Jeff Ackerman will be stepping down after many years of service. Linda Collier, J.D., M.S was selected as the new editor of the newsletter for ASA’s Crime, Law, and Deviance Section. Jeff and Linda have worked hard in preparing the Summer newsletter to provide a smooth transition for our readers. We have a new section web-page and social media manager, Mike Vuolo, Sociology, Purdue University as well. Please email Mike at mvuolo@purdue.edu if you have questions or information for the web.

The ASA is expanding its database of sociologists who are subject matter experts. This database serves as an easily accessible resource that ASA Public Affairs and Public Information (PA/PI) staff consult when journalists request interviews with experts for their stories. In addition, PA/PI staff peruse the database before proactively offering names of experts on particularly timely topics to reporters. For example, after Osama bin Laden was killed, PA/PI staff developed a list of sociologists who could discuss the significance of bin Laden's death from a variety of sociological perspectives, and made it available to reporters. For more information, please click here<http://bit.ly/GBpbS4>. To join the ASA Experts Database immediately, please click here<http://bit.ly/HGfxi8>. If you decide to join, you will be asked to provide details including your ASA Member ID, email address(es), phone number(s), area(s) of expertise, biographic information, and recent publications.

Thank you,
