Introduction
Annual reports are used by the Sections Committee to assess the health of a Section, measure the Section’s vitality, and identify processes, programs, or initiatives that could serve as a model for other Sections. In addition, they serve to provide institutional memory, socialize new Section leaders, and promote transparency to Section members.

This annual report covers the period of Section activity from September 2021 to August 2022 and a fiscal year from January 2022 to December 2022. This portion of the report will be shared publicly.

2022 Finances

Provide a narrative on how the 2022 budget matched with actual expenses and income from 2022. Please account for any substantive differences.

2022 Budget aligned with expectations. Due to remote meetings in 2020 and 2021, the Section has a healthy budget. We spent slightly over the expected amount on the 2022 joint reception but remained within the discretionary limit designated for expenses such as elevated reception costs in high-priced cities like Los Angeles.

The Previous Year

Describe Section activities during the period between September 2021 and August 2022.

Provide an overview of the Section’s communications with its members and include explanation of how your communication strategy meets the goals and values of the Section. Include links to the section website, newsletters, and any other electronic media used.

We communicated with members via email listserv, website (https://citams.org/), Twitter (https://twitter.com/CITAMS_ASA), and a Newsletter. Although we ran into trouble with dual listservs, this has been resolved with the shift to ASA Connect.

Describe the Section’s diversity, equity, and inclusion goals. What steps were taken this year to achieve those goals?

CITAMS has had an ad-hoc DEI committee for the past 2 years. They help draft nomination calls for both awards and leadership positions and collect data on all nominees to measure our distribution of opportunities across race, class, gender, geography, sexual orientation, and career track. We will propose incorporating DEI into a permanent committee, putting this to a Section vote in 2023.

Provide an overview of the section’s programming at the annual meeting and include explanation of how this programming meets the goals and values of the section (e.g. intellectual exchange, professional networking, mentoring, inclusion).

In addition to the slate of regular Section sessions, we hosted a special session titled “So, I Guess I Study Tech Now?”. This special session built bridges between CITAMS scholarship and the work of sociologists whose research now incorporates media and technology, even if that is not (or was not) the primary area of their specializations. This comports with CITAMS’ priorities of expanding and deepening ties across sociological domains.

All sessions had a mix of participants across demographic intersections, career stages, and institutional affiliations. This diversity comports with CITAMS’ commitment to a vibrant community of scholars operating from multiple social and institutional positions.
Provide an overview of the Section’s programmatic activities outside of the Annual Meeting (e.g. webinars, networking events, mentoring initiatives, resources for dissemination) and include explanation of this programming meets the goals and values of the Section.

Outside of the Annual Meeting CITAMS members engaged in informal mentorship and active communication via social media. These kinds of exchanges and community initiatives are something we would like to formalize in the year(s) ahead.
