Project Summary

Overview. This is where you would summarize the objectives, activities, and methods of your proposed project. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text.

Intellectual Merit. This is where you would summarize the contributions your project will make toward advancing sociology. You should summarize how your project fits within and extends the sociological literature. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text.

Broader Impacts. This is where you summarize the potential of the project to contribute to specific, desired societal outcomes. What are the potential benefits to society? This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text. This is an example of sample text.