Join Sociologists Around the World at the March for Science on April 14

In 2017, more than one million people around the world gathered together in the largest event for science advocacy in history, the March for Science. The March for Science is a public celebration of science and a reminder of the important role evidence-based research plays in informing public policy. Join your fellow sociologists again for the 2018 March for Science. The primary event will take place in Washington, DC, and there are already 175 satellite events planned. To find the event closest to you, click here. If you participate anywhere in the world, please use the hashtag #March4Sociology and tag the ASA in your social media posts so we can share them. We are also providing signs that can be downloaded and printed.

2018 ASA Annual Meeting News and Updates #ASA18

- Track the Status of Your Paper Submission. Session Organizers have notified authors on the final disposition of submissions. If you would also like to track the status of your submission online, log in using your ASA user name and password.
- Access for All. ASA is committed to making the Annual Meeting accessible to all. Visit the Accessibility web page for information on services and assistance available.
- Book your hotel room today for the 113th Annual Meeting, which will be held in Philadelphia at the Pennsylvania Convention Center and the Philadelphia Marriott Downtown. The ASA block includes five hotels with varying price points and distance to/from the meeting locations. The deadline to make a hotel reservation is July 17, 2018.

In Case You Missed It . . .

Webinar on Grant Seeking from Private Foundations: What Investigators Should Know

In January, ASA offered a free webinar featuring program officers from three foundations that offer major funding for work in the social sciences: the Russell Sage Foundation, the Spencer Foundation, and the William T. Grant Foundation. In the webinar they described their current initiatives, their review processes, and provided concrete guidance on proposal preparation. If you missed the live webinar, you can view the recording here.

Social Psychology Quarterly Call for Papers

Special Issue on Social Psychology of Creativity

- Social Psychology Quarterly invites papers for a special issue on the social psychology of creativity, to be edited by John Parker, Ugo Corte, and Gary Alan Fine. The deadline for submissions is September 1, 2018. Read the call for papers.

Hot Off the Press: Journal Highlights

- Review Essay: Gender Equality at Work by Joya Misra (Contemporary Sociology, March 2018)
- Perceived Need for Mental Health Care: The Intersection of Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Socioeconomic Status by Alice P. Villatoro, Vickie M. Mays, Ninez A. Ponce, and Carol S. Aneshensel (Society and Mental Health, March 2018)
- Race, Space, and Surveillance: Understanding the Relationship between Criminal Justice Contact and Institutional Involvement by Brianna Remster and Rory Kramer (Socius, March 14, 2018)

Visit the journals homepage for centralized information on ASA journals, including mailing dates for printed issues, online journal access, manuscript submission, and to view other recently featured articles.