The World of Ethnic Relations

Race and ethnic relations is one of the most durable topics in the history of American sociology. Our discipline's concern and interest (indeed, fascination) remains unabated—unlike many other subjects, whose allure comes and goes. Through the years many scholars have devoted a considerable part of their careers to work on this topic. Among past Presidents of the ASA, for example, this includes: Robert E. Park, W. I. Thomas, Edward B. Reuter, Louis Wirth, E. Franklin Frazier, Florian Znaniecki, Robin M. Williams, Jr., Everett C. Hughes, Arnold M. Rose, J. Milton Yinger, and William Julius Wilson. This list would be far longer if it were expanded to include those Presidents who have done at least some significant work on the topic (for example, Bogardus, Merton, Blalock, Gans, Coleman), to say nothing of the enormous number of other sociologists who have made important contributions. One can be confident that the subject will remain of vital interest in future decades—although the emphasis, theoretical perspectives, terminology, and specific problems are likely to change as relations change.

But we can do better. Although race and ethnicity is certainly one of the most important features of American society—both presently and in the past—our society is hardly unique in this respect. The wide sweep of ethnic relations throughout the world and through the centuries, even if not entirely ignored, is given relatively scant attention. If we think about how "The Peoples Meet Everywhere" (the title of a chapter in a 1952 book by Everett C. and Helen M. Hughes, Where Peoples Meet), then many of the events that we take for granted in the United States are open to empirical and theoretical examination in terms of their occurrence elsewhere and their causes. For example, most groups experienced a massive shift to a single new language after only a few generations of residence in the United States. It is safe to guess that well over half of those attending the annual meetings in Cincinnati will be the descendants—in part or whole—of people whose mother tongue was not English only a few hundred years ago. This linguistic process is by no means distinctive to the United States, but it is certainly radically different from the experiences of ethnic groups in many nations of the world. There are a wide variety of other subjects that would be greatly enhanced by examining their features in this broader context; consider, for example, residential segregation, prejudice, discrimination, governmental policies, politics, stereotypes, separatist movements, institutional organizations, citizenship laws, immigration policies, economic inequality, cultural pluralism, assimilation, and schooling.

Not the least of our tasks is to reconsider the concepts we use in describing the relations between these groups. To a certain degree, they are derived from popular usage and bound to a given time and place—rather than an intellectual and theoretically generated product. What precisely do we mean by such terms as ethnic, race, racism, minority, prejudice, institutionalized racism, exploitation, and assimilation? And, if we know what we mean by them, how are they to be gauged? Perhaps it is inevitable that these terms be ambiguous, but if so we should find out why. In any case, just to keep everything open for examination, the theme's title excludes the term race not because groups popularly known as such are to be left out—far from it—but rather because we must determine if this widely used term should be part of the vocabulary of a scientific study. Given the definition of the term, are whites and blacks races? If not, what is gained by perpetuating a falsehood? What would be lost? The actual classification system used in a society is itself a fascinating subject, since it varies widely over time and place, and in turn raises questions about the societal and historical factors that drive such differences.

Thanks to an inspired Program Committee, we will re-examine and question these issues in ways that we normally neglect. It will also be an opportunity for all of us to learn about ethnic relations throughout the world.

*Stanley Lieberson, President
American Sociological Association*

Didactic Seminars

Didactic seminars are designed to keep sociologists abreast of recent scholarly trends and developments. Experts considered to be at the forefront of a given field are invited by the Program Committee to conduct these sessions.

Seminar speakers will present materials to explain specialized developments within their topic areas. Seminars are scheduled for two, three or four hours. Please see the listing below for session details and brief seminar descriptions provided by the speakers.

Attendance at each Didactic Seminar is limited to 60, and pre-paid registration is required. Seminar fees are $20 (except Sessions 2 and 5, as noted below). All persons registering for seminars must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting. Those already enrolled should have received tickets with their name badges. Those who did not reserve in advance but who wish to attend should check at the Tickets Desk for possible openings.

No one will be admitted to the seminar room without a paid reservation; tickets will be collected at the door.

Introduction to the Theory and Practice of Structural Equation Modeling (co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research and the ASA Section on Methodology)*Session 2, Thursday, August 22, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon*Convention Center, Room 243Ticket required for admission.Fees: $75 general, $60 Methodology Section members, $40 studentKenneth A. Bollen*, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill*Peter M. Bentler*, University of California-Los Angeles

The seminar provides an overview of structural equation models without using matrix algebra. This session will provide an historic perspective on these procedures and explain their relation to the more familiar techniques of regression and factor analysis. It will present examples of the three major types of structural equation models and reveal the logic behind the estimation process. The course will also demonstrate the use of the computer software, EQS 3.0, to estimate these models and illustrate how to interpret the output from this program.

Intermediate Topics in Structural Equation Modeling (co-sponsored by the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research and the ASA Section on Methodology)

Session 5, Thursday, August 22, 1:30-4:30 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 243

Ticket required for admission.

Fees: $75 general, $60 Methodology Section members, $40 student

Kenneth A. Bollen, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

Peter M. Bentler, University of California-Los Angeles

The afternoon seminar assumes elementary knowledge of matrix algebra and will present a matrix formulation of the major types of structural equation models and present estimators and tests for such models. Various goodness-of-fit indices and their properties will be reviewed. It will also introduce the application of Lagrangian Multiplier, Wald, and Likelihood Ratio tests for imposing or removing restrictions on parameters and for empirical means of respecifying models. The course will illustrate these topics with examples estimated with EQS 3.0.

Qualitative Interviewing

Session 8, Friday, August 23, 8:30-11:30 a.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Robert S. Weiss, University of Massachusetts-Boston

The seminar will cover: (a) the aims of qualitative interviewing; (b) developing an initial interview guide from an accounting scheme; (c) types of data elicited in qualitative interviewing, including most-likely-to-be-useful concrete observations, less-likely-to-be-useful generalized observations, and least-likely-to-be-useful beliefs, attitudes and opinions; (d) establishing a partnership with respondents and helping them to provide useful materials; (e) issues of data analysis, including the development and use of "excerpt" files; and (f) advantages and limitations of the semi-qualitative "fixed question, open response" interview. A brief qualitative interview will be conducted as a demonstration.

Contextual Effects: Hierarchical Linear Models and Other Models

Session 36, Friday, August 23, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

William M. Mason, University of California-Los Angeles

Qualitative Analysis

Session 51, Friday, August 23, 4:30-6:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Kathy Charmaz, Sonoma State University

Methods of Social Network Analysis

Session 64, Saturday, August 24, 8:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Peter Marsden, Harvard University

This seminar is an introductory survey of methods for studying social structures conceived as social networks, emphasizing quantitative approaches. A section on research methods covers network study designs, sources of data, instruments for data collection, and research on data quality. A section on analytic methods provides an overview of techniques for centrality analysis, location of cohesive subgroups, positional analysis (including "blockmodelling"), and spatial analysis. Includes worked examples and discussion of computer software for network analysis.

Log-Linear Models

Session 80, Saturday, August 24, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 243

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Clifford C. Clogg, Pennsylvania State University

Scott R. Eliason, University of Iowa

We will give an overview of methodology for the analysis of contingency tables using log-linear models and their extensions. The seminar is organized around a PC package developed by Eliason ("Categorical Data Analysis System": CDAS). Modules in this program can be used to fit regular log-linear and logit models, latent class models, association models, multiple-group association models, and other standard or recent models. It can also be used to adjust rates, or standardize rates, using the purging method. Many of the routines in CDAS allow treatment of methods that cannot be considered with standard packages. Some familiarity with log-linear and logit models is assumed.

Content Analysis

Session 95, Saturday, August 24, 12:30-3:30 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Carl W. Roberts, Iowa State University

The central problem of content analysis is the transformation of qualitative data into a form that enables the researcher to make statistical inferences about the population from which the data were drawn. The focus of the seminar will be on data drawn from texts or transcripts, rather than on nonlinguistic data (e.g., gestures, art, etc.). Problems endemic to impressionistic and word-count approaches to content analysis have recently been addressed by proponents of relational content analysis techniques. One such technique, linguistic content analysis, will be described and illustrated. Participants are encouraged to have examples of their own linguistic data (typewritten page or ASCII file) to be "quantified" using content analysis software after the seminar.

An Introduction to the General Social Survey (GSS)

Session 111, Saturday, August 24, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 243

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Tom W. Smith, NORC

James A. Davis, Harvard University

Drawing on a new user's manual to be published by Sage, this seminar will describe the research design of the GSS including its cross-national component (the International Social Survey Program), its topical modules (including the 1989 replication of the NORC prestige scale), its rotation and experimental sub-samples, and related matters. Other topics to be covered are special supplemental data sets, scholarly usage, teaching, and future developments.

Comparative and Historical Methods

Session 127, Sunday, August 25, 8:30-10:20 a.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Charles C. Ragin, Northwestern University

Comparative methods will be emphasized in the seminar; historical methods will be examined within the context of issues in comparative research. The main topic will be qualitative comparative analysis, which emphasizes holistic comparisons of cases as configurations of characteristics. Recommended background readings are Charles Ragin, The Comparative Method: Moving Beyond Qualitative and Quantitative Strategies (University of California Press, 1987) and Charles Ragin, editor, Issues and Alternatives in Comparative Research (E.J. Brill, 1991; also published as Volume 32, numbers 1 and 2 of International Journal of Comparative Sociology).

Contributions of French Social Theory

Session 144, Sunday, August 25, 10:30 a.m.-12:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 243

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Charles C. Lemert, Wesleyan University

The seminar will examine French social theory with reference to its contributions—current and potential—to sociological reasoning. Special attention will be paid to the evolution of postmodern social theories out of poststructuralism and structuralism. Some particular attention will be paid to the contributions of Bourdieu, Foucault, Touraine, and Derrida, among others. Current issues in sociological theory as well as feminist and African-American social theories will also be examined.

Focus Groups

Session 174, Sunday, August 25, 2:30-5:30 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 243

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

David L. Morgan, Portland State University

Although focus groups were first used by sociologists over 40 years ago, there has been a recent resurgence of interest in the kinds of qualitative data that this research method produces. This seminar will provide an overview of the issues involved in using focus groups for those who have limited experience with this method. The first half discusses what focus groups are and when to use them, both in self-contained studies and in conjunction with other methods such as surveys. The second half discusses how to do focus groups by emphasizing the decisions involved in designing effective focus groups research. The only prerequisite is a general knowledge of qualitative methods.

Visual Sociology

Session 175, Sunday, August 25, 2:30-4:20 p.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Charles Suchar, DePaul University

Steven J. Gold, Whittier College

Douglas A. Harper, State University College-Potsdam

This seminar explores methodological, technical, and epistemological issues that confront the sociologist who wishes to work with or create visual and particularly photographic representations of society. The seminar presenters will explore different varieties of contemporary work in visual sociology to illustrate the possibilities of visual methods. Discussions will cover such topics as the reading of visual images, ethical issues in visual sociology, the relationship of visual methods to other methodological strategies, and the more effective visual techniques that are available to the sociologist who is interested in engaging in a different social discovery process and in the production of alternative sociological narratives.

LISREL Models

Session 204, Monday, August 26, 8:30-10:20 a.m.
Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Mary Benin, Arizona State University

David R. Johnson, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

The LISREL models seminar will begin with a simple path model. We will demonstrate (with handouts) how to program LISREL 7 to run this job and how to interpret the output. Next, we will introduce a modest multiple indicators model and again thoroughly familiarize the seminar participants with programming and output for the model. Finally, we will briefly introduce the types of models that can be tested with LISREL (examples: confirmatory factor analytic and panel) and will give participants handouts of example jobs of each type. Our examples will use the GSS data to allow many participants the opportunity to replicate our results.

David A. Snow and Calvin Morrill, University of Arizona

You've gained access, you're in the field, and generating reams of field notes. Now what? How does the ethnographer make analytic and theoretical sense out of field jottings and notes? And how are these analytic and theoretical schemes converted into ethnographic text? This seminar explores the choices and restraints ethnographers encounter when creating ethnographies. Topics covered include: sources of error and bias, coding strategies, writing strategies, and establishing textual credibility.

Event History Analysis

Session 251, Monday, August 26, 2:30-6:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 300

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $20

Lawrence L. Wu, University of Wisconsin-Madison

This seminar is an introduction to the analysis of event history data. Topics include data structures for event histories and time varying covariates, right and left censoring, exploratory methods, proportional hazard models, time dependence, estimation and testing. Seminar assumes knowledge of multiple regression, inference, and basic statistical inference. Knowledge of the logistic regression model helpful but not required. No prior knowledge of event history models or methods assumed.

Workshops

Professional and Teaching Workshops have become a standard component of the Annual Meeting. This year 11 professional workshops and 13 teaching workshops provide opportunities for attendees to update their skills and knowledge in a variety of professional and disciplinary areas. Workshops are generally open to all convention registrants; however, please note that there are three pre-convention workshops which require advance registration and fee payment.

Professional Workshops

Job Clinic

Session 1, Wednesday, August 21, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:30-5:30 p.m.; Thursday, August 22, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon, 1:30-3:00 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 241

Ticket required for admission. Fees: $240 ASA Members, $300 non-members

Richard Irish, TransCentury Corporation

This two-day clinic is designed to help sociologists think through major issues in their career development. The clinic is appropriate for both established academics, sociological practitioners, and newly minted PhDs who are contemplating a move out of academia. In preparation for the clinic, participants received Irish's book and a short assignment. The daily sessions here in Cincinnati will deal with a number of different issues, including how to (1) identify marketable skills relevant to one's job goals; (2) prepare various types of first-rate, door-opening resumes; (3) upgrade participants' job-finding skills; and (4) negotiate a good salary without an impressive job history. Following the clinic, participants will be able to meet individually with Irish for an hour of personal consultation for a fee of $80.

Planning for Retirement

Session 6, Thursday, August 22, 1:30-5:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 242

Ticket required for admission. Fee: $10

David L. Petty, Stephen F. Austin State University

If you retire, when you retire . . .

- * what will you do?
- * with whom will you do it?
- * with what will you do it?
- * where will you do it?
- * how will you feel?

Answers to these questions will be discussed to create an awareness of the critical importance of pre-retirement planning.

Women Sociologists in Academic Administration

Session 9, Friday, August 23, 8:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 241

Organizers: Barbara Reskin, Ohio State University; and Judith Treas, University of California-Irvine

President: Judith Treas, University of California-Irvine

Women's Role in Administration in a Cross-Section of Universities. Theresa L. Baker, California State University-San Marcos

Why Administration Is Like Housework. Teresa Sullivan, University of Texas-Austin

Why Administration Is Better than Housework. Joan Huber, Ohio State University

This workshop is geared toward women sociologists who are currently holding administrative posts in academic settings or who are interested in academic administration. Panelists will discuss strategies for dealing with problems. Ample time will be available for questions and answers.

Bringing Social Science Findings to the Public Policy Arena

Session 81, Saturday, August 24, 10:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 240

Organizer: Barbara Reskin, Ohio State University

President: Raymond Russell, University of California-Riverside

Charles Moskos, Northwestern University

Sara Rix, AARP Public Policy Institute

Howard Silver, Consortium of Social Science Associations

The workshop will examine ways that social researchers and policy makers can bring their findings to the attention of people in the policy community.

Getting Research Funded

Session 112, Saturday, August 24, 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 254

Organizer: Steve Buff, American Sociological Association

Murray Webster, Jr., National Science Foundation

Ronald C. Kessler, University of Michigan

Nancy Moss, National Institute for Child Health and Human Development

W. Richard Scott, Stanford University

Panel members (representing the perspectives of granting agencies, a successful recipient, and a seasoned review panelist) will describe procedures (and the art) by which people can apply for research grants.

Negotiating the Academic Job Market

Session 128, Sunday, August 25, 8:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 241

Organizer: Steve Buff, American Sociological Association

William Falk, University of Maryland

Cornelia Flora, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

Debra Umberson, University of Texas-Austin

The workshop will consider the preparation needed for being competitive on the job market, strategies for pursuing job openings, and circumstances to consider when interviewing for academic positions. The panelists will offer ideas but will expect participation from the workshop attendees. Department chairs and academic advisors are encouraged to attend.

Negotiating the Government Job Market

Session 145, Sunday, August 25, 10:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 241

Organizer: Steve Buff, American Sociological Association

Ronald Manderscheid, National Institute for Mental Health

Karen Schwab, Walter Reed Army Medical Center

James T. Walker, National Institute for Occupational Health and Safety

This workshop will discuss employment and career opportunities in the federal government, and their benefits and rewards, for persons trained in sociology. Some practical issues will also be discussed, including approaches to job seeking, networking, and preparing Standard Form 171 and other application documents. Department chairs and academic advisors are encouraged to attend.

Writing for Scholarly Journals

Session 205, Monday, August 26, 8:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 253

Organizer and President: Richard L. Simpson, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill

Gerald Marwell, Editor, American Sociological Review, University of Wisconsin-Madison

James McCartney, Editor, The American Sociologist, University of Missouri-Columbia

William Parish, Editor, American Journal of Sociology, University of Chicago

Strategies for Recruiting and Retaining Women Faculty

Session 222, Monday, August 26, 10:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 242

Organizer and President: Helen Rose Ebaugh, University of Houston

Linda Baer, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Bemidji University

Sue Blanshan, Office of Human Relations, Ohio State University

Mary Romero and Debbie Storrs, University of Oregon

This workshop will focus upon specific strategies that are proving successful in the hiring and retention of women faculty in sociology, specifically programs for spousal accommodation, tenure track contracts that are conducive to young family needs, negotiating the triple jeopardy bind for women of color, and mentoring programs. As background, participants are asked to be familiar with the two articles on the status of women in sociology which appeared in the December 1990 issue of ASA Footnotes. While women academics will be the primary focus, many of the issues apply equally to untenured male faculty.

Negotiating the Business Job Market

Session 252, Monday, August 26, 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Organizer: Steve Buff, American Sociological Association

Stephen Collesano, American International Group

James Lucas, Campbell-Mithun-Esty

David Woodrow, Standard & Poors

Discussion will center on finding, keeping, advancing in, and staying satisfied with jobs that "use sociology" in the private and not-for-profit sectors. Those aspiring to practice sociology in these sectors, as well as veterans with experiences to share, are invited to join the interchange. Department chairs and academic advisors are encouraged to attend.

Sociologists as Expert Witnesses

Session 293, Tuesday, August 27, 10:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Organizer and Presider: Barbara Reskin, Ohio State University

Lynn Smith-Lovin, University of Arizona

Richard Ofshe, University of California-Berkeley

Joe Sanders, University of Houston

Ronnie Steinberg, Temple University

This workshop is oriented toward sociologists who wish to serve as expert witnesses in litigation. Panelists will discuss general strategies expert witnesses can use, drawing on their experience as expert witnesses in a variety of substantive areas.

Teaching Workshops

Academic Leadership: The Role of the Chair

Session 3, Thursday, August 22, 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Hyatt Regency, Mountaineer Room

Ticket required for admission. Fees: $55 ASA Members, $75 non-members; includes luncheon.

Lee Bowker, Humboldt State University

Barbara Keating, Mankato State University

Hans O. Mauksch, University of Georgia

Dennis McSeveney, University of New Orleans

Designed to acquaint sociology department chairs and chair-designees with material on the undergraduate curriculum, faculty evaluation, departmental planning, resource acquisition, the uses of the power of the chair, faculty motivation and faculty development. Case studies will be used to stimulate discussion on representative dilemmas faced by department chairs.

Teaching Sociology of Aging

Session 17, Friday, August 23, 10:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

George L. Maddox, Duke University Medical Center

Judith A. Levy, University of Illinois-Chicago

Outcome Assessment in Sociology: How to Make It Work

Session 37, Friday, August 23, 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

William S. Johnson, Arizona State University

Stephen Sharkey, Alverno College

Teaching Introductory Sociology for the First Time

Session 52, Friday, August 23, 4:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Anni Sundgren, Tacoma Community College

Richard R. Clayton, University of Kentucky

This workshop is designed for those who have never taught Introductory Sociology, either because they are preparing for their very first teaching experience or because their teaching experience has never included the first course. We will focus on course goals and organization, lecture preparation, text selection, exams and assignments, things to do and things to avoid. Handouts will be provided.

Teaching Racial and Ethnic Relations

Session 96, Saturday, August 24, 12:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Organizers: Donald Cunneen, University of Pennsylvania; John F. Schnabel, West Virginia University

Panel: Rhoda Lois Blumberg, Rutgers University

John M. Liu, University of California-Irvine

Paul T. Murray, Siena College

The workshop will initially consist of a panel that will focus upon textbook selection, pedagogical techniques, and other aspects of teaching race and ethnic relations. Following the panel presentations and a brief question and answer period, each panelist will preside over small discussion groups, with those in attendance selecting the discussion of most interest.

Using Collaborative Learning in Teaching Sociology

Session 129, Sunday, August 25, 8:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 242

William Rau and Barbara Heyl, Illinois State University-Normal

Jack Harkins, College of DuPage

Leon Anderson and Mara Holt, Ohio University

Perspectives on the Undergraduate Curriculum

Session 158, Sunday, August 25, 12:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Organizer and Presider: Paul Eberts, Cornell University

Panel: Catherine White Berheide, Skidmore College

Kathleen Crittenden, University of Illinois-Chicago

Robert Davis, North Carolina A&T University

Jess Enns, Kearney State College

Jack Harkins, College of DuPage

Theodore C. Wagenaar, Miami University

Prudence Widlak, University of Wisconsin-Madison

This workshop begins with summaries of key findings from two major reports on the undergraduate curriculum: the national survey of sociology departments' undergraduate curriculum (Enns-Harkins) and the Association of American Colleges' Task Force on the Undergraduate Sociology Major. The latter report addresses issues of sequencing, a capstone course, stimulating higher levels of intellectual development, among its thirteen recommendations.

Workshop participants will then discuss the implications of these reports' findings for their own curriculum. Some time will be set aside to work in small groups on revising sample curriculum, or your own courses if you bring along copies.

Teaching Social Psychology Courses

Session 176, Sunday, August 25, 2:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 242

Organizers and Presiders: Jeffrey Chin, LeMoyne College; Bernice Pescosolido, Indiana University

Panel: Cardell Jacobson, Brigham Young University

Jeff Lashbrook, Albright College

Jodi O'Brien, University of Washington

Linda Rouse, University of Texas-Arlington

James Schellenberg, Indiana State University

Diane Taub, Southern Illinois University

In this workshop, we will discuss the undergraduate social psychology course within a sociology curriculum. Attention will be paid to what kind of social psychology courses would be appropriate given different institutional environments and—within those frameworks—how to construct such a course. Panelists will discuss the approaches they have taken in teaching undergraduate social psychology. Copies of their work and other handouts from the recent special issue of Teaching Sociology on teaching social psychology and the revision of the ASA Teaching Resources Center's volume on Teaching Social Psychology will be available.

Preparing Your Department for an External Program Review

Session 189, Sunday, August 25, 4:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 242

J. Michael Brooks, Texas Christian University

Charles S. Green III, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

This workshop stresses the basics of arranging and carrying out self-studies and program reviews. Areas of emphasis will include goal setting, program monitoring, peer program comparisons, the use of outside consultants, and methods of arranging and implementing reviews. Participants will also share their own insights and experiences.

Teaching Workshop. Medical Care, Technology and Society: A Pre-View of PBS Series Relevant for Teaching

Sunday, August 25, 6:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Organizer and Presider: Bernice Pescosolido, Indiana University

Panel: Carol Boyer, Rutgers University; Ann Dill, Brown University; Anne Figert, Loyola University; and Eric Wright, Indiana University

This workshop focuses on two series currently in production at WNET in New York City, "Medicine at the Crossroads" and "The Healing Mind." These series, which will air in the next year or two, focus primarily on social forces in medicine, medical care and technology and provide current, exciting and challenging materials for a wide range of sociology courses, including medical sociology, introductory sociology, sociology of science and technology, and social psychology, to name only a few. Often teachers of sociology do not have enough advance notice about the focus, content, and scheduling of PBS series to incorporate them into syllabi or courses. With the help of PBS staff, a panel of individuals will provide a detailed discussion of the themes of each show in the two series, and materials (articles, book chapters, assignments) that can be used to accompany these shows. In addition, PBS will provide advance copies of the finished shows for previewing and clips of those still in production where available.

Teaching About Women of Color

Session 206, Monday, August 26, 8:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 236

Margaret L. Andersen, University of Delaware

Maxine Baca Zinn, Michigan State University

Teaching Critical Thinking in Sociology Courses

Session 223, Monday, August 26, 10:30 a.m.

Convention Center, Room 300

Paul J. Baker, Illinois State University-Normal

Dean S. Dorn, California State University-Sacramento

Internationalizing the Curriculum

Session 289, Monday, August 26, 4:30 p.m.

Convention Center, Room 243

Manju Sheth, Glassboro State College

Convention Center, Room 243

Richard Moody, Allegheny College

Taking "internationalizing" in a very broad sense, the workshop will be divided into two small group sessions. The first will be an exchange of ideas for internationalizing different kinds of courses typically offered in a sociology curriculum. The second will focus upon the kinds of problems and opportunities for internationalizing the curriculum in different types of institutions (two-year, four-year, and universities—public and private).

Regular Sessions

Regular Sessions are comprised of papers submitted by the ASA membership in response to the 1991 Call for Papers. Sixty-four general topics were announced for open submission, and the designated organizers each received anywhere from 2 to 44 submissions for review. A total of 122 formal paper sessions were organized from the submitted papers. (Last year 117 sessions were formed from 80 announced topics.) Please refer to the body of the Program for details on each Regular Session.

Scholar-to-Scholar Sessions

This new component of the program features a series of display presentations that allow face-to-face conversation between authors and viewers. By facilitating informal discussions between presenters and "browsers", Scholar-to-Scholar sessions provide a more intimate forum for exchange than do formal paper presentations.

Five sessions have been arranged from submissions recommended by Regular Session topic organizers and Section session organizers. These sessions will be located in South Hall at the Cincinnati Convention Center, adjacent to the exhibits and registration area. Be sure to include some time in your schedule to visit South Hall and browse through these presentations!

Work/Labor Market, Religion, Political Sociology
Session 82, Saturday, August 24, 10:30 a.m.

Race and Ethnic Relations, Law and Social Control, Historical Sociology, Social Psychology and Social Networks
Session 113, Saturday, August 24, 2:30 p.m.

Visual Sociology, Sport, Sociology of Culture (co-sponsored by the Section on Sociology of Culture)
Session 146, Sunday, August 25, 10:30 a.m.

Education, Aging and the Life Course (co-sponsored by the Section on Sociology of Education and the Section on Sociology of Aging)
Session 178, Sunday, August 25, 2:30 p.m.

Gender, Family and Kinship (co-sponsored by the Section on Sociology of the Family)
Session 224, Monday, August 26, 10:30 a.m.

Roundtable Discussions

This popular program component is designed to bring together small groups of people interested in discussing specific topics. The 1991 Program Committee invited Paula Dubeck (University of Cincinnati) and Jacqueline Robinson (Wilberforce University) to review proposals and select topics and presenters to guide discussions.

Again this year the informal discussions have been organized around general topics. Please refer to the body of the Program for complete details on these sessions. Since several discussions are held simultaneously in one large meeting room, no audio-visual equipment or recording devices may be used and no papers will be prepared for distribution.

AIDS (co-sponsored by the Sociologists' AIDS Network)
Session 114, Saturday, August 24, 2:30 p.m.

Stratification, Work and Occupations, Race and Ethnicity, Labor Markets, and Social Change
Session 130, Sunday, August 25, 8:30 a.m.

Medical Sociology, Sociology of Culture, Comparative Sociology, Issues in the Discipline
Session 190, Sunday, August 25, 4:30 p.m.

Theory and Methodology
Session 207, Monday, August 26, 8:30 a.m.

Gender, Population, and Crime/Deviance
Session 237, Monday, August 26, 12:30 p.m.

Section Activities

Section activities are interspersed throughout the five-day schedule of the Annual Meeting and are open to all meeting attendees. These specialized sessions range in format from formal paper presentations to informal discussion roundtables. The number of sessions allocated to each Section is based on the size of the section; for the 27 active sections, there are a total of 101 program sessions scheduled. There are also three new sections-in-formation: Mental Health, Latina/o Sociology, and Alcohol and Drugs, and mid-convention organizational meetings have been scheduled for each. The Section Council and Business meetings, program sessions, and receptions are summarized below for quick reference; for more complete information, refer to the body of the Program. Days of the Annual Meeting are Friday, August 23; Saturday, August 24; Sunday, August 25; Monday, August 26; and Tuesday, August 27.

Tours

An easy and enjoyable way to explore and learn about this year's host city is to participate in at least one or perhaps several of the special tours planned by William Feinberg, University of Cincinnati. Cincinnati is a city rich in tradition and heritage and these tours offer many opportunities to explore its history. Easy accessibility makes Cincinnati an ideal city for the walking tours that are planned. Sports fans will welcome the chance to see the 1990 World Champion Cincinnati Reds at Riverfront Stadium. In addition, the tours to the EPA Laboratories and the Fernald Facility are "musts" for those concerned with environmental issues.

The schedule of tours is provided below. Reservations are mandatory. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration Area in South Hall for availability and any late cancellations. Those already enrolled in tours should have received their tickets with their name badges.

All groups will depart from the Cincinnati Convention Center following a brief orientation period. Please refer to the information listed below for the location of the orientation areas and plan to arrive promptly so that departure times may be observed. Keep in mind that the arrival times back to the Convention Center are estimates only and may vary somewhat due to traffic congestion.

TOUR 1: Fernald and FRESH (Fernald Residents for Environmental Safety & Health)

Thursday, August 22, 2:15-9:00 p.m.

Fee: $15.00 (excluding dinner)

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leaders: William R. Freudenburg, University of Wisconsin-Madison, T. David Evans, University of Cincinnati and J. Stephen Kroll-Smith, University of New Orleans

Episodes of toxic contamination present complex new challenges for many kinds of sociologists, ranging from those who study communities or social movements to those who study law or deviance in organizations. The challenges are illustrated by the far-flung complex or network of facilities that have contributed to nuclear weapons production—and that have contributed significantly to the nation's toxic contamination problems, as well. The members of the social movement organizations that challenge these facilities, for example, look less like typical "antinuclear protesters" than like the personification of Middle America. At the same time, the contamination episodes could scarcely be blamed on identifiable, deviant individuals: The problems have been so pervasive, and so carefully shielded by official secrecy and "sovereign immunity" ("you can't sue the crown") that the persons who have been most clearly treated as deviants within the weapons complex, at least according to critics, have been those who have attempted to stop the contamination or to pierce the shield of secrecy.

About 18 miles from the convention is the Fernald facility, a little-known part of the weapons-production complex, where the citizens' group FRESH and a group of concerned professionals recently won an unprecedented, multi-million-dollar settlement from the federal government. This tour will visit the Fernald facility in the afternoon and attend the monthly FRESH meeting in the evening. In between the group will meet at a local restaurant with representatives of the media (a reporter who has played a key role in exposing problems at the facility), the legal system (a lawyer who was instrumental in negotiating the settlement), the medical profession (a member of Physicians for Social Responsibility who has worked on the issue), and state/federal government officials. Tour fees do not include dinner. Because of government security regulations, all persons on this tour must obtain the necessary government security clearances. (Bus Tour—Limited to 25 participants)

TOUR 2: Cincinnati Reds Baseball Game Thursday, August 22, 7:00-10:30 p.m. (Approximate) Fee: $9.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leader: David J. Maume, University of Cincinnati

The Cincinnati Reds, 1990 World Champions, will be playing the Atlanta Braves in a game beginning at 7:35 p.m. Virtually the entire Reds' team is returning from its wire-to-wire championship season, when it shocked the baseball world by crushing the Oakland Athletics in four games last October. Riverfront Stadium is a relatively short walk from the Convention Center, but please be aware some of the walk is hilly and a stairway must be negotiated. (Walking excursion—Limited to 38 participants)

TOUR 3: Cincinnati Algorithm

Friday, August 23, 9:45-11:30 a.m.

Fee: No charge; pre-registration required

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Room 240

Tour Leader: Daniel J. Ransohoff, Community Chest and Council/Cincinnati Area, and University of Cincinnati

This tour offers a fascinating, entertaining and fast moving presentation on mid-America and Cincinnati in particular. The show starts with a three dimensional presentation of the region and concludes with a fast moving audio visual and a trip to the open observation deck on the 49th floor of the Carew Tower. The entire region is at your feet. Maps that show the geological, archaeological, economy, life style and nature fall together so that you will have knowledge and command of another American city, including: industry, offices, seven universities and colleges, housing projects, entertainment, walks, museums, restaurants and the river from which it all started. You will enjoy a sense of place.

Ransohoff is an associate professor of community planning at the University of Cincinnati, special projects director for the United Way and Community Chest, and a gifted photographer whose works have been displayed in the Smithsonian Institution. He is a fifth-generation native of Cincinnati who delights in sharing his knowledge and enthusiasm with visitors. Cincinnatians have renamed a park area in his honor and he has received a 1990 Greater Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce's Great Living Cincinnati award. (Short walk—Limited to 125 participants)

TOUR 4: Contemporary Arts Center

Friday, August 23, 1:00-3:30 p.m.

Fee: $5.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leader: Silvia Cancio, University of Cincinnati, and staff of Contemporary Arts Center

The Contemporary Arts Center, a two-block walk from the Convention Center, presented the much-publicized Mapplethorpe exhibit of photographs that was the subject of an obscenity prosecution here in Cincinnati (much to the chagrin of many of us). The Center and its director, Dennis Barrie, were acquitted of all charges (much to the chagrin of the Righteous). We hope to have a short presentation by the Center's director or curator and one of its lawyers, followed by a question and answer session. Scheduled for exhibition during August are "Biennial 3: New Works," from a regional competition of modern work, and the work of the architect William Turnbull, designs of a new riverfront development. Entrance fee included in tour price. (Short walk—Limited to 30 participants)

TOUR 5: Walking Tour of Over-the-Rhine Neighborhood

Saturday, August 24, 9:45-11:30 a.m.

Fee: $3.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leader: Phil Obermiller, Northern Kentucky University

Over-the-Rhine is among the oldest neighborhoods in Cincinnati and is a seven-block walk from the Convention Center. It has served as a port of entry for German immigrants and Appalachian migrants, and more recently has become home to displaced African-American families. The neighborhood contains many sociological points of interest, including an echo of the efforts to shelter the homeless, and a cooperative effort at community banking (Walking tour—Limited to 15 participants)

TOUR 6: Harriet Beecher Stowe House

Saturday, August 24, 12:45-3:00 p.m.

Fee: $10.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leader: Daisy Quarm, University of Cincinnati and Nzinga Dalila, Harriet Beecher Stowe House

The Beecher family moved to Cincinnati in 1832 when Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher was appointed President of Lane Seminary. Harriet Beecher and her sister Catherine opened the Western Female Seminary in what is now downtown Cincinnati in 1833, but they gave up the school shortly before Harriet married Calvin Stowe, Professor at the Seminary, in 1836. The Stowes left Cincinnati in 1850 for Brunswick, Maine, where Professor Stowe joined the faculty of Bowdoin College. She wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin there, and her Cincinnati experiences figured prominently in the highly influential novel. The house on this tour is the one that the Beecher family first lived in; the house has been extensively renovated and refurbished. Intended to serve as a cultural and educational resource center, the house contains a collection of artifacts and pictures related to African-American history. (Bus drop off/pick up—Limited to 25 participants; the house has stairs and no handicapped facilities)

TOUR 7: Walking Tour of Riverside Drive Historical District, Covington, Kentucky Sunday, August 25, 9:45-11:30 a.m.

Fee: $15.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leader: Joan Ferrante, Northern Kentucky University and local tour guides

The Riverside Historical District is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Many of the dwellings in the Riverside Drive section were built in the mid-1850s. The buildings and sites have recently been restored to reflect riverside life of that time. The indoor highlight of the mostly-outdoor walking tour is the Italianate Victorian Porter-Fallis-Lovell House, also known as the Mimosa Mansion. The mansion is a 22-room house built in 1850, enlarged in 1900, and recently restored with the goal of transporting visitors back to 1900. Inside are hand-painted and stenciled walls, 1850s laminated Rococo Revival furniture, and original gas lighting. Entrance fee included in tour price. (Bus/Walking Tour—Limited to 20 participants; unfortunately, the Mimosa Mansion has stairs and no facilities for the handicapped)

TOUR 8: Walking Tour of Queensgate II Urban Renewal Area

Sunday, August 25, 9:45-11:30 a.m.

Fee: $3.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Room 243

Tour Leaders: Thomas H. Jenkins, University of Cincinnati, and Chris Cain, City of Cincinnati City Planning Department

Queensgate II is an irregularly-shaped area just west of the central business district and developed by the city several years ago; the development plan made extensive use of sociological, historical, and planning expertise of faculty at the University of Cincinnati. The tour will be preceded by an orientation covering physical change and social history, including ethnic and racial succession; the role of militant blacks in challenging the municipal and business establishments; and the fulfilled and unfulfilled goals and features of the plan. The actual tour will include Crosley

Communication Center, Music Hall, the city's Neighborhood Housing and Conservation area, City Hall, Isaac M. Wise Reformed Temple (built in the Moorish style), and St. Peter in Chains Roman Catholic Cathedral (built in the Greek Revival style). (Walking tour—Limited to 35 participants; all activities are on ground level)

TOUR 9: Laboratories of Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)

Monday, August 26, 9:45-11:30 a.m.

Fee: $10.00

Orientation Area: Convention Center, Elm Street Lobby

Tour Leaders: Clay Lewis, University of Cincinnati, and staff of the EPA

The first water pollution laboratory in the United States was established in Cincinnati in 1912. The Andrew W. Breidenbach Environmental Research Center, opened in 1975, is one of two major EPA research centers in the United States. The group will visit various parts of the facility, including a drinking water pilot plant where the agency does some of its research on the removal of contaminants from drinking water; the library, with extensive collections on risk assessment and on hazardous waste collection; and various high-tech equipment and experiments for monitoring air, water, and land quality. (Bus drop off/pick up—Limited to 40 participants)

Welcoming and Orientation Party

All new members of the Association, and those who would like to know more about ASA's governance structure and how to become involved in ASA activities, are invited to the Welcoming and Orientation Party on Friday, August 23, from 6:30-8:00 p.m. in Ballroom A on the third level of the Convention Center.

This welcome is sponsored by the ASA Committee on Membership. Members of ASA Committees and Sections and several ASA officers will be on hand to discuss avenues for formal and informal involvement in the Association. New members and first-time meeting participants are particularly encouraged to be present for this informative event!

DAN!

Be sure your meeting schedule for Friday, August 23, includes the eighteenth annual Departmental Alumni Night (DAN), where sociologists from around the world meet to reminisce about graduate school days, relay recent rumors, and create new coalitions!

The gathering will begin when the opening plenary session concludes, around 10:30 p.m., and plenty of time is provided for chatting and meeting colleagues and alumni.

Each graduate department of sociology in the United States and Canada was invited to fly its banner to attract alumni and friends. Tables will also be provided for sociologists in business and industry as well as for international scholars and guests. Make sure your meeting plans include the social event that brings all your friends together in one place at one time!

Honorary Reception

Since 1984, the American Sociological Association has been joined by sociology departments and regional societies in co-sponsoring the annual Honorary Reception that follows the President's address and the ASA Awards Ceremony. This year the Association is pleased to acknowledge the following as co-sponsors of the Honorary Reception:

Department of Sociology, Harvard University, where President Lieberman is presently Professor of Sociology;

Department of Sociology, University of Cincinnati;

Department of Sociology, University of Dayton;

Department of Sociology, University of Kentucky;

Black World Studies Program, Miami University;

Department of Sociology & Anthropology, Miami University;

North Central Sociological Association;

Department of Sociology, Northern Kentucky University;
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Ohio State University; and Department of Sociology, Wright State University

All meeting participants to join with the co-sponsors at the Honorary Reception in Ballroom A on the third level of the Convention Center at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, August 24, to express appreciation, congratulations and best wishes to the President and major award winners on what promises to be a festive occasion!

ASA Business Meeting

The annual ASA Business Meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m. on Monday, August 26, in Ballroom B on the third level of the Convention Center. All members of the ASA are encouraged to attend to hear Association officers present their reports to the membership and to consider resolutions from ASA members offered for discussion and action.

Resolutions for the Business Meeting must be delivered to the ASA Headquarters Office (Room 227 in the Cincinnati Convention Center) before 5:00 p.m. on Sunday, August 25. Each resolution must indicate the name and affiliation of the submitter and identify the person who will actually present the resolution at the Business Meeting. Those received before the deadline will be posted in the ASA Registration Area so that members may become familiar with upcoming business. Resolutions submitted to the Executive Office by the Sunday deadline will be given preference on the Business Meeting agenda; unposted resolutions will be permitted, up to the limit of time available before the 10:20 p.m. adjournment.

Reminder . . . Only current voting members of the ASA may submit, present, discuss and vote on Business Meeting resolutions.

Student Activities

The ASA Membership Committee and Honors Program Student Association have made some special efforts to make undergraduate and graduate students feel welcome at the Annual Meeting.

Student Center

Students attending the Annual Meeting may make use of the Student Center located in the Room 235 on the second level of the Convention Center. The Student Center will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Friday through Monday, and 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday, to provide a place for students to meet, caucus, make dinner arrangements, etc. Some refreshments will be provided each day. All students registered for the Annual Meeting are welcome to use this hospitality room.

Student Reception

The ASA Membership Committee and the Honors Program Student Association will be co-hosting an informal reception on Sunday, August 25, from 7:30-8:30 p.m. in the Student Center (Room 235, Convention Center) for all students registered at the Annual Meeting. This is an opportunity to socialize with other students attending the meeting.

Student Services Table

The Student Services Table, staffed by students, is located in the Registration Area of South Hall at the Convention Center. Drop by to pick up the list of special events for students, meet other students, ask questions, make dinner plans, and find your niche!

Cincinnati River Cruise

Set sail for the Teaching Endowment Fund on Saturday, August 24, 6:30-10:00 p.m.! Enjoy an evening of conversation, dinner, and music and a river view of Cincinnati.

On the boat, enjoy a buffet supper and Appalachian music, then walk the decks and take in the lovely riverfront and Cincinnati skyline. Most of all, relax and appreciate a pleasant evening for sociologists, spouses, and friends—all for a good cause.

This dinner cruise is a fundraiser for the ASA Teaching Endowment Fund (TEF), a small grants program to support teaching-related projects. Tickets are $38 per person, which includes the cruise, supper, music, bus transportation to and from the boat, and $5 donation to TEF (additional contributions are welcome!). Advance reservation required; sign up at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration Area in South Hall by noon on Saturday, August 24.

The TEF thanks Xavier University and the University of Northern Kentucky for donating buses for this event, and the University of Cincinnati for financial help.

ASA Information—Convention Center, South Hall

The ASA Information Desk is staffed with ASA Executive Office personnel who are able to provide information on membership, subscriptions, and publications. Staff will be available Friday-Monday, 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m., and Tuesday, 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Copies of the 1991 Guide to Graduate Departments, 1990 Directory of Members (biographical), and 1990 Directory of Departments are available, as are other ASA publications. Sample copies of ASA journals are available for inspection.

ASA Office—Convention Center, Room 227

The Headquarters Office will be staffed from Thursday through Tuesday by ASA Executive Office personnel. Office hours are 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m., Thursday-Tuesday, August 22-27. The demands on staff time and equipment are limited to official ASA functions.

Child Care—Convention Center, Green Room

A child care program, "KidConvention 91", is being provided by Janet Onnie and associates of the ASA Executive Office Staff. Care will be available during the daytime program sessions (8:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.) for infants and older children. Evening care must be arranged on an individual basis through local babysitting agencies specializing in this service.

We are pleased to announce that the following individuals/companies have generously co-sponsored the 1991 Child Care Program, thus defraying some of its expenses and lowering daily fees to parents: Austin Travel, Baliles Contracting, Jack and Jane Carey, City National Bank of Washington, Greenwood Publishing, Gumpy's Copy Center, ILR Press, Mutual Insurance Company, Marion and Henry Quellmalz, Sociological Abstracts, Wadsworth Publishing, and all the sociologists who contributed both their time and money to this service. We thank each contributor for assisting ASA in providing another quality convention experience for your children.

Lunch and snacks will be provided; however, parents may arrange to take their children out for lunch or bring a special bag lunch with them in the morning if they prefer.

Charges for those who did not pre-register their children for the Child Care Service are $45.00 per child for a half day (8:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.) and $65.00 per child for the entire day. For children using the service for shorter periods, the half-day fee will apply in order to encourage more stable use, discourage frequent dropping in and out, and simplify payment. Children who are not pre-registered with the service will be accepted only on a space-available, first-come first-served basis.

Reminder: All parents/guardians using this service must also be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting.

Didactic Seminar Information—Tickets Desk, Convention Center, South Hall

Those already enrolled for seminars should have received their tickets with their meeting packets. Some tickets may still be available for Didactic Seminar; check at the Tickets Desk for up-to-date information.

Seminar tickets are non-refundable and cancellations cannot be accepted. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

Employment Service—Exhibit Hall, Concourse Level

The 1991 Employment Service will be open at the Cincinnati Convention Center on Thursday, August 22, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m., and Friday through Monday, August 23-26, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The service will not be open on Tuesday, August 27.

Facilities will be available for reviewing employment listings, exchanging messages, and interviewing. If you have pre-registered as a candidate for the Employment Service, report to Employment Service Candidate Registration area as soon as possible to activate your file. (Candidate registration forms are not supplied to employers until the candidate files have been activated on-site.) If you have not pre-registered, you should do so as early as possible. Attendees wishing to make full use of this Service should register by 5:30 p.m. on Friday, August 23.

All persons using this Service must register for the Annual Meeting as well as for use of the Employment Service. Once registered, you will be issued a pass permitting your entrance to the Service any time it is open. No one will be admitted without a pass. Fees for use of the Employment Service: Candidates with ASA membership—$15, Non-member Candidates—$30, Employers—$75. All employer listings must be prepaid (a valid purchase order will be accepted); post-meeting billing is not available.

During the Annual Meeting in Washington, DC last year, 94 employers listed 141 openings, including 13 positions outside academia, and 360 candidates registered with the Service. Over 1,400 interviews were scheduled.

Exhibits

All Annual Meeting attendees are encouraged to browse through the Exhibits located in South Hall. Exhibits will be open to meeting registrants from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Friday-Sunday, August 23-25, and from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Monday, August 26.

Plan your schedule to include several visits to the 1991 ASA Exhibits to browse through the latest publications, explore current computer hardware and software, view new film releases, chat with representatives of statistical and informational literature, and meet with colleagues participating in the Scholar-to-Scholar Sessions adjacent to the exhibit area.

See the Directory of Exhibitors listed elsewhere in this Program for names and booth numbers of all exhibitors, and don't forget to look through the Program for special ads!

Locator File—Convention Center, South Hall

Locator cards will be filled out by convention attendees as they pick up their registration packets. These cards will then be available for reference at the ASA Information Desk during the meeting to help colleagues contact each other while in DC. Message Exchange boxes are located in the Exhibit Hall Foyer so that attendees may have 24-hour access.

Media—Convention Center, Press Room

Media representatives are invited to stop by for registration packets and interview assistance. The media office will be open 1:00-5:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 23; 8:00 a.m.-5:30 a.m. on Friday-Monday, August 23-26; and 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 27.

Minority Fellowship Information—Convention Center, South Hall

Information on undergraduate fellowships for advanced study under the MOST Program and predoctoral fellowships under the regular MFP Program will be available from the ASA Office. You may leave your name and address at the ASA Information Desk in Cincinnati, or write or call Ms. Frances Foster, Minority Affairs Manager, or Tahi Mottl, Director of the Minority Fellowship Program, ASA, 1722 N Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20036; (202) 833-3410.

Paper Sales—Jefferson West, Concourse Level

The Paper Sales Room is open on Thursday, August 23, from 1:00-5:00 p.m.; Friday-Monday, August 23-26, 8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.; and Tuesday, August 27, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Papers are available for the price of $2.25 (tax included) each. All eligible papers which were submitted to the Executive Office for duplication and/or distribution appear on the list of "Available Papers" (blue copy included in your registration packet). Authors who indicated that they would bring copies with them to the Annual Meeting are urged to deliver them to the Paper Sales room as soon as possible upon arrival.

Papers may be purchased as long as supplies last; order for future delivery cannot be accepted. Requests for papers which have sold out or were not supplied may be sent directly to the author(s). In order to facilitate communication with authors, a "Roster of Authors" which includes names and mailing addresses of authors may be purchased for $2.25. Papers may also be available through Sociological Abstracts, Inc.; check the abstracts booklet for information.

The Executive Office is not able to return unsold copies of papers to individual authors; however, authors may pick up any remaining copies of their own papers after 1:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 27.

Copies of some papers may remain at the end of the meeting. Any institution wishing to obtain some of these should contact the Executive Office before or during the meeting.

Note: All persons wishing access to the Paper Sales Room must be paid registrants for the Annual Meeting; badges are required for entrance into this area.

Professional Development Information—Concourse Lobby

As the ASA's newest service, the Professional Development Program (PDP) seeks to enhance the role of sociology in all types of public and private job settings and to strengthen sociological practice as a growth area for the profession. Be sure to stop by the ASA Information tables to review available career publications and sociological practice materials.

Quiet Spot—Convention Center, Room 224

Attendees coping with illness or lack of stamina may use the "quiet spot" to escape briefly from the noise and bustle of convention activities. This space is being provided in response to concerns brought to the ASA Council by the Sociologists' AIDS Network and the Sociologists' Lesbian and Gay Caucus. Anyone needing immediate medical attention or other assistance should contact the ASA staff in Room 227 (across the hall) for help.

Resources for Attendees with Special Needs—Convention Center, South Hall

The ASA Information Desk will coordinate resources during the convention week for registrants with physical disabilities who are attending the Annual Meeting. Again this year the ASA Information Desk is conveniently located adjacent in the ASA Registration Area.

If you sent in a special services request prior to the meeting, please check in at the ASA Information Desk on your arrival to ensure that you receive the assistance you need.

Section Information Table—Convention Center, South Hall

Information on the 27 ASA Sections and 3 sections-in-information, including copies of 1991 Section newsletters, is available in the ASA Information area at the Section table which is staffed by representatives of the various sections. Section representatives will also be present at the Welcoming and Orientation party on Friday, August 23, in Ballroom A at 6:30-8:00 p.m.

Teaching Resources—Convention Center, South Hall

The ASA Teaching Resources Center (TRC) is a source for written materials about teaching sociology. Most of these products have been written by sociologists; ASA Sections have been active contributors as well. TRC offers syllabi for 42 courses, guidelines for training graduate students for teaching roles, curriculum development, specific teaching skills such as lecturing, and information on the institutional variables that bear on effective teaching. TRC personnel will be staffing the Teaching Resources Table in the ASA Registration area, where copies of current TRC materials will be available. Don't forget to stop by the table before your departure to look over the display items and ask for the latest catalogue!

Tours—Convention Center

Those already enrolled for tours should have received their tickets with their meeting packets. Please check at the Tickets Desk in the ASA Registration area (South Hall) for any cancellations or changes in site schedules.

Orientation sessions for tour groups will be held in the Tour Orientation areas listed with the tour descriptions; most groups will be meeting in the main foyer near the Elm Street entrance. All groups will depart from the Elm Street entrance to the Center. Tickets are required for access to the orientation and departure areas.

Tour tickets are non-refundable and cancellations cannot be accepted. You may, however, sell your ticket to someone else if you are unable to attend.

The following MFP Fellows are participating in this year's Annual Meeting Program. ASA Council and the 1991 Program Committee are pleased to highlight these professional activities of current and former Fellows. The Minority Fellowship Program (MFP), in operation since 1974, has been a significant factor in recruiting minorities into sociology. Fellows continue to make important contributions to the growth of the discipline. The Association takes great satisfaction in acknowledging this form of professional activity.

MARCIA MILLMAN

WARM HEARTS & COLD CASH

The Intimate Dynamics
of Families and Money

"With a remarkable eye for telling detail, Millman explores the tangle of money and love in family life. She shows how we use the tangibility of money to express the profound yet elusive emotions of attachment, loss, anger, envy, and guilt. The vivid examples—of arguments over saving and spending, of key moments when gifts are given or withheld—reveal the power of money to illuminate hidden and often poignant dynamics. A wonderful book!"
—Barrie Thorne, University of Southern California

WARM HEARTS AND COLD CASH

The Intimate Dynamics
of Families and Money

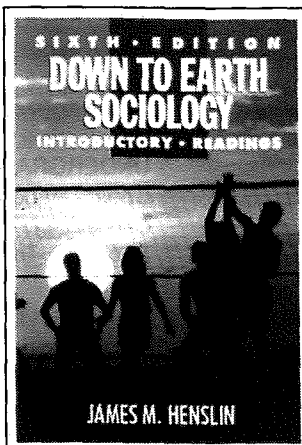

Marcia Millman, University of California, Santa Cruz

In this revealing and original work, Millman challenges the belief that the family is a haven in a heartless world by showing that it is characterized by many of the hard traits of the market, expressed in the ways in which we use money—often unwittingly—to discriminate among our children, to punish estranged spouses and relatives, to gauge our parents' true feelings for us, to buy freedom from failed relationships, or to prevent a partner from leaving. By focusing on money and the way it works within the intimate economy of the family, she cuts through the sentimentality that obscures this important aspect of familial relationships. For Millman, an honest assessment of how families deal with money is a vital step in forging happier lives.

"Millman's unerring sociological eye reveals uncomfortable truths about family lives and loves—truths we intuit and should face but prefer to ignore."

DOWN TO EARTH SOCIOLOGY Introductory Readings Sixth Edition

James M. Henslin, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville

Now in its Sixth Edition, this widely used text has been updated to include nearly fifty percent of important new material. Compatible with most introductory texts, this revised volume retains the basic structure and appealing mixture of classic and contemporary research which have made past editions so popular. In this edition, twenty new articles examine such diverse topics as self-fulfilling stereotypes, expressions of sympathy, undercover work, racism in education, house-husbands, the Japanese work organization, and racism as experienced by Hispanics. There is an increased emphasis on sexual discrimination with articles on its manifestations in communication, among children, and in everyday life. Henslin retains excellent coverage of social inequality, deviance, and social institutions while adding a new Part II which focuses on how sociologists do research.

SIMSOC Simulated Society Fourth Edition

William A. Gamson,
Boston College

SIMSOC is a unique social process game intended to make social science material more vivid and meaningful than has been possible with traditional teaching methods. Now in its Fourth Edition, SIMSOC—Simulated Society is a way to involve students actively in processes of large-scale conflict, protest, social control, and social change. Designed to be played with or without a computer, SIMSOC creates a situation in which the participant is led to question the nature of social order. Long time users of SIMSOC will not need to unlearn old rules and procedures to run the new Fourth Edition—rule changes have been kept to a minimum. A number of new options have been added, including ways of utilizing the personal computer and videotape in running the game. Readings have also been changed to reflect the interests of participants in leadership training programs and workshops. Those that remain from earlier editions are still topical as unfolding events provide new illustrations of the social processes they discuss.

Melvin Patrick Ely
"Melvin Patrick Ely has undertaken to tell nothing less than the entire story of this astonishingly popular and yet problematic show, and to establish its place in the history of racial understanding—and misunderstanding—in America. Ely combines serious scholarship with a keen eye for irony and illuminating detail to make Amos 'n' Andy a striking book on American race relations in this century as seen from the radically transforming perspective of radio and television."

Exploring the very foundations of the social world which we normally take for granted, Zerubavel's book throws light on the way we cut up the world and separate self from other, white from black, the masculine from feminine, and the vulgar from the refined, and the way we thereby construct selfhood, race, gender, and social class. Moving from the worlds of art, science and religion to those of humor, food and sex, Zerubavel offers a fresh look at the way we think as manifested in the way we organize our everyday life.

THE AARON DIAMOND FOUNDATION POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS IN THE BIOMEDICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

■ AIDS OR DRUG ABUSE RESEARCH

The Aaron Diamond Foundation in New York City announces the availability of Postdoctoral Research Fellowships in the biomedical and social sciences focusing on AIDS or drug abuse. The purpose of the Fellowships is to attract promising investigators to academic and research institutions in New York City and to encourage increased research into understanding and solving two of today's most pressing public health problems.

The New York State Health Research Council, aided by a distinguished group of scientists comprising The Aaron Diamond Foundation Fellowship Selection Committee, administers the Fellowship Program.

■ STIPENDS

Fellows are paid annual stipends beginning at $36,000. Each Fellowship is for two years, with an option for a third year.

■ ELIGIBILITY

Applicants should have received an M.D. or Ph.D. within the past seven years. M.D.'s should have completed at least two years of clinical training. Ph.D.'s are eligible immediately after graduation or after limited research experience.

The Fellowships are open to U.S. citizens and permanent residents. Women and members of minority groups are especially encouraged to apply.

■ MENTORS

A potential Fellow must be sponsored by a Mentor at a New York City institution. Mentors who have already expressed interest in participating in the Fellowship Program are listed in the application materials. The Mentor's institution receives $30,000 to cover the Fellow's fringe benefits, travel and research costs.

■ APPLICATION DEADLINES

July 31, 1991; July 31, 1992; and July 30, 1993.

August, 1991

Dear Fellow Members of the ASA,

I am pleased to introduce PINE FORGE PRESS, a new publishing company dedicated to providing a new generation of texts and software for undergraduate course use throughout the social sciences.

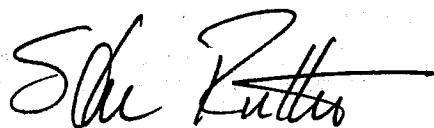

Why the need for yet another college publisher?

- These are times of significant change. A dynamic world profoundly affects not only what is being taught. As the theme for this ASA Meeting suggests, it also affects how social scientists conceptualize what they study. A renewed concern to educate an exceptionally diverse student population is also stimulating experimentation in teaching practices. These changes should produce a wealth of new texts, reflecting our changing world in their contents, orientations, and designs. Yet many social science faculty have never been more critical of the lack of originality in available teaching materials.
- PINE FORGE responds to this need, closing the gap between what faculty really aspire to teach and what is available.
  - ☐ Small and independent, PINE FORGE can respond alertly to change and thoughtfully to authors.
  - ☐ Managed by a Publisher with a successful record of distinctive publications in the social sciences, PINE FORGE can respond innovatively to change.
  - ☐ Associated with Sage Publications, PINE FORGE has the resources necessary to serve our authors and their publications well.

This Sunday, from 6:30 to 8:20 PM in Room #302 of the Convention Center, PINE FORGE will sponsor an informal roundtable discussion CHANGE AND INNOVATION IN THE UNDERGRADUATE SOCIOLOGY CURRICULUM, moderated by Professor Theodore C. Wagenaar of Miami University, Ohio. Limited additional seating is available for those who are interested. If you would like more information about the roundtable and to participate in the session, please contact me before Sunday at the Sage Publications booth, #214.

If you have writing plans or teaching needs that may be of interest to PINE FORGE, I look forward to discussing them with you.

Sincerely,

A Sage Publications Company

THE SOCIOLOGY OF WORK

An Introduction

KEITH GRINT

Drawing from a wide range of contemporary and historical material, it examines the nature of work in its more traditional guises as paid employment as well as the wider context of work as "unpaid labor" in the home.

MODERNITY AND IDENTITY

Edited by SCOTT LASH
& JONATHAN FRIEDMAN

This book represents a radical new departure within contemporary debates on modernism and postmodernism.

The editors open up the possibility of a "third way", rejecting the opposition between the impersonal rationality of high modernism and the irrationalist anti-ethics of postmodernism.

paper $19.95 cloth $64.95

UNTHINKING SOCIAL SCIENCE

The Limits of
Nineteenth-Century Paradigms
IMMANUEL WALLERSTEIN

In this important work, Immanuel Wallerstein, the originator of the world-systems theory, develops a highly original critique of the legacy of nineteenth-century social science for political thought in the late twentieth century.

THE WORD AND THE SWORD

How Techniques of Violence
Have Shaped Our World

LEONARD M. DUDLEY

Dudley's central thesis is elementary: the major transitions in the character of social life have been determined by eight significant innovations: writing, printing, mass media, integrated circuits, metal weapons, artillery, steam transport and heavy cavalry.

Social Paralysis and Social Change

British Working-Class Education in the Nineteenth Century

Here is one of the most comprehensive histories of mass education ever written. It tells the story of how working-class education in 19th-century Britain—often paralyzed by class, religious, and economic conflict—struggled forward toward change.

"As one might expect from so eminent a sociologist, this book is a splendid example of the application of social theory to actual historical experience."

THE NEW INDIVIDUALISTS

The Generation After The Organization Man
PAUL LEINBERGER AND BRUCE TUCKER

In 1956 William Whyte's The Organization Man defined the values and outlook of a whole generation of Americans. Now Leinberger (the son of one of Whyte's original subjects) and Tucker extend his work by investigating hundreds of organization offspring—how they grew up, how they live and work, how they grapple with identity and conformity, the individual and the organization.

"A worthy sequel and successor to The Organization Man. It is comprehensive in its coverage and accurate in its depiction of what is happening in today's businesses and to the managers who work in them."

—Harry Levinson, Ph.D., The Levinson Institute

ISBN 0-06-016591-X hardcover, $24.95

New in paperback for the fall

THE CONTENT OF OUR CHARACTER

A New Vision of Race in America

SHELBY STEELE

1990 National Book Critics Circle Award

In this controversial collection of essays, award-winning writer Shelby Steele claims it is time for blacks to look beyond their victimization and rely on their efforts to gain access to the American mainstream. With candid and persuasive arguments, he shows how both black and white Americans have become trapped into seeing color before character, and how social policies designed to lessen racial differences have instead made them greater.

"Steele has given eloquent voice to painful truths that are almost always left unspoken in the nation's circumscribed public discourse on race."

—New York Times

ISBN 0-06-097415-X paperback, $9.95

COMING TO AMERICA

A History of Immigration and Ethnicity in American Life

ROGER DANIELS

Coming to America has taken its place as the most authoritative, up-to-date and absorbingly readable history of the waves of immigration to America from 1500 to the present.

"Encyclopedic in scope, yet lively and provocative."

—San Francisco Chronicle

"The first comprehensive history of immigration to the United States in twenty years...Coming to America utilizes nearly all the existing scholarship on the topic to create a readable synthesis."—Library Journal

ISBN 0-06-092100-5 paperback, $12.95

FRIDAY NIGHT LIGHTS

A Town, A Team, and A Dream

H. G. BISSINGER

with a new afterword by the author

"By choosing to write about something small—the culture of high school football in a Texas town—H.G. Bissinger has ended up writing about something large, the core values in our society. Remarkable... fascinating from start to finish."—David Halberstam

Forging the Military-Industrial Complex

World War II's
"Battle of the Potomac"
Gregory Hooks

Sociologists, political scientists, and economists will benefit from Hooks's reassessment of American institution building and transformation. With the end of the Cold War at hand and American competitiveness being questioned, Hooks offers a compelling analysis of civilian and military economic planning and makes a persuasive call for a transfer of planning resources and assets to civilian agencies. $36.95

The Female Fear The Social Cost of Rape

Margaret T. Gordon and
Stephanie Riger

"A powerful book. . . It is research and writing at its best: executed with technical care and scientific expertise, but never for a moment separated from its specific purpose of improving the quality and value of life for women and men in our society." — Laura J. Lederer, Los Angeles Times Book Review. Paper, $11.95

HUMAN ARRANGEMENTS An Introduction to Sociology

Third Edition

Allan G. Johnson

Hardcover, 1992. Available October 1991.

"A unique and comprehensive view of the discipline," Teaching Sociology. Thoroughly reorganized and updated, the Third Edition features a full chapter (5) on theory, placed more logically in Part II following introductory chapters on basic concepts. An engaging, new pamphlet, shrinkwrapped with this edition, guides students toward "Getting the Most From HUMAN ARRANGEMENTS."

CRIMINOLOGY

Second Edition

Gresham M. Sykes, University of Virginia

Francis T. Cullen, University of Cincinnati

Hardcover, 1992. Available November 1991.

A comprehensive, systematic approach featuring a clear, jargon-free style and balanced coverage of competing theories. Three new chapters explore the measurement of crime, the social correlates of crime, and white collar crime. An epilogue examines careers in criminology and criminal justice administration. Extensively updated coverage on a wide range of topics includes such timely issues as crack use, marital and date rape, and new forms of community corrections such as "house arrest."

SOCIOLOGY

A Brief but Critical Introduction

Third Edition

Anthony Giddens, Cambridge University and University of California, Santa Barbara

Paperbound, 1992. Available in January.

Written by one of today's foremost sociological scholars, the Third Edition of this critically acclaimed introductory book emphasizes the applications of sociological perspectives to the social concerns of the modern world. Updated throughout with many new examples and critical analyses of current social issues worldwide.

THE MODERN RESEARCHER

Fifth Edition

Jacques Barzun and Henry F. Graff

both of Columbia University

Paperbound, 1992. Available spring 1992.

Long recognized as "the classic work on research and writing," the Fifth Edition marks the 35th anniversary of this distinctive best seller. Revised for concision and updated throughout, entirely new sections feature the use of computers in research, desktop publishing, copyright (including "fair use"), punctuation, and pronunciation. Includes advice on heading committees and seminars.

COLLECTIVE BEHAVIOR

Erich Goode, SUNY, Stony Brook

Paperbound, 1992. Available in February.

An engaging new conceptual approach, topically organized to better cover the seven varied types of behavior studied. Goode provides an up-to-date view of social movements that is both empirically accurate and theoretically crucial. Case studies and firsthand accounts are presented throughout.

New from Macmillan Reference

The only comprehensive reference that covers every aspect of the field...

THE Encyclopedia OF Sociology

EDITED BY EDGAR F. BORGATTA & MARIE L. BORGATTA, Univ. of Washington

- the definitive introduction to every topic, theory, methodology
- approximately 1,800 pages in four volumes
- more than 400 signed and original articles by the most highly respected contributors
- international editorial advisory board of distinguished sociologists

At last — a reference as broad-ranging as the discipline it describes...

Addressing every aspect of sociology, from affirmative action to white collar crime; from theory and methodology to the latest research findings, this four-volume set stands alone in the literature. Written specially as an introduction, in clear nontechnical language, the Encyclopedia will be a welcome addition to your collection.

Entries range from 1,000 to 7,000 words in length, and feature the work of sociologists who are at the forefront of their respective fields. The scope is impressive — from James S. Coleman on rational choice theory to David Mechanic on health and illness behavior, and Kay Deaux on sex differences — the information is thorough, up-to-date, and insightful. Articles on various international sociological topics are included, as are those on such timely topics as homelessness and family violence.

AMONG THE ARTICLES:

- Causal Inference Models, H.M. Blalock, Jr.
- Deviance and Criminalization, Toby Jackson
- Income Distribution, Beth Hess
- Kinship Systems and Family Types, Bernard Farber
- Sexual Violence and Abuse, Sharon K. Arajli
- Collective Behavior Theories, Ralph H. Turner
- Family Planning, Jacqueline Darroch Forrest
- Social Gerontology, Linda K. George

A COMPLETE EDUCATION IN FOUR VOLUMES:

- accessible — material assumes no prior knowledge
- authoritative — contributions by eminent scholars
- easy to use — A-Z entries with ample cross-referencing and indexing
- up to date — current state of knowledge plus insights into future developments
- comprehensive — concepts, theories, practical information, methodologies, research, and statistics

SPECIFICATIONS:

- 1,800 pages in four volumes

THE ACHILLES HEEL READER

Men, Sexual Politics, and Socialism
Edited by Victor Seidler

Seidler brings together key articles from Achilles Heel, a groundbreaking magazine of men's sexual politics that explored conceptions of masculinity and the ways in which men can change. Crucial issues are covered—work, sexuality, violence, relationships, family, class—and the contributors brilliantly catch the tensions and anxieties of men trying to cope with the interplay between their sexuality and their political commitments.

RECREATING SEXUAL POLITICS

Men, Feminism and Politics
Victor J. Seidler

As we confront the new social and political realities of the 1990's, we need to rediscover the meaning of politics, to bring together the personal and the political. Seidler believes that we must redefine the nature of freedom, equality, democracy, and justice in a world which has been indelibly altered by feminism. In this, his latest thought-provoking book, Seidler examines sexual politics in this radically changing world.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH ETHNOGRAPHY?

Martyn Hammersley

"...provides a fresh look at the rationale for and distinctiveness of, ethnographic research in sociology, education, and related fields, and succeeds in slaying a number of currently fashionable sacred cows. Relativism, critical theory, the uniqueness of the case study and the distinction between qualitative and quantitative research are all examined and found wanting as a basis for informed ethnography. The policy and political implications of ethnography are a particular focus of attention. The author compels the reader to re-examine some basic methodological assumptions in an exciting way."

BETWEEN THE ACTS

Lives of Homosexual Men 1885-1967

Edited by Kevin Porter and
Jeffrey Weeks

Between the act that criminalized homosexuality in England in 1885 and its 1967 repeal, gay men lived lives of complexity, passion, hope, and fear.

Between the Acts is a rich tapestry of these personal experiences.

CAPITALISM AND MODERNITY

An Excursus on Marx and Weber
Derek Sayer

"The first genuinely interesting and important re-evaluation of Marx, Weber, and modernity in over a decade. Lucid in style and compelling in its moral purpose, Capitalism and Modernity is a sociological gem."—Professor Bryan S. Turner

ROMANTIC LONGINGS

Love in America, 1830-1980

Steven Seidman

Romantic Longings is one of the most provocative analyses of changes in American sexual mores to have appeared. Attentive to the most recent work in new social history, women's history, and gay and lesbian studies, Seidman fashions a narrative of the history of intimacy in the United States that will become a standard reference.

GROWING UP MODERN

The Western State Builds
Third World Schools

Bruce Fuller

Growing Up Modern explores the motivations of politicians, bureaucrats and civic elites as they earnestly seek to spread schooling to younger children, older adults and previously disenfranchised groups. Fuller advances the theory of the "fragile state" where Western political expectations and organizations are placed within pluralistic Third World settings. Using Southern Africa as an example, Fuller details the dilemmas faced by the central state, how it tries to influence local schools and what the results are within the classrooms.

INTIMATIONS OF POSTMODERNITY

Zygmunt Bauman

"Few other sociologists have addressed the question of the postmodern with the breadth of imagination and vision that Bauman can muster. This book steers a careful course between the twin excesses of instant dismissal-postmodernism as something to be 'against'—and thoughtless adoption—postmodernism as something to be 'celebrated'. It is a fine book which exemplifies Bauman at his brilliant best."

MODERN CONDITIONS, POSTMODERN CONTROVERSIES

Barry Smart

Modern Conditions, Postmodern Controversies offers a lucid and wide-ranging discussion of the central aspects of social, cultural, economic, technological and political processes which are transforming everyday life. Specific issues examined include the effect of information technology on social life, transformations in the capitalist mode of production, conceptions of possible alternative "post-industrial" social futures, and the impact of modern media and communications on forms of human sensibility.

SIMIANS, CYBORGS AND WOMEN

The Reinvention of Nature

Donna J. Haraway

In these powerful essays, the author of Primate Visions analyzes accounts, narratives, and stories of the creation of nature, living organisms, and cyborgs. Haraway describes the profound linkage of simians, cyborgs and women as 'creatures,' all of which have had a great destabilizing place in Western evolutionary technology and biology.

THE POLITICS OF IDENTITY

Class, Culture, Social Movements
Stanley Aronowitz

Social scientists have debated the dimensions of class. Humanists have elaborated culture and its political implications. But, Stanley Aronowitz, in The Politics of Identity, persuasively argues the ways in which class, politics and culture are intertwined.

288 pp $45.00/cloth $15.95/paper

A PRIMER FOR DAILY LIFE

Susan Willis

Willis puts everyday life and its artifacts at the center of her analysis of capitalist structure. Interrogating the meaning of such everyday items as children's toys, logos, backyard camping, and aerobics classes, Willis demonstrates that the trivial is critical for an understanding of capitalist culture and encourages the development of a critical perspective on daily life.

ERVING GOFFMAN

Tom Burns

In this powerful study, Burns provides a thorough and unparalleled examination of Erving Goffman's work. The book presents Goffman's writings in the format of a series of themes, useful because it brings out the richness and diversity of Goffman's preoccupations—qualities that are often lost in secondary accounts which insist on labelling Goffman as a "micro-sociologist" or "symbolic interactionist."

SOCIOLOGICAL IMPRESSIONISM

A Reassessment of Georg Simmel's Social Theory

David Frisby

"There is a great deal of interest in Frisby's book. Much of what he has to say about the interpretation of Simmel's writings seems to me correct, and the book makes a valuable contribution to recovering Simmel as a thinker whose ideas have relevance to current debates in social theory."

WOMEN'S WORDS

The Feminist Practice of Oral History
Edited by Sherna Berger Gluck and Daphne Patai

"This book will be important in every intellectual sense, attractive to a very diverse readership in several fields, and accessible enough to make it an ideal teaching tool... it will have a substantial impact and achieve a lasting reputation as a landmark study."

—Michael Frisch, SUNY Buffalo

240 pp $39.50/cloth $14.95/paper

THE NERVOUS SYSTEM

Michael Taussig

In a series of essays ranging over terror, State fetishism, shamanic healing in Latin America, homesickness, and the place of the tactile eye in both magic and modernity, anthropologist Michael Taussig puts into representational practice a curious type of engaged writing. Based on a paranoid vision of social control as a permanent state of emergency leaving no room for contemplation between signs and things, these essays hover between story-telling and high theory and thus create strange new modes of critical discourse.

UNEQUAL SISTERS

A Multicultural Reader in U.S. Women's History

Edited by Ellen Carol DuBois and Vicki L. Ruiz

"The best essays are not only well written but contain what social scientists call thick and rich description; women's history examined in a web of social factors, ethnicity, class, and sexuality as well as gender."

PUBLIC ORDER AND PRIVATE LIVES

A Critique of Conservative Criminology
Michael Brake and Chris Hale

Public Order and Private Lives is a timely examination of the political forces which shape the law and order debate in Britain. The authors provide a concise and hard-hitting analysis of the Conservative agenda on crime, the deployment of the police, and what they see as the increasing use of legislation as a means of control and coercion.

AT THE BOUNDARIES OF LAW

Feminism and Legal Theory

Edited by Martha Albertson Fineman and Nancy Sweet Thomadsen

"This volume makes it clear that in questioning the concepts and premises of legal thought, feminists are providing an impetus for a reconceptualization long overdue not only among lawyers but among social observers, critics, and scholars as well... it offers a refreshing and wholesome challenge to much of the mainstream literature, thought, and methodology in law and the social sciences."

TRAFFICKERS

Drug Markets and Law Enforcement

Nicholas Dorn, Karim Murji, and Nigel South

Traffickers presents new findings into the least understood and most mythologized area of crime and law enforcement. The authors, recognized authorities in criminology and the international drug problems, provide a detailed account of how drugs are distributed and how police organizations work. The chameleon-like reality of trafficking and police work is described in the words of those involved—both the dealers and the detectives.

CONTINENTAL DIVIDE

The Values and Institutions of the United States and Canada

Seymour Martin Lipset

"Continental Divide is welcome because in its quiet, carefully documented way, it chips away at self-flattering illusions on both sides of the border.... There is a lesson in this for those pessimists who think that cultural differences will be obliterated in the global village. For more than a century, America and Canada have proved just how enduring the narcissism of minor differences can be."

Reading Between the Lines

Political Attitudes over the Life Span

The Bennington Women after Fifty Years

Duane F. Alwin, Ronald L. Cohen, and Theodore M. Newcomb

The culmination of the longest American study of political attitudes over the lifespan, this book builds on Newcomb's famous research on women who attended Bennington College in the 1930s and 1940s. Combining data from the 1930s, 1959-60, and 1984, the authors apply state-of-the-art assessment methods to this extremely rich data set to produce a landmark work in social science.

Life Course Studies

Paper $21.50 Cloth $40.00

Partial Visions

Culture and Politics in Britain, Canada, and the United States

Richard M. Merelman

Analyzing television soap operas and comedies, school textbooks in civics and history, magazine advertisements, and corporate publications and recruitment leaflets, Richard M. Merelman argues that political messages embedded in popular culture act as a whole to stifle conflictive democratic participation, a necessary component of popular action in a democracy.

Paper $15.95 Cloth $40.00

The End of Realignment?

Interpreting American Electoral Eras

Edited by Byron E. Shafer

Six distinguished historians and political scientists debate whether realignment can explain electoral developments of the post-1968 period and of earlier political eras.

Paper $12.95 Cloth $35.00

Housing Demography

Linking Demographic Structure and Housing Markets

Edited by Dowell Myers

This volume is the first effort to give cross-disciplinary investigations of population and housing an identity and a common name: housing demography. Essays commissioned especially for the volume address four main issues: household formation and composition; housing choices; housing construction and inventory change; and spatial patterns and consequences.

Social Demography series

Paper $18.25 Cloth $45.00

Family Dynamics in China

A Life Table Analysis

Zeng Yi

This remarkable book establishes three major milestones in demography. It provides the first English-language demographic profile by a Chinese author of contemporary population trends and family structure in China; it constructs a viable mathematical model for extending existing family status life table models to the three-generational family that is still common in China and the rest of Asia; and it uses that model to compare the dynamics of family structure in China before and after the dramatic drop in fertility that followed the 1979 implementation of stringent family size limits.

Life Course Studies

Paper $15.95 Cloth $37.50

Belonging in America

Reading between the Lines

Constance Perin

Belonging in America gives voice to unspoken conventions and silent understandings and asks why our culture draws the lines it does—between home and work, family and friends, humans and animals. Constance Perin shows us the systems of meaning through which contemporary Americans create social order and define their relationships.

Paper $10.95 Cloth $30.00

Mixed Blood

Intermarriage and Ethnic Identity in Twentieth-Century America

Paul R. Spickard

"Mixed Blood serves an important function in drawing together a far-ranging set of experiences, all of which bear on the phenomenon of intermarriage. Spickard also broadens the reader's scope of reference in comprehending the forces driving intermarriage, through his introduction of cultural themes of acceptance."

—Amerasia Journal

Paper $17.95 Cloth $29.95

Women, the State, and Welfare

Edited by Linda Gordon

The first collection of essays specifically about women and welfare in the United States, Women, the State, and Welfare is a state-of-the-art introduction to how welfare programs affect women and how gender relations have influenced the structure of welfare programs.

The Crisis of Leninism and the Decline of the Left

The Revolutions of 1989

Edited by Daniel Chirot

From China to Eastern Europe the dramatic events of 1989 commanded global attention but left no consensus on either their meaning or consequences. Nine eminent scholars discuss the causes and consequences of the revolutionary upheavals of 1989 in the communist world, and assess the forces that continue to shape its uncertain future. Contributors are Seymour Martin Lipset, David Calleo, Nicholas Lardy, Elizabeth Perry, Bruce Cumings, Ken Jowitt, W. W. Rostow, Stephen Hanson, and Daniel Chirot.

The Politics of Righteousness

Idaho Christian Patriotism

James A. Aho

Using information gathered from over 200 interviews and direct observations of patriot gatherings, this compelling and important study examines the belief systems and social backgrounds of right-wing Idahoans who are supporters of the concept of a "constitutionally pure, Christian homeland" in the U.S. "It is illuminating to discover an objective, scientific approach to this timely issue."—The Los Angeles Daily News

Clothbound, $24.95

Japanese American Ethnicity

The Persistence of Community

Stephen S. Fugita and David J. O'Brien

Why do some groups retain their ethnicity as they become assimilated into mainstream American life while others do not? This study employs both historical sources and contemporary survey data to explain the seeming paradox of why Japanese Americans have maintained high levels of ethnic community involvement while becoming structurally assimilated.

“Giddens’ book is a welcome and much – needed addition to the available stock of introductory textbooks... The inclusion of chapters on sexuality, war, and the globalization of social life, fills a gap in many existing textbooks. What attracts me the most is that Introduction to Sociology does assume that its readers are intelligent.”

—Musa Alshtawi, University of Cincinnati

“Giddens’ book is an adventure. To read it is to be taken through a sophisticated discussion of important issues in a clear prose style perfectly suited for introductory level courses.”

—Robert J. Kelly

Brooklyn College, City University of New York

“I like the cross – cultural, comparative aspect of the book. It seems well – written with good topic coverage.”

—D. L. Treybig, Baldwin Wallace College

Diversity.

*This year, it's one of sociology's "hottest" topics.
And, year after year, it describes the list of one of sociology's
"hottest" publishers: HarperCollins.*

Just take a look at what's new for 1992...
