sample (preference will be given to candidates who submit quantitative work), and 4) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2022.

Employer Description:
Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland, the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin’s reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (40% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 17% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: http://www.bowdoin.edu

Contact: Ingrid Nelson, Chair
Email: inelson@bowdoin.edu
Phone: (207) 725-3651
Website: https://www.bowdoin.edu/sociology

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on: Age? Yes

National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18079: Assistant or Associate Professor

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/20/2022 to 9/18/2022
Institution: Western University
Department: Faculty of Health Sciences
Region: Canada
Title: Assistant or Associate Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Eligible
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Education, Science and Technology
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:
Job Description:

The Faculty of Health Sciences (FHS) and Faculty of Information & Media Studies (FIMS) at Western University invite applications for a Joint Associate Professor (tenured), a probationary Associate Professor (with early eligibility for tenure at Western) or an Assistant Professor who is in the final years of a tenure-track appointment (probationary) in Health Information Sciences (HIS). Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. The Faculty of Health Sciences has a teaching and research environment that is dynamic and highly collaborative, with four signature research areas (HIS strategic research plan) in mobility, social determinants of health/health equity, health information and technology, and changing health services, systems and policy. The Faculty of Information and Media Studies conducts research and offers programs in the areas of information, media and technology systems, histories, and practices to understand the role of media and information in democratic processes and the social and cultural determinants of power and agency.

The HIS Program is a well-established graduate program offered jointly by the two Faculties. The program sits at the intersection of the two Faculties’ missions and supports innovative research, teaching, and knowledge transfer/mobilization. The HIS program provides students with fundamental knowledge about human health and its sociotechnical contexts; health organizations and health care delivery in Canada and globally; health informatics; and the impacts of digital technologies on individual and social health.

The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to growing collaborations among researchers within the Faculty of Health Sciences and the Faculty of Information & Media Studies. The successful candidate will have demonstrated excellence in research that incorporates knowledge and methods from health information science and related fields to identify, research, and analyze critical issues related to the convergence of health, information, technology, and culture. These areas of inquiry may include but are not limited to: health information science, including critical analysis of health mis- and dis-information, online health information spaces, and health and social media; science and technology studies (STS) with a focus on digital health technologies; health informatics; health communication and knowledge translation in a digital context; information ethics and policy in clinical health care; and/or health equity. Prior experience or ability to deliver graduate level content in one or more of the following domains would be beneficial: health informatics, digital health studies, or knowledge translation.

The successful candidate will hold a PhD and will have a background in a health-related discipline such as Health Sciences/Studies, Nursing, Kinesiology, or Rehabilitation Sciences and/or in Library and Information Science, Communications, Media Studies, Sociology, or Science and Technology Studies (STS). The joint appointment will be in a School in the Faculty of Health Sciences (Kinesiology, Health Studies, Nursing, Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, or Communication Sciences and Disorders) and in the Faculty of Information & Media Studies. The successful candidate will have a record of research that comprises external funding, peer-reviewed publications, and national/international exposure through invited lectures and/or conference symposias as appropriate for their discipline and career stage. Evidence of leadership would be beneficial. In short, the successful candidate will be an academic with demonstrated teaching and research activity, creativity, and leadership ability. The successful candidate will also be expected to take on a leadership role as Graduate Program Chair in Health Information Science.

The candidate may benefit from interactions with Western’s Research Centres and Institutes including but not limited to: the Centre for Research on Health Equity and Social Inclusion, the Rotman Institute of Philosophy, and the newly forming Center for Digital Justice and Democracy. In addition to research and scholarly activity, the candidate will be engaged in teaching in the Health Information Sciences graduate program.

The anticipated start date is July 1, 2023. Interested applicants are invited to submit a complete application package, as a single PDF file, containing the following:

1. Application for Full-Time Faculty Position form
2. Cover letter (highlighting fit within both Faculties and research entities at Western)
3. A detailed curriculum vitae
4. A statement on Equity, Diversity, Inclusion in relation to their teaching and research
5. A brief description of the candidate’s current research program, past accomplishments, and future plans
6. Links to representative publications
7. The names and contact information of three references

The application package can be submitted via email to:

Drs. S. Jayne Garland and Lisa Henderson
Search Committee Co-Chairs
Western University
Arthur and Sonia Labatt Health Sciences Building, Room 200
1151 Richmond St. N.
London, Ontario, Canada N6A 3K7
wechebot@uwo.ca

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 26, 2022.

Please quote number HS-243 on all correspondence for this position.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western’s COVID-19 Vaccination Policy.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Wanda Chebott, Executive Assistant to the Dean of Health Sciences at wechebot@uwo.ca or 519-661-4239.

Employer Description:

Western has a full-time enrolment of approximately 32,000 in a range of academic and professional programs. With annual research funding exceeding $220 million, and an international reputation for success, Western ranks as one of Canada’s top research-intensive universities. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western also provides an exceptional employment experience, offering competitive salaries, a wide range of employment opportunities and one of Canada’s most beautiful campuses. Western’s Recruitment and Retention Office is available to assist in the transition of successful applicants and their families.

Western University recognizes that our commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion is central to the University’s mandate as a research-intensive institution of higher learning and a community leader. Western understands that our pursuit of research excellence and our commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion are mutually supporting. The successful applicant will show evidence of contributing to equity, diversity, and inclusion in academia.

Contact: Wanda Chebott
Email: wechebot@uwo.ca
Phone: 519-661-4239
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITEd.
Job 18085: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor, Urban Sociology

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Posting Active: 7/20/2022 to 8/20/2022
Institution: Western University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Canada
Title: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor, Urban Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Urban Sociology
Salary Range:
Submission Link:
Submission Link:
Job Description:
Job Description:
Building on our strengths in Social Inequality, Population Dynamics, and Quantitative Methods, the Department of Sociology at Western University (www.sociology.uwo.ca) invites applications for a probationary tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in Urban Sociology. The starting date for this appointment is July 1, 2023, or as negotiated.

The Department is seeking a talented scholar with expertise in Urban Sociology. The candidate’s particular substantive research interests may vary, but preference will be given to those with demonstrated knowledge and expertise in any of the following areas: race and ethnicity, housing affordability, social change, wellbeing, spatial analysis, and/or municipal policy.

To be considered for this appointment, applicants must have a PhD in Sociology or related discipline completed by the start date of the appointment. They should also provide evidence of research excellence through a record of internationally recognized publication in the discipline’s leading journals. They likewise should provide evidence that they have, or have the potential to develop, the capacity to conduct innovative externally funded research projects that complement the Department’s core research areas. The candidate must also demonstrate the ability to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate university levels, and have excellent oral and written communication skills. The candidate should also demonstrate the ability to collaborate and contribute to the department research and teaching in a collegial manner.

Western University is a top-ranked research-intensive university located in London, Ontario which is two hours from Toronto and Detroit. Situated in the Faculty of Social Science, the Department of Sociology offers full programs for undergraduate, MA, and PhD students. The University is experiencing a period of significant growth and renewal and combines research and academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth in order to serve our communities.

Applications must include the following: (1) Application for Full-Time Faculty Position form http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf, (2) a cover letter, (3) C.V., (4) Research statement, no more than three pages (5) Teaching and Mentoring Philosophy, no more than three pages, and (6) Names, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses for three referees. All application materials should be emailed to: Professor Howard Ramos, Department of Sociology, Western University, London, Ontario, Canada, N6A 5C2, email: sociology-chair@uwo.ca.

The deadline for receipt of applications is August 31, 2022, or until position is filled.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western’s COVID-19 Vaccination Policy.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Gayle Finlay, gfinlay4@uwo.ca, and/or 519-661-4028.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's COVID-19 Vaccination Policy.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Gayle Finlay, gfinlay4@uwo.ca, and/or 519-661-4028.

Employer Description:

Contact: Professor Howard Ramos
Email: sociology-chair@uwo.ca
Phone:
Website: https://sociology.uwo.ca/
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
31. McGill University

Job 18075: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/19/2022 to 9/18/2022

Institution: McGill University

Department: Department of Sociology

Region: Canada

Title: Assistant Professor

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Demography

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position, commencing August 1, 2023. Exceptionally qualified candidates may be considered at the Associate level.

We are looking to expand our strength in population studies. We seek applicants with strong quantitative skills as demonstrated by a record of applying cutting-edge statistical methods to important questions in population dynamics. Within this substantive area, all research foci are of interest. However, research focusing on our other departmental areas of strength of Comparative Political Sociology and Development and Diversity and Inequalities (notably Gender) is particularly welcome.

It is expected that the successful candidate will teach undergraduate statistics. In addition, the successful candidate will be associated with the Centre on Population Dynamics, and ability to teach in the graduate option offered in Population Dynamics (including demographic methods) is expected.

For more information about our Department, visit our website at www.mcgill.ca/sociology.

Job Duties Research; teaching; service.

Qualifications and Education requirements 1) PhD in sociology, demography, or in a related field (includes those who expect to receive their PhD by the start of the position); 2) A strong emerging record of publications and independent program of research; 3) Experience in teaching as lecturer or teaching assistant is beneficial.

The language of instruction at McGill is English; however, a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Applications must be submitted online to Workday (McGill’s employment portal).

The following supporting documents are required: 1) A cover letter; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) One writing sample. Contact information for three references will be requested for a select group of candidates.

For more information on the Department, visit our website at www.mcgill.ca/sociology. If you have questions about the application process or any issues navigating the application portal please contact us at jobsearch.sociology@mcgill.ca.

Employer Description:

McGill University is committed to equity and diversity within its community and values academic rigour and excellence. We welcome and encourage applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities.

At McGill, research that reflects diverse intellectual traditions, methodologies, and modes of dissemination and translation is valued and encouraged. Candidates are invited to demonstrate their research impact both within and across academic disciplines and in other sectors, such as government, communities, or industry. McGill further recognizes and fairly considers the impact of leaves (e.g., family care or health-related) that may contribute to career interruptions or slowdowns. Candidates are encouraged to signal any leave that affected productivity, or that may have had an effect on their career path. This information will be considered to ensure the equitable assessment of the candidate’s record.

McGill implements an employment equity program and encourages members of designated equity groups to self-identify. It further seeks to ensure the equitable treatment and full inclusion of persons with disabilities by striving for the implementation of universal design principles transversally, across all facets of the University community, and through accommodation policies and procedures. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application process may contact, in confidence, this email.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
Contact: Rosa Rodriguez
Email: jobsearch.sociology@mcgill.ca
Phone: (514) 398-6868
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18077: Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/19/2022 to 8/19/2022
Institution: University of California Berkeley
Department:
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Political Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science

Position overview Anticipated start: 7/1/2023

Application Window
Open July 13th, 2022 through Thursday, Sep 1, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

If you apply to this recruitment by September 1st, 2022, you will have until September 7th, 2022 to complete your application.

Position description

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in political science, with preference for scholars who work in the areas of: Women and Politics, Public Law, Environmental Politics, IR, Formal Theory, Chinese Politics, or with a focus on institutions.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to fostering an environment in which all members of the Berkeley community feel empowered to pursue their educational goals in a welcoming environment. We believe that every individual must be treated with equality and dignity as we work together to ensure the success of students, staff, and faculty. For more information, please visit the department website: https://polisci.berkeley.edu/.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty.

Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education.

Department: https://polisci.berkeley.edu/
Qualifications Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree granting program at the time of application.

Application Requirements Document requirements

• Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.

• Cover Letter

• Statement of Research

• Statement of Teaching

• Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion - Statement on your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, including information about your understanding of these topics, your record of activities to date, and your specific plans and goals for advancing equity and inclusion if hired at Berkeley (for additional information go to https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity). (Required)

• Sample of Significant Written Scholarship One - Please provide a sample of significant written scholarship. (Optional)

• Sample of Significant Written Scholarship Two - Please provide a sample of significant written scholarship. (Optional)

• Sample of Significant Written Scholarship Three - Please provide a sample of significant written scholarship. (Optional)

• Covid Impact Statement - If applicable, please provide a statement discussing if COVID-19 has impacted your research. (Optional)

Reference requirements

• 3 letters of reference required

It is preferred that letters of reference be received by referees no later than the final date to apply (September 1, 2022).

Apply link: https://apptrkr.com/3250263
Help contact: knera@berkeley.edu

Campus Information

Diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging are core values at UC Berkeley. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students, and academic and non-academic staff who share our commitment to these values. Successful candidates for our academic positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to advancing equity, inclusion, and belonging.

The University of California, Berkeley is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct
In searches when letters of reference are required, all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (http://apo.berkeley.edu/ucb-confidentiality-policy) prior to submitting their letter.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. Please refer to Appendix F, Section II.C. of the policy for the deadlines applicable to new University of California employees. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Positions that are represented by a collective bargaining unit or agent have particular contracts. For more information, please refer to the relevant contract: https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/ix/index.html, https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/pix/index.html, and https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/rx/index.html. Questions about represented positions can be directed to the hiring unit.

Job location Berkeley, CA

To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/3250263

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.
Job 18073: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/19/2022 to 9/19/2022
Institution: University of California-Berkeley
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/JPF03511

Job Description:

POSITION OVERVIEW

Position title: Assistant Professor
Anticipated start: July 1, 2023

APPLICATION WINDOW

Open July 18th, 2022 through Friday, Sep 9, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

POSITION DESCRIPTION

The Department of Sociology at the University of California, Berkeley seeks applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor faculty position. Candidates will be considered regardless of field of specialization. The position’s duties include: academic research and publications, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and administrative service. The department welcomes candidates with the potential for innovation and leadership in research, commitment to educating and mentoring diverse students, dedicated or planned service to the field or their communities, and those who share our core values: https://sociology.berkeley.edu/diversity-equity-and-inclusion.

The Department of Sociology recognizes the intrinsic relationship between diversity and excellence in all our endeavors. We embrace open and equitable access to opportunities for learning and development as our obligation and goal. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to advancing diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging through their research, teaching, and/or service. UC Berkeley is committed to upholding the university’s principles of community so that every individual can be successful in a healthy, welcoming, and safe environment. Additional information about programs and resources supporting the advancement of diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging is available at: https://ls.berkeley.edu/about/diversity-equity-and-inclusion https://ls.berkeley.edu/ls-divisions/social-sciences/diversity-equity-and-inclusion

Considering the significant disruptions caused by the Covid-19 pandemic, particularly for disadvantaged groups, in our evaluation of applicants, dips in productivity in otherwise strong records occurring with the onset of the pandemic will be evaluated with the context of the pandemic in mind.

The department is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents, as well as candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty.

QUALIFICATIONS

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree-granting program at the time of application.

Preferred qualifications

Receipt of the Ph.D. or equivalent international degree within one year of employment.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Document requirements
Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.

Cover Letter

Statement of Research

Statement of Teaching

Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion - Statement on your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, including information about your understanding of these topics, your record of activities to date, and your specific plans and goals for advancing equity and inclusion if hired at Berkeley (for additional information go to https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity).

Writing Sample 1 of 3 - One of your best papers, published or not, or a dissertation chapter

Writing Sample 2 of 3 - One of your best papers, published or not, or a dissertation chapter

Writing Sample 3 of 3 - One of your best papers, published or not, or a dissertation chapter

Reference requirements

3-5 required (contact information only)

Letters of reference will only be solicited for candidates placed on the long list.

Apply link: https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/JPF03511

Help contact: kmills@berkeley.edu

Employer Description:

Diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging are core values at UC Berkeley. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students, and academic and non-academic staff who share our commitment to these values. Successful candidates for our academic positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to advancing equity, inclusion, and belonging.

The University of California, Berkeley is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct

In searches when letters of reference are required all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (http://apo.berkeley.edu/ucb-confidence-poly) prior to submitting their letter.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. Please refer to Appendix F, Section II.C. of the policy for the deadlines applicable to new University of California employees. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Positions that are represented by a collective bargaining unit or agent have particular contracts. For more information, please refer to the relevant contract: Lecturer contract, Postdoctoral contract, Research Series contract, and Librarian contract. Questions about represented positions can be directed to the hiring unit.

Contact: Kalford Mills
Email: kmills@berkeley.edu
Phone:
Website: https://sociology.berkeley.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 18074: Assistant Professor

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
34. University of California-Berkeley

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Listing Active: 7/19/2022 to 9/18/2022

Institution: University of California-Berkeley
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: West
Title: Assistant Professor

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Racial and Ethnic Relations , Race, Class and Gender

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: < a href='https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/JPF03539' target='_blank'>https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/JPF03539

Job Description:

POSITION OVERVIEW

Position title: Assistant Professor
Anticipated start: July 1, 2023

APPLICATION WINDOW

Open July 18th, 2022 through Friday, Sep 9, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

POSITION DESCRIPTION

The University of California, Berkeley seeks applicants for a tenure-track (Assistant Professor) position in the Department of Sociology. This hire is part of a multi-year hiring initiative in "Anti-Black Racism and Social Inclusion." Successful candidates will join a dynamic cluster of scholars at UC-Berkeley who are addressing anti-blackness across a range of institutions and from diverse disciplinary approaches.

UC Berkeley is committed to building a community of scholars whose work contributes to contemporary efforts to strengthen democratic structures that are currently in crisis (e.g., through the suppression of voting rights; hyper-criminalization; persistent wealth inequality; highly segregated schools, and approaches to crime control). The Anti-Black Racism and Social Inclusion hiring initiative centers anti-blackness as a central organizing feature of social and political institutions in the US and globally, and as an expansive conceptual framework that draws attention to the systems and structures that delimit Black lives and enables us to interrogate how anti-blackness functions across and within racial/ethnic groups. We seek scholars who are leading or emerging voices in conversations on anti-blackness as it relates to outcomes in various social domains and who possess a demonstrated commitment to advancing anti-racism both inside and outside the academy, whether in the United States or internationally.

This initiative is especially interested in applicants whose research can contribute to theoretical, conceptual, and empirical understandings of how social institutions can provide for the safety and well-being of a diverse group of people in a democratic society as it reckons with its roots in racism, anti-blackness and white supremacy. We invite applicants with interdisciplinary expertise in critical epistemologies, like critical race theory, and the Black intellectual and Black feminist traditions. We also invite applicants whose scholarly experience include a demonstrated commitment to this research arc and to teaching/mentoring, service, practice and public intellectualism/partnerships along these lines.

The Department of Sociology recognizes the intrinsic relationship between diversity and excellence in all our endeavors. We embrace open and equitable access to opportunities for learning and development as our obligation and goal. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to advancing diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging through their research, teaching, and/or service. UC Berkeley is committed to upholding the university’s principles of community so that every individual can be successful in a healthy, welcoming, and safe environment. Additional information about programs and resources supporting the advancement of diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging is available at: https://ls.berkeley.edu/about/diversity-equity-and-inclusion

Considering the significant disruptions caused by the Covid-19 pandemic, particularly for disadvantaged groups, in our evaluation of applicants, dips in productivity in otherwise strong records occurring with the onset of the pandemic will be evaluated with the context of the pandemic in mind.

The department is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents, as well as candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty.

Department: https://sociology.berkeley.edu/
QUALIFICATIONS

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)
PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree-granting program at the time of application.

Preferred qualifications
Successful applicants are expected to develop a nationally recognized program and collaborate across disciplines to develop research initiatives related to Anti-Black Racism and Social Inclusion. Candidates should demonstrate evidence of strong research productivity, potential for securing extramural funding, and a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring of undergraduates, graduate students, and post-docs. We are particularly interested in scholars with a commitment and track record of promoting diversity, equity and inclusion in the realms of research, teaching and/or service.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Document requirements

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Statement of Research - statement of research (including past research accomplishments and proposed research at Berkeley)
- Statement of Teaching and Service - statement of teaching and service (including prior teaching experience, teaching philosophy, future teaching interests, prior and proposed academic, professional and/or community service)
- Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion - Statement on your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, including information about your understanding of these topics, your record of activities to date, and your specific plans and goals for advancing equity and inclusion if hired at Berkeley.

Please note that the statement of contributions to diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging may be evaluated as a standalone document and should, therefore, include all relevant information, even if aspects are also discussed in other submitted materials (for additional information go to https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity).

- First of three representative publications - journal articles, dissertation chapters, working papers, book chapters, or other appropriate products
- Second of three representative publications - journal articles, dissertation chapters, working papers, book chapters, or other appropriate products
- Third of three representative publications - journal articles, dissertation chapters, working papers, book chapters, or other appropriate products

Reference requirements

- 3-5 required (contact information only)

Letters of reference will only be solicited for candidates placed on the long list.

Apply link: https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/JPF03539

Help contact: kmills@berkeley.edu

Employer Description:

Diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging are core values at UC Berkeley. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students, and academic and non-academic staff who share our commitment to these values. Successful candidates for our academic positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to advancing equity, inclusion, and belonging.

The University of California, Berkeley is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct

In searches when letters of reference are required all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (http://apo.berkeley.edu/ucb-confidentiality-policy) prior to submitting their letter.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. Please refer to Appendix F, Section II.C. of the policy for the deadlines applicable to new University of California employees. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Positions that are represented by a collective bargaining unit or agent have particular contracts. For more information, please refer to the relevant contract: Lecturer contract, Postdoctoral contract, Research Series contract, and Librarian contract. Questions about represented positions can be directed to the hiring unit.

Contact: Kalford Mills
Email: kmills@berkeley.edu
Phone:
Website: https://sociology.berkeley.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
  Spouses of Employees? Yes
  Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
  Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
35. University of California-San Diego

Job 18078: Assistant (JPF03254)/Associate Professor (JPF03259) - Sociology (Latinx Cluster Hire Initiative)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 7/19/2022 to 10/20/2022
Institution: University of California-San Diego
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: West
Title: Assistant (JPF03254)/Associate Professor (JPF03259) - Sociology (Latinx Cluster Hire Initiative)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Migration/Immigration, Sex and Gender
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF03254

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology and the Latinx Cluster Hire Initiative at UC San Diego invite applications for an Assistant or Associate Professor to be appointed as part of UCSD’s Latinx Cluster Hire, to begin July 1, 2023. We are committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body and welcome applicants who study societies in any region of the world. While the search is open field, we have a preference for candidates who study international migration, social inequalities, gender, and/or environmental sociology.

The individual hired into this position will be expected to teach courses and mentor at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. We invite applicants of a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches with an innovative research program and commitment to outstanding teaching. Applicants must have strong research accomplishments and have experience or a willingness to participate in teaching, mentoring, research or service towards building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

This position is one of 14 new ladder-rank faculty positions in the Latinx Cluster Hire Initiative (LCHI) at UC San Diego. The LCHI aims to increase faculty diversity, innovative research, and culturally relevant curriculum and mentorship through increased engagement and collaboration between various departments across campus with the Chicanx and Latinx Studies (CLS) and Latin American Studies (LAS) programs.

Faculty hired under LCHI will have multiple opportunities to contribute to UC San Diego’s transformation from an emergent Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) to a full-status HSI that meets the curricular and cultural needs of Latinx, URM, and first-generation students. This includes faculty engagement with scholars across disciplines to address issues of race and racism, access and equity, and social and political debates pertinent to Chicanx, Latinx, and Latin American Studies, while also working within their home departments and professional communities. As part of their teaching portfolio, faculty hired under LCHI will be expected to design and teach undergraduate courses that align with the CLS and/or LAS academic programs, mentor undergraduate students, and serve as faculty affiliates in one or both programs.

We seek candidates whose research, teaching, and service will advance UC San Diego’s transition to HSI and/or anti-racism, anti-oppression, equity, and social justice with a focus on the Latinx/Chicanx community. We especially welcome candidates whose professional experience, community engagement, and personal background have facilitated their understanding of and ability to better serve students from traditionally underrepresented communities in higher education. Faculty are expected to have an inclusive approach to mentoring and advising that incorporates working with women and underrepresented students.

For applicants interested in spousal/partner employment, please visit the UCSD Partner Opportunities Program website: https://aps.ucsd.edu/recruitment/pop/.

The application deadline is September 30, 2022. Applicants should submit all application materials electronically via UCSD’s Academic Personnel On-Line RECRUIT (https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF03259). The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

QUALIFICATIONS

A scholar at the assistant level and holds a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field, or who is ABD, pursuing a Ph.D. Demonstrated ability to teach courses in Sociology and in Chicanx and Latinx Studies (CLS) and Latin American Studies (LAS) programs. Additional qualifications (required at time of start): A completed PhD by the time of the position start date, in Sociology or related field.

A scholar at the associate level holds a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related field. Demonstrate ability to teach courses in Sociology and in Chicanx and Latinx Studies (CLS) and Latin American Studies (LAS) programs.

Apply here for Assistant Professor, Job# JPF03254: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF03254
Apply here for Associate Professor, Job# JPF03259: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF03259

Employer Description:
The University of California, San Diego is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, covered veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. Please refer to Appendix F, Section II.C. of the policy for the deadlines applicable to new University of California employees. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

The University of California prohibits smoking and tobacco use at all University controlled properties.

The UC San Diego Annual Security & Fire Safety Report is available online at: https://www.police.ucsd.edu/docs/annualclery.pdf. This report provides crime and fire statistics, as well as institutional policy statement & procedures. Contact the UC San Diego Police Department at (858) 534-4361 if you want to obtain paper copies of this report.

Contact: Kwai Ng
Email: socio-chair@ucsd.edu
Phone: (858) 534-4627
Website: https://sociology.ucsd.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITEd.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022

36. University of Colorado-Colorado Springs

Job 18071: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/19/2022 to 9/17/2022
Institution: University of Colorado-Colorado Springs
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Asians/Asian-Americans, Racial and Ethnic Relations
Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Colorado Colorado Springs https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=25059

Description: The Department of Sociology in the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences (LAS) invites applications for a tenure track appointment at the assistant professor rank to begin August 2023. We seek a broadly trained sociologist with expertise in Black Studies or Asian Studies. Other areas of focus might include one or more of the following: community organization, deviance, globalization/borderlands, homelessness, sexuality, social inequalities and crime, sustainability/environment, and urban communities. Applicants should also have an interest in teaching courses to support university diversity, equity, and inclusiveness efforts to retain marginalized students. This position will teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels with a 3/2 teaching load including face-to-face and possibly online courses.

Salary Range: Generally starting at $60,000 - $63,000 per academic year

Application Materials Instructions: Please identify the job specific minimum qualifications you possess in your cover letter and be sure your CV/resume includes any and all relevant experience to be accurately assessed against the qualifications listed in the posting. To apply, please submit the following application materials to this posting. 1. A current CV. 2. A cover letter. 3. Unofficial transcripts. 4. Two-page Research Statement. 5. Two-page Teaching Statement. 6. Two Writing Samples. 7. A Syllabus. When submitting the materials, check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in order for the search committee members to see your materials.

Employer Description:
Who We Are: The University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is one of four campuses in the University of Colorado system and is home to over 9,000 undergraduate and 1,800 graduate students. UCCS offers 53 undergraduate degree programs, 24 graduate degree programs, and 8 doctoral programs. The city, which was recently ranked as the number six Best Places to Live by U.S. News & World Report in 2021, known as Olympic City USA, rests at the base of Pikes Peak, the inspiration for the song “America the Beautiful” and a must-see for residents and visitors alike. The 14,115 foot summit is just one of dozens of area attractions, including scenic trains, museums, parks, a zoo and more. With a mild climate and 247 days of sunshine each year, the Springs boasts some of the state’s best recreation opportunities.

Contact:
Jeffrey Montez de Oca
Email: jmontezd@uccs.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
Job 18070: Faculty Positions in Organizational Behavior

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/18/2022 to 10/16/2022
Institution: Stanford University, Graduate School of Business
Department: Organizational Behavior
Region: West
Title: Faculty Positions in Organizational Behavior
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Graduate School of Business seeks to hire tenure-track faculty in organizational behavior beginning September 1, 2023. Applicants should possess a strong research background and an interest in the study of organizations and organizational behavior broadly defined, and the ability to teach effectively in both MBA and PhD programs. The search is open to all ranks for candidates with a macro-OB/sociology orientation or with a micro-OB/psychology orientation. Applicants should have or expect to complete a PhD by September 1, 2023.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must submit a CV, a job market paper and arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted. Applicants applying with a micro-OB/psychology orientation are encouraged to submit a research statement, but this is not required. The application deadline is October 1, 2022, but candidates are strongly encouraged to submit as soon as possible. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to faculty_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Employer Description:

Contact: Faculty Recruiter
Email: Faculty_Recruiter@GSB.Stanford.Edu
Phone: (650) 721 8440
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
38. University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

Job 18050: Postdoctoral Scholar

Date Position is Available: Winter 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/18/2022 to 8/17/2022
Institution: University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill
Department: Carolina Population Center
Region: Southeast
Title: Postdoctoral Scholar
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $50,000 - $59,999
Job Description:
The Biosocial Training Program at UNC Chapel Hill is currently accepting applications for a T32-funded postdoctoral position, with a preferred start date on or before January 31, 2023. Housed at the Carolina Population Center, the Biosocial Training Program is an interdisciplinary program that trains scientists to move across disciplinary boundaries and employ creative and integrative approaches to understanding the complex factors that influence health and health disparities across the life course. Our postdoctoral scholars engage in independent and supervised work in close collaboration with interdisciplinary faculty mentors and receive training designed to prepare them to lead the next generation of integrative population health researchers. Applications are due by August 31, 2022.

Employer Description:
Since 1966, researchers at the Carolina Population Center have pioneered data collection and research techniques that move population science forward by emphasizing life course approaches, longitudinal surveys, the integration of biological measurement into social surveys, and attention to context and environment. We are also at the forefront of creating interdisciplinary training programs that integrate approaches from the social and biological sciences, building research capacity and training the next generation of scholars. Our faculty fellows address pressing research questions about population dynamics, fertility, health, mortality, migration, and the environment. Faculty come from multiple disciplines, benefitting from the cross-pollination of ideas. Our dedicated research and programming staff support fellows at every stage of project development, from conception through data collection or acquisition, analysis and dissemination, and project administration.

Contact: Abigail Haydon
Email: abaydon@email.unc.edu
Phone:
Website: https://www.cpc.unc.edu/training/biosocial/postdoctoral/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
The American Bar Foundation (ABF) seeks to expand knowledge and advance justice through innovative, interdisciplinary, and rigorous empirical research on law, legal processes, and legal institutions. Administrative responsibilities include directing, supervising, and promoting institutional research programs; producing multi-year plans for faculty research; directing and participating in institutional fundraising, including meeting with and presenting to public and private foundations, corporations, and major gift prospects; recruiting and retaining an excellent faculty; planning, generating and managing the institutional budget; managing the research faculty and staff; building a comprehensive communications program with all the ABF’s constituencies; and regularly reporting to the ABF Board and officers on the research programs and other activities.

A full description of the Executive Director position and responsibilities is available on the ABF website. For details about the ABF faculty and research program, visit the website: americanbarfoundation.org.

Applications are invited for the Executive Director position, with priority consideration for those received by October 1, 2022, and must include a cover letter and curriculum vitae. To apply, please email your application materials to execsearch@abfn.org. The ABF encourages women and applicants from diverse backgrounds to apply. The Executive Director position is anticipated to begin in January 2023.

EEO Statement: The ABF is firmly committed to providing equal employment opportunities to all qualified persons. All decisions regarding the terms, privileges, and/or conditions of employment, including but not limited to hiring, classification, grading, recruitment, discharge, discipline, compensation, selection for training or apprenticeship, placement, promotion, transfer, renewal of employment, tenure or terms, and benefits, will be made without unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, citizenship, ancestry, age, order of protection status, marital status, disability, military status, unfavorable discharge from the military, sexual orientation, pregnancy, gender, gender identity, housing status, parental status, source of income, certain arrest or criminal history records, genetic information, protected activity (such as opposition to or reporting of prohibited discrimination or harassment), or any other status or classification protected by applicable federal, state, and/or local laws. The ABF prohibits discrimination, retaliation, and harassment of individuals on any of the bases listed above and any other basis protected by applicable federal, state and/or local law.

Employer Description:
The American Bar Foundation (ABF) seeks to expand knowledge and advance justice through innovative, interdisciplinary, and rigorous empirical research on law, legal processes, and legal institutions. To further this mission, the ABF will produce timely, cutting-edge research of the highest quality to inform and guide the legal profession, the academy, and society in the United States and internationally.
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
  - Age?  Yes
  - National Origin? Yes
  - Race? Yes
  - Religion? Yes
  - Sex? Yes
  - Sexual Orientation? Yes
  - Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
  - Spouses of Employees? Yes
  - Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
  - Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18067: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/15/2022 to 9/13/2022

Institution: Augustana University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Augustana University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor of Sociology, beginning Fall 2023. Successful applicants must have the teaching, research, and administrative capacity to collaborate on the development of a new critical Criminal Justice major. They should be broadly prepared to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate criminal justice courses, including intro to criminal justice, criminal procedure, policing, and corrections, as well as direct student internships. Secondary teaching and research experience in statistics, race/ethnicity, Native American Studies, or social policy is preferred.

Augustana prides itself on excellent in-person classroom instruction, thus the successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring students in a liberal arts environment. The load for this position is 3-1-3; three courses per semester plus one course during our January term.

Qualifications: Completed Ph.D. in sociology required by September 1, 2023. Evidence of teaching excellence and a productive research agenda is expected.

Interacting with students, faculty, and administration with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and shared governance must be top values of the candidate.

Application Procedure: Priority will be given to applications received by September 16. Please submit a letter of application addressing the above qualifications, current vita, statement of teaching philosophy, copies of graduate transcripts, a completed Augustana University employment application statement of diversity, names and contact information for three professional references electronically to: humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu. Department representatives will be available to meet with interested candidates at American Sociological Association meetings. Please contact Dr. Spencier Ciaralli (spencier.ciaralli@augie.edu) to schedule meeting.

Augustana University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Title IX Employer that seeks to recruit, develop and retain a talented and diverse workforce. Augustana University is committed to excellence through diversity and strongly encourages applications from the entire spectrum of a diverse community. Submission of official transcripts may be required upon employment. Finalist candidates must satisfactorily complete a pre-employment background check.

Contact: Elizabeth Van Westen
Email: humanresources@augie.edu
Phone: 6052744107
Website: augie.edu/jobs

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
41. Marquette University

Job 18016: Assistant Professor (tenure-track)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/15/2022 to 9/13/2022
Institution: Marquette University
Department: Dept of Social & Cultural Sciences
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor (tenure-track)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency, Law and Society
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Department of Social and Cultural Sciences is seeking an Assistant Professor of Criminology and Law Studies (tenure-track). The area of expertise is open but the ability to contribute to curriculum being developed around our university-wide Race, Ethnic and Indigenous Studies (REIS) program is an expectation of the position. The ideal candidate will contribute required and elective courses to the undergraduate Criminology and Law Studies major. Applicants should demonstrate excellence in teaching, evidence of scholarly productivity, and a clear research agenda. A PhD in Criminology, Law, and Society, or related social science field is required. ABDs with a clear timeline for completion before the start of employment will be considered. A J.D. alone is not sufficient for this position. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and student success while working with diverse student populations.

Review of candidates will begin on September 15, 2022. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Use the following link to Marquette’s Human Resources Department to apply: https://employment.marquette.edu/postings/16893

Candidates will be asked to submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, teaching statement, research statement, and a diversity & equity statement. ABD candidates must provide timetable for completion of PhD. Candidates who make it past the initial screening stage will be asked to submit 3 letters of recommendation electronically.

Employer Description:

The Department of Social and Cultural Sciences offers undergraduate majors in Anthropology, Criminology and Law Studies, Social Welfare and Justice, and Sociology. The department is committed to excellence in both teaching and scholarship. Please visit the department web site: https://www.marquette.edu/social-cultural-sciences/

Marquette University is a Jesuit, Catholic University with a wide range of undergraduate and graduate programs. We seek candidates who can contribute to its mission, a statement of which can be found at: http://www.marquette.edu/about/mission.php. The campus is located in downtown Milwaukee, a racially diverse area with convenient access to national, state, and local government agencies, and many private institutions and non-profit organizations.

Contact: Meghan Stroshine
Email: meghan.stroshine@marquette.edu
Phone: (414) 288-6838
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
42. NAIC

Job 18068: Postdoctoral Research Position in Behavioral Science related to Insurance

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/15/2022 to 8/14/2022
Institution: NAIC
Department: Center for Insurance Policy and Research (CIPR)
Region: Midwest
Title: Postdoctoral Research Position in Behavioral Science related to Insurance
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Job Description:
The Center for Insurance Policy and Research (CIPR) at the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) is seeking applicants for a postdoctoral research position. The CIPR seeks applicants with expertise in quantitative and/or qualitative analysis of key insurance issues related to at least one of the following: health and long-term care; natural catastrophes/climate and resiliency; artificial intelligence and big data; data privacy and cyber risk; and socioeconomic and demographic insurance disparities. We seek applicants with background in data analytics, survey/experiment development and analysis, decision-making and/or behavioral science. Applied research analyses utilizing these skills will be conducted to help inform NAIC regulatory members on key insurance issues of concern, with an emphasis on leveraging available NAIC data for the research where applicable, and/or through primary data collection. Clear and concise presentation of research results in various formats is also expected. Postdoctoral fellows will spend a significant amount of their time on CIPR research projects working with the CIPR Director and research team as well as related NAIC staff, while also having time to continue to pursue their own related research. Postdoctoral fellows must have received their PhD in the last two years in a related field such as behavioral science, decision science, economics, or risk management and insurance.

Location: Remote or Kansas City, MO – USA (preferred location); quarterly office visits for remote candidates.

Tentative Start date: Fall/Winter 2022

Length: One (1) year with the possibility of extending based on year one evaluation.

Status: Full Time/Temporary

Minimum requirements:
Applicants must have a Ph.D. (expected completion by the summer/fall of 2022 is acceptable) from an accredited institution in a related field. Incomplete applications will not be considered.
How to apply: Please apply online at http://careers.naic.org. Applicants should provide a cover letter detailing your interest in and fit for the position, your C.V., and two (2) representative publications or working papers. One (1) letter of recommendation may also be uploaded at the time of initial application but is not necessary. However, letters of recommendation will be collected as a candidate progresses through the process. If you have questions or need to send letters of recommendation, please email Tracey Burns at tlburns@naic.org.

About the NAIC and Center for Insurance Policy and Research
For 151 years, the NAIC has served insurance commissioners and their staff as a nexus for innovation and a hub of resources for insurance departments to draw upon. We are currently in year three of a three-year strategic plan for the NAIC’s future with a focus on pushing forward numerous initiatives along three main components: providing safe, solvent, and stable insurance markets; consumer protection and education; and superior member services and resources. Since 2011 the Center for Insurance Policy and Research has provided research and education to drive discussion and advance thought leadership as well as action on current and emerging insurance issues amongst insurance regulators, policymakers, industry, and academia. This has been accomplished through our events, research reports, newsletter, research library collection and knowledge distribution sources, and research published in the NAIC’s Journal of Insurance Regulation. For more information, visit https://content.naic.org/cipr_home.htm

Please note: Members of the CIPR team will attend the ARIA annual meeting in July. Initial meetings could be scheduled if time allows. Please email Tracey Burns at tlburns@naic.org

The NAIC is proud to be an Equal Opportunity Employer
Applicants for all positions are considered without regard to age, race, creed, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin or ancestry, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, military or veteran status, disability, or any other basis protected by applicable law.

Employer Description:

Company Overview
The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) is a member-focused, non-profit Association supporting state insurance commissioners, and their departments, to effectively regulate the insurance industry and protect consumers. Headquartered in Kansas City, New York, and Washington DC, our 150-year-old Association offers the coordination of expertise in policy and regulation among state departments, data and technology, financial regulatory support, training and education, and resources for ongoing collaboration among the states and jurisdictions.

Diversity Statement
Our member-driven Association supports the dynamic and diverse needs of state regulatory agencies and the consumers of insurance products and services. Through our ongoing commitment to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, we believe our employees provide a wide range of experience and expertise to generate better ideas and solve complex problems consumers and our members face as insurance products and regulation evolve over time.

Guiding Principles
We put customers first
We are committed to continuous improvement
We succeed by working together
We do what it takes to get the job done
We communicate often
We treat colleagues with respect and honesty

Employment At-Will Statement
This Job Description is not a comprehensive list and additional tasks may be assigned from time to time or the scope of the job may change as necessitated by business demands. The NAIC, and its affiliates, are an At-Will and Equal Opportunity Employer. Thus, both an employee and the NAIC are free to terminate the employment relationship at any time and for any reason.

Contact: Ms. Tracey Burns
Email: tlburns@naic.org
Phone:
Website:
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
43. Pennsylvania State University

Job 18066: Founding Director, Center for Racial Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/14/2022 to 8/13/2022
Institution: Pennsylvania State University
Department:
Region: Northeast
Title: Founding Director, Center for Racial Justice
Position/Rank: Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Director
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Race, Class and Gender
Salary Range: Negotiable
Job Description:

Founding Director, Center for Racial Justice

Penn State seeks applications for the position of founding director of the new Center for Racial Justice (Center), a research center that will focus on studying racism and racial bias. The Center will support research and scholarship on related and relevant topics, disseminate information from that scholarship, and provide scholarly findings that lead to meaningful action and positive change.

Duties and Responsibilities of the Founding Director

With the support of an advisory committee, the founding director will help create a strategic vision and focus, develop a multi-year strategy and plan for the Center, and will be charged with implementing its mission. The founding director will be responsible for setting the course of the new Center that will:

- Support cross-disciplinary, cross-methodological research activities;
- Coordinate, partner with, support, and promote relevant research-based activities with other institutes, centers, initiatives, departments, and consortia across the 24 Penn State campuses;
- Provide resources for faculty and research programs through mechanisms such as new faculty co-hires, creation of a fellowship program, funding of seed grants to foster interdisciplinary research, and applications for extramural funding;
- Create opportunities for undergraduate students, graduate students, and postdoctoral fellows through scholarship and project support;
- Drive service and outreach opportunities that promote the broad transfer of research findings; and
- Support Penn State in its efforts to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Required Qualifications

We seek a highly qualified, tenured individual with an outstanding record of academic leadership and research achievement. The successful candidate will hold a tenured appointment at the level of full- or associate professor in the most relevant academic department; joint appointments are possible. Candidates should indicate their tenure home preference in their application letter of interest. A Ph.D. or other doctoral degree in a relevant field is required.
Penn State and SSRI have a deep and profound commitment to diversity both as an end in itself, but also as a valuable means for eliminating inequities. As such, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who foster and promote the values of diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Application instructions

To be considered for this exciting opportunity, qualified applicants must submit the following materials:

- A letter of interest that addresses how the candidate meets the required qualifications for the position, how their body of work has influenced scholarship in the area of racism or racial justice, and their tenure home preference;
- A current curriculum vitae (CV) or resume; and
- A 1-2-page statement describing the candidate’s vision for how the Center can accomplish its mission;

Penn State has retained W. Tucker and Associates, a national executive recruiting firm, to assist with this search. All nominations, inquiries, and application materials should be submitted in confidence to W. Tucker and Associates at the e-mail ID mentioned below. The Search Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 12, 2022 and will continue to accept applications and nominations until the position is filled. Candidates are encouraged to have complete applications submitted to the search firm assisting the university by Monday, August 29, 2022.

Please direct all applications, nominations, and inquiries for the position to the search firm assisting the university at the contact information below:

Willie Tucker, Managing Principal

Stella Marks, Senior Associate

Penn State specific email: crj-foundingdirector@wtuckerandassociates.com.

Apply online at https://apptkr.com/3250159

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/

Employer Description:

About the Center for Racial Justice

The Center will draw upon Penn State’s https://strategicplan.psu.edu/files/2016/12/Our-Commitment-to-Impact-2016-2025-R1.pdf and leverage the broad range of expertise across multiple disciplines spanning our 24 campuses. The Center will attract additional talented scholars with the objective of becoming a national leader in research focused on racism and racial bias. A key objective of the Center will be to translate this knowledge and inform decisions based on scholarly findings. This translation will benefit from other research partnerships across the University, including the http://equity.psu.edu/.

The Social Sciences Research Institute

The Center will sit in the https://ssri.psu.edu/ (SSRI), one of Penn State’s https://www.psu.edu/research/interdisciplinary-institutes/. SSRI’s mission is to foster research that addresses critical human and social problems at the local, national, and international levels. SSRI does so by bringing together researchers from a range of disciplines, as well as providing consultation, financial support, shared accessible infrastructure, and services, to social and behavioral scientists across Penn State. As a university-wide interdisciplinary institute within the https://www.research.psu.edu/, SSRI supports and promotes innovation and excellence in the social and behavioral sciences, and contributes to Penn State's university-wide culture of interdisciplinary collaborative research.

Penn State's campuses support a broad and diverse research portfolio in relevant fields including the arts, sciences, humanities, law, medicine, communications, education, and social sciences. By being housed within SSRI, the Center will take advantage of the reputation and scholarly excellence associated with Penn State's interdisciplinary research institutes, and will promote collaboration across multiple research strengths on vital scholarly questions and pressing societal needs. The Center founding director may come from any academic field, including the humanities, behavioral sciences, social sciences, or other relevant discipline.

Contact: Willie Tucker
Email: crj-foundingdirector@wtuckerandassociates.com
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022

44. Princeton University

Job 18064: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/14/2022 to 11/11/2022

Institution: Princeton University
Department: University Center for Human Values
Region: Northeast
Title: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: All
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:

The University Center for Human Values at Princeton University invites applications for Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships for the academic year 2023-24. Fellows devote an academic year in residence at Princeton to research and writing about topics involving human values in public and private life. This full-time visiting program is open to scholars in all disciplines across the humanities and social sciences. For 2023-24, the Center’s designated research theme is Reckoning with Race. We welcome research that analyzes the category of race in both local and global contexts and in different periods of history, as well as research that investigates intersections of race, ethnicity, and indigeneity. Applications on other areas of research are also welcomed; we anticipate that roughly half of the fellowships awarded for 2023-24 will fall within the research theme. For applications relevant to the research theme, please state this explicitly and describe the relevance of the research to the theme. In assessing each application, we look for the potential of applicants to contribute to and benefit from a research community that draws together scholars who work in and across different disciplines.

Fellows are expected to reside in or around Princeton or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. Fellows are expected to pursue their own research and to be active contributors to the intellectual life of the Center. This includes participating in a weekly seminar attended by fellows and Center faculty to discuss work in progress and in various other seminars, colloquia and lectures sponsored by the Center. Fellows enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities throughout the University.

Candidates must have a doctorate or equivalent professional degree and a strong record of research publications appropriate to their career stage. Typically Fellows hold faculty positions at other universities or colleges; in exceptional cases we consider applications from independent scholars when there is a high level of scholarly achievement. This is not a postdoctoral fellowship program and we do not generally consider candidates who will have held the Ph.D. for less than two years at the time of appointment.

The fellowship period extends from September 1 to June 1. Fellows receive a stipend paid in nine equal installments. Ordinarily their home institutions provide a portion of their salaries in addition to all benefits, although this is not a requirement for appointment. Independent scholars are eligible to apply.

The main considerations in the evaluation of applications are the following:

- The significance of the proposed research and its relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values (see http://uchv.princeton.edu/ for more information);
- The quality of a candidate’s previous research and the contribution the candidate is likely to make in the future through teaching and writing;
- The likelihood that the research would benefit from being conducted in the University Center environment.
- Where applicable, the relevance of the application to the Center’s designated research theme, Reckoning with Race.

HOW TO APPLY

Candidates must submit an online application at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26381.

The following materials will be required:

1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A scholarly paper (of no more than about 12,000 words) written in the past three years;
3. A statement (of no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research project and including a brief working title for the project. Please describe the project’s relevance to the research theme where applicable; and

4. Contact information for three referees, including at least one referee who was not a graduate advisor. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Tuesday, October 18th, 2022, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. The selection committee begins reviewing applications immediately and incomplete applications may be at a disadvantage. Decisions are expected to be announced by late March 2023.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Employer Description:

Contact: Regin Davis
Email:
Phone: (609) 258-4798
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18062: Assistant Professor in Sociology/Criminal Justice

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/14/2022 to 8/13/2022
Institution: Siena College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor in Sociology/Criminal Justice
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminal Justice
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

About Siena College:
Located in Loudonville, New York-just 10 minutes from the state capital of Albany-the Siena experience is built for a new generation of leaders eager to create a more just, peaceful and humane world. Each year, more than 3,000 Saints are empowered through a transformative journey of intellectual, spiritual and personal discovery. The Education for a Lifetime is made possible through a workforce of highly qualified and competent faculty, administrators and staff committed to fulfilling the Siena mission.

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology at Siena College invites applications for two tenure-track positions at the Assistant Professor rank beginning September 2023. The candidates will contribute to both Sociology and the interdisciplinary major in Criminal Justice Studies. The candidates should have research interests in sociology and criminology and be able to teach introductory courses in Sociology such as Sociological Perspectives, Global Social Problems, Research Methods in Sociology, Criminal Justice Methods, and Restorative Justice. The successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or Criminology at the time of hire. As a liberal arts institution, we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to teaching excellence. The successful candidate will teach a 3 course load each semester.

Requirements:
Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Sociology or Criminology; ABD will be considered with completed Ph.D. before 9/1/2023. Demonstrated teaching experience in this area is beneficial.

A background screening is required.

Additional Information:
Siena College is committed to attracting, supporting, and retaining a diverse faculty. We actively encourage applications from women, minorities, persons with disabilities, veterans, and others from under-represented groups who may make a positive contribution to the diversification of ideas and perspectives.

Siena College is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

A COVID-19 vaccination is required for employees pursuant to the COVID-19 policy.

Application Instructions:
Applications should include a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a description of teaching philosophy and experience that addresses their approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom, evidence of teaching effectiveness (may include syllabi and summaries of teaching evaluations), and a list of three references. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, <http://siena.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=150287

Employer Description:
Located in Loudonville, New York-just 10 minutes from the state capital of Albany-the Siena experience is built for a new generation of leaders eager to create a more just, peaceful and humane world. Each year, more than 3,000 Saints are empowered through a transformative journey of intellectual, spiritual and personal discovery. The Education for a Lifetime is made possible through a workforce of highly qualified and competent faculty, administrators and staff committed to fulfilling the Siena mission.

Contact: Beverly Thompson
Email: bthompson@siena.edu
Phone: (518) 783-4190
Website:

---

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
46. Trinity University

Job 18065: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/14/2022 to 9/12/2022

Institution: Trinity University
Department: Department of Sociology and Anthropology
Region: Southwest

Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Sociology. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology completed by May 30, 2023. We seek a teacher-scholar and have a strong preference for candidates who can teach and mentor undergraduate students in quantitative methods. Research specialization should be in the study of race/ethnicity and one or more of the following subfields: economic, environmental, education, science and technology, social demography, labor or work, media, religion. Research may be focused on the United States or international contexts. Must contribute to one of the interdisciplinary degree majors/minors offered at Trinity University, such as African American Studies; East Asian Studies (EAST); Global Latinx Studies; International Studies; New Media; Urban Studies; Environmental Studies; Women’s and Gender Studies. Faculty are expected to contribute to teaching the First-Year Experience or other courses in Pathways, the University’s interdisciplinary general education program. Faculty must teach a total of 18 credit hours per year, with flexibility in how that is configured; most department faculty teach a 3/2 course load with small class sizes. Demonstrated teaching ability and enthusiasm for teaching at a highly selective undergraduate institution are essential.

This search is part of a cluster hire focused on Building Inclusive Communities, which seeks to recruit, amplify, connect, and empower teacher-scholars whose work contributes to addressing the grand challenge of building and sustaining inclusive communities. Additional tenure-track faculty positions will be advertised as part of the cluster, with the goal of recruiting a diverse interdisciplinary faculty cohort whose research, experience, and interests will benefit from collaboration and intentional support, including individual and group research startup funding.

Applicants should initially send a cover letter, C.V., a diversity statement, a sample syllabus, a teaching/pedagogy statement. The end of the cv should include names and contact information for three professional references; they will only be contacted if you are one of the finalist candidates. Trinity University is committed to the value of intentional inclusion. Please provide a brief statement (250-500 words) describing your past efforts as well as your future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion in your teaching, research, or other professional activities. Finalists will be asked to submit writing samples, graduate transcript, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The review of applications will begin on August 25 and will continue until the position is filled.

Women, people of color, people with disabilities, and members of the LGBTQ+ community are encouraged to apply. Send materials to Irma DeLeon at ideleon@trinity.edu. (If hard copies must be mailed, please send them to Dr. Amy Stone, Chair of the Search Committee, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Trinity University, One Trinity Place, San Antonio, Texas 78212-7200.) Inquiries should be directed to Dr. Amy Stone at astone@trinity.edu.

Employer Description:

Trinity University is one of the nation’s top liberal arts universities. We’re located in the heart of San Antonio, a large, vibrant and diverse city where our students learn from and participate in a multicultural urban environment. Trinity University is a prestigious, selective liberal arts institution, with over 11,000 applications, and approximately 650 first-year students in the Class of 2026. Discover more about Trinity University.

Trinity University is an equal opportunity employer and as such provides equal opportunity for employment and advancement of all employees without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, military/veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any status protected by Federal, State, or Local Laws.

Contact: Amy Stone
Email: astone@trinity.edu
Phone: 2109998059
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18063: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/14/2022 to 9/12/2022

Institution: Wesleyan University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

You will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are a : (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) writing sample, (4) statement of current research, (5) teaching statement, (6) course syllabi, and (7) student evaluations. In the cover letter, candidates should describe how they will embrace the college’s commitment to fostering an inclusive community, as well as their experience working with individuals from historically marginalized or underserved groups.

You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (please double-check the accuracy of the email addresses of the referees you name to ensure that you have the most up-to-date email addresses for each one).

After you have submitted all of the required documents, you will see a confirmation number. At that point, each of your referees whose email address you have provided will receive an automatically-generated email requesting that he... or she submit a letter of reference for you.

Applications completed by September 15 will received full consideration. Please contact Linda Cummings (lcummings@wesleyan.edu) if you have any questions about the application process.

Note for Interfolio users:
We gladly accept letters of recommendation from Interfolio. From your Interfolio account, please use the "web delivery" method to upload your letters directly to our online application.

For further instructions, look here: http://product-help.interfolio.com/m/27438/l/266289-confidential-letter-uploads-to-online-application-systems

Quick Link https://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/8948

Employer Description:

Wesleyan University's Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Sociology beginning July 1, 2023. This is an open field search. We are interested in scholars who practice innovative modes of engaging the world through scholarship, activism, and/or artistry. The Sociology Department is distinguished by our creative approach to social inquiry. We value interdisciplinary, meta-methodological, critical, and theoretically-driven frameworks, as well as teaching. The successful candidate will teach unique topical courses of their own design, alongside Introductory Sociology and other required courses.

The teaching load is 2/2. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, carrying on a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the departmental and university level. Wesleyan is a highly selective liberal arts college that values both scholarship and teaching very highly, has a strong, diverse undergraduate student body, and offers a generous sabbatical program and competitive salaries and benefits.

Minimum Qualifications

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in sociology or related field in hand by the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. in sociology or related field within one year of hire.

Contact: Linda Cummings
Email: lcummings@wesleyan.edu
Phone: (860) 685-2889
Website:
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18061: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/13/2022 to 9/11/2022
Institution: Hamilton College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: http://apply.interfolio.com/109331

Job Description:
The Sociology Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning July 1, 2023. We seek candidates whose research and teaching are in the areas of race/ethnicity to teach courses on those subjects. Your cover letter should address the ways in which you would further the College’s goal of building a diverse educational environment. We are especially interested in candidates with experience working with students from a variety of sociodemographic and cultural backgrounds. Candidates with ABD will be considered, although candidates with a Ph. D. are preferred. The teaching load for this position is four courses during the first year and five courses thereafter. The position requires institutional service including academic advising of undergraduate students after the first year. Candidates should submit their letter of application, C.V., a written sample of research, and a draft of a syllabus for a course on race/ethnicity via Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/109331. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Jaime Kucinskas, Chair, Sociology Department, at jkucinsk@hamilton.edu. For full consideration, completed applications should be received by September 1, 2022.

Employer Description:
Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at https://www.hercjobs.org/regions/higher-ed-careers-upstate-new-york/, as well as additional information at http://bit.ly/1tAtCaR (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Contact: Jaime Kucinskas
Email: jkucinsk@hamilton.edu
Phone: (315) 859-4404
Website: www.hamilton.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18047: Tenure Track Positions - WOS

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/13/2022 to 9/11/2022
Institution: MIT Sloan School of Management
Department: Work and Organization Studies
Region: Northeast
Title: Tenure Track Positions - WOS
Position/Rank: Open
Tenure/Tenure Track:
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Organizations, Formal and Complex , Economic Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Work and Organization Studies (WOS) group at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Sloan School has openings for tenure track faculty members to start July 1, 2023, or soon thereafter; as possible, whose teaching and research focus on work, employment, and organizational issues. The rank is open and both junior and senior candidates at the Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Full Professor levels will be considered.

Faculty responsibilities include teaching courses and conducting research related to Work and Organization Studies. WOS has current teaching needs in courses on organizational processes, power and influence, as well as courses on work and employment issues.

At the Assistant Professor level, candidates must possess, or be close to completion of, a Ph.D. in a field related to Work and Organization Studies, such as Sociology, Organizational Behavior, Industrial Relations, Social Psychology, Political Science, or Economics, at the start of employment. At the Associate Professor and Full Professor levels, a Ph.D. and demonstrated research experience is required.

WOS Research styles may include quantitative, ethnographic, field based, and/or lab based. (For more information about our group, go to: https://mitsloan.mit.edu/faculty/academic-groups/work-and-organization-studies/about-us).

Please submit applications electronically at http://apply.interfolio.com/109621 providing a cover letter outlining interests and experience, a current CV, and one or two papers that indicate your research focus and capabilities. Applicants should also arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via this link. Applications will be reviewed as received but are due no later than September 2, 2022.

MIT is an equal opportunity employer committed to building a culturally diverse and pluralistic intellectual community and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities.

Questions should be addressed to SloanSearchMaster@mit.edu

Employer Description:

The WOS group is part of the Behavioral and Policy Sciences Area, one of three major academic areas at Sloan. We encourage multidisciplinary work with colleagues in other parts of the School, and several members of the group are also members of other groups/units in the School (Communication; Economic Sociology; Technological Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Strategy Management; System Dynamics; Global Economics and Management; and Information Technology).

WOS builds on the traditions of Organization Studies and the Institute for Work and Employment Research and has Ph.D. programs in both areas. The WOS faculty is interdisciplinary.

Contact: Sloan Search Master
Email: SloanSearchMaster@mit.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes
Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18059: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 7/12/2022 to 9/10/2022

Institution: Furman University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Criminology/Delinquency
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology at Furman University invites applications for a professorship at the rank of Assistant/Associate/Professor beginning August 1, 2023. A Ph.D. in Sociology by time of appointment is preferred but not required. Job Description: The individual we seek is dedicated to excellent teaching in a liberal arts environment, welcomes opportunities to work with students as peers and partners in learning, and is committed to a diverse and inclusive learning community. Strong research credentials and a promising scholarly agenda are also essential. We are particularly interested in candidates who can offer courses related to criminology. Teaching load is five courses per academic year. Candidates should submit a cover letter, a CV, a teaching statement, a diversity statement, and a list of three references. The cover letter should address the following: (a) how the candidate would strengthen or supplement the department’s current curriculum and course offerings; (b) in what ways the candidate would offer undergraduate students high-impact, engaged learning experiences; (c) a record of past scholarly achievement and a clear plan for future research; (d) a summary of how the candidate’s teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service will contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. The teaching statement should specifically explain: (a) a list of mid- and upper-level courses other than introduction to sociology that the candidate would like to teach, including those currently in the course catalog; (b) the candidate’s general approach to teaching undergraduate students; (c) specific examples of how the candidate has implemented this pedagogical approach through previous teaching experiences. The diversity statement should describe the candidate’s: (a) values related to diversity and inclusivity; (b) experiences working with diverse populations; and (c) plans to help enhance diversity, inclusivity, and equity at Furman. We strongly encourage candidates to familiarize themselves with our curriculum before submitting their application. For information about Furman University and its growing Sociology department, please see the web page at: https://www.furman.edu/academics/sociology/ Application review will begin September 15, 2022, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Those who have questions about the position are welcome to contact Ken Kolb at ken.kolb@furman.edu

Employer Description:
Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly-changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently-launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences.

Furman is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and staff. The University aspires to create a community of people representing a multiplicity of identities including gender, race, religion, spiritual belief, sexual orientation, geographic origin, socioeconomic background, ideology, world view, and varied abilities.

In keeping with our commitment to equity and inclusion, domestic partners of employees are eligible for comprehensive benefits and faculty/staff affinity groups exist to offer support for faculty/staff that identify as LGBTQIA+ and/or Black/ African-American.

Contact: Dr. Ken Kolb
Email: ken.kolb@furman.edu
Phone: 8642943559
Website: https://www.furman.edu/academics/sociology/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes

Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18057: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/12/2022 to 9/10/2022

Institution: Furman University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology at Furman University invites applications for a professorship at the rank of Assistant/Associate/Professor beginning August 1, 2023. A Ph.D. in Sociology by time of appointment is preferred but not required. The individual we seek is dedicated to excellent teaching in a liberal arts environment, welcomes opportunities to work with students as peers and partners in learning, and is committed to a diverse and inclusive learning community. Strong research credentials and a promising scholarly agenda are also essential. We are particularly interested in candidates who can offer courses on quantitative methods. Teaching load is five courses per academic year. Candidates should submit a cover letter, a CV, a teaching statement, a diversity statement, and a list of three references. The cover letter should address the following: (a) how the candidate would strengthen or supplement the department’s current curriculum and course offerings; (b) in what ways the candidate would offer undergraduate students high-impact, engaged learning experiences; (c) a record of past scholarly achievement and a clear plan for future research; (d) a summary of how the candidate’s teaching. Job Posting Details 02:16 PM 07/12/2022 Page 1 of 2 scholarship, mentoring and/or service will contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. The teaching statement should specifically explain: (a) a list of mid- and upper-level courses other than introduction to sociology that the candidate would like to teach, including those currently in the course catalog; (b) the candidate’s general approach to teaching undergraduate students; (c) specific examples of how the candidate has implemented this pedagogical approach through previous teaching experiences. The diversity statement should describe the candidate’s: (a) values related to diversity and inclusivity; (b) experiences working with diverse populations; and (c) plans to help enhance diversity, inclusivity, and equity at Furman. We strongly encourage candidates to familiarize themselves with our curriculum before submitting their application. For information about Furman University and its growing Sociology department, please see the web page at: https://www.furman.edu/academics/sociology

Employer Description:
Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly-changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently-launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences.

Furman is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and staff. The University aspires to create a community of people representing a multiplicity of identities including gender, race, religion, spiritual belief, sexual orientation, geographic origin, socioeconomic background, ideology, world view, and varied abilities.

In keeping with our commitment to equity and inclusion, domestic partners of employees are eligible for comprehensive benefits and faculty/staff affinity groups exist to offer support for faculty/staff that identify as LGBTQIA+ and/or Black/ African-American.

Contact: Dr. Ken Kolb
Email: ken.kolb@furman.edu
Phone: 8642942359
Website: https://www.furman.edu/academics/sociology/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022

52. Santa Clara University

Job 18060: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/12/2022 to 9/11/2022

Institution: Santa Clara University
Department: Political Science

Region: West

Title: Assistant Professor

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Racial and Ethnic Relations, Public Policy

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link:

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science at Santa Clara University, a Jesuit, Catholic university, seeks applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics. We are especially interested in scholars who focus on public policy, urban politics, or social movements. We seek a teacher-scholar with demonstrated commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching and scholarly achievement. We are open to applications from those in disciplines closely related to political science and especially interested in candidates with a policy focus that will contribute to the Department’s Public-Sector Studies Emphasis. This position is part of a cluster hire in Race, Inequality, and Social Justice. The other participating departments are Art & Art History, English, Psychology, Public Health, and Religious Studies. The position will begin on September 1, 2023.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. at the time of appointment and a clear research trajectory, with experience teaching at the university level and a record of publication strongly preferred. The person we hire will teach a lower-division course in U.S. Politics, upper-division courses in their area of specialty, and either qualitative or quantitative research methods.

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by September 2, 2022 at the following link: Careers (myworkdaysite.com). Applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter addressing teaching and research interests, teaching philosophy, and experience or interest in working with people of diverse cultures and identities, (2) a CV, (3) sample syllabi and teaching evaluations, (4) a writing sample of no more than 40 pages, and (5) unofficial graduate transcripts. Three confidential letters of recommendation must be emailed directly to the department manager, Casey Robertson, at crobertson2@scu.edu by either the recommenders or a dossier service. For further information about the search, please contact the department chair, Greg Corning, at gcorning@scu.edu.

Employer Description:

Located in the heart of northern California’s Silicon Valley, Santa Clara is a private, Jesuit, Catholic university committed to promoting social justice in a comprehensive educational setting. Faculty are teaching-scholars who balance a commitment to quality teaching with active programs of research. SCU is on the quarter system and a typical teaching load is two courses per quarter. Faculty receive scholarship support through sabbaticals and travel funds. Housing assistance is available.

Santa Clara University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer committed to the strategic goal of enriching the quality of our community of scholars by increasing the diversity among faculty, staff, and students. Women, persons of color, and members of historically underrepresented groups who can contribute to this goal are especially encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths, experiences, or interests related to achieving this goal in their letter of application.

Contact: Prof. Greg Corning
Email: gcorning@scu.edu
Phone: 408-554-4336
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes
Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18049: Sociology of Climate Change

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/12/2022 to 9/10/2022
Institution: University of British Columbia
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Canada
Title: Sociology of Climate Change
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Environmental Sociology, Social Change
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology in the Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-stream faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2023. The substantive area of specialization for this position is the Sociology of Climate Change.

An ideal candidate will have demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching in the area of the sociology of climate change, and help to strengthen our global reputation. We expect applicants to have a Ph.D. in sociology at the time of appointment but applicants who have progressed to the point where completion of the Ph.D. is imminent and who demonstrate clear and superior promise of excellence in research will also be considered. For information about the Department, visit: http://sociology.ubc.ca/.

Application materials are to be submitted online at the following link: https://soci.arts.ubc.ca/application-for-sociology-of-climate-change/

We ask interested individuals to submit the following: (1) a cover letter describing their interest in the position as well as a description of their research and teaching record and future plans in the area of the sociology of climate change; (2) a CV; (3) a one-page statement identifying the applicant’s contributions, or potential contributions, to equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) along with their ability to work with a culturally diverse and international student body; (4) two sample publications; and (5) a teaching portfolio which must include a statement of teaching philosophy and should include evidence of teaching effectiveness where relevant (e.g. student evaluations, peer assessments, graduate and/or undergraduate course syllabus). In addition, applicants must provide contact details of three referees. Confidential reference letters will only be requested at the long list stage.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2022. This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of British Columbia is a globally-acclaimed institution that ranks among the top 30 universities in the world. We rank in the top two Sociology departments in Canada. The university is situated in Vancouver, which is routinely included in lists of the top five most livable cities in the world. It is renowned for its mild year-round climate, innovative urban design, emphasis on the environment and sustainability, extensive cultural and cosmopolitan offerings, ethnic diversity, and spectacular natural beauty set among the coastal mountains and the Pacific Ocean. The UBC Vancouver campus is on the traditional, unceded territory of the Musqueam people.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. The department is committed to facilitating an open and diverse community of faculty, students, and staff that fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Given uncertainty caused by the global COVID-19 pandemic, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely if circumstances require. A successful applicant may be asked to consider an offer with a deadline without having been able to make an in-person visit to campus should travel or other restrictions apply.

Employer Description:
The University of British Columbia is a globally-acclaimed institution that ranks among the top 30 universities in the world. We rank in the top two Sociology departments in Canada. The university is situated in Vancouver, which is routinely included in lists of the top five most livable cities in the world. It is renowned for its mild year-round climate, innovative urban design, emphasis on the environment and sustainability, extensive cultural and cosmopolitan offerings, ethnic diversity, and spectacular natural beauty set among the coastal mountains and the Pacific Ocean. The UBC Vancouver campus is on the traditional, unceded territory of the Musqueam people.

Contact: Emily Huddart Kennedy
Email: emily.kennedy@ubc.ca
Phone: (604) 822-1184
Website:
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18058: Public Policy Department Chair

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/12/2022 to 8/11/2022
Institution: University of California Los Angeles
Department: Department of Public Policy
Region: West
Title: Public Policy Department Chair
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Public Policy
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:
Job Description:

Public Policy Department Chair

University of California Los Angeles

Requisition Number: JPF07627

The Department of Public Policy in the UCLA Meyer and Renee Luskin School of Public Affairs (https://luskin.ucla.edu/) seeks to recruit a policy-oriented senior scholar with leadership experience to serve a three-year term with possible extension as Department Chair and join the ranks of its tenured Full Professors. Successful candidates will be Full Professors, or advanced Associate Professors on the cusp of promotion to Full Professor, with Ph.D.s or equivalent degrees in any policy-related discipline, including Economics, Political Science, Sociology, Public Policy, and related fields. We are especially interested in candidates whose research interests pertain to domestic or international policy issues and engage with national or global inequalities; social justice; racial and gender equity; or other contemporary policy concerns.

We are a multi-disciplinary department that values scholarly excellence and collegiality, within the UCLA School of Public Affairs that is home to myriad research centers. The Department and School are particularly strong in data analytics and policy analysis; environment; race and inequality; housing and transportation; social policy; urban issues; health; and youth. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, an undergraduate Public Affairs Major, and train doctoral students from varied departments across campus. The Department currently includes fifteen FTE ladder faculty, as well as several senior faculty with joint appointments from other campus schools and departments, and a number of lecturers. We expect to make at least five additional ladder faculty hires in the next few years.

The Department Chair is generally responsible for academic leadership and supervision of the department's manager, who oversees the staff. The Chair reports to the Dean of the Luskin School of Public Affairs. The next Department Chair will join existing Department leadership in shaping the trajectory of our Department and its programs going forward.

This position is opened until filled, but early applications are encouraged. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 12, 2022. Interested candidates should apply through UC Recruit: https://apptrkr.com/3226591. Please submit a cover letter that illustrates your leadership experience; a curriculum vitae; brief summaries of your research and teaching; one to three publications or works in progress; a statement of equity, diversity, and inclusion; and the names and affiliations of three references. References will only be contacted for candidates who advance as a top finalist. For questions related to the position, please contact Search Chair Martin Gilens (gilens@ucla.edu) or Luskin Dean Gary Segura (segura@luskin.ucla.edu).

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community dedicated to the advancement, application, and transmission of knowledge and creative endeavors through academic excellence, where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in a safe and secure environment, free of violence, harassment, bullying and other demeaning behavior, discrimination, exploitation, or intimidation. With this commitment as well as a commitment to addressing all forms of academic misconduct, UCLA conducts targeted employment reference checks for finalists to whom departments or other hiring units would like to extend formal offers of appointment into Academic Senate faculty positions. The targeted employment reference checks involve contacting the finalists' current and prior places of employment to ask whether there have been substantiated findings of misconduct that would violate the University’s Faculty Code of Conduct. To implement this process, UCLA requires all applicants for Academic Senate faculty positions to complete, sign, and upload the form entitled “Authorization to Release Information” into RECRUIT as part of their application. If the applicant does not include the signed authorization to release information with the application materials, the application will be considered incomplete. As with any incomplete application, the application will not receive further consideration. Although all applicants for faculty recruitments must complete the entire application, only finalists (i.e., those to whom the department or other hiring unit would like to extend a formal offer) considered for Academic Senate faculty positions will be subject to targeted employment reference checks.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/3226591

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy, https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/DiscHarassAffirmAction

Employer Description:

UCLA is among the leading global universities and is the top-ranked public university in the nation. Los Angeles is a global city renowned for its dynamism, rich cultural diversity, and spectacular climate.

Contact: Martin Gilens
Email: gilens@ucla.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18051: Postdoctoral Fellow in Critical Quantitative Research

Date Position is Available: Summer 2022

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/12/2022 to 8/11/2022

Institution: University of Texas at Austin
Department: African and African Diaspora Studies
Region: South

Title: Postdoctoral Fellow in Critical Quantitative Research
Position/Rank: Fellowships/Post-docs: Post-doctoral, Fellowships/Post-docs: All, Fellowships/Post-docs: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology, Policy Analysis

Salary Range: $60,000 - $69,999

Job Description:

Purpose

The Black Studies Policy Institute’s Postdoctoral Fellow in Critical Quantitative Research will work on projects that use quantitative methods to understand and assess a range of issues related to the health, safety, and well-being of African descended people in Central Texas, Texas, the United States, and/or globally.

Responsibilities

The Black Studies Policy Institute’s Postdoctoral Fellow in Critical Quantitative Research will engage research that supports the mission of the institute. This includes working on projects that use quantitative methods to understand and assess a range of issues related to the health, safety, and well-being of African descended people in Central Texas, Texas, the United States, and/or globally. The Fellow will work on a primary research project with a faculty mentor, work on their own research agenda within the issue areas above, and teach one undergraduate course. The Fellow will be part of a team that conducts original research for the purpose of informing policy primarily at local, regional, and state levels, but also at national and international levels. As part of their work, they will:

- Work independently with guidance from assigned faculty mentor and collaborators;
- Develop and implement research plans;
- Contribute to the theoretical background of research projects;
- Assist with data analyses of quantitative projects;
- Advance dissemination of study findings for academic and policy audiences;
- Teach one course in the African and African Diaspora Studies Department.

Required Qualifications

A doctorate in a social, behavioral, education, or population science field, received no more than three years prior to the start date. Extensive quantitative training and strong methodological and data analysis skills. Demonstrated theoretical engagement in the study of race and racism. Excellent communication and writing skills. Demonstrated ability to conduct independent and collaborative scientific research.

Preferred Qualifications

Demonstrated evidence of strong contributions to scholarship, including peer-reviewed publications. Experience conducting or collaborating on research studies that use advanced quantitative methods. Familiarity with the field of Black Studies, including Black intellectual traditions that inform applied theory and quantitative methodologies. Capacity to mentor and supervise undergraduate and graduate research assistants.

Salary Range

$68,000 + depending on qualifications

Working Conditions

- May work around standard office conditions
- Repetitive use of a keyboard at a workstation

Required Materials
• Cover Letter - Include a brief description of your relevant experience, training, and career goals.
• Curriculum Vitae
• Research Statement - Two-page limit, single-spaced (1-inch margins) description of research interests
• Writing Sample - Publication or dissertation chapter.
• Statement on Contributions to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion – One-page limit, single-spaced.
• A list of 3 references with their contact information.

Employer Description:

General Notes

The position is for one year but is renewable based on performance and/or the availability of funding. Review of applications will commence on June 30, 2022, and continue until the position is filled.

What benefits do I receive with UT? The university offers an impressive benefits package. For more details on benefits, please see: https://hr.utexas.edu/prospective/benefits and https://hr.utexas.edu/current/services/my-total-rewards

This position is eligible for a hybrid Flexible Work Arrangement (FWA) (on-campus and remote work). FWA arrangements are subject to manager approval and may shift due to changes in business needs. The remote location must have a reliable internet connection to support working remotely. UT policies on Flexible Work Arrangements are available at https://hr.utexas.edu/current/fwa.

For more information about the College of Liberal Arts, please visit: https://liberalarts.utexas.edu/

Our college seeks to build a supportive, growth-minded community and cultivate outstanding and courageous leaders. For more information on the college staff leadership academy, please visit: https://liberalarts.utexas.edu/resources-for-faculty-staff/staff-leadership-academy/

For more information on college staff professional development, please visit:
https://wikis.utexas.edu/display/larc/Staff%3APersonal%3AProfessional%3ADevelopment%3AFund

Contact: Annie Brookover
Email:
Phone:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18046: Sociology, Temporary Full-Time Faculty

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/11/2022 to 8/10/2022
Institution: Bellevue College
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northwest
Title: Sociology, Temporary Full-Time Faculty
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Other
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Education
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999

Job Description:

Sociology, Temporary Full-Time Faculty

Job ID: 11534

Location: Bellevue College

Full/Part Time: Full Time

Regular/Temporary: Temporary

Position Summary
The Social Science Division is seeking qualified candidates for a full-time temporary position in the Sociology Department for the 2022-2023 academic year, which may be renewable on an annual basis. A typical teaching load consists of three five-credit courses per quarter (Fall, Winter, and Spring) plus five office hours per week during the quarter. Additional responsibilities include student advising, participating in curriculum development and assessment, participating in college governance, maintaining professional expertise in Sociology, using technology that best fits the needs of the students, and developing other strategies to help students meet learning outcomes and succeed, such as creating research opportunities.

Pay, Benefits & Work Schedule
Annual salary is based on a 176-day contract with a minimum of $70,923.89; beginning salary will be determined by the assessment of the candidate’s education and related experience. New hires cannot be placed above $76,047.89 unless exceptional circumstances prevail.

We offer comprehensive compensation package with salary and benefits as the main components. Generous benefits package is offered through Washington State plans that includes multiple medical, dental, life and disability coverage choices for employees and dependents; choices of retirement and deferred compensation plans; paid personal leave plan; transit program, reduced tuition, employee discounts and memberships, etc.

In addition to teaching, full-time faculty maintains office hours and participate in department and college activities. This position is represented by the Bellevue College Association of Higher Education (BCAHE) union.
Essential Functions

Teaching duties include:

- Teaching courses at all levels within the Sociology program,
- Providing student advising/mentoring that advances retention and completion and fosters a positive, caring environment where diversity, equity, and inclusion are valued,
- Communicating actively with students to create a positive, respectful and culturally-aware learning environment that ensures all students, particularly marginalized students and students of color, are fully engaged and included in teaching and learning activities,
- Organizing and executing course plans that employ up-to-date syllabi, clear expectations, and approved course learning outcomes and assessment criteria,
- Assessing and evaluating student learning, and providing precise, timely, constructive, feedback to students regarding their learning, class performance, and professional preparation,
- Maintaining currency within the discipline so that new research, new technologies, multiple teaching and learning strategies, and a variety of delivery modes can be used to assist in the achievement of learning outcomes, and
- Embolden students to learn and practice information literacy as appropriate to the discipline.

Non-Teaching duties include:

- Supporting student success and college-wide equity, diversity and inclusion initiatives, especially those aimed at increasing opportunity for, retention of, and completion by historically underrepresented and marginalized students and students of color
- Participating in on-going curriculum development, revision, implementation, and evaluation.
- Engaging in professional development opportunities that seek to improve teaching abilities
- Establish weekly office hours to advise prospective and continuing students and assist students with coursework and classroom-related questions
- Contribute to shared governance through participation and leadership on college/division/program committees and through individual projects
- Engage in scholarly pursuits, including research or creative professional activities related to the discipline, and contribute to the discipline or profession through presentation, publication, exhibition, or performance
- Represent the college or program in community events, statewide inter-institutional initiatives, or local, state, regional, or national professional organizations, and
- Perform other duties and functions that may be assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

- Master's degree or higher in Sociology or other closely related field from an accredited institution
- Experiencing teaching college-level sociology or closely related field
- Ability to teach in a multi-cultural, multi-ability classroom and advocate for equity and pluralism
- Experience in and commitment to learner-centered instructional strategies
- Flexibility and openness to classroom innovation
- Ability to adapt instructional strategies to a diverse student population
- Demonstrated understanding of concepts related to teaching and learning theory, curriculum development, and assessment of learning outcomes
- Effective interpersonal and communication skills (to students and colleagues)
- Ability to work in a team environment.

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience in addressing disproportionate impact and equity issues within an institution
- Experience in integrating diversity, equity, and inclusion into the teaching, learning and mentoring of students
• Background/prior experience that shows understanding of concepts related to student-centered teaching and learning theory, curriculum development, and assessment of learning outcomes

• Knowledge/experience working with a variety of teaching modalities and delivery methods, including online, hybrid courses, face-to-face classes

• Active involvement in community and professional organizations

• Basic computer literacy skills and knowledge of learning management systems

Conditions of Employment

Bellevue College intends to provide a drug-free, healthy, safe, and secure work and educational environment. Each employee is expected to report to work in an appropriate mental and physical condition to perform her/his/their assigned duties.

Bellevue College employs only U.S. citizens and lawfully authorized non-U.S. citizens. All new employees must show employment eligibility verification as required by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Per Governor Inslee's https://www.governor.wa.gov/sites/default/files/proclamations/21-14.1%20-%20COVID-19%20Vax%20Washington%20Amendment.pdf?utm_medium=email&utm_source=goedelivery, state employees must be fully vaccinated and your vaccine status will be verified upon hire. Please reach out to the HR Office at jobs@bellevuecollege.edu if you need information on medical or religious accommodation.

Sexual Misconduct and Background Check:

Prior to start of employment, finalists(s) for this position will be subject to a pre-employment background check as a condition of employment. Information from the background check will not necessarily preclude employment, but will be considered in determining the applicant’s suitability and competence to perform in the position.

Applicants considered for this position will be required to disclose if they are the subject of any substantiated findings or current investigations related to sexual misconduct at their current employment and past employment. Disclosure is required under https://app.leg.wa.gov/RCW/default.aspx?cite=28B.112.080.

Check frequently in your inbox, spam, junk, clutter email folders for any communication regarding the next steps from Bellevue College and our background check partners.

Reference Check:

Reference checks may include, but are not limited to, contacting references and verification of work experience, and/or past job duties.

How To Apply

The application deadline has been extended to 07/25/2022, will be given full consideration. Applications received after that date may be considered until the position is filled. This position will begin Fall Quarter, 2022.

All individuals interested in this position are encouraged to apply. Your application must include a complete online application and all of the required documents below to be considered complete. Any application that does not provide all requested information will not be considered for the position (only submit required documents with the application, additional documents will not be reviewed.)

Required application materials:

• Attach a Cover Letter that addresses how you meet minimum and preferred qualifications (maximum 2 pages) including the program/discipline for this application

• Attach a Curriculum Vitae/Resume

• Attach a Diversity Statement that addresses the following: Please provide specific examples of how your educational and/or professional experiences, background or philosophy demonstrate your commitment to diversity and equity, and how these prepare you to contribute to Bellevue College (minimum 1pg, max 2 pgs).
• Attach a copy of academic transcripts (unofficial transcripts may be submitted - official transcripts required upon employment.)

• Complete Job Questionnaires if applicable

Contact:
If you have questions regards to application or hiring process, please contact Office of Human Resources at 425-564-2274 or email to jobs@bellevuecollege.edu.

EEO Statement
Bellevue College is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing equal opportunity and nondiscrimination to applicants and employees without regard to race or ethnicity; creed; color; national origin; sex; marital status; sexual orientation; age; religion; genetic information; the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability; or whether a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran. Please see policy 4100 at www.bellevuecollege.edu/policies/.

Applicants with disabilities who require assistance with the recruitment process may contact hr@bellevuecollege.edu or 425-564-2271. The following people have been designated to handle inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies: Title IX Coordinator, 425-564-2641, Office C227, and EEOC/504 Compliance Officer, 425-564-2178, Office R130.

To apply, visit https://aptrkr.com/3223749

Contact: Human Resources
Email: jobs@bellevuecollege.edu
Phone: 425-564-2274
Website: https://www.bellevuecollege.edu/sociology/

About The College
Bellevue College is a diverse student-centered, comprehensive and innovative college, committed to teaching excellence that advances the life-long educational development of its students while strengthening the economic, social and cultural life of its diverse community. Bellevue College is located just 10 miles east of Seattle where we serve a student population of over 44% students of color and over 1,100 international students. The college promotes student success by providing high-quality, flexible, accessible educational programs and services; advancing pluralism, inclusion and global awareness; and acting as a catalyst and collaborator for a vibrant region.

We strive to create a vibrant and inclusive campus community that supports a diverse student body, faculty and staff. As an essential part of our https://www.bellevuecollege.edu/futurevision/core-themes/, diversity, equity and pluralism are promoted and fostered in all aspects of college life. By enriching student life through leadership opportunities, personal learning and cultural experiences, we are committed to building an inclusive and diverse campus community that fosters creativity, innovation and student success.

About the Department
Our Sociology Department values student-centered teaching and learning. We serve a diverse student body, offering first and second year level courses in Sociology. Our curriculum is fully articulated with the University of Washington and our students have a high success rate upon transfer. Among the Sociology department's many courses are Introduction to Sociology, Blacks in America, Activism and Social Change, The Social lives of Children, Social Problems, Sports in Society, Education in the 21st Century, Medical Sociology, Religion and Our Social World, Public Health Around the Globe, Disability in Society, Gender in the Social World, and Sex and Sexualities. These courses are offered in multiple teaching modalities, including online, hybrid, and face-to-face classes. In addition, we offer faculty the opportunity to teach Interdisciplinary Studies and encourage faculty to design new curriculum as well as keep up with disciplinary trends.

Our department website can be found here: https://www.bellevuecollege.edu/sociology/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employee? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022

57. Rice University

Job 18045: Associate or Full Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/11/2022 to 9/9/2022

Institution: Rice University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Associate or Full Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Rice University. The Department of Sociology at Rice University (Houston, Texas) invites applications for a tenured position at the Associate or Full Professor level to begin July 2023. Specifically, we seek applicants with expertise in gender and/or sexuality. Those employing critical frameworks and/or novel methodologies related to intersectionality, Black feminist thought, and related processes of inequality (e.g., masculinity) are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants should demonstrate excellence in scholarship, teaching, and collegial service. Rice is a Research I private institution with PhD and postdoctoral fellowship programs, competitive salaries, and outstanding undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the sociology department broadly engage in research pertaining to social inequality and/or culture, and we welcome applicants who will enhance these foci. We encourage applicants to visit our website (http://sociology.rice.edu/) to learn more about our scholarship and remarkable commitment to diversity and inclusion at all levels.

To apply, please submit the following materials electronically using the link provided below: (1) letter of application, (2) research statement, (3) teaching statement, (4) curriculum vitae, (5) two recent samples of published work, and (6) statement on contributions to diversity, equity, inclusion, and anti-racism. Semi-finalists will be asked to arrange for letters of reference to be submitted electronically later in the search process. The application deadline is September 27, 2022, but applications will be considered until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact SociJobSearch@rice.edu

Rice University is an Equal Opportunity Employer with commitment to diversity at all levels, and considers for employment qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Submit all application materials electronically via the following link: https://apply.interfolio.com/109561

Employer Description:

Boasting a 300-acre tree-lined campus in Houston, Rice University is ranked among the nation's top 20 universities by U.S. News & World Report. Rice has a 6-to-1 undergraduate student-to-faculty ratio, and a residential college system, which supports students intellectually, emotionally and culturally through social events, intramural sports, student plays, lectures series, courses and student government. Developing close-knit, diverse college communities is a strong campus tradition, which is why Rice is highly ranked for best quality of life and best value among private universities.

Contact: Lisa Giron
Email: SociJobSearch@rice.edu
Phone: 713-348-4225
Website: https://sociology.rice.edu

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Job 18048: Assistant or Associate Prof. Race & Ethnicity (CRC Tier 2)

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/11/2022 to 9/10/2022

Institution: University of British Columbia
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Canada

Title: Assistant or Associate Prof. Race & Ethnicity (CRC Tier 2)

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Assistant Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Race, Class and Gender, Racial and Ethnic Relations

Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: https://soci.air.arts.ubc.ca/race-ethnicity-crc/

Job Description:

Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-stream faculty position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor with the possibility of a Tier 2 Canada Research Chair (CRC) beginning July 1, 2023. The substantive area of specialization for this position is Race and/or Ethnicity. Applicants’ research interests will contribute to our research cluster in this area and will help to strengthen our global reputation.

Applicants must have a PhD in Sociology or a related discipline. They are expected to provide strong evidence of active and excellent research and to demonstrate a record of teaching excellence at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The successful candidate will be required to teach courses in the Sociology of Race and/or Ethnicity and will be expected to maintain an active program of research, publication, teaching, graduate supervision and service.

The Canada Research Chairs Program supports outstanding researchers whose profile and research proposal meet the CRC program criteria, demonstrate an excellent fit with UBC’s strategic goals, and satisfy the department’s ambitions of the position.

To meet the criteria of the CRC program, Tier II nominees must: be excellent emerging researchers who have demonstrated particular research creativity; have demonstrated the potential to achieve international recognition in their fields in the next five to ten years; as chairholders, have the potential to attract, develop and retain excellent trainees, students and future researchers; and be proposing an original, innovative research program of high quality.

Tier II chairs are intended for exceptional emerging scholars. Applicants who are more than 10 years from having earned their highest degree (and where career breaks exist, such as maternity, parental or extended sick leave, clinical training, etc.) may have their eligibility for a Tier II chair assessed through the program’s Tier II justification process. Please consult the Canada Research Chairs website for full program information, including further details on eligibility criteria: www.chairs-chaires.gc.ca and http://www.chairs-chaires.gc.ca/program-programme/nomination-mise_en_candidature-eng.aspx

UBC is one of the largest and most distinguished universities in Canada, and has excellent resources for scholarly research. It is a globally-acclaimed institution that ranks among the top 30 universities in the world. The Department of Sociology offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in Sociology. We rank in the top two Sociology departments in Canada. For more information on the Department, visit: http://sociology.ubc.ca. The university is situated in Vancouver, which is routinely included in lists of the top five most livable cities in the world. It is renowned for its mild year-round climate, innovative urban design, emphasis on the environment and sustainability, extensive cultural and cosmopolitan offerings, ethnic diversity, and spectacular natural beauty set among the coastal mountains and the Pacific Ocean. The UBC Vancouver campus is on the traditional, unceded territory of the Musqueam people.

Applicants must submit their application online at https://soci.air.arts.ubc.ca/race-ethnicity-crc/ and be prepared to upload the following documents, each as a single PDF (max size 15MB):

- letter of application
- detailed curriculum vitae
- statement of teaching philosophy
- evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g. teaching evaluations and/or course syllabi)
- two sample publications
- statement of experience working with a diverse student body and contributions or potential contributions to creating/advancing a culture of equity and inclusion

In addition to the application materials listed above, please arrange for 3 confidential letters of reference to be sent directly to the department by September 15th, 2022. Letters must be signed, and sent in PDF format to soci.head@ubc.ca while indicating both the search area, “Race and Ethnicity,” and the applicant’s name in the subject line.

Review of applications will begin on September 16th, 2022 and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date are assured of full review.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. This position is subject to final budgetary approval.

In accordance with UBC’s CRC Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion Action Plan, and pursuant to Section 42 of the BC Human Rights Code, the selection will be restricted to members of the following designated groups: women and gender minorities (gender-fluid, non-binary, trans, Two-Spirit), visible minorities (members of groups that are racially categorized), persons with disabilities, and Indigenous Peoples. Applicants to Canada Research Chair positions are asked to complete this equity survey (https://ams3.enoah.com/DesktopModules/ASA_JobBank/PrintJobSearch.aspx) as part of the application, and candidates from these groups must self-identify as belonging to one or more of the designated equity groups to be considered for the position. Because the search is limited to those self-identifying as members of designated equity groups, candidates must also provide their name to be considered.

Personal information is collected under the authority of sections 26(a) and 26(c) of the BC Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act. The information you provide will only be used to determine whether you qualify for participation in this hiring process. Data will be collected by the Equity & Inclusion Office and only the names of those who identify as women, visible minorities (member of groups that are racially categorized) and/or Indigenous peoples will be shared with the search committee. Currently, UBC has a gap in representation for people with disabilities. Until such time as this is remedied, the names of those self-identifying as having a disability will be provided separately to the search committee. Responses will be stored in a secure database.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. Virtual interviews are likely. This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University is committed to creating and maintaining an inclusive and equitable work environment for all members of its workforce, and in particular, for its employees with disabilities. An inclusive work environment for employees with disabilities presumes an environment where differences are accepted, recognized, and integrated into current structures, planning, and decision-making modes. For contact information regarding UBC’s accommodation and access policies and resources (for faculty and staff as well as students), please visit the Centre for Accessibility: https://facultystaff.students.ubc.ca/student-development-services/centre-accessibility/faculty-and-staff-disabilities). Accommodations are available on request for all candidates taking part in all aspects of the selection process. To confidentially request accommodations, please contact Kristin Sopotiuk at kristin.sopotiuk@ubc.ca.

In assessing applications, UBC recognizes the legitimate impact that leaves (e.g., maternity or parental leave, leave due to illness) can have on a candidate’s record of research achievement. These leaves will be taken into careful consideration during the assessment process.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The UBC Vancouver campus is on the traditional, unceded territory of the Musqueam people.

Employer Description:
UBC is one of the largest and most distinguished universities in Canada, and has excellent resources for scholarly research. It is a globally-acclaimed institution that ranks among the top 30 universities in the world. The Department of Sociology offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in Sociology. We rank in the top two Sociology departments in Canada. For more information on the Department, visit: http://sociology.ubc.ca. The university is situated in Vancouver, which is routinely included in lists of the top five most livable cities in the world. It is renowned for its mild year-round climate, innovative urban design, emphasis on the environment and sustainability, extensive cultural and cosmopolitan offerings, ethnic diversity, and spectacular natural beauty set among the coastal mountains and the Pacific Ocean. The UBC Vancouver campus is on the traditional, unceded territory of the Musqueam people.

Contact: Kristin Sopotiuk
Email: kristin.sopotiuk@ubc.ca
Phone: (604) 822-2547
Website: http://sociology.ubc.ca

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18044: Assistant Professor of Sociology (Term)

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/8/2022 to 8/7/2022
Institution: DePauw University
Department: Dept of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology (Term)
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology & Anthropology at DePauw University invites applications for a one-year Assistant Professor position in Sociology beginning in August 2022. This opportunity is available to those with a Ph.D in Sociology; ABD will also be considered at the rank of Instructor. This position includes a six-course, on-campus teaching assignment (three per semester), employment benefits, faculty development funding, presentation opportunities, and mentoring. A commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment and evidence of effective and inclusive teaching are essential.

The candidate’s area of research and teaching expertise is open to all sociological subdisciplines but those with expertise in criminology are preferred. Candidates must be able to teach our introductory sociology course, criminology electives or other electives that complement our current offerings. Preference will be given to those with extensive teaching experience.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio (https://apply.interfolio.com/109059) and include: cover letter, CV, one-page teaching philosophy, one-page research statement, contact information for three references, sample course syllabi and course evaluations, and a copy of graduate transcript(s). In application materials, candidates should demonstrate a commitment to fostering and engaging with a diversity of ideas and experiences, in order to promote an inclusive environment in the classroom and at the University. Review of applications will begin on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the Chair of the Sociology & Anthropology Department, Lydia Marshall, at lydiamarshall@depauw.edu.

DePauw University, in affirmation of its commitment to excellence, endeavors to provide equal opportunity for all individuals in its hiring, promotion, compensation and admission procedures. Institutional decisions regarding hiring, promotion, compensation and admission will be based upon a person’s qualifications and/or performance without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, disability, age, gender, gender identity or gender expression, except where religion, gender, or national origin is a bona fide occupational qualification.

DePauw University’s goals and commitments are best served if the institution reflects the diversity of our society; hence, DePauw seeks diversity in all areas and levels of employment and abides by all local, state and federal regulations concerning equal employment opportunities. The University admits, hires, and promotes individuals upon their qualities and merits.

Employer Description:
DePauw is a nationally-recognized, leading liberal arts university dedicated to educating around 1700 highly talented, motivated, and diverse students from across the country and around the globe. For 185 years, DePauw has created an atmosphere of intellectual challenge and social engagement that prepares students for lifelong success. Connected to the liberal arts college is one of the nation’s first Schools of Music. DePauw is located in Greencastle, Indiana, a 45-minute drive west of Indianapolis. DePauw has exceptional faculty development programs, including funding for professional and curriculum development.

Contact: Lydia Marshall
Email: lydiamarshall@depauw.edu
Phone: (765) 658-4344
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Job 18041: Part-Time Lecturer(s) for UCI LIFTED Program

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/8/2022 to 8/7/2022
Institution: University of California-Irvine
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Southwest
Title: Part-Time Lecturer(s) for UCI LIFTED Program
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Lecturer
Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Theory, Quantitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at the University of California, Irvine, invites applications from those interested in teaching classes within the LIFTED BA program for incarcerated individuals during the 2022-23 academic year.

About the LIFTED program

There is growing consensus around the importance of creating and sustaining effective college-in-prison reentry programs for those who are currently incarcerated. The LIFTED program – Leveraging Inspiring Futures Through Educational Degrees – seeks to fulfill this mission. The University of California, Irvine, is partnering with Southwestern College to offer BA degrees to students from the Richard J. Donovan Correctional Facility near San Diego. Southwestern College has been a state leader in offering college-in-prison AA degrees, and UCI LIFTED will extend opportunity to the BA level, laying the foundation for a new path to decarceration and moving us closer to the dream of enabling “anyone from anywhere” to educate themselves into a better life. Classes must be taught in person at the Donovan Correctional Facility southeast of San Diego.

Classes may include the following:
- Sociol 110, Research Methods
- Sociol 120, Sociological Theory
- Sociol 180AW, Sociology Majors Seminar
- Other substantive courses listed in the UCI Sociology catalog: https://catalogue.uci.edu/schoolofsocialsciences/departmentofsociology/#courseinventory

Interested candidates should submit:
- Cover letter that clearly indicates which course/s you are qualified to teach
- Current Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching statement, including any information relevant to the LIFTED program
- Diversity statement, addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Teaching evaluations
- Three letters of recommendation
- Optional materials: writing sample, peer evaluations, course syllabi, teaching awards, etc.

PhD required by time of appointment.

Successful candidates will need to pass a background check conducted by the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation.

The review process will begin July 21, 2022, but screening will continue until the position/s are filled and/or LIFTED program needs are met, with a final closing date of January 31st, 2023. Screening of applicants is ongoing and will continue as needed.

Appointments may be effective for Winter and/or Spring quarter in the 2022-2023 academic year. Salary will be based on UCI salary scales and qualifications.

Questions about the position may be directed to the Sociology Department Manager, Maryann Zovak-Wieder, mrovak@uci.edu, or the Department Analyst, Alysha Casado, acasado@uci.edu. For more information on UCI Sociology, see www.sociology.uci.edu and for information on the LIFTED program, see https://prisoneducation.uci.edu/.
The University of California, Irvine is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

Contact: Alysha Casado
Email: acasado@uci.edu
Phone: 9498246800
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
61. University of Notre Dame

Job 18043: Tenure Track Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/8/2022 to 10/6/2022
Institution: University of Notre Dame
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Midwest
Title: Tenure Track Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at the University of Notre Dame invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position set to begin in the fall of 2023.

We seek a candidate with expertise in computational social science. Qualified applicants should have research and teaching experience in at least one of the many areas covered by the emerging field of data science and computational social science. These may include: working with "big data," relational data, social network analysis, computational text analysis, machine-learning, agent-based modeling, or geospatial analysis techniques, among others. Candidates are expected to have an ambitious sociological research agenda with expertise in quantitative methodology, with the substantive field of specialization open.

This position will carry an affiliation with the Lucy Institute for Data and Society. It is one of several new positions across different disciplines that will be affiliated with the University's major new investments in data science and technology ethics.

Review of applications will begin on September 15th, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Please send a letter of application, CV, at least three letters of reference, a research statement, a teaching statement, course evaluations (if available), and writing samples to https://apply.interfolio.com/109513

Employer Description:

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Notre Dame seeks to attract, develop, and retain the highest quality faculty, staff and administration. The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and is committed to building a culturally diverse workplace. We strongly encourage applications from female and minority candidates and those candidates attracted to a university with a Catholic identity. Moreover, Notre Dame prohibits discrimination against veterans or disabled qualified individuals, and requires affirmative action by covered contractors to employ and advance veterans and qualified individuals with disabilities in compliance with 41 CFR 60-741.5(a) and 41 CFR 60-300.5(a).

Contact: David Gibson
Email: soc@nd.edu
Phone: (574) 631-6463
Website: https://sociology.nd.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Job 18039: Associate or Full Professor

Date Position is Available: Summer 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/7/2022 to 10/5/2022
Institution: Boston University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: Northeast
Title: Associate or Full Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Associate Professor, Academic Positions: Full Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenured
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Racial and Ethnic Relations
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology at Boston University invites applications for an Associate or Full Professor to begin July 1, 2023, pending budgetary approval. We seek a colleague with an innovative research agenda and teaching interests in race/ethnicity. Subfields are open and we are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to one or more departmental strengths including culture, economic sociology, gender/sexuality, global/comparative, health, law and crime, migration, race/ethnicity, and urban sociology. The successful candidate will contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching on race and ethnicity, and will teach courses on theory and/or methods. The candidate will build bridges with other relevant units across the university including but not limited to the African American Studies Program; Howard Thurman Center Initiative on Cities; School of Global Studies; School of Public Health; School of Social Work; and Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality (WGS) Program. A strong track record of graduate student mentorship and ability to bring outside funding are preferred.

Boston University expects excellence in teaching and research, and is committed to building a culturally, racially, and ethnically diverse scholarly community. To apply, please submit 1) a cover letter describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a statement of your commitment to and experiences with advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in your teaching, research, and service; and 4) three reference letters. Submit to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/22014. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Employer Description:

Boston University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Contact: Stephanie Polsky
Email: apolsky@bu.edu
Phone: (617) 353-2594
Website: https://www.bu.edu/sociology/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022

63. Clemson University

Job 18040: Assistant Professor - Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/7/2022 to 9/5/2022
Institution: Clemson University
Department: Dept. of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice
Region: East
Title: Assistant Professor - Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Environmental Sociology, Medical Sociology
Salary Range: $70,000 - $79,999
Submission Link: https://www.click2apply.net/MannBGIJK2DPAClM7uB85g

Job Description:

Clemson University: College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences: Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice
Assistant Professor - Sociology

Location: Brackett 132, Clemson University

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning August 2023. Interested individuals must demonstrate both an active research agenda and a track record of publishing their work in well-respected peer-reviewed outlets. Applicants should also exhibit a clear strategy for funding their research through external grants, with preference given to those with prior success in securing extramural funding.

The ideal candidate will also demonstrate a willingness and ability to teach across the discipline of Sociology in introductory, methods, and specialized topical courses. Applicants should highlight how they will contribute to the department M.S. in Social Science program and an interdisciplinary PhD in Policy Studies program.

Tenure-track faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

Clemson University is a Top 25, Carnegie Research 1 (R-1) public land-grant institution with over 20,000 undergraduates and 5,500 graduate students, located near the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice is a member of the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences and is home to 24 faculty members across the three represented disciplines. Successful candidates will integrate and complement existing strengths in our program and contribute to the interdisciplinary focus of the department.

Clemson University and the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ-plus communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first-generation college graduates.

Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Clemson's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should have a PhD in Sociology or a closely related field by the time of the appointment. Areas of expertise include (but not are limited to) environmental sociology or medical sociology, including health disparities, food insecurity, environmental racism, or community-based participatory research.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applicants should submit the following items via Interfolio: (1) a letter of application explaining how their qualifications and experience make them a good candidate for the position along with a description of past activities that promote diversity and inclusion and/or plans to make future contributions, (2) a
Curriculum Vitae, (3) a research statement, (4) a teaching philosophy, along with teaching evaluations for up to two classes, and (5) the names and email addresses of three references.

Applicants should submit materials to: http://apply.interfolio.com/108658.

Application review will begin on September 12, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status or genetic information. Clemson University is building a culturally diverse faculty and staff committed to working in a multicultural environment and encourages applications from minorities and women.

Apply Here

PI184825356

Employer Description:

The College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences joins together a unique combination of schools and departments: Communication; Nursing; Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management; Political Science; Psychology; Public Health Sciences; and Sociology, Anthropology and Criminal Justice.

While each area is distinctive, we work together as a 21st-century land-grant college – addressing health and wellness challenges, tackling human impacts on the environment, and better understanding human, political and social behavior and the impact of an ever-connected world. These efforts in teaching, research and service further our mission of "building people and communities" in South Carolina and beyond.

Contact: Human Resources
Email: kweisen@clemson.edu
Phone: (864) 656-3238
Website: https://www.click2apply.net/MannBGIJK2DPAC1M7uB85g

Does your institution’s employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
64. Providence College

Job 18042: Assistant Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/7/2022 to 9/5/2022

Institution: Providence College
Department: Department of Sociology & Anthropology
Region: Northeast
Title: Assistant Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Open to All Specialty Areas, Open to All Specialty Areas
Salary Range: Negotiable
Submission Link:

Job Description:
The Department of Sociology at Providence College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2023. The successful candidate must show evidence of potential for excellence in undergraduate teaching, the ability to establish a scholarly research program and enthusiasm for teaching foundational courses in sociology, especially Introductory Sociology and Research Methods. Areas of specialization are open. As our student body, and Sociology majors in particular, grow increasingly diverse, we have a strong preference for candidates who show a commitment to publicly engaged scholarship, student-centered pedagogical and mentoring practices, and supporting the success of students from historically marginalized economic, social, and cultural groups. The course load is 3-3 with a one-semester pre-tenure sabbatical. Ph.D. in Sociology required and applicants must have Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment.

Applicants should apply online at the College’s career site at https://careers.providence.edu and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, teaching statement/philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation.

Members of the search committee will be conducting interviews at the 2022 ASA Annual Meeting in Los Angeles. For additional information, please contact Dr. Kara Cebulko, search chair, at kcebulko@providence.edu.

To ensure full consideration, please submit all application materials by September 30, 2022. Applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

Employer Description:
Providence College is a Roman Catholic four-year liberal arts institution conducted under the auspices of the Dominican Friars and seeks candidates who can affirm and contribute to its Mission. Providence College is committed to upholding an academic culture and campus community that attracts and supports the development of a diverse faculty reflecting the global environment in which we live and work. As such, a pillar of Providence College’s Strategic Plan for Diversity involves “intentionally recruiting and retaining faculty and staff who are drawn to, and supportive of, the mission of the College, and who have demonstrated a commitment to the human flourishing of each member of the campus community.” To review the strategic plan, please visit https://strategic-plan.providence.edu/pc200-full/. An AA/EOE, the College especially encourages applications from women and persons of color.

Contact: Dr. Kara Cebulko
Email: kcebulko@providence.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
65. Syracuse University

Job 18037: Assistant Professor Social Stratification and Quantitative Methods

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 7/7/2022 to 9/5/2022
Institution: Syracuse University
Department: Department of Sociology
Region: All US Regions
Title: Assistant Professor Social Stratification and Quantitative Methods
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Quantitative Methodology, Stratification/Mobility
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
Social Stratification/Inequality and Quantitative Methods
Department, Rank, & Specialty: Sociology, Assistant Professor, Social Stratification/Inequality and Quantitative Methods.
We seek a scholar with expertise in the theories, concepts, and statistical methods for sociological research on social stratification/inequality and quantitative methods. We seek a candidate whose substantive interests in social stratification/inequality are paired with advanced quantitative skills. These skills may include but are not limited to multilevel modeling, machine learning, social networks, causal inference, and/or longitudinal methods. Preference will be given to candidates who can contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or Demography and have a track record of, or show potential for, success in academic publishing and securing external research funding. Candidates must have the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate course in both social stratification/inequality and advanced quantitative methods, as well as advise doctoral students in sociology. We also seek candidates whose research, teaching, and service have prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education.
Review of applications will begin September 1, 2022. For consideration, interested candidates must apply at www.sujobopps.com by completing a brief faculty application. Candidates must attach a letter of interest, curriculum vita, one publication or writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, and a diversity statement. A list of names with contact information for three references should be provided at the time of application. Applicants with be notified prior to references being contacted.

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

To apply go to: Syracuse University Online Employment Site | Assistant Professor - Social Stratification and Quantitative Methods (sujobopps.com)

Employer Description:
Syracuse University is a private, international research university with distinctive academics, diversely unique offerings and an undeniable spirit. Located in the geographic heart of New York State, with a global footprint, and nearly 150 years of history, Syracuse University offers a quintessential college experience.

The scope of Syracuse University is a testament to its strengths: a pioneering history dating back to 1870; a choice of more than 200 majors and 100 minors offered through 13 schools and colleges; nearly 15,000 undergraduates and 5,000 graduate students; more than a quarter of a million alumni in 160 countries; and a student population from all 50 U.S. states and 123 countries. For more information, please visit www.syr.edu.

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

Contact: Jennifer Karas Montez
Email: jmontez@syr.edu
Phone:
Website:
Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITed.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
66. Syracuse University

Job 18038: Assistant/Associate Professor Global Population Health

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/7/2022 to 9/5/2022

Institution: Syracuse University
Department: Department of Sociology

Region: All US Regions

Title: Assistant/Associate Professor Global Population Health

Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant/Associate Professor

Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

Global Population Health
Syracuse University’s Department of Sociology seeks to fill a position in global population health at the Assistant or Associate level. This position is part of an ambitious cluster hire initiative in the broad area of Aging, Health, and Neuroscience (AHN) and the subarea of Population Health into which several positions are being filled from different disciplines. Faculty hired into these positions will build on our existing strengths in population health and will participate in an organized research cluster that spans multiple departments and research centers/institutes in the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics. Further information on the AHN cluster can be found at: https://asi.syr.edu/aging-health-and-neuroscience-cluster.

For this position, we are seeking a scholar with a research agenda concerned with global population health, including trends, inequalities, drivers, and consequences of global population health outcomes. Specific topics of interest could include the social and economic consequences of global population aging, rising global burden of chronic disease, causes and consequences of infectious disease spread, food systems and sustainability, impacts of climate change and/or natural disasters on health, and/or the impacts of global economic, social, or political changes on health.

Course offerings might include: Global Population Health, Population Processes, Quantitative Methods, Statistics, Population and Environment, and Environment and Health. Preference will be given to candidates who can contribute to other strengths in the sociology department (please visit https://www.maxwell.syr.edu/soc/Faculty_Research_Areas/) and to Maxwell School-wide priorities.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Sociology, Demography, or a closely related discipline and must have a track record or show potential for success in academic publishing and securing external research funding. Candidates must have the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate course in sociology and advise doctoral students in sociology. Participation in cross-disciplinary dialogue and partnerships with the AHN cluster is expected. We also seek candidates whose research, teaching, and service have prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education.

Review of applications will begin September 1, 2022. For consideration, interested candidates must apply at www.sujobopps.com by completing a brief faculty application. Candidates must attach a letter of interest, vita, one publication or writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, and a diversity statement.

A list of names with contact information for three references should be provided at the time of application. Applicants will be notified prior to references being contacted.

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

To apply go to: Syracuse University Online Employment Site | Assistant/Associate Professor Global Population Health (sujobopps.com)

Employer Description:

Syracuse University is a private, international research university with distinctive academics, diversely unique offerings and an undeniable spirit. Located in the geographic heart of New York State, with a global footprint, and nearly 150 years of history, Syracuse University offers a quintessential college experience.

The scope of Syracuse University is a testament to its strengths: a pioneering history dating back to 1870; a choice of more than 200 majors and 100 minors offered through 13 schools and colleges; nearly 15,000 undergraduates and 5,000 graduate students; more than a quarter of a million alumni in 160 countries; and a student population from all 50 U.S. states and 123 countries. For more information, please visit www.syracuse.edu.

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

Contact: Shannon Monnat
Email: smmonnat@syr.edu
Phone:
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
American Sociological Association Job Lists

Date: Saturday, August 6, 2022
67. University of Richmond

Job 18030: Assistant Professor

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/6/2022 to 10/4/2022
Institution: University of Richmond
Department: Dept. of Sociology & Anthropology & Africana Studies Program
Region: Southeast
Title: Assistant Professor
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Race, Class and Gender, Quantitative Methodology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology and the Africana Studies Program in the School of Arts & Sciences at the University of Richmond seek to hire a full-time tenure-track Sociologist at the level of Assistant Professor. In the School, tenure is a departmental status, and therefore faculty will be appointed in the Sociology and Anthropology Department. The joint appointment position will begin in the fall of 2023. A Ph.D. in Sociology is preferred at the time of appointment.

Candidates should have expertise in the study of race and racism and in the geographic and cultural area(s) of Africa and/or the African diaspora. Applicants should also demonstrate expertise in quantitative methods and in one or more of the following areas: sociology of health, environmental sociology, social movements, colonialism and decolonization, and/or gender and sexuality.

Within the Sociology & Anthropology Department, the ideal candidate will teach research methods (including quantitative methods) and should be able to teach introductory courses, and upper-level courses in their area(s) of expertise. Within the Africana Studies program, the ideal candidate should be able to teach interdisciplinary core courses.

UR faculty are expected to maintain the highest standards of academic excellence in teaching, research/scholarship, and service. The successful candidate will be expected to excel in teaching, maintain an active research agenda including publication in peer-reviewed outlets, and make meaningful service contributions to the department and the Africana Studies Program. This position is part of a cluster hire, and the successful candidate will be among the founding members of the newly formed interdisciplinary Africana Studies program. The candidate should anticipate playing an active role in the program.

Applicants should apply online at http://jobs.richmond.edu, and should submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, transcripts, and statements on research and teaching. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate’s philosophy, interest and future development goals as well as involvement in and commitment to inclusive pedagogy. Candidates for this position might be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Questions about the application or materials may be directed to Jeff Hass (jhass@richmond.edu), Chair of Sociology and Anthropology, or Ernest McGowen (emcgowen@richmond.edu), Coordinator of Africana Studies Program. Review of applications will commence September 30th and continue until the position is filled.

Employer Description:

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. We strongly encourage applications from people of color, women, first-generation scholars, LGBTQ people, and members of other marginalized populations.
Contact: Jeff Hass
Email: jhass@richmond.edu
Phone:
Website: https://socanth.richmond.edu/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18036: Research Analyst for Longitudinal Studies of Education, Health, and Cognitive Aging

Date Position is Available: Fall 2022

Application Deadline:

Listing Active: 7/6/2022 to 9/4/2022

Institution: University of Texas-Austin
Department: Department of Sociology

Region: Southwest

Title: Research Analyst for Longitudinal Studies of Education, Health, and Cognitive Aging

Position/Rank: Sociological Practice/Applied/Other: Researcher

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Applicable

Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Aging/Social Gerontology, Medical Sociology

Salary Range: Negotiable

Job Description:
The Population Research Center at the University of Texas at Austin, in collaboration with faculty at the University of Minnesota, University of Wisconsin, and Columbia University, are looking for a research analyst for a pair of pathbreaking projects designed to understand how educational opportunities and experiences in adolescence shape health and cognitive aging across the life course. Recently collected data including survey questionnaires, neurocognitive assessments, and rich biomarker data will complement survey and assessment data from the same respondents when they were adolescents in the 1970s or 1980s to support these investigations. The right person will have excellent data management and analytic skills, expertise, experience, and an interest in substantive research on the topics listed above, and a taste for managing code and fostering a culture of reproducibility across disparate study sites. The person hired for this position will help principal investigators design, analyze, document, and publish findings for research articles and policy oriented reports from High School & Beyond (n~26,500) and the National Longitudinal Study of the High School Class of 1972 (n~12,000) midlife follow-ups, both of which include nationally representative samples of people in the high school classes of 1980 and 1982 (HSB) and 1972 (NLS72), originally clustered in ~1,100 high school each (the samples are independent). For more information on the study and this job opportunity, please see our job posting https://utaustin.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UTstaff/job/UT-MAIN-CAMPUS/Database-Administrator--Muller-_R_00021019

Employer Description:
Like the state it calls home, The University of Texas at Austin is a bold, ambitious leader supporting some 52,000 diverse students, 3,000 teaching faculty, and top national programs across 18 colleges and schools. As Texas’ leading research university, UT attracts more than $650 million annually for discovery. Amid the backdrop of Austin, Texas, a city recognized for its creative and entrepreneurial spirit, the university provides a place to explore countless opportunities for tomorrow’s artists, scientists, athletes, doctors, entrepreneurs and engineers.

Contact: Julie Kniseley
Email: jkniseley@austin.utexas.edu
Phone: (512) 232-6305
Website:

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
Age? Yes
National Origin? Yes
Race? Yes
Religion? Yes
Sex? Yes
Sexual Orientation? Yes
Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
Spouses of Employees? Yes
Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.
Job 18021: Associate Professor of Sociology

Date Position is Available: Fall 2023

Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/1/2022 to 9/29/2022

Institution: Baylor University
Department: Dept of Sociology
Region: Southwest
Title: Associate Professor of Sociology
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Associate Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Aging/Social Gerontology, Medical Sociology
Salary Range: Negotiable

Submission Link: apply.interfolio.com/108150

Job Description:
The successful candidate will be a promising scholar in population health, construed broadly. A Ph.D. in sociology or a closely related field by the start date is required. Additionally, the successful candidate will bolster one or more of our existing departmental strengths in the study of social inequality, social problems, or social stratification. An active empirical program highlighting marginalized or disadvantaged populations is a plus. Candidates must have a strong record of, or ongoing potential for, influential research publications and external research funding. Candidates must also demonstrate excellence or great promise in graduate and undergraduate teaching and mentoring.

RESPONSIBILITIES: The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses and contribute substantially to graduate teaching and mentoring. Willingness to seek external funding is required.

SALARY: Commensurate with experience and qualifications.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: Applications will be reviewed beginning September 20, 2022 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by October 1, 2022.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Please submit a detailed letter of application, current curriculum vitae, and writing samples. Three reference letters are needed, and official academic transcript is required for hire.

If you have questions regarding this position, please contact the search chair, Matthew Andersson, at Matthew_Andersson (at) baylor.edu

Candidates should possess an earned doctorate in the appropriate field of study. You will be asked to provide a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; transcripts and a list of three references in the application process. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

To learn more about the above position, please visit the applicable URL: apply.interfolio.com/108150

Baylor University https://www.baylor.edu/

College of Arts & Sciences https://www.baylor.edu/artsandsciences/

Prospective Faculty & Staff https://www.baylor.edu/hr/index.php?id=949183

Employer Description:

Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For." The University is recruiting new faculty with a deep commitment to excellence in teaching, research and scholarship. Baylor seeks faculty who share in our aspiration to become a tier one research institution while strengthening our distinctive Christian mission as described in our academic strategic plan, Illuminate (baylor.edu/illuminate). As the world's largest Baptist University, Baylor offers over 40 doctoral programs and has more than 17,000 students from all 50 states and more than 85 countries.

Baylor University is a private not-for-profit university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, Baylor is committed to compliance with all applicable anti-discrimination laws, including those regarding age, race, color, sex, national origin, pregnancy status, military service, genetic information, and disability. As a religious educational institution, Baylor is lawfully permitted to consider an applicant's religion as a selection criterion. Baylor encourages women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities to apply.

EEO/AA/Vets/Disabled

Contact: Matthew Andersson
Email: sociology_department@baylor.edu
Phone: (254) 710-1165
Website: www.baylor.edu/sociology

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:
- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? No
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? No
- Gender Identity or Expression? No

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:
- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? No

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITED.
Job 18029: Assistant Professor– Human Dimensions of Wildlife Conservation

Date Position is Available: Spring 2023
Application Deadline:
Listing Active: 7/1/2022 to 8/30/2022
Institution: Michigan State University
Department: Fisheries and Wildlife
Region: Midwest
Title: Assistant Professor– Human Dimensions of Wildlife Conservation
Position/Rank: Academic Positions: Assistant Professor
Tenure/Tenure Track: Tenure Track
Special Program and Areas of Faculty Expertise: Other Program/Area, Other Program/Area
Salary Range: $80,000 - $89,999

Job Description:
The Department of Fisheries and Wildlife at Michigan State University invites applications for a full-time 9-month tenure track Assistant Professor with 40% research, 30% teaching, 20% outreach, ad 10% service assignment. The position start date is anticipated to be Jan 1, 2023.

This position is jointly funded by MSU and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources through the Partnership for Ecosystem Research and Management (PERM). The PERM agreement (https://www.canr.msu.edu/perm/) is a highly successful alliance between government agencies and MSU and is focused on applying research to natural resource management. Through the PERM agreement, this faculty position will jointly serve MSU and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) Wildlife Division.

The individual selected will join a diverse group of faculty members, post-doctoral scholars, staff, specialists, and students who provide a vibrant, internationally recognized program of research, instruction, and outreach to achieve science-based fisheries and wildlife conservation and management. The individual will also work directly with the MDNR Wildlife Division's Biological and Social Science Section, providing human dimensions expertise and services to managers with diverse wildlife management responsibilities. These responsibilities range from game species management, including regulation recommendations, to recovery of rare species and associated environmental concerns, including climate change and land use policies.

The successful candidate will teach an undergraduate course in human dimensions of fisheries and wildlife management every year, as well as one other three-credit course that aligns with the individual’s area of expertise, in consultation with the Department Chair (total of two courses per academic year). The candidate will be expected to develop a vibrant research, outreach, and engagement program supported by external funding from diverse sources, which includes advising graduate and undergraduate students and publishing results in journals appropriate for the field of study. The candidate's program will be developed in consultation with, and executed in partnership with, MDNR Wildlife Division to align with the applied needs of wildlife management.

Required qualifications: An earned Ph.D. in human dimensions of wildlife, conservation social science, or a related field with demonstrated expertise in research and applications of social science to wildlife management and governance. A demonstrated record of activities in teaching, research, Extension/outreach, and service relevant to the position. The candidate should have a publication record that is reflective of their current career stage and provide evidence of an increasing trajectory of academic productivity. A strong desire and record of collaborating with wildlife management agency personnel, especially at the state level, to confront ongoing challenges related to human dimensions of wildlife management is necessary.

Desired qualifications: Experience applying qualitative or quantitative social science techniques to numerous wildlife management issues is desired. Interest or experience in understanding how shifting demographics and outdoor recreational uses throughout the state and the country will affect wildlife conservation and management will be valuable. Experience with structured decision making or adaptive management will be a strong asset, as will experience working closely with wildlife management agencies and external stakeholder groups to develop and implement wildlife policy. Experience with implementing student-centered, evidence-based teaching and learning practices to meet desired course objectives is also desired. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated commitment to inclusion and working with underrepresented groups in advising, teaching, and outreach / engagement.

Employer Description:

The Department of Fisheries and Wildlife is an international leader in integrating research, teaching, and engagement to positively affect local, regional, national, and global outcomes in natural resources. Our work supports stakeholder efforts to conserve, sustain and value natural resources; improves natural resource sustainability; and expands understanding of basic science. By linking physical, biological, and social sciences to solve challenges related to the environment, terrestrial and aquatic organisms, and people, our department is unique within MSU and one of the top departments of its kind in the world.

Location: The position will be based at Michigan State University in East Lansing, MI, USA. Michigan State University (MSU) is one of the top research universities in the world and home to nationally ranked and recognized academic, residential college, and service-learning programs. MSU is a diverse community of dedicated students and scholars, athletes and artists, and scientists that provide regional, national, and international leadership in basic and applied research and excellence in teaching. In addition, consistent with its Land Grant origins, the MSU community pursues international engagement and provides strong extension programs that partner with diverse stakeholders to provide much needed research in the areas of food, energy, water and the environment. MSU enjoys a park-like campus with outlying research facilities and natural areas. The campus is located in the city of East Lansing, adjacent to the capital city of Lansing. The Lansing metropolitan area has a diverse population of >500,000. Local communities have excellent school systems and place a high value on education. The University is proactive about its obligations under the ADA, and provides individual accessibility plans to students and employees with disabilities. Michigan State University is also proactive in exploring opportunities for employment for dual career families, both inside and outside the University, and respects all family forms. Information about MSU’s dual career support can be found at https://worklife.msu.edu/dual-career. Information about WorkLife at MSU can be found at http://worklife.msu.edu.

Commitment to Diversity, Equity and Inclusion: The College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Michigan State University is committed to achieving excellence by creating and sustaining an accessible and inclusive culture that values cultural and academic diversity. We are an equal opportunity / affirmative action employer. The CANR is particularly interested in candidates of all backgrounds who are committed to the principle that academic excellence is achieved through open access and proactive inclusion. Candidates are invited to view the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife’s commitment to DEI in the strategic plan.

Contact: Dr. Scott Winterstein
Email: winterst@msu.edu
Phone: 517.353.2022
Website: https://www.canr.msu.edu/fw/

Does your institution's employment policy PROHIBIT discrimination in hiring or the terms of employment based on:

- Age? Yes
- National Origin? Yes
- Race? Yes
- Religion? Yes
- Sex? Yes
- Sexual Orientation? Yes
- Gender Identity or Expression? Yes

Does your institution provide benefits such as health insurance to:

- Spouses of Employees? Yes
- Same-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes
- Other-sex Domestic Partners of Employees? Yes

The above information is provided by the employer. The American Sociological Association does not verify the accuracy of these statements.

© American Sociological Association. This compilation is provided for your personal use only. Reproduction or redistribution without the express written permission of the ASA is PROHIBITEd.